A gown of white satin with net yorke and bertha of lace was chosen by the bride and her fingertip veil cascaded from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and lily of the valley. Mrs. F. J. Fenton, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a frock of yellow nylon eyelet and short yellow veil held with talisman rosebuds. She carried a talisman rose bouquet. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Bates and Miss Dudonne Smith who were gowned alike in pink and blue brocade chiffon with matching veils. They carried sprays of pink carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, the bride's mother wore a pale green dress with brown accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Heafield took the groom's mother's place in the receiving line, wearing a green frock with purple accessories and orchid corsage. An orchid was also provided for Mrs. Alcock in Peterborough.

Mr. F. J. Fenton served as groomsman and ushers were James Smith and Joseph Irvine. Soloist was Miss Bernice Wright and Mrs. Joseph Kantz was organist.

More than 300 guests attended the reception held at Huntington Park Women's Club house, including Mrs. G. L. Brumly of Compton, only living grandparent of the couple.

Following a honeymoon trip to Northern California, Mr. and Mrs. Alcock are making their home at 2669 Olive St., Huntington Park, California.

Women's Peace Crusade Mail Swamps British Woman MP

LONDON, April 20 (CP).—Mrs. Leash Manning, who startled the House of Commons during a debate on atomic warfare by saying "I think we are all mad," visualizes a "peace train" whose passengers would be women from many countries.

The train would start from Britain on one good-will journey to Moscow, picking up delegates in European capitals. The United States would also be visited.

Mrs. Manning, Labor member for Epping, said she has received more than 1,000 letters and telegrams offering support since she arose in the Commons last month to rebuke her male colleagues for "coolly" discussing another war.

The letters — from Canada, France and many parts of Britain —have turned Mrs. Manning's bomb-damaged London house into what she describes as a world post office for peace.

One cable, from Mrs. Anne Hinsch of Toronto said: "Crusade for peace is every woman's business. Good luck."

Teen-Age Girls Will Help Fight B.C.'s Forest Fires

VANCOUVER, April 20 (CP).—An army of 30 teen-agers from high schools has been recruited by tre Canadian Forestry Association here to aid in protecting British Columbia's forest wealth.

They will be known as "Girl Forest Guards" and are expected to play as great a part in fire prevention and timber conservation as their adults counterparts, the Forest Rangers.

The association has also trained 14,000 junior forest wardens who report and assist in battling an average of 200 fires annually. It operates on a $14,000 budget.

For some months the association has been instructing a leader nucleus to strain the six groups of girls in woodcraft, forestry, first aid, signalling, photography, mapwork, swimming and life saving. The girl recruits are robust, active and athletic types from 14 to 18 years old. They will be sent to summer camps throughout the province.

In autumn when they return to their school studies, they will be trained to lecture, show films and direct poster contests on forest fire fighting.

The most is the latest in BC's continuous and effective war to maintain the forests. It is hoped eventually that the day of the carelessly thrown cigaret or lighted match will be a thing of the past.

Broaden Vocational Training To Provide For Any Depression

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, April 20—(CP).—The Commons took a peek into Canada's industrial future yesterday and decided it was a good idea to make provision for any depression that may lie ahead. With that in mind, the Chamber gave preliminary approval to two pieces of legislation aimed at easing the shock of unemployment.

One will broaden the scope of vocational training by extending it to persons who have exhausted unemployment insurance benefits and others who have not been working at jobs covered by insurance regulations.

The other will increase the maximum benefit for married persons under the unemployment Insurance Act from $14.40 to $18.30 a week. The payment for single persons will be boosted from $12.30 to $14.40 a week.

Both bills, introduced by Labor Minister Mitchell, were advanced through the early stages and given first reading.

Second reading was given a bill to iron out kinks in the Veterans Rehabilitation Act. It was referred to the veterans committee.

Today, the chamber will resume debate on two opposition non-confidence motions which arise from the 21-per-cent increase in freight rates. The motions, one from the C.C.F. party and the other from the Progressive Conservative opposition, may come to a vote.

Drop Prosecutions

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said the government will not launch prosecutions for an alleged "invasion" of the Argentine Embassy's diplomatic immunity. The Embassy had been "inconvenienced" by two humane society inspectors but there would be no court action.

Mr. Mitchell introduced the vocational training legislation with the observation that it has not been necessary to make much use of the training provisions because there has been little unemployment since the end of the war.

Now, however, it was desirable, "to make provision for such training so that it may be available when required."

The changes now being proposed had been approved by the provinces and the provinces were willing to co-operate. No changes were planned in connection with training of discharged veterans, youths and students.

Endorses Plan

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, endorsed the legislation and suggested the government give the provinces more generous aid in the carrying out of such projects.

Garfield Case (PC — Grey North) said vocational training should be on a voluntary basis. The individual should not be "told" what training he should take. This was planned economy.

Introducing the insurance act amendments, Mr. Mitchell said the legislation also will increase the insurance annual ceiling from $2,400 to $3,120 for monthly-rated employees. The shift of many workers to higher earning brackets makes this necessary.

Another change will speed the payment of benefits by authorizing the local insurance officer to pay a claimant a maximum of 36 days benefit on the production of an unemployment book showing 180 consecutive contributions.

Reduce Annuity Interest To 3 Per Cent

OTTAWA, April 20 — (CP). — Labor Minister Mitchell announced yesterday a reduction from fourth to three per cent in the interest rate the government allows on money paid by Canadians for purchase of annuities.

He tabled in the Commons two orders-in-council to put the change into effect.

He said, "the orders have changed the rate of interest to be used in computing the purchase price of annuities from four to three per cent per annum, compounded yearly. In other words, it is a reduction in the rate allowed on money paid for purchase from four to three per cent."

While the effect of the changes vary widely with various types of annuities, here are two examples:

In the case of a 25-year-old person taking out a policy to mature at 65, he would pay an additional -4.44 a year per $100 worth of annuity. That is, on an annuity to pay him $1,000 a year, his added cost would be $44.40 a year.

A 50-year-old man buying an annuity to mature at 65 would have to pay an additional $111.80 a year.

Effective At Once

On the average, it was estimated, the effect would be to boost payments by 12 per cent more than at present.

Mr. Mitchell said the change had been made "to make it the same as the rate paid on long-term government bonds." It is effective immediately and does not deter existing contracts.

'Changes have been made in the mortality table to be used in computing the purchase price of annuities and direction given as to the interest rate and mortality table to be used in calculating the liability for any annuity. Provision has also been made for necessary alterations resulting from these changes in the forms of application for annuities.

"The governmet will, of course, continue to contribute towards the cost of administration of the annuities branch so that, from an investment point of view alone, the purchase of annuities will be attractive. Actually the contribution through the cost of administration will be increasing.

Life Span Important

"In selling annuities, it will be appreciated that the length of life of the purchaser is of vital importance. Recent figures published by the national office of vital statistics of Washington show that the average length of life of the American people in 1945 reached a new high of nearly 66 years. This was 2¼ years more than the corresponding figure in the immediate pre-war period and 16 2-3 years above the level prevailing at the beginning of the century.

"Canadian experience probably approximates that in the United States and the trend is continuing. The present mortality basis established in 1937 allowed a small margin for improvement in mortality and has measured, with a slight margin, the actual experience. The new mortality basis is considered necessary to provide a margin of safety for contracts maturing in future years."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

A GREAT REVEALER

DUPLICATE is the great revealer of bridge. That form of the game humbles a player who has blundered through to what he considers a good result, if the scores at other tables show he did much worse than somebody else. The real student, when he finds his work was surpassed by a rival, always wants to know just how the other fellow went about it. Did he get a gift from the opponents through a mistake they made? Was he just plain lucky? Or did he merely do a better job, and, if so, in what way? Usually after the game the other fellow is flattered by your question and will answer gladly.

When the heart 3 was led, South counted up eight tricks ready to be taken—two in clubs, two in diamonds and four in hearts. He also saw a sure way to build the ninth needed for game, by using one of his spade honors to establish the other. So he proceeded blithely to score the four hearts, discarding a diamond, then led the spade K. The A took it and the diamond Q was returned to the K. Now he scored the spade Q, which established West's J, laid down the club A and finessed the club J to the Q. West now used the spade J and led the club 9 to the K. The diamond A was brought in for the ninth trick, but there was no way to reach the established spade 10, so he gave up the last trick with the diamond 9 to the J, content with having made his game.

Then he saw the score slip and noted that another South had made an unbid small slam on a 3-No Trumps contract. Queried, the latter related how he played it. He won the heart 3 lead with the A, led the spade 2 to the Q, returned with the heart Q and led the spade 4, West playing the A. The diamond Q went to the K, the heart K and J won, then the spade Q. Now the spade 10 squeezed West, who had the diamond J-10 and club Q-9. Dummy also had the diamond 8-5 and club A-6, and South the diamond A-9 and club K-J-2. The diamond 9 was thrown. West was now wrecked, regardless of whether he picked a club or a diamond. Just figure out how it worked. It was pretty.

BPW Club Elects Miss S. Eastwood

Annual dinner meeting of the Peterborough Business and Professional Women's Club was held Monday evening in the YWCA green room. Arrangements were made by the executive members and tables were gaily decorated with pussywillows and spring flowers and yellow tapers glowing. After the dinner hour, community singing was enjoyed with Miss Ann Deyell at the piano. Business discussions were held, followed by the nominating committee report given by Miss Birdie Dawson, convener.

Executive officers for 1948 are: Honorary President, Mrs. W. R. Morris; President, Miss Sarah Eastwood; First Vice-President, Mrs. Harry Watson; Second Vice-President, Miss Vera Heyes; Treasurer, Miss Jane Saunders; Recording Secretary, Miss Esther Thornton; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Florence Hutchinson; Press Secretary, Miss Helen Lytle; representatives to Local Council of Women, Miss Mina Edwards and Mrs. Harold Dunford; telephone convener, Miss Helen Moore; archivist, Miss Ella Distin; membership, Miss Elsie Bennett; Federation convener, Miss Gene Clarke; pianist, Miss Ann Deyell.

Pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a club pin to Mrs. Lyda Telford, who has served as president for two years, by Miss Leta Brownscombe and Mrs. Harry Watson.

Rail Revenues Up

OTTAWA, April 20 — (CP). — Continuing an upward trend recorded in 1947, Canadian railways piled up operating revenues of $60,450,702 in January, an increase of five per cent over January last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. Freight revenues were nearly seven per cent higher at $47,921,371, while passenger revenues declined about nine per cent to $6,287,866.

Doctors' Plebiscite

LONDON, April 20 — (Reuters). — The British Medical Association last night sent forms to 56,000 doctors. The questionnaire asks whether they will take part in the government's new national health service as modified recently by the minister of health, Aneurin Bevan. The result of the plebiscite is expected to be announced April 30.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 20 — (CP). — India and Pakistan yesterday in effect rejected a draft resolution of the United Nations Security Council to hold a plebiscite in Kashmir and stop the fighting there. The Council adjourned after a four-hour session until Wednesday afternoon when it is expected to vote on the 18-point proposal.

Pleads Innocent

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, April 20 — (AP). — Jan Ursiny, former deputy premier forced out of office last December under Communist pressure, pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of treason. He denied government charges that he gave secret reports to cabinet meetings to his secretary, Otto Bouch, who in turn sent them to exiled Slovaks campaigning against the country from bases in other countries.

Burial will be in Norwood Cemetery.

Call For Tenders To Build Bandstand

Opposition to a bandstand at Nicholls Oval vanished at last night's council meeting as Ald. Max Swanston vaguely announced that the money is likely to be found. To that crytic promise, the finance chairman passed a clue as to the source of prospective funds. "There is going to be a meeting of the City Trust in connction with this and other matters."

Wherever it comes from, it is municipal money, and with it in sight, if the City Trust deliver, the council instructed City Engineer Chalmers to call for tenders for the stand, to be in by May 8.

GEESE ARE LATE

About a dozen Canada Geese came to rest on the pond on R. A. Dobbin's farm in North Monaghan on Monday. The birds were not disturbed and left this morning to continue the journey north. The appearance of the geese April 19 is one of the latest times of arrivals in many years. Last spring the geese were two weeks earlier.

APPEAL DISMISSED

An appeal brought by Catherine Leahy in the Court of Appeals, Toronto, against the decision of Judge Sheldon Smoke of Nov. 7, 1947, was dismissed with costs this week. The original action had been brought against the city for damages for injuries to the plaintiff caused by a fall on Downie St., and which was alleged to have been caused by slippery, icy and unsafe conditions of the sidewalks. J. H. Amys, KC, acted for the appellant, W. F. Huycke, KC, acted for the city.

WIRE CUTS LEG

Gerrard, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Garvey, 530 Armour Rd., was climbing the netting backstop at the Armour Road playground Saturday noon and a piece of loose wire pierced the fleshy part of his right leg above the knee. He was taken to Dr. W. S. Fitzpatrick for immediate medical attention and received, besides dressing, an injection against possible lockjaw infection. The boy seems to be getting along nicely for he was able to attend his classes at the Immaculate Conception School.

TO ALLOT PARKS

Applications for the use of city parks by athletic and sports groups are to be made to Jack Dane, director of recreation. Allotment will be made by him, as decided by the council last night. Exceptions to this arrangement are Riverside and Nicholls Oval.

Man Is Fined $5 For Assaulting Boy

Kenneth R. Hewitt, 208 Lake St., was fined $5 and $12.50 costs when he was found guilty today of assaulting 10-year-old Jack Clancy, 194 Lake St. Hewitt pleaded not guilty to the charge, but was not permitted to enter evidence of his wife as to "trouble which has been going on every day for two years." He was told by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, that the circumstances to which he referred had no bearing on the case before the court.

The 10-year-old boy's evidence, taken without being sworn, was that the accused had struck him in the face after some boy had thrown a stone. He had been knocked down and Hewitt had picked him up and struck him again, the boy said. He denied, under the accused's cross-examination, that he had struck the accused's son that day. The blows had been struck with the fist, the boy said.

Miss Kathleen Woods, a neighbor, said that she had seen the assault as she was returning from work. She said the blows had been on the side of the boy's face and had been struck with the open hand.

Mrs. Mary Hobbins, 200 Lake, a next-door neighbor of the accused, also testified to seeing the assault.

Giving his own evidence, Hewitt said that he had seen the Clancy boy and another boy striking his son as young Hewitt was carrying some books across the street. He had been "so enraged", he said, he had run after the two. When he caught Clancy he said, the boy had gone into "a fake fall." He admitted that he picked the boy up, "boxed his ears," and sent him home.

Magistrate Philp said that "previous unpleasantness" which may have existed among the children had nothing to do with the assault charges.

Says Wholesale Meat Prices Should Be Listed

OTTAWA, April 20 (CP). — Wholesale meat prices should be regularly published for the information of both housewives and farmes, the Special Prices Committee was urged today.

The recommendation came from W. E. Tummon, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, who originally made it in a brief presented to the committee last week.

Today, when committee counsel H. A. Dyde questioned him about it, Mr. Tummon renewed the suggestion forcefully.

"I made the suggestion because I believe the more publicity you can get on things the more confidence there is," he said. "The housewife knows what the producer is getting, I don't seee why it wouldn't be possible to public wholesale prices twice a month.'

He said he had read in a Toonto newspaper of a retailer admitting that his gross profit on bacon was 23 cents a pound.

"We can't realize that it takes 23 cents a pound to retail bacon," he said. "It makes us feel there must be something wrong with the distribution system."

Mr. Tummon told Ross Thatcher (CCF—Moose Jaw) that he had no evidence of any collusion between packers in setting prices to consumers.

"You believe then that there is competition between Swifts and Canada Packers?' Mr. Thatcher asked.

"I think one big company sets the price to the producer and the others follow," Mr. Tummon replied.

Build 20,000 New Houses CCF Pledges

TORONTO, April 20 — (CP)— Andrew Brewin, Ontario CCF president, said last night in a broadcast over a CBC Ontario network that housing and health services will be planks in his party's Ontario general election campaign platform.

eH said others would be government automobile insurance at "greatly reduced" rates, "fair and adequate" labor legislation, an increase in old-age pensions to $40 a month, a "generous increase in mothers' allowances and free medical, dental, and hospital care for both old-age pensioners and recipients of mothers' allowances.

"The CCF has pledged itself to build at least 20,000 homes to be rented at reasonable rates. This will be the province's own contribution to housing, in addition to providing low-cost loans and co-operating with municipalities, with co-operatives and with the Dominion Government in further housing projects . . .

"A CCF government will introduce a plan for complete hospital services on a basis simoler pital services on a basis similar to that already in effect in Saskatchewan, where, for the payment of 5 a year, or a maximum of $0 a family, complete hospital services are provided. It also will come to an agreement with the Dominion Government to share in financing a program of complete medical and dental services as personnel and accommodation become available."

Mr. Brewin also pledged the party to enactment of legislation for two weeks' vacation with pay and a 40-hour week.

As the audience shivered, he sprawled out in the snow and ate an ice cream cone.

Millions Place Mahatma On List of World Saints

By DOON CAMPBELL

NEW DELHI, April 19 (Reuters).—Today, a few short weeks after the murder of the Mahatma (Great Soul) Gandhi, a popular movement is evident here to add another name to the prophets and sains of the world.

Within days of the assassination some Moslems pronounced Gandhi a Shahid and some Hindus called him Kalki—the tenth Awatara. Buddha was the ninth Awatara, and Hindu mythology predicts the coming of Kalki to earth to destroy the forces of wickedness.

Newspapers in India still carry headlines such as "Greatest Human Being Since Christ," "He Walked With God," "Buddha and Gandhi—a Striking Parallel," and "Greatest Man of God in Modern History."

The Sermon on the Mount and quotations from the New Testament are published alongside selected passages from Gandhi's writings. Many today refer to the little man who was killed in the garden on a Friday as He, and talk of His teachings.

Although Gandhi himself preferred to be a man among men, there are movements to attribute to him the qualities of a saint. Miss Madeline Slade, daughter of a British admiral, who renounced everything to become Gandhi's disciple 20 years ago, summed up the feelings of many here when she said: "For me there are only two — God and Bapu (Father Gandhi). And now they have become one."

Gandhi's death shocked and stunned one-fifth of humanity, from the Himalayas to Cape Comorin. People died of shock. People started fasts of penance. Millions mourned his death as the passing of a god.

Thousands of Tributes

Newspapers have carried thousands of pictures of the Mahatma and thousands of tributes, letters and laments. Sometimes there was not one line of other news—India forgot the rest of the world for a week in 10 pages. Sometimes a page was left blank except for the words: "Father forgive us."

Now from every town and many villages in the land come suggestions for "fitting" memorials, suggestions, for example, for a Gandhi clock tower, Gandhi statues of stone and marble (one writer suggests that statues of prominent Britons "symbolizing India's slavery" be pulled down to make way for Gandhi statutes), a Gandhi library, a Gandhi colony, a Gandhi garden, a Gandhi hall of peace, Gandhi temples, Gandhi pillars (it is variously suggested there should be from 500 to 100,000 studding the country) with his utterances inscribed after the style of the Asoka pillars.

It is suggested that India, known for 23 centuries as India, be renamed Gandhia "because the whole world knows India as the land of Gandhi." Another suggestion is that Mount Everest become Mount Gandhi "to symbolize the Mahatma's stature among human beings."

Narandas Gandhi, the Mahatma's nephew, who is chief organizer of the hand-spinning movement in Katiawar, suggests that the Congress working committee should "call upon the nation to produce 10,000,000 regular spinners who would religiously adhere to the charkha (hand spinning wheel), as a mark of respect to Bapu's sacred memory."

While the prime minister, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, and the deputy prime minister, Sardar Patel, and other Indian leaders have stressed that communal harmony is the only memorial worthy of Gandhi, popular sentiment still seeks satisfaction in conventional monuments.

The Woodland Swamp . . .

Cool woodland swamps and open sunny marshes provide homes for waterfowl, beavers and muskrats. They help maintain the underground water-level, assisting the farmer through the dry summer months. The diagrams below show how the draining of swamps often causes wells to dry up, destroys vegetation, paves the way for spring floods. A soil expert should be consulted before a marsh or swamp is drained, to make sure that the project will serve a worthwhile purpose; drained land is sometimes useless for agriculture. $50,000 GALE DAMAGES BOBCAYGEON

Power Lines, Telephones Still Not Repaired; Nine Cottages Demolished

Wind Takes Deloro Farmer's Shed Roof As Marmora, Madoc In Path; Norwood Lines Also Affected By Whirlwind

BOBCAYGEON, April 21—(Staff).—A slashing ten-minute gale of rain and wind swept through the Bobcaygeon area early Tuesday night, leaving in its wake hundreds of uprooted trees, damaged and wrecked cottages, boats, boathouses, barns. Damage from the miniature whirlwind is estimated at $50,000. Other centres of the district — including Marmora and Madoc—also reported damage from freak winds Tuesday. Damage was caused to barns and the wind swept away trees and fence rails.

The storm struck about 5.30 here without warning. Darkened skies were followed immediately by driving rain and gale-like winds.

Area affected is the vacation district about 40 miles northwest of Peterborough near Bobcaygeon. The village of Coboconk, 40 miles north of Lindsay, was completely isolated.

Cottages Wrecked

Crew members who worked throughout the night and today, report that scores of heavy trees were torn out.

The McNaughton cottage at Bobcaygeon was completely wrecked, and it is believed that the cottage of J. Anderson was also demolished. Both are near Edgewater Pavilion, west of Bobcaygeon. A boathouse at the mouth of the Big Bob river was upset.

Eye-witnesses to the cottage destruction said the buildings were "blown to pieces" by the tornado-like wind.

Trowbridge Death Accidental

OMEMEE, April 21—(Staff).—A coroner's jury Tuesday decided that the death of Sidney Trowbridge on March 6 was accidental. The report of the jury recommended that a wig-wag signal be erected by the CNR at the scene of the fatality—the railroad crossing about two and a half miles east of this village on No. 7 Highway. The five-man jury, all farmers of Emily Township, were out more than an hour. They heard 19 witnesses in all, taking more than three hours for the hearing.

The evidence concerning the accident in which 41-year-old Trowbridge, a CGE employee, was killed instantly, did not vary on the essential facts of the accident as told by the witnesses. Five members of the crew of the train into which the death car plowed explained why the train had been stopped across the highway at about 1:30 o'clock.

William T. Bull, Lindsay, conductor of the Belleville-Lindsay train, said his train had been waiting on the siding there until and east-bound train had passed. After this, he said, his 30-car train had started to pull away. He reported the brakeman who jumped off to fix the switch on the siding properly had not been able to jump back on the train as it was pulling away. The witness said that he had pulled the conductor's valve which had stopped the freight with the 12th car across the highway. Just as the delayed brakeman reached the caboose, he said, the crash of the car's impact was heard.

William Howes, 373 Queen St., Peterborough, driver and owner of the car, told the jury that the party had driven to Lindsay that night to see the hockey game. Visibility was good, he said, and the car's defroster was operating on the window he was using for driving.

Going down the hill towards the crossing, he testified that he had braked the car slightly when he noted the railroad sign. The car was moving about 20 m.p.h. at the time of the impact. He said that he did not see a sign of the train until the boxcar loomed in front of him about six feet away.

"That's all I remember."

Prairies Battling Floods Report 3 Children Drowned

WINNIPEG, April 21—(CP).—No let-up was seen today in flood conditions across western Canada as ice-jammed rivers continued to overflow their banks, sending swirling waters over low-lying areas. Attempts to dynamite the jams in an effort to break up the ice have been unsuccessful in many cases, as the heavy blocks carried away bridges in southern sections of Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

No further deaths have been reported other than those of yesterday, when two children were drowned and a third believed dead as the swollen waters filled ditches, gullys and valleys.

Drowned were 20-month-old Wayne Edward Wiechnik of Oyen, Alta., and one-year-old David Reid of North Kildonan, Man., both of whom fell into water-filled ditches near their homes.

Late reports from southern Manitoba districts last night said the Pembina river was rising eight inches an hour near the international border at Neche, N.D., and the rampaging waters from the Pembina hills were gaining momentum and threatening Gretna, Man., 50 miles south of here, with the worst flood in the town's history.

At Dominion City, Man., 40 miles northeast of Gretna, flood waters were reported reaching the highest point since 1916.

In Saskatchewan, a Souris river ice jam last night carried away the traffic bridge across the No. 18 highway north of Radville, 80 miles south of Regina.

Dr. R. P. Vivian Will Retire

PORT HOPE, April 21.—(ENS).—Announcement yesterday by the Hon. Dr. R. P. Vivian, former Minister of Health and Welfare, that he was retiring from the political field in which he figured as member for Durham, has resulted in a scurry to find a successor to contend the coming elections.

A meeting of the county executive was held last night in Orono at which various prospective aspirants for candidature were discussed but no decision was reached. It was announced by an official of the Durham Progressive Association that the party standard bearer might be announced later this week.

The retiring member, Hon. R. P. Vivian, now head of the Social Medicine Dept. at McGill University, pioneered much of the work in the public health phase of his portfolia, and he was particularly interested in the formation of the Northumberland and Durham counties health unit. Dr. Vivian plans a trip to Europe this summer in connection with his university activities and finds his duties too pressing to permit him to remain in the political field.

WILL RETIRE—Hon. Dr. R. P. Vivian, former Minister of Health and Welfare, has announced he is retiring from the political arena. He has represented Durham. No successor has been named yet.

Offer $100,000 For Gunman Injuring Reuther

DETROIT April 21 (AP)—The United Automobile Workers (CIO) today placed a $100,000 price on the head of the stealthy gunman who tried in vain to kill Walter P. Reuther.

Their reward offer followed one for $10,000 by the city of Detroit, launched on a great manhunt for the assailant who fired a shotgun into Reuther's kitchen Tuesday night.

The U.A.W president was gravely wounded but his doctors said he would live. They added that they have saved his right arm, torn almost off his body by the blast.

Today, as doctors reported Reuther out of danger, a battery of Detroit's police and top detectives followed slim clues in a search for one or two men in the assault.

For a time it was feared that Reuther, fiery president of the U.A.W. (C.I.O.) might lose his right arm, shattered by several slugs.

Reuther himself, according to Prosecutor James N. McNally, blamed management, Communists or a screwball." However, the prosecutor said Reuther "wasn't much help on what happened."

Reuther was shot a few minutes after returning home from a meeting of the U.A.W. International executive board.

As he stood in the breakfast nook of his home on the northwest side, a blast was fired through a window four or five feet from him.

The charge struck his right arm. One slug penetrated his chest cavity, stopping near the skin surface in the stomach area.

Reuther's wife, Mae, who had helped him prepare a snack before they were to retire, was out of the line of fire.

She and friends sped Reuther to a hospital where he spent 2½ hours on an operating table. Doctors said there were seven wounds in his arm and one in his chest.

Communist Fighting Erupts 24 Arrested By Police

ROME, April 21—(Reuters).—Police made 24 arrests when fighting occurred between Communists and anti-Communists in Milan's Cathedral Square late last night. Communist newspapers in Milan said that members of the Italian Social Movement Party insulted Communist speakers and tried to make them take off their badges.

Scuffles and fistfights took place.

Giuliano Pajetta, Communist candidate and brother of Gian Carlo Pajetta, secretary of the Federation of Communist parties in Lombardy, was arrested but released shortly afterwards.

Non-Communist reports, however, say that Communists insulted other speakers and caused the fight. Unrest in some factories in Milan, northern Italian Communist stronghold, is also reported. Police have been called out to deal with them, it is said, but no other details were available.

Police were also called out last night to deal with a scuffle in Cavour Place, Milan, outside the building of Unita, the Communist newspaper.

In the village of Scisiano, Clemente Magliatta, secretary of the Naples Confederation of Labor, was attacked by peasants while making a speech praising the Popular Front. He was rescued by Carabinieri.

Premier De Gasperi's Christian Democrat Party will hold 303 of the 574 seats in the new Italian Chamber of Deputies. The Communist-led Popular Front parties will hold 178.

The Christian Democrats will hold 130 seats in the Senate against 74 held by the Popular Front.

Russian Commission Blames British Pilot

LONDON, April 21. (AP) — Russian disputes with the western powers over Germany and Austria were sharpened today with new thrusts and counter-thrusts.

In London, a Tass dispatch said a Russian commission has found a British plane responsible for a fatal air crash over Berlin April 5. In Vienna, the United States and Russia blamed each other for a clash Monday on the streets of the American zone, when three Russian officers attempted to arrest a displaced person in the United States sector. American military police wrested the woman from the Russians.

London Papers Laud Mr. King

LONDON, April 21—(Reuters)—The Times of London today paid tribute in a leading article to the record of service of Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada.

"Today Mackenzie King leaves other prime ministers behind him," it wrote. "He wins the endurance test: he breaks the long-distance record. Until yesterday no prime minister of any British country had served longer in office than Sir Robert Walpole, with his total of 7,620 days—nearly 21 years. Yesterday Mackenzie King drew level.

"The congratulations and good wishes given him in Canada will be swelled from this country and from all parts of the Commonwealth.

Mackenzie King has not seen himself as the forceful, dynamic leader: he has rather been the wise guide, directing the forces and sustaining basic unity between French and British.

"Many political powers have been and still are ranged against him, but today the debt due to his shrewd, cautious, unflurried work can be freely acknowledged..."

Elizabeth, 22 Has Quiet Day

LONDON, April 21 — (AP)— Princess Elizabeth rose early today to share a special 22nd birthday breakfast with Prince Philip.

Rumors persist that she will be a mother soon but court circles have dampened the rumors, noting that she is still keeping up her schedule of official engagements.

Breakfast with Philip opened a day of quiet observation of the anniversary. It was far different from a year ago, when Elizabeth became of official age to succeed to the throne. On that occasion the princess made an empire-wide radio broadcast in which she said she would dedicate her life to official service.

Philip, a navy lieutenant, had to race away early to his studies at the Greenwich naval college. But he was expected home in the evening to join in family celebrations.

Train Strikes Truck Chain, 1 Dead, 2 Hurt

VERNER April 21 (CP)—Florian Gagnon, 25, of Verner, was killed instantly today when a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train engine struck a chain linking an automobile to a truck which was towing it, near this Lake Nipissing town, 34 miles west of North Bay.

His brother Marcel, 27, and Donat Gareau 32 both of Verner, suffered shock and minor head injuries but did not require hospital treatment.

It is not yet known whether an inquest will be held.

Provincial Constable Ralph Crozier of Sturgeon Falls said Gareau's automobile had a burned-out clutch and was being towed by the Gagnon brothers. The truck, owned by Marcel Gagnon and driven by Florian, was pulling the car southward on the road leading to Lavigne.

C.P.R. officials at North Bay said the train was travelling at 35 miles an hour when it struck the chain between the two vehicles at a level crossing.

The truck was dragged 69 feet by the engine and tossed into a ditch. Florian's body was pinned under the cab wreckage and rescuers were unable to move him until a tow truck was obtained to raise the wreckage. Members of the train crew removed the injured men.

The car, operated by Gareau, was dragged 30 feet and deposited in a ditch on the opposite side.

Second York Doctor Questioned By Police

TORONTO, April 21—(CP)—New information obtained by detectives investigating the abortion slaying of pretty Mrs. Jane Murdoch Gordon today led to the check-up on a second North York township doctor.

Microscopic examination of clothing worn by the 29-year-old estranged wife of a Toronto doctor continued today and officials said it was expected the findings would be complete this week.

Lewis Appeals To Miners To Hurry Back To Pits

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) —John L. Lewis, facing a still bigger fine and even jail if the coal strike in the United States flares anew, appealed to the miners today to hurry back to the pits.

The result was an avalanche of orders from the 27 United Mine Workers district presidents directing the 400,000 American soft coal diggers to be back on the job in force by Monday at the latest.

The air cleared at once, and the pension strike which began March 15 seemed definitely over.

There was no "code or wind or nod" in the message sent to his top union lieutenants. He said flatly he wished they would go back to work immediately.

Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, who yesterday fined Lewis $20,000 and the UMW $1,400,000 for criminal contempt in not obeying a court order sooner, had said Lewis used a "code" in the four-week strike over pensions.

Lewis is due to appear before Goldsborough again Friday to hear a possible sentence against him and the union for civil contempt.

Monday's verdict held them guilty of both criminal and civil contempt. But Goldsborough thus far has punished them only for the criminal offence. He said he didn't want to emphasize the civil phase. Because another fine would only shift a lot of money "from one class (the miners) to the whole people."

Defense Board Appointed For Industry

OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP). — The government plans to keep a close eye on Canada's industrial war potential.

Defence Minister Claxton told the Commons today that a 14-man Industrial Defense Board is being established.

"This important board is being created with the object of ensuring that in the event of war, Canadian industry will be able to make a maximum contribution with a minimum of delay," said Mr. Claxton.

'In the last war Canada became a great arsenal for democracy. Should an emergency ever arise again our expectation is that this board will assist us in being prepared to ensure that Canada will play its full and necessary part in the preservation of freedom and in the defense of our country.

Named Chairman

H. J. Carmichael of St. Catharines, wartime co-ordinator of production in the Munitions Department, has been chosen chairman of the board. Industry will have six other representatives. The three branches of the armed forces, the Defense Research Board, the Crown-owned Canadian Arsenals Ltd., and the Trade Department will all be represented.

Mr. Claxton said the board will examine the various agencies concerned in planning and initiating procurement and production of war equipment in Canada.

It will recommend how responsibilities of the agencies can be divided to prevent overlapping.

The board will also consider requirements of the forces and capacity of industry to make the materials available. The board will be asked to make recommendations on materials, industries or plants which are regarded as essential and for which some special provision possibly should be made.

NAME DIRECTORS

Sales and Ad Club elected four directors for the year at the annual meeting held at South Beach Tuesday evening. The new men are Lionel Brown, Percy Dallin, Paige Rowell, and Blaine Till. Directors with one year still to go are Herbert Mason, Bert Austin, Eric Westbye, and Don Loucks. Officers will be named by this board of directors next week.

"ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE"

Polish Planes To Fly Faster

Did you know that airplanes are polished to make them fly faster? The polishing reduces their weight — smooths away roughness that would cause air friction.

In these special polishes for planes, one important ingredient is a fine grade of Johns-Manville Celite. A light, fluffy powder, Celite acts as a non-scratching abrasive — helps prevent harm to the plane surfaces. It also adds bulk — makes the polish go further. Celite is the base in fine automobile and silver polishes, too, and in other cleansers used in the home. It's used as a filter aid for penicillin and sulfa, and as a high temperature insulation for industry.

For complete details on how Celite can be used in your industry, write, on your company letterhead to Canadian Johns-Manville, 199 Bay St., Toronto.

Power Lines

A. D. Stewart, CPR agent at Bobcaygeon, an eyewitness to the storm described it as "a funnel-shaped cloud". Within two minutes of the wind, the lights and power were cut off.

(Some sections were still cut off this morning. Bobcaygeon is still isolated by phone. Hydro and telephone crews worked all night to try to re-establish lines. They are still on duty now.)

Police covering the area said that eight or nine cottages in the Bobcaygeon district have been wrecked by the wind.

Provincial Constable L. G. Lyle, Fenelon Falls, headed a detachment of police to Bobcaygeon to stand guard against looters there.

Eight Poles Down

Norman Maidens, superintendent of the Fenelon Falls Hydro office, said that power there was cut for one and a half hours. Eight poles were down at Rosedale.

"It is the worst storm in the area in the past 12 years," said Mr. Maidens. He gave reports of trees blown down over the whole area. The wind felled 20 trees on one farm alone.

The storm lasted about 45 minutes, although the worst part took only 10 to 15 minutes. There were no injuries reported, although hundreds viewed the remains of barns and cottages.

Dunsford, 10 miles from Bobcaygeon, was without light for three hours.

Farmers of the district reported considerable damage to trees and fences. The only barn seriously damaged was one near Bobcaygeon, owned by Bernard Kellett. It was completely leveled by the wind.

$1.50-$1.75.

A Toronto visitor, named Gouinlock, swam safely to shore when his boat overturned on Sturgeon lake. A man on shore swam out to the overturned craft and helped him manoeuvre it to a safe swimming distance, both clinging to the boat bottom.

Other Areas Hit

Cannington, Woodville, Kinmount and Burnt River — also received their share of uprooted trees and damaged buildings. Temporary disruption of telephone and hydro lines was felt generally.

Eight small boats on the lake were driven out on the water by the storm. Two boathouses were swept away.

A freak storm about six o'clock at Marmora, which may have been an outshoot of the big blow in Victoria County, swept through Marmora village for about ten minutes. The roof of the drive-house of John Terrion, three miles from Deloro, was blown off. The path of the storm was about 200 yards wide, witnesses said.

The wind, which was going east, also ripped a big maple tree in the Terrion farm yard from its roots, smashing windows in the houses as it fell.

(About three years ago, a similar wind storm tore the roof from the barn of the Terrion farm).

Other farmers in the Marmora district watched the rails of their fences being torn into the air by the twisting wind. Telephone poles and trees near Madoc were ripped up.

A number of telephone poles near Buckhorn were blown down and one pole at Norwood affected rural line service there.

High Taxes Worry Barbara

MONTREAL, April 21 — (CP). — High income taxes may keep Barbara Ann Scott out of the movies.

Mrs. Clyde Scott, mother of the Ottawa skater, said last night that the Olympic champion had received one offer of $7,500 a week from one Hollywood producer to make a picture. The deal would include an additional $3,000 a week for Mrs. Scott.

"But Barbara Ann is not considering any contracts," Mrs. Scott said. "She considers herself a good Canadian but she sees no reason why she should work terribly hard and then have to turn most of her earnings over to the government."

U.S. Trusteeship Criticized Anew

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., April 21 — (CP). — The United States faced new onslaughts today on its proposal for a United Nations trusteeship over Palestine.

The suggestions put forward in the U.N. political committee yesterday by Warren R. Austin, chief American delegates were followed by blasts from Russia, New Zealand and Australia urging the assembly to continue with the plan of dividing Palestine in Jewish and Arab states which it passed last Nov. 29.

Today Arthur Creech-Jones, Britain's colonial secretary, was expected to reiterate Britain's intention to drop the Palestine mandate May 15; clear out of Palestine by Aug. 1 and have no more British soldiers and naval units in Palestine after Aug. 1 for any reason.

The Arabs, who along with the Jews of embattled Palestine have apparently ignored the Security Council's truce order, were not expected to be any more favorable to the U.S. plan which pledged American troops to control the Holy Land by an international force.

CSU Stones Freighter Injures Its Master

TORONTO, April 21 — (CP). — Lower lakes canals were tense spots today in the fight between the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) and the rival Canadian Lake Seamen's Union (Independent) over contracts which four lines refuse to sign with the C.S.U.

The first canal-bank violence in the jurisdictional dispute flared last night when the C.S.U. stoned the freighter J. A. France in the Welland Canal and injured its master, Capt. J. A. Austin. But the freighter, which eluded union men as it left Thorold with a newsprint cargo for Chicago, cleared the canal.

TAKES SCHOLARSHIP — Second winner of the Board of Health scholarship of $500, Miss Elsie Crawford graduates this summer from Civic Hospital to take the course at the school of nursing, University of Toronto. This award is granted with the approval of the City Council on condition that the winner, on completing a year's studies in public health, becomes available for engagement for at least one year with the city's health department. Miss Veronica O'Leary was the first winner of this scholarship.

City Nurse Wins $500 Scholarship

Miss Elsie Crawford of Civic Hospital staff has been awarded the Board of Health's scholarship of $500 for one year's course in public health work at any of the universities. One of the conditions of the gift of the city is that the recipient promises to return to Peterborough and work for the Department of Health at least one year, if needed.

The scholarship plan of promoting interest in public health training as part of the nursing progression, in some instances at least, was adopted three or four years ago by the Board when the war had called large numbers of nurses to its hospitals. It has been one of the ideas advocated by James Dutton.

London Mail To Print Edition In Canada

TORONTO, April 21—(CP).—Robert T. Lewis, director of the London Daily Mail, announced today the British paper plans to print its overseas edition in Canada.

Here conducting preliminary negotiations, Mr. Lewis, who arrived from London about two weeks ago, hopes to find a printing house either in Toronto or Montreal to publish the Overseas Mail, a weekly.

The Mail is not planning to invade the Canadian newspaper field, he said. The Overseas Mail would still be edited in London and would maintain its editorial policy of being written "for the Briton abroad."

Difficulties of printing the overseas edition in London, where newsprint rationing limits circulation and size, led to the move, Mr. Lewis said.

38 Dead, Missing

LIMA, Peru, April 21—(AP).—Six persons were killed and 32 are missing as the result of an explosion yesterday in a copper mine at Casablanca, the Ministry of Interior said yesterday. The Ministry said it had been told that 62 persons were rescued alive. Rescue crews sought to force air into the area where 32 still were believed to be entombed.

MILLION DOLLAR SANTA —No man who can give away a million dollars' worth of property is going to escape the ladies easily—especially during leap year—that has been found out by Herman Schultz, 75-year-old Le Mars, farmer, of Le Mars, Iowa, above. His decision to present relatives and friends with a million dollars' worth of farm land has resulted in his being smothered under an avalanche of marriage proposals. "I don't want to marry at my age," he says, but that doesn't stop the bombardment of tender missives.

U.S. Border Men Stop Canadian Red Leader

WINDSOR, April 21—(CP)—Red-motivated activities prevented the entry into United States yesterday of Frank Harris, Local 200 United Automobile Workers (CIO) education director, who was stopped at the Detroit Tunnel by United States immigration men.

"He was excluded when a question was raised concerning his being of a questionable class," Edward E. Adcock, district director of immigration said today. "The question arose out of his affiliation with the activities of the Labor-Progressive Party of Canada."

Mr. Harris cannot be admitted into United States "until he can remove all doubts concerning his admissability."

Masonic Official Visits Marmora Lodge

MARMORA, April 21—(ENS). —Right Wor. Bro. S. A. McCarey, District Deputy Grand Master of Prince Edward District, made his official visit to Marmora AF and AM 222 on Monday evening. A large number of visiting brethren assembled with the local members in St. Andrew's Hall, wheer the Women's Association of that church served the banquet.

Wor. Bro. A. W. Drew, Master of Marmora Lodge, was toastmaster for the occasion.

The toast to "The Craft" was given by Right Wor. C. H. Buskard, PDDGM, of Prince Edward, with Right Wor. Bro. McCarey replying.

The toast to "Visiting Brethren" was given by Wor. Bro. J. Baker and was responded to in the Lodge room at the session which followed.

The initiation of a candidate took place and as in St. Andrew's Hall the DDGM gave the address.

Blind Workers Have No Accidents

TORONTO, April 21 — (CP). — L. G. Williams, national director of employment for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, said yesterday that the 185 blind persons employed in Ontario industry "have not had an accident for so long I cannot remember the last one."

"No industry can afford to be without a blind employee," Mr. Williams told the annual meeting of the Industrial Accidents Prevention Associations. "Their production records equal and frequently exceed those of sighted employees. They increase shop morale, and sighted employees are so anxious to move objects and materials that might embarrass them that plant housekeeping is tremendously bettered," he said

Mr. Williams lost his sight in an accident at his catile ranch in Saskatchewan.

Allow Packers To Sell To U.S.

OTTAWA, April 21 (CP)—Canadian packing plants have been given permission to sell limited quantities of processed meat products on the United States market, it was disclosed today.

An agriculture department spokesman said the meats involved were not in demand in Europe but that the move had been made last Feb. 19 at the request of the trade department to permit Canadian plants to keep their name before the U.S. public with "token" shipments. One reason it had been possible was because the United Kingdom this year did not renew her contract for canned meat.

The following types and quantities of processed meats may be shipped to the U.S. up to next June 30 under the arrangement: spreads and potted meats, 579,000 pounds; pork products, 207,000 pounds, of which only 10 per cent may be canned ham; solid pack other than pork, 281,000 pounds; stews and boiled dinners, 883,000 pounds net.

Golds In Better Form Show Narrow Net Gain

TORONTO, April 21—(CP)—Prices were modestly easier as profit-cashing set in following the extended period of upward trend trading on the stock exchange today. Golds, however, showed better form for a narrow net gain. Trading was spread widely over the lists but the price range was generally within fractions. CPR and BC Pulp featured the industrials both at new highs, while Smelters headed the mining lists also touching a new high.

Volume for the first three hours was 559,000 shares, about 14,000 less than yesterday's similar period.

CPR turned over more than 5,000 shares to sell at 16⅛ for a gain of ⅜ to lead the utilities while BC Pulp touched 115 but sold off slightly at 112 up 3 for the day.

Other industrials about balanced narrow gains and losses with many key issues successfully holding the price line although a few were easier.

Better golds were Bralorne, Eldona, Kerr Addison, Osulake and Sisco while Teck-Hughes, Wright-Hargreaves, O'Brien, Aunor and a few others showed losses. Easier base metals were Pend Oreille, Quemont, Nickel, Hudson Bay and Eureka.

Body Identified

PORT HOPE, April 21 — (Special) — The body of the transient who was found dead from natural causes in a ditch west of here last Saturday has been identified as that of Ben Eldon, no fixed abode. The idenitfication was made through routine fingerprint check-up, which revealed his name and the fact that he had been convicted of vagrancy in 1927 at Sudbury. The investigation was made by Cons. Don. Nicol and Lyle Erskine.

NAMED DIRECTORS—Three men well-known in the industrial life of Peterborough were named directors at the annual convention of Industrial Accident Prevention Associations. From left to right Fred Overend, Peterborough Lumber Co., H. T. Cranford, Western Clock Co., and Ian F. McRae, CGE Co. Both Mr. Cranford and Mr. McRae were named to the Metal Trades Safety Association and Mr. Overend to the Woodworkers Accident Prevention Association.

Book War Rages Mayor Unworried

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., April 21 (CP)—The "book war" today threatens to precipitate a mayoralty by-election in Medicine Hat but Mayor W. M. Rae sits unruffled in his office.

He has presided at two turbulent city council meetings at which his status provided the chief topic, and attended a tempestuous library board session which provoked his resignation from office—later withdrawn.

He also served notice that he intends to remain as mayor "until decreed otherwise by the people of Medicine Hat who put me here," The "war" began last autumn when Chairman Alexander Calhoun, of the Alberta Library Board recommended that half the city library's 15,000 books be listed as "obsolete."

The property owners served notice of a recall petition they intend to circulate.

Last night President Thomas Daniels of the association said work on the petition had begun. The association needs 1,400 names before a city charter provision entitles it to demand Mayor Rae's recall and a by-election.

Nab Alleged Hit-Run Driver

COBOURG, April 21—(ENS)—Climaxing a police investigation of many weeks, Robert Calvin Dunn of Bowmanville was arrested yesterday in Oshawa where he works. He was brought back to Cobourg by Chief of Police W. J. Carey and Constable C. Cunningham and was remanded in custody on a charge of not remaining at the scene of an accident.

Police allege that he was the driver of the car which struck Danny Parsons, Cobourg youth, at 12:40 a.m. on Feb. 8 on William St. Parsons is still in hospital as the result of broken left leg. Oshawa and Cobourg police have been working on the case for several weeks.

CCL Backs Lewis

OTTAWA, April 21—(CP). — The Canadian Congress of Labor last night assured John L. Lewis of its "utmost support in the struggle of the miners." The message was in a telegram sent by A. R. Mosher, CCI president, and Pat Conroy, secretary-treasurer.

Extend Time To Complete Ayrhart Building

CAMPBELLFORD, April 21 — (ENS).—A special meeting of the council was held Monday night. A by-law authorizing the borrowing of $15,000 to meet current expenses was passed. This loan is in excess of the $30,000 loan authorized for current expenses for the year, and according to a previous by-law it is the maximum amount that may be obtained for this purpose.

A by-law, granting an extension of time from April 10 to May 31, in which J. E. Ayrhart must recommence construction on lot 10, Front St., was passed. The original agreement when Mr. Ayrhart purchased the lot from the town, was that he build a business block on the lot of not less than $30,000 value, for a store or stores engaged in retail business. This building was to be completed by April 10, but part of the excavating was the only work done. The new by-law states the building must be completed by Nov. 30, or the property may be resold.

The appointment of C. W. Cochrane, Toronto, as auditor became official when a by-law was passed to that effect. J. M. Bygott, auditor since 1946, was granted his resignation at the last regular council meeting.

A by-law giving Oscar S. Scriver permission to dig and back fill a sewer trench from Hastings road to his residence on Garry St. was passed. The town will supply and lay the sewer pipes. A similar by-law was passed for Richard Maynard, River St.

J. Findlayson requested the council to authorize a clean-up week. It was decided to hold this priject the first week in May.

Building permits were granted to Mr. Skinner who plans to build a house and garage on half of lot seven and half of lot eight on the west side of Grand Road. It is to cost $7,000. Hugh Todd was also given a permit to build a six or seven thousand dollar house on the west side of Rear Street.

Jack Torrence asked the council for permission to build a refreshment booth on Sebastopol. The lot is adjacent to Clifford Cassan's residence. The property committee will investigate before any action is taken by the council.

J. F. R. Douglas, acting as town solicitor, was instructed to obtain permission from the Municipal Board of Ontario, to get a $3,000 overrun in excess of $5,000 asked for previously on sewer contract. This extra expenditure was necessary because of the extra cost of breaking frost an dcave-ins.

Quarters Crowded For Drama Festival

OTTAWA, April 21—(CP). — An old church building in lower town will be fairly bulging with actors and audience when the Dominion Drama Festival gets under way next week.

That's a literal statement. The grey, sandstone structure, which is the Little Theatre of the Ottawa Drama League, has a seating capacity of only 498 persons.

It is less than half the size of the London, Ont., theatre, where the 1947 festival was held.

The addition of "bleachers" at the back of the auditorium here will increase the theatre's capacity to 650, but Mrs. L. T. White, chairman of the festival, said today that these extra seats would be reserved for visiting actors and directors.

Jr. Farmers Hear Ont. President

(ENS).—At a junior farmers' meeting Monday night, Wesley Down of Hilton, president of the Junior Farmers' Association of Ontario, spoke of the importance of forming new clubs and inducing new members to join old clubs.

The success of the association, he said, depended on the willing co-operation of each member. There is much to be gained by being a member of a junior farmers' club, he said.

"Good fellowship and good citizenship go hand in hand, and community betterment is the natural outcome."

While speaking of the formation of new clubs, Mr. Down told of the organization of a new group at Grafton last week.

A representative from the Co-Operative, Percy Gardiner, spoke on Labor Unions and the Co-opertaive.

A tap dance routine was given by June and Joy Craighead. Other entertainment included an accordion solo by Cozette Archer, a piano solo by Marian Seymour and games conducted by May McKeown.

For the next meeting Marian Wallace and Gerald Heagle were appointed for the lunch committee, and Jean Rannie and Bruce McConnell for the program committee.

Nearly 2 Million Tons Steel Lost

NEW YORK, April 21—(AP).—Steel lost in the United States because of the coal miners' walkout will total more than 1,500,000 tons, the Iron Age, a trade publication, estimated today. The magazine said it had added 100,000 tons to an estimate made a week ago due to slowness of the miners to return to work.

Production this week, the Iron Age said, is 79 per cent of capacity, up 4.5 points from last week's revised rate of 74.5 per cent.

"The loss of steel because of the mine shutdown," the publication stated, "is far more serious than generally supposed...steel firms and their customers are this week realizing just how much distribution of steel has been knocked out of line."

Steel supply was tighter than at any time in the last two years because of the coal strike steel loss, the Marshall Plan, and the certainty of US defence requirements.

Broader Native Duties

ENTERBE, Uganda (CP). — African authorities are to be encouraged throughout Uganda to assume greater responsibilities in administering their areas.

CCF Names Williams Oshawa Candidate

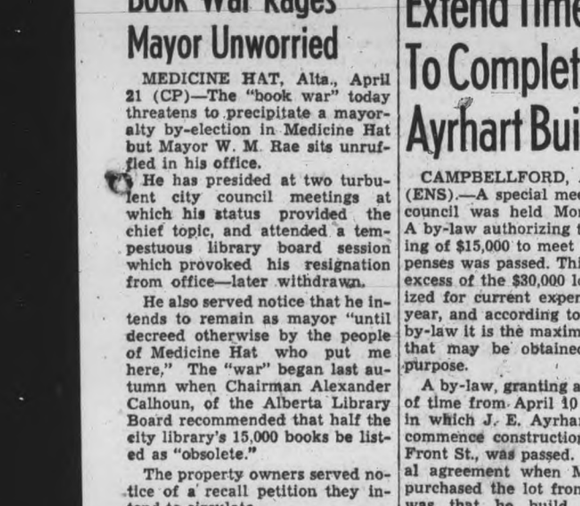
OSHAWA, April 21—Arthur Williams, United Mine Workers of America official and former MPP for Ontario Riding, was selected as CCF candidate in the federal by-election to be held here.

Mr. Williams defeated T. D. Thomas, reeve of East Whitby Township in a secret ballot last night during a CCF nomination meeting. He was elected to the provincial legsilature for this riding in 1943, and defeated in 1945 by T. K. Creighton, the present member.

Special speaker was Fred Zaplitny, CCF member for Dauphin, Man. Contributions totalling $1,350 were pledged to campaign funds.

Reward Treasurer

GUELPH, April 21 —(CP)— George M. Fox, 82, for 34 years treasurer of Wellington county, is to be retired with a "substantial" yearly allowance, county councillors decided last night. The treasured, who has been in ill health for two months, has the distinction of keeping the county free of debt for the last 32 years.



Drop Tax Charges Man Dead 20 Years

WHITBY, April 21.— Fred Buldyk and John Buldykee, both of Brooklin, were each fined $25 and costs in police court today after pleading guilty to failure to file income tax returns for 1945 and 1946.

The same charge against S. Buldyke, allegedly of Brooklin, was withdrawn. "Apparently this man has been dead for 20 years," observed Magistrate F. S. Ebbs after examining the endorsation made by a provincial officer upon the summons.

R. A. Wallace, prosecuting counsel, observed that there might have been a mistake in the name.

The first horticultural society is said to have been established in Belgium in 1790.

CONSULTANT: "Is there any place in Toronto I can secure advice and help in the selection of clothes for myself. I'm 35 with a young family. I can't spend a lot of money and must make use of the clothes I have. Where can I get help?"

Both the large department stores have exactly the type of consultant you want. Make an appointment with the bureau at the store. A clever and sympathetic buyer will plan your clothes, making use of what you now have. It's a grand service for busy people.

SUMMER TIME: "I am cooking for a Toronto Scout camp of 60 this summer for nine weeks. Where will I get recipes for that crowd of people? Suggest a week's meat, please."

The book you want is Quantity Food Service Recipes, obtainable at any book store. Meats? Sunday, spiced pot roast; Monday, small pork sausages; Tuesday, meat pie, pastry topping; Wednesday, liver loaf or patties; Thursday, steamed wieners; Friday, salmon loaf or baked fillets; Saturday, swiss steak. There it is, filling, nutritious, with an average cost of 11½ cents a serving.

JUNE WEDDING: "What are the correct clothes for a June wedding on the lawn?"

Go picturesque with long pastel coloured frocks and garden party hats. You'll fit right into the garden. Suppose it rains? Ah, well, keep your fingers crossed for fair weather.

DETOUR: "My husband has stopped talking to me except through our 12-year-old daughter. Have I any legal way to stop this humiliating procedure? My daughter takes advantage of the situation."

So long as your husband supports you, you have no legal case to take to court, the experts tell me. But you can take your problem to the Family Court, 70 Albert St. There you can talk out your problem and get wise advice.

RADIO ANNOUNCER: "What do I need in the way of education to be a radio announcer?"

A good voice, correct diction, knowledge of English both spoken and written, plus a sense of humour should help. Ask for an audition at your local station.

A Peterborough Gallery

The community has now a proper room to hang and exhibit pictures and Peterborough's Librarian, Mr. W. L. Graff, and the Public Library Board are to be thanked for providing it and congratulated on its simple appointments. As a make-shift art gallery it is a success. The walls and superfluous doors have been covered with burlap, new lighting has been installed which does not distort the pictures' colours grievously, the radiators have been cloaked and suitable drapes provided for the windows. The hall adjoining can be used as a second room for larger exhibitions. The gallery — for so we must call it — shows to good advantage in the present Loan Exhibition of water-colours from the National Gallery, and the pictures are shown to good advantage in it.

* * *

This exhibition is the first Peterborough has ever had of its kind and importance, and could not have been secured had the library's rooms not been transformed as they have been. The public generally and our many amateur painters in particular will find the show refreshing and interesting. Students of Canadian art have here the opportunity of seeing the water-colour work of painters from J. W. Morrice and Emily Carr to younger artists like Carl Schaeffer.

* * *

It is to be hoped that this is but the first in a series of exhibits, and that Mr. Graff and his staff, who cannot alone cope with the work of uncrating and hanging, will receive lively support from art enthusiasts. Peterborough has long needed pictures and a place to view them. Now it has made a beginning of both. In civilized society pigment is as important as porridge, design as important as dollars and beauty bulks as large as brains and brawn.

The Morality Of The Atomic Bomb

Nearly two years ago the Archbishops of Canterbury and York appointed a commission to study the moral implication of the atomic bomb in the light of Christian theology and practice. The Commission has now made its report, entitled "The Church and the Atom". The moral problems posed at Hiroshima and Nagasaki which have troubled many westerners including scientists and Christians, have now one Christian partial resolution of authority and weight. The Commission favours "atomic resistance to atomic aggression" on moral grounds.

Some Christians maintain that the Christian solution is to combat aggression by love. Against this theory the Montreal Gazette quotes from the Acts of the Apostles that "love is the fulfilling of the law", and says that aggression is a trial of force against the law. The Archbishops' Commission appeals for a world order based on justice and denounces Russian repudiation of such an order and standards as being the principal danger.

Would abandonment of atomic weapons by the peace-loving powers that possess them contribute to the success of a world order founded on justice? It is difficult to think it would. A nation that by disarmament rendered itself defenceless would not be assisting in prevention of aggression, which is the only way to preserve justice in the world.

The Commission's pronouncement, "on the assumption that today the possession of atomic weapons is genuinely necessary for national self-preservation" is that "a government which is responsible for the safety of the community committed to its charge is entitled to manufacture them and hold them in readiness. The commission believes, moreover, that in certain circumstances 'necessity' might justify their use against an unscrupulous aggressor".

This is the realistic and remarkable answer of sincere churchmen to the moral question of the atomic bomb, the answer of the church temporal. Ultimately the truth may be that while aggression is outside the law, love is above it, and that 'love conquers all'. It is notable that the Commission, confronted by the dreadful actuality of Hiroshima and Nagasaki, has condemned the use of atomic bombs on those occasions. Circumstances alter cases, even a church's brief.

Parliamentary Lore And The Church Of England Hierarchy

The Very Reverend Hewlett Johnson, the "Red Dean" of Canterbury, was pictured in Life magazine some months ago in gaiters in Yugoslavia and in swimming shorts on Adriatic beaches, surrounded by admiring young Communists, whom he takes under his sacerdotal wing. The present Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Fisher, has been cautiously critical of his politically left-wing Dean; Dr. Temple, the late Archbishop, did not castigate him, as far as we know. Dr. Temple's predecessor, the late Archbishop Lang, was a courtier and aristocrat to whom red as a political colour would be anathema but beyond his notice. Dean Inge, the "Gloomy Dean" of St. Paul's in Archbishop Lang's time, was not the kind of man to be perturbed by pink.

These remarks are preliminary to a fragment of recent debate in the House of Commons in Ottawa which we wish to bring to the notice of our readers. The members were debating the subject of a Bill of Rights for Canada. Mr. Jean Francois Pouliot, the independent Liberal from Temiscouata, had the floor. His flashing oratory (it sparkles even in English) was spicing the air. Here is the report from Hansard:

Mr. POULIOT: ...He stated that we had achieved complete freedom, but not a complete democratic society.

An Hon. MEMBER: Who said that?

Mr. POULIOT: The leader of the C.C.F. party. Then he referred to the Archbishop of Canterbury, the dead one, who was much better than the one who retired, and who is an active Soviet agent. He referred to the Archbishop of Canterbury and the share of labour.

An Hon. MEMBER: Who is that?

Mr. POULIOT: I mean Fisher. I remember he gave swimming lessons to young girls in the Black Sea. The picture appeared in Life magazine.

An Hon. MEMBER: Who did?

Mr. POULIOT: Fisher, the former Archbishop of Canterbury. It was a full-page advertisement.

An Hon. MEMBER: That was Inge.

Mr. POULIOT: He was trying to explain his propaganda. The article appeared in Life magazine. What I say is true. You may not agree with me but you will have to admit the facts....

Mon cher Pouliot, we could not fail to disagree with you less, much as we admire your style and your astonishing array of facts!

The $6.16 In Your Pocket

In theory every person in Canada has (according to the latest figures) $6.16 in coinage, for that is the per capita amount in circulation. It is nearly twice as much loose change as he had in 1939. The total amount of all coins in circulation is $75,758,839. Two-thirds of it is in silver (real silver, not what is referred to at charity functions as "silver collection"), about a tenth is bronze, one-fifteenth is nickel, and small quantities, according to dollar value, are really base metals—steel and an alloy called 'Tombac'. Gold coins have not been struck since 1919.

The recent history of the five-cent piece is a demoralizing story of devaluation. The five-cent silver coin was coined freely until 1921. Then came the big nickel, though the little silver fellows are still legal tender. Then came the war and a nickel (the mineral) shortage, so a new, dead-sounding, discoloured duodecagon was introduced. It was made of a copper-zinc alloy suitably called Tombac. This dreadful deceitful monstrosity of coinage was replaced in 1944 by the present five-cent piece which is shiny and bright because of its chromium finish, but heavy in sound, for it has a false heart of steel. A nickel is no longer nickel. As a matter of fact, a copper is not copper; it is made of bronze.

The silver dollar is a good coin, but there are a few of them about, one reason being that they were not coined until 1935 when a limited number came out of the mint as jubilee coins. Since the Coronation they have been minted regularly. Our most beautiful coin is the silver fifty-cent piece. It is honest in size and substance and finely engraved — particularly the coat-of-arms on the reverse side.

The bulk legal value of our coins is limited. Silver coins are legal tender to the amount of ten dollars. Five-cent pieces are legal tender up to five dollars. If you have a grudge against a debtor and want to annoy him by paying him in coppers, the law will thwart your malevolence — he can legally refuse to accept more than twenty-five.

We present these titillating facts not with a view to arousing interest in numismatology—an interesting hobby we are sure—but to slip in a word of relief that the bad brown five-cent piece has been discarded and to admonish our readers to say the word "nickel" in quotation marks when referring to the chromium-finish steel coin. "Dime" is of course not in their vocabularies, for the Canadian ten-cent piece is not a dime.

WEEKLY BOOK REVIEW

Novels For Spring Reading

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

PILGRIM'S INN, by Elizabeth Goudge (Musson). Very often authors who have no aim but to charm and please their readers write better books than those who take themselves too seriously as artists. In this literate, well-planned book the writer tells the story of an English family, weary from the experience of the war, which settles in a country house which was once a guest-house for pilgrims, and has also been an inn. It is a house of great charm and its atmosphere has a subtle effect upon those who live in it. In the course of the book the emotional entanglements of some of the characters are resolved and the herb of grace, the rue which grows so thickly about it, seems to work a healing magic upon distraught minds and heavy hearts. There are plenty of people who are looking for a good story with a happy ending, and here is just the book for them.... It is unfortunate that this excellent book should have been enclosed in a jacket and end-papers which are quite unworthy of it. Publishers really should have more respect for their productions than this.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE BISHOP'S MANTLE, by Agnes Sligh Turnbull (Macmillan). This is the story of a young clergyman who meets with the sort of troubles and adventures which plague such men in novels—bossy parishioners, the demands of a girl who is not his spiritual equal, and the continual compromise between good church husbandry and the selfless gospel of Christ. The hero of this book is the grandson of a very wise old bishop, and it is the recollection of the bishop, and his example, which upholds the young man in his many trials. This book is written with a degree of wisdom, and an insight into spiritual problem, which are uncommon in novels. Writers about clergymen tend to be either cynical, or else emotionally involved in a way which destroys much of the value of what they have to say. Mrs. Turnbull has George Eliot's gift of writing about religion without being either patronizing or preachy, and her portrait of Hilary is an understanding, fully-realized piece of work.

GREAT MISCHIEF, by Josephine Pinckney (Macmillan). This is the story of a Charleston druggist who, caught in the doldrums of the South after the American Civil War, begins to hanker after magic and spells. It is his fortune to meet a girl of similar tastes, and together they make experiments which take the young man farther and farther from everyday world, and from the demanding piety of his home. Indeed, it may have made a murderer of him—the matter is impossible to settle. Certainly it gains him one visit to Hell, and an interview with Satan himself. This book is written with great skill, and there are some fine passages in it, but it does not leave a completely satisfactory impression on the mind. Miss Pinckney can never quite abandon herself to the outlandishness of her theme, nor can she keep on the hither side of fantasy. Nevertheless, her attempt is interesting and well worth your attention.

FIRE, by George R. Stewart (Random House). This author will be remembered as the writer of an extraordinary book called "Storm". His latest work is almost a companion piece, in which he describes the ravages of a forest fire, and the attempts of a forestry service to control it. I have seen this book condemned as a "tour de force", though I cannot personally see anything wrong with a "tour de force" when it is as successful as this. Obviously Mr. Stewart has made a close study of forest fires and has been at great pains to get all his information as authentic as possible. Nevertheless, this is clearly a product of intense imaginative effort, and to my mind it is completely successful in making the fire itself a living thing, and the principal force in the novel. It is a welcome relief, too, from the succession of novels which deal with minute problems of human conduct and emotion. The fire is a very big thing, and its evil nature is obvious. The fight to kill it or control it is correspondingly exciting and trivial human problems are placed in an interesting perspective to the main theme of the novel.

FRIENDS AND LOVERS, by Helen MacInnes (Macmillan). This is in this writer's well-known vein of light, easy, pleasant narrative, and although it is not one of her best books it is not disappointing. It is about a young man who has to cut short his university career in order to assume family responsibilities, the chief of these being a rather tiresome sister. He has a severe illness, and his fiancee nurses him through it, and this experience deepens their love. All very agreeable, and well written and appropriate light reading for spring.

A Bible Message

And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him. And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me. For whosoever will have his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it. For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?

For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels. But I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God. (Iuke 9: 18, 23-27.)

Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven. (Matt. 7: 21.)

"Women In Government"

MARY LOWREY ROSS in TORONTO SATURDAY NIGHT

An acquaintance who was present at the inaugural meeting of "Women in Government" recently presented me with a breakdown of the three major feminine groups—the Progressive Conservative Group, the Liberal, and the C.C.F.

THE PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE:

She is in the 40-50 age group. She is the mother of 2.01 children. She is seventy-five per cent Anglican and twenty-five per cent. Continuing Presbyterian. She is strongly anti-Liberal, and particularly anti-Mackenzie King, whom she still blames bitterly for not pushing through conscription in World War II. She is in favour of British immigration, British preference, British movies, and all British institutions except British socialism, which she is convinced sound British judgment will eventually reject. She doesn't distinguish between the Labour Progressive Party and the C.C.F., both of which she condemns. She is a conscientious supporter of good causes, including the Art Gallery and the Symphony Orchestra (both of which she lists on income statements as "charities"). On her progressive side she is against all forms of racialism and on her conservative side she deplores the fact that the foreign element depreciates property values. She prefers Punch to the New Yorker and is conservative in taste, inclining to the good black basic dress. She is distressed by the rise in prices and blames them entirely on the Liberal Party and Mackenzie King. She is a Conservative because her family has always been conservative.

THE LIBERAL:

It has been pointed out that with the Liberal Party becoming more and more conservative and the Conservative Party becoming more and more progressive there is little now to distinguish between the two groups. Our researcher, however, has been able to discover certain points of variance. The Liberal woman for instance is a Liberal because her husband is a Liberal. She too is concerned by the price-rise but feels that without the Liberal government and Mackenzie King things would be a great deal worse. She is the mother of 2.06 children and in religion is fifty per cent. Roman Catholic and fifty per cent. United Church. She is in favour of British movies, but enjoys Hollywood ones. She is more sympathetic towards the Progressive Conservative Party than to any other group outside her own, and less sympathetic towards the Labor Progressive Party than to the C.C.F. She doesn't like the C.C.F. either.

She is a lively politician and a great admirer of Key Women in the organization, though she deplores their tendency to hang on to office. She would like to be a Key Woman herself but failing that would rather work on a sub-committee than stay home and miss all the fun. She is a member of the Book-of-the-Month Club. Although she is in favour of banning comics, she frequently reads the comics in the daily paper. She doesn't work outside the home, but she does most of her own work inside it. She is more interested in club politics than in provincial politics, and less interested in provincial politicians than in Mr. Mackenzie King.

THE C.C.F. MEMBER:

She is a member of the C.C.F. by conviction, and her husband is a member because she is. She does her own housework and her work outside the home consists in promoting the C.C.F. party. She is a dependable telephone canvasser. She disapproves of the New Look, but on economic rather than on aesthetic grounds. She is an economic salvationist, believing that every human problem can be solved by planned economic control. She attends the movies, but believes that all recreation should be on a community basis, with plenty of audience participation (e.g., open meetings, followed by square dancing). She is in favour of credit unions, co-operatives and the United Nations. She is the mother of 2.09 children. She keeps a dog or cat, not because she is specially attached to them but because she feels that the responsibility for pet will be good for the children. She rarely does anything without a constructive motive. As far as possible she tells the children the truth about sex, God, the profit system, and Santa Claus. She is a member of the Home and School Club and tends to promote the cause of education in C.C.F. groups of the C.C.F. cause in educational groups. She is a great reader of pamphlets. She distrusts all other political parties but feels that the Labour Progressive Party is the natural enemy of the C.C.F.

Unconsidered Trifles

Binks—"It was a great night! But I don't mind confessing I ended up in a police station!"

Jinks—"You were lucky, old man. I found my way home!"

Mother: "You were a long time in the conservatory with Mr. Willing last night, my child. What was going on."

Daughter: "Did you ever sit in the conservatory with father before you married him?"

Mother: "I suppose I did."

Daughter: "Well, mother, it's the same old world."

"Darling, I've made up my mind to stay at home this evening."

"Too late, George. I've made up my face to go out."

Press Week In Toronto

Doubting Thomases, or is it Thomi, who suspect newspaper publishers and editors are in the game only to make money might have been surprised had they sat in on the newspaper meetings held in Toronto every day this week. The Canadian Press, the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, and the Empire Press Union made it their annual occasion to talk over their affairs, in committees, in formal meetings and over the luncheon table.

We are not suggesting that the important matter of newspaper revenues never came up. Without revenues there would be no newspapers. But the matters which most occupied these gatherings were concerned with reader interest rather than revenue.

The CP, which has built up a highly respected co-operative news gathering and distributing organization, devoted its most important discussion to ways and means of developing a picture service whereby Canadian newspapers would feature Canadian photographers rather than American and foreign. Rapid and selective exchange of photographs in a country this size is no easy task—but CP seems to have devised a scheme which, though at some considerable cost, may improve the standard of Canadian newspapers from East to West. It was a step in the opposite direction to restraint of trade or monopoly, a step which will be costly to every paper and beneficial only to readers. It is as though every coffee merchant in the country agreed to improve his product without any one merchant being able to capitalize on the development.

And so it was in other matters: CP talked of improving quality in news writing, of speeding up transmission, of eliminating wasteful expenditure, of assuring impartial reporting and editing. The CDNA, which is concerned more with the business of running a newspaper than with news and editorial policies, in turn spent much time in studying methods to increase responsibility and accuracy in advertisements, to improve mechanical services and typographical appearance. It has also given much thought to securing the rights of a free press, to encouraging fair business practice in all lines of commercial endeavour.

We repeat, we do not come forward to tell of these meetings clad in white garments and disclaiming all personal interest. The better our product, presumably, the better our chances of survival. But the agenda of these several newspaper co-operatives do seem to suggest that newspaper publishers and editors are aware that the publishing of a newspaper is something more than the selling of soap; it is a private enterprise conducted in the public's interest and carries, by and large, more responsibility than privilege. Our shortcomings, we like to think, are not for want of trying.—Ottawa Journal.

Loans Halted By World Bank

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP). —The World Monetary Fund has decided to stop granting dollar loans to countries taking part in the European recovery program unless there are exceptional circumstances.

Authoritative sources said today the action was voted by the directors after weeks of debate, and notice has been given to the fund's 46 member countries. There was no official comment from the fund.

The decision would virtually halt the borrowing of dollars from the fund's $8,000,000,000 pool of international currencies by its 11 Western European members. Those are the countries to benefit from the $5,300,000,000 in aid furnished by the United States under ERP.

Silver Wedding Anniversary Of King And Queen On April 26

LONDON, April 21 — (AP) — Modestly, by royal standards, yet with some flashes of old-time pomp, the King and Queen will celebrate their silver wedding anniversary April 26.

Escorted by the Household Cavalry in resplendent full dress and gleaming silver helmets, they will drive in state coaches with Princess Elizabeth, Prince Philip and Princess Margaret from Buckingham Palace to St. Paul's Cathedral for a morning thanksgiving service — the day's principal event.

They will be joined there by Queen Mary, heading a separate procession from Marlborough House, her official residence.

Lining much of the route will be detachments from army, navy, marines and air force.

Later, the King and Queen, together with other members of the Royal family, may receive tributes of the crowds from the balcony of Buckingham Palace.

There may also be an evening drive, an informal one in an open car, through bomb-scarred parts of London, especially the east end, thickly populated by the poor.

No state dinners or receptions have been planned. The King and Queen have invited intimates to a private party at the palace on the evening of April 27. That will be the lone social function.

Although subdued to austerity mode, the celebration affords another chance to give Britons a bit of the pagentry they love, the first of any consequence since the wedding of Elizabeth and Philip last Nov. 20. The day is not being proclaimed a public holiday.

In going to St. Paul's for the anniversary service the King and Queen follow the example of George V and Queen Mary, who in like manner observed their silver jubilee. The service itself, by royal wish, will differ little from the usual hymns, psalms and prayers.

In South Africa 300,000 commemorative badges are being made for sale at a half-crown (50 cents) each, the proceeds to be used to buy food parcels for Britain. Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa is framing a congratulatory message from the youngest of the Dominions.

Similar expressions are due from Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Heads of foreign states will send felicitations.

The London County Council, along with other bodies, will proffer a "loyal and dutiful address" to the King, and offer a gift, its nature undisclosed, to the sovereigns on behalf of the people of London.

In London, too, the army will fire a royal salute. Royal Navy ships, in their home ports, will do the same. British ships, in some places abroad, are to be decorated and illuminated. The RAF here and overseas will parade.

To older Britons the day recalls that one of greater excitement in 1923 when the King and Queen, then the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, were married in Westminster Abbey. It was the first big royal festivity after the First Great War.

The bride, who was to become the first commoner Queen since Henry VIII married Catherine Parr in 1543, was everybody's favorite, calm, smiling and, in the words of one eye-witness, "lovely as a spring flower."

3,000 Expected To Attend Ottawa Liberal Convention

OTTAWA, April 21 — Up in the National Liberal Federation's special convention offices, on the sixth floor of the Chateau Laurier, the staff is struggling with a seemingly insoluble problem in mathematics.

It is: How to fit 3,000 persons into the Coliseum's 2,500 seats and into some 1,500 beds in 500 hotel rooms when the Liberals gather in Ottawa next August 5, 6 and 7 to decide the leadership and other important party questions.

How Attendance Looks

So far, this is how the convention attendance shapes up:

Three delegates from each of 243 ridings	729
Three delegates from each of the two double constituencies of Queens and Halifax	6
Three alternate delegates for all ridings	735
The Liberal MP's	128
Defeated Liberal candidates, about	110
The Liberal Senators, about	60
Presidents of provincial associations	9
Provincial leaders	9
Presidents of the Federation, the Liberal Women and the Young Liberals	3
Two delegates each from 12 university Liberal clubs	24
Delegates representing one-quarter of the seats in the nine provincial Legislatures about	125
Party organizers, officials, hangers-on, newspaper reporters and photographers and "interested observers," about	1,000

All but the alternates, party officials, reporters, "observers" and others without credentials will have the vote, running the convention poll to an estimated 1,200 ballots.

But the convention management will be under pressure to provide Coliseum seats for the full 3,000, and beds for all except members of the press corps.

Party officials cannot be ignored when it comes to accommodation, and neither can the "interested observers," for these include association secretaries, important supporters and assorted enthusiastic "amateur" Liberal politicians.

Seats Only 2,500

Since the convention hall seats only 2,500 there will be some 500 "standees."

That half of the accommodation problem isn't going to be too difficult, although a high degree of diplomacy will be required to decide who sits and who stands.

Tougher, ever so much tougher, will be the problem of bedding down the faithful.

In the jam of trying to cram as many of the 3,000 as possible into the 500 hotel bedrooms, politics indeed will be making strange bedfellows.

In the Chateau where some 300-plus rooms have been set aside, many of them are of the large and airy type. They'll almost have to be, for the plan is to ram as many double beds into them as they'll uncomfortably hold.

And in those double beds—two, three and even four of them to a room—many of the delegates will have to "double up."

The convention management hopes that friendly delegates from out-of-town points may not object too strenuously to this necessary "doubling." Yep, that's he hope, or, rather more correctly, the prayer.

Plead as it will, the convention management has slim chance of rounding up more than 500 hotel rooms, better than 300 at the Chateau, 100-plus at the Elgin, and five to 10 each in the smaller establishments of Ottawa and Hull.

In a pinch delegates will be bedded in private or tourist homes. But the convention fun will be in the two big hotels, and there's where every last delegate is demanding accommodation.

Meals at Coliseum

Out at the convention hall, to save time and the wear-and-tear of a twice-a-day race back downtown, the Federation is arranging to have meals served. Question still to be settled is whether the caterer will serve sandwich-and-coffee snacks, or full-dress meat-and-potato meals.

So far only two constituencies have posted their voting and alternate delegates for credentials. L. O. Breithaupt, Liberal MP for North Waterloo, was first at the wire with his, followed by Mrs. Cora Casselman, the defeated Liberal candidate in East Edmonton, with her six.

This business of defeated Liberal candidates having status as delegates is raising some delicate points, among them the proper convention standing, if any, of General A. G. L. McNaughton.

He was the defeated Liberal candidate in Qu'Appelle three years ago, but now as Canada's representative on the United Nations Security Council and a top-ranking civil servant, could he properly appear at the convention?

Who knows? No the National Liberal Federation; not yet, anyway.

Power and Bishop Call

Only two practising politicians so far have paid formal calls at convention headquarters. Former Air Minister C. G. "Chubby" Power and Senator Charles Bishop dropped around to run professional eyes over the preparations for the big August days, and both as veterans of the 1919 convention, found today's problems just about what they were 29 years ago.

Ex-Reeve Of Chandos A. Caldwell, Buried

APSLEY, April 21—(ENS)—Funeral of Allan Caldwell was held from his late residence on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Caldwell died suddenly Thursday morning.

He was born in Guelph in 1866 and came to Chandos 74 years ago. In 1894 he married Margaret Cleary and they celebrated the golden anniversary of their marriage in 1944. Mrs. Caldwell died a few months later.

Mr. Caldwell was Reeve of Chandos for a number of years and was active in community activities.

He leaves to mourn: two daughters, Mrs. Matte (Madaline) of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. E. McCaskey (Maggie), of Lakefield; two sons, Hugh of Frankford and Leonard of Clysdale. Another son, Raymond, was drowned in 1925. There 16 grandchildren.

Bearers were George Trotter, Thomas Trotter, Irvin Hilker, Frank Scott, John O'Brien, Pat O'Brien.

Service at Clysdale United Church was conducted by Rev. Whitely of Coe Hill, assisted by Rev. C. A. G. Spence, Anglican minister of Apsley.

Mr. Spence, a friend of the deceased for many years and associated with him in business, spoke of this sterling qualities.

Friends and relatives attended from Niagara Falls, Ottawa, Frankford, Lakefield, Peterborough, Douro, Lindsay, Detroit, Coe Hill and Apsley.

Tigers, Senators Battle To Thrilling Playoff Tie

By WALLY IZSAK.

TORONTO, April 21 — (CP)— Regardless of the outcome of the Eastern Canada senior hockey final, it's a definite conclusion that the two clubs, Ottawa Senators and Hamilton Tigers, could not be more closely matched.

This has been shown in all the games to date and especially in the fourth game here last night when they battled to a 2-2 overtime tie before 14,400 fans.

Tigers entered the contest with a 2-1 lead in games and with a victory could have won the Eastern title and the right to enter the Allan Cup finals against Edmonton. Now Tigers and Senators meet in the fifth game of the best-of-five series at Ottawa on Thursday.

Hamilton still can take the series with either a victory or a tie, but a Senator victory Thursday would leave the two clubs deadlocked at five points each, forcing an extra sixth game. Such a game would likely be at Toronto on Saturday afternoon.

Senators came from behind twice last night to earn the draw. Down 1-0 a the end of the first period, they scored once in the second period. Hamilton again moved into the lead early in the final frame only to have Ottawa come back to knot the count and force the game into a scoreless 10-minute overtime period.

Scoring was distributed over four players as Tommy Smelle and Johnny Conick scored one goal each for Hamilton and Bobby Copp and Connie Tudin connected once each for Ottawa.

Wide Open Play

Play broke wide open right from the face-off and Senators appeared to be heading for certain victory. Art Childs in the Tiger nets stalled them off, however, and little Tom Smelle picked up the lone goal for Hamilton.

Defenceman Bob Copp scored the tying goal for Ottawa in the middle period when he drove a 30-foot shot past Childs.

Conick then put Tigers into the lead again early in the third period, but eight minutes later Connie Tudin tied the score 2-2 for Ottawa.

In the overtime, both teams tired badly and the pace slowed slightly. Scoring chances were numerous but the goalies turned aside every threat.

Togs Get Title Handily In Girls' Loop

Towne Togs took the championship of the Girls' Bowling League this season as the league wound up play this week. In their last competition, Togs had high pinnage of 3086 with best single effort of 1140. Aggie Anderson of Togs led individuals with 768 and 281 single. The blind score of 543 was taken by M. Rogers of Arcos and E. Armsrong of Dodgers with 541 each.

The only sweep of the night was marked up by Commandos over Sevenaires, while 2-1 wins were taken by Togs over Merry Macs, Cardinals against Dodgers, Brintons over Arcos, and Marines over Hurricanes.

The following is the league standing for the season:

Tournament Notes

The Monday Nighters, a team made up of Bud Goodson, Frank Worsencroft, Bill Lewis, Harold Legrow and Irv Hanes took over high team score in the tournament now under way at Duffus Alleys. The boys turned in a nice total of 3498.

Roy Suddards came through with 826 to sweep into the lead in the singles.

Thursday night will see some of the City League teams in action. A lot of teams chose Thursday as it was league night during the regular season.

Irv Hanes and Bud Goodson took over the lead in the doubles from Frank Worsencroft and Ross Hopkins. Goodson and Hanes hit 1609 with Goodson contributing 834 as his share.

With quite a number of out-of-town entries received for the various events two teams from Oshawa are coming up to compete Friday night.

Ship Mink To England

REGINA — (CP). — Ten female mink, all due to become mothers in May, were shipped to a ranch in Teignmouth, Devonshire, England. Valued at $1,600, the shipment was the second sent to the English ranch by Omar F. Crabb, who has 460 mink left.

NOT EXACTLY A BOSTON TEA PARTY! — An intra-city game between the Boston Braves and Red Sox had its high-spot in the fourth inning. The occasion was a bout between Billy Hitchcock of the Red Sox and Earl Torgeson of the Braves, in which both teams mingled. During a double play at first both men went down and then came up swinging. Here the mixup is shown at its height, with Umpire C. Berry at Upper Left; Sam Mele, No. 14; Hitchcock, No. 11; Ted Williams, next to Hitchcock, with a head lock around Torgeson, whose head shows; Galehouse, No. 25, reaches for Torgeson, aided by Doerr and Ferriss (Left to Right), while coach Combs comes in from the foreground.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The infield fly rule applies equally in baseball and softball—yet it's not too well understood by players or fans. The infield fly is any fair fly ball except a bunt which occurs with runners on first and second or first, second and third with less than two out, if the ump figures it can be handled by an infielder. The ump behind the plate is to call it immediately. His ruling automatically retires the batter. The runners on bases have to protect themselves the same as on any other fly ball that is caught or dropped. They can run at their own risk or they can hold their bases. If such a ball should drop without being touched by a fielder and roll foul, the umpire must reverse his decision and call it a foul.

* * * * * *

Reason why the arbiter should call "infield fly" loud enough for the infield to hear and just as soon as he figures an infielder can handle it is to protect the runners. It was adopted to break up the chances of a double play by having an infielder intentionally drop the ball. Now, it doesn't matter whether he catches it or not — the batter is out. The height of the fly doesn't matter, so long as it isn't a line drive. The rule doesn't operate with a man on first only because, if the batter runs out his hit as he should, there is no chance to make a double play. A bunt fly on an attempted sacrifice doesn't count as an infield fly because the infielders are in motion and probably out of position.

* * * * * *

All Cluttered Up

And along this line, it might be pointed out that when two runners occupy the same base that base belongs to the original occupant except when he is forced to make room. Thus if there's a runner on first and the batter hits a ground ball, the man on first is forced to leave to make room for the batter. If there is no force then the base belongs to the original occupant. With two aboard the same sack, the infielder has merely to touch the runner not entitled to the base to retire him. This runner may try to get back to his original base so long as he runs the bases in proper reverse order. No cutting across the diamond, naturally! If he ran from first to third and had to return to first, he must touch second en route.

* * * * * *

It is surprising at times to see some bonehead play like that crop up on the diamond. We've seen it in senior ball in Riverside, and we've watched some amazing men's softball antics at the Bowl. Where they got balled up and ran in all directions, passing each other in bewildering manner. Heady players don't do those things—they are always figuring in advance what to do, and they know their rules. And heady infielders know what to do when someone starts such screwy base-running. It pays to knows the rules.

Entries Open Yet

Entries didn't close at last night's City Softball League meeting, as Legion sent word they couldn't be ready till after a club meeting Thursday. So entries were left open till a loop executive huddle next Tuesday at 8.30 in the "Y", and at that time players' certificates will be handed out and umpires appointed. No less than nine umps applied, biggest list yet in this league. About four will be carried again. Pat Calladine and Jack Russelle will wait upon the parks committee with an offer to add several rows of Bowl bleachers if the lumber is supplied. Hastings' application for entry was laid over till the next meeting. The circuit is asking three nights a week at the Bowl. A trophy offered will go to the most valuable player again.

* * * * * *

Several men's softball practices on tap this week. Knights have an open workout, Stan Houlihan advises, tomorrow eve at 6.15 on the Orphanage diamond, while Johnny Russelle is calling for an open drill for the B-A bunch at 6.15 p.m. Thursday in the Bowl. Nothing yet from De Laval but likely they'll go soon, too. All those interested in Legion softball should attend a meeting in the hall at 7.30 tomorrow night, it being called by Cyril Withers, who succeeds George McNabb as chairman of the Legion sports committee. The Legionnaires, by the way, have voted $200 to the civic arena, a nice gesture. Clubs planning workouts next week should remember that daylight saving starts this week-end.

Togs Are Champs

Girls' Bowling League wound up a successful season with Towne Togs taking the title. They were pretty well out in front with 64 points as Marines finished second with 57 and Brintons third with 53. Season's high average went to Aggie Anderson of this team with a 215 mark. M. Batley rolled top three of 834 and D. Bearne best single effort of 379 over the course. In the final night of play, the champs hit 'em true to form to lead with 3086 and a single of 1140, while A. Anderson led the lasses with a 768 triple and 281 single. M. Rogers of Arcos and E. Armstrong of Dodgers split on the blind score count. And, so, the trundling colleens can call it a season.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

One more win for Toronto's Montgomery Maids and the Canadian senior women's basketball crown is theirs.

The Maids edged out Cardston, (Alta), Shooting Stars 38-33 last night at Toronto to take the second straight game of their best-of-five battle for the East-West title and the Underwood Trophy. In the first game of the series Cardstons were defeated 47-35. The third game will be played in Toronto Thursday night.

Muriel Clark, Montgomery's captain, was the star of last night's game scoring 15 of her team's points.

Freddie Mills, British light heavyweight champion, scored a one-round technical knockout over Ken Shaw, Scottish heavyweight, at London last night. The referee stopped the fight at the end of the first round because of a deep cut Shaw suffered in his upper lip. The Scot had been down five times, twice for eight counts. Mills weighed 177¾ pounds, Shaw 189.

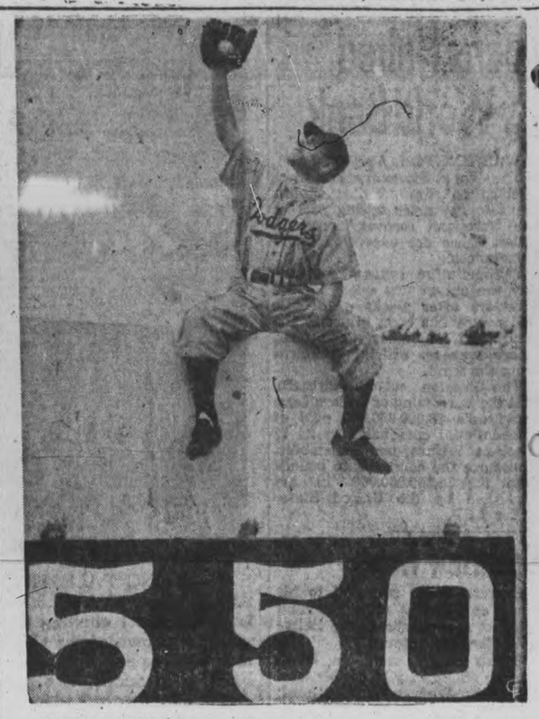
Montreal YMHA took a hard-fought 65-55 victory over Saint John St. John's last night in the New Brunswick city to win the Eastern Canada senior basketball title in two straight games. YMHA eked out a 66-63 victory in the first tilt of the best-of-three series after advancing into the finals by eliminating Windsor Alumni.

South African Bobby Locke yesterday shot sub-par golf for the second straight day, adding a five-under-par 67 to Monday's record-setting 64, to hold his lead in the Carolinas open golf tournament at Southern Pines, N.C. Johnny Palmer's two-day 135 left him four strokes off Locke's 36-hole pace of 131.

Nine Umpires Applying To City Loop

Nine applications for umpiring in the City Softball League were read at an executive meeting of the loop last evening in the YMCA. Last year four umpires were carried and it is expected the same number will be this season. But Legionnaires were not represented at the meeting, so little could be done. They had sent word asking to have entries remain open till a Legion meeting is held Thursday night, and it was decided to give them another week. So the executive will meet again next Thursday at 8:30 p.m. in the "Y" to close entries, appoint umpires and hand out certificates.

Knights, B-A and De Laval made application as well as a Hastings team, the latter wanting one game here a week and one in Hastings. This was left over until the next meeting. A trophy will go this year to the most valuable player, who will be voted upon first by players of each team, with the final decision made on those named by the executive, less the managers. The league is asking for three nights a week at the Bowl this season, and Pat Calladine and Jack Russelle will check with the parks' committee upon certain Bowl improvements with the league assisting in these.



Bruins, Sons Meet In Toronto

TORONTO, April 21.—(CP).—Local hockey fans will get a preview glimpse of the western Canada junior hockey champions tonight when Port Arthur West End Bruins and Lethbridge Native Sons tangle here in the seventh and final game of their western Canada junior final series.

The two clubs have carried their feud right down to the final game of their series and after tonight's game one of the teams will remain here to meet Barrie Flyers in the Memorial Cup finals, first game of which is scheduled for here Saturday night.

Both Port Arthur and Lethbridge are reported to be in good condtiion for tonight's tilt with the exception of Ed Dorohoy, flashy Lethbridge forward. Dorohoy is a doubtful starter tonight and also missed the fifth game of the series at Port Arthur last Monday because of a knee injury he received in their fifth meeting.

Two of Port Arthur's players won't be newcomers to Toronto, Benny Woit and Rudy Migay last year successfully helped St. Michael's capture the Memorial Cup.

NOW A MINOR — One of the never-to-be-forgotten moments of the 1947 world series was the miracle catch of Al Gionfriddo, of the Brooklyn Dodgers, when the New York Yankees' Joe DiMaggio belted a "sure homer" for a 550-yard ride at Yankee Stadium in New York. Here Gionfriddo poses as a reminder. And yet, his feat seems to be almost forgotten. The pint-sized outfielder, who hit the headlines with his circus catch, was released outright by the Brooklyn Dodgers to their Montreal farm club of the International league. The 27-year-old speedster was sent down to make room for pitcher Dwain Sloat, whose contract Brooklyn bought from Montreal.

Court Discharges Bison Player

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 21. —(AP).—Wilfred (Wilfy) Field of Winnipeg, one of six Buffalo American Hockey League team players appearing in court here on breach of the peace charges, was discharged yesterday when the principal prosecution witness failed to identify him.

Trial of the five other players involved was adjourned until today. They are Joseph Bell, 24, Portage La Prairie, Man.; Thomas Cooper, 30, Winnipeg; Michael McMahon, Brockville, Leslie Douglas, 31, Perth, and Leslie Hickey, 27, Winnipeg.

The five still on trial were arrested following an early morning fight in a New Haven restaurant in which a counterman, Wallace Holand, 23, was so badly injured he required hospital treatment.

Following the arrests Field returned here from Buffalo and through Maurice Podoloff, president of the American Hockey League, issued a statement in which he assumed sole blame for the affair.

In court yesterday Walter Ives, principal prosecution witness, did not identify Field as one of the participants in the brawl. Ives did not identify the assailant but he identified the five players as parties to the argument.

Dodgers, Cardinals Grab Victory, As Yanks Stumble

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

About the only thing missing in yesterday's and Monday's major league opening games was a no-hitter. Practically everything else happened.

As to the results themselves, Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals got off on the right foot for their expected first place battle in the National League.

Boston Red Sox, of course, were left at the post, while New York Yankees stumbled badly after their auspicious debut. Detroit and Cleveland, who are expected to challenge the supremacy of the Yankees and Red Sox in the American League, both came through with flying colors.

Brooklyn sneaked past the Giants 7-6 in New York; the Cards shut out Cincinnati 4-0 in St. Louis; Washington gained revenge for its one-side defeat by the Yankees Monday, thrashing the world champions 9-1; Detroit defeated the White Sox in Chicago 5-2 and the Indians sent a record inaugural crowd of 73,-163 home happy with a 4-0 triumph over St. Louis Browns.

Whip Braves

In other games, Philadelphia Phillies whipped Boston Braves 3-1 and Pittsburgh scored a 3-2 win over Chicago Cubs. The Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics were idle.

Here are some of the opening day highlights:

Eighteen home runs were belted yesterday and Monday—not an unusual number, but look what some of them produced.

Stan Spence, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr hit theirs in succession in one inning—a record tying feat—but the Red Sox lost anyway.

George Vico, rookie first baseman of the Tigers, smacked one—on the first pitch served him in his first major league game.

Tommy McBride of the Senators slammed one—with the bases loaded in the first inning.

Mike Thresh of the White Sox hit one—his first in 787 games. He had not hit a four bagger since 1940.

Three rookies—Hank Sauer of the Reds, Romanus Basgall of the Pirates and Vico—hit homers.

Two pitchers—Allie Reynolds of the Yankees and Rip Sewell of the Pirates — joined the homer brigade.

Celebrate Transfers

In addition to Spence and Stephens, recent additions to the Red Sox, Eddie Miller and Billy Cox celebrated their transfers to new clubs. Each belted one out of the park. Miller, the former Redleg, put the Phils ahead with his homer. Cox provided the winning margin with his two-run drive.

Four teams started the season under new management — and each got licked the first day. The disappointed pilots were Joe McCarthy, Red Sox; Zack Taylor, Browns; Joe Kuhel, Senators, and Billy Meyer, Pirates.

Such pitching standbys as Bobby Feller of Cleveland, Hal Newhouser of Detroit, and Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati, came through with victories.

Two Greybeards— Rip Sewell of Pittsburgh, who will celebrate his 40th birthday next month, and Dutch Leonard, 38-year-old knuckleballer—got opening day assignments and made good.

Dodger manager Leo Durocher celebrated his return to baseball after a year's suspension by having a run-in with umpire Bill Stewart.

Reporters Find 'New' Durocher Like Old Self

NEW YORK, April 21.—(AP).—The "new" Leo Durocher appeared at the Polo Grounds for his first major league game since 1946 at about noon yesterday.... Nobody could see much change from the "old" Leo....Seated on the bench, flanked by a group of reporters, Durocher chattered and wriggled at a lively clip as he watched his Dodgers take batting practice...."And then DiMaggio hit a pop fly—I'd call it a pop fly for him, about 345 feet," he was saying.

Then he interrupted himself: "Hey, look at that. It was Snider. It's going against the screen in the centre field."....It was a terrific belt and Duke Snider clutched his bat as he ran out on to the field and then turned toward the bench...."Look at him," Leo grinned. "He's going to put it in his pants leg. He wants to keep that one."....He was just about right.

Snider came to the bench and demanded a piece of adhesive tape to mark the bat "right now."

Travelogue

As the Giants came out, the scribes abandoned Mel Ott, who was visibly worrying about the doctor's report on Buddy Kerr's dizzy spells and congregated around Bobo Newsom....As talkative as ever, Bobo was telling them he was "faster than I've been in about four year"....."Well, are you going to win 15 this year, Bobo? someone asked....Newsom cocked his head and winked in the other direction. "I think I'll win a few. We've got a good hitting club,' he replied.

"Anybody who can't win with this club ought to pay to get into the park," retorted the writer...."Well," said Bobo with another wink, "I guess I would over at the stadum."

Hint Hamilton Tigers In ORFU Sr. League

TORONTO, April 21.—(CP).—A Toronto paper said in a sports page story today it had learned from reliable sources that Hamilton Tigers wil be accepted as a fourth team in the Ontario Rugby Union senior league in a few days.

The Hamilton team will line up with Toronto Beaches-Indians, Sarnia Imperials and Windsor Rockets. Their city rivals, Wildcats, wil play in the Interprovincial Big Four Football League.

Tigers withdrew from the Big Four because the other three teams refused to allow them a percentage of their away-from-home games. With the amalgamation of Balmy Beach and Toronto Indians during the week-end, the Tigers were invited to enter the ORFU as a fourth team.

Britain After Trophy

LONDON, April 21.— (AP).—Great Britain, which last won the Davis Cup in 1936, opens its 1948 bid to challenge the United States for the famous tennis trophy here tomorrow when it meets India in the opening series of the European zone eliminations. Britain and India will play two singles matches tomorrow, a doubles match Friday and two more singles Saturday.

Sonja Henie Returns To Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, April 21 (AP) —Little Miss Moneybags herself —Sonja Henie—is back on the Hollywood Rink, making another picture after a four-year absence.

Sonja, the girl who found a gold-mine in the ice, is skating through "The Countess of Monte Cristo," her first film since the hapless "It's a Pleasure" in 1944.

"Skating for pictures is much more difficult than other kinds of skating," she admits. "You have to do the routines over and over again until they photograph right. And you have to be careful to watch your marks so you won't skate out of camera range."

One-Woman Industry

Sonja comes close to being a one-woman industry. Her ice show alone is reported to have grossed $2,500,000 in a quarter year. Added to that is the profitable show in New York, her rinks in Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit, and Los Angeles, and her chunk of Madison Square Garden.

"I have able people to handle those things for me," she smiles modestly. "I just do the skating."

Personal Reports

Errol Flynn, who still isn't in the best of health, has booked passage for a Jamaica jaunt as soon as he finishes "Don Juan"....Al Jolson was grousing about a magazine story that said he is 65....He showed me the birthdate on his driver's licence—May 28, 1888. Do you believe it?

10-Second Review.

"The Lady From Shanghai" (Col.) is another provocative film from the one-man industry, Orson Welles. This time he exploits the talents of his one-time mate, Rita Hayworth, in a long-distance chase. Defects: A confused plot and labored attempts at action. But these are offset by the marvellous things Welles does with a camera.

JR. BASKETBALL RESULT

Montreal Canadian Converters last night defeated Windsor AKO juniors 28-27 to deadlock their best-of-three Eastern Canada junior basketball championship series at one game apiece. Third and deciding games of the series will be played at Windsor Thursday.

Rule Limiting Imports Blow To Quebec Team

QUEBEC, April 21 — (CP). — A rule limiting the number of imports from Ontario to four for each club appeared to-day to have knocked Les Montagnards of Quebec right out of the newly-formed Interprovincial Senior Lacrosse League.

Emile Fortin, who holds the club's franchise, said last night Les Montagnards definitely would not be able to field a team unless the rule was relaxed. Quebec's withdrawal would leave but five teams in the loop—Montreal, Ottawa, Cornwall, Alexandria, and Ogdensburg, NY.

International League Opens Thursday

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP) — The Triple "A" International League opens its 65th season tomorrow with another tight pennant race expected in many quarters.

Most of the eight teams are pretty well set in every department except pitching and it looks like the batters will dominate the early stages of the pennant scramble.

All teams swing into action tomorrow with four clubs from the Northern Section of the loop invading the lair of the Southern Section.

Rochester is at Syracuse, Toronto at Jersey City, Buffalo at Baltimore, and Montreal at Newark.

The Northern teams will stop at each Southern park before staging their own openers May 3.

Among rookies who will be watched closely by major league scouts are outfielders Ralph (Country) Brown of Newark, Johnny Groth of Buffalo, Bill Martin of Baltimore and first sacker Steve Bilko of Rochester.

The three flyhawks are bringing impressive batting marks from the lower minors and all three can carry the mail.

Bilko is described in many circles as a "right-handed Johnny Mize."

Only 19 years old, he belted 30 homers and batted .338 for Winston Salem of the Carolina League last year.

The opening day schedule with probable pitchers in parentheses:

Rochester (Surkont) at Syracuse (Howell).

Toronto (Hamlin) at Jersey City (Kraus).

Buffalo (Hausmann) at Baltimore (Wittig).

Montreal (Behrman) at Newark (Johnson).

ITALIANS IN CANADA HAPPY — Italians in Canada have been particularly interested in the election returns from Italy, having kept a watchful eye on the news throughout the campaign which preceded it. Here Mrs. Stella Lombardi, Terese De Turse and Noreen Mignacco smile happily when they learn of the 2 to 1 victory over Communists as indicated by partial returns from Italy.

Believes Indifference Threatens Church

TORONTO, April 21 — (CP). — The Primate of the Church of England in Canada says he believes the Christian church is threatened by indifference. Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, Archbishop of Nova Scotia, declared in an address last night the world needs a strong theology in these times when "Godlessness" threatens.

Receiving the honorary degree of doctor of divinity at the spring convocation of Wycliffe College when nine students received graduation diplomas, he said it was wrong to think the idea of the church was merely to increase membership. On the contrary accurate study of the New Testament was much to be desired.

"In these days the teachings of the gospels are one way to solve our social problems."

Air Refueling Brings Argument To Sea Airways

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Refuelling of airplanes while in flight is being tested over the North Atlantic, and is causing a lively argument.

Proponents say it is just what is needed to make long-distance aviation pay; that it enables planes to start with light gasoline load and heavier payload; that particularly right now it would enable Britain to use present-type planes until she develops the craft she is aiming at five or 10 years hence. They say it is safe and reduces some present dangers.

But many crews don't like it—they don't think it is the interests of peacetime flying to have another aircraft hovering about 100 feet from you high over the ocean; that it adds an unnecessary hazard to a business which is not without hazards already; they term it variously "Operation Hangover" and Operation Trapeze."

An important point is whether the average passenger will accept it as he has accepted other phases of flying.

Whether or not flight refuelling comes into use in trans-ocean runs now, much research has gone into it which should be of future value. There seems a chance it will find early use on some routes, such as Africa, even if only temporarily. It's long-range place may fluctuate with the direction of airplane design. There is considerable doubt that this is the time to use it on the North Atlantic.

Questions which occur are: Is it an undue strain to put on crews responsible for many lives? Will widespread use add up too many human and mechanical factors which may break down at some point? Is it a performance of skill which calls for greater consistency than can be humanly expected?

Flight refuelling proponents say "No" to these questions and point out that there has not yet been an accident.

Tested For Years

Refuelling in the air as such is not new, but its application to passenger lines, and widespread use, would be.

Sir Alan Cobham, famous for his world flights in the 1920s, became interested in 1931, and by 1939 it was used as a method of assisted take-off for heavily-laden flying boats of Imperial Airways operating non-stop between Ireland and Newfoundland. Wartime development was continued in 1946 and 1947 and, last summer, with 11 round-trip tests between London and Bermuda refuelling was done by a receiving plane which came out from the Azores. Now it is receiving tests on the North Atlantic.

The tests are being made by Flight Refuelling Ltd., of which Sir Alan is managing director, under auspices of the British Ministry of Civil Aviation. British Overseas Airways Corporation have lent a four-engined Liberator, with crew, which flies between Montreal and London.

Tanker planes — four-engined Lancastrians—are based at Gander, Nfld., Goose, Labrador, and Shannon, Eire, and come out 200 to 600 miles over the Atlantic to meet the ship to be refuelled.

No passengers are carried on the test trips, but a few newspapermen, including this writer, have observed it. We happened to see one of the few failures when our tanker plane had radar trouble and couldn't find us in an hour's search off Gander.

We were not unduly concerned because we had faith that the crews would have a decent respect for their own necks, but we doubted that passengers would have been at ease while two huge planes hunted for one another in hazy conditions over the Atlantic. However, this was a test trip to iron out "bugs" and in actual passenger operation the search probably wouldn't have gone on when equipment trouble developed. If passenger confidence is to be maintained the operation needs to go off without a hitch, or else be abandoned immediately.

Failure to make contact is not in itself a danger, because the ship to be refuelled carries enough gasoline to take her to one of two or three airports—with reserve to spare.

Successful Jobs

Later we saw three successful refuellings—off Gander, at 9,000 feet; and on the return from London, off Shannon at 18,000 feet and off Labrador at 9,000. With two refuellings we came non-stop from London to Montreal in 19½ hours, delayed by winds.

The actual refuellings were beautiful jobs—the tanker coming up below to starboard, intercepting our line with one of theirs, rising above us, paying out hose, feeding gasoline—all the while the two ships with speeds matched seeming almost to stand still though proceeding at 175 miles an hour. It takes about 20 minutes from contact to breakaway.

There seemed no hazard except for the one question of whether the two planes could be depended upon to keep sufficiently apart under various human, mechanical and air factors. Maybe the "miss is as good as a mile" theory applies.

On one refuelling we thought the tanker plane was about 70 feet from us and rather overlapping our ship vertically, though distances are deceiving in those expanses. The feeding hose is 250 feet long and a separation of 150 feet between ships is regarded as desirable. If that distance is kept and there is no vertical overlapping of the planes, it may be a truly safe operation.

At 18,000 feet we thought the tanker somewhat unsteady in the thin air, but that she seemed to keep a good distance.

One objection from a pilot's point of view is that the operation takes the safety of his ship, crew and passengers out of his hands. He just proceeds on course while the tanker formates on him and is responsible for holding proper position.

Precautions against fire include automatic equalization of the electric potential of the two ships the moment their lines first meet—any spark going off out in mid-air. Also, the hose is flushed with nitrogen before and after gasoline is passed. "Week links" allow the ships to break away from one another at any time it becomes necessary.

An Open Mind

We had an informal chat with Lord Nathan, British Minister of Civil Aviation, to thank him for the trip the Ministry had given us. We judged he had an open mind on the matter but felt it would be at least a present aid to British aviation if it proved practicable.

The work-a-day Liberator was far from luxury ship conditions from which passengers would experience the operation, though we were comfortable enough with overcoat and blankets, plugging it our oxygen masks as we moved from one part of the ship to the other at high altitudes—a bit mournful over the "no smoking" ban.

We were taken care of and kept posted by Captain James Heron and his crew of Captain Arthur Beatty, First Officer; Navigators Harry Thompson and Alfred Blacklaws; Chief Flight Engineer John Spring; Radio Officers Allen Finch and Frank Cox; and Percy Woodus, Flight Refuelling Officer who also "refuelled" his thee newspaper passengers with hot coffee, sandwiches and chicken pie.

We think it was Harry Thompson who showed a nice sense of humor and drama by sending back communiques like this:

"Flying an airway we enter Newfoundland by Stephenville estimating our arrival at Gander at 19.23 G.M.T. Ahead of us our tanker is already moving out to take her position heavy with some 700 gallons that we need to complete our journey."

Forced To Return

Later

"The refuelling operation has been successful. We have set course for Gander (from 400 miles over the ocean). I will inform you if we are to return to Montreal." (We stopped at Gander).

Another day: "Every minute some 100 gallons of precious fuel is entering our tanks. Looking enormous above us in the clear morning air, our tanker quietly, without any contact beyond a thread of hose, is tending to our needs."

Later: "At 11.06 G.M.T. we passed the weather ship, our passing call on radio telephone being one of her contacts with the outside world of money, shortages and Stalin."

Return trip: "Refuelling (600 miles out from Shannon) and again we're alone in the sky. Ahead 950 statute miles awaits another tiny speck of human friendship and fuel to see us into Montreal."

We had 30 hours at Gander, no hardships with BOAC acting as hosts. A couple of hours in the Gander terminal is worth a trans-Atlantic trip in itself—a fantastic of world travel cast in the wilderness, with planes and people popping in from London, Paris, New York, Montreal.

Plan Sales Tax

VICTORIA, April 21 — (CP). — British Columbia's three-percent sales tax act was given third reading in the legislature last night. The C.C.F. opposition made a last-minute attempt to block the act's passage by moving a six-month's hoist. The motion was defeated 25 to 12.

MP's, Senators Battle Over Margarine

OTTAWA, April 21.—(CP).—Bitter criticism of the ban on oleomargarine boomed yesterday in both Houses of Parliament — and all of it was from Liberals.

In the Commons, James Sinclair (L-Vancouver North) roared out in all directions. Time and again, though, his attack was aimed straight at the cabinet and his own Liberal party.

The Senate heard the same sort of thing from four Liberal Senators—Arthur Hardy (Ontario), T. A. Crerar (Manitoba), A. N. McLean (New Brunswick) and J. P. Howden (Manitoba).

But the full-scale drive in support of the controversial butter substitute doesn't mean the margarine question has been brought to a head.

In the Commons particularly, it may not even be put to a vote this session. It probably won't be discussed again for a month.

It is back on the Senate order paper for today but there is no indication in the Upper House either of an early decision.

The Commons turned to Mr. Sinclair's bill — during the one hour devoted each week to private members' proposals — because it finally had worked its way to the top of the list.

Debate Adjourned

In both cases, the debate was adjourned without the motion for second reading being put.

The bills are identical. They would amend the 62-year-old Dairy Industry Act by repealing the ban on importation, manufacture and sale of margarine. It is Senator Euler's third attempt —the same measure was defeated in the Senate last year and the year before.

Said Mr. Sinclair:

"It is ban conceived in a mean and selfish spirit and, like most evil things, it has spawned an ugly brood which we see about us today—extraordinary profiteering by companies and speculation by individuals . . . butter black-marketed, butter sold under the counter to favored customers, butter sold as premiums to force the sale of unwanted goods, No. 3 butter sold as No. 1. . ."

Get Together

In one jab at the cabinet, he said the "nutritional notes" of the health department called margarine a "complete nutritional substitute for butter in ordinary diet.'

Embarrassed grins creased the faces of cabinet ministers as he noted the document bore the signature of Health Minister Martin.

Mr. Sinclaair suggested, amid laughter, that Mr. Martin might do some missionary work "a little nearer home" with Agriculture Minister Gardiner. Mr. Gardiner had been quoted recently as saying removal of the ban would be detrimental to Canadian health.

COMPLETES MAIDEN VOYAGE—The new 13,350-ton Parthia is shown as it nosed into Pier 90, North River, at the completion of its maiden voyage from Liverpool. Its hull glistening in the sun, and flags flying, the Parthia was an attractive addition to the New York waterfront.

World News In Brief

Taken from Wires of Canadian Press

Was Misquoted

NEW YORK. — Christopher Chancellor, general manager of Reuters, British news agency, said he had not described the United Nations conference on freedom of information at Geneva as "worse than a farce." He replied to statements made in Boston by Erwin B. Canham, vice-chairman of the United States delegation at the Geneva Conference, who attributed such a statement to Chancellor.

NEW YORK.—Robert McLean, president of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, was re-elected president of The Associated Press. Kent Cooper continues as executive director and general manager.

NEW ORLEANS. — Earl K. Long, younger brother of the late Senator Huey P. Long, was elected Governor of Louisiana without opposition in the state-wide general election.

PORT ARTHUR.—The 7,000-ton freighter Mathewston of the Colonial Steamships Limited got under way for Duluth after repairs to her damaged propellor were completed.

VICTORIA. — Mennonites and Hutterites were given franchise in amendments to the Provincial Elections Act brought down in the British Columbia Legislature. Japanese, Doukhobors and Native Indians still are excluded unless they served in the armed services. Indians, however, who do not live on reserves, may vote.

TORONTO.—The Attorney-General of Ontario has filed notice of appeal from the acquittal of 18 dental supply firms charged with conspiracy in restraint of trade. The notice contends that the trial judge was "wrong in law" in directing the jury to enter a verdict of not guilty, and that there was no evidence in which a verdict of not guilty could properly be brought in.

LONDON, Eng. — The first death sentence since the Commons last week decided to abolish capital punishment in Britain for murder, was passed. It was on Donald George Thomas, 22-year-old army deserter, charged with murdering Police Constable Nathaniel Edgar by shooting him. The jujdge said "The sentence of the court upon you is the sentence prescribed by law—namely that you suffer death by hanging." The sentence, however, will be commuted to penal servitude for life.

TIMMINS.—Roy Richards, 26, of South Porcupine was sentenced to 18 month definite and three months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory for his self-admitted part in the April 7 holdup of the Ontario Northland railway ticket office at South Porcupine. He was charged with robbery of $77.75 from Cy Lareman, ONR ticket agent.

OTTAWA.—The official wind-up of Wartime Housing Limited is forecast in a notice of motion by Reconstruction Minister Howe. Its operations would be transferred completely to Central Mortgage Corporation, which for some time has been the chief federal housing agency.

Starvation Diet

PHILADELPHIA — Fourteen Philadelphia school children and five teachers are going to live on a "starvation diet" for one week, starting Saturday, to learn at first hand how it feels to eat as many European children now do. The experiment was planned to dramatize the fund-raising campaign of Philadelphia's crusade for children.

VATICAN CITY—Word reached here that Enrico Cardinal Sibilia, 87, oldest member of the Holy College, is critically ill at his home at Anagni. The aged prelate, who is archbishop of Sabinia and titular dean of the college, first was stricken April 2.

TOKYO—A plane with a crew of 10 disappeared on a training mission over the western Pacific. More than 50 planes are searching for the big bomber.

PRAGUE — Premier Georgi Dimitrov of Bulgaria, arrived in Prague to negotiate a friendship treaty with Czechoslovakia. Conferences are to begin on the pact, designed to strengthen the network of alliance linking eastern Europe in the Soviet sphere.

LONDON—British air, sea and submarine forces will manoeuvre in the North Sea between the Orkneys and Norway May 13 and 14. The exercises will involve two battleships, a carrier, a cruiser, 11 destroyers, four frigates, 10 submarines and about 135 planes.

TOKYO—Admral Itsumasa Yonai, Japan's wartime navy minister and premier in 1940, died of pneumonia at the age of 68.

Five Marooned

WASHINGTON — Five United States scientists were reported marooned on a remote Pacific island. The Australian Embassy announced receipt of a dispatch saying that storms and floods had isolated the expedition, which includes 10 Australians, among them two women.

PHILADELPHIA— Dr. J. Melvin Smith, 69, for the last twenty years medical director of the 250-year-old Presbyterian Ministers' Fund, oldest life insurance concern in the United States, died. Richard R. Smith of Toronto is a son.

MONTREAL — Antoine A. Bond, 41, of Cornwall, died from injuries suffered an hour earlier when hit by an automobile while hitch-hiiking in Pointe Clair, 16 miles west of here. Roy Ward, driver of the car, told police he did not see the victim because of poor visibility.

OLYMPIA, Wash.— The Washington State Adjutant-General said the United States Navy is striking "gushers" in one out of every seven oil wells it is drilling in the Arctic. Brig.-Gen. Ensley Llewellyn, who returned from the Arctic late last year, made the statement last night. He said he was at liberty to reveal that Navy development of oil fields in the Far North is "normal."

MANCHESTER, Me. — A mother had to choose between two of her children and as a result one perished in a fire that razed their home. Mrs. John L. Childs told firemen she re-entered the burning house in an effort to reach her baby, Sadie Jean. Her son Joseph, three, toddled after her, and Mrs. Childs was forced to turn back from smoke-filled stairs to carry Joseph to safety.

MP's Demand Investigation Of New Film

LONDON, April 21 —(CP)— Questions will be asked in Parliament today about "No Orchids For Miss Blandish," a British movie which has London by the ears.

As far as critics are concerned, the film lives up to its title. They don't give any orchids at all to the movie version of James Hadley Chase's novel about a wealthy girl kidnapped by a gangster.

It has "as much fascination as watching what goes on when you lift a large, flat, mossy rock," wrote Toronto-born Milton Shulman in the Evening Standard. And his colleagues agreed.

All criticized the movie (Renown Pictures) for what they termed the psuedo - American gangster atmosphere of brutality and suggestiye bedroom scenes. C. A. Legeune commented tartly that "No Orchids" had "all the morals of an alley cat and all the sweetness of a sewer."

Other critics various condemned the film as "salacious," "obscene," "sadistic," "lascivious," "revolting" and "abominable."

Some papers described it as a disgrace to the British film industry.

But at the Plaza, where the film starring Jack La Rue and Linden Travers opened a six-week run, the public apparently ate it up. There has been a queue for each showing and hundreds have been turned away daily.

Given its premiere last week, "No Orchids" also has been condemned in editorial columns, lampooned in cartoons and made the subject of facetious remarks in the House of Commons. Several public organizations have called for a ban but the six-man British board of film censors, stung by its first major critics, says it doesn't know what all the excitement is about.

Expect Duplessis To Call Election

QUEBEC, April 21—(CP).—Union Nationale Party members will hold a monster rally here tonight for Premier Duplessis, who was 58 yesterday, and the event is expected to touch off Quebec's election campaign.

From the Premier, those present may hear the date picked for the election in which the Duplessis government, elected in 1944, will campaign for return to power.

No hint of the election date has been given yet but speculation has been rife for weeks. Since Ontario elections were announced for June 7, a similar early election has been expected in Quebec.

ERP FOOD CHIEF — Dr. Dennis A. Fitzgerald, former secretary of the International Emergency Food council, who was named to run the food division in the European recovery program. He was described by Paul G. Hoffman, economic co-operation administrator who appointed him, as "probably the greatest authority in the world on food procurement."

Reserve Judgment In Radio Theft

Judgment of Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, was reserved for one week in a charge against Noah Taylor, Curve Lake, charged with theft of a portable radio from the cottage of David Buckham in North Monaghan. The accused, represented by W. J. A. Fair, pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Evidence given by Buckham was that the accused had come to his cottage on June 30, 1947. The two had each three pints of beer, he said. He told the court that Taylor had expressed admiration for his radio—a battery or electric model portable. He had offered to buy or trade it, but had been refused, said the witness.

Buckham said that he went to bed aout 10:30 that night, leaving Taylor sitting up listening to the radio. In the morning, he found both his radio and guest had gone.

Under Mr. Fair's questioning, Buckham denied that he had made any deal to sell the radio and had not received a down payment from Taylor for it.

He also told of chasing the accused through several stores and city blocks in Peterborough after the incident. He had not caught him, he said.

Provincial Constable George Stevens told of the arrest of Taylor recently. Taylor had pointed out the radio in a city electric store, he said.

Taylor was also remanded for trial until the 28th on a charge of theft of war medals from Buckman.

On a charge of creating a disturbance, he pleaded guilty and was assessed $7.50 and $2.50 costs or 10 days.

Seven Pay Fines In City Court

There were three men before Magistrate Philp today on charges of vagrancy.

Two brothers, Maurice and Howard Newton, Havelock, were each fined $7.50 and $2.50 costs on their guilty pleas of vagrancy. The court was told that they had been found in a city lumber yard wandering around after the yard was closed. John Dailly, Lindsay, was also fined $7.50 and $2.50 costs for vagrancy.

Donald McKenzie, Haultain, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for being drunk in public.

Archibald Barbeau, 332 Bethune St., was sentenced to three months in jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk in public as a second offender.

George Ferguson, 293 Bethune St., was fined $10 and $2.50 costs on his guilty plea of careless driving.

Donald K. Wood, 72 Kent St., was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for driving without an operator's permit and $5 and $2.50 costs for driving without displaying license plates for the current year.

CALVERT 1622 Famous Families BALDWIN 1804
UNTIL 1848, Canada, divided by race and language, was governed by an Executive Council appointed by the Governor General. William Warren Baldwin, doctor and lawyer, campaigned for unity and an elected government. His ideals were realized when, in 1848, his son Robert, with Louis Hippolyte LaFontaine, formed a united government of elected representatives, later known as the "Great Ministry." Thus, through the unremitting efforts of the members of this Canadian family, was responsible democratic government in Canada finally and indisputably established.
Great Families Create Great Nations
HEAD of the famous Calvert family, Calvert, distinguished English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, founded pioneer New World colonies in Newfoundland and Maryland, early in the 17th Century.
Calvert's descendants introduced a form of government which prescribed that the laws should be established by the settlers themselves and that there should be no aristocracy. Thus the Calvert family sowed the fertile seed of democracy in the New World.
The family is the corner-stone upon which great nations are built. Let each of us promote within the great Canadian family, the same concepts of freedom and tolerance pioneered by the Calvert family, over three hundred years ago.
The Calvert family inaugurate the first system of democratic government in the New World.

BROTHERS RETURN—Louis and Albert Van Dyke (centre and right), Canadian-born brothers who have lived in Holland since 1936, came back to the Dominion with 765 Dutch immigrants who passed through Montreal recently from Halifax on their way to new homes across the Dominion. The Van Dykes are now looking for work in Montreal. With them is Thennis Bosma (left), a construction worker from Rotterdam, who is staying in Montreal.

Boat Builder Dies In Toronto

LINDSAY, April 21 — (Special) — Charles Allen Gordon, who died in Toronto Hospital this morning, was flown from Florida on Sunday. Deceased was a pioneer boat builder in the village of Bobcaygeon. He was a former member of the village council, the school board, and electric power commission. He was a member of the Anglican Church. The late Mr. Gordon was widely known in United States and Canada as a builder of boats.

He is survived by his widow, formerly Minnie Arnberg, and three sons, Edward, John and Ralph. The sons are associated with a brother of the deceased in the manufacturing business in Bobcaygeon.

Extend Vocational Training Bill Aids Veterans Of Two Wars

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, April 21—(CP).—The Commons is expected to vote today on the ticklish freight-rate issue. Actually, there will be two votes, one each on two motions of want-of-confidence in the Government which arise from the recent 21-per-cent. increase in freight charges. One was moved by the CCF group; the other by the Progressive Conservative party.

Both motions criticize the Government for not holding up the increase, but the Progressive Conservative motion goes a bit further. It censures the Government for failing to remove inequalities in the freight-rate structure before the increase became effective.

Debate on the motions, adjourned since last week, was resumed yesterday but there were too many on the speaking list to allow the taking of votes before the discussion ended.

The Chamber also adopted a bill to increase from $200,000 to $500,000 the amount of money to be used to eliminate railway level crossings. This amount will be paid out of the Federal Treasury each year for the next nine years.

Third reading also was given a bill extending the provisions of vocational training while progress was made on other increasing payments under the Unemployment Insurance Act and making minor changes in the Prairie Farm Assistance Act.

Honor Mr. King

Oleomargarine, its importance heightened by the current shortage of butter, came in for discussion in the Commons and the Senate, both of which have bills under study to remove the long-standing ban on the butter substitute.

As the Commons opened, Opposition party leaders paid tribute to Prime Minister Mackenzie King for his achievement in equalling the record of Sir Robert Walpole as Prime Minister of a Commonwealth country. Sir Robert held office for 7,620 days.

Mr. King later told the Chamber the Cabinet has been considering health insurance legislation from time to time since the session opened. However, he could not say whether such legislation would be introduced at this session.

Defence Minister Claxton announced the establishment of an industrial defence board for co-ordinating Canada's war potential.

Cover 1918 Veterans

Labor Minister Mitchell, piloting the vocational training bill, said its enlarged provisions will be broad enough to cover veterans of the First World War. Arrangements will be on a 50-50 basis with the provinces. All provinces had agreed to participate in the extension.

As the railway crossing bill was adopted, Transport Minister Chevrier reported that the grade crossing fund now contains $206,522.

Gordon Graydon (PC—Peel) said the number of lives lost each year in level crossing accidents made it apparent the amount being voted was a "paltry sum" and urged that thought be given to removing some of the major "death traps" across the country.

United Church Rejects Abstinence Demand

TORONTO, April 21 (CP). — The Central Presbytery of the United Church of Canada today rejected a proposal by Rev. Dr. Andrew Thompson that total abstinence be required of all persons becoming members of the church.

Dr. Thompson's proposal was made a month ago and submitted to the Committee on Social Service and Evangelism. The committee in a report read to the Presbytery meeting said that "the best interests of the church, and of the Kingdom of God, cannot be furthered by such mandatory legislation . . . It is our feeling that the General Council way . . . in urging upon all member voluntary total abstinence has had marked success."

Dr. Thompson, speaking for his proposal, said today, "Obedience to Christ requires complete abstinence."

"Our church lacks moral authority," he said, "and it is not going to regain that moral authority until we demand certain disciplinary measures."

Beef, Pork Producers Worried Fear Consumers Buying Strike

OTTAWA, April 20.—(CP). — Ranchers' and farmers' problems in raising livestock—fears about markets, high feeding costs and a disastrous winter—occupied Tuesday's sessions of the special prices committee.

A series of witnesses, representing western producers, explained their difficulites. Fears were expressed about the future of the United Kingdom bacon market because of Britain's exchange difficulties. Ranchers felt they might lose the American cattle market unless they were allowed to re-enter it soon. Both were worried about costs.

Some of the gloomiest testimony came from H. J. Hargraves, assistant superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station at Swift Current, Sask.

"Operators of the beef industry are today in the midst of critical times," he declared. "High feed costs coupled with abnormal weather conditions have produced a situation which has not been paralleled since the spring of 1920."

He told the committee that ranchers' costs have risen by 141 per cent since the period of 1938-41 and produced audited figures from western ranches. Hay that cost $10 a ton in 1938 now costs $20 to $25 and in recent weeks has sold as high as $65.

Stock Loss

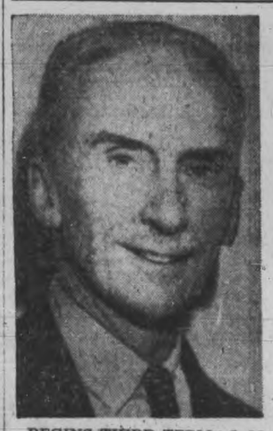
'Owing to storms, snow-covered ranges and exhausted feed supplies, there has already been a heavy loss of new-born calves as well as older stock,' Mr. Hargraves continued.

"The 1947-48 cattle-finishing season has been one of the most difficult seasons ever experienced by the cattle feeder. It is quite evident that cattle feeders have operated at a loss in Western Canada during the last feeding season."

Mr. Hargrave said the majority of feeders purchased their cattle for the winter before price controls on feed grains were removed and many were forced to buy grain at increased prices.

"With the removal of controls grain prices doubled but there was no corresponding increase in beef prices," he said.

'Canadian producers have been rather shaken in the last few months by thinly veiled suggestions that owing to exchange difficulties the British market may be perhaps not entirely closed to us, but its demand so reduced that it could not absorb anything like the volume moved overseas a few years ago."



Mr. Allen said producers were also worried by evidence of consumer resistance and suggested that the part played in family budgets by meat prices had led to criticism, much of which was unjustified.

There was little evidence of buyer resistance in Alberta, but a consumers' strike in west coast cities earlier in the war had 'completely paralyzed" the movement of livestock to British Columbia for several weeks.

"Only the fact that the export market absorbed the amount of stock that ordinarily went into domestic channels preserved the price level and saved producers who delivered stock at that time from disastrous losses."

PRESIDENT CHECKS BALLOTS—As a record number of Italians went to the polls on Sunday and Monday, the casting of ballots proceeded in an orderly fashion. Shown in this photo is Celso Ragnoni, right, president of Rome election board, who holds a disputed ballot in the Italian capital. This senate ballot was marked "Christian Democrat" but was smudged elsewhere, hence the dispute. It was awarded to the Christian Democrats. Other board members are seated. Senate ballot box is at right. It was here that Premier Alcide de Gasperi voted.

Dr. W. Patterson Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, April 21 — (CP). — Dr. William Robert Patterson, a native of Kingston, died here yesterday following his return last week from Florida where he spent the winter because of ill health.

A specialist as an obstetrician and gynecologist, he served as a medical practitioner here for 29 years.

He graduated in arts at Queen's University in 1903 and in medicine in 1907. He started his practice in Sudbury where he remained for 12 years before coming here.

Dr. Patterson was a fellow of the American College of Surgeons and a member of the staff of the Toronto Western Hospital.

Survivors include his widow, the former Grace Henderson; and four sisters, Mrs. Mary Jones, Toronto, Mrs. C. M. Henley, Sudbury; Mrs. C. A. Spencer, Montreal and Mrs. Alfred Chatwin, Vancuver.

CONSERVATIVES MEET — From Yukon to Prince Edward Island, delegates to the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada three-day meeting in Ottawa register, as shown in this picture taken from "behind the scene." Raps Parents Who Use Policeman Bogey

Parents who frighten their misbehaving children by saying "I'll call the policeman" or "I'll get the policeman after you" are breeding future criminals, and it is the parent and not the child who should get immediate discipline from the police. This was the pithy statement by W. R. Sweet, Campbellford, addressing the Kawartha Police Association last night.

Mr. Sweet who is owner of Edgewater Park was introduced by William Meagher, retired Sgt. of Detectives of the Peterborough police force. The speaker called his talk, "Police and Public Relations" and broadened the subject with considerable reference to recreation in Canada.

"The future of Canada depends a large extent on how youth employs leisure time", he said and went on to explain that the working week has now been cut to about 40 hours giving everyone more time to play and work at hobbies. "With our youth facing as much spare time as the leisure class of the past enjoyed, education for leisure today is as important as work was for yesterday. The more spare time that is filled with purposeful activity, involving real effort in the acquiring of skills, the greater will our nation become".

Help Them In Play

"One of the most effective methods of giving guidance to the conduct of adolescent boys and girls is that of helping them to become interested in wholesome forms of play. Character patterns are woven on the playing fields. Play is social in nature, and it requires friendship for its continuance. It effects directly the happiness or unhappiness of the participants.

"In team games the chief interest is in doing the best for the group. The individual learns the importance of subordinating himself to a common purpose. He learns the joy of contributing his best to his side without considering individual glory or gain. The player who seeks to make the grandstand play or attract undue attention to himself soon learns that he is becoming unpopular. He also learns to avoid doing what the impulse of the moment would drive him to do. He learns to make the 'Sacrifice Hit' in baseball and give the 'Assist' in hockey. He learns self-control.

"Too many of our Canadian youths live in a dreary round of monotony because they have never learned the skills and appreciations of the art of leisure living. Every person should be given an opportunity to develop interests in hobbies through which he may acquire that rich, expanding and abundant life which accompanies creative effort. The most valuable hobbies are those which persist on the adult level and provide the individual with genuine emotional release.

Rhythm in its various forms such as dancing, poetry, music and song has power to give expression to pent up emotions that should find release rather than be repressed. Every Canadian community should be able to point with pride to its youth glee clubs, orchestras, dancing clubs and so on. The effort and struggle required to become skilled in one line will help to counteract some of the evils which are the result of too many labour saving devices.

As a nation Canada has not shown much concern about the recreation needs of her youth. We have lagged far behind other countries. Russia was one of the first nations to realize the possibilities and in 1930 Stalin signed a decree organizing recreation throughout the Soviet republic. Soon after the advent of Hitler to power all organized recreation in Germany was placed under a director appointed by the Nazi party. And since 1935 the United States has spent forty millions of dollars on recreation under the supervision of state and municipal authority.

He said that recently Arthur Ford, editor of the London Free Press had spoken of the possibility of Canada becoming a second Belgium in the event of a war between Canada and the United States. And he had pointed out that while even the remote possibility of war existed Canadian youth should not be allowed to grow soft.

This is where the modern police should fit into the picture, he said. In addition to being guardians of the law they should also be counsellors of youth and active in youth organizations. Some of the ablest prosecutors and law enforcement officers owed their success to this ability, he said.

Not A Spy

"The day of the old fashioned police officer has gone forever. The day when the man on the beat was there for the purpose of spying on all who might be near, and when he ruled with an iron fist, has now passed." The officer of today must have not only strength but also brains; and he must use them.

"As I see it, the ideal police officer is one who first acqaints himself with all who may live or do business in his territory. He must let the public know he is there to help them with their problems. And he must make friends of every youth he sees."

"Above all he must change the view of the adult who continues to frighten children with the old bogey about getting the policeman after them if they do not behave.

"The day of the old fashioned policeman is gone forever; today he must be keen, clean cut, aggressive, alert and diplomatic. He must be ready to meet every emergency as it arises. I believe that police work is a wonderful foundation for private business enterprise in later life."

Concluding, he said, "I leave you with this one thought: '....to know a little less and to understand a little more.' That it seems to me is our greatest need today."

The thanks of the association was voiced by Prov. Corp. Price Morris and Police Sgt. Gordon Puffer. Constable John Morrow presided.

Seal Ungrateful

PICTOU, N.S. — (CP). — A live seal was discovered on the farm of Byron Clark, one mile from the sea, near here recently. Farmers carried the animal back to the harbor ice and watched as he wobbled happily out of sight. He was described as "lively and vicious" and did not take kindly to handling.

Walkout Authority

DETROIT, April 21 — (AP) — The final union barrier to a "sanctioned" strike by 75,000 Chrysler Corporation employees was cleared away yesterday by the United Automobile Workers (CIO) Executive Board.

The 22-man board voted unanimously to put authority to order a walkout solely in the hands of Norman Matthews, the UAW's national Chrysler director. Neither the board nor Matthews has mentioned a possible strike date.

It also rapped Chrysler's offer of a 6-cent hourly wage increase as "ridiculously inadequate" and said the union stands ready to "take economic action" if necessary to back its demands for 30 cents and other concessions.

Chrysler's average pay to the hourly rated workers is about $1.50 an hour.

Why No New Industries?-Labor Asks

Sets 17-Year No-Accident Shop Record

M. G. Hardill gets his name in the paper because his plant, the Commercial Press, Peterborough, Ontario, has had no lost-time accidents during 17 years.

"This is some kind of a record," said L. H. Ingram, newly-elected president of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations, who declared that small plants can be as efficient as large plants in accident prevention work.

Mr. Ingram reported that during 1947 the Quaker Oats Company of Canada Limited, Peterborough, with which he is associated, paid $16,000 in assessments to the Workmen's Compensation Board of Ontario, but to employees of the plan the board paid only $2,000 in compensation for accidents.

As assessments are based on the accident record of an industry, "accident frequency in other mills and feed manufacturing plants in Ontario must have been high," suggested Mr. Ingram. "But small plants could do even better than large plants if they wish," he said.

Gets Stiff Fine

LINDSAY, April 21—(CP). — Hugh F. Currie, of Argyle, was fined $50 and $2.50 costs in police court today on charges of illegally spearing pickerel on the Talbot River near Kirkfield April 6. Game Overseers A. M. Hodgson and Frank Walton apprehended Currie but three of his companions got away.

The Grove School is in the area of North Monaghan recently annexed to the city. Inspector K. S. Wightman advised that it would be better to take over the school on May 1 rather thar wait until June 30, for in the months of May and June he can get his organization of the schools in the south-end of the city completed for opening in September.

Moral Laxity Shocking Report Reveals

Lack of parental control over teen-agers was mentioned in the monthly report of the superintendent, Miss R. Young, at the meeting of the Peterborough Children's Aid Society on Tuesday at the City Hall. In the unmarried parent work, nine cases were brought to the notice of the society during the month of March. Among these cases were two girls who had become pregnant when only 15 years of age.

"There is an amazing lack of knowledge of the whereabouts of our early teen-agers by some parents," said Miss Young in her report, "and situations continue month after month, which should have been known to parents in the early stages. There is a lack of planning of leisure time, and the frequent answer to the question as to what teen-agers do in the evening is "Go up the street" or "He plays in the corner lot." When the situation is fully explored, these youngsters were far from the "corner lot." The need for parents to be more fully aware of what their children are doing is evident, both in our juvenile delinquent and unmarried parent work."

Altogether 47 new cases were examined by the society during March. Seven children were taken into care; one child was placed for adoption by the society, one was privately placed and one was placed by another Children's Aid Society Two illegitimate children were admitted, when their parents were unable to give adequate care and wardship is pending. Two children of a British war bride were given temporary care, when the father deserted and the mother found herself without a home Since then, the mother and children have returned to England Five children were placed for the first time in foster homes and two children were placed from one home to another. One adoption was completed and two wards reached their majority.

The president, -T. T. Rodger, presided at the meeting.

Saleslady Gives Ad. Men Sound Advice

Witty Speaker Says "Don't Let Itsy-Bitsy Femininity Fool You"

Mrs. Rhena Stephens, Toronto, author of the book "So You Think You're a Salesman" had the unusual honor of being guest speaker Sales and Ad club held at South at the annual stag meeting of the Beach Hotel Tuesday evening. Hed subject was the problems of the travelling salesman, his home life and his ambitions, and the speaker wove plenty of humor into an interesting and meaty speech.

Mrs. Stephen, executive secretary of the Toronto Ad and Sales Club, was giving the men the benefit of a woman's viewpoint and experience in handling everyday problems thtat face every married salesman, who has to spend much time away from home. She was introduced by Don Loucks and thanked by R. A. Wilson.

First the speaker debunked the term "weaker sex" saying "History reveals that the weaker sex have wielded a terrific power—I can find plenty of evidence to show the little women have been the power behind many ventures, and have swayed empires, so don't let that itsy-bitsy package of feminity deceive you. They are as strong as lions and can fight like tigers."

Mrs. Stephens told of doing research on the lives and habits of salesmen in the hope of solving the problems of sales executives and findings revealed the wives are not always as co-operative as they might be, although she expressed sympathy goes out to the wife who cannot locate her travelling husband when tragedy hits the home.

"This business of not being able to make contact makes a woman feel so far removed, and more thought should be given to it."

"Tell Her Things"

Firms have arranged parties, picnics, dances and other forms of company entertainment, but these have not accomplished a great deal for the wives, she explained.

"Some women believe the companies scheme to keep their husbands out of town as much as possible, while in other cases the husbands are to blame by adding an aura of mystery to their jobs and appearing very anxious to get on the road. Do you tell your wife your plans and what you hope to accomplish? If you think women have not average intelligence and would not understand anyway, then you are only fooling yourself as that idea was scrapped with hope skirts. Talk to her, tell her things, make her feel important and necessary, and make her realize that selling is the greatest profession in the world."

The speaker explained that one of the fastest ways to the top in any industry is by starting as a salesman and not only doing a good selling job, but by being a first class reporter of the day's activities to the boss.

She criticised the rebellion so noticeable in many salesman who rap the "nincompoop" sitting in a plush chair back in the city ranting because daily reports are not being submitted.

Mrs. Stephens traced the life of the newly-married salesman during the first year, delightfully recounting the thousand-and-one new responsibilities, up to the point where his wife's honeymoon wardrobe starts to become shabby.

"The younger your wife is the more difficult it may be to make her realize her needs may have to take second place. Marriage may be a partnership but still I like to see the male keep charge of the capital stock. She may wish to have a complete set of new raiment — but you will simply have to make her realize how imperative it is that you look well-groomed on the job."

"If you happen to have a girl who understands what you are trying to accomplish, wants to share your disappointments and discouragements as well as your successes and joys, has a fair idea what a budget is, you have your health and a good selling job, then I would say the only thing between you and the top is a short space of time."

Mrs. Stephens spoke bluntly on the folly of idolizing a wife too much, and gave some startling examples of men in the selling field who had their lives and fortunes wrecked by selfish, spoiled wives.

Only Two Women

The speaker appeared perfectly at ease despite the fact she had an entire male audience with the exception of Mrs. Al. Wilson of Peterborough who accompanied her to the dinner meeting. Mrs. Stephen spoke with conviction and a fluency that indicated long experience as a speaker.

Entertainment was provided by Miss Margaret Munn, coloratura soprano from Toronto who is now studying at the Toronto Conservatory of Music. She sang four songs and was a decided hit. Joe Murphy, mimic and comedian completed the program with a half hour of songs, and quips that kept the audience in laughter. Andy Rutter was master of ceremonies and Herb Mason was chairman in the absence of Ted Weir.

Rains Delaying Seeding Across District

Spring days are emerging in rural calendar, counting off the their set succession from every weeks which have turned to mocking farmers in teh district who are waiting impatiently to begin their seeding program.

Dave McIntyre of Otonabee, in the city this morning, said that hardly any work was under way in the township. "On some of the knolls east of here I believe they have a few acres in, but generally we have been running into one delay after another."

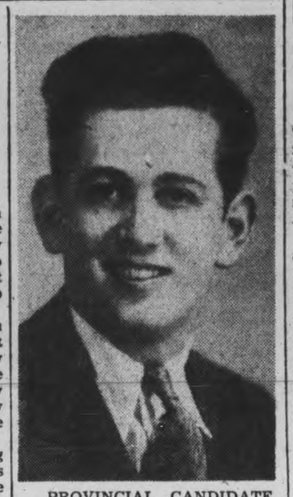
Farmers have their own seeding "dead line", April 21, and that's today. If the grain isn't in the ground by that date, the season is definitely beginning to lag behind the average schedule. Disappointment has been pervading rural Peterborough as the spring weeks slip by without accomplishment. Snow vanished in a week back in March, and there were expectations of an early season. But, here it is April 21, and not 5 per cent of the seeding chore in this district has been done.

The land is saturated with these recent rains, and work plans are held up in all directions. Harold Millen got in 27 acres in fairly favorable days three weeks or so ago, but he appears to be an exception.

However, today's sunshine and cool wind held out promise of dry weather. If it continues to the end of the week the job of grain planting here should be broadly under way.

To Buy Projector For Otonabee Schools

Trustees of Otonabee school area decided Tuesday night to buy a motion picture projection machine, costing $695.



Only a week ago the work of providing new toilets at three of the schools of the area was completed. Total cost of that work was $1,200. The work was done by a Dundas firm.

These are only two of the most recent examples of the benefits of joint administration. The motion picture projector will bring this medium of visual education to all of the 11 schools. Two of the township schools have remained outside the area. They are Hiawatha and Stewart's Hall.

From various sources it has become evident that Otonabee has been acquiring an expanding reputation in Central Ontario for the progressive school policy its people have adopted, and also for the success of the group administration so far, a tribute to the board.

ISSUE CERTIFICATES

Certificates will be issued to those persons who successfully pass the Playground Leadership Training Course sponsored by the Recreation Commission. They will be signed by the Recreation Director, chairman of the Recreatio Commission, and chairman of So-ed.

PROVINCIAL CANDIDATE —John C. Morton, Sherbrooke St., was elected CCF candidate in the coming provincial election. He is past president of Local 524, UEW, and was recently elected chairman of a UEW-CCF Unity Committee. Mr. Morton has not previously run for public office.

Otonabee Taxes Up $15,751 Over Last Year

Otonabee's municipal budget amounts to $76,741, as compared with $60,990 last year.

County Council and school trustees have injected their levies into the make-up of the tax rate, leaving only the general township rate for ordinary municipal maintenance. The general rate is 10.3 mills, yielding $19,964, as against 7.9 mills, raising $15,190 last year. Almost all the local school rates are also higher, and the school boards are faced with increased costs, incuding salaries.

The details of the 1948 tax levy in the county are: County rate, 18.9 mills to raise $36,493. The corresponding rate last year was 15.1.

Township rate: 10.3 mills to raise $19,964. Rate last year was 7.9 for $15,190.

General school rate, public school supporters only: 5.1 mills to raise $9,382.

Otonabee school area: 6 mills for $7,900, as compared with 3.5 mills last year.

Douro school area, including sections 9 and 15, Otonabee, 3.50 mills.

School section No. 10: rate 5 mills.

School sections No. 17: rate 4.8 mills.

School section No. 18: rate 4.1 mills.

School section No. 19: 3.8 mills.

School section No. 8 (separate school): rate of 10 mills.

Mr. Thomas Weir, township clerk, commented yesterday that the advance in the tax rates has been general. The county rate is up 3.8 mills; township rate up 2.4 mills, and the general school rate is up 1-10th of a mill (.1).

Labor Council Debates Industry Picture

A recommendation asking the City Council to report on the efforts to encourage outside industry to settle in Peterborough was passed unanimously at Tuesday night's bi-monthly meeting of the Allied Labor Council.

William Cambers, recording secretary, said he believed that this city was not getting a sufficient share of new industry which was springing up all over Ontario. He said that at C.G.E. the plastics department was moving to Cobourg, the meter department to Quebec, and the refrigeration department to some other place out of the city. The total number of employees affected here was equal to a fair-sized plant, he said.

He said at least three plants had been started in Belleville, the cost of which was expected to run into several millions of dollars. "Peterborough is being missed and I don't know the reason," he said.

Robert Walsh denied that these developments meant less employment at C.G.E. He said that it was the only industry doing any expanding and claimed that there were more employees now than in wartime.

Mr. Walsh said that according to his information there were some 750 people waiting for low-rental housing and 300-400 more wanting to build but could not get started.

While the discussion of employment problems continued, one member suggested that foreign-born workers, particularly immigrants from the British Isles, were taking the place of Canadians. And another said it was hindering the opportunity of PCVS graduates to secure positions.

This view was opposed by another member who claimed that Canada was in the midst of an expanding economy which required an increased population.

A committee was appointed to investigate the question of immigration and its effects on the local unemployment situation. It included William Rosebush, Robert Harvey, Donald Rosenburgh, William Cambers and Alfred Barber.

It was reported that the committee formed to interview the legal committee of the City Council regarding its negative decision on the revision of the anti-noise law had received an appointment to discuss the subject next Monday as a delegation.

Alfred Barber, president, presided at the meeting which was well attended.

Daylight Saving Time

The City of Peterborough, in accordance with By-law 4683, passed by the City Council April 5th, 1948, will operate on Day light Saving Time from 12.01 a.m. April 25th, 1948, until 2.00 a.m. September 26th, 1948.

Daylight Saving Time goes into effect in Peterborough at midnight Saturday, April 24th, and all clocks should be advanced one hour.

Paintings Now At Library Most Important Ever Here

By T. J. ALLEN

Twenty-seven water-colours by Canadian painters, mostly contemporary, are now on view in the exhibition gallery of the Public Library. They are on loan from the National Gallery at Ottawa, and the collection is reputed to be the best travelling exhibition of Canadian water-colours which the National Gallery can provide. Some have been on exhibit at the Tate Gallery, London, during the "Century of Canadian Art" Exhibition.

Eighteen painters are represented. The collection has been built up over a period of years and most of the paintings, if not all, were acquired before the war. Therefore, the paintings are not necessarily representative of the work the painters who are still among the quick are doing to-day, and there are some excellent younger water-colourists (like Campbell Tinning) who are not represented because they have not yet received the accolade of purchase by the National Gallery.

The exhibition is the most important Peterborough has ever had, if only because of the names of the painters.

There is J. W. Morrice of international repute who was probably Canada's greatest painter. The two sketches of his on view ("Street Corner, Paris" and "Monastery Gate, Cuba") are poor introductions of Morrice to Peterborough. Nevertheless the authentic colour and line of Morrice come clear in "Monastery Gate" if the viewer is not spy-eyeing the brush strokes.

There is a totem pole of Emily Carr's—not one of her more vibrant efforts.

Franklin Carmichael is represented by a represenative landscape, large, clear-cut and bespeaking a canvas in oils; G. A. Reid (who died lately) by a pleasant Algoma Lake scene. These are the late and great in the exhibit.

Marc-Aurele Fortin, a Montreal painter who lived flambuoyantly, generously and romantically, is represented by the show's most ambitious canvas, a scene of Montreal from below the tracks.

Varied Subjects

Senior painters who have made a notable name in Canadian art are Fred Brigden (Toronto) whose "The Grey Canyon" is impressive and remarkable for its luminous haze in the middle-distance; A. J. Casson of Toronto ("Approaching Storm, Lake Superior"), and F. H. Varley, an original member of the Group of Seven, who now lives in Vancouver. His two mountain scenes are shockingly disappointing.

Charles Comfort, a Professor of Fine Arts at the University of Toronto, and one of Canada's most gifted and versatile painters, is represented by the only local scene in the show—a small lone island in Stony Lake. This painting is twenty years old and Mr. Comfort has progressed in the twenty years.

Thomas W. Fripp, a westerner, is represented by a nineteenth century conventional landscape. Peter Hayworth's "Range Light, Fox River, Quebec" and "Outhouses' are clean and pleasant; his wife (B. Coghill Hayworth) has in "Blue Cove" probably the finest water-colour in the show. They are Toronto painters. Jack W. Humphrey, who lives in St. John, N.B., is an outstanding Maritimes painter. His "Houses", done with dry brush, is like a forceful modern sonnet in unrhymed lines and etched phrases.

David Milne, well-known Ontario artist, has three paintings ("Poppies", "Rites of Autumn" and "The Saint") which are the most absolutely and distinctively water-colours. They have a jocund fantasy and colour, and though not grand, are delightful. The wash effect of each brush stroke gives his work spontaneity. Walter Phillips, whose quiet, "Mud Flats" is a pleasing and interesting treatment of vertical and curved patterns, is a westerner and an outstanding exponent of coloured wood blocks.

Will Ogilvie, of Montreal and Toronto, and a New Zealander by birth is the present President of the Canadian Group of Painters. The arrested grace of his three nudes in "African Day" and the siennas and characteristic figures of "Lumber Mill" are free from the banality of many of the other paintings in the exhibit and give foretaste of his present nature work.

Carl Schaefer, like Ogilvie, a War Artist, and a resident of Toronto, is best known for his water colours and the three in the show ("Green Valley, Hanover", "Spring at Norwich", "Stooks") are representative of his vigorous and certain style.

Goodridge Roberts now lives in Montreal and is instructing at the Montreal. Art Gallery. His two pre-war landscapes of the Ottawa Valley are disconcerting to those who know his latest work.

Taken generally, the pictures are easy to look at. There are no puzzles; a viewer need have no special knowledge of painting cults and esoteric techniques to approach them. In fact, most of the paintings are so obvious that the show tends to be dull—pleasantly dull. The exhibition is valuable on two counts. It gives Peterborough people an opportunity to see at home some fine water-colours by eminent artists, and, since most of the artists are primarily painters in oil, this selection of their water-colours provides an interesting comparison and study with their better known oils.

A long look at the 27 water-colours leads one to ask: Is the Canadian scene suitable for water-colour? Is oil or gouache not a better medium? Water-colour seems to demand a kinder climate, a more cultivated, more civilized, softer countryside than Canada provides outside of the Niagara peninsula, the west coast and the Annapolis valley. The great American painter Winslow Homer did one of his best water-colours of a wall and flowers in Nassau. That is in the languorous Bahamas.

The gallery is open from three to six and seven to nine on week days except Wednesdays; on Sunday from three to six. The exhibition will remain until May 13.

Deny Ottawa 'Influenced' On Annuities

OTTAWA, April 21 — (CP). — Labor Minister Mitchell denied in the Commons yesterday that "representations of private business" had led the government to raise the cost of its annuities.

Mr. Mitchell said the lowering of the interest rate on money paid into such annuities, announced yesterday, was made to bring the rate into line with that paid on government securities. The rate was dropped from four to three per cent.

He said the Montreal Gazette was not correct in saying the change was influenced by private business.

"I have not to my recollection met any of the business interests referred to in this matter," he said.

Mr. Michell also said the Gazette report "alleged claims of private business that the government annuities scheme has been subsidized out of tax funds to the extent of $4,500,000 a year."

"This is a gross inaccuracy," he said. "The average annual mortality losses to the government in the last five years has been $400,000. The government pays the cost of administration of the annuities act. The average annual cost for the last five years was $437,000."

Old Montreal Art Gallery Lost As Building Razed

MONTREAL, April 21—(CP)—If only for a short time, Montreal's old Art Gallery again had its day in the sun.

Workmen demolishing the ancient building at the southeast corner of Phillips Square overlooking busy St. Catharines Street removed a huge sign that had covered thte grimy gacade for years.

The sign advertised underwear. But underneath, suddenly bared to the public, were the sculptured words "Art Gallery." Above them appeared illustrious names chiselled into the masonry nearly 70 years ago—Wren, Raffaello, Tiziano, Velasquez, Handel, Michatel Angelo, Rembrandt.

The property, owned by a Montreal business man, will be replaced by a nine-storey office building.

The Art Gallery was opened May 26, 1879, by the Marquiss of Lorne and Princess Louise. The building formerly contained private homes. Through a bequest of $8,000 and the lot, both by Benaiah Gibb, the gallery came into being. Art lovers sent other contributions. Pictures, bronze and other items were bequeathed by Mr. Gibb.

After the gallery moved to its present home on Sherbrooke St. West, part of the old building was converted into a restaurant. Several ornate pilasters are still standing. But they, and what appears to be frescos, visible here and there beneath worn layers of paint and whitewash, were doomed when the building-wreckers went to work.

Seek Food Thieves

LONDON, April 21 — (CP). — Detectives and food ministry "ghost squad" offices will spend next week searching the 11,000-ton refrigerator ship Palana as part of an official drive to stop thefts of food consigned to Britain. The Palana, one of the world's largest refrigerator ships, docked Monday from Australia with about 12,000 tons of foodstuffs aboard.

Only Three Members

OTTAWA, April 21 (CP). — The official Progressive Conservative opposition in the Commons last night, mustered a strength of only three—Jack Charlton (PC—Brant), Gordon Graydon (PC—Peel) and Garfield Case (PC—Grey North)—against 50 Liberals, 15 CCF, and seven Social Credit members. The bulk of the remaining 66 party members were attending the annual dinner of the Progressive Conservative Association.

Double Subway Fare

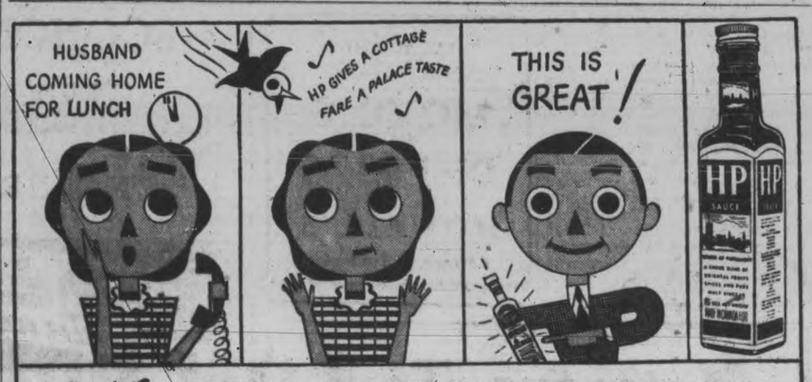
NEW YORK, April 21 — (AP). — The pride of New York — the nickel subway fare — was ordered doubled by Mayor William O'Dwyer last night. O'Dwyer announced the boost to 10 cents will go into effect July 1. The charge on city-owned surface lines will be increased to seven cents.

Garden Pest Control Speaker's Topic

J. Tawse of Montreal will be the speaker at the meeting of the Horticultural Society Monday, April 26 in the YWCA at 8 p.m. He has spent years in the study of garden pest control, is an interesting speaker and is bringing moving pictures to illustrate his advice.

The Society obtained Mr. Tawse for this engagement with the timely thought of being helpful to the member and the general public. Insects and other garden pests are now stirring into life, and if not controlled will ruin many a garden.

W. C. Wilks, secretary, says every home owner with a flower and vegetable garden should know the insecticides of most effective use on the sucking and biting families of insects. "We are sponsoring a special lecture for this occasion, and should have a full house. A silver collection will be taken at the close of the meeting. Door prizes will be dust guns. Booklets will be distributed describing methods of destroying the common enemies of garden foliage and bloom."



30,000-Yr.-Old Tusks Carved Into Brooches

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., April 21—(CP)—Jack Elliott of Whitehorse, Y.T., retired riverboat engineer, has a unique and profitable hobby—carving brooches from 30,000,-year old mastedon tusks.

Elliott first discovered the tusks in 1920 in ice formations in the Mackenzie River Basin. They average 13 feet in length, 10 inches in diameter, and up to 350 pounds in weight. Decorated with gold nuggets, they are sold to tourists from all parts of the world.

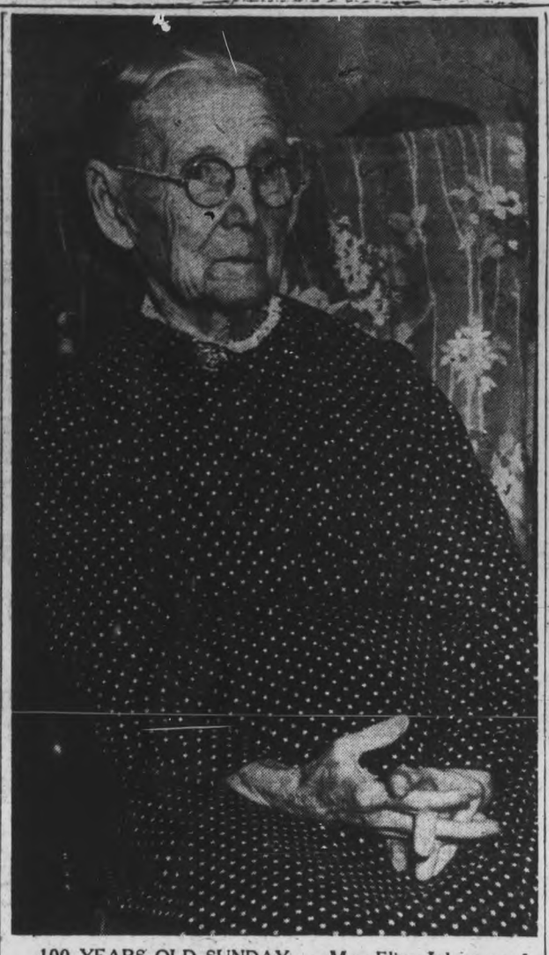
Working Hard To Restore "The Temple"

By MICHAEL O'HARA.

LONDON, April 21 — (CP).— The age-old hush of the Temple —one of London's legal centres and the home of the Knights Templars who fought in the Holy Land during the later Crusades— is broken by pneumatic drills, hammer-blows, and the shouts of builders.

Black-coated barristers and their junior clerks pause on their bustling way through the Temple's narrow courts to watch dungareed workmen clambering over scaffolding surrounding many of the mellow stone and brick walls.



They are looking forward to the day when the Temple will be restored, as nearly as possible, to the condition in which it stood before German bombs wrought widespread damage.

No Lofty Buildings

Architects' plans call for no lofty buildings to mar the skyline of the Temple, overlooking the Victoria Embankment and standing with its back to the Law Courts and busy Fleet Street. Instead, as before, hundreds of "lawyers' chambers" will be jammed into the four-storey blocks of offices which cover much of the four-acre area.

London newspapers voiced the feeling of the majority of Londoners at this retention of the old order. "The Middle and Inner Temples . . . will retain all the old-world atmosphere, tradition and serenity of their ancient past," said the Evening News.

Preliminary repair work also is being carried on to restore Temple Church, the Templars' home with its 12th century rotunda, last restored in the 19th century. Both rotunda and choir loft were burned out, but the 13th century stone vault, one of the few parts of the church which remains in its original condition, was unharmed.

Canada Buying More British Goods In 1948

LONDON, April 21.—(CP). — Important gains in the sales of British goods to Canada in the first three months of 1948 were reported by the Board of Trade today.

Figures showed further results in the drive to increase exports of textiles, pottery and similar goods to the Dominion to earn dollars to pay for Canadian food.

In other detailed figures for January and February, the Board showed that in those months Britain's business with Canada almost equalled that with the United States. Imports from Canada totalled more than £36,000,000 ($144,000,000) and exports to the Dominion £9,500,000. The latter figure showed a gain of £4,000,000 over the same two months last year.

Imports from the United States in two months totalled £37,333,000 and exports to the United States £11,333,000.

Canada remains the chief supplier of leading foodstuffs. British wheat exports in three months this year totalled 19,875,763 hundred-weight of which Canada's share was 15,694,817.

Bacon imports totalled 972,611 hundredweight of which Canada supplied 748,379. Almost half of Britain's shell egg imports also came from the Dominion.

U.S. Indicts Two Men For Illegal Entry

SYRACUSE, NY, April 21 — (AP).—Two men yesterday were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury on charges of entering the United States from Canada illegally after having been previously deported. Waclaw L. Pienczewski alias Felix Pilecka, of New York, was accused of illegally entering the United States at Rouses Point last June 28 after a previous deportation. A second count charged him with illegally claiming United States citizenship.

Also charged with illegal entry after having been previously deported was Joseph Duchesne of Cornwall.

Trends Conflict On Stock MarketExchange

By The Canadian Press

Security exchanges showed some conflicting tendencies, with New York apparently testing out the strength of its current advance.

After establishing some new highs, prices gave way to profit-taking and the Associated Press 60-stock composite dipped .2 to 66.6.

Yet to be digested is the result of the Italian elections and the economic forces being brought to bear by re-armament proposals and the European recovery program.

In Washington the House of Representatives heard from Paul G. Hoffman, administrator of the ERP, that the $5,300,000,000 authorized for Europe may not be enough. He also revealed the tentative division of the fund, which includes $1,324,300,000 for Britain.

In Ottawa announcement was made of a 14-man industrial defence board whose main duty will be to advise the government on all matters relating to the industrial war potential of Canada.

Born In Manvers Millbrook Woman Will Be 100 Years Old On Sunday

MILLBROOK April 21 (ENS) —Congratulations are being extended to Mrs. Eliza Johnston, who reaches her one hundredth birthday on Sunday. In good health Mrs. Johnston has remarkable use of her faculties, especially her eyesight.

Born in Manvers township, when Lotus, was a thriving community, the nearest village to the farm homestead, Mrs. Johnston's maiden name was Eliza Ney. She is the last surviving member of her family. Her parents, Thomas Ney, and Agnes Kelly came to Canada from Ireland and cleared the land from the virgin forest upon which they established their home, and in the family Mrs. Johnston had sisters, there step-sisters, and one step-brother Mrs. Johnston's father died when she was quite young, and some time later when her mother married Andrew Montgomery, their home was in Darlington township, the children attending school at Enniskillen.

Mrs. Johnston's married life was spent in Cartwright township, the death of her husband, John M. Johnston, taking place in 1903. For more than ten years now this wonderful old lady has resided with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Rowland, another daughter, Miss Agnes Johnston, being also a member of the household. Her eldest son, David Johnston, was killed in an automobile accident, some years ago, and the youngest son, Alexander Johnston, lives in Cartwright; these four children made up her family.

Mrs. Johston is up and about house every day, doing little tasks as permitted, and particularly enjoying reading aloud from her large-print New Testament; the Sunday School Quarterly also claims her interest, but as the print is smaller, it is not so readily enjoyed. She belonged to a family that was noted for its industry, and still has in her possession blankets and sheet made in her home, many years ago, from the wool and the flax produced on the farm.

Knitting, crocheting, and sewing were her favorite pastimes, and it is only within recent years that her busy fingers have not been so employed, the weakness, gradually encroaching with advancing years, making it necessary to curtail such activities. The actual date of the one hundredth birthday will be quietly marked within the family circle where she is lovingly cared for and honored. However, as it falls on a Sunday, and the community at large, as well as her many friends and relatives, are proud of this fine citizen and deeply interested in the century anniversary. The birthday guest of honor, assisted by Mrs. Rowland and Miss Johnston, will be "at Home" Saturday, afternoon and evening, giving any who wish an opportunity to call and extend personal congratuations and good wishes.

Mother And Daughter Church Service Held

APSLEY, April 21—(ENS)— On Sunday evening a Mothers and Daughters service was held at Trinity United Church under the leadership of the Women's Association.

Members of the W.A. taking part were: Mrs. Don Newberry, Mrs. H. E. Edwards, Mrs. N. H. Wilson.

Mrs. Gordon Colquhoon, Paudash, delivered the address.

Two duets by mothers and daughters were given: Mrs. Ross Reynolds and daughter Gail, and one by Mrs. Wagner and Joan. Choir consisting of mothers and daughters led the service of song.

Offering was taken by Mrs. Frank McFadden and Mrs. John Tucker.

TO SEND LEGION — King Abdullah (above) of Transjordan announced that he will send his Arab legion into Palestine to fight what he designated the "Russian and Jewish menace to the Arab world." The legion, British trained and officered, is said to be the most powerful striking force of the Arab world and numbers about 20,000 men. King Abdullah made his announcement shortly after news of the United Nations Security Council's order for a Palestine truce was received in Amman.

Diagnosing Fertilizer Needs Of Soil Big Farm Problem

By PROFESSOR G. N. RUHNKE, Head of Department of Soils, Ontario Agricultural College.

In many respects fertilizer usage is developing rapidly in Eastern Canada. During the ten-year period 1936-1946, the percentage increase in total tonnage of fertilizer used was as follows: Prince Edward Island, 226.4%; Nova Scotia, 23.7; New Brunswick, 207.0; Quebec, 190.6; and Ontario, 181.1. Of interest too, is the fact that there has been a considerable trend from the use of materials to mixed fertilizers.

Ten years ago, superphospate made up a large percentage of the total tonnage of fertilizers sold in Eastern Canada. Today, the sale of superphosphate for other than manufacturing purposes has fallen to a low level.

During the period from 1936-46, sales of superphosphate as percentage of total fertilizers dropped from 19.5% to 4.1. In Quebec from 32.2 to 6.1.

The functions of fertilizers is to supplement and balance existing fertilizer in the soil. Since soils vary greatly in their character and in their acquired fertilizer or nutrient deficits, no one fertilizer analysis is likely to be found to be "the best" for a given crop. The same crop under different soil conditions may have very different fertilizer requirements, both as to toal amount of fertilizer and balance among the nutrients.

Lime On Acid Soils

On acid soils lime becomes a prerequisite to successful production of certain crops and to good fertilizer practice. This is the basis of the joint Federal-Provincial Agricultural Limestone Subvention Policies. Formerly the soil fertilizer concept favored fertilizing the soil first and then the soil would feed the crop.

Today our concept of soil fertility and plant nutrition is changing rapidly. We have a better understanding of the physical chemistry and bio-chemistry of the soil and the processes which operate to maintain the supplies of essential nutrients in forms available for plant use. We have reached a stage where we should apply these concepts in our field research and experimental work in a more effective way if we are to make the necessary progress in the practical solution of our fertilizer problems.

At the risk of being labelled a radical, I offer the opinion that the most urgent basic fertilizer problem in Eastern Canada is that of developing more precise methods of diagnosing fertilizer requirements of our soils. We need a country-wide program of co-ordinated laboratory soil and plant tissue tests and lime and fertilizer experiments to provide indices to crop response so that we can take more of the guesswork out of our field experiments and out of our practical recommendations to the farmer.

Economy of Manure.

More study of the relationship of cropping practices, manuring and organic matter maintenance to fertilizer requirements of the soil.

It has long been recognized that livestock farming, where all the crops are consumed on the farm, and the manure is returned to the land, makes the least drain on the soil. As the type of farming varies to include direct sale of both crops and livestock, or to the special "cash-crop-no-livestock" type of farming, the outgo of fertility becomes progressively greater and the problems of soil maintenance become more difficult and exacting.

Livestock manure, properly managed and utilized in the cropping program, is a most ecenomical means of replenishing the revolving fund of organic matter, nitrogen, potassium, and minor elements in cultivated soils. Its deficiency in phosphorus, however, is of great significance in our region of podsolic soils, and this must be made up sooner or later by the liberal use of phosphate fertilizer. In areas where farmyard manure is available, not only is the problem of organic matter maintenance made easier, but the fertilizer requirements of the soil are different and considerably less than where manure is not available and is not used in soil maintenance. As a factor of economy in the use of commercial plantfood, more emphasis on the proper storage and utilization of farmyard manure is very pertinent to the problem of efficient use of fertilizers in Eastern Canada.

One of the early mistakes in cropping areas was to forget about manure and organic matter maintenance and to depend on commercial fertilizer alone to maintain soil productivity. Twenty-five years of malpractice and disappointment in results has convinced some of our Ontario farmers of the inadequacy of this plan. Not only did the heavier type soils become harder to work but there was decreasing response to fertilizer applied to such soils.

Problem of Rations

Setting up of suitable rotations is of major importance.

The balance between the so-called "soil conserving" crops, (sod crops, hay and pasture), and the so-called "soil depleting" crops, (row cultivated crops — corn, potatoes, roots), is a phase of rotation planning that has not received the attention it deserves. The "balance" or "lack of balance" in the rotation profoundly affects not only the organic matter supply but the fertility status of the soil as well.

In attempting to assess the fertilizer requirements of a cropping system the presence or absence of legumes, (clovers), in the rotation must be taken into consideration. Their contribution to soil maintenance depends entirely on how they are utilized. Where grown and removed for hay, the nitrogen of the soil will just be maintained, but there will be a loss of from 8 to 16 pounds of phosphate and 26 to 54 pounds of potash from the available supplies of the soil, for each ton of hay removed. To replace these losses and make the soil the same as it was at the beginning of the year, would require the addition of 40 to 80 pounds of twenty per cent superphosphate and 50 to 100 pounds of fifty per cent muriate of potash for each ton of legume removed. What we have not realized is that legume crops, grown and removed from the land are much more exhaustive of available phosphate, potash and calcium reserve of the soil per hundred pounds of crop removed, than are other crops. To be soil builder, practically the whole clover crop should be turned back into soil. Even then, the crop will prove beneficial only when properly inoculated, not by adding phosphate and potash to the soil, but by adding nitrogen and increasing the organic matter of the soil. The significance of this in relation to fertilizer requirements for a rotation containing legumes is apparent.

Sod Crops Valuable.

The importance of sod crops, (hay and pasture) when adequately fertilized, in building up organic matter and developing aggregation of soil particles needs greater stress than it has heretofore received. Soils depleted of organic matter and in poor physical condition can be restored more rapidly and effectively through the proper use of sod crops than by any other scheme of cropping, manuring and organic additions. Actually, through the medium of sod crops and green manure crops, fertilizers can be used to "grow" organic matter into the soil.

How much fertilizer should be used per acre on a given soil, (a) to insure the maximum crop, and (b) to replace the losses from the soil?

The question of rates takes us back again to our first problem, that of quantitative diagnosis of requirements, not for just one crop, but for each and all of the crops in the rotation.

On the whole, in Eastern Canada, except for special crops like potatoes, tobacco, sugar beets, it is practicable that we could use more plantfood per acre than we have been doing in the past if we improved our other cultural practices accordingly. It is interesting to note where Canada stands in relation to other countries in plantfood consumption.

Canada Near Bottom.

Apparent world consumption of commercial plantfoods per acre of arable land (recent 3-year average) is based on data presented by Clark and Serman, U.S. Department of Agriculture, miscellaneous publication, No. 593.

The figures for the following countries show the total plantfood pounds per acre:—

Netherlands, 300 lbs. per acre; Belgium, 159; New Zealand, 125; Germany, 95; Japan, 86; United Kingdom, 52; Denmark, 47 Norway, 39; France, 33; Sweden, 30; Australia, 19; United States, 8.8; Canada, 2.7; Soviet Union, 2.7; British India, .17.

Placement of Fertilizers.

The problem of placement or method of application of fertilizers is important to their efficient use. In our podsolic soils, the possibility of fixation of phosphate and potash when these fertilizers are applied broadcast or as top dressings, influences the fertilization of meadows and pastures and emphasizes the drilled-in-row or band application for other crops. Deep placement of fertilizer for corn roots and canning crops has been tried with some measure of success in certain cases, but still we are practising the old methods of application instead of searching out new ways of getting the plantfood into the soil system so that it will all be truly available to and utilized by the crop plant.

Effect On Crops.

What effect have fertilizers on quality and nutritive value of crops.

Here is a big field of study of fundamental importance to our whole agricultural program, yet it has been barely explored. In the face of the increasing incidence on mineral nutritional disorders of livestock, breeding troubles, etc., we need to investigate more fully the relationship of soil deficiences to the deficiencies in the feed and food crops. We need to determine the true relationship between bulk of yield and quality of yield, not by orthodox chemical analysis alone, but by actual feeding experiments, using the crops grown on deficient and on fertile soils for comparison.

The real purpose of Agriculture, is to provide food —food not just for calories and filling — food for growth and reproduction and food for the health and strength of the nation. We are interested not only in bushels, bags and tons of yield per acre, but in those invisible factors which make up the real values toward off hidden hunger. In addition to the above, attention must be given to micro-element deficiencies. That these are having an effect on fertilizer practice is borne out by the sales of mixed fertilizers containing boron and magnesium as guaranteed constituents. The most extensive usage of mixed fertilizers containing boron (in 1946) was in Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, with Ontario and Quebec each using about one-quarter of the tonnage of the Maritimes. The tonnage of mixed fertilizers containing magnesium oxide was greatest in New Brunswick, next in Prince Edward Island, next in Ontario, next in Nova Scotia, and least in Quebec. We need a greatly expanded program of investigation of the role of micro-elements in increasing the efficiency of our standard fertilizers. Crop spray technique is a simple but effective way of locating areas where the soils are deficient in these nutrients.

Legume Seed Failure.

In Ontario, at least, the problem of legume seed failure has reached the point where the seed merchants are pressing vigorously for more active research program to restore production. We need to study thoroughly the nutrient requirements of alfalfa, alsike and sweet clover in relation to seed setting and then apply our information to fertility studies in the field. It has long been maintained that soils will grow clovers well, are good soils and present little problems in maintenance. But once good soils that will no longer produce clovers satisfactorily are sick soils and we need to find out the cause of the trouble if we are to solve the basic problems of soil conservation.

Storing Fertility.

Fertilizer consumption is likely to continue to grow as supplies become easier and if the farmer continues to receive good prices for the products from his farm. Our biggest problem is to convince him to use enough fertilizer to build up reserves of plantfood in his soil in times of high prices, so that his capital of soil fertility will be there to help to carry him over the periods of lower prices, when outlay for fertilizers may be reduced. This is sound economy. The soil is not look upon as a mineral deposit to be mined and then abandoned. Rather it should be considered as Nature's miracle laboratory — the site of fertility turnover — the great natural fertility, made available to the processing medium in which soil plant, is fabricated into feed and food. We have need to feel this concept so that we may see commercial fertilizers not as a hypodermic shot for giving temporary stimulus to lagging soils but as a recognized part of the total farming operation and an essential factor in soil conservation.

TWO FIREMEN INJURED—Firemen Lucien Martel, 32, and Maurice Henri, of Montreal, were hospitalized recently in battling above blaze which broke out in a shed and spread rapidly to the three-storey structure, forcing six families to find other quarters. The firemen were allowed to go home after treatment. Damage to the building was estimated at $8,000 and three stations were called to combat the outbreak.

'Bank' Racket In Africa Cheats Native Investors

DURBAN, South Africa, April 21 (CP).—Police and native administration officials are trying to solve the problem of a wave of "get-rich-quick" banks which have been operating recently in all native locations and townships in Natal. The fear now has been expressed that this "banking" racket may spread to the densely populated Rand locations.

Although it is well known that thousands of clients will lose their money at these "banks" there seems to be no law under which they can be stopped.

Most of the banks employ the "chain letter" system to attract clients. Each customer is given a receipt for his £1 and told he will be paid £26 as soon as 26 other natives have deposited money.

After a few days the bank actually pays out and great excitement is caused as the lucky investors exhibit wads of notes earned from their £1 deposits.

Then thousands rush in from the surrouding countryside with their savings. After a week a great run on the bank begins. All over Natal the drama of hope and disillusionment has followed the same pattern.

In Durban, police visiting compounds to warn native against patronizing the banks have been beaten and chased out.

Two policemen were injured recently when 1,000 natives attempted to wreck the "banks" in one township. In another, angry natives carried off the furniture to cover part of their losses.

One "banker" in Durban collected £1,000 in a few days and then took refuge in the police station to escape the mob.

Delightful Fashion Show Brings Funds for New Arena

Fashion show history for Peterborough was made Tuesday night with the modelling of smartly daring bathing suits in the "Fantasy of Fashion" presentation in aid of the Civic Arena campaign. The varied styles and designs included figure-fitting suits with front panels of fluorescent satin, which actually glows under water. This feature of under-water activity was perfected during the war and is making its first appearance as a civilian novelty. One of the most striking suits was of pink and gold metallic cloth with the stripe design setting off the figure lines. The model wore a beach coat of white terry cloth and white suede sandals. Gay plaid taffeta was used as pleated ruffle trim on a two-piece number with wired strapless bra, and similar material fashioned a one-piece strapless suit. Several designs were in lemon yellow satin striped lastex, and a tight-fitting beau-catcher was of pale blue satin.

Shoes played an important part in this review, as the models wore exclusively designed footwear to best suit each costume. A particularly smart pair were of grey snakeskin and hand-made. Single and double ankle straps were prominent in dress shoes rivalling the favorite sling pump. Very smart sport shoes were in red, white and brown leathers, and the juniors wore "baby doll" or strapped "flats."

With vacation plans uppermost on the agenda of every business girl it was fitting that the dresses shown be crease-resisting and washable materials. A pink linen with cut-out leaf design and scalloped edgings was lady-like and dainty. Uncreasable sharks' skin fashioned tailored dress with covered buttons on pockets and sleeves and striped taffet tie-collar. A matching straw hat completed the ensemble idea which is important to every wardrobe this year. Dresses of silk jersey or soft celanese jersey are ideal for the traveller, most of them cut with full swinging skirts.

Striped seersucker in a two-piece dress had the new "new look" by inverted pleats from the waistline. A casual outfit, that looked terribly smart combined cross-wise stripes of red and white jersey in the middy and a navy linen skirt. A tri-color design used coral, yellow and blue, and another smart number used navy trim on lime.

A tailored morning dress of light brown linen with natural embroidery was the pick of this display for trimness, and the hat with it was natural straw with open crown.

Coats go to all lengths this year but they are full and flowing, regardless, with the exception of a belted trench coat in navy gabardine. Sailor collars and patch pockets were featured. Glamorous rainwear gave a choice of dark green corduroy or blue striped satin in full-length coats with hoods to wear up or down. Also ballerina styles in grey and black showerproofed gabardine.

Suits for the vacation trip were highlighted by a green gabardine with fish-tail back on the long jacket, and the very smart white straw hat with green band, and matching accessories. A grey flannel Gibson Girl model was complimented by shoulder bag and shoes of red suede. The new and increasingly popular cape topped a smart red suit to make a three piece semi-tailored ensemble and the model wore grey accessories.

The junior model caused a slight sensation when she pedalled her bike down the runway, wearing plaid wool "pedal-pushers" with yellow sweater and kerchief. For active sports there were jodhpurs, slack and shorts shown, worn with two-color western skirts or airy short-sleeved sweaters. For beach wear there were three-piece play suits and circular peasant skirts. Taking Milady through the day, from dawn to dark, the showing opened with morning setting-up exercises by the model wearing a shortie nightgown of red polka dot cotton. Housecoats for relaxing evening were of quilted or plain satin, and a sheer chiffon negligee shown was trousseau material.

A parade of gorgeous evening dresses preceded the grand finale when the bride and her attendants formed an entracing picture. Turquoise was chosen for the bridesmaid, and maids of honor were in similar gowns of yellow and mauve. The gown, specially designed for this showing was of white satin with draped front and bustle back and fine detail at the neckline. The full-length veil fell from a studded crown over the graceful train of the dress. This outfit, complete with lingeries and hosiery, was won by Miss Muriel Crouter, 399 Edison Ave., as the grand prize of the evening. Alderman Hurrell Dodds made the draw from registrations of brides of 1948

Mrs. Wm. Addyman, vice-chairman of the Civic Arena committee expressed thanks to all those attending and taking part on behalf of the campaign and especially to Mr. Isadore Black who made all arrangements and undertook all financial responsibility. Mr. Dick Ouimet, chairman, presented a bouquet of roses to Mrs. Eve Kirzner of Toronto, who directed the show.

Peterborough models wearing the summer and early fall fashions were Misses Barbara Deyell, Barbara Lawrie, Beverly Pringle, Ruth Frost, Fay Adams, Rhoda Jardina and Mrs. Dave Wilson. Three professional models donating ther services were Mrs. Eve Kirzner and Miss Audrey Marshall of Toronto, and Miss Blossom McGinnis of Weston. The commentator was Pasquale D'Angelo.

Soroptimist Club Hostessing RegionConference

This week-end Soroptimists meet in Peterborough for the 16th conference of Eastern Canada region, American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs. More than 75 out-of-town delegates are expected from the clubs of Toronto, Barrie, London, Windsor, Belleville, Ottawa and Montreal. They are professional and executive business women of a classification service club which offers the same opportunities for wider personal and business contacts that men are afforded in their service clubs. Membership is by invitation only and is limited to women engaged independently in professions or as heads, deputies, or executives of established businesses, and only one woman from each classification is eligible. Quality, not numbers, is a cardinal principle of this organization and members are pledged to follow a strict code of ethics and maintain the highest standards in personal and business relationships. Service is always their objective with a view to promotisg the ideals of Soroptimism, a coined word from "soro," sister, and "optima," best —"The Best for Women."

Business sessions open to all Soroptimists are being held at Empress Hotel headquarters. Theme of discussions being "Convention-Wise" involving plans for the first meeting in Canada of Soroptimist International Association which takes place in Toronto during the last week of July. Biennial election of regional officers and board members takes place at this conference and accredited delegates will vote on amendments to the standard by-laws. Club presidents and committee chairmen will report on activities since the last conference in October, 1947.

Climax Saturday will be evening dinner, in St. Joseph's Hospital nurses' residence, with Mrs. Enith Scott of Peterborough, president of the hostess club, presiding. Dr. Lillian Chase, a specialist in internal medicine at Women's College Hospital, Toronto, will speak of "Medicine in the future" and members anticipate valuable knowledge from her address.

Presentation of flags from the Region of Barrie, Windsor, Montreal and Peterborough Club is a colorful procedure to take place at this time.

Miss Ethel Crossland of Barrie, director for Eastern Canada Region, is in charge of the conference program.

Rogow-Goldman

A pretty wedding took place in Toronto Sunday afternoon, April 18, when Adele Goldman of Regina, Saskatchewan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Goldman, was united in marriage to Joseph Rogow, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Rogow, Walkerfield Ave., Peterborough. Rabbi D. Monson officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a lovely afternoon dress of navy with pale pink accessories and carried a prayer book with orchids. She was attended by her twin sister, Miss Pearl Goldman, wearing a blue suit with tobacco tan accessories and corsage of Talisman roses. Mr. Maziel gave the bride in marriage.

Mr. Ralph Rogow attended his brother as groomsman.

At the reception and dinner afterward, Mrs. Rogow received, wearing a dove grey suit with brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Later the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Regina, Mrs, on a wedding trip to Regina, Mrs. with green accessories. On their return they will reside in Peterborough.

WA Shows Antique Pitchers At Tea and Cooking Sale

A unique display of old pitchers was featured at the tea Tuesday afternoon in St. John's Church Parish Hall. Members of the Women's Auxiliary brought out the treasured antique ornaments for guests to admire. A very old "Apostle" jug was the object of much comment by those who examined closely the likenesses engraved in the yellowed pottery. Brilliant coloring of a large Royal Doulton piece was eye-catching, and the picture story told on a chalk-white china jug was unmistakably Chinese. Smaller pitchers were fashioned of Devon pottery, Royal terra cotta porcelain, and Irish lustre. A few were in somewhat modern design, and one dainty cream-size jug showed the old "bridal rose" pattern. Mrs. W. M. Cruthers acted as hostess of the exhibit.

Mrs. H. A. Sootheran, president of the WA, was receiving, and Miss Margaret English was at the treasurer's table.

A tempting display of homemade cooking drew many customers who were served by Mrs. William Dyer and Mrs. R. Lawless.

Mrs. E. Nicholls and Mrs. F. Stewart, conveners of the tea-room, arranged an attractive table setting, with a centrepiece of pink, deep rose and mauve snapdragons and white stocks. Tall white tapers were set in low silver holders, on the lace-covered table. Presiding over silver teapots were Mrs. G. S. Cameron, Mrs. F. M. DelaFosse, Mrs. H. Kelsey, and Mrs. T. H. Floyd.

Tea-room hostesses were Mrs. H. Wilson, Mrs. L. Crocker, Mrs. W. Flowers, Mrs. G. Groombridge and Miss Ruby Quartermaine. Plates were refilled by Mrs. E. Graham, Mrs. H. Gamble, Mrs. C. Barton, Mrs. H. Leemings, and Mrs. R. Ford.

Food Will Hold Husband Remains Good Advice

Dear Miss Dix: My husband is a very hard-working man and one in a million for his goodness and kindness. He is now 55 years old and his full week's pay is $85. I love him very much and we are very happy together except for this one thing: I have a lady friend living with me who thinks I feed my husband too well. She says if she were married to him she would cut down on the amount of butter and eggs and other expensive food that he eats. She thinks he is a pig.

But I don't feel that way about him. He is six feet two and a perfect rail, and I feel that he needs nourishing food. Don't you think I am right in giving my wonderful good, kind husband all the butter he wants and at least a dozen eggs a week for his breakfast?

Dorothy Dix

ANXIOUS WIFE.

Answer: Indeed, I do. Evidently your lady friend, who believes in keeping a man on a starvation diet, has had little experience with the masculine sex, or else she would know that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

The old adage that says that the best way to retain a husband's affection is to feed the brute, is founded on rock-bottom truth. Every man who gets married expects his wife to feed him on beef steak and onions and pies like Mother used to make, just as much as he expects her to show him tenderness and love. If you will think of the happy homes you have known, you will recognize that they were all founded on the same formula — the husband was a good provider and the wife a crackerjack cook.

Marital Mistake

The wives who are too lazy and trifling to give their husbands good meals, or who pinch the grocery money to buy themselves finery, make a fatal mistake. They are literally killing the goose that lays the golden egg, because, for one thing, it cuts down a man's earning capacity for him to be half-fed and, for another thing, a man hungry is always cross and surly and hard to live with.

So don't begrudge your husband his butter and eggs and pork chops, or whatever. The laborer is worthy of his hire.

Dear Miss Dix: I am married to a good man who works hard and is very kind to me, and I have been very happy. But a problem has come up in our lives that I do not know how to solve. I have a young sister who seems to have fallen violently in love with my husband. She smothers him with kisses when she comes to visit us. She sits on his lap, and kisses him over and over again, and throws her arms around him when she is leaving. All of which is very embarrassing for me.

I am not jealous, but I think if my husband was half the man I have always thought he was, he would not encourage her. What can I do about it?

BEWILDERED SISTER.

Answer: Brother-in-lawitis is quite a common complaint among the bobby-soxers. I get many letters from wives whose homes have been broken up by little sisters' pursuit of their husbands. And the tragedy is the result of a mixture of propinquity and the ages of the girl and the man, which make them both vulnerable.

The girl is at the age when she is just slothing over with romance, and when she must have something masculine to vent her affections upon. All the boys she knows are still kids, and so in looking about for somebody to love, she hits on brother-in-law. He is youngish and good-looking and there is more kick in having a crush on him than there is on Tommy or Johnny.

And brother-in-law, who is at the age when he thought he was done with being a wolf, is surprised and delighted to find that he has not lost his sex appeal and, before he knows it, they have cooked up a pretty mess of scandal.

The wise play in the situation is for the wife never to let her husband find out that her suspicions have been aroused, but to go to her parents with the story and get them to send little sister off to some boarding school, the farther the better. She will get over her infatuation when she meets an older group of boys than the pipsqueaks she has been running with. And brother-in-law will recover his sanity when he is no longer fed on sultry kisses.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a young man of 22 in the midst of my education. I want to marry a nice young lady who has a large amount of money. Please advise.

J.Y.D.

✧ ✧ ✧

Answer: What price tag do you put upon yourself? Naturally a girl who was buying a husband would like to know how much he would cost her and whether he was a bargain or not.

"The weather doesn't agree with me!"

You will need milk in 1951

It takes time to raise a dairy herd. And when conditions make beef production or the sale of cows more profitable than milk production someone has to plan for future milk supplies. Someone has to assure the farmer an economic price for milk. Someone has to estimate future demands and make sure they are met. The responsibility falls to your dairy. It is the dairy that encourages farmers to stay in milk production. It is the dairy that ensures you your supply of milk in the years to come, just as the forethought of previous years provides supplies today.

Detroit Cancer Hospital Tribute to Nun's Faith

DETROIT, April 20 —(AP)— With only faith and determination to go on, Sister Loretta Mary Gibson founded a cancer hospital in a padlocked speakeasy in1931.

Today Detroit's determined cancer fight has built the hospital, Mercy Hall, into a $500,000 institution. That's only the beginning, she says.

Now she's helping pioneer a program to help average families cope with cancer. In the face of a disease that kills more than 188,000 yearly in the United States, costs tremendous sums for treatment, and has no sure cure, the job is overwhelming.

But Sister Gibson hasn't a doubt she will succeed. Her whole career has been full of events like this:

One hot summer day Mercy Hall did not even have the few pennies needed to buy lemons to make lemonade for the patients. Sister Gibson knelt and prayed.

"Within an hour," she says, "a lady stopped at the door and left a bag of lemons."

Or take the time she bought a new clinic. Who would think of going to a real estate man and offering $150 down on a $75,000 building? Sister Gibson did. The astounded broker asked time to think it over.

"But four days later he phoned up and accepted," she says. "In two years the building was paid for."

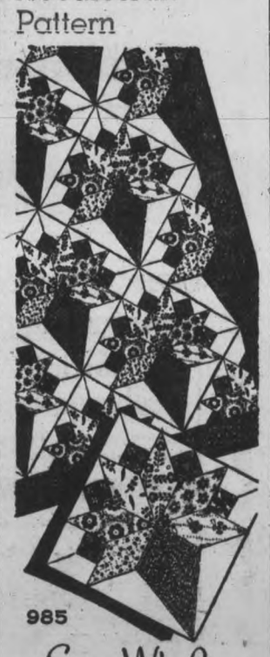
Invincible Faith

Such audacity, coupled with invincible faith, has been behind almost every forward step for Mercy Hall. Without an idea where the money would come from, Sister Gibson has increased the size of the hospital, purchased treatment equipment worth tens of thousands of dollars, set up an operating room recognized as one of the best in the country.

"Ten per cent of those who come here to die walk out and go home," says the Sister of Charity. "We allow no defeatism. Every case is treated as if it had never been diagnosed before."

Mercy Hall is a homey place, painted in cheery colors, with large glass porches. Organ music is piped to the rooms. Patients are accepted regardless of race, creed or color. With its 60 beds it is a far cry from the six-bed treatment centre Sister Gibson set up in the padlocked speakeasy which she rented 17 years ago.

This is headquarters now for the administration of the National Cancer Foundation's new program in Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, and Ohio. It's the first hospital to enter into the program.



Sister Gibson says the fact that 80 per cent of cancer cases die in poverty is proof that help is needed for middle class families stricken with the disease. The program works this way:

Worthy advanced cancer patients in the four-state area are admitted to Mercy Hall. They pay what they can. The foundation foots the rest of the bill with the funds raised in the patients' home states. It's that simple.

If you're wondering how Sister Gibson can handle so much with only a 60-bed hospital, you're slow on the guess. She's already working on plans to build a new $4,000,000 hospital.

"I bank on the bank of Heaven."

PINK AND PRETTY—Pink, pretty and flattering is the big millinery color this spring, and a more radiant choice could not be made, especially when the color is set off by dramatic touches of black. A beautiful face-framing hat of pink straw, draped with darkening clouds of black-dotted pink veiling makes this charming picture. Clusters of tiny black forget-me-nots punctuate the wide brim.

Say Davidson Feared Life In Danger

TORONTO, April 21 —(CP)— Leslie Davidson, ex-vaudeville pianist on trial for murder in the shooting of his former sweetheart and partner, Margaret Meredith, was expected to hear his fate from an Assize Court jury late today.

Davidson's father, James Davidson, testified yesterday that the 29-year-old Montreal-born pianist had always been "a kind of coward" and cried when he was put on draft overseas while in the army.

The accused is charged with firing a gun at point-blank range into the brain of Mrs. Meredith, a waitress in a downtown cafe, March 1. Mrs. Meredith, who witnesses said had been living with Davidson for almost a year except for brief separations, died in hospital nine days later after two major operations.

Defence evidence yesterday included reading of a letter said to have been found on Davidson. It expressed belief Mrs. Meredith might arrange to have him slain.

Under Delusion

The letter, addressed "To whom it may concern," said in part:

"In the event of my death by violence, Margaret, better known as Mickey, has threatened my life. I love her and we are very happy. But she fooled me, as she did everyone else, when she left for Vancouver with a man to whom she once was legally married....

"I told her I was through. She got insanely jealous and said she would get a boy friend to get me.

"I know she will try to have me done away with unless I do as she says."

The letter was dated the Saturday before the Monday night shooting.

Dr. Allan Crisp, a psychiatrist, testified that in his opinion Davidson shot Mrs. Meredith because he was under the delusion that his own life was in danger at her hands.

Two Burned In Storm

WELLAND, April 21—(CP).—Two men were burned yesterday —one severely—when a freak flash of flame ripped through the Welland Hydro station during a three-hour thunderstorm. It struck station operator Harry Vanderburgh, seared his face and hands and set his clothes afire. Pete Goulet, maintenance man, burned his hands trying to rip off Vanderburgh's flaming clothes. Electric power was cut off here for 50 minutes.

"Do women need to suffer so?"—mothers are often asked. One mother writes:

"The company nurse recommended Paradol when my daughter feared she would lose her job because of time lost each month. Now she loses no time and does not suffer pain or discomfort needlessly."

Paradol is the answer for women who suffer each month. Quick relief also from headaches and neuralgic pains. The name "Dr. Chase" is your assurance. Carry Paradol in your purse.

MOSLEM GIFT TO EGYPT'S KING — Joseph Azzogbi of Bethlehem, who claims to be the owner of "the most perfect mother of pearl manufactory," puts the finishing touches in Jerusalem on a mother of pearl replica of the Mosque of Omar. The replica, which has been two years in the making, is to be presented by the Moslems of Palestine to King Farouk of Egypt for his personal and financial assistance in the restoration of the Mosque of Omar (Dome of the Rock), one of the three most important shrines of the Moslem faith. Located in the Old City of Jerusalem, the Mosque commemorates the ascension of Mohammed to heaven and enshrines the rock from which the prophet of Islam is said to have ascended.

Conservative Leader Outlines Party Platform To Delegates

Bq D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, April 21 — (CP). — John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, yesterday placed the basis of his party's platform before supporters from all parts of the country.

He said he favors a broad contributory social security scheme and told of other things his party would do if elected in the next general Federal election. But he made it plain he was counting on the support of his listeners, here to attend the three-day annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada.

The convention ends today and the closing sessions are expected to be highlighted with the reports of the resolution committee. That committee may give some indication of the reception to Mr. Bracken's announced policies.

The Progressive Conservative party, said Mr. Bracken, stands for maximum production, peace in industry, just rate of pay for workers, a fair share of the national income for farmers, and a just profit for business in fair competition. It also stood for the preservation of peace through policies that would prevent war.

He expressed the hope that the Association would give him guidance in how best the objectives could be reached.

Before he spoke delegates re-elected J. M. Macdonnell (PC—Muskoka-Ontario) as president of the Association for a third term. re-elected president of the Young E. D. Fulton (PC—Kamloops) was Progressive Conservatives of Canada.

Don't Want Colony

Mr. Bracken said his party did not want to see Canada become a "colony" of Britain or a 49th U.S. State. It wanted to see Canada the friend of both Britain and the United States and their partner in solving problems.

In his reference to social security, Mr. Bracken said the people of the country must be prepared to pay the price of social security. People had been taught for too long to lean on the state for aid.

On immigration, he said his party would work out a "rational" policy with the provinces. It would cure conditions which led to emigration to other countries. Efforts would be made to put Dominion-provincial relations on a sound footing.

Wolves Kill Moose

CRANBERRY PORTAGE, Man. — (CP). — Fisherman Walter Asmus reported witnessing a death struggle between two timber wolves and a bull moose 10 miles from here. Finding of the moose's partly-eaten carcass later has led to renewed request by trappers and hunters for use of poison to kill off the wolf population.

Have Surplus If No Raise

OTTAWA, April 21 —(CP)—If employees don't get any of their demands for $90,000,000 in wage increases, the Canadian National Railways can anticipate a $6,287,000 surplus in 1948.

T. H. Cooper, C.N.R. comptroller, made that statement before the Commons committee on railways yesterday as it accepted the 1947 annual report and a 1948 budget that was revised because of the recent award of a 21-percent increase in freight rates.

Mr. Cooper and R. C. Vaughan, president, told the committee that the 1948 budget that was prepared in January had anticipated a $23,400,000 deficit—nearly $8,000,000 more than the actual 1947 deficit.

However, the freight-rate increase would bring in another $30,00,000. Another $5,700,000 that would come in because of increases for subsidiary lines in the United States was more than cancelled by increased material costs and wage jumps for American workers.

The budget's bookkeeping took no accounting of the wage demands because the management had rejected them and had no way of knowing what would result from conciliation board hearings.

Name H. E. Elborn School Inspector

TORONTO, April 21 (CP)—Appointment of H. E. Elborn as Ontario inspector of professional training schools was announced yesterday. He has been principal of Toronto Normal School since 1939.

He attended Stratford public and secondary schools, is a graduate of Queen's University in arts and the University of Toronto in pedagody. He has been master of the Peterborough Normal School, general editor of text books, inspector of public schools and a teacher in rural and urban schools.

R. A. Johnston, his successor as Toronto Normal School head, received his early education in Kincardine.

Claxton Explains Refusal To Increase Morphine Dose

OTTAWA, April 21 — (CP) — Defence Minister Claxton yesterday defended his refusal three years ago to authorize a "colossal" morphine dosage to a First World War veteran.

The question was raised in the Commons by John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre). He referred to a judgment in which Mr. Justice E. R. Angers of the Exchequer Court issued a warning in connection with the morphine case.

The judgment said official powers, if not used wisely, may lead to "dictatorial" government. In ordering a cut in the morphine supplied to Paul Belleau of Montreal, Mr. Claxton, as Health Minister, had done something that was almost an act of law.

This "is, or at least should be, outside the sphere of his jurisdiction," Mr. Justice Angers wrote.

Mr. Diefenbaker asked whether in view of the judgment, Mr. Claxton "will alter the order he made."

Mr. Claxton, noting "it is three years since I had anything to do with the case," spoke from memory to correct "some of the assumptions he (Mr. Diefenbaker) apparently has for the basis of his question."

Long Treatment

Mr. Belleau, suffering a disability resulting from tuberculosis, had been treated by the old Pensions and Health Department since "something in the 1920s."

During the 1930s it had been found he was receiving "30 grains of morphine per day which, I am advised, made him the largest known addict of the 4,000 known addicts in Canada at that time." These dosages were received through prescriptions from Mr. Belleau's own doctors.

Col. C. H. L. Sharman, Canadian delegate to the United Nations Narcotic Commission, who at the time was chief of the Health Department's Narcotic Division, had made investigations about "this huge quantity of morphine."

"As I say, there is no known case of any doctor being allowed to prescribe such a dosage for an addict, at least so far as my information goes."

Health Department officers had co-operated with Mr Belleau's doctors in working out a plan for his treatment and cure by a reduction of the dosage.

Wouldn't Co-operate

"However, it was found on repeated occasions that the man would not co-operate and still his doctors and those representing him wanted to obtain these huge doses."

It had been decided that the 10-grains-a-day dose Mr. Belleau then was receiving should not be increased.

Mr. Claxton emphasized the decision was based on the "circumstances," on "events which took place long before I came into the Department," and on the advice of "no less than six or seven doctors, most of whom I saw myself."

Behind the decision had been the belief that if the dose was increased, "it would be confirming the fact that this man was being given morphine by government permission just because he was an addict and for no other reasons."

"In those circumstances, I refused to authorize that this morphine be given to this addict. When I say 'this morphine,' I am referring to the colossal dosage. But we did co-operate with his own doctors and I think the dosage was gradually reduced to something in the nature of four grains, which as far as I know he is still in receipt of."

De Gasperi Wins Italian Election

ROME, April 21 — (AP). — A virtually complete official count of the popular vote in the Italian Chamber of Deputies election showed today that Premier de Gasperi's Christian Democrats got 48.7 per cent of the ballots cast.

In this count, in which only 156 of the 41,647 precincts missing, the Communist-led Popular Front got 30.7 per cent of the vote.

The Christian Democrat total vote was 12,681,527, to 7,995,601 for the Front.

In third place was the Independent Socialist Unity Party, which is allied with the Christian Democrats in the government, with 1,848,826 votes, or 7.1 per cent.

The Right's National Bloc was fourth with 999,166 or 3.8 per cent.

Giuseppe Romita, former minister of the interior and until now an ally of the fellow-travelling Socialist parties, handed to newspapers copies of a letter he wrote party members inviting them to a meeting to take steps to "regain the independence" of the Socialist party.

Questions Legality Of Eldona Gold Deal

TORONTO, April 21 (CP)—The Ontario Securities Commission, in a report on last summer's activity in Eldona Gold Mines, Ltd., questions the legality of a trader buying an issue primarily to maintain its price.

The report comments that such trading — "on balance," traders call it—has been common on the Toronto stock exchange for some years, but adds:

"Mere custom will not make it legal if it is, in fact, a breach of our criminal code."

The gist of section 444 of the code, the report says, is that manipulation must be done in conspiracy and be effected by deceit, falsehood or other fraudulent means. However:

"In our view the legality of trading on balance for the purpose of supposing or maintaining a market is a matter that will have to be decided eventually."

Say Safer To Live In Canadian Home

TORONTO, April 21 — (CP)— It is nearly one-third safer to live in Canada than in the United States, Lloyd A. Blanchard of the Federal Safety Council, Washington, said last night. The accidental death rate in the US is 70.8 per 100,00 population and in Canada 56.6.

Industrial fatalities in Canada have decreased, he told the annual meeting of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations, but industrial injuries had increased.

Home and highway were still the most dangerous places to be, 61 per cent of workers accidentally killed met death in accidents off their jobs. About 30 per cent of off-the-job fatalities happen in homes. Chances were twice as great of an industrial worker being injured off the job than in the factory. In the factory and in the home, "poor housekeeping" was the cause of most acicdents, he said.

New Railway Bridge

GALT, April 21—(CP).—A new railway bridge will be built across the Grand River here, an official of the Grand River and Lake Erie and Northern Railways said yesterday. Citizens protested the present bridge in the heart of the city acts as a dam at flood time.

Those Women Drivers

DETROIT, April 21—(CP). —An inexperienced woman motorist, behind the steering wheel of an automobile for her third time, drove through a crowded bus stop, killing one person and injuring five others. Mrs. Raymond Hebert, 43, of Los Angeles, was held for investigation of involuntary manslaughter. Her husband said he was giving her a driving lesson when she lost control of the vehicle while attempting to make a turn.

PLAYED IN RUSSIA?—Dean Eggerston, Salt Lake City, Utah, 19, above, claimed thtat he made two secret flying trips to Russia as guest conductor of orchestras in Odessa. He went to Odessa in 1947, and to Kiev in March of this year, where he received an honorary degree in music. Both times, he said, he boarded planes at Boston airport. The immigration authorities are investigating his story.

HONORARY LIEUT.-COL.—R. I. Moore, KC, who has been appointed an honorary lieutenant-colonel of the 4th Field regiment at Lindsay, is one of 40 appointments to the artillery branch, made by the governor-general of Canada recently. Lt.-Col. Moore was born in Lindsay and educated in Lindsay and Toronto.

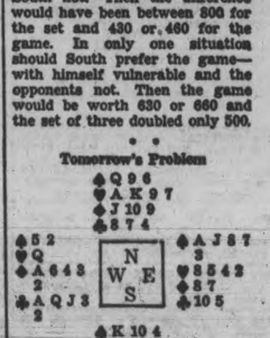
VULNERABILITY DECIDES

THERE are many close situations during the bidding in which your action should be governed by the vulnerability of the two sides. With a choice between going on to your own game or doubling the opponent's call, it is merely a question of which alternative promises the larger number of points. Suppose the option is between setting them a probable three tricks and making a No Trump game, with perhaps an extra trick or two. With both sides vulnerable, or with the opponents vulnerable and you not, the double is best. Only when you are vulnerable and they not should you prefer your game to a three-trick doubled set.

(Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥
1 ♠	Dbl



This deal furnishes a fine illustration how the world's greatest rubber bridge players select the better of two alternatives in marginal decisions. The gaining of a few more points on a deal than the other fellow would, or losing a few less than he would, is one main distinction between the big winners and the big losers in the long run.

Here South had the option of bidding 2-No Trumps over the 1-Spade or doubling it. He estimated that it probably would be set three tricks, which it was, producing a score of 500, whereas the 2-No Trumps call would have put him in a game that might furnish an extra trick or two to be worth about 430 or 460 points.

If both sides had been vulnerable, the difference in merit of scores would have been 800 for the double against 630 or 660 for the game. With equal vulnerability, in brief, the gain was only slight, but nevertheless worth while. Note how big the gain would have been if East-West had been vulnerable and South not. Then the difference would have been between 800 for the set and 430 or 460 for the game. In only one situation should South prefer the game—with himself vulnerable and the opponents not. Then the game would be worth 630 or 660 and the set of three doubled only 500.

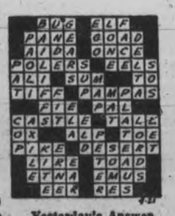
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

In a pair duplicate, if West bids 1-Diamond, East 1-Spade, West 2-Clubs and East passes, what should South do?

6—In Memoriam

ARMSTRONG—In loving memory of our dear little son, Jimmy, who died suddenly April 21, 1947.
The evening stars shine on his grave,
Of the one we loved, but could not save,
The call was sudden, the shock severe
To lose the one we loved so dear,
'Tis sweet to know we'll meet again
Where troubles are no more
And that the one we loved so well,
Has just gone on before.
—Sadly missed by mum, dad, and sister Gwyneth.

ARMSTRONG—In loving memory of my dear brother Jimmy Armstrong, who died so suddenly April 21, 1947.
One year has passed and gone,
Since one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth,
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we place upon his grave,
May wither and decay,
But the love for him who sleeps beneath,
Shall never fade away.
—Dearly loved and sadly missed by sister Kay and brother-in-law Justen.

ARMSTRONG—In loving memory of my dear brother, Jimmy Armstrong, who died so suddenly April 21, 1947.
Deep in our hearts a memory is kept,
Of one we loved and never will forget,
And though the years be many or few,
We'll always be thinking dear Jimmy of you.
—Dearly loved and remembered by sister Frances and brother-in-law Ronald.

ARMSTRONG—In loving memory of our dear little friend, Jimmy, who passed away suddenly April 21, 1947.
O happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still,
—Ever remembered by Mr. and Mrs. Weir and children.

ARMSTRONG—In loving memory of our playmate, Jimmy Armstrong, who was taken away one year ago, April 21.
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
—Always remembered by Scott and Annabel Morley.

BURNHAM—In loving memory of Sargent J. F. Burnham, who died at Prince George five years ago, April 21, 1943.
He is not dead who gave his life
To make the world a better place.
The memory of noble deeds
The passing years cannot efface.
—Lovingly remembered by mother, dad and family.

CLIFFORD—A tribute of love to the memory of my husband, Robert G. Clifford, who departed this life April 22, 1947.
Loving and kind in all his ways.

HENDRY—In loving memory of Pilot Officer Robert E. Hendry, who died on active service, April 27, 1944.
If for a time the clouds now hide
My face from you, take heart and trust,
For God who rules the air is just
And I have found Him by my side.
—Fondly remembered by father, mother and sisters Jean, Katherine and Crystal.

McILMOYL—In loving memory of Wm. Edgar McIlmoyl, who passed away one year ago.
Gone from us, but leaving memories,
Death can never take away,
Memories that will always linger
While upon this earth we stay.
—Ever remembered by a friend.

SHEWARD—In loving memory of a dear father Alfred Sheward, who passed away April 21, 1932.
We think of him in silence
No eyes can see us weep
But still within our aching hearts
His memory we keep.
—Fondly remembered by his family.

7—Cards of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. G. Hendren and family of Lakefield, wish to thank the doctors, the Rev. Geo. Kelly and Rev. Morgan, the nurses and all the dear neighbors and friends whose unfailing help and sympathy with cards and flowers, meant so much to Mrs. Hendren's recovery. Trowbridge

No Drinking

The witness, the most seriously injured of the five surviving occupants of the car, told of his vague recollections of the battle made to release him from the car, where he had been imprisoned for more than an hour. He had not had anything to drink that night, he replied in answer to a question.

(Crown Attorney Lorne W. Jordan, Lindsay, emphasized to various witnesses directly involved in the accident that their evidence during the inquest was protected and could not be used in any subsequent actions which might be brought.)

Howes had severe injuries to his head, knee and ankle and a broken arm. He was seated during the questioning period, as were two other men injured in the collision.

Walter Hetherington, 191 King St., Peterborough, testified to identifying the body of Trowbridge, a nephew of his wife.

Dr. T. W. L. Broadfoot, Lindsay, who performed the post mortem, gave the reason of death as rupture of the heart. He agreed that such an injury could have been caused by violent contact with the steering column of the car.

Doctors Testify

Dr. George N. Earle and Dr. William Earle, both of Omemee, who attended at the accident, described the scene on their arrival. The car front was wedged under the boxcar, they said. Dr. G. N. Earle said he found Trowbridge, who was sitting in the centre of the front seat, dead, leaned forward against the windshield. Howes, the driver, was pinned in. The steering wheel was between the two men.

He outlined the difficulty in removing Howes. It had been necessary to cut away the door and the post between the front and rear seats.

William Nurse, Omemee garage attendant, told of answering the accident call with a towtruck. There had not been much trouble in pulling the car from the wedged-in position, he said. He added that he did not believe it would have taken too much force to put the car in that position. There was a little solid metal to be crushed before reaching the windshield on that make of car, he explained.

Submits Drawing

Frank Campbell, CNR engineer, Belleville, submitted a drawing of the vicinity of the crossing and siding.

Conductor Bull's evidence included the statements that the train had blown its regular crossing whistle before entering the crossing. In reply to a juror's question, he said that if the brakeman had not been delayed, the train would not have stopped at all.

"Then they would have hit a moving train and they would all have been killed," he said.

Andrew R. Pickle, Lindsay, the train engineer, explained that he had given the crossing whistle and had slowed down to allow the normal time for the brakeman to board the rear of the train. The train, as related by the conductor, had been stopped from the rear of the train.

Engineer Pickle said that he had sounded his whistle while he was stopped. He had been warned, he said, by the men in the cab with him, that a car was approaching from the west.

Moses Montemiglio, fireman, and T. B. Hawkins, brakeman, both of Lindsay, were in the cab with the engineer. Both testified that they had seen the Howes car approaching. They each said that they sensed that it was going to crash and that the car was going "pretty fast." Hawkins estimated the car's speed at 40 to 45 m.p.h.

Lawrence A. Williams, Lindsay, the brakeman for whom the train had been stopped, said that he heard the crash just as he reached the rear of the train. It had been stopped no more than two or three minutes before the collision, he said.

Saw Lights

Donald Griffith, Omemee, was driver of a car coming from Peterborough and had stopped on the east side of the track before the standing train, he said. He related that he had seen the reflection of the Howes car's lights on the rails a few seconds before the crash.

Norman Thurston, Lindsay, a passenger with Griffith, also testified. Both had climbed between the boxcars to lend assistance, he said.

Thomas Martin, Peterborough, another passenger in the Howes car, said that from his position in the car, he had not been able to see the road. Visibility was poor at his window, he said. His injuries had been a broken nose, face cuts, two cracked ribs. In regard to the blood-stained case of beer (entered as an exhibit), he said it had been purchased in or around Lindsay. None of the beer had been drunk in the front seat, where he was sitting, he said. He did not know if any had been consumed by those in the rear seat.

Joseph T. Ryan, 501 Donegal St., Peterborough, who had been sitting in the back, also said that he was unable to give any information leading up to the collision, as he had not been able to see from the windows. He said that he had consumed two pints of beer. He also said that none of the three in the front had anything to drink.

Jack Taylor, RR 3, Peterborough, also in the back seat, recalled that Howes had definitely slowed down as the car approached the crossing. Taylor suffered a broken jaw and injured knee.

Ed Curtin, the remaining member of the car load, was not in court, as he is still confined to hospital with his injuries.

Policeman Testifies

Provincial Constable William G. Milton, Lindsay, described the scene of the fatality and measurements he had taken. Visibility from the west side, he said, is not as clear as from the east. He mentioned that the view to the north is partially obscured by a rise of land.

There was no indications of intoxication on the part of any of the men, the officer said.

Conductor Bull, recalled to the stand, was questioned regarding the legal requirements of stopping trains at crossings. He explained that the Omemee crossing was one at which no special condition was necessary for a stop of less than five minutes.

The inquest was in charge of Dr. W. R. Crowe, Lindsay, Victoria County coroner. It was conducted by Crown Attorney Jordan.

Foreman of the jury was William D. Weir. Other members of the jury were Steven McConnel, Harold Dick, Leslie Burgess and Russell Brooks.

Elderly Peanut Vendor Reaches Athens Council Issues Permit To A Countryman

Peterborough's peanut man arrived safely at his home in Corinth, Greece, last week, but his business and his vending wagon will roll along in new hands.

Mrs. Wm. Coros had devoted much of her time and considerable worry to the welfare of Peter Casieres, whose memory became clouded at times unfitting him for further work. As he has a grown up family and his wife in Greece, it was finally decided to send him home, after efforts to find him a place here had failed. Incidentally, his funds were arranged to provide him with an income of $100 a month, "on which he can live like a prince." His airplane trip was mapped out even to the detail of having some one to take care him at landing ports, and he took off from La Guardia Field a week ago Monday. He arrived in Athens at the middle of the week and was met by relatives.

Mrs. Coros said she was grateful to Mr. P. D. Scollard, the uptown staff of the CNR office, Mr. H. E. Wales of the Bank of Nova Scotia and others who assisted her in the arrangements.

With the departure of the peanut man, the council Monday licensed his successor, Pete Lolas, who was granted a pedlar's license at $40. He presented a recommendation from the chief constable of Brockville. Probably Mr. Lolas will carry on the pedestrian business of Pete Caseries in going about the streets of the city. Keenly observant children learned to recognize the liquid whistle of the popcorn and peanut wagon.

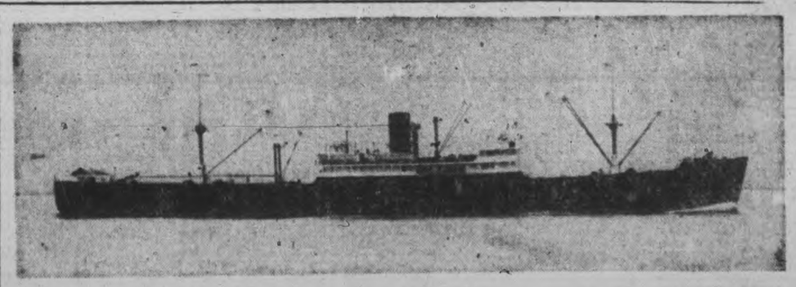
Aviation Building Expense Soars

OTTAWA, April 21 — (CP) — Soaring building costs have driven the anticipated expense of the Canadian National Railways' aviation building in Montreal from $3,572,000 to $3,840,000 within the last year.

The Commons committee on railways was told that yesterday as R. C. Vaughan, president, and other top officials of the C.N.R. made their annual appearance before parliament. The statement came from T H. Cooper, vice president and comptroller.



Mr. Cooper told D. King Hazen (PC—St. John-Albert) that the C.N.R. had been "notified" some time ago that the federal government would be renting the building and sub-letting the largest part of it to the International Civil Aviation organization. It is expected to be finished by the end of June, 1949.

Some $264,000 was sent in 1947 as construction began.

Increased costs would make it necessary to charge $3 a square foot instead of $2.75. Other firms taking parts of the building were T.C.A., British Overseas Airways, the Netherlands Line, K.L.M. and others.

Australia Demands Partitioning

Soviet Bloc Reopens Attack On US For Shift In Plans

LAKE SUCCESS, April 22 — (CP)—Australia demanded today that the United Nations proceed immediately to carry out partitioning of Palestine.

The Soviet satellite bloc also reopened its attack on the United States proposal to shift from partition to trusteeship.

In a direct challenge to the American proposal to discard partition, Australia laid a three-point demand before the 58-member political committee of the U.N. General Assembly.

The Australian resolution proposed that the assembly direct the five-power Palestine partition commission to:

1. Proceed immediately with the creation of provisional councils of government for the projected Jewish and Arab countries in Palestine and when the establishment of local militia forces for the two new countries.

2. Take over the civil administration in Palestine in co-operation with one or both of the provisional governments when Britain terminates the mandate May 15.

3. Call on the Arab countries to prohibit their nationals from taking part in the Palestine fighting.

Ask Urgent Action

France pleaded before the committee for urgent action to safeguard Jerusalem's people and holy relics.

Yugoslav delegate Joza Vilfan opened the day's debate with a vigorous attack on the United States for withdrawing support from the partition plan adopted by the assembly last Nov. 29.

Yugoslavia abstained on the partition vote last fall, but Vilfan said his government felt the U.N. must back up parition since a decision was taken.

End Restrictions On Vet Earnings

OTTAWA, April 22 — (CP). — Veterans Minister Gregg announced today that all restrictions on outside earnings by student-veterans and their wives will be abolished at the beginning of the next university term in the autumn.

He told the veterans' committee of the Commons that the present limitations of $70 a month for a single man and $75 for the wife of a married veteran would end with the present term.

He said he wanted to make the announcement before the present term ended so that any veterans who had feared they might not be able to return to college would be able to reconsider.

The present plan provides that once a student-veteran earns beyond the $75 limit, his allowance is cut accordingly.

NINE NEW DUTCH-CANADIANS—The first Dutch family to settle close to Peterborough are Mr. and Mrs. Inte Terpstra and seven children. They will live and work at the Durham county dairy farm owned by Harold Cathcart, Reeve of Cavan, seven miles south of the city. All Construction At Standstill In Windsor Area

WINDSOR, April 22 (CP). — Practically every building project in Windsor and in Essex County will be tied up by striking carpenters by tonight.

This morning, 550 members of Local 494 United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners (AFL) walked out on strike to enforce their demand for a wage increase of 30 cents.

More than 100 construction jobs in the county—including about 90 jobs in Windsor—were partially tied up early this morning, and officials of the union hope to have them all closed by picket lines by tonight.

All other members of AFL building trades unions in the county were honoring picket lines. The number taken off work at the building projects was between 4,000 and 5,000.

B. Breeze, business agent for the carpenters, said the union is sticking to its demand for 30 cents an hour, the orginal request to the Contractor's Association, when negotiations began more than two-and-a-half months ago.

The present hourly rate for carpenters is $1.35 per hour. William Dunn, Ontario Department of Labor conciliation officer, presided over a hearing here Monday, at which the Contractor's association offered an increase of 10 cents an hour, and four per cent vacation pay, in place of the present two per cent vacation pay.

Mr. Breeze said this morning conciliation "was a complete failure."

150-Man Squad To Stop CLSU Vessel—Sullivan

CORNWALL, April 22—(CP).—Pat Sullivan, head of the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, charged today that the rival Canadian Seamen's Union is planning to bring 150 men to this St. Lawrence River port to stop passage of a CLSU-manned ship.

If this happens, he said, the CLSU will bring in 300 to 400 men "to see that they don't stop the boats."

Zero hour, Sullivan declared, is 3 a.m. Saturday morning when the Canada Steamship Lines freighter Saskatoon is due at Cornwall. The freighter's crew is supplied by the CLSU with which the steamship lines have signed agreements.

The CSU charges breach of contract, claiming it is still the rightful bargaining agent for the seamen. The three steamship companies have refused to bargain with the CSU, claiming it is Communist-controlled. The case is before the Labor Board.

There has been no sign of the dispute in Cornwall yet. None of the vessels of the CSU black list have arrived here.

223 Teachers Plan To Resign

SAINT JOHN N.B., April 22—(CP)—Provincial government financial aid will be sought in an effort to forestall the mass resignation of 223 Saint John school teachers.

Resignation of the teachers at the end of the present school term in June would create a critical problem for the city's educational system, now staffed by 303 teachers. The only teachers not giving notice of plans to resign are in religious and vocational schools.

Decision of the teachers to quit their jobs came April 12 after prolonged salary talks during which the Saint John Teachers' Association said the city had failed to implement proposed wage scales.

The teachers are asking salary increases ranging from $100 for those with one year's service to $200 for those with 30 years' service. Teachers with one year's service now receive $1,000 plus a government grant of $155.

B. L. Grannan, chairman of the school board, said last night New Brunswick's three cities were planning to ask the provincial government for additional school grants.

Crowd Wrecks Bari Red Hdqts.

BARI, Italy, April 22 (Reuters) —A large crowd attacked and wrecked Communist headquarters at Terlizzi, near Bari, during the night after a fist fight between the Christian Democrat mayor, Mario Ventola, and the Communist deputy, Mario Assemato.

The dispute arose over a decree by the mayor ordering election stands erected in the village square to be taken down. The Communists refused to carry out the order.

As the mayor was presiding at the village council chamber, Deputy Assemato started an argument with him and the two men came to blows. Assemato was arrested but later released.

At Montescaglioso, 60 miles to the southwest, the Communist mayor, Francesco Pubblico, was saved from lynching by the police.

He had declared that if the Popular Front won 14 Communists under arrest for political offences would be released on April 19.

One of Greatest Manhunts On For Reuther Attacker

DETROIT, April 22. (AP)—Detroit police, ordered out on one of their greatest manhunts, checked scores of dim leads today in an effort to track down the would-be slayers of Walter P. Reuther.

But despite the offer of rewards totalling $117,900—perhaps the largest in American history—real clues to the Tuesday night shooting remained scarce.

Following one of the scant clues, police checked all garages in the locality to find the red sedan that was seen dashing away from Reuther's house a moment after his stealthy assailant fired a shotgun blast through a window.

Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy said the fact that the car had not been found abandoned apparently proved at least one thing: that the shooting was probably done by an amateur.

"A professional would have disposed of the automobile by this time," he declared.

Reuther's associates in the UAW pledged their all-out aid to police.

Secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey declared, "we'll get the guy who did it if we have to turn the whole town upside down."

Michigan state police also assigned crack detectives to aid Detroit authorities in their search, while the Federal Bureau of Investigation offered its complete laboratory facilities.

Reward offers flooded in. The UAW itself pledged $100,000 to the person or persons who could give information leading to the would-be assassins. The city of Detroit offered $10,000. From the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL) came $5,000, while $1,000 each was offered by the West Side Amalgamated Local and the Michigan CIO Council.

The Communist party, which Reuther had bitterly fought, offered $500 along with a statement denouncing the attack as "the most desperate of a number of Fascist assaults against life security and civil liberties of the American people."

Chinese Government Army Evacuates Yenan

NANKING, April 22—(Reuters) —Chinese government forces have evacuated Yenan, for 11 years Communist "capital" of China, after holding it for 13 months following its evacuation by the Communists.

(The Chinese Communist radio said Yenan was reoccupied by Communist troops soon after the government forces moved out.)

Announcing the goverment withdrawal, a defence ministry spokesman said the city had been rendered useless to the Communists. The Nationalists had destroyed all buildings of possible military value.

Thugs Invade Vet Amputee's Hotel Room Kick Him Unconscious, Steal Clothes, Money

TORONTO, April 22 (CP). — An emergency operation was performed today in an effort to save the life of John Arthur Sauve, 52-year-old war veteran amputee, who was kicked unconscious and robbed of his money and clothes by two thugs in a midtown hotel room last night.

Sauve, with his skull fractured in two places, regained consciousness for a time in hospital today and mumbled deliriously, "Boots, boots, don't kick me any more." Sauve lost a leg in the first world war

Police said the hotel room was a shambles when they arrived. Hotel employees saw the two assailants running from Sauve's bedroom shortly after midnight, their arms filled with clothes. They gave chasé but lost the two men. During the flight some of the stolen clothes were dropped and were found in a laneway at the rear of the hotel.

The hotel manager found Sauve lying at the foot of his bed with his pockets turned out. Chairs were overturned and articles scattered all over the room.

Scoops Bills From Cage Unhindered

Woman Accomplice Waits In Car, Outside Steelton Bank

SALT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 22—(CP).—A lone gunman walked into the Steelton branch of the Royal Bank of Canada shortly after noon today, and scooped up an estimated $10,000 in small bills from a cashier's cage, while he threatened the bank staff at pistol point. Then he walked out to an automobile parked at the curb and drove away at high speed with a woman at the wheel.

Steelton is a suburb of the Soo.

The daring hold-up moved the whole of the city police force into action. Police Chief I. L. Robertson started a city wide hunt immediately. The car was believed to have headed west and may be trapped within the city limits. Only exits from the city are Highway 17 leading east and north.

The gunman was masked Phone wires to the bank had been cut a short time before the hold-up. The dark colored coach, according to a woman on the sreet, carried the initials "WFF"

Taken completely by surprise, the bank staff didn't make a move to stop the robbery.

Rob Mill

MONT ROLLAND, Que., April 22 — (CP). — Two men held up Aurel Lanthier, Mont Rolland paper mills accountant, today and escaped with the $18,000 mill pay roll.

The robbery occurred shortly after noon as Lanthier was stepping into a truck which was to take him to the mill. The bandits escaped in a car.

Police immediately set up roadblocks on highways radiating from this mill town in the Laurentians and Provincial Police sent out 35 squad cars to patrol the roads.

Mont Rolland is 40 miles north of Montreal.

Soldiers Desert Russian Army

VIENNA, April 22.— (AP).— Informed and reliable sources said today rioting and the desertion of 80 soldiers followed a recent Soviet order sending a group of dependents back to Russia.

British informants disclosed Russian troops established a new road block this morning on the British corridor road to Graz. The restriction was the first in nine days on British automobile traffic.

The order to send back the Russian dependents was issued last week, the sources said. They gave this account:

Many of the dependents were taken to a staging area near Wiener Neustadt before their soldier-husbands were told of the move. They were placed behind barbed wire fences patrolled by Russian security troops.

The dependents jeered the guards and pelted them with bottles and stones. The guards quickly split them into small groups and shipped them out on the first available train.

The soldiers, learning of the new order and their wives' reaction, deserted in fear of reprisals.

Lift Barley Ban

WINNIPEG, April 22.—(CP).—Lifting of the ban on exports of Canadian oats and barley to the United States or any other country, for any purpose, was announced today by the Canadian Wheat Board.

Senator Davies Urges Lifting Margarine Ban

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP).—The Senate has moved another step nearer a vote on the dynamite-packed margarine issue.

Additional support for repeal of the ban on the butter substitute was promised yesterday by Senators W. Rupert Davies (L-Ontario) and J. J. Donnelly (PC-Ontario). Senator P. H. Bouffard (L-Quebec) voiced carefully-qualified approval.

There still is no indication, however, of an early decision. Senator C. B. Howard (L-Quebec), who adjourned the debate yesterday, is expected to resume it today. And several other senators known to have definite opinions on the margarine question are still to be heard.

Margarine became a live issue again Tuesday when four Liberal senators urged repeal of the ban.

Doesn't Like Monopolies

Senator Davies said yesterday he will support the bill because "I don't like monopolies."

"I believe margarine is a good food and I see no reason why we shouldn't have it in Canada . . I don't think it would interfere with the dairy industry at all."

Believed Healthful

Senator Davies noted Agriculture Minister Gardiner recently had said margarine was not healthful.

The Senator quoted from a Canadian Medical Association Journal article: "From the economic and nutritive standpoints, good margarine is superior to butter."

Senator Donnelly noted the dairy industry "is only one part of this country." Margarine was a substitute poor men could afford. Beef producers, barred from the profitable United States market, were contributing "very much more" than dairymen would under a free margarine market.

Say German Merchant Fleet Soon Increased

HAMBURG, April 22—(AP).—The German merchant fleet probably will be increased soon to help with the Marshall plan, a British shipping official said today.

"The requirements of the European plan make it probable that an increase in the carrying capacity of the German fleet will be necessary in the near future," this informant said.

"This problem is receiving close attention from both the German Economic Council and Allied control authorities," he added.

He would not go beyond that in defining the scope of talks now being held in Frankfurt and Berlin.

But Allied and German shipping in North Sea ports unofficially predict that western Germany's products may be carried on the world's oceans soon in German-manned ships.

Tiny B.C. Settlement Hemmed In By Fire

KINNAIRD, BC, April 22 — (CP). — A raging forest fire sweeping over a two-mile front, early today threatened to engulf this tiny settlement of smelter workers in interior British Columbia's Kootenay district.

Weary firefighters, battling the wind-driven blaze all night, looked hopefully for promised rain and a lull in high winds to save the community of about 100 persons, 25 miles southwest of Nelson, BC.

Several families last night prepared to evacuate.

Although one house in the forest-fire area was encircled, the nearest homes here still were 300 yards from the hotly-licking flame.

Danger of new fires starting was an additional hazard as sparks fell continually on the tinder-dry settlement. Yesterday's temperature was 76 degrees, the highest this year.

Jewish Army Captures Port Of Haifa; Arab Heads Sue For Peace

Arabs Claim Fighting 'Stalingrad Massacre' "We Were Not Prepared"; Demand Disarmament Of All Arab Forces

HAIFI, Palestine, April 22—(AP).—Jews virtually seized control today of Palestine's richest port city of Haifa after heavy all-night fighting. Arab leaders sued for peace, asking British military authorities to mediate. "It was a massacre," said one Arab spokesman. "It was another Stalingrad. We were not prepared." By request of the British authorities the Jewish military force Hagana issued a cease-fire order shortly after noon.

A Hagana spokesman said terms handed the Arab National Committee included:

Disarmament of all Arab forces and surrender of all arms.

Freedom of movement in all parts of Haifa with an end to sniping and road blocks.

Delivery of all foreign Arab troops to Hagana for immediate deportation.

Surrender of all German Nazis.

A 24-hour curfew during which the Arab disarmament would be carried out.

All persons to return to their normal pursuits.

A guarantee that Arabs could carry on their lives and work as free and equal citizens of Haifi and enjoy all municipal services.

The security of Haifa outside British zones to be maintained by Hagana.

Will Accept Conditions

Hagana orders to be binding on both Arabs and Jews.

There was every indication from Arab sources that Arab National Committee members still in Haifa will accept the Hagana conditions.

One Arab spokesman declared: "Many women and children in Arab areas were shot as they attempted to flee into the port area."

The port area is controlled by British security forces. A Hagana spokesman denied the accusation.

"Arab casualties were only 10 per cent of what we had expected," he said. "As for women and children there just haven't been any such thing We deny it most emphatically."

The Hagana spokesman said the Jewish attackers suffered four ARAB HEADS

Name Charles Sawyer Commerce Secretary

WASHINGTON, April 22 (CP) —President Truman today nominated former ambassador Charles Sawyer of Ohio to be secretary of commerce.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said Sawyer's nomination probably will go to the Senate today, along with that of W. Averell Harriman to be "roving ambassador" under the European Recovery Program.

Truman offered the conference post to Sawyer by long distance telephone last night after Harriman agreed to give up that position to take over the ERP job.

Russians Urge New Restrictions On Allied Planes

BERLIN, April 22.—(AP).—A Russian commission recommended rigid restrictions today on air traffic of the western Allies in and out of Berlin.

The six-man commission, set up to investigate a British-Russian plane collision, urged that the Soviet commander, Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky:

1. Require that American, British and French authorities give 24 hours' notice of their flights through corridors over the Russian zone, with "details about the planes and their passengers."

2. Prohibit those Allies from making any corridor flight by night in clouds, in the stratosphere or under other circumstances "in which the plane cannot be seen from the ground."

The commission said only such "strict regulations" could prevent a repetition of accidents like the April 5 crash here between a British Viking transport and a Soviet Yak-3 fighter. The collision killed 15.

The Russian report, which took up a full page in the official Soviet newspaper Taegliche Rundschau, blamed a British violation of air safety regulations for the accident. It said Britain should be made to pay indemnities for the plane and to the dead pilot's family.

Smoke Kills Man In Cobourg Fire

COBOURG, April 22.—(ENS). —Melville Bowen, 50-year-old Cobourg beverage room waiter, died of suffocation this morning when his one room house caught fire. Cause of the fire is believed to be an overheated stove.

Firemen entered the building to find it filled with smoke Bowen was dead in bed.

The place almost immediately burst into flames and the dead man was hurriedly removed. Bowen's wife died several years ago and he lived alone in the one room house on Queen St.

He is survived by a son Clarence in Toronto and a daughter, Mrs. H. Whitney at Brighton. A brother, Ernest, is a guard at Collins Bay. There will be no inquest.

London Glows With Color For Royal Anniversary

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, April 22 (CP)—Celebration of the King and Queen's 25th wedding anniversary April 26 will evoke country-wide celebrations reminiscent of their joyous marriage at Westminster Abbey on a cold spring day in 1923.

Once again thousands of British soldiers, sailors, airmen and royal marines will line the approaches to Buckingham Palace, and the royal coach taking them to a thanksgiving service at St. Paul's Cathedral will have a sovereign's escort provided by the household cavalry.

Gracious Queen Mary will accompany them on their semi-state drive through the city of London from Buckingham Palace to St. Paul's, following the route she travelled with the late King George V when they celebrated their silver jubilee in 1935.

n Dress Uniforms

For the second time since the Second World War—the first was Princess Elizabeth's wedding in November—the Life Guards will be seen in their red tunics and white buckskin breaches, while the Horse Guards will wear blue tunics, thigh-length boots and white gauntlets.

Leaving Buckingham Palace at 11 a.m., the state landau, drawn by six fine greys, will move down the Mall.

Preceded by the Lord Mayor, Their Majesties will drive via Fleet Street and Ludgate Hill to the cathedral

Hymns chosen by the King and Queen for the service, which is to be broadcast, include "Love Divine," "Praise My Soul, the King of Heaven," and "Immortal, Invisible, God Only Wise."

One of the prayers will give thanks to God "for the blessings bestowed upon thy servants King George and Elizabeth, our gracious King and Queen, in the years of their married life."

Italian Reds Promise "No Violence"

ROME, April 22.— (AP). — Premier Alcide de Gasperi hotly denied today Communist charges that the anti-Communist victory in the Italian parliamentary elections was the product of corruption and coercion.

Addressing a press conference of nearly 300 foreign newspaper correspondents, De Gasperi called a statement made earlier by Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti "a very grave accusation."

De Gasperi dealt first with Togliatti's assertion that the election results had been influenced by "foreign intervention" in the form of a threat to let Italy starve if the Communists won.

Actually, the premier said, the government asked the United States several weeks ago to send Italy 1,000,000 quintals of wheat by May to satisfy needs until the spring grain crop can be harvested.

(A quintal is 220.46 pounds).

Fine Opportunity

"If the United States had acted as Togliatti alleges," he said, "it would have been a fine opportunity for the United States to say that it would give the wheat to one government but not to another."

Togliatti said his followers "have no intention of using force or violence" to overthrow the anti-Communists who won the Italian election.

He gave this assurance even as he charged that the balloting was influenced by "brutal foreign intervention" in the form of threats of starvation and atomic bombing.

Want Industry Stressed

BRANTFORD, April 22 (CP)—The Federal Government was urged last night to stress more the manufacturing growth of Canadian industry in its overseas advertising. G. W. Welbourne of Toronto, director of the Canadian Exporters Association, who made the suggestion in an address to its Brantford branch, also suggested devaluation of the Canadian dollar in its relation to the United States dollar. He charged that the government through its overseas advertising, depicted Canada's agricultural aspect too strongly and didn't emphasize the numerous products other than agricultural products.

Britain Considers Trusteeship

LAKE SUCCESS, April 22—(CP).—The report that Britain is "giving very serious consideration" to the United States proposal for a trusteeship over Palestine gave new hope today that the United Nations can end the Holy Land strife. The disclosure in London from a source close to the Cabinet shed a new light on the problem now before the UN's second special session on Palestine.

Previously Britain insisted she would take no part after May 15—when she gives up her mandate—in any plan for Palestine unless it first has the approval of both Arabs and Jews.

United States suggestions yesterday came up against a wall of opposition and the proposal was expected to receive its first test by a vote today in the important 58-member political committee of the General Assembly.

Asks For Troops

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP) —Administration officials predicted today that President Truman will ask Congress to approve any use of American troops to police Palestine.

This apparently does not rule out the chance that he might in an extreme emergency, order limited forces into the Holy Land to protect American lives and property.

Officials are deeply concerned, however, lest Arab-Jewish fighting flare on an even larger scale next month when Britain starts withdrawing her troops.

Warren R. Austin, United States delegate, told the United Nations special assembly session on Palestine Tuesday that the United States is prepared to send troops to the Holy Land to support a trusteeship government on two conditions:

First, other countries also provide forces; second, Arabs and Jews must agree to a truce.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 22 — (AP). — Rains came unexpectedly to wide areas of the southwest over night and prices of grains dropped sharply at the opening on the board of trade today. Dealings were very active with the market fluctuating over a wide price range.

Wheat started 2¼-5½ cents lower, May $2.50-2.47½; corn was 1¾ to three cents lower, May $2.24, and oats were one to 1⅝ lower, May $1.16-1.15½.

WINNIUEG GRAIN

WINNIUEG, April 22.—(CP). —Fairly aggressive buying in oats and barley, attributed to shipping and export interests, was offset to a certain extent by fairly liberal offerings, today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Prices were influenced by an easier tone on the Chicago market and trading has been active and nervous.

Only one trade in October rye was reported.

Prices:

Oats: May ¼ lower at 89¾; July ¼ higher at 83½; Oct. not open.

Barley: May ⅞ higher at 1.19 ⅞B; July 1 higher at 1.15 ⅞A; Oct. not open.

Rye: May, not open; July not open; Oct. ½ lower at 2.10A.

2-Year Sentence Over Passports

LONDON, April 22 (CP)—Idel Weinggarten, 47-year-old Polish-born engineer described by Mr. Justice Hilbery as "an evil man profiting from the misfortunes of others" was sentenced today in Old Bailey to two years on each of five counts of corruption as ringleader of a fake passport ring which obtained entry to Britain and Canada for aliens.

The sentences will run concurrently.

Of the other four men charged with being members of the ring, Frank Getgood, London passport office examiner was sentenced to nine months on each of three counts of corruptly accepting money, the sentences to be concurrent. W. R Barrett, another London passport office examiner; James Prior Glasgow laborer; and A. E. Brown Glasgow postman, were bound over on good behavior, Barrett for two years and Prior and Brown for one year each.

Prices Continue Firm In All Market Groups

TORONTO, April 22 — (CP). — Prices continued firm as key issues in all groups trade well on good gains on the Toronto stock exchange today but golds turned easier after a firm opening. CPR and Imperial Oil were the heavy traders among the industrials with both issues up good fractions while smelters sparked the base metals although the issue eased back after touching a new high.

Volume for the first three hours was 611,000 shares, about 52,000 more than yesterday's similar period.

Newsprints as a group showed best form among the industrials while selected issues in the other groups made good progress. Key issues ahead included Abitibi, Algoma Steel, Ford, Great Lakes Paper, Walkers, Howard Smith, International Petroleum and International Paper. Anglo-Canadian led the western oils on good turnover and a gain of more than 20 cents but others advanced up to 15 cents.

Golds were mixed on gains for Central Patricia, Conwest up 27 at $1.16; Eldona, Hollinger, Madsen, United Kenor Hill and Teck-Hughes and losses for Anglo-Rouyn, Campbell, Coniarium, Dome, Kerr Addison, Wright-Hargreaves and Sladen. Base metals gainers were East Sullivan, Eureka, Hudson Bay, Labrador 45 at $5.25, Macdonald, Noranda 1 at 49½ and Quemont ¼ at 14¼.

Abandon Search

HULL, Que., April 22 —(CP)— Weary bands of searchers returned to their Hull district homes last night temporarily abandoning hope of finding 11-year-old Robert Monette, who had been missing from his mountain road home since Tuesday. It is feared he is lost in the dense bushland of the Gatineau Hills.

killed and 32 or 34 wounded. He estimated the Arab dead at "not more than 20."

Hagana forces, aided by one detachment of the underground organization Irgun Zvai Leumi, moved down from the all-Jewish area of Hadar Carmel half way up Mount Carmel.

"We used mortars, Bren guns and Sten guns in an attack which lasted much less longer than we thought would be necessary," the spokesman said. "One unit of Irgun was with us. They wanted to participate and we weren't prepared to say no."

Prices Board To Prosecute Canada Packers

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP). — Subpoenas have been served on behalf of the Prices Board to Canada Packers, Lt., Halifax, and the Valley Creamery Co., Ltd., Kingston, N.S., in connection with the recent Halifax butter probe, a Prices Board official said today.

The official said leave to prosecute the two companies had been granted recently, but he declined to disclose what charges were being laid. These would "have to come out in court."

It was understood the parties were to appear in court Friday.

Officials of both companies appeared recently before the Commons Prices committee. Evidence disclosed that Canada Packers sent butter to the Valley Creamery to be reworked. The butter was invoiced in to the Kingston plant and invoiced out again and the complaint was that the ceiling price between wholesalers had been violated in this case.

Another complaint investigated by the committee was that some "low, third-grade butter" had been sold as first-grade butter. Company officials admitted that some low-grade butter had been accidentally invoiced as first grade, but said the mistake was discovered within two hours and corrected as far as possible.

Steel Union Rejects 12-Cent Increase

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 23 (CP)—John Barker, president of Local 2251 of the United Steel Workers of America (CIO), announced today the union has rejected an offer of a 12-cent increase from the Algoma Steel Corporation.

A general meeting of the local last night authorized the executive to extend the working agreement with the company one week after its expiration date April 23 to permit continuance of negotiations.

The negotiating committee was instructed to inform the company that no work would be carried on at the plant after April 30 unless a satisfactory agreement was reached. A demand was also made for six statutory holidays with pay.

Winter returned with a vengeance this morning to the southern section of the James Bay region. Heavy snow is falling and the temperature is at or near the freezing point. The snow is expected to change to rain during the day. Elsewhere in the province the weather is sunny and warm. Moist air flowing from the Gulf of Mexico is causing thunderstorms through the central states. This tropical air will push northeastward and cause cloudiness over most of the province Friday. Scattered showers and thunderstorms are expected in western sections Friday evening.

Forecasts:

Niagara, Lake Ontario and Haliburton regions — Clear and warm today cloudy and warmer Friday. Winds light.

Summary for Friday: Cloudy and warmer.

Churchill Sees No Peace While Reds Stay

LONDON, April 22.—(CP). — Winston Churchill said yesterday, that Italy is temporarily safe from Communism but "there will never be a settled peace in Europe while Asiatic Imperialism and Communist domination rule over the whole of Central and Eastern Europe."

The Conservative leader addressed a convention of women members of the party at Albert Hall. Some 6,000 women, in Easter bonnets and bright spring dresses, came from all parts of the United Kingdom to give Churchill a wild ovation. Hundreds had queued for hours for seats.

The defeat of the Communists in Italy "is an historic event," he said. "Italy . . . has saved herself for the time being from the Bolshevik dictatorship of Stalin."

Repeating his frequent plea for European units, Churchill said "there can be no hope for the world unless the peoples of Europe unite together to preserve their freedom, their culture, and their civilization founded upon Christian ethics. There can be no return to prosperity unless they help each other to the utmost."

He forecast that the recently formed European union of Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg "may soon become an organization for common defence in which the might and authority of the United States will be the decisive factor."

Churchill said Italy now could take her place among the principal nations and not be made "to live in the cage with the bear."

As he spoke British and diplomatic quarters reported that Italy may receive an early invitation to joint the western European union.

2 Unknown Men Free Anchors

SARNIA, April 22 — (CP). — Two as yet unidentified men walked aboard the packet freighter Superior while she was moored at the Imperial Oil Company's upper dock here last night and let go both her anchors.

Previously members of the Canadian Seamen's Union, rivals with the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union for bargaining rights with lake steamer operators, had induced crew members to leave the ship.

Members of the crew of pickets, headed by John Torchynuk of the Canadian Seamen's Union denied that they had anything to do with the men who dropped the Superior's anchors.

"We don't know who they were and in any case we certainly would not say if we did know," said Torchynuk. "We are only concerned in making the lake companies honor the agreements they signed with us during the winter."

Rescue Fisherman

VANCOUVER, April 22—(CP) —Patrick Kelly, Steveston, B.C. fisherman, was rescued from his slowly-sinking Gillnetter early yesterday after clinging to the mast of his vessel for 26 hours. Kelly, 41, was en route to the Skeena River for summer fishing when his 31-foot boat was swamped by heavy breakers in Howe Sound 10 miles northwest of here.

TORNADO DAMAGES BOBCAYGEON FARM—A branch gale of the Bobcaygeon tornado Tuesday evening swung south of the village a quarter of a mile and levelled the barn on Bernard Kellett's farm. Mrs. Kellett and her four children, Betty, Patricia, Doreen and Douglas, were having supper at the time, while the father was driving a bus north to Bobcaygeon. There was no stock in the barn but the structure was valued at $5,000, said Mrs. Kellett, Lower Left.

Bogus Margarine Causes Furore

OTTAWA, April 22—(CP).—A pound of "bogus" margarine appeared to be as hot as a live coal in the hands of Commons' members yesterday. No one wanted any part of it.

George Cruickshank (L—Fraser Valley) brought the "margarine" into the House, but later told members it was nothing more than axle grease.

He wrapped the article up in bright red paper, tied it with a scarlet ribbon and sent it to James Sinclair (L—Vancouver North). Mr. Sinclair is sponsor of a bill that would lift the ban on the manufacture, sale and importation of margarine.

Mr. Sinclair promptly returned the parcel to Mr. Cruickshank. T. L. Church (PC—Toronto Broadview) later asked Agriculture Minister Gardiner to make a statement on the margarine issue. Mr. Cruickshank promptly sent the margarine across the floor to the Opposition member.

At this point, G. K. Fraser (PC Peterborough West) asked is Justice Minister Ilsley planned any action against Mr. Cruickshank for violating the ban against margarine. Mr. Cruickshank then confessed it was "axle grease."

Works On Pension Plan

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP). —John L. Lewis moved today to put his $100-a-month miners' pension plan into effect despite blunt notice that he may have to foot the bill himself. The mine union leader called a late afternoon meeting of the three-man trustee board responsible for administering the still-untapped $32,000,000 miners' welfare fund.

TWO IN ONE

Norway and Denmark were united from 1380 until 1814.

PENSIONS

FOR YOUR EMPLOYEES

A sign of the times, and contributing much to social progress, is the increasing number of Pension Plans which are being established by employers to provide retirement income for their employees.

The various forms of Pension Plans available and the different degrees of control, flexibility and benefit which each affords, make it difficult to choose the most suitable Plan, without careful study.

Our experience in the field of Pension Trusts extends over many years and embraces the planning and administration of a number of such Trusts, including the operation of a very flexible and economical type of Pension Fund for our own employees.

We offer you the benefit of our experience in selecting and setting up your Pension Plan and the advantage of our services in connection with its operation.

You are welcome to discuss your Pension Plan problems with us, without obligation.

Sex Offenders Poorly Handled Doctor Reports

TORONTO, April 22 — (CP). — Existent system of handling sex offenders in Ontario is a bungling one, compounded of ignorance, prejudice, emotion, and fear, Dr. Stuart K. Jaffray, of the school of social work, University of Toronto, said yesterday.

Dr. Jaffray, with other men in the field of criminology, spoke to a meeting of the Canadian Penal Association which reports from five experts were submitted to the Kiwanis Club.

Dr. J. D. M. Griffin of the national committee for mental hygiene, recently returned from a visit to several United States penitentiaries on the study of a sex offender, said "there is no common agreement as to what constitutes normal sex behavior."

"In the City of Toronto 945 were convicted in a 10-year period ending last December 31 for sex offences," said R. Jaffray. "Our present penal treatment worsens the offenders rather than improving him. The criminal law, whose job is to protect the community, finds itself, in fact, contributing to delinquency. . ."

Dr. Griffin suggested for legislation;

Some provision for psychiatric examination and treatment; provision for passing an indeterminate sentence; some sort of institution, more like a hospital than a prison, for the offender, and clinical facilities for the psychiatric treatment, of the lesser offenders who could be put on probation to the clinic.

OFF TO HOLLAND—Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chief of the Canadian General Staff, is shown above with Mrs. Foulkes as they prepared to board a train on the first lap of their journey to Holland where the General is to receive the freedom of the town of Wageningen. It was in that town on May 10, 1945, that Gen. Foulkes received the capitulation of Germans opposing Canadians in Holland.

Excavators Unearth Old Hotel Cellar

COBOURG, April 22 (ENS). — Workmen excavating at the new theatre site, have run into the old filled-in cellar of what was a hotel more than 50 years ago. Among the bricks and debris have been uncovered stone decanters used for gin, before bottles became popular. Also found were the bowls of several clay pipes, the slope of the broken stem indicating that they were once the long curved stem variety. So far no stone decanters—filled—have been uncovered.

Charles Pearse Has Large Funeral

PORT HOPE April 22.—Following a service at the family residence, 43 Mill St., South, on Sunday, Charles Garwood Pearse, CPR telegraph operator, was buried at Union Cemetery. Over 200 friends and relatives, many from out-of-town points, attended the service conducted by Rev. B. Keith Cronk.

Although born in Port Hope, "Charlie" moved to Peterborough with his parents when still quite young, receiving his education in that city. He returned to Port Hope about two years ago to take over the job of telegrapher at the Walton St. CPR office. He was the son of Mary and the late Lorne O. Pearse and husband of less than one year of Mary Madeline Guy.

His sudden death at the Port Hope General Hospital, Friday, April 16, came as a complete shock to his many friends. He had enjoyed good health and entered the hospital for a dental operation.

Pall-bearers included boyhood chums from Peterborough. They were: Stewart Sage, Clarence Shaughnessy and Bernard Traviss, all of Peterborough, and Norman Strong, Dick Paedon and Gerald Pollock of Port Hope.

He was a member of the United Church, Peterborough, and the Ganaraska Fish and Game Club, Port Hope, being an ardent angler.

Name Committees For Bazaar In May

ROSENEATH, April 22. — (ENS).—Mrs. R. C. White spoke on Andrew the disciple at the meeting of the United church WA on Wednesday in Mrs. Clark Sandercock's home.

Mrs. B. Thackeray presided.

Mrs. F. Norris, reasurer, reported the month's receipts of $21.10, expenses $48.05 and a bank balance of $369.08.

Department committees named for the annual bazaar on May 1 were: farm, Mrs. Alfred Braithwaite, Mrs. I. Skuce, Mrs. F. Adams, Mrs. T. Carew and Mrs. H. Blodgett; home cooking, Mrs. R. C. White, Mrs. F. Derry, Mrs. Charles Sandercock, and Mrs. Harold George; afternoon tea, Mrs. Harold Taylor, Mrs. E. Waldie, Mrs. A. Pringle, Mrs. E. Adams and Miss Jean Braithwaite; needlework, Mrs. Clark Sandercock, Mrs. J. A. Brown, Mrs. L. Thackeray and Mrs. Fannie Blodgett; flowers and potted plants, Mrs. E. Sandercock and Mrs. F. Norris; novelties, Mrs. A. Nill and Mrs. E. Braithwaite; greeting cards, Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite; posters, Mrs. C. Thackeray, Mrs. Charles Sandercock, Mrs. F. Derry, and Miss Jean Braithwaite; table committee, conveners of committees.

It was decided to donate a quilt to a family losing possessions through fire.

Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite, program leader, announced the following numbers: a group of three readings by Mrs. A. Nill a contest by Mrs. F. Derry, a recitation by Helen Sandercock, an oral fruit contest by Mrs. F. Norris and a musical contest by Mrs. J. Thompson.

Softball Sags Sadly Hardball Hits High

COBOURG, April 22 (ENS). — Hardball is on the upgrade and softball seems to be hitting the skids in Cobourg. A few years ago it was the reverse. It used to be that baseball managers growled over their players indulging in softball on the side, but now the softball coaches are bearing the brunt.

Two softball meetings have been held and at the most recent one, with less than a dozen present, a list of officers were elected who will make another try to obtain enough teams to make a schedule worth while.

President is Ed. Hogan; vice-president, Joe Randall; secretary, Ted Martin and treasurer, Fred Hempstead. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday and if interest is still down at its present level the league may call it quits.

Take Picton Sunfish To Georgia Stores

PICTON, April 22—Refrigerated motor trucks are hauling sunfish from Picton to far-off Georgia. A closed season on fresh-water fish exists in that state and sunfish are in keen demand and one of the best sellers of fresh-water varieties.

To date two huge trucks have made the 2,000-mile round trip, which requires 45 hours' driving time. Strawberies and peanuts have been carried to New York State on the northern half of the trip.

A local fish dealer said yesterday that catches of sunfish are not heavy, due to cold weather. The new market has sent the price of sunfish per pound from 2 cents to 10 and 15 cents. There have been record catches of smelt in Prince Edward County waters this spring, but whitefish catches are light, the dealer stated.

Liberals Getting Up Steam For Election

COBOURG, April 22 (ENS).—The political pot has not begun to boil yet in Northumberland, but it has reached a simmer that may become more pronounced after Liberal political fervor is revived by the banquet of April 28, at which Farquhar Oliver will speak. There has been no definite trend towards lining up a Liberal candidate and even the most faithful Grit stalwarts see little chance of a Liberal candidate ousting Hon. William Goodfellow.

Set Bail In Cobourg Traffic Accident Case

COBOURG, April 22 (ENS). — Robert Dunn of Bowmanville was released on $1,000 bail yesterday and will appear in police court Friday on a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident. Police allege that he was the driver of the car which struck Danny Parsons, Cobourg youth shortly afer midnight on Feb. 8 Parsons received a broken leg and is still in hospital.

'Never Felt Better Than Since Taking Syntona'

Now Free From Indigestion, Heartburn and Headaches: Also Rid Of Stiffness And Pain In Hips And Limbs — Praises It Highly.

"It is a real pleasure to tell you how much Syntona has meant to me and I hope other sufferers who read this will benefit as I did," said Mr. William Miller, 626 Barton street east, Hamilton Ontario, in a recent report telling of his experience with this well-known herbal compound.

MR. WILLIAM MILLER

"For a good many years I was troubled with indigestion and attacks of heartburn after my meals. Food just didn't seem to set well in my stomach and I had no real appetite. Many days I just forced myself to eat. I also had considerable difficulty with constipation, having to take harsh laxatives too frequently. I suffered from regular headaches and for a long time my hips and limbs felt stiff and sore. They gave me a lot of pain, especially at night. As a result, I was often unable to get my proper rest, and then I would fee. tired and have no energy in the mornings.

"I had tried everything I knew of and nothing seemed to do me any good. Finally I decided I would try Syntona and this medicine has made all the difference. In just a few days I noticed the indigestion and heartburn wasn't troubling me as it did and my bowels were acting more regularly. As I continued taking it, there was a steady improvement. Now I have hardly any trouble at all, and best of all, most of the soreness has gone out of my hips and legs. I am getting sound sleep at night and I never felt better than I do since I've been taking this medicine."

If you who read this, suffer as Mr. Miller did, why not let Syntona help you as it has so many others. Get a bottle today. You, too, may find this pure herb and root medicine to be just what you need to put you on the road to better health again.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store.—(Advt.)

The Italian Election Results

The final returns from Sunday's elections in Italy are not available, and until they are known, the composition of the government announced, and the reaction of the Communists and left-wing socialists made clear, an adequate analysis of the results will not be possible. It is apparent that de Gasperi's Social Democrats have a substantial lead over the Communists, in both the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies, and that with the support of other anti-Communist parties, de Gasperi will be able to form a strong government.

* * *

Fairly complete returns of the voting for Senators give the combined anti-Communist parties 64 per cent. of the votes and the Communists and Nenni socialists 30. Since each candidate for the Senate must obtain 65 per cent. of the votes in his district to be declared elected, there will be considerable reshuffling of votes—the lower-ranking candidates transferring theirs—before election is confirmed.

* * *

In the vote for the Deputies (the members of the lower house), the Christian Democrats secured 48 per cent. of the votes now tabulated, and the Communist Popular Front 30 per cent. With the support of other parties, de Gasperi should have a lead of over 60 per cent. Members of the Chamber of Deputies hold their seats not on a majority vote in individual precincts but on a proportional vote, so that the representation in the Chamber will accurately reflect the total votes polled by the various parties.

* * *

The results as now known show a greatly increased strength in the Social Democrat party. It will have the largest, if not a majority, representation, and may give de Gasperi the absolute political power to refuse to accept Communists into his Cabinet. In the 1946 elections for the Assembly the Communists and pro-Communist Socialists polled 39.7 of the votes and the Social Democrats 35.2 per cent.

* * *

The elections themselves were remarkable in various ways. They became an international issue, almost a show of strength between Soviet Russia's "New Democracy" and the Marshall Plan nations. The Roman Catholic Church actively counselled its faithful against the Communists and warned the electors of the church's penalties should they vote for the Communists. This strong action was taken even though the clergy thereby infringed the Lateran treaty. The voting was heavy and large numbers went to the polls early — which shows that the Italians are not merely sluggish peasants indifferent to the political fate of their country. There was little disturbance, though much was feared, and on the whole the voting was orderly and free. Italy is showing itself to be qualified for membership in U.N. and equal partnership with the western democracies.

The Higher Cost Of Government Annuities

The Federal Minister of Labour has announced a reduced interest rate (from four to three per cent.) on government annuities and at the same time a revised upward adjustment in rates to correct deficits due to lower mortality in Canada. The result of these two moves, which are now in effect, is that purchasers of annuities will pay annually for a maximum annuity of $1,200, increases varying from $57 a year at age 25 to $116 at age 45. It is believed that the new rates are still below those that can be offered by private insurance companies, for the Government pays the cost of alministration and the fees of the 80 representatives in various communities across the country. There are few local representatives because Post Office officials are authorized to handle the Annuities Branch's local business. It is not, true, as some reports erroneously stated, that the new rates will affect annuity contracts already in force.

It is to be regretted that government annuities will be more costly. The annuities scheme was devised in 1908 to help the Canadian of small means to provide an income for his old age. Basically it is an old age pension scheme by which a person, through his own effort and money, can make himself independent. It is significant that the Annuities Branch is under the Department of Labour.

The scheme deserves to be more widely known and utilized, for it is still a fact that in this well-to-do country, 45 persons out of every 100 are likely to be dependent on others in their old age, on others as well as on the old age pension to which the individuals who draw it do not contribute a penny directly. The social benefit of the scheme (which costs the country so little in comparison with the cost of old age pensions) is partly psychological. Canadians like to be independent of charity and government hand-outs. Government annuities paid for over the years by small instalments nurture this independent spirit. The higher rates will mean that fewer people will be able to take advantage of them.

Mr. Mitchell has said that the reduction of interest rates on annuities monies will put them in line with present yields on government securities, and put the whole annuities system on a sound actuarial basis. The cost to the public treasury last year was $900,000, in addition to $500,000 to administer the branch. However, much of the $900,000 actuarial deficit was due to an actuarial deficit that existed prior to 1936. The Ottawa Citizen comments: "Since this cost will in time decrease and since Parliament intended the nation to pay for administration in any event, it is hard to see why interest on savings should be cut down now. Insurance companies may wish the government scheme was less attractive but the public cannot be expected to share their views".

Yesterday's Cartoons

We are diffident about attempting to explain our cartoons to our readers, for unlike an Ottawa paper which has no compunction about paraphrasing the humour of a Giles's cartoon, we think our readers have the wit and intelligence not to need coddling. However, there is a story behind Giles's drawing on this page yesterday which some of our readers may not know. The cartoon showed farm workers busy fetching stout and cases of eggs to an ailing bull.

An English dairy farmer was lately reported to have built a prize bull up to a state of superior health on a diet of stout and eggs. We are not concerned to question, as does the Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph, how the farmer acquired the stout and eggs when the British public is reduced to watered beer and powdered eggs. We will not point any moral about stout and eggs as nutritive foods. We said our piece yesterday in Giles's cartoon.

The other cartoon on the page, Low's table-talk between Field Marshal Montgomery and Marshal Sokolovsky, the Russian commander in Berlin, is reminiscent of Montgomery's post-prandial chat with the defeated General von Arnim after the Tunisian campaign of April and May, 1943. We shall not attempt to explain why Low gives Monty, a teetotaler and non-smoker, a wine glass and a cigar. The quality of Low's humour is not strained.

The Butter Shortage

There are reports that the butter shortage is due to end. That event will be welcomed, for its seems that the Government has no intention of disturbing the dairy interests by lifting the ban on the manufacture and sale of margarine. Why have we had a butter shortage? The reason usually given is that late winter is always a bad period for cows and that butter is always in short supply at this season. These statements are true but they are not the whole truth. The present shortage has been unusually acute, and we have noted no lack of fluid milk, tinned milk and cheese.

The fact is that the law of supply and demand is in operation, with this little joker: there is a ceiling on the price of butter. Farmers and the dairies are finding that there is more profit to be made in fluid milk at its new high price, in tinned milk and subsidiary products, and in cheese, than in butter. If the price of milk by the quart, milk in tins, and cheese went down, we suspect that there would be more butter on the market. Or, conversely—and we whisper it—if the ceiling were taken off butter.

Barbara Ann Scott seems to be conning Hamlet — "To be, or not to be". Professional status will cause her to suffer the slings and arrows of fortune outraged by income taxes.

The Unfinished Struggle For Human Freedom

By DR. CYRIL JAMES

(Ed. Note: The following is an excerpt from an address delivered by the Principal of McGill University on April 2nd, to the American Academy of Political and Social Science meeting at Philadelphia.)

THERE are some people who suggest that, even if Karl Marx was wrong in 1848, the modern world requires a more efficient form of government to plan the welfare of our large population and to co-ordinate the special interests of capital and Labour which might otherwise cause both domestic and international problems from time to time. They suggest that communism is "the wave of the future" (forgetting, perhaps diplomatically, that the next phrase of Swinburne's poem mentions "the wind of the world").

That argument sounds impressive at first. All of us instinctively like to feel that we live in a unique period; that the problems which confront us are more serious and more complex than the problems that have confronted any of our predecessors. I am not sure that we are justified in doing so.

◇ ◇ ◇

IN the first place, it is doubtful if the so-called "special interests" are stronger today, in comparison with our population and national wealth, than were the monopolies of Tudor England or the great trusts of the United States during the nineteenth century. Neither of those dangers, which seemed serious to the people who confronted them, was able to stem the steady development of our democratic tradition. Indeed, it is an essential characteristic of Anglo-Saxon democracy that it is a process of pragmatic adaptation to changing conditions, insisting specificially on the essential liberties of the individual rather than on any general and doctrinaire definition of abstract rights.

◇ ◇ ◇

IT should be also be remembered, in the second place, that a century and a half ago the Anglo-Saxon traditions of human liberty were sharply challenged by a dictatorship of the proleteriat. The French Revolution had fallen from its high ideals of "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity", through the Jacobin bloodpurge, to the ruthless dictatorship of Napoleon who, by conquest, fifth column or treaties with gullible allies, had made himself master of Europe. The "Red Menace" is no more dangerous today than it was then, as anyone can realize who reads the contemporary accounts. It would have swept the whole world if free men had not fought unstintingly to defend their liberties. The period from 1789 to Waterloo covers twenty-six years and, even if the period that has elapsed since the Russian Revolution is a little longer, it is short in terms of human history. Marshal Stalin has not yet shown us that he has more to offer than Emperor Napoleon.

PERHAPS he has less. In spite of the evils that provoked the French Revolution, the history of France during the past thousand years reveals a clearer conception of human rights than the history of Russia. The Communist idea of autarchy is not new. It is not even Marxist. The barons at Runnymede were assembled to fight against a ruler who believed in the concept of irresponsible government controlling every aspect of the life of the nation and restricting the liberties of the individual. There is no parallel to Runnymede in Russian history.

The Russian version of Communism, as reflected in the writings of Lenin and of Marshal Stalin, show a remarkable similarity to the traditional policies adopted for Russia by Ivan the Terrible and by Peter the Great. Marshal Stalin is a great Russian in the tradition of those two historic emperors who, like him, believed in planning all aspects of the life of Holy Russia for the welfare of the general community and who also, like Marshal Stalin, ruthlessly "purged" the community of any who disagreed with them in theory or practice. By means of a strong army and a secret police, they established a tradition which still ensures that every person shall carry out that part of the programme which is assigned to him as his responsibility under the latest Five Year Plan.

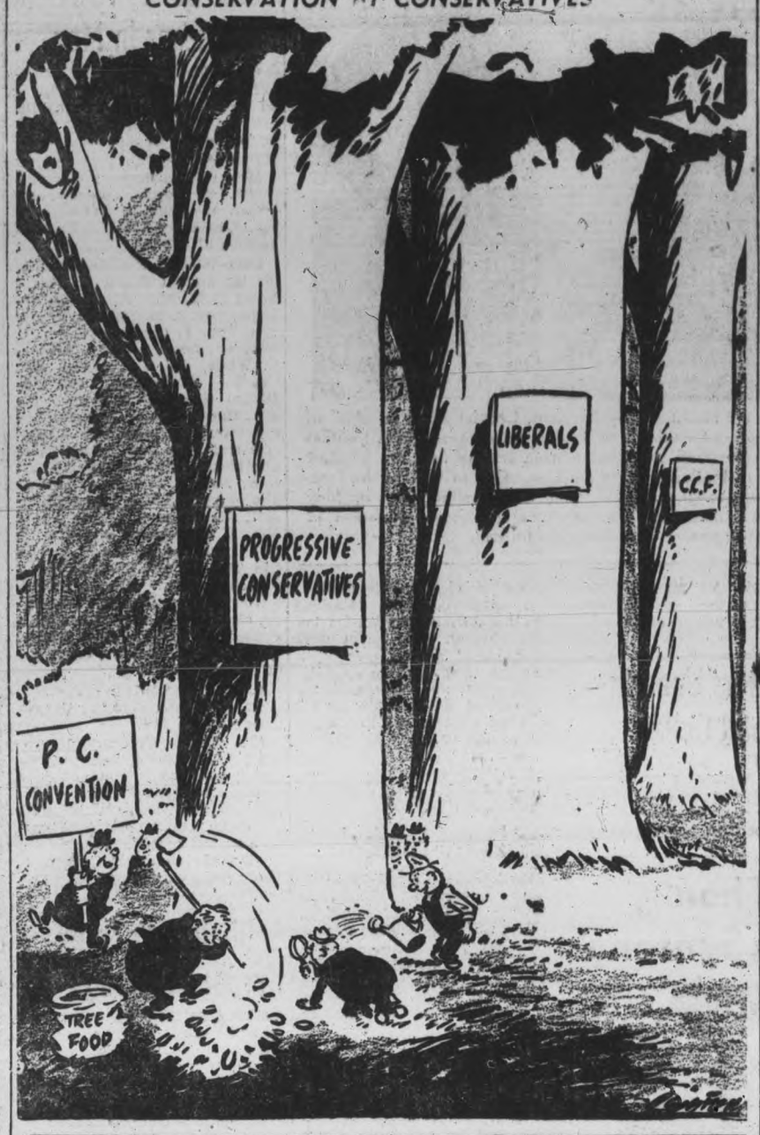
THERE is little weight to the arguments of those who would suggest that the communist philosophies of Russia offer a new solution appropriate to the problems of the modern world. There is even less validity to the timorous arguments of those who suggest that we should appease Russia in order to win her favour.

The tradition of human liberty that is implicit in the democracy of Anglo-Saxon countries is not dead unless we, the citizens of those countries, have forgotten our heritage. Men took their lives in their hands to win the rights that are set forth in Magna Carta. Do we value so lightly the liberties that were won by the blood of our ancestors that we should prefer weak appeasement to the stern necessity of standing by our principles? The structure of the United Nations ensures that the final decision as to policy will be made by those who are willing to back up their words with deeds.



A Remarkable Record

Colonial Airlines on Sunday completed 18 years of commercial flying without an accident involving a fatality to any passenger or any crew member. That is truly a remarkable record.

The slogan of Colonial Airlines is "Safety Is No Accident". More than slogan, it is the company's working plan. Safety in the air, as on earth-bound forms of transport, comes from constant attention to a host of details, to the most exacting supervision of equipment, to a policy of taking no avoidable chances. Freedom from accidents must be a deliberate goal, cannot be expected as a bit of good luck.

It is interesting that Colonial's 18 accident-free years have included virtually the whole infancy of passenger flying, and the inevitable hazards of the experimental period. That makes its achievement all the more notable. —Ottawa Journal.

Bishops In Council

(By BERNARD CROFT IN THE SPECTATOR, LONDON)

ENGLAND this year will be full of bishops as Ireland was at one time said to be full of saints. They are all coming home (all those who look to Canterbury as their spiritual home, that is) for the Lambeth Conference in July, the first to be held since the war interrupted its meetings. From the far corners of the earth as well as from every diocese of the British Isles, from north, south, east and west — John Capetown, Wilfred Blackburn, James St. Andrews, Dunkeld and Dunblane, Evelyn Limerick, Ardfert and Aghadoe, Alexander Nagpur, William Saskatoon, Gerald Madagascar, Lucian Upper Nile, David St. David's, Clifford Gloucester, to name but a few. All the chief shepherds of the great flock comprising the Anglican communion—high and low, rich (not many of these) and poor, one with another. The streets of London will be sprinkled liberally this high summer with their lordships, most of them recognizable, if not by gaiters and apron, at least by purple stock beneath the collar.

The provision of hospitality for all these is causing no little anxiety to those responsible. Offers of accommodation from church-people will be most welcome at Westminster, nor should those who proffer it forget that today a bishop is much more a Father-in-God than a Prince of the Church. I know at least one English diocesan who dons a domestic apron over the ecclesiastical one and most skilfully (by this time) wipes the crockery after breakfast after it has been washed by his wife. I know another who when at home answers his own front door, his only regret being that it is so far from his study; "I could do with a bicycle," he remarked to me one day as I was admitted to the palace. Talking of bishop's palaces, it is worth noting here that these are gradually being forsaken where possible. The Bishop of Oxford, for instance, has not lived at Cuddesdon for some years, and recently the Bishop of Lincoln has found a more reasonably-sized house on the other side of the cathedral.

I have no doubt that there are many and important matters to be discussed at Lambeth this year. A wit once said that whilst bishops were undoubtedly of the esse of the Church, they were not always of the bene esse. I think it is true to say that not for very many generations has the Church of England been so fortunate in its chief pastors as it is today. Outstanding personalities may be somewhat lacking in Church as in State as far as leaders are concerned, but in the bishops we have good men doing good work well even if sometimes one could wish they did it a little more excitingly. "A nice little speech from a nice little guy" is how an American commentator recently described the broadcast speech of a national leader of ours. Many of us feel that in Church as in State these are times for some Churchillian forthrightness. I know that this is felt by many of those two thousand young men who, now out of the Forces, are beginning their training and testing for ordination. I hope the bishops at Lambeth will have these young men much in mind. They are looking forward to the day when they will be added to the ranks of the parish clergy, hoping all things. May they not be disillusioned. Uncomfortable curates many of them will make no doubt for some older clergy set in their ways, but there is a man's job to be done in the parishes (particularly among the men), and here are the men coming up to do it.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up. Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days? But he spake of the temple of his body.

When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said. (John 2: 19-22.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils....

Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature...

So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen. (Mark 16: 9, 14, 15, 19, 20.)

Unconsidered Trifles

Two men, neither of championship class, and whose knowledge of the rules of golf was no more accurate than their technical knowledge of the various shots, were standing on the first tee on the Mudtown course. The first fairway was bordered on the right by a row of oak trees.

One of the men teed his ball and, taking a swing, sliced to such an extent that the ball struck one of the trees fairly, and came bounding back over the tee, so that the player in question, without moving from his stance, caught the ball in his hand as it was passing.

With a bewildered look on his face, he turned to his opponent and asked: "What shall I do now?"

His opponent, without studied effort or inclination to make a joke, replied: "Tee it up, hit it again, and then put your hands in your pockets."

"Now," said the teacher, "what is an elf?"

The boy responded: "Please, Miss," he said, "it's what we usually 'ave at our 'ouse when we 'ave Christmas parties, and Uncle Jack raises his glass and says, 'Ere's 'elf'."

◇ ◇ ◇

A couple of old characters had lived alone in the woods up there, hunting and trapping, one Abner and the other Zeke.

"I was in the place and knowing them well went around to call," related the narrator.

"I rapped. 'Come in'" said Abner. The old boy was playing solitaire at a table. I extended greetings and he responded cordially. I turned to Zeke, who was seated in a chair opposite, 'Hullo, Zeke,' said I. No answer. 'Hullo, Zeke!' Still no answer. I went around to where he was, 'My goodness,' I said, 'Zeke is dead.'

"'Yes,' replied Abner. 'We'd sold our furs and set down to play freeze out poker as we always did. All our money was on the table. Zeke showed down five aces and the Lord called him'.

Then Abner proceeded to shuffle for a new deal at solitaire."

Tourist Season

With the tourist season approaching, it is somewhat disconcerting to find the Maine Hotel Association passing a resolution urging United States citizens to spend their vacations in their own country. It is asking the American Hotel Association to take a similar attitude.

Maine is irked as it is losing a large amount of revenue because exchange restrictions prevent Canadians spending holidays there. Florida and California have had similar experience.

If a move should spread through the United States to influence people from coming to Canada, it would be most unfortunate. But, if Canada's exchange predicament is explained, it is doubtful if it will have too disastrous effect.

Most tourists, we believe, will continue to come to Canada simply because they like it here. They are apt not to pay too much attention to the plaintive pleas of Maine hotels. The danger is, rather, that publicity adverse to Canada spread across the United States and lead people to believe this country is suffering a shortage of supplies or other components which go to make up a good holiday. This is not true, and Jnited States tourists will be able to enjoy themselves here this year as much as in the past.—Windsor Star.

McGill Professor Reveals Exciting War Adventures

WINNIPEG, April 22—(CP)—Commando raids, airborne training and an escape after the fall of France during the Second World War are only a few items from the book of experiences of Professor Jean L. Launay, chairman of the Romance language department of McGill University.

Prof Launay came to Winnipeg to address a group of McGill graduates and the Alliance Francais, a branch of the Canadian Legion, at its Vimy dinner.

Until the outbreak of war in 1939, Prof. Launay held a chair of English at the University of Rennes, in Normandy. Later he was called up with the French army, serving as liaison officer with the 2nd British Army Corps in 1940 and later with Bauman's division.

Bauman's division was an unofficially organized group made up of British soldiers stranded in France after Dunkirk; French soldiers returning from leave, and discharged hospital cases. Several of these unofficial groups existed for a short while before the armistice between France and Germany, Prof. Launay said, adding that they took their names from their company commanders.

Prof. Launay escaped to Portsmouth, England, in a tiny sailboat after the peace settlement between France and Germany. He was interned on arriving in England.

"I was furious, but they were very nice to me," he smiled. Prof Launay escaped after being taken to an internment camp at the Aintree race course, and managed to enlist in the Royal East Kent Regiment, oldest in the British Army.

Rose From Ranks

He enlisted as a private, rose to the rank of acting lieutenant-colonel by the end of the war.

For a few months he was drill instructor, one of the few Frenchment to drill the horse guards at Buckingham Palace. Later, as an intelligence officer, he was the youngest of the "bigot" men, as members of the small group who knew both the time and place of the Normandy invasion were then called.

As a boy, Prof. Launay had played on the Normandy beaches near Cannes; his knowledge of this area made him valuable to the invasion command, he said. "Bigot" men led restricted lives; regulations prevented him from drinking, entering hotels or writing letters to relatives.

Tiny ribbons on his coat lapel indicate the gratitude of two nations for his war services. He won the award of the Knight of the Order of Leopold in a commando raid on the coast of Belgium. The other ribbon represents the French Croix de Guerre.

Prof. Launay considers teaching an exciting life. "It keeps you young because you are in contact with young people," he said. Unable to settle down in France after the war, he decided to come to Canada because he did not want—as he put it—to be "swallowed up in the mechanical civilization of the United States."

His 18-month stay in Canada has convinced him the Dominion is an ideal place, he said.

Discontinue Trading

TORONTO, April 22 — (CP). — The Toronto Stock Exchange yesterday announced that Saturday trading sessions will be discontinued May 22 until further notice. Saturday trading started Feb. 7 after a lapse of about two years.

Emphasize Air Power

WASHINGTON, April 22 — (CP). — The administration yesterday recommended almost $46,000,000 for defence in the next three years with emphasis on air power. The New York program, outlined by Defence Secretary James Forrestal, includes an air force of 66 groups. This is 11 groups higher than previously recommended by Forrestal. But four groups short of the 70 widely demanded in Congress.

Waits 33 Years To Get Fortune

TORONTO, April 22 —(CP)—Mrs. J. M. Laing, 71, has accomplished what she set out to do 33 years ago—and will receive more than $100,000 as a result.

A trust fund established in her name in 1915, when she was Mary Brodie Macwatt, daughter of Judge Daniel F Macwatt of Sarnia, on condition she be married within a year, has been declared hers by the Ontario Legislature.

The case that has been in and out of courts for years was ended just before the Legislature prorogued last Friday. A private bill ensured that the capital in the fund would go to Mrs. Laing.

Although Mrs. Laing married within a year of the funds' establishment, legal technicalities held up proceedings and the case was carried as far as the Privy Council.

Argument over procedure prevented a decision in the courts and the private bill was finally introduced to cut the legal tangle.

Re-Map New Zealand Coast To Correct Former Errors

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

AUCKLAND, N.Z., April 22—(CP)—Century-old errors in the map of New Zealand will be corrected in a re-survey of the coast which is to begin soon and may take 20 to 30 years to complete.

The first systematic surveys were carried out between 1848 and 1855 and although charts have been constantly revised there are certain errors that can be corrected only by a complete re-survey. Ships' navigators state that errors of three miles in charted positions are not uncommon and there are said to be cases where the difference between true and charted positions is as much as seven miles.

It is generally agreed that most marine hazards are presented with reasonable accuracy, but long-persistent faults in coastal line and contour can sometimes create apparently inexplicable discrepancies for navigators who are attempting to fix positions without local knowledge.

War Halted Work

A start was made in correcting these errors before the war when the survey ship H.M.S. Endeavor re-charted 662 miles of coastline in the Auckland district, but the work came to an end at the outbreak of war. Her work showed, however, how numerous are the errors on even the most recent revisions of existing charts.

In the Firth of Thames a pinnacle of rock shown on charts and avoided by seamen for decades was proved to be a myth. The charted position of Cuvier Island light, a common landfall for overseas shipping, was found to be half a mile out. The whole of one long stretch of coastline north of Auckland was discovered to be charted one to two miles away from its true position.

It is not yet known what vessel will undertake the re-survey but it is probable that a ship fitted with modern equipment will be loaned by the British Admiralty.

Rescue 3-Year-Old

TORONTO, April 22 — (CP). — Three-year-old Jill Frayne was rescued from the Humber River yesterday when companion Richard Jardine, also three, sounded an alarm. Richard told Frederick Riley of Jill "dropping out of sight in the water" and Riley pulled the girl from the river. A passing motorist applied artificial respiration. Jill is the daughter of Trent Frayne, free lance writer.

TOGETHER, FIRST AND LAST — Not many engineers are on hand to see their apprentices make their last runs. One of the few is W. G. Cole, of Montreal, who is shown checking train orders with Canadian National Railways engineer, T. M. Ashe, prior to the latter's last run from Montreal to Ottawa. Fifty-one years ago, Mr. Ashe made his first run as a fireman with Mr. Cole on the Canada Atlantic Railway, now a part of the National system. To keep an old tradition alive, Mr. Cole, who now owns a business in Montreal, rode in the Cab to Ottawa with his former apprentice.

Marvel Takes Two Doubtful Falls Over McCready In Main Mat Bout

The Masked Marvel fluked two falls over Earl Mc-Cready at the Brock Arena last night in the main mat bout and sent a big crowd home disappointed. Many of the excited fans at the finish were all for taking a few pokes at the Mask or at Referee Cliff Fox, but they escaped unhurt. McCready claimed he had been jobbed by the referee.

The 257-pound Marvel got the first fall in 22 minutes but it shouldn't have been allowed. McCready, going 239, had come off the ropes and hit him with a flying scissors across the ring. They tangled on the floor and the Mask rolled Earl over. Then he applied his feet to the bottom strand of rope to gain leverage—with the referee down on the floor watching Earl's shoulders—and got the count as the fans screamed. It had been a hot go with Mask strong and villainous but Earl just about as powerful and quite aggressive, besides being popular. The Mask also used a foreign substance to partially blind McCready for a time.

Evened It Up

Earl got that fall back in nine minutes of hard grappling. He pinned the Marvel with his rolling scissors split after getting the mask askew and temporarily blinding the big fellow. The Mask started roughly but Earl came right back with his drive-ahead tactics as the crowd applauded and he really spun the other around in that rolling hold till the Marvel was dizzy, and the latter took a long time to leave the ring after the gong.

The final fall came in just six minutes. Both were out of the ring fighting in a scampering crowd when the Mask rammed Earl's head against the ring boards and then scrambled back in time to beat the count. Earl tore in fiercely and pinned him then but it was too late. Previously he had it all his own way and three times had the Mask clamped solidly in his rolling scissors split, but each time the Marvel reached out and clutched the ropes and got a break. The referee each time failed to halt the Mask reaching for the ropes, but instead broke up the grip. The fans were all on their feet at the finish and plenty peeved at the way it ended.

Larry Won

Larry Moquin, 229, won the semi-final from Lee Henning, at 242, in the time limit when the referee awarded him the bout. Lee played it rough throughout a wide-open and exciting scrap, but Larry was smooth and fast, easily holding his own against his bigger and rougher rival. They mixed it from start to finish and after the gong, with Lee trying everything—even a secret weapon—but meeting his match in the smart Moquin. They were in and out of the ring and the fans liked it, especially when Larry got the duke at the last.

Strangler Bob Wagner, scaling 244 rough pounds, won the prelim from Charley Harbin, 235, who subbed for Tom Collins, in 21 minutes. Harbin had to concede the fall because of a punishing hammerlock. Big Bob was the better matman most of the way, though Harbin gave him some trying moments. Wagner argued a lot with the referee and roughed it up in his usual style, while Charley at times got rough, too, though he was outclassed and outexpereinced by the wily Robert. It was a good warmup for the rest of the card.

RANGERS WIN

Before an estimated attendance of 110,000—a record for a midweek game at Hampden Park, Glasgow — Rangers yesterday won the Scottish Cup by defeating Morton 1-0 during extra time in the replayed final tie.

Trophies Given At Banquet Of Cage League

The presentation of trophies was made at an enjoyable Girls' Basketball League banquet in the YWCA last evening. About 100 were present, including players, officials and guests. Teams represented were: Nurses, Neill's, Normals, Lock Co., St. Paul's, CGE, Kawarthas and Towne Togs. The president, Jean Castle, presided, while the sing-song was led by Alicia Langley with Mrs. McBride at the piano.

Mr. L. Woodruff, Normal school master, was the speaker and he spoke in interesting manner of the development of sports from ancient times to the present. Barb Deyell expressed the thanks of the gathering.

Presentations

Jean Castle briefly reviewed league activities and she was presented wtih a corsage by Miss C. Littlfield on behalf of the executive. Mrs. Harold Rehill and Mrs. Paige Rowell presented the trophies to the league champions, Nurses seniors, Normals intermediates and St. Paul's juniors. The one for the Nurses is a new trophy for annual senior competition, offered by Mr. Claire Collins and known as the Neill Trophy.

The most valuable player award cup was presented by Mr. Harry Yudin to Elsie Crawford of the Nurses. Presentations by Mr. Howard Macdonald were made on behalf of the league to Miss C. Littlefield, Miss S. Ecobichon, Lloyd Grose and Aaron Neiman. Coaches remembered were: Alicia Langley of Nurses, Jean Castle of Neill's, Jean Caverley of Normals, Jim Collins of Lock Co., Stew Lockington and Howie Macdonald of St. Paul's, Roy Johnston of CGE, John Trimm of Kawarthas, and Hilly Yudin of Towne Togs.

Tournament Notes

Shockey's, with Bud Goodson, Gene Reynolds, Phil Pryde, Harold Legrow and Doug Abraham aboard took over the lead in the team events, rolling 3767. Abraham had 910 and Reynolds 849 to pace the team.

Although a number competed in the doubles there was no change recorded, Irv Hanes and Bud Goodson remaining in front in this event.

Belleville Recreation No. 2 rolled in the team event but had no success. They didn't seem to be able to get under way, leaving a number of corner pins which they failed to picked up.

Bea Morrow and Don Fuller went out in front in the mixed doubles when they smacked a neat 1300 even.

Quite a number of the City League teams will be bowling tonight. Some of the City League teams have entered the CBA tourney in Toronto and are taking advantage of the Duffus tournament to keep in shape.

Phil Pryde displaced Roy Suddards in the singles by four pins, Pryde having 830 and Suddards 826.

Friday night will see teams from Oshawa, Port Hope and Belleville take a crack at the different events. There will also be a number of teams rolling Saturday.

Doug Abraham's 910 total in the team events gives him a good start on aggregate.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

It's a pretty safe bet that there will be no floodlights in Riverside Park this year—city council having enough expenditures facing it now. And it is quite probable that a percentage of senior ball games will be taken as rental toward upkeep of the park. This is fair enough and the Petes' club will not kick at a reasonable percentage. We also hear that the girls' and men's softball leagues, in addition to paying their regular Bowl rental — which goes toward paying off cost of installing the floodlights there—will have to pay for the cost of lighting this year. When a playing park is enclosed and fans buy tickets to see games then it follows that clubs or leagues deriving the benefit should pay the costs. It seems fair enough to us.

* * * * * *

And we'd like to again appeal at this time for co-operation on sports' coverage. More particularly the minors, as we cover what major sports we can and the others arrange to have accounts sent in. The minors do not do this to any great extent. We supply gratis score cards for softball and baseball games, and we will publish advance notices of games and the follow-up stories within reason, but we can't be in several spots at one time. The sports' setup is pretty rugged here in the summer, what with ball, lacrosse, soccer, golf, tennis, lawn bowling, cricket and others, yet the sports' staff is limited and just so much space is available in the paper. So, co-operation is needed.

Church Entries Close

Church Softball League meets at seven Monday in the YMCA, and all entries must be in then. Opening dates for play are to be set at this time and the schedules for the various sections drawn up shortly. Managers and coaches, as well as loop officials, should be on hand, bringing entry fees and lists of players. It is hoped to have a big entry list in each section and the circuit has to get going almost immediately, as summer holidays interfere with play in this large softball setup. Don't forget, Monday eve at seven in the "Y".

* * * * * *

Jack Dane, who represents the AAU of C up this way, has been notified that the Ontario section of the Olympic boxing trials will be held in Toronto's Massey Hall on May 6-7. Entries must be sent by tomorrow to J. R. Johnston, 209 Yonge St., Toronto. It is understood there'll be at least two Peterborough entries, Frank Dohaney in the heavyweight division, and Hal Jones in the middleweight class. Maybe one or two more, as well, but Jack Dugan isn't eligible as he turned professional after winning the Canadian amateur middleweight crown last year. Jack is fighting for Sammy Kellar in Toronto now.

Two Rather Odd Falls

Earl McCready got a rather rough deal in his main mat bout here last e'en with the Masked Marvel. The hooded one used his feet on the ropes for leverage to gain the first fall illegally, and he got the deciding one after Earl had apparently pinned him handily with his "rolling scissors split"—except the referee let the Marvel reach out and hang onto the ropes to force a break. The Aurora farmer, who is popular with local grapple fans, looked better and he was pretty burned up at the Mask and at the Belleville referee, Cliff Fox. That's nothing, we've often been sore at Quinte umps and refs, too! Moquin got a nod over Henning in the semi-windup, and Wagner beat Harbin in the prelim. A right lively show before another big crowd.

City Baseball League executive met last p.m. and decided to call for player registry next Monday night at seven on several fields. Northenders go to the Oval, Ashburnhamites to the Bowl, southenders to the Ex., and westerners to Prince of Wales. Everyone from peewee up to intermediate inclusive, and if enough interest isn't shown in any division that section may be dropped. So, you ball players had better show up and get your names in. Boundaries and other info is in elsewhere tonight. A good executive is hard at work and it's up to the players now to do their part if they want a decent loop this season. Another meeting next Wednesday.

Knife And Fork Loop

Sorry to have missed the girls' cage banquet last night—as we always enjoy their gatherings—but had a seven p.m. minor ball meeting and later the mat bouts. Howie Macdonald supplied us with an account and it sounded like a good show. Lots of food, fun and trophies. Elsie Crawford was rated most valuable player to her team, and the season's victors were: Nurses in senior, Normals in intermediate, and St. Paul's in junior. Coaches were all remembered, as well as the loop officials. Mr. L. Woodruff of Normal, as speaker, dealt in interesting fashion with sports past and present. About 100 on deck.

Flyers Carry Scoring Wallop

By LORNE BRUCE

EDMONTON, April 22 (CP). — A terrific scoring wallop—an average of nearly five goals a game—will be carried into the Allan Cup final by Edmonton Flyers.

The goalie of the Eastern champions—either Art Childs of Hamilton Tigers or Legs Fraser of Ottawa Senators—will get a grade "A" test in the Dominion senior hockey final opening in Regina next week.

The quality of the Western Canada league is as high as any senior circuit in the country and Flyers drove an average of 4.8 goals a game past opposing netminders in the 48-game schedule.

In the playoffs, despite suffering two shutouts, Edmonton scored an average of 4.7 in 19 games.

The scoring punch is spread through all three forward lines of coach Frank Currie's Flyers. All but two of the nine forwards have fired three goals in one game this season.

Baseball Players Elect Officers

CAMPBELLFORD, April 22 — (ENS) — Baseball enthusiasts elected executive officers for the club at the annual meeting held Tuesday night. President Bill Brady presided.

Officers for 1948 are President, Bud Peloquin; vice president, Pal Peloquin; secretary, Ken Kingston; treasurer, Lloyd Taylor; directors, Fred Rutherford, Bill Brady, Graydon Bell, Bruce McComb, and George Airhart.

Highly respected by the opposition as well as by his fellow Leafs, Syl was one of the most popular players in the NHL.

ALL SELLOUTS

With the United States leading the heavy demand for tickets, swimming, boxing and track and field events will be sellouts at the Olympic games July 29 to Aug. 14. Total of 2,150,000 tickets have been printed for the London games.

Broda Only Stanley Cup Man To Be Named On NHL All-Stars

MONTREAL, April 22.—(CP).—Turk Broda, veteran goalkeeper for Toronto Maple Leafs, was the only member of the 1948 Stanley Cup winners and National Hockey League champions named by team coaches to this year's all-star team.

The Turk got it by a whisker, and there isn't a rookie anywhere in the list.

The selections, released by NHL headquarters today, showed three members of Detroit Red Wings, the team trounced by Toronto in the cup final, and two from the sixth-place Montreal Canadiens.

First-team men will receive $1,000 each from the league and second-team choices $500 each.

The coaches' selections were awarded five points for first choice, three for second and one for third. Ted Lindsay of Detroit was the only nominee to get a perfect score of 25 points. No coach was allowed to vote for any of his own players.

The first and second teams (with points bracketed):

Position	First Team	Second Team
Goal	Turk Broda (19) Toronto	Brank Brimsek (19) Boston
Defence	Bill Quackenbush (23) Detroit	Ken Reardon (19) Canadiens
Defence	Jack Stewart (21) Detroit	Neil Colville (15) Rangers
Centre	Elmer Lack (23) Canadiens	Buddy O'Connor (10) Rangers
R. Wing	Maurice Richard (21) Canadiens	Bud Poile (18) Chicago
L. Wing	Ted Lindsay (25) Detroit	Gaye Stewart (10) Chicago

Broda and Brimsek were equal on points but Broda got the nod because he had one more first-choice vote. The Turk, who replaces Bill Durnan, 1947 choice, is making his second appearance on the first team.

Quackenbush and Stewart, the Detroit defence pair, moved to the first team from second-place choice of last year.

Lach, out with injuries much of the previous year, was almost unanimous choice for centre.

Rocket Richard, finishing the season with a scoring burst, made the first team for the fourth consecutive year.

Lindsay, youngest member of the team at 22 but completing his fourth year in the N.H.L., walked away with the left wing job.

Average age of the first-team choices is slightly over 27½. Broda is the oldest at 33.

Feller's Finger OK

CLEVELAND, April 22.—(AP).—X-rays of Bob Feller's injured index finger on his right hand disclosed only a contusion and the Cleveland Indians' fireballer will be able to take his turn on the mound against Detroit Tigers Saturday. Feller was hit on his $80,000 finger by a pitched ball while attempting a bunt against St.

Cardinals' Good Pitching Ties Them In League Lead

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is definitely a new year for Eddie Dyer and his St. Louis Cardinals.

Sitting comfortably in the drivers' seat today with two victories in two starts, Dyer could not help turning the calendar back one year.

Just a year ago today, Dyer's Redbirds were in the midst of one of their worst early season slumps. A heavy favorite to retain the championship they won in 1946, the Cardinals got off on the wrong foot and dropped nine straight games. As it turned out, the Cards lost the flag then and there.

But the picture is much brighter this year—thanks to hurlers Murray Dickson and George Munger.

Dickson gave up 10 hits in Tuesday's opener, but was superb in the pinches to pitch a 4-0 shutout. Munger allowed only five yesterday to register a 5-3 victory over the same Cincinnati Reds. The two triumphs shoved the Cards into a first place tie with Philadelphia Phils.

Two In Row

Ben Chapman's Phillies made it two in a row over Boston Braves, taking yesterday's game 4-3 in 13 innings. A pair of walks, a sacrifice, a wild throw and Granville Hamner's long fly produced the winning tally.

Pitching hit a new low at the Polo Grounds where New York Giants flattened Brooklyn Dodgers 9-5 in one of the weirdest games in years. A crowd of 22,388 watched in amazement as five Brooklyn hurlers issued 13 free passes and gave up 11 hits, including two Giant home runs.

Bases on balls by Forrest Main forced in two Chicago runs in the ninth to help the Cubs defeat the Pirates in Pittsburgh, 6-3. Bill Nicholson and Andy Pafko hit home runs for the Cubs. Main had relieved starter and loser Ernie Bonham in the ninth. Hank Borowy, Bonham's old pitching teammate when both were with the New York Yankees, was the winner.

Bad Pitching

Bad pitching continued to plague the Yankees as the Washington Senators pounced upon Vic Raschi for five runs in the third inning to whip the world champs 6-3.

Detroit made it two in a row over the White Sox in Chicago, winning 4-3 to tie Philadelphia Athletics for first place in the American league. An eighth inning single by Hoot Evers, his third of the day, scored Connie Berry with the run that broke a 3-3 tie.

Stubby Overmire, who relieved starter Dizzy Trout in the seventh, pitched airtight relief ball to receive credit for Detroit victory.

VOLANTS DEFEAT ALL-STARS

An all-star team of National Hockey League and Quebec Senior Hockey League players last night bowed 9-4 to Hull Volants at Ottawa in a benefit exhibition match. Proceeds were turned over to Rod Sabourin, of the Volants, who lost sight of an eye in one of the Association's playoff games.

Bruins Trounce Lethbridge 11-1; Enter Cup Finals

By WALLY IZSAK

TORONTO, April 22 — (CP). — The West came East last night to declare a junior hockey champion and today Port Arthur West End Bruins prepped for the Memorial Cup finals while Lethbridge Native Sons prepared to leave for home.

Bruins last night trounced Lethbridge 11-1 before 11,344 fans to win the best-of-seven Western Canada final series 4-3 in games and qualify to meet Barrie Flyers in the Memorial Cup finals.

The western champions now rest until Saturday when they tangle with Flyers in the first game of the best-of-seven final series for the Canadian junior hockey championship.

Port Arthur had little trouble taking the convincing victory as they outskated, outplayed and outbumped the losers throughout the game. Only for a short time in the middle period did Sons play anywhere on even terms.

Even the addition of star centre Ed Dorohoy, who missed the last game at Port Arthur because of a knee injury, didn't help. Dorohoy aggravated his injury again in the second period and returned to the bench.

Didn't Give Them a Chance

Bruins jumped into a 3-0 first-period lead, moved the count up to 5-1 at the end of the second and then added six straight goals in the third while holding Lethbridge scoreless.

Three players shared scoring honors as speedy Danny Lewicki, Bob Fero and Bill Johnson each scored two goals. Fred Bacarri, one of Bruins most consistent players, Rudy Migay, Benny Woit, Alfie Childs and Pete Ducham each scored singles.

The lone Lethbridge goal came just 24 seconds after the start of the second period. Dick Ramsden took Fred Brown's pass to score.

Bacarri of Bruins was off for charging at the time.

Lorne Chabot, son of a famous hockey father, played stellar hockey in the Bruins nets in keeping off the Lethbridge rushers who drove through often enough to have narrowed the wide margin.

Bombers Take The Title In Lasses Loop

Bombers won the championship of the YMCA Ladies' Bowling League when they blanked Commandos 3-0. Glengarry finished in second place and won a 2-1 decision from Y's Menettes.

In the other games Lucky Strikes took two from Tigers while Hurricanes won by the same margin from Corvettes.

Mary Johnson had the high three score with a neat 745. Mary Morton had 704, the only other bowler to top 700.

Mary Johnson also had high single of 319. Ruby Dorrington was next best with 301.

Lucky Strikes had high single game of 1182 and Bombers 1102.

The annual banquet, presentation of prizes and election of officers will be held in the YMCA on Wednesday, May 12 at 6:30 p.m.

Terms Radio, Movies Mental Flophouses

MONTREAL, April, 22 (CP)—The three biggest "metal flophouses" in America are the radio, movies and pulp magazines, Dr. J. B. Nash, director of New York University's department of physical education and health, told a meeting here.

Dr. Nash said that 555,000,000 men-hours a day are spent listening to soap operas which fail to even challenge "the mentality of a seven-year-old moron."

One of every seven persons in the United States went to movies nightly to see pictures which were an insult to the intelligence.

"The mechanical age," he said, "has brought us a tremendous amount of leisure, but in spite of all the time-saving devices, there is hardly a person in this audience who is doing as much for some worthy cause as did his mother and grandmother."

Abrams Quits Ring

CHICAGO, April 22 (AP). — Georgie Abrams, once ranked among the top-flight middleweights, to-day hung up his boxing gloves. The decision of the 29-year-old Washington, DC, boxer to retire was announced by his manager, Chris Dundee, after Abrams suffered a 10th-round technical knockout in the return of major boxing to Chicago rings last night, first bouts since the tragic death of Sam Baroudi, the Akron, O., light heavyweight on February 20. Abrams' conqueror was the rough, tough Estonian, Anton Raadik.

Ball Players Register Next Monday

City Baseball League players will be registered next Monday night at seven o'clock in several parks. Peewees, bantams, midgets, juveniles, juniors and intermediates, are expected to report to their zone grounds to register if they wish to play, it was decided at an executive meeting last night in the YMCA. Any series not showing enough player interest will be curtailed or dropped.

The zones are: East—all of East City; south — all south of the Townsend-Albert St. boundary; centre—from Townsend St. to the south side of McDonnel St., and west from the river; north—all north of the north side of McDonnel St. but west of the river. The places for registry Monday are: East—at the Bowl; south — Morrow Park; centre, Prince of Wales; and north—the Oval.

In Charge

Those named to do the registering are: East—Ray Pammett, Pat Calladine, Bill Murphy and Nels Foster; south—Gord Young, Jack Billingsley, Phonse Brioux and Art Pagett; centre — Scotty Maudsley, Bo Hunt and Percy Killingbeck; north—Jack Turner, Fred Scates and Wimp Borland It is hoped to operate two junior and two intermediate teams in one section of the City League.

President Phonse Brioux last night added Scotty Maudsley to the executive. Wimpy Borland and Pat Calladine were put in charge of league umpires. Dave Wilson was appointed to run the league draw and Phonse Brioux is checking into a bingo for further expenses. Gord Young was named to buy equipment at present and he and Jack Turner will be in charge of equipment. Grounds have been applied for and former players are asked to come out as coaches. The next meeting will be at seven p.m. in the "Y" next Wednesday.

Opposition Curlers Trim N.S. Cabinet

HALIFAX, April 22 (CP)—The Nova Scotia government took a bad defeat half way through legislature sittings but not through a no-confidence vote.

After a year-old challenge, the cabinet finally got around to an after-work exhibition curling match against the backbenchers and took the 15-7 trouncing.

Cabinet curlers were Premier Macdonald, Highways Minister Rawding, Health Minister Davis and Agriculture Minister Mackenzie.

Opposing them were Henry Hicks, P. A. MacLellan, G. T. Purdy and D. D. Sutton.

Royals Invade Newark Lair

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP). — The triple "A" International league opens its doors for business for the 65th consecutive year today.

The International is the last of triple "A" classification to start the 1948 season. The other two, the American Association and the Pacific Coast league, began operations March 30 and April 15, respectively.

Close to 70,000 fans are expected to witness the four inaugurals with the largest gathering, at least 25,000, expected to show up at Jersey City's Roosevelt Stadium.

Jersey City, which won the pennant last year on the final day of the season, entertains Toronto Maple Leafs. Jack Kraus is the probable Jersey City hurler and veteran Luke Hamlin will pitch for Toronto.

Montreal's Royals, who finished second in 1947, invade the lair of Newark Bears with former Brooklyn Dodgers Hank Behrman slated to oppose former-New York Yankee Don Johnson. A crowd of 12,000 is expected.

At Syracuse, the Chiefs entertain Rochester Red Wings and the first night game of the season is scheduled for Baltimore where the Orioles take on visiting Buffalo Bisons.

Shortstop Buddy Kerr Under Suspension

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—Shortstop Buddy Kerr, under indefinite suspension, says he is anxious to return to the New York Giants' lineup but insists he won't do so until I "know I am all right."

The infielder was suspended by Manager Mel Ott yesterday because, according to Ott, "he refused to play."

Kerr said he had visited a clinic earlier and had been advised that it was all right for him to work out, but that he should not play for a while lest he aggravate an injury sustained when he was beaned in an exhibition game April 14.

Ott said the same doctor advised him (Ott) it was all right for Kerr to play. Kerr declared: "I don't know what made the doctor change his mind. I have not seen him since."

President Al Pickard of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association said last night the Allan Cup series will open in Regina April 26 — provided the eastern senior series finished at Ottawa tonight. Other games would be played at Calgary April 28; Edmonton May 1 and May 3; Calgary May 5 and Edmonton May 8 and May 10.

If the eastern series ends Saturday the Allan Cup final will begin in Regina April 28, with other games at Edmonton May 1 and 3, Calgary May 5 and May 8, and Edmonton May 10 and May 12.

Formation of the New York State Amateur Hockey Association was announced yesterday by Thomas F. Lockhart, president of the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States. The organizatoin was created to govern the activities of teams within its membership, Lockhart said and is not a league. The group plans a tournament for the 1948-49 state amateur championship.

Winner of the 1948 Ontario amateur championship will be the first choice for the province's four-man team in the Willingdon Cup inter-provincal matches this summer. This was announced yesterday by the Ontario Golf Association which said its tournament committee had decided that the other three members of the team will be selected on the basis of their aggregate medal play scores in the Ontario amateur qualifying round, the Ontario open and invitation tournament at London.

M. M. Shelter's' Patchen Axworthe, a 25-1 longshot driven by Joe O'Brien of New Glasgow, N.S., won the $5,000 Bear State pace for California-bred horses at yesterday's Grand Circuit harness racing at Santa Anita. The Nova Scotia driver sent the seven-year-old gelding up on the outside and closed strongly to finish a length and a quarter in front.

Jackie Albright, utility infield, has been optioned on a 24-hour recall to Toronto of the International League by Philadelphia Phillies, owner Bob Carpenter announced yesterday.

Steve Hokuff, assistant coach of the Brooklyn Football Dodgers, said yesterday at Toronto the team may hold this summer's training camp in the Toronto district. He said in an interview that he was impressed with the training possibilities of the grounds of nearby St. Andrew's College. He hoped the Dodgers "can take over for a month's training, commencing the middle of July."

Jockey Johnny Longden, formerly of Taber, Alta., with his finger-tips almost touching the fabulous mark of 3,000 victories in a life-time career, made the winner's circle only once at Bay Meadows for his 2,998th triumph.

U.S. Boxer Dies Following Bout

MILWAUKE, April 22 (AP).—Jackie Darthard, 19-year-old Kansas City middleweight boxer who collapsed during a bout here last night, died to-day.

Darthard was unable to answer the bell for the seventh round of a bout with Bert Lytell. He had absorbed a severe beating in the third and sixth rounds.

A brain operation was performed on Darthard several hours after the bout to remove a blood clot on the left side of the head between the brain and brain tissues. He died shortly before 9 o'clock this morning without regaining consciousness

Lytell, Fresno, Calif., middleweight, had administered sound beating to Darthard in the third and sixth rounds and held a wide margin. It was their second bout. They boxed to a draw decision two months ago.

Meanwhile, police stepped in and principals in the bout were seized for questioning. Lytell, who is 23, and his manager Sam Aaronson of Brooklyn, were questioned by police. Detectives said one of Darthard's managers, Arrington Klice 39, of Kansas City, was carrying a gun, and Jordan Davis, Jr., 27, also of Kansas City, and co-manager of Darthard, was carrying a concealed weapon.

No formal charge was placed against Klice and Davis. Davis was quoted as saying he carried the weapon for protection "because he expected to be carrying a great deal of money with him after the fight."

May Not Operate

MONTREAL, April 22 (CP). — Dick Brayley, president of the Quebec Lacrosse Association, said last night that the future of the Quebec City entry in the newly-formed Interprovincial Senior Lacrosse League will be decided at a meeting Sunday in Quebec. Emile Fortin, who owns the Quebec franchise, said Tuesday that unless a new rule limiting the number of imports from Ontario to four was relaxed, his team would not be able to operate.

Three Bisons Players Convicted In Brawl

NEW HAVEN, April 22 (CP).—Three of five hockey players with the Buffalo American Hockey League team were convicted on breach of peace charges following a recent brawl in a New Haven restaurant.

Tommy Cooper 31, of Winnipeg, and Mike McMahon 31, of Brockville, each were fined $50, and Joe Bell 23, of Portage La Prairie, Man., was fined $25, with the court holding that Bell had "provoked the attack," but that Cooper and McMahon "were the aggressors."

Judge Harold Alprovis entered discharges in the cases of Les Douglas, 29, of Perth, and Les Hickey 27, of Winnipeg. All had pleaded innocent.

A sixth palyer, Wilfred (Wilf) Field 32, of Winnipeg, who had shouldered the entire blame for the affair, was freed yesterday when the principal prosecution witness failed to identify him.

All six were arrested following an early morning restaurant fight March 31 in which Wallace Holland 25, a counterman, was so badly beaten that he required hospital treatment.

Texas Ball Team Brings Raves From The Fans

NEW YORK, April 22.—(AP).—The eyes of Texas are on Texas this spring—Bib Falk's nifty Texas U. baseball team, that is ....After the Longhorns beat Southern Methodist last week 21-0 (sounds like three touchdowns, all converted) the fans really began to rave....One version says: "That magazine cover showing the Dodger rookies would have to be a double spread to mug the material Falk gets. And he knows what to do with it."....The Texas-S.M.U. game was a natural....Bobby Layne, who hasn't lost a conference game in three seasons, pitched for Texas and had the pleasure of fanning his old football rival, Doak Walker, on the first try. Later Walker got one of the four S.M.U. hits, so that evened things a little.

Batting—Gil Coan, Senators—Hit a three-run homer to highlight a five-run third inning as Washington trounced New York Yankees again 6-3.

Pitching—George Munger, Cardinals—Limited the Reds to five hits as St. Louis took advantage of a dozen bases on balls by Johnny Vandermeer to win 5-2.

Ramblers Win Hoop Title From Toilers

The Ramblers, captained by Errol Hanbidge, won the City Basketball League Wednesday night by defeating Ted Payne's Toilers 55-29. A win by the Toilers would have put the league in a three-corner tie, with Bill Jones' Tigers in the picture, but the Ramblers had a hot night and won the game and the Kemp Memorial Trophy.

Bill Edger and Joe Stewart refereed a game that could have been rugged.

Line-ups:

Ramblers—Errol Hanbidge, Bob Green 10, Don McTavish 9, L. Butcher 4, Reg Seabrook 15, Bill Gardiner 5, Barney Dundas 6, Herb Correll 6.

Toilers—Ted Payne 7, Fred Hill 2, Hugh Dibben 8, Al Northcott 5, Carl Sargent 2, Howard Hempstead 5.

King Edward Wins

King Edward swamped Central to open the senior section of the School Softball League yesterday. They broke loose for a dozen runs in the first, added six next time up, then 11 more, with 7 in the fourth, and two more in the fifth. Central got five in the first frame and were then blanked. It wasn't good ball most of the way. The teams:

Central— Foster, Lush, Shantz, Thompson, Yelland, Hempstead, Gilders, Black, Delahaye, Laird, Gibbs, Tuck, Noble.

King Edward — Batley, Robinson, Curtis, Jones, Kimball, Davis, Elliott, Jensen, Daniels, Best, Buchan.

Umpires— Ted Reid and J. Cunningham.

Young's Team Gets Cup In Volleyball

Bill Young's team took the YMCA Volleyball League championship last night in the "Y." The winners won two out of three in the finals from Don Crawford's squad. In the first game, Young's bunch had a good margin most of the way and won handily 15 to 10. The second game was just the reverse and Crawford's crew dominated throughout to win 15-9. In the deciding go, the champs could do nothing wrong while the losers made mistakes in scoring position and it ended 15-4. The teams:

Bill Young (capt.), Howard David, Doug Vaisey, Don Anderson, Bill Scott, Thomas Wood and Charles Skelding.

Don Crawford (capt.), Gord Burns, Ed Smith, Rufus Payne and Clarke Thackeray.

Referee, Albert Dryland.

CONCRETE FOR FASTER CONSTRUCTION AT LOWER COST

● In the type of building shown below, the walls and ornamental parts can be cast in one operation with architectural concrete. That's an economy point worth remembering in your plans for industrial construction, apartment houses, hospitals, schools and hotels. It means faster construction schedules, earlier occupation of the premises.

Moderate first cost is assured with architectural concrete. So, too, are pleasing appearance, permanence, fire safety and freedom from costly upkeep.

Craft Show

District Cub Leader Quirt McKinney brought out suggestions at the last officers' meeting. At a special meeting of the Cub leaders, there was a discussion of additional program for the Cubs at the Craft Show. Full report will be given next week. Every Cub and Scout is urged to work at some project for the Show.

Camporee

The committee in charge received additional names this week and literature has been mailed to all concerned. The total mailing list including leaders, tops 65. All patrols interested in the event are to make arrangements for their own tentage this year. One group is doing its best to see that each patrol secures its own equipment that they will be able to carry out—small tents, easily pitched and to hold probably one or two boys in regular Scout week-end camp style. Those registered are: St. John's, St. George's, All Saints', K of C, St. Paul's, St. Andrew's, Park Hill, George St., Salvation Army, Trinity, Lakefield and Madoc.

Badge Board

The regular meetings are progressing well, with one or two groups dominating the field, with Trinity in first place and St. John's second. Phone number of the Badge Secretary is 7453.

Camping

It has been reported that several groups have already put in applications for the use of the Local Association tents this summer. Applications for the tents are to be sent Quartermaster Albert Ingham or Secretary W. G. Shiner at once.

Cub Camps

The Scout Grounds have been booked for several week-ends for Cub Pack Camps.

Scout Grounds

Help is needed at the Scout Grounds for the coming week-end. Volunteers are asked to contact B. I. Burgess.

At St. John's

A wide game outside was carried out last week. Each patrol was detailed to report on the activities and description of the person or persons witnessed picking up a copper, placed by the Patrol Leader on the sidewalk. Some good and some amusing reports were received.

A competition is being considered for the Gardener's Badge.

The Eagle Patrol took the Honor Pennant for the week. Doug Cooke and Hugh Bertram were presented with the Handyman's Badge. Clarence James is now a Second Class Scout. Garry Smith passed Tenderfoot first aid; Michael Craig, signs, salute and knots; Trevor Mitchell, first aid and hikes; Dennis Bell, first aid, scout staff and gadgets; Leonard Smith, sikns and Union Jack.

At the Court of Honor, Patrol Leader Doug Cooke reported progress on the project for the Craft Show.

Down South

There was a good attendance at the Sacred Heart Troop with several practising making camp bed. At Camp Fire, the Beavers put on a skit "the missing umbrella."

At St. Andrew's

Local troops have received an invitation from the St. Andrew's Group to attend a showing of a Mounted Police film. One of the Mounties will be on hand in full uniform to speak on the work of his unit.

All Saints Cub and Scout Group

At the Parish Hall Thursday, a successful "going up" ceremony was carried out under the joint leadership of Akela Kibblewhite and Scoutmaster Rose. The Cubs wished luck and said goodbye to their chums.

The Scouts received the following boys into the Scout Troop. Senior Sixer Gord White, Sixer Ron Livingstone, Sixer Harold Pullybank, Sixer Don Montgomery, Seconder David Houghton, Cub Roger King, Cub Lee Barry, Sixer Bob Keating, on sick parade, will be presented at the next regular meeting.

The Cubs were introduced separately to the Scoutmaster and the Patrol Leaders welcomed the boys into the various patrols.

A new Bulldog Patrol was formed. Leonard Foskit was promoted to Troop Leader; Bill Goodson, Bob Leach to Patrol Leaders, to Second (APL) Don Grant, Gord MacInnes, Barry Hollingwood.

Trinity Troop

On Wednesday, 22 Scouts were on parade to witness the Investiture of Dick Horton. The ceremony, with the use of candles was impressive. SM Cy Davis invested him while Dr. J. N. Perry, Group Committee Chairman, presented the group neckerchief and hat. Dick's patrol leader, George Fanjoy, of the Fox Patrol, extended the best wishes of the Patrol and presented the "Tenderfoot Badge" Dick's mother, Mrs. Horton, was present for the investiture.

Visitors for the meeting were Jim McCormack (ASM), Michael Crowley (Group Com.), Arnold O'Haren (SM) of the Immaculate Conception Group 17, which is organizing a new Troop.

Martin Thompson was presented with his Second Class Badge.

Police Constable Malcolm Bassett spoke to the troop on "The Duties of a Police Constable"

The Mothers' Auxiliary held its April meeting at the home of Rev. Dr. B. Gordon. SM Cy Davis spoke to the mothers on "What Scouting Is". It was reported the auxiliary have purchased a new tent for the group. Tests passed: J. King, A. Phillips and J. Liscum, Healthy Man Badge, and J. Liscum, Dairyman Badge.

Trinity Pack

Grand Howl was led by Ronny Gray. Raksha called G. Hancock into the Parade Circle. Mr. Hancock presented his son Gary with his First Star and his Toymakers' Badge. Mr. Hutton then presented Sonny with his First Star; Mrs. Hutton was also present.

The pack assembled around tables with paper and string to make kites. N. E. Elliott presented the Pack with wood strips required. After an hour of cutting, tying and pasting several kites were finished, others in various stages. Akela announced that finished and decorated kites are to be brought to the next meeting and would be eligible for a prize for the best kite made.

C. Spearin of the Group committee was present to pass tests. Bruce Hill passed skipping, completing the tests required for his First Star. Raymond Henwood passed knots.

The members of the White Six, winners of the Six competition in basket collection were each presented with a coping saw, the prize provided by the group committee. A Mouse Howl was led by Brown Sixer Paul Sparrow.

PRIME MINISTER KING BREAKS WALPOLE'S RECORD—W. L. Mackenzie King on Wednesday exceeded the record of office set over 200 years ago by Sir Robert Walpole, and thus sets a new mark as head of any British Empire country in history. In this photo, Mr. King is shown waving a cheery greeting as he alights from his car at the entrance to the Parliament Buildings in Ottawa when he received congratulations from all parts of the House of Commons.

"MOLOTOV COCKTAILS" HURLED AT CSU HALL—Two "Molotov cocktails" were hurled into the Canadian Seamen's Union headquarters at Thorold, Ont., but were extinguished before their gasoline flames did any damage. Thomas Moore, right, is credited with putting out fire at union building with a heavy woollen blanket.

Lists Changes In Penal System

OTTAWA, April 22 — (CP). — Improvements in Canada's penal system are being carried out, Justice Minister Ilsley told the Commons yesterday.

He was replying to a question by E. B. McKay (CCF—Weyburn) on what the Government is doing to implement the 1938 report of the Royal Commission on Penitentiaries.

Mr. Ilsley listed these steps now being taken:

Full-time vocational training has been started in two penitentiaries, procedure for classification of prisoners has been improved, training courses for pen officers have been started, and a reorganization of educational facilities is in progress.

Present occupancy of the penitentiaries was given as follows: Kingston, 786; St. Vincent de Paul, Que., 1,080; Dorchester, NB (for the Maritimes), 512; Manitoba, 297; British Columbia, 448; Saskatchewan, 359; Collins Bay, Ont., 289.

Pensions Too Costly

OTTAWA, April 22 — (CP). — R. C. Vaughan, president of the Canadian National Railways, told Norman Lockhart (PC—Lincoln) in the Commons committee on railways yesterday that any upward revision of pensions would "cost so much we couldn't afford it." Mr. Vaughan added, "we feel that outside of our minimum pensions, they are adequate."

Want Groaner To Co-Star In Garland Film

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, April 22 (AP) —Joan Fontaine says she is determined to do another picture before the arrival of her baby.

Joan, who has been ill during the filming of "Kiss the Blood Off My Hands," tells me the worst is over now and she is feeling fine. When she finishes the film, she will start immediately on "You Gotta Stay Happy," a comedy with Jimmy Stewart.

The actress expects no difficulty with her clothes. "My designer tells me the current fashion favors pregnant women, what with ruffles and pleats and such things," she says.

No Split for Bing

Bing Crosby is being wooed to co-star with Judy Garland in "Annie Get Your Gun," and Producer Arthur Freed thinks he will nab the crooner for the film. Bing wants to do the role and all that remains is working out a deal. Since M-G-M allows no one to participate in its films' profits, Bing will probably get a monumental salary, similar to the one Irving Berlin got for "Easter Parade".....Irv got a mere $800,000.

Deanna Getting On

Winnipeg's Deanna Durbin says she will be portraying a 75-year-old in her next film, now called "The Western Story." The picture has a novel twist—it will show three versions of the same story, as recounted by three pioneers; thus Deanna will play three different views of the same character....

Bob Hope was telling about his fears with Mary Jayne Saunders in "Sorrowful Jones." "We thought at first a novice might slow us up. But when Bill Demarest and I took 41 takes to get a scene right, we were the ones that looked like amateurs."

Lack Of Support Tied Hands Wavell Says

LONDON, April 22 — (CP).— In a dispatch released to-day, Earl Wavell, leader of 14 British campaigns in the Second World War, describes his last assignment in Burma and by implication blames its failure on lack of support from the British War Cabinet.

Describing operations in Arakan and North Burma in the early part of 1943, he repeatedly cites the scarcity of naval and air forces, landing craft and transports. Twice the War Office inserts footnotes to the effect that landings in North Africa and Sicily "took higher priority and there were insufficient resources for both operations."

Wavell says that in his campaigns in Africa, the Mediterranean, Middle East, and Southeast Pacific "I have always been conscious that everything possible was being done to support me, that my lack of resources was due to a general shortage."

There was "one exception" — "during the operations recorded in this dispatch I received neither encouragement nor help nor understanding of the difficulties, only criticism for the failure of a bold attempt to engage the enemy with inadequate resources, in hazardous circumstances."

Two Objectives

Wavell had two objectives in Burma for the early part of 1943. The first—which was unsuccessful because of lack of resources and bad weather—was to capture the coastal strong point of Akyab in the Arakan area, the second to establish strong forces on the Chindwin River in North Burma in order to raid Japanese communication lines farther east and prepare for a general advance.

This second operation was to be conducted with the help of the Chinese. This, he says, was not forthcoming, and nothing came of it.

Wavell points ont that in mid-April, 1943, he was called to London, and thenceforward was in touch "only by long-range telegraph reports." In June he was appointed Viceroy of India, and was succeeded June 20 as Commander-in-Chief in India by Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck.

Delay Decision Over Robinson

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP). — A decision in the appeal of Reid Robinson, under a deportation order as a suspected Communist, will not be announced for several days, a spokesman in the office of Acting Resources Minister MacKinnon said today.

Robinson, Canadian organizer for the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO-CCL), was ordered deported recently after a hearing before an Immigration Board of Inquiry in Toronto. On Monday he made a personal appeal to Mr. MacKinnon, who is in charge of the immigration branch during the illness of Resources Minister Glen.

The Resources Minister is the final appeal authority in deportation cases.

Robinson's case was the first undertaken as a result of the Government's new policy of deporting alien Communist suspects active in Canadian labor unions.

Searched All Africa For Most Rare Plants

VICTORIA, B.C., April 22— Lionel Taylor, retired horticulturist, has returned from a 9,000-mile journey through South Africa in search of rare flowers and plants.

Accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mavis, the journey was made in a caravan, and they slept most of the time in the open. The trip lasted 13 months.

"I collect plants only as a hobby," he said..."South Africa is a place for young men. Industry and agriculture is expanding rapidly throughout the Union."

Hundreds of English families who had immigrated from the United Kingdom were starting new homes. Britain and the United States were investing large sums in South Africa.

Re-Elected President

A Peek Behind the Scenes At Another Public Service

Have you ever considered that you would like to be a bus driver? Well, steering a bus loaded with passengers through the shifting maze of Peterborough's traffic may have its thrills and joys but it also contains its measure of responsibilities and grief.

Like the staff of any other successful public service, the drivers of your city buses are carefully selected. They are required to be men of sound temperament with all their senses sharpened for the hazards of the street, and they must be reliable and courteous.

Your bus company believes that in the main its operating staff will compare well with any group of citizens in other occupations. Forty-three men on our staff are directly concerned in assuring you safe and dependable bus service for 17 hours each day to all parts of the city. Eighteen of them are ex-servicemen. Thirty-five are married, maintain homes in the city, and have 137 wives and children dependent upon their wages.

There are 29 drivers and two bus dispatchers. The drivers work regular hours each week and are afforded proper periods for rest and recreation so that their skill as drivers may not be impaired by weariness through overwork. Many of our drivers have gained awards for their safe-driving records.

On our maintenance staff there are eight men, all good mechanics, who keep the busses operating in top mechanical condition. They test and tune-up the engines and all moving parts regularly to guard against accidents caused by tire failures or mechanical breakdowns. Four other maintenance men endeavour to keep the busses clean inside and out.

How well our staff succeeds in their duties you can judge best. From the number of compliments we receive about the condition of our busses and the courtesies of our drivers we feel that the citizens of Peterborough appreciate their efforts. We are proud that they help us full to serve you well.

Speed Building Hydro Plants In Soviet Union

By TOM WHITNEY

MOSCOW, April 22 (AP)—The last month has seen important developments in the field of hydro-electric power in the Soviet Union.

It was recently announced that the immense Farkhad power station and dam in central Asia was completed and had begun to give current. This immense development begun during the war will be little less than the largest hydro-electric power installation now operating in the Soviet Union. It will, in addition, irrigate an immense area of 500,000 hectares (more than 1,000,000 acres) of some of the richest cotton land in the world in the so-called hungry steppe.

It was also announced that construction of a tremendous new power station and dam on the Volga River at the large city of Gorki had begun. The dam will be 11 kilometres (about seven miles) long, and will produce hundreds of millions of kilowatt hours of electricity for the central industrial region of Russia upon its completion. The excavation work for this dam alone will be several times as great as that for the Dnieper dam in the Ukraine, the biggest hydro-electric instalation in Europe.

Another tremendous new dam and power plant are under construction in the Altai region of eastern Kazakhstan. A Soviet magazine has reported that "the day is not far off" when the first hydro-turbine of the plant using the water-power resources of the Irtysh River will give current. Little information is available on this dam but it is clear that it is a development of first importance for one of the newer industrial areas of the USSR.

Power For Moscow

A fourth power turbuine—with a capacity of 55,000 kilowatts—has been installed at the Shcherbakov (Rybinsk) power station near Moscow. This is a further step in the realization of the electric power of the Volga which at Rybinsk is dammed back into one of the biggest artificial lakes in the world. The current will flow to the industries of Moscow.

The reconstruction of the Dnieper dam and power station is proceeding at full speed. Four complete turbine-generator units now have been installed and put into operation at this largest station in Russia and Europe which was so seriously damaged by the Germans when they occupied the Ukraine. This leaves five more turbine-generator units to be installed before the plant has surpassed its pre-war capacity.

It has been announced from the Caucasus that construction work is progressing rapidly on a great project for harnessing the power of Lake Sevan in Armenia in a series of cascades and hydro-electric plants. The largest hydro-electric plant in this series is now being built and work is in an advanced stage on lengthy tunnels through mountains which are to bring the water to the turbine blades.

These are only some of the more important of dozens of hydro-electric projects in the Soviet Union now in the process of being realized. But they alone are sufficient to show that the USSR is determined in the not distant future to become the greatest producer and consumer of hydro-electric power in the world.

Demolish Mud House Two Centuries Old

LYE, Worcestershire, England April 17 (CP)—One of England's last links with the early Britons will be broken with the demolition of a 200-year-old mud house here.

The house, descended from the primitive mud dwellings of the early Britons, is being demolished by Stourbridge Council because of road widening.

Standing in narrow Cross Walks Road, it is the last of a mud settlement which hundreds of years ago earned Lye the name of "Mud City."

After more than two centuries, rain is beginning to seep through the roof and extensive repairs would be needed to make the house habitable.

Just the same, Mrs. H. Mobberley, the present tenant, is sorry to leave. She has lived in the mud hut all her life.

Hawaii Building Fishing Empire In Vast Pacific

By KEN LIKES...

HONOLULU, April 22 (AP).—"Hawaii, which once wrested much of its living from the sea, hopes to build on the ruins of Japan's sampan fleet a fishing industry spanning the Pacific.

Wartime restrictions temporarily scuttled Hawaii's doughty little fishing fleets. Japan's defeat closed rich fishing grounds to Nippon.

Within less than three years since the war ended, Hawaii's sampans manned largely by Nisei have swept back for near-record catches. High prices tripled the value of the 1947 catch over the best pre-war year.

But this United States fishing outpost has barely touched on the fringes of the watery frontier of the Pacific. The big catches and big money lie westward in grounds vacated by Japan. Across millions of square miles of the Pacific, fish now run unmolsted by net or line.

In blue Hawaiian waters today the No. 1 contender for big business ranks is aku. In less romantic language of a mainlander it's tuna. So far, one medium-sized cannery in the islands has taken care of all the export trade in tuna. Hawaii landings before the war didn't begin to compare with what California boats took from along the coasts of Mexico, Central and South America.

"But we have caught practically all our tuna within 40 miles of the islands," reports Vernon Brock, director of the territorial division of fish and game.

Hugh Catches

In 1937, the Japanese probably took a third again as many tuna from Pacific fishing grounds as did the United States, Brock says. A single year's catch for the Japanese may have totalled some 460,000,000 pounds.

The Pacific tuna grounds "may well interest any Asiatic nation, including Russia," Brock adds, "and unless we exploit it actively, or allow other nations to enter this fishery, we can be placed in the position of preventing the use of a major food resource."

"It is not a question of the presence or absence of resources. The fish undoubtedly are there. Lack of know-how limits us now. For instance, what are the movements of tuna schools? What are the best ways to catch the fish?"

Explorers and researchers have fitted together a few pieces of the underwater puzzle. It looks as if more sleuths may go to work on the big job.

A company subsidized by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has sent two boats on an extended Pacific survey. Congress has passed—but not yet appropriated money for—a $1,500,000 research program. The navy announced recently that mainland and Hawaiian companies are negotiating for cannery sites in the trust territory — the former Japanese mandates, including the Carolines, Marshalls, and Marianas.

Like the ancient Polynesians, islanders are turning seriously toward fishing. They aren't thinking of fish for local eating, though. They are looking toward an industry which may rival the island's sugar cane and pineapple business — and make a big splash in the world's food production.

"Confidentially I owe a lot of my oomph to Libby's"
The upsets which often accompany baby's first solid foods are caused by the fact that baby's immature digestive system cannot completely digest coarse fibres and the cellulose walls of food cells. Even the most careful straining does not break them down.
But Libby's patented homogenization process explodes and pulverizes them before the process of digestion begins so that baby's digestive juices can immediately act on the liberated nourishment.
As a result, baby can digest Libby's more quickly and more completely. He gets more nourishment than from the same amount of food which has been strained but not homogenized, and with less risk of digestive disturbance.

Happenings In Europe More Terrifying To Average American Than Hiroshima

By WALTER O'HEARN

NEW YORK — The ominous fact today, glaring in the faces of the 57 nations gathered at Flushing Meadow is not Palestine. It is fear. Palestine is but a grave symptom of the universal alarm.

The United States and the Soviet Union have been twisting wrists across the table for three years. It is the sort of contest that begins as a friendly show of strength, a muscle-flex, and ends in bad blood. The little countries and the weaker big countries fear that the contestants may overturn the able and slug it out standing up.

Of the delegates who have come here for the special General Assembly — as distinct from th year-round U.N. standbys who are in the majority — a number have expressed themselves privately, but plainly. "When I was here last year" said one of them, "the war feeling was impressive and alarming. Today it is a revelation."

American left wing opinion, as expressed in various ways, is that this is a whipped-up war hysteria, created largely by the Wall-street — brass hat junta who, they say, control things in Washington.

This is, of course, the attitude of the Communists and their apologists. But it is also the line of the "butcher-paper" intellectual weeklies, which have grown increasingly uncommunist since V-J Day.

A Conclusion

It does not square with the everyday observations of this reporter. On Sunday, by a suburban railway station, a woman and two men stood in the sunshine, chanting to passersby, "Sign up for peace, sign for Henry Wallace." In a 20-minute interval during which they approached more than 150 people, not one signed up. The only persons who were even polite about their refusals were rather better dressed than the others. Some of the rest were vehement in their rejection of the appeal and there was considerable muttering.

This in itself proves nothing but taken with reports from other parts of the country — CIO automobile workers picketing Mr. Wallace's meeting in Evansville for example — it may point to a conclusion. The conclusion is that repudiation of Wallace's program for appeasing Russia and the accompanying state of mind which is ready to risk war is pretty widespread. That this state of mind has been "whipped up" is hardly credible to one who has seen it develop, as evidenced in a thousand and one conversations, in something more than two years.

The fact is that the United States is really a very conservative country, a truth which has been obscured by the high American standard of living. People here are not generally averse to the idea of big business men and generals in the government. They think they are "smart men."

There was a tendency to bait the businessman during the 1930's but that was only because he had stumbled in 1929 and the public was no longer so sure of his 'smartness." But there were many businessmen of large experience in the Roosevelt administration. The so-called "Socialistic New Deal" incidentally, had for its main goal social legislation of a type which the average British tory had been pushing for years. Even measured by the somewhat prim standards of the late Neville Chamberlain it was not a bold program, or would not have been in a European country.

There are more businessmen in American Government today and many more generals. That is because the American public is once more convinced that they are "smart fellers." Far from resenting this militarization a considerable number of the American people are trying to increase it by drafting General Eisenhower for the Presidency.

Would Risk War

None of this means that the American voters want war. But today they are prepared to risk it. They are even prepared to risk the possibility that the atomic weapon might be turned against them.

To put it in capsule form, the average American would prefer being atomized to being Sovietized.

The terror which haunts the subway rider today is not the terror of the atom bomb. He is used to the idea. He has accepted a fatalism which men and women who have lived under war conditions can understand. Probbaly he consoles himself with the thought that it is all over in a second and that you never really know what is happening to you.

But he is really terrified by what has happened in Europe. Prague and Budapest frighten him far more than Hiroshima.

A European friend now living in America remarked: "It is easy to be brave—or numb—about an overwhelming disaster which may never happen. But the creeping paralysis which overtakes a country under Russian domination, as it did under Nazi domination—that it what frightens a man. The prospect of spies on every block and in every home, of interrogations, forced confessions and even torture is something which no man can contemplate without fright.

"Nor does it even matter whether these things are true—although there is evidence that they are true indeed—so long as men believe the are true and believe they are in danger."

If the writer has taken some liberties in the foregoing with the average American, he can only offer the defence that he has really talked with a great many people who are average by any standard. A great many letters, some private, others written to and published in the American press tend to build up the composite picture of an American who doesn't want war but who fears other things more.

Four out of five Americans writing on Russia continue to assure their readers that the Russians don't want war either. Many Americans who accept that still believe that the Russians—or their government—are in the grip of a remorseless dynamic which forces them on to aggressive and war-making gestures.

New Play Area Sought For South End

Acceding to a strong representation from residents in the McKellar St. area, the Recreation Commission at a meeting in the council committee room on Tuesday night recommended that another playground should be started to serve that area.

The committee asked the city to secure a suitable site for the playground and furnish it with equipment, and it in turn would supply necessary supervision as well as an organized program.

Four teams in each of the three leagues — juvenile, midget and bantam—will be entered by the Minor Lacrosse Association. In addition scrub teams of boys who cannot make a place on the other squads will be organized. To cover the cost of equipment and general expenses, the association asked for financial aid.

A special meeting will be called next week by the Commission to study the finances. Until that meeting grants to various organizations are being held up. The budget is so tight that it has not yet been finally decided whether the Commission can continue to run Dixon House.

City Council has granted $18,000 for recreation purposes. Of this amount $4,000 has been earmarked for the Civic Band. This will be partially offset, it is believed, by the provincial grant which will be received.

A three-man delegation from the Lions Club said that the Lions Playground and Wading Pool Committee was looking for a man to take care of equipment at Riverside Park. The delegation pointed out that he would have no supervisory powers and thus would not interfere with the playground supervisor appointed by the Commission.

Present were Robert Bolton, A. E. Borland, H. E. Wales, Quirt McKinney, W. C. Bennett, W. B. Gordon, Jack Dane and Mrs. R. Whalen.

WHERE THREE DIED — This twisted heap of metal is all that remains of an automobile struck by a CPR passenger train at a level crossing half a mile west of Lachute, Que. Conservatives Want Red Party Banned

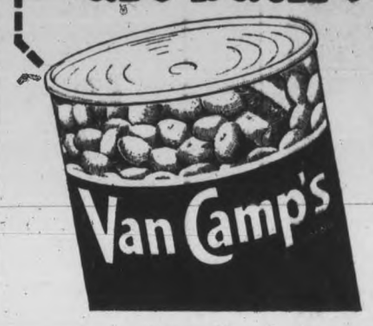
OTAWA, April 22.—(CP).—A re-drafted Progressive Conservattive policy today is in the making.

The Progressive Conservative Association of Canada yesterday ended a three-day meeting. At least 26 resolutions were approved, one of them favoring a ban on the Communist party.

These along with other material, said a spokesman, will form the basis for a restatement of policy. This will be worked out by a special committee to be named shortly by John Brscken, Progressive Conservative leader.



Texts of resolutions were not made public. It was understood they covered ground ranging from labor relations to immigration.

Tentative plan is to release the new policy before the Liberals meet next Aug. 5 to select a successor to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and to draft a new Liberal platform.

On the basis of resolutions placed before delegates the Progressive Conservative policy likely will include:

1. An immigration program to be undertaken in co-operation with the provinces.
2. Outlawing of the Communist party and steps to eradicate Communists from government and labor offices.
3. Conciliation machinery for labor disputes; minimum wages; standard hours of work; outlawing of sympathetic strikes and holidays with pay.
4. The need for calling a Dominion-Provincial conference.
5. Establishment of a free gold market; or purchasing gold at a price in keeping with increases in commodities.
6. A floor for agricultural products based on parity; a natural products marketing act.
7. Ovehaul of the freight-rate structure; but opposition to amalgamation of the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railways.
8. A social security program to provide a pension at 65 without a means test; accident and sickness benefits; health insurance and extended unemployment insurance benefits.

Sault Electors Vote 3rd Time In 5 Months

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 22—(CP). — For the third time in five months, city electors will go to the polls May 20 in a municipal matter, this time to choose six commissioners to manage the Sault's new Memorial Gardens Community building. It is expected to be officially opened in September.

Commissioners will be elected from each of the city's six wards by authority of a resolution adopted at a special City Council meeting last night. Nomination date was set for May 11.

City Council and Board of Education elections were held in December and a special vote was held on Feb. 9 to authorize the expenditure of an additional $200,000 to complete the gardens.

The gardens will cost the city a total of $620,000 when completed. Alderman Fred A. Irwin declared that he intends to resign from City Council next month in order to stand for election for the commission.

NAMED AMBASSADOR — US Commerce Secretary Averell Harriman yesterday was named to the newly-created post of roving ambassador under the European recovery program. He was appointed by President Truman.

Markets Weathering Profit-Cashing Move

By The Canadian Press

Stock markets Wednesday weathered a considerable amount of profit-cashing on the recent sharp gains, and continued the advance.

New York reported rails and oils sparking a last-hour drive while Toronto and Montreal made good showings for selected newsprints, utilities, oils and base metals.

Cotton futures at New York advanced into new seasonal high ground on a broad covering movement, stimulated by favorable news on cotton exports, with final prices 30 cents to $2.30 a bale higher. A last half-hour rally in Chicago pushed prices higher for all grains, and the livestock market at Toronto reported a rise of 75 cents to $1 for the week at the close yesterday.

Say Autonomy Big Issue In Quebec Vote

QUEBEC, April 22 — (CP). — Union Nationale Legislature members went into party caucus to-day with an election campaign in the making after Premier Duplessis' statement last night that provincial autonomy is Quebec's big issue.

The Quebec Premier outlined his government's platform for elections this summer in an address to nearly 1,000 party followers honoring him at a birthday banquet.

He said rights given the provinces in Confederation guaranteed Quebec's present "security and stability" and the Union Nationale Government wanted the people of Quebec to "remain masters at home."

He described Federal Government offers of subsidies in exchange for provincial taxation rights as representing "sale of the province for $65,000,000."

Premier Duplessis, who was 58 Tuesday, held up the autonomy question as the over-riding problem of the day.

For two hours before the Premier was heard, party members at a head table with a great fleur-de-lis flag hanging from the wall behind delivered speeches of praise for the government leader.

The speeches came to guests over a loud-speaking system and at the same time went out to the province over a network of radio stations. The Premier said there would be no elections next month "because May is moving month, and we are not moving."

TIMELESS STORY — It is a once-up-a-time story, out of the Old Testament, that Sonja Lowenstein listens to so raptly. Rabbi Reuben Levovitz is telling her of Moses and the children of Israel and how they baked unleavened bread under the searing sun of Egypt. Preparing for the observance of the Passover, which starts on April 23, the rabbi is supervising the baking of matzoths at a Jersey City, N.J. bakery. Sonja and her parents escaped the Nazis with the help of Rescue Children, Inc., a U.S. organization.

BACK ON JOB—Lights of Canada's upper Great Lakes are flashing on again as navigation season opens up and lighthouse keepers go back on their jobs again. Light-keeper on Cove Island is Russell Botham of Toronto, shown using a neckyoke to carry fuel from the coal pile to his lighthouse. No trucks deliver coal on the islands where lighthouses are kept and vigil of the lighthouse-keeper is often a long and lonely one. Mrs. Botham and two children, John and Jim, are expected to arrive later.

Some NZ Doctors Exploit State Fund Minister Says

DUNEDIN, N.Z., April 22 (CP) —A report on incomes doctors are receiving under New Zealand's social security scheme has been made by the Minister of Health, Miss Mabel Howard, in referring to allegations that many doctors were rushing as many patients as possible through their rooms to receive the standard fee of $1.20 a visit from the social security fund.

Miss Howard said that 232 doctors, or one in five, received at least $9,600 from the state last year. Three of them received over $32,000. These amounts do not include additional sums above the standard fee which doctors are permitted to collect direct from the patients and which most do in the wealthier districts.

The general practitioner scheme has been a great boon to many people and has for the most part fulfilled its purpose, Miss Howard said. Nevertheless there are some weaknesses and defects to which the eyes could not be shut.

"The great majority of our doctors have, we believe, continued to practise as they would under conditions of ordinary private practice," she added. "They have considered it beneath them to give other than the best that their knowledge, experience and ethical standards fit them to give.

"A few, on the other hand, are undoubtedly exploiting the scheme. The mere number of attendances is, one can only suspect, their chief measure of the service they can render the community. It is a matter of no little concern that for 232 doctors, payments last year exceeded $9,600. A number of them in this category were men of outstanding skill and reputation and it is not with them that we are concerned."

Miss Howard said it was heartening that through the good offices of the British Medical Association it had been possible to set up a joint committee of representatives of the association and the department of health to examine the working of medical benefits. It was gratifying to find that most doctors were concerned about the consequences of inordinate payments from the fund, she added.

Road Collapses

STRATFORD, Ont. — (CP). — Driver Ed Bohnert was guiding a heavy street-sweeping machine along a curb here when a 10-by-six foot section of the pavement collapsed, dropping the machine into a six-foot hole. The soil under the street had apparently washed away with water from a leaking drain. Bohnert was unhurt.

Prevent Spoilage of Eggs By Soaking In Mineral Oil

REGINA, April 22 — (CP) — Giving eggs the old oil is big business in Saskatchewan which last year shipped 56,847 cases of oiled eggs, most of them to the United Kingdom.

W. W. Brown, a dairy produce manager, said the practice of oiling eggs as a preservative began three years ago at the request of British purchasing authorities.

Last year Canada as a whole shipped 669,229 cases — nearly 241,000,000 eggs.

The eggs are soaked in mineral oil which sinks into the porous shell of the egg without actually seeping through. This keeps the outside air from penetrating into the egg and retards both evaporation and spoilage.

Eggs going to England are oiled in the spring and put into storage until the fall when they are crated for shipment overseas. While in storage they are kept at an even 30-degree temperature, and usually drop one grade in the process.

Mr. Brown said all major egg shippers in the province have adopted the practice.

The eggs are oiled in a revolving machine which soaks trays of eggs in the bath of pure mineral oil. After passing through the bath they are lifted from the trays by lifters, which handle 30 dozen eggs at a time, and transferred to crates.

M. R. Mitchell, district federal poultry inspector, said there are about 30 egg-oiling stations in the province, all of them operating under federal supervision.

3 Dead, One Injured In Train-Car Crash

LACHUTE, Que., April 22 (CP) —Three persons are dead and a fourth is in critical condition as a result of an accident near here when the Canadian Pacific Railway's Ottawa - Montreal train ploughed into an automobile in which the victims were riding.

Police identified the dead as Aime Robillard, 40, his son Aime, Jr., 14, and Russell Morrissette, 16, all of nearby St. Philippe d'Argenteuil.

Mrs. William Morrissette, 40, of St. Philippe, was brought to hospital here, suffering from internal injuries. Hospital officials today said she had not regained consciousness.

REPORT CHIMNEY FIRE

Firemen received no alarms on Monday and only one on Tuesday. It was a chimney fire at the residence of F. Robinson, Bellevue St.

IN COLLISION

Fender damage was caused about 11.30 this morning in a collision between a heavy transport truck and a new car. The car was that of Irving Moldaver. The collision happened on Simcoe St.

TWO TRAGEDIES

There must be at least two grief-stricken people in Peterborough. On two occasions in the last four days, a full bottle of whisky has been found smashed on the doorstep of a Water street office. Whether the owners' sins caught up with them in advance, or their worries were too great to bear is not known.

OPEN HOUSE AT YMCA

It will be Parents' Night at the YMCA on Friday when there will be an opportunity for the members of the Boys' Department to show their mothers and fathers what they are doing. There will be demonstrations of swimming, glass work and club work. At the end of the evening, awards will be made to boys who have learned to swim this winter, and to boys who have raised money for the World Youth Fund.

AID FOR EUROPE

Mennonite farmers of Waterloo are sending to Europe 40 plows, and a great collection of rakes, hoes, shovels and other farm implements. The plows will be dismantled in Kitchener and will be packed with the other utensils. Gifts will include kitchenware, all kinds of cutlery, dishes, pots and pans. The Mennonites have contributed large quantities of food and clothing in recent years to assist people in Europe in helping themselves again.

Gideons Present Bibles At Madoc

MADOC, April 22—(ENS)—Peterborough Gideon Camp presented 97 New Testaments with Psalms and Proverbs to grade five to grade eight pupils of Madoc Public School on Wednesday. Copies of this edition prepared for school children were also given to three teachers, Mr. Nichols, chairman of the Board of Education, and Mr. Poulter.

The Peterborough group was welcomed by Principal James M. Irwin and Mr. Nichols. C. W. Collins, secretary-treasurer of the Peterborough Camp gave a brief sketch of the origin and work of the Gideons.

Up until February the Gideons had placed in Canada more than 283,742 Bibles, 61,656 service Testaments and 102,375 school Testaments.

Lewis R. Parks showed a number of colored films which will be used in Gideon extension work by the International Extension Director. Harland Bradley assisted in the distribution of the testaments and Chaplain Herbert Pullyblank pointed out the advantages gained by reading and studying God's word.

Mr. Nichols thanked the Gideons on behalf of the Board of Education and Mr. Poulter expressed his appreciation of the work done by the Gideons and offered the dedicatory prayer.

James White, Bridgenorth, paid $5 and $2.50 costs for following too closely behind a fire engine on its way to a call.

Lawrence King, 550 Sherbrooke St., paid $3 and $2.50 costs for a charge of improper lighting on a vehicle and $5 and $2.50 costs for driving without an operator's permit.

Ernest Hutchinson, RR 9, Peterborough, was fined $4 and $2.50 costs for driving through a red light.

LINDSAY, April 22 (ENS). — Hart Lodge on Twelve Mile Lake in Haliburton County was stripped of valuable by thieves over last weekend. The wholesale robbery was discovered by Miss Eilleen Hart, Toronto, owner of the lodge, on Monday afternoon, when she found the interior a shambles.

Fourteen bedrooms on the second floor had been completely stripped by the thieves. Furniture, including dressers, beds, springs and mattresses have disappeared with all the plumbing fixtures including basins and toilets. On the main floor, linens, blankets, drapes, sliverware and dishes were missing. In the kitchen the thieves removed the steam table, pots and pans, the ice trays from the refrigerator and had attempted to remove the motor from the ice cream freezer. Canned goods stored in the basement for the coming season were completely cleaned out, the thieves even making off with the motor and blower from the cooling system.

Police believe the gang spent several days preparing the loot for transport and Sunday night visited the scene with one or more trucks which they backed up to the fire escape door at the rear and loaded.

Police said when called by Miss Hart on Monday night, they found a partial footprint containing clay, which was still damp, in the living room. In the basement four full bundles of gyprock were moved the full length of the playroom and stacked near the exit door ready for loading. Provincial Constables Ed Milligan and Art Watson of Minden are investigating.

Less than a month ago thieves used a truck and stole $2710 worth of furniture and equipment at Royal Lodge cabins on Balsam Lake.

Gets 4 Months On Theft Count

Caroll Watson Smith, no fixed address, was sentenced to four months in the Ontario Reformatory by Judge Sheldon L. Smoke in County Court on Wednesday afternoon. He pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking an entering charge of breaking and entering Collins, insurance agent with intent to commit theft on November 28, 1947.

A further charge of breaking, entering and theft from the Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association, George St., was withdrawn by Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, KC, after the prisoner pleaded not guilty.

Judge Smoke originally sentenced him to three months but Smith asked that the term be raised to four months so he could be sent to the reformatory. He explained that he had been ill most of the winter and wanted to be out in the open air.

Smith has been in custody since the day of his offence and this was taken into consideration when sentence was read. The unusual length of time pending trial was due to the fact that the prisoner originally asked for trial by jury but later changed his mind and elected non-jury trial by Judge Smoke at the present sitting.

Smith is said to have cautiously entered the semi-dark office where Mr. Collins was sitting alone. When Mr. Collins rose to investigate he fled from the building and was finally captured by Oscar Nicholls, George St., after a chase through laneways and stores.

PC Claire McGillen made the arrest.

FIRST JUNIOR SERVICE CLUB CHARTERED — The Key Club, organized from senior boys, St. Peter's High School, received its charter Wednesday evening at a weekly dinner of their sponsor organization, Peterborough Kiwanis Club. Parking Area Not Reduced By Lot Exchanges—Dodds

Ald. Hurrell Dodds, chairman of the board of works, said today that the Charlotte St. parking area was not reduced by the recent exchange of lots by Walter Ferguson and the Dominion Government.

"The new part fronting on Louis St. is just about the same in extent as the section on King St. which is now part of the bus terminal," Ald. Dodds said. "The recent news story about this exchange may have left an impression that there was less parking space. On the whole I think the accommodation is about the same as it was with the King St. frontage."

The Examiner's reference to the alteration in the parking area was mainly the loss of the greater convenience of entry and exit off King St. The narrow width of Louis St. is a disadvantage of approach, and entrance off Charlotte St. tends to impede traffic on that street.

Ald. Grant Miller suggested to the council Monday night the widening of Louis St. In negotiations with the Department of Public Works that improvement has been virtually arranged by the council of one of the recent years, but it is not likely to be put into effect until the government decides to clear off the buildings on its property east of Louis and south of Charlotte St. That would be a preliminary to building a postal-customs building, probably terminating the use of the area for public parking.

For the present, as Ald. Dodds mentioned, the public should know that the area of the parking lot has not been reduced, but the new approach is off Louis St. and also from Charlotte St.

Hundreds Mourn Late P. G. Towns

One of the largest funerals in the history of Douro township was held Wednesday morning at 9 a.m. to St. Joseph's Church, Douro, to pay last respects to the community's most popular citizen, the late Patrick G. Towns, age 75, who died Monday at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, after a short five-day illness.

The body was taken from the home of William Towns at 8:45 a.m. to St. Joseph's Church for high requiem mass at 9 a.m. The Rev. J. J. McCarthy was celebrant and was assisted by the Rev. Gerard Sullivan. Pallbearers were Charles, Joseph Jr., Francis, Paul, Joseph of Rochester, N.Y., all of the Towns family and Francis Heffernan. Two grandsons, Bernard and Joseph Heffernan, were altar boys. Burial was at St. Joseph's Cemetery.

There were a great many floral tributes to commemorate the passing of this respected kindly citizen who, coming from pioneer stock, was a pioneer of many local welfare efforts in his community. He was owner of the general store in the hamlet. Postmaster for 52 years, township treasurer for 42 years and one of the men responsible for bringing Hydro-Electric power to the township. Mr. Towns was chief promoter of the Douro Old Boys reunion in 1925 and the parish picnic, a well-known Labor Day event in the county, was also due to his organizational ability.

Surviving are his wife, the former Ellen O'Brien; three daughters, Mrs. Francis Heffernan of Douro, Mrs. Joseph O'Leary of Sunderland and Sister Mary Denis of St. Joseph's Order in Quebec; four sons: William, Charles, Joseph, Francis, all of Douro; a sister, Mrs. Albert O'Connor of Detroit, and two brothers, Paul of Douro and Joseph of Rochester, NY.

Crossing Levelled

Workmen were levelling the CPR crossing on Rink St. this morning, immediately north of Raybestos factory. They were removing the corrugations, the corduroy effect of the rails projecting above the fill of gravel. This is one of the lateral streets from that main thoroughfare of Park-Rubidge. It also diverts traffic from Charlotte St., but the surface was so rough lately that it must have been a discouragement to motorists. Apparently "the mountains are being brought low" today, and cars may head off along Rink St. toward George St., to escape the market clock jams, with no shake-up at the CPR.

Junior Kiwanis Get Charter, Induct Officers

Charter Night of the St. Peter's High School Key Club was held on Wednesday evening at the YMCA. The Key Club is sponsored by the Peterborough Kiwanis Club and has been in existence for just under two months. The charter was presented to William Duignan, president of the Key Club, by Kenneth P. Greenaway, of Guelph, governor of Ontario, Quebec, Maritime District of Kiwanis International, and guest speaker.

The subject of Mr. Greenaway's speech was "Our changing world and youth's place in it." 'Change," he said, is inevitable to progress. We want to recognize that there is no class of people to whom change is more welcome than youth. They are always willing to meet new conditions, so we need not be seriously disturbed by the changes, which face the youth in our modern world."

Mr. Greenaway then referred to a survey made throughout North America before the last war, and sponsored by the YMCA with the purpose of obtaining the opinions of youth. "First of all," he said, "that report reveals that the youth are revolting against the mechanization of life." His answer to the problem was a new education and a new concept of the machine. The report mentioned the disillusionment of youth due in his opinion to the decay of self-reliance, which must be restored. A third thing he discovered in the report was a protest against the profit motive in life. "The remedy," he said, "is to put service in place of profit as a motive for our vocational life." Youth also condemned the competitive method in life, which he said "ought never to be allowed for the necessities of life. In place of this competition we have got to put co-operation." The last thing he noticed from the report as the protest of youth against war and their readiness to advocate peace, which he felt was a great power in the world today.

He continued by saying that youth had the spirit of adventure and romance but lacked wisdom and experience. "But, over and above all these things," he said, "we need the force of religion. Above our social and national emblems, there is the emblem of religion, the power of dynamism which alone can bring us out of this pessimism and despair and set us upon the hills of peace and prosperity."

Mr. Greenaway was introduced by Jack Allen and thanked by William Duignan. The induction of officers then took place by their counterparts in the Kiwanis Club: president, William Duignan by Ted Pridham; vice-president Gordon Monahan by Vincent McCabe; secretary, Lawrence O'Toole by Ernest Bartlett; treasurer, Gerald O'Neill by T. T. Rodger. Walter Howell then presented Lawrence O'Toole with the banner, gong, striker and secretary's kit, after which Dennis Fitzgerald presented buttons to all the members. A pledge of support was given by Gordon Monahan and the Rev. J. F. Houlihan made the closing remarks, thanking the Kiwanis Club and congratulating the members of the Key Club. William Duignan presided at the meeting.

Cow Dead After Sale Buyer Asks Damages, Court Reserves Judgment

Judge Sheldon L. Smoke reserved judgment today on a suit for damages brought by Reginald Foster, RR 4, Bobcaygeon, against Thomas Hetherington, Smith township, near Nassau. Foster charged that he had purchased a Jersey cow from Hetherington almost a year ago and it had died two days later. A counter claim was laid by Hetherington that he had not received payment for a calf obtained by Foster a few days afterwards.

Foster said he had approached Hetherington in May, 1947, to negotiate the purchase of a Jersey cow about to freshen. They agreed to a price of $190 and Foster said he paid $100 down without seeing any particular animal.

He said he returned to Hetherington's farm the next day with a truck, accompanied by Murray Barr and John Barr, Buckhorn, and Mervin Embury, a neighbor. Allowed a choice of the cows about to freshen, Foster said he selected one and asked Hetherington if it were in good condition. He said the defendant affirmed that it was, and that he loaded the cow into the truck and paid the balance of the purchase price.

Next morning he said that he noticed the cow was lying down and within the next two days a veterinary surgeon, Dr. Archie McKinnon, Bobcaygeon, paid three visits; then it died.

Perform Post Mortem

Dr. McKinnon said he treated the Jersey and later performed a post mortem. He said it showed signs of anaemia, calcium deficiency and contained a calf which he believed had been dead between a week and 10 days.

The calf was described as no larger than a jackrabbit and also undernourished. It was his opinion that the cow died of an inflammation set up by the dead calf.

No Guarantee

Hetherington said he had agreed to the price, and was paid, but he claimed he did not guarantee that it was a good cow.

Questioned by W. J. Arthur Fair, for the plaintiff, Hetherington said he has never in his business dealings guranteed a sale.

"There's the cow, look her over," was his reply to Foster who had asked if it was a good cow.

He said Foster had made "his own free choice" and he believed the animal was healthy when it was sold. He estimated it was due to deliver the calf in about five days.

After the death of the cow he said Foster came to his farm, explained that he was hard hit by the loss and agreed to buy a calf for $50, and also wanted a cow to replace the original one.

He said he did not get the money, and made no commitment to sell the cow. This was denied by Foster who claimed he paid the $50 for the calf on the verbal understanding he would receive a cow later that night.

Ralph O. Standish represented Hetherington.

Judge Smoke left the two solicitors to hand in written closing arguments and reserved judgment.

Shed And Garage Damaged By Fire

Fire Wednesday night did an unknown amount of damage to the frame shed and garage of Augustino Mastrianni, 267-69 Townsend St.

The wooden frame structure contained baby buggies, tires, tools and other equipment. There was no car in the garage at the time.

Firemen report that the heat from the blaze was so intense it started the tar running from the insul-brick covering of the house some 20 feet away.

Both extent of the damage and cause of the fire are as yet unknown. Acting Fire Chief George Smith is invectigating.

Evergreens Show Some Blight After Winter

The evergreens figuratively took off their woollens too soon. The penalty was that brownish blight many people have been asking about. It is called winter drying.

Dominion Department of Agriculture says it occurs in late winter or early spring when the temperature of the air surrounding the coniferous trees become sufficiently high to activate the leaves, causing them to give off moisture. This is a normal process during the growing season, at which time the water lost in replaced from the roots.

But, when the ground is still frozen such replacement is impossible. So, leaf tissue is killed and gradually dries out. The affected leaves become a bright reddish brown.

Winter injury occurs every year. Apparently its extent was more widespread than usual this season. It resulted from abnormally high amount of sunshine in late February and early March, combined with subnormal snowfall permitting frost to penetrate deeply.

"Though there were no unusually mild days in the early months of the year, it was the temperature of the air immediately surrounding the leaves rather than a general temperature reading, which was important. Since the injury is caused by an increase in temperature as a result of the direct rays of the sun, it follows that individual trees in locations exposed to the sun will be most seriously affected. But, winter injury does not occur uniformly. It may attack one tree, while another of the same species close by may remain quite green. It is difficult to explain these variations.

In severe cases all the leaves and the buds may be killed. Then the tree dies. This, however, is unusual. In no instance this year have killed buds been observed. It most cases the discoloration of foliage has been confined to the outer part of the leaves, formed last year, although occasionally older leaves have been injured.

At present the damage appears to be serious, but in reality this is not so. When the new shoots and leaves have completed their growth this year the appearance of the trees will be remarkably improved. Injury is only temporary disfigurement, and possibly a slight reduction in the date of growth for a time.

Usefulness Of Prices Committee Challenged In Sharp Exchange

OTTAWA, April 22—(CP)—The usefulness of the special committee on prices was challenged yesterday in a sharp exchange between Liberal and Conservative members. Two Progressive Conservatives demanded that the committee's view of its own usefulness be tested by making an interim report to parliament on the work done so far. They were Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) and Cecil Merritt (PC—Vancouver Burrard). They clashed sharply with Health Minister Martin, chairman, and Ralph Maybank, vice-chairman.

The dispute started after William Irvine (CCF—Cariboo) drew attention to a story in Tuesday's Ottawa Journal. It quoted critical remarks by Mr. Fleming and an unidentified CCF member on the committee's usefulness. Mr. Fleming had said that it was dreary and futile, the CCF member that it was "a laugh."

Mr. Irvine said he was not the C.C.F. member quoted. He had opposed creation of the committee in parliament but as a member he sought to make it useful. He declared that its work could be of great service to the country.

"I don't need to re-iterate my views," said Mr. Fleming. "I have expressed them to members of the committee."

Mr. Martin said Mr. Fleming's view had never been expressed in the committee.

No Publicity

Mr. Maybank said they had not been expressed to him and he felt the reason was that there would have been no publicity gained. He assured Mr. Fleming who protested, that he meant what he had said and later re-iterated the suggestion that Mr. Fleming's view had been expressed to a newspaper for the sake of publicity.

Mr. Fleming told the committee his views implied no reflection on the counsel who arrange the evidence and continued:

"The cost of living has continued to rise since the committee was appointed. It is higher now than it has ever been in our history."

The lack of public interest, he maintained, showed that the committee's work had not been productive.

"If members take issue with my views I suggest that the feeling of the committee be tested by making an interim report to parliament."

GAS STATION—NOT ATOM BOMB — Resembling the Bikini atom bomb explosion, flames an dsmoke erupt spectacularly as an explosion of 10,000 gallons of gasoline spreads fire which menaced the town of Tolleson, Arizona, recently. Twenty-eight persons suffered burns. An oil plant, grocery and the service station, above, were destroyed.

Parliament 'At Home'

OTTAWA, April 22 — (CP). — The wives of the cabinet ministers last night played host to 1,700 persons in a glittering reception in the parliament buildings. Members of the Commons and the Senate, wives, the diplomatic corps, deputy ministers and other high government officials, accompanied by their wives, attended the "At Home."

Bottom, British armored cars prepare to convoy truckloads of food over the vital road which leads to the besieged Holy City.

Fresh Slate of Speakers Halts Non-Confidence Vote

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, April 22—(CP).—The on-again, off-again Commons debate on freight rates should come to a head today. The lingering discussion, now running into its ninth sitting, was to have ended yesterday but a fresh slate of speakers delayed its conclusion. Only one or two speakers remain.

When the debate comes to a close, votes will be taken on two motions of non-confidence in the Government. Moved by the CCF and Progressive Conservative parties, they condemn the 21-per-cent. freight-rate increase which became effective two weeks ago.

Yesterday, seven members from outlying provinces rose to have their say on the rate boost and most of them were against it. One, a Liberal member, said he would support the Government.

They included Dr. T. V. Grant (L—King's), Hazen Argue (CCF—Wood Mountain), John Blackmore (SC—Lethbridge), Mrs. Gladys Strum (CCF-Qu'Appelle), Frank T. Stanfield (PC—Colchester-Hants), William Bryce (CCF—Selkirk) and H. W. Herridge (People's CCF—Kootenay West).

At the House opening, Transport Minister Chevrier said he would have to consider whether the rate increase should apply to grain moving over the Hudson Bay Railway to the Manitoba port of Churchill. Applications seeking the increase did not mention this line.

Finance Minister Abbott reported that Canadian subsidiaries of United States companies converted $16,100,000 in Canadian dollars into U.S. funds during the first quarter of 1948. The converted funds were used for payments to the parent companies in the U.S. or to American shareholders.

As the rate debate droned, Dr. Grant said that when the Conservatives were in power they boosted railway revenues by cutting salaries and reducing services. The Liberals did the job out in the open by awarding a rate increase. He had received no protests from the Maritimes against the higher charges.

Opposes Increase

Mrs. Strum said that while she agreed the railways needed more revenue and their employees needed higher wages, she was opposed to the increase as granted by the Board of Transport Commissioners. Railways were the lifeblood of the prairies since they lacked highway and water transportation facilities.

Mr. Argue disagreed with Mr. Chevrier's contention that the provinces opposing the rate increase application had not asked that inequalities be removed. He quoted from several provincial briefs to support his argument that they had made such demands.

Mr. Blackmore said it cost more was a greater distance. It would Alberta than to Vancouver, which to ship goods from Montreal to appear that "some evil genius" was determined that the western provinces were to have no chance for development.

Mr. Bryce said the western farmer was finding himself squeezed between increasing costs and low fixed prices.

Salvation Army Leader To Visit Canada

TORONTO, April 22—General Albert Orsborn, CBE, International leader of The Salvation Army, will arrive in Canada on Saturday, May 1, according to word received at the Canadian headquarters here.

Accompanying the General, who has recently conducted inspection tours of Salvation Army work in Africa and European countries, will be Mrs. Orsborn, Commissioner J. B. Smith, International Secretary for the Americas; and Lieut.-Colonel Edgar Grinsted, International Youth Secretary.

General Orsborn's Canadian tour will be divided into two phases. Beginning in Montreal he will travel westward to Vancouver, addressing gatherings in all the principal cities. On May 18, in Chicago, he will meet the first Pan-American conference of Salvation Army executive officers.

Returning to Canada early in June, the General will visit several Maritime centres, finishing the tour at Halifax.

As world president of the Home League, a "serving sisterhood" of 50,000 volunteer workers, Mrs. Orsborn will address women's ralies at all centres visited.

From Ottawa, General Orsborn will speak to the Canadian people over the Trans-Canada network, Monday, May 3, at 6:45 p.m. (Eastern Time).

GENERAL ORSBORN

Obituary

MRS. MARY HARRINGTON

Mrs. Mary Harrington, age 73, of Lot 8, Concession 14, Ennismore township, died Tuesday at her residence after a lingering illness. She was born in Douro township, daughter of the late Michael Leahy and Johanna Allen, and had lived in Ennismore for the past 43 years.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Stephen Scott (Loretta) of Douro and Mrs. Daniel Cavanagh (Mary) of Ennismore. There are two sons, Michael of Ennismore and Francis of Peterborough and a sister, Mrs. Michael Ryan (Hannah) also resides here. Her husband, the late Bernard Harrington, predeceased her 14 years ago.

Mrs. Harrington was a very active member of St. Martin's Catholic Church, Ennismore, while her health permitted and belonged to the Catholic Women's League and the Altar Society.

The body is resting at the family residence until 9.30 a.m. Friday when it will be taken to St. Martin's Church for Requiem Mass at 10 a.m. Burial will be at St. Martin's Cemetery.

UAW CHIEF SHOT—Walter P. Reuther, 40-year-old president of the United Auto Workers Union, who is "resting comfortably" in hospital in Detroit, Mich., after being severely wounded by a bullet fired by an assassin through the window of his home. Reuther, whose big Auto Union is in the midst of its 1948 wage boost drive, had just returned home from a UAW executive board meeting. The weapon was believed to be a 16-guage shot-gun.

BUYS AND WHYS BY Barbara Brent

A weekly shopping and information service for today's women

MONTREAL, April 22nd. — I'm thankful every morning—and at noon and dinnertime, too!—for that wonderful Silex Coffee Maker of mine. You'll be convinced, too—once you've tried it—that Silex makes good coffee better . . . and it's so easy! Simply fill the lower bowl with water, measure coffee into the upper bowl. Turn the heat on, the water will boil and rise to the upper bowl. Stir the mixture in the upper bowl. In a minute or two, turn the heat off and the coffee will return to the lower bowl . . . filtered—clear and utterly delicious! Your Silex Coffee Maker, made of Pyrex glass, can be used on either a gas or electric range . . . always with "just-right" results. So be sure to ask for the "one and only" SILEX . . . and, remember, replacement parts are easily obtainable at your dealer's.

Are You One Of Those Women who spends Spring on her knees, scrubbing and cleaning? Here's a way to get back on your feet again! Take time off, morning and afternoon, for a Vi-Tone pick-up. Just mix Vi-Tone with hot or cold milk—sip, and zip!—you're ready for anything! Vi-Tone has a delicious, chocolaty flavor—and Vi-Tone is an energy food rich in minerals, vitamins and other elements essential for maintaining vitality. Everyone in the family loves Vi-Tone any time, with meals, between meals. Try a free, trial tin of VI-TONE—write to me—Barbara Brent, Dept. A-2, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

Whoosh! Away goes that grease spot in a jiffy . . . and your Spring suit is as clean and neat as it was this morning when you put it on. Sounds like magic — doesn't it? Well, Energine Cleaning Fluid works like magic! And Energine is so easy to use! Just follow the directions and it cleans without leaving tell-tale rings. Keep dresses — hats — handbags —upholstery . . . looking like new with Energine! In fact, I've found there's almost no end to the things Energine will keep clean. Ask for ENERGINE to-morrow at your drug or department store!

Salads . . . good, green, luscious salads . . . are not a thing of the happy past—in spite of the vegetable shortage! Here's how to have one of the best salads you've ever tasted . . . Ingredients: Crisp cabbage — chopped up. Onions — chopped. Unsalted walnuts. Raisins . . . and MAZOLA Salad Oil for the FRENCH DRESSING . . .

1 cup Mazola	1 tspn. dry mustard
½ cup cider vinegar	Dash cayenne
1 tspn. sugar	Few drops Worcestershire Sauce
1 tspn. salt
½ tspn. paprika

Place all ingredients in a tightly covered jar and shake well. Shake also each time before serving.

It's Really making news these days . . . this wonderful fabric called nylon! Head to toe . . . it's budget-wise—fashion-perfect—beautiful-to-look-at and oh-so-easy-to-wear. Nylon lingerie, for instance. Have you seen the lovely nylon undies in store for you? Nighties—slips—panties or bras . . . fashioned to fit and to wear and wear! You see, the beauty of nylon is its lasting beauty. And what's more . . . it's so easy to wash—dries so quickly and doesn't need to be ironed at all. Ask to see the lovely nylon lingerie fashions in your favourite store—and do remember to look for that important C-I-L Nylon Lingerie Tag!

Are Your Youngsters sometimes difficult at breakfast? Here's an easy, wonderful way to chase those breakfast blues . . . to make breakfast a pleasant meal! To-morrow morning, serve a ready-to-eat cereal that's bright and amusing—Kellogg's Rice Krispies! Children love the gay "Snap-Crackle-Pop" of Rice Krispies when you pour on milk or cream. Rice Krispies positively chirrup with crispness. Serve these pert golden bubbles of rice to your whole family. They're FUN to eat! Ask your grocer for KELLOGG'S RICE KRISPIES . . . delicious, oven-popped rice made by the Kellogg Company of Canada Limited!

Fine Spring Days are ideal for leisurely walks . . . and a neighborly visit when homeward bound! So be prepared these days for "spur of the moment" entertaining when friends drop in, with a good supply of little cakes or cookies, and the "makings" for something to drink, hot or cool as befits the occasion. Cocoa perhaps, made extra special with BAKER'S COCOA. I've learned that with Baker's, I can count on rich, true chocolate flavor—always. Children particularly love cocoa—serve it steaming hot or frosty cold. Made the Baker's way, it's brimful of important nourishment! The recipe for its making is on the label, as well as a grand Cocoa Syrup to keep in the refrigerator to use as a short-cut to a variety of delicious drinks. As for the cookies—whenever your cookie recipe calls for cocoa, you can't do better than enjoy the benefit of Baker's Cocoa in them, too!

No Need To Worry about the stale after-smell of your husband's cigar! . . . here's how to let him enjoy it and not be bothered one bit by thoughts of a smelly sitting room: Uncap a bottle of Vapair . . . pull the wick—and almost instantly cigar-smell will vanish! For this same room deodorant that's so quick to banish cabbage and onion odours from your kitchen . . . works just as effectively to clear the air of every kind of unpleasant smell—from cigar to dog or bird-cage! And it costs less than a cent each time to use! So why not keep every crack and cranny of your home pleasantly, freshly fragrant with Vapair. Ask for VAPAIR —in the big-value, ten-ounce bottle—at your favourite drug or department store.

Here's Mealtime Magic for you! . . . an easy, easy dish to prepare and so delicious your family will shout for it again and again! I mean HEINZ COOKED SPAGHETTI . . . hearty, wholesome and full of taste appeal. Try this recipe some evening soon! . . .

SPAGHETTI AND MEAT BALLS

Soften ½ cup dry bread cubes in ¼ cup milk. Mix lightly with 1 lb. ground beef, 2 tbspns. minced onion, 1 egg, beaten, 1 tspn. salt, dash pepper. Form into 12 balls. Brown in 1 tbspn. fat. Drain. Mix with spaghetti in casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 20 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

You Carefully Choose your new Spring hat for the pleasure it will give you and your friends. Choose your coffee for the same reason . . . coffee is meant to be enjoyed! That's why Chase & Sanborn Coffee is so very, very popular. It's REAL coffee and its zestful flavour delights everyone—from the first sip! Taste it for yourself and I think you'll agree that Chase & Sanborn is REAL coffee! Ask your grocer to-morrow for Chase & Sanborn Coffee in the vacuum-packed tin that assures you of freshness. . . . Wish I could be there to enjoy it with you!

Everyone's Talking About . . . Hooked Rugs! It's a hobby that's taken Canada by storm! I've run into it at women's clubs—in friends' homes . . . everyone busily hooking their very own version of how they like a hooked rug to look! It's a new hobby from an old craft that's not only fascinating but exceptionally useful. Easy—inexpensive . . . all you need: a set of wooden frames —burlap—bits of cloth or worsteds —a steel rug hook and colorful, All-fabric Tintex Dyes. Write to me—Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.—for your copy of "Hooked Rugs—A New Hobby from an Old Craft"—costs you just 10c to cover postage . . . gives you complete information on how to hook a rug.

It's Fun to dream of summer holidays when the warm Spring sunshine begins. You can turn those dreams into reality by saving now for your vacation. This is where I've found the BANK OF MONTREAL particularly helpful. I simply put part of my B of M savings into what I call a "Sunshine Account". You'll find that saving a portion of your pay cheque in this way does wonders for your morale. And when you come back from this summer's vacation—begin saving immediately for next year's holiday! After you've built up your "Sunshine Account" for a year, you'll be able to take a really carefree holiday. It can be done . . . at the B of M!

The Bitter Cold And The Driving Snow plagued the little party of three hunters as they staggered wearily through the forest, dragging with them a huge deer. Finally the strain of walking through the snow was too much and they abandoned the deer. After twelve miles of weary plodding one of the hunters, Emile Boufanger, was overcome with cramps from eating snow and drinking ice-water. He staggered, fell, and lost consciousness. Philibert Proux, the guide, stopped beside him to help and rest and immediately fell into that most fatal of dozes . . . sleep in a snowstorm. The one remaining man, Laurent Vandal, seeing the blizzard growing worse, gathered brush for a fire and after a struggle, succeeded in starting it. He could have deserted his comrades and plodded the remaining miles back to camp, but he stayed with them 'til they revived and half-carried them back to camp. They had begun their homeward journey at 7.30 p.m. and arrived at the camp, half dead, through 22-inch-deep snow, at 4 o'clock in the morning. Thanks to the courage and endurance of Laurent Vandal, they are all now alive and well. As a tribute to his gallantry . . . the DOW AWARD, including a $100 Canada Savings Bond, is being presented to Laurent Vandal of Sherbrooke, Quebec. The Dow Award, presented from time to time to a Canadian hero or heroine for outstanding bravery, is sponsored by DOW BREWERY in Montreal.

Jackson Claims CCF Clubs No Recognition In Union

OPENS FUND DRIVE—Calling a Democrat - Republican coalition, including President Truman, "ignorant and short-sighted" and "out to enslave the world," third-party U.S. candidate Henry Wallace (right) opened a fund-raising drive at a $100-a-plate dinner in New York, Wallace added that the spread of communism throughout the world is due to the policies of "Truman, Stassen, Martin and Dewey." He then posed for the photographers, against a painting of old Wall Street.

TORONTO, April 22 — C. S. Jackson, president of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO) this week issued a statement commenting upon a press report that representatives of local unions of the UE met in Toronto on Sunday and formed a "UE-CCF Unity Committee."

Mr. Jackson stated that such a body is not authorized to act in the name of the UE and has no recognition within the union. He said:

"In accordance with a decision made by our District Council and approved by our locals, this organization is setting up Political and Legislative Action Committees to assist in working for the election of CCF governments. No individuals who might constitute themselves a committee have any authority to act in the name of this organization, and have no recognition within the union."

Mr. Jackson announced that several locals have already established the authorized Political and Legislative Committees to date and other locals are in the process of setting up such committees. The district office of the union is lending every assistance in the development of their activities.

Father Kills Self

ST. HYACINTHE, Que.—April 22 — (CP). — A father of 10 children committed suicide yesterday after allegedly trying to kill his wife with an axe, police reported. Police said that Joseph Laplerre, 48, jumped into the Yamaska River after striking his 45-year-old wife on the head with an axe. Mrs. Laplerre is in serious condition in hospital.

Hello Folks!

"An important part of my diet ever since my first bottle has been Crown Brand Corn Syrup. Now, that may be all right for a little character like myself, but let me tell you, these grown-ups sure are lucky what with Mom serving them Crown Brand Corn Syrup with so many of their dishes. And she uses it in her baking, too, as a sweetener. I can hardly wait until I'm old enough to have some hot waffles or pancakes smothered with delicious Crown Brand. If it's as good as it is in my cereal—mmmmm!"

For years doctors have recommended the use of Crown Brand Corn Syrup as a satisfactory carbohydrate acting as a milk modifier for bottle-fed infants.

BABY'S UPSET STOMACH QUICKLY CORRECTED

BABY'S little "Tummy" is often easily upset. It is easily righted again, too, if you know just how to do it. Let Mrs. M. S. Alway, of London, Ont., tell you: "Baby's Own Tablets are a great help at the first sign of upset stomach, during teething time or when a cold is coming on. They work quickly yet gently to carry away poisons and promote restful comfort."

And Mrs. W. R. Sharp says: "I nursed my baby shortly after being alarmed over a motor accident and her stomach became quite upset. I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and she soon stopped crying — and quieted down."

Equally effective for teething troubles, constipation, simple fever. Sweet-tasting, easily crushed to a powder, if desired — prompt in action. No "sleepy" stuff — no dulling effect. Buy a box today for sickness so often strikes in the night. 25 cents.

BALANCE BUDGET — While most other hospitals in Ontario were piling up deficits in 1947, Kitchener-Waterloo General balanced its budget although increasing its staff and payroll. Economies were effected for the taxpayers by doing other civic departments' laundry at the hospital, by making its own soap, floor wax and several drug compounds, besides buying milk direct from farmers. Stanley Statia, hospital pharmacist, makes a germicide, on which several dollars per gallon are saved.

Britain May Adopt Plan Of Speaking In Two Houses

By JAMES McCOOK.

LONDON, April 22 — (CP).— Canada copied Britain's parliamentary procedure but soon Britain may take over a Canadian idea.

Whitehall experts ponder, with growing enthusiasm, the Canadian decision that Cabinet ministers should be able to speak in the Senate as well as the Commons.

With House of Lords reform now being examined and far-reaching changes in prospect in the Upper House, the Canadian system may well be introduced. When British ministers see their legislation being knocked about in the Lords, they would like to be able to give their own explanations rather than brief a party peer to state their case.

Labor Government Interested

The arrangement has, under present conditions, a particular interest for the Labor Government. There are only 42 Labor peers in a Chamber where, if they use their rights, 845 members are entitled to sit. This means that in the rush of Labor Government legislation, the small band of Labor spokesmen, led by Viscount Addison, 79, has been overworked.

Advocates will recall that arrangements for ministers to speak in the Upper House were suggested during the last 50 years and came to nothing because governments hesitated to make a change.

Previous Plans.

The late Lord Birkenhead, an outstanding orator, made a hearing for Commons' ministers an integral part of his Lords' reform plan put forward in 1925. It was said at the time that he accepted the Lord Chancellorship in the First World War on condition that ministers later would be given the right of speech in both Houses. However, nothing was done.

The all-party talks on Lords' reform this year will examine proposals to make over the entire organization of the Upper Chamber and even the system of hereditary succession to seats in the Lords may be abandoned. Amid such re-organization, the new facilities for ministers would represent a small item.

24 Students Leave Halifax

OTTAWA, April 22 — (CP). — Twenty-four students from Queen's University who left Halifax Tuesday on the Algerine escort vessel Portage are in the vanguard of nearly 1,000 members of university naval training divisions who will see practical service at sea this summer, navy headquarters announced yesterday.

The Queen's student-seamen now are on their way to Bermuda for a fortnight of seafaring.

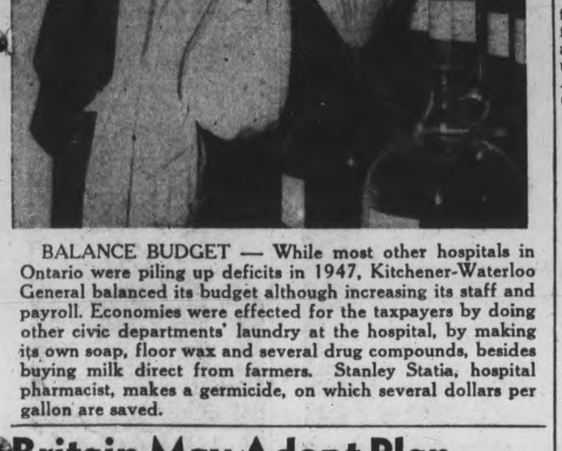
Next Sunday will see the UNTD tide swell as a draft of 80 students from Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Queen's and McGill universities gather at Halifax. Among them will be a number of executive branch officer candidates who will spend the whole summer in uniform.

They will start with three weeks at navigational school, two in seamanship classes, two more in a divisional course, and the remainder of the time afloat until they return to university in the fall.

Mother Kills Son

TORONTO, April 22 — (CP). — Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson said last night a 28-year-old woman killed her six-year-old son, Clive, by slashing his throat with a knife and then ended her own life. He added that the woman, Mrs. Elaine Mary Duncan, apparently had been mentally deranged.

Extra Winnipeg Train



TORONTO, April 22 — (CP). — In addition to regular trans-continental service, the Canadian Pacific Railway will operate a train between Toronto and Winnipeg starting next Sunday, it was announced today. It will leave Toronto at 10.20 p.m. EST daily.

A SLIGHT MISCALCULATION — The nose of a new car, owned by Dr. Henry A. Wahn, the Bronx, New York, is shown after it went through the brick wall of the doctor's garage. The slight miscalculation was made by Dr. Wahn's 17-year-old daughter, Mary Ann, who was teaching herself to drive. Nobody was hurt, but the garage will need a major operation.

American Envoy's Daughter Delights Younger-Britons

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM

LONDON, April 21.—(AP).—A year ago a gay and comely teen-age girl from Arizona came to London and caused hardly a flutter.

She shines today as one of the brightest stars in the younger social set and a favorite of British royalty.

Tall, lissom Sharman Douglas, 19 ..year - old daughter of U.S. Ambassador and Mrs. Lewis Douglas, has caught on. An intimate friend of Princess Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, she has completely won over hard-to-impress Britons as perhaps few other American girls have.

The princesses apart, and maybe a film star or two, she is the most photographed girl in the land. Matchmakers have linked her name with that of the blue-blooded young Marquess of Milford Haven. He has been her most frequent escort to the theatre and fashionable West End restaurants.

The Douglas family tries to scotch the rumors. Responsible embassy sources, obviously solidly backed up, say "there is not a word of truth in these reports nor in any other tittle-tattle hinting that Miss Douglas is engaged or about to be engaged."

They grant she has boy friends aplenty—nothing serious in any direction, of course—but emphasize if there is a special one it's a family secret.

"If there is such a thing as a typical American girl, free of false glamor and sophisticated airs," said a London newspaper editor recently, "we think Sharman fits the description."

Chummy With Princesses

Clearly, the Royal Family sized her up in that way, too. That Sharman is the only girl not of the royal circle who is on a chummy footing with the princesses is a dead give-away of palace sentiment toward her. With Elizabeth, Prince Philip and Margaret Rose she has gone to the theatre, and backstage also, mingling unselfconsciously with excited artists.

Precisely what the Royal Family thinks of Sharman is its own private business. But there can be no doubt that it is amused. Her way of putting things makes the King laugh. The Queen likes her frank, open American quality. The Duchess of Kent was overheard to say: "A sweet child —and unspoiled." The young daughters of the House of Windsor are fond of her, of course, because, leaving out the differences in upbringing, she is a good deal like themselves.

New York-born Sharman landed here fresh from a year in Vassar and her coming-out in Manhattan. In order to get "a bit of solid earth" she has enrolled in a secretarial college which she attends six hours daily, excepting two days when a tutor instructs her at home.

Sharman's father is a native of Arizona, but her grandfather and great-grandfather both were Canadian-born. The latter, Dr. James Douglas, was at one time chancellor of Queen's University and later a governor and benefactor of McGill. Ambassador Douglas, before returning to the United States for the war years, was principal of McGill from October, 1937, until June, 1939.

Of Interest to Women

goes on from the first of life until death.

Mrs. G. Manlece of Peterborough YWCA camp committee spoke briefly giving interesting facts concerning Camp Inglestane on Stony Lake. Mr. Henry of the YMCA spoke in regard to the boys' camp.

Miss Sylvia Nicholls, nine-year-old pupil, sang a pleasing solo "Teddy Bears On Parade." Miss Lois Murray of Bridgenorth entertained with fine guitar selections.

An enjoyable social period followed with Mrs. A. Connors, convener, in charge.

SACRED HEART SCHOOL

The Rt. Rev. Monsignor J O'Brien opened the general meeting of Sacred Heart Home and School Association Tuesday evening with prayer. Mr. J. F. Kirkcaldy, president, welcomed the guests and gave a brief outline of a field day planned for the children in June. Mrs. M. Murray, secretary, read a report on the OEA convention in Toronto which Mrs. H. Connelly and Miss M. Collins attended as delegates.

Mr. W. DeNoble introduced the speaker, Dr. W. S. Fitzpatrick. The subject of his address was "Communicable disease including measles, mumps, chicken pox, common colds and poliomyelitis. "Diphtheria is a disease that is practically dying out" he said. "Whooping cough kills more children than any other disease. Scarlet fever is not considered as serious now as formerly.

"It is better for a female child to take German measles in childhood, since if contracted in womanhood and during the first four months of pregnancy, they can lead to a defective child." Regarding the poliomelitis, he explained that it usually comes around "fruit and fly" time and Dr. Fitzpatrick urged that all fruit be washed before eating.

"Do not send children to school when they have a cold," he warned. "Put them to bed and isolate them immediately." He also urged that every child be inoculated and that the Home and School Association should join in the fight against cancer.

Mr. J. Riel thanked Dr. Fitzpatrick on behalf of the Association.

Mrs. M. McDougall, social convener, served lunch.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION SCHOOL

The Rev. Gerald O'Reilly, Superior of the Redemptorist Order here, was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Immaculate Conception Home and School Association Monday evening. The subject was "Character Training in Children."

Father O'Reilly stated that knowledge without character was useless. He stressed the importance of starting early to train the child in the right principles of conduct and seeing that the child lives up to them. He outlined various influences on the child such as hereditary environment and habit formation. The speaker referred to "a sense of responsibility—respect of authority and self control" as the most important traits of character to develop.

Mr. William O'Toole moved a vote of thanks to Father O'Reilly.

The president, Mrs. H. Guerin and Mrs. Jos. Anthony gave reports on the convention they attended in Toronto during Easter week.

Mr. J. Kirkcaldy, president of Sacred Heart Home and School Association as present and spoke briefly.

A short program was presented consisting of piano solos by Miss Dorothy Duignan, piano trio by Lawrence Towns, Jack DeNoble and David Vincent and vocal solos by Mrs. D. Campanaro. Mrs. C. O'Donnell was the accompanist.

Lunch was served in the music room by Mrs. Ray Bacon and her committee.

Casserole of Chicken All Ready for the Oven

By MARY MOORE

My little piece about sweetbreads seemed to please some of you so I want to go a little further and give you the recipe for Sweetbread and Chicken Casserole that I made this week.

Since I'm a "working' gal", when we have guests most of the food has to be prepared ahead of time.

I liked this casserole because it has a company air, and can be assembled entirely, yet put in the refrigerator until a half hour or so before serving time, and then it can be popped in the oven without my guests feeling deserted for more than a minute or so. There are hundreds of us who have to resort to these slick quick tricks.

Casserole of Chicken And Sweetbreads

One pound of beef sweetbreads (order these well ahead from your butcher), 2 cups cooked chicken meat (or 2 7-oz. tins canned chicken), 2 cups medium white sauce, buttered crumbs; optional ingredients: pimientos chopped, one or two egg yolks, 2 or 3 tablespoons cooking sherry, chpped parsley. Parboil the sweetbreads by plunging them in boiling water to cover, to which you have added 1 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons vinegar. Boil about 10 minutes, then immediately chill in cold water. Cut chilled sweetbreads into ½-inch cubes, Cut chicken meat into small pieces. Add this meat to the white sauce made by blending together 4 tablespoons melted butter and 4 tablespoons flour, then stirring in 2 cups whole milk or 1 cup milk and 1 cup thin cream, until thick. Season highly with salt and white pepper. Add any or all of the optional ingredients —if using the egg yolks which make the mix richer, beat them before pouring the white sauce over them. If preferred chopped hard cooked eggs may be added instead. Put in buttered casserole, cover with salted and buttered crumbs, sprinkle with paprika and bake at 375 deg. Fahr. until bubbly and gold.

True Butterscotch Pudding

Three cups whole milk or homogenized milk, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, whipping cream or pouring cream. Scald 2½ cups of the milk in top of double boiler. Combine the cornstarch, salt and remaining cold milk and stir until paste is smooth. Stir this into the scalded milk until thick, then cover and cook 25 minutes, stirring frequently. Meanwhile melt the butter in frying pan and add the brown sugar to it, and cook slowly until mixture is a liquid. Stand the double boiler mixture off the heat and pour the "butterscotch" into it is a thin stream stirring constantly, until brown sugar is thoroughly dissolved and mixed in. Remove top of double boiler from heat, cool, add vanilla and beat wel, then pour into the glasses in which it is to be served for this pudding is delicately soft and will not mould. Serve with small topping of whipped cream topped with cherry or with rich pouring cream or sprinkle with cocoanut.

In the next recipe there are quite a number of flavouring ingrdients but actually it is quite simple to make—try it for the flavor is good and a welcome change in this salad-starved land.

Jellied Tomato and Potato Salad

Four cups canned tomatoes, ½ cup diced carots, 1 sprig parsley, 1 teaspoon peppercorns, 3½ teaspons salt, ½ cup green pepper, 1 sliced onion, 1¼ cups diced celery (this may be omitted), 3 cloves, dash of mace, dash cayenne, 2½ tablespoons gelatine, ½ cup cold water, 2 tablespoons lèmon juice, 1 tablespoon bottled thick condiment sauce, ¼ cup salad dressing, ¼ cup heavy cream, 2 tablespoons vinegar, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 1½ teaspons chopped chives, 2 cups diced cooked potatoes, lettuce. Simmer together the first 11 ingredients, using only 2½ teaspoons of the salt, for about 20 mniutes Strain. Soak the gelatine in the cold water for 5 minutes. Stir the dissolved gelatine into the hot tomato mixture, and add lemon juice and condiment sauce. Meanwhile mix the remaining ingredients, except the lettuce, into a potato salad. Fill eight 3-inch moulds 1-3 full of the tomato mixture and when this is cool but not set add a heaping tablespoonful of the potato salad, and fill moulds full with remaining tomato jelly. Chill. Unmould on individual beds of lettuce (if you can get it—if not use watercress) and served piped with genuine mayonnaise, or cottage cheese.

Do try the above salad for it is a delightful change.

LOVERS KNOT BOUQUET — May and June are both months which brides dote upon, in the flowery time of the year. For those who are collecting six of this, and a dozen of that, getting set to name the day for the wedding, this beautiful bride picture is shown. The enchanting frock is made of white nylon tulle, set with medallions of lace, ruffling and sequin embroidery . . . the whole mounted on blush tint pink satin . . . and the bouquet achieves the nearly impossible: A new looking arrangement which is yet good with the classic and the ritual. Lilies of the valley have been tinted the palest pink, then set on wires to be woven into a true lovers' knot, to be carried in the bridal procession to the ceremony. Clusters of lilies trim the veil.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, April 23

ALTHOUGH there is a presage of some out-of-the-ordinary or routine opening of more than common-place significance, at the same time there is portent of confused or obscure thinking which could "cloud the issues" or annihilate exceptional chances This excellent opportunity for gain, promotion or tokens o preferment from high places, demands astute application of intelligent, sagacious and clever rationalizing and not mere flash-in-the-pan analysis of complications. Use restraint and mature judgment for exceptional opportunity.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is have splendid promise of unusual opportunities for gain, promotion, prestige and popularity, especially by the cooperation of influential personages or organizations. And while such prospect is of more than passing significance, there is a menace of complications, acting from over-confidence, of a possible speculative urge, or just a reckless confusion as to the extraordinary value of major promise. Moderation, shrewd analysis of basic factors, rationalizing, and not youthful enthusiasm, may win dynamic chance.

A child born on this day has special talents, ambitions and opportunities for progress and a spectacular career although its prolific imagination, over-confidence and gambling spirit may prove its undoing.

Directions

This is a very satisfactory One-Burner Dinner today. I know, for when we were students we had only one burner, plus an electric coffee percolator and an electric toaster. In those days I was often known to boil new potatoes in the percolator while steak was frying on the one burner!

Codfish Cakes: Flake salt codfish until you have 2 cups and soak in cold water one hour. Drain, and add to 4 cups diced raw potatoes, cover with boiling water and boil together until potatoes are tender. Do not add salt. Drain and mash thoroughly. Add 2 slightly beaten eggs, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons melted butter or cooking oil, shake each of pepper and celery salt. Fry in deep fat at 390 deg. Fhr. OR hot enough to fry 1" cube bread in 20 seconds. Fry only a few at a time. Drain on paper towelling.

Use Symbolic Color Scheme For St. George's Tea Room

A quick change of heart by the weatherman Wednesday has earned him the goodwill of Evening Guild members at St. George's Anglican Church. The bright spring sunshine that warmed the air brought a host of friends out to attend the tea held in celebration of St. George's Day, making it a thrilling success. Red and white, colors of the patron saint, were used as a decorative scheme and the red rose symbol was on admission tickets. On the central tea table, red and white tapers, were in double candlebra, and tables for displaying home cooking and fancy goods were highlighted with touches of red on white covers.

Mrs. W. White, president, welcomed the guests, assisted by Mrs. E. C. Moore. Mrs. H. Siddall attended the fancy goods table and Mrs. C. Crouter and Mrs. J. W. Carroll were in charge of bakery sales.

Presiding at the lace-covered tea table where the centerpiece was a symbolic bouquet of red tulips and white narcissus, Mrs. E. W. Cooper and Mrs. McLearn poured tea. Mrs. W. Bannon, Mrs. F. Atkinson and Mrs. A. Siddall served refreshments at small tables, made more attractive with narcissus centerpieces. Kitchen assistants were Mrs. Roy Wannamaker and Mrs. Wm. Park.

H. and S. Association Holds Spring Tea and Bake Sale

North Monaghan Grove Home and School Association held their spring tea and sale of home baking in the recreation room of the school Wednesday afternoon. Pupils had decorated the windows with attractive bird and flower cutouts for the occasion.

The tea table was in charge of Mrs. H. F. Doig and was beautiful with a white cloth, silver tea services, lighted candles and vases of yellow daffodils. Those pouring tea during the afternoon were Mrs. Bruce Johnston, Mrs. E. Clark, Mrs. W. Hargreaves and Mrs. L. H. Bird. Mrs. Eric McKinstry and Mrs. R. Linsey were in charge of serving at ten small tables.

Mrs. Jack Coit, president, and Mrs. Walter Wood, vice-president, received. Mrs. Fred Sanders registered the guests as they entered.

Mrs. H. McMahon was assisted by Mrs. H. Glover and Mrs. G. Todd at the home cooking table.

Mrs. W. W. Sheppard, social convener, had charge of the kitchen, and was assisted by Mrs. Stan Whitfield, Mrs. Russell Little, Mrs. Earl Druery, Mrs. H. Neal and Mrs. C. Barnes.

Miss Green and Douglas Linsey provided pleasing piano music during the tea hour.

MOTHER OF THE YEAR — Mrs. Helen Gartside Hines (above) of Springfield, Ill., has been selected as the U.S. mother of the year by the Golden Rule Foundation. Mrs. Hines believes in large families and even wrote a magazine article on her belief. She is 60 years of age and is the other of 10 children, nine of whom were in the armed services. She is a community and church leader and a member of the school board. Incidentally, Mrs. Hines is the mother of the largest family in "Who's Who."

elty numbers introduced.

While refreshments were served by Miss Florence Gynane and her committee, Mr. Corbett answered a number of questions on his line of work.

Next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, May 4, with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart in charge of the program, and Don Wood providing refreshments. As it has been decided to assist the Sunday School with their annual picnic, the teachers are being invited to this meeting.

All Saints WA Presents Life Memberships

Monthly devotional and business meeting of All Saints' Church WA, afternoon branch, was held Tuesday in the chapel with 40 present, including eight visitors. Mrs. C. Thackeray, president, opened with prayer. Satisfactory reports were given by conveners and officers.

Mrs. G. H. Cutmore, guest soloist, sang a favorite hymn, "Ninety and Nine" and was accompanied by Mrs. A. E. DeNure.

Highlight of the meeting was presentation of life membership certificates to Mrs. J. H. Justin and Mrs. A. Williams by Mrs. H. Connelly and Mrs. J. Edgar, with a short address of appreciation of services to each. Mrs. Justin's life membership pin was placed on by her sister, Mrs. Patterson, and Mrs. M. Metheral presented Mrs. William's pin.

The Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite spoke briefly and offered prayer.

Mrs. Metheral offered to lend her home for a party Friday evening at which a bale will be packed with donations and gifts in aid of the "Save the Children Fund." An invitation to attend is extended to all members and friends.

At close of the meeting a social hour was spent and refreshments served by branch members.

Married Couples Enjoy Evening

Murray St. Church Young Married Couples Group entertained St. Paul's Young Married Couples Club in the church parlors for an evening of games including croquinole, table tennis, Chinese checkers, and guessing contests and stunts. The Rev. Ivan C. Morgan was MC and gave a hearty welcome to the guests. Mr. George Coleman, Jr., of St. Paul's took charge of the devotional period

A circle was formed for the "hymn-naming" contest and Mrs. J. Buchanan was in charge Novelty prizes were given to high man and high lady in each game during the evening.

Feature event of the evening was the fashion show put on by male members of Murray St. Group, Messrs. Ted Naish, Clayton Ruth, Burn Wilkinson, Earl MacNabb and Jack Hayward was commentator. A balloon dance was done by Messrs. Ruth and Wilkinson for a hilarious conclusion,

A sing-song was enjoyed whle refreshments were served with Mrs. J. Arnott in charge, in the absence of Mrs. L. Horning.

Senior Group To Help SS

Senior Young People's Society of St. John's Anglican Church met in the parish hall Tuesday evening with more than 30 present, including several new members. The program was in charge of Mr. Walter Dyer and featured a talk on carpet and rug manufacturing by Mr. Clarence Corbett of Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Company. An enjoyable game of "20 Questions" followed.

A "coke" drinking contest was won by Miss Eva Clark and Leslie Dyer. In the contest to spell out words with cards held by each player the men were winners over the women. Dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening with several nov-

DOROTHY DIX

Most Circumspect Women Will Falsify Their Years

It is a well-known fact that women who are models of veracity, and who would go to the stake rather than tell an untruth about anything else in the world, will falsify their age. Why they should make such a mystery of their ages is one of the peculiarities of the feminine psychology that nobody can explain. It is just that way.

Dorothy Dix

The one secret that every woman can keep is her age. The blabber who talks on and on forever as ceaselessly as the babbling brook always stops short of blabbing one thing, and that is how old she is. A woman will confide to you the whole story of her past life. She will tell you about her lovers, her husbands, her divorces, her children, all of her family secrets, but she will never tell you her age unless she is under 20 or past 80. What lies between is silence.

This is quite right. It is nobody's business how many candles she is entitled to have on her birthday cake. Her age is her own affair, and if she gets any comfort in thinking she looks a perfect 25, when anybody can see she is a good 50, Heaven knows she is entitled to it.

But why all this bother about a woman's age? Why is Truthful Jane driven to lying about how old she is and trying to conceal her age, as if it were something scandalous, a blot on her escutcheon of which she is ashamed? Why is it more respectable to have been born in one year than it is to have been born in another?

Handsomer at Middle Age

Of course, the thing that makes women cling to youth with both hands and pretend to be debutantes long after they are grandmothers is the idea that youth is beautiful and charming and fascinating, and that as a woman gets older all of her attractions go into the discard. But this isn't true. Youth is not always a woman's best time, even in looks. Many a woman at 50 or 60 is far handsomer than she was at 20.

In her girlhood she was angular of figure, with bad features and nondescript hair. Age filled in her hollows with flesh. Experience chiseled her features into symmetry and gave them expressiveness. Time crowned her head with silver. Many an old woman is made beautiful just by the sheer goodness and sweetness in her face.

Nor is youth always charming. Generally it is hard and narrow and opinionated and conceited. It has no interests except in its own. It has no conversation except its own patter. It has no background, no memories, no experiences.

The middle-aged or older woman is more interesting than she was as a young girl. The years are bound to have taught her something. Life has mellowed her and ripened her and educated her and given her a sympathy and understanding that makes her far more fascinating as a companion than she was when she was sweet sixteen.

Therefore, why should women so hate their age that they lie pitifully about it? They only deceive themselves. But life is full of trouble for women, and if an old sheep can get any kick out of masquerading as spring lamb, let her have her fun. The unwritten law has ever granted the fair sex the prerogative of being as old as it said it was.

Of Interest to Women

HIEROGLYPHIC PRINT — The display at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, this winter, named From Casablanca to Calcutta, included in its fabric display, the cloth from which this frock is made. The design was made from Sanskrit hieroglyphs, used in broad brush strokes for the pattern. It is seen in this model in a desert blue harmony, on crepe, and the dress design has an Oriental touch too, with the sari drape and in the one sleeved, and one bare, shoulder.

6—In Memoriam

ARMSTRONG—In loving memory of our dear little friend, Jimmy, who passed away suddenly April 21, 1947.
O happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still.
—Ever remembered by Mr. and Mrs. Weir and Phil.

KENT—In loving memory of our dear mother, who passed away one year ago today.
No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered. Since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts, your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Ever remembered by daughters, Betty and Helen and son-in-law.

KENT—In loving memory of a loving mother, Mrs. George Kent, who passed away April 22, 1947.
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell
Of a loss of one we loved so well
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Sadly missed by Bill, Jean and Bobby.

KENT, Mrs. Beatrice—In loving memory of a dear wife, who passed away April 22, 1947.
In our home she is fondly remembered,
Sweet memories cling to her name;
Those who loved her in life sincerely,
Still love her in death just the same.
—Husband, son Jack and boys.

KENT—In loving memory of Mrs. George Kent, who passed away April 22, 1947.
The flowers we place upon her grave,
May wither and decay,
But the love of her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.
—Lovingly remembered by dad, Jim and Gloria.

KENT—In loving memory of mother and grandma, Mrs. George Kent Sr., who passed away one year ago today, April 22, 1947, sadly missed by son George and daughter Beatty and son-in-law Deb, and grandchildren, Joan and Fred.

THE CARPENTRY INDUSTRY

PETERBOROUGH ZONE

THE ADJOURNED MEETING of the above Industry will be held on FRIDAY, APRIL 23RD, 1948, at 8:00 p.m., in the Council Chambers, City Hall, Peterborough, Ontario.

CHAS. DALEY,
Minister of Labour.

IN THE MATTER OF THE MUNICIPAL ACT AND IN THE MATTER OF A PROPOSED BY-LAW OF THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH TO STOP UP AND CLOSE AN ALLOWANCE FOR HIGHWAY AND SELL THE SAME TO THE PETERBOROUGH HYDRAULIC POWER COMPANY LIMITED.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN Pursuant to Section 498 of The Municipal Act, that the Council of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough proposes to consider and if deemed advisable to pass at its Regular Meeting to be held at the Council Chamber, in the City Hall, in the City of Peterborough, on MONDAY, THE THIRD DAY OF MAY, 1948, at 7:30 o'clock p.m., a By-law to Stop Up and Close these Parts of certain Streets in the City of Peterborough, namely:

(1) That part of the old roadway sometimes known as Mill Street lying between the Southern limit of Murray Street and running Northerly to the water's edge of the Otonabee River.

(2) Part of the Easterly extension of London Street as shown on Registered Plan Number Eight for the said City of Peterborough, which said parcel or Tract of Land is more particularly described as follows, that is to say: ALL that part of the Easterly extension of London Street, shown on the said Plan lying East of a line drawn Southerly and parallel to the Easterly limit of Waterford Street from a point on the Easterly extension of the Northerly limit of the Easterly extension of London Street distant THREE HUNDRED AND TWO FEET (302') Easterly and measured along said Easterly extension of said Northerly limit of said Easterly extension of London Street from the Easterly limit of Waterford Street to the Easterly extension of the Southerly limit of the Easterly extension of London Street, said Division line being shown in Red on a plan of survey made by Ontario Land Surveyor, James William Fitzgerald, and dated at Peterborough, Ontario, on the Fourth Day of May, 1917.

(3) Part of Murray Street as shown on Registered Plan Number One, Peterborough, which said Parcel or Trace of Land is more particularly described as follows, that is to say: ALL that part of Murray Street, shown on the said Plan, lying East of a direct line drawn Southerly from a point on the Northerly limit of Murray Street, distant TWO HUNDRED AND FORTY-FIVE FEET (245') measured Easterly along said Northerly limit of Murray Street from the Easterly limit of Dickson Street, to a point on the Southerly limit of Murray Street distant Two Hundred and Thirty-two Feet and Five Inches (232 ft. 5 in.) measured Easterly along said Southerly limit of Murray Street from the Easterly limit of Dickson Street. Said Division line being shown in Red on a plan of survey made by Ontario Land Surveyor, James William Fitzgerald, and dated at Peterborough, Ontario, on the 3rd Day of May, 1917, and to sell the said Parts of the Allowance for road above described to the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Company Limited.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that by an Agreement made the 10th Day of July, 1917, and made between the Quaker Oats Co., the Peterborough Hydraulic Power Co. Ltd., and the Corporation of the City of Peterborough, the Quaker Oats Co. agreed to reconstruct its Milling and Cereal Plant which had been destroyed by fire in December, 1916, and in consideration for the reconstruction of the said Milling Plant, the City Corporation agreed to Stop Up and Close and convey the Parts of the abovementioned Streets to the Companies and this By-law is being submitted to the Council in order to carry out the terms of the said agreement.

AND TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that before passing the said By-law at its Meeting to be held at the time and place above mentioned, the Council of the City of Peterborough shall then and there hear in person or by his counsel, solicitor or agent any person who claims that his land will be prejudicially affected by the said By-law and who applies to be heard.

DATED at Peterborough, this 27th Day of March, 1948.

E. A. OUTRAM,
Clerk.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT I, Arnold F. Browne 498 Park Street, Peterborough, Assembler, will not be responsible for any Debts incurred in my name by my Wife, on or after this date.—A. F. Browne.

Picton Truck Crashes Into Bay Of Quinte

PICTON, April 22. — A large truck owned by Burford Transport Company of Picton crashed through a guard rail on the bay bridge between Belleville and Rossmore at 10:30 yesterday morning, and plunged into the Bay of Quinte. The driver, Fred Roberts, 28, of Picton, escaped from the cab and leaped to shore. The truck was returning empty to Picton and the driver said he veered sharply to avoid a hole in the road and was unable to right its course. A Picton wrecking crew hauled the truck out of the water later.

The Horticultural Society at Lindsay asked the Board of Parks Management to give them a grant for beautifying Kawartha Park. They urged the board to develop athletic and recreational fields in Lindsay and to work toward a "real park."

Present Trophy To Speech Club

The Speech Club of Peterborough was honored by the presentation of a trophy for annual speech competition by Ald. Leonard Reilly of Toronto. The actual presentation was made by club president, Perc Dallin, who announced that the first contest for the Reilly Trophy would take place on May 17 when club members will make 3 minute speeches. The winner will receive a suitable cup for retention and also have his or her name inscribed on the Reilly Trophy.

Another presentation was made to the club Monday night in the form of a gavel set, with the compliments of the club president.

Joint chairmen were Newt. Hamilton and Milt Clysdale who had every member present take part in the program. Mrs. Helen Boorman was called on to introduce Mrs. "Dixie" Doherty who gave a three minute talk on the Theatre. Bob Paris gave a short talk on Cancer and was followed by Cecil Bolton who related a story. Pete LaBranche outlined the basic principles of a motion of resolution and followed with a sample motion. Mrs. Dorothy Hayward gave a short talk on Habits. Perc Telford gave a prepared speech on the timely topic of "25 to 60 Cycles." Mrs. Florence Dallin completed the individual speeches by giving a short resume of deep breathing as it effects speech making.

Mr. and Mrs. Paige Rowell and Mr. Ted Howard were guests of the evening and were called on for a few remarks.

The final event on the program was a system whereby everybody gave a 30 second impromptu talk.

At the election of officers the following were elected for the ensuing year: President, Perc Dallin; vice-president, Jack Hayward; secretary, Clare Boorman; treasurer, Bob Paris.

Port Hope Student Given Queen's Award

KINGSTON, April 22 (CP). — Graduates at the 105th annual convocation of Queen theological college were urged by Rev. A. F. Fokes of Shawville, Que., to go out and preach and live the positive affirmation of the serving gospel of Jesus Christ.

John Leslie Dean of Verona, Ont., and James Clarke Kellog of Port Hope, received testamurs in person last night from Dr. H. A. Kent, principal of the theological college. The third graduate, Gordon Arthur Armstrong Wilson of Riceton, Sask., was given his degree in absentia.

Visit Oshawa Plant

Every year the senior boys of the auto mechanics class at the Vocational School visit the General Motors plant at Oshawa and see how cars are made, but today the senior boys of the machine shop and electrical class are going with them. Normally, the boys go by car and pay their own expenses for the day, but J. J. Duffus and J. K. Hughes, Peterborough car dealers, are taking 35 boys by bus to Oshawa and are providing a hotel meal for them there.

Tower Damaged

Damage from Tuesday night's wind storm will delay construction of the new Provincial Police radio tower on Highway 7 for at least a week. The wind blew the roof from the partially-erected tower.

PRISON OFFICER TO TAK

Keith Murdock, Rehabilitation Officer for the Kingston Penitentiary will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Optimist Club Monday evening. He will speak on methods used to assist released prisoners in returning to society.

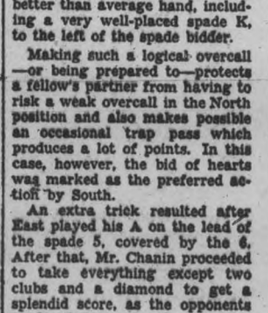
MAKE THEM PAY MORE

IT IS USUALLY a mistake to let your opponents play a contract of only 1-No Trump or two of a suit, if you are the player with whom the bidding would close and you have at least an average hand containing a suit of four cards or more which your partner is likely to fit. This is especially so if they have bid all three of the other suits, so that your partner is extra likely to have a number of cards in yours. Then a takeout double or a bid by you will either take the contract away from the other fellows or else make them pay more to get it, by means of a bid higher than they like.

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 ♦	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
Pass	2 ♥



Two of Atlanta's best were in the North-South seats on this tournament deal—Mrs. Wilkinson Wagar in the North and Henry Chanin in the South. When East let the bidding die at just 2-Clubs, Mr. Chanin leaped to action. Hearts not having been bid, he could see the high probability that his partner had four or more of them, and he had a slightly better than average hand, including a very well-placed spade K, to the left of the spade bidder.

Making such a logical overcall—or being prepared to—protects a fellow's partner from having to risk a weak overcall in the North position and also makes possible an occasional trap pass which produces a lot of points. In this case, however, the bid of hearts was marked as the preferred action by South.

An extra trick resulted after East played his A on the lead of the spade 5, covered by the 6. After that, Mr. Chanin proceeded to take everything except two clubs and a diamond to get a splendid score, as the opponents made their contracts at most tables.

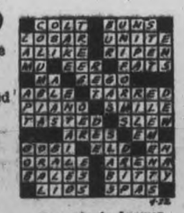
Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)



Against South's 3-Diamonds, West leads the heart Q to the K and wins the returned trump. What card should he lead next?

Bancroft Lions To Build Rink

BANCROFT, April 22 (ENS)—At a regular meeting of the Bancroft Lions Club, President Bill Hopper called on Stan Palmateer for his report on the accounts relating to the Triplet project.

Mr. Palmateer reported that after purchasing of home, furnishings, clothing provisions and other incidentals that there would be a credit balance of about $17.

The president then brought up the subject of the club building a covered rink in the village. The meeting was thrown open for discussion which brought out suggestions by the club members.

After nearly a two hour discussion on this subject, Past President Rollie Haryett moved that the club build a covered rink in Bancroft. It was adopted unanimously by the club members present.

Wartime Nurse Addresses Millbrook Group

MILLBROOK, April 22 — (ENS).—Guest speaker at St. Thomas' Anglican church on Sunday morning was Mrs. Doris Kenney, Diocesan organizer for the Girls' WA, her work covering three dioceses, Toronto, Algoma, with a territory of 72,000 square miles, and Niagara. Mrs. Kenney is a clergyman's widow, and was overseas for seven years during the last war, organizing and equipping several hospitals in Greece, Italy and Romania, and staying with them until they were running smoothly.

For her outstanding services, she was honored with the Silver Cross by the Greek government, was several times mentioned in dispatches, and was given the DSM by the British government. Other honors were hers in her exciting career, and as a speaker she holds her listeners with her clear diction, goo d voice, and the vivid manner in which she presents her material of enthralling interest. "The calm strength of Christ is very much needed today," the speaker said, "since the youth of today are not church-minded, making our task more difficult. Let us put right ideas into the young minds that they may become God-minded before having to pass through such an experience as Dunkirk." The latter reference was to the time when Mrs. Kenney was nursing in a hospital in London, England, at the time of Dunkirk when many wounded men were brought in.

Dsicuss Religion

"Often, during convalescence, they would drift into my office, and I was surprised how frequently the talk turned to religion, both by the young boys, and the older men too. These men had never thought of becoming part of the church until Dunkirk, and if our young people have to find Dunkirk before they can find God, there is something wrong with us." Visiting a German hospital in Crete, which was full of young Germans wounded Mrs. Kenney noted that here she encountered the cream of German youth, "the one big fault with their training being that God was left out of the curriculum, and we cannot leave God out of life—it just cannot be done."

The major part of the morning's address was devoted to experiences Mrs. Kenney had when in charge of the isolated mission at Cherry Point in the foothills in the Rockies, and near the Peace River. "The population was mostly homesteaders who had suffered crop faailures in other parts of the west, and came to Cherry Point to begin again. "Twice a year we were completely cut off from civilization, when the ice was breaking up in the spring, and when the ice was forming in the fall. The government gave these men five to six hundred acres of land, which they were to clear in five years, so they put up their log cabins and started a farm home."

Uses Wagon

To reach Cherry Point, Nurse Kenney travelled 80 miles in a buckboard wagon, from Dawson City, then a ferry ride across the Peace river, then again by buckboard wagon for three miles, "and my destination was the first break in the long stretch of virgin forest." The white cross on a church, which was so loyally attended by the homesteaders could be seen seven miles away, and as one of her people said "When I see the cross, I know I am near home." And, truly, it stands for new life and happiness at the little mission. Among her many duties, besides taking the church services Sundays and week days, Nurse Kenney gave medical attention to her flock, pulled teeth, took a sick baby out to the hospital at Dawson Creek, 17 miles away, over practically impassable roads, "earnest prayer alone bringing us through, but we won the battle and baby recovered"; and even was asked to give medical aid to a horse injured by being impalled on a wire fence. "In such a lonely outpost, one soon learns that dependance is wholly upon God, and He never fails to help. If we plant more of the good seed of the Kingdom, we shall have a greater and richer harvest in our Dominion."

Council Excludes Lindsay Reporter

The reporter for the Lindsay Post was asked to leave a special meeting of the Lindsay Town Council Monday afternoon while discussion took place on claims for flood damages totalling $1,193.

The press was excluded on advice of Town Solicitor A. M. Fulton, who made the suggestion "in view of the information to be divulged."

The Post report added: "Mr. Fulton then suggested that the press should not publish the fact that they were excluded from the meeting—on general principles."

The story of the press expulsion appeared on Page 1 of Tuesday's issue of the Post—with a three-quarter inch headline.

ROYAL SILVER WEDDING CAKE — Robert Patrick (left), designer of the cake for the Silver Wedding Anniversary of the King and Queen, inspects the square, two-tiered, 3 foot 6 inch cake in the National Bakery School in London. Cake is made mainly from ingredients sent as gifts from abroad. The royal castles, including Glamis, Windsor and Sandringham, are depicted in color on the base. Other illustrations show various interests of the King and Queen. With Patrick is Miss Joan Russell who did most of the drawing and sketching for the cake decorations.

Arrest Pair Three Hours After Theft

Alleged Thief Leads Police To Hideout; Find 600 Cartridges

SAULT STE. MARIE, April 23. —(CP).—Police said today they had recovered almost all of the $8,060 stolen yesterday from the Royal Bank of Canada at suburban Steelton. A Luger type pistol, believed to have been used in the holdup was also found.

A large amount of ammunition was found yesterday in a room at a local boarding house. A cloth mask and a Canadian army khaki tunic, similar to those worn by the holdup man, were also uncovered by police in an all-night search.

Edward W. Greschuk, 23-year-old office clerk, was charged today with armed robbery in connection with the holdup. Mrs. Marjorie McLean, alleged to be the driver of the getaway car, was charged as an accomplice. Hearing of the charge was remanded to April 28.

Earlier today, Police Chief I. L. Robertson said Greschuk had confessed to the hold-up after seven hours of questioning. He said Greschuk took police to a hideout where they found $8,056 of the $8,060 loot, the German Luger pistol, 600 rounds of ammunition, and clothes similar to those said by witnesses to have been worn by the bandit and his accomplice. The Chief said Greschuk took them to a small cottage at Carpen Beach, six miles west of the city.

Denies Knowledge

Police Chief Robertson said Mrs. McLean, who was picked up at her home three hours after the hold-up, says she knows nothing of the robbery.

Police said the man who strode into the west-end bank branch cowed staff and customers with a Luger and threatened to shoot unless he was given money.

He forced the staff to line up in front of him. Then he made teller Ruth Hallam hand him

Lewis Penalty Postponed Indefinitely

Will Renew Contempt Charge If Mine Walkout Should Be Resumed

WASHINGTON, April 23 — (AP). — Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today postponed indefinitely any further contempt penalty against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers Union.

Goldsborough accepted a United States government recommendation that he impose no further punishment at this time.

Assistant Attorney-General Graham Horison said no useful purpose could be accomplished by new fines against Lewis and the union now.

Last Wednesday, Goldsborough fined Lewis $20,000 personally and the UMW $1,400,000 for criminal contempt of court. The criminal and civil contempt finding was based on their disregard of an April 3 court order to stop the coal strike.

Morison told Goldsborough that 85 per cent or more of the soft coal miners have returned to work.

Therefore, Morison moved that a civil contempt sentence be put off "indefinitely." The judge agreed.

Morison said "the government is quite happy" over the back-to-work movement in United States coal fields.

The government counsel indictated, however, that the justice department might renew its contempt charge if there is a resumption of the walkout.

Goldsborough has issued an injunction under the Taft-Hartley labor act. This injunction, or court order, forbids continuance or renewal of the strike on grounds it would threaten the national health and safety.

The United Mine Workers' pension walkout cost the United States at least 53,490,000 tons of bituminous coal, a check of production figures showed today. That is about four weeks' supply.

34 C.S.U. Men May Face Piracy Charges; Arrested After Ship Raid

Union Members Surrender To Mounties After Canal Lock Drained
Trapping Them Aboard Freighter Glenelg

THOROLD, April 23—(CP).—Thirty-four members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC), arrested last night after they boarded the collier Glenelg in the Welland Canal and allegedly attacked the crew, appeared before a Justice of the Peace in nearby Welland today. All were remanded a week in custody and will come before Magistrate H. D. Hallett in Thorold. They are being held along with a free-lance photographer in Welland county jail.

The men were arrested on a technical charge of trespassing on Welland Canal property without permission under Section 62 of the Welland Canal regulations.

RCMP arrested the 34 seamen and the photographer, Larry Boccioletti, when they were trapped aboard the Glenelg following an abortive attempt to take control of the ship. Some 35 others managed to escape from the ship before Lockmaster Ivo J. McNaughton lowered the boat in the lock while the struggle was going on aboard. They fled into the woods.

For two hours after the boat was lowered, cutting off escape, the seamen stood on deck before surrendering to squads of RCMP and district municipal police.

J. Arthur Mathewson, Canada Steamship Lines lawyer said the CSL, which owns the collier, planned to charge the CSU men with "piracy with intent to murder." He said the maximum penalty for that charge is death.

The raid on the Glenelg in the Thorold locks was yesterday's major development in the dispute between the CSU, four shipping companies that have refused to sign contracts with the union on grounds that it is Communist-led, and J. A. (Pat) Sullivan's rival Canadian Lake Seamen's Union.

It also marked the first appearance of the R.C.M.P. in a week-long series of incidents along the lower lakes. C.S.U. members surrendered to the Mounties after draining of water from the canal lock left them trapped aboard the freighter.

The C.L.S.U. crew aboard the Glenelg defended itself briefly and then locked itself up in a section of the ship until the police came. C.S.U. men said they tried to get at the crew in the stokehold but some of the crew turned live

Hagana Guarantees Safety As 40,000 Arabs Leave

JERUSALEM, April 23—(CP).—Hagana officers today guaranteed safe conduct for all Arabs quitting the battle-scarred city of Haifa as the mass exodus of 40,000 Haifa Arabs continued. A Jewish agency spokesman said Arab arms surrendered when Hagana militia won control of city yesterday would be held by British military authorities until May 15, when Britain lays down its Palestine mandate.

They would then be turned over to Jewish authorities.

It was officially estimated that yesterday's battle for Haifa, started when Hagana with its Irgun Zvai Leumi allies swept down from Mount Carmel, lost the Arabs 100 killed. Another 100 were wounded.

Meanwhile Hagana units occupied two more Arab villages in the rocky Judean Hills today.

Haifa, where the Jewish militia Hagana defeated the Arabs yesterday was reported quiet overnight. Only sporadic firing was heard today. Life in the Mediterranean port city gradually was returning to normal.

Hagana opened a drive for Haifa Wednesday when British forces withdrew to a limited area. Yesterday the Arabs agreed to evacuate the city, whose port serves Palestine, Trans-Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Iraq.

By unofficial count, 3,281 persons have died by violence in Palestine since the United Nations partition recommendation of last Nov. 29.

Sentence Pianist To Be Hanged

TORONTO, April 23 — (CP). — Convicted of murder in the restaurant shooting March 1 of Mrs. Margaret (Mickey) Meredith, 25, Leslie R. Davidson has been sentenced to be hanged June 29. It is expected the 29-year-old Montreal-born pianist and entertainer will enter an appeal.

The verdict late yesterday in the "Pretty Mickey" shooting case came just 43 days after three revolver shots, fired point-blank at Davidson's sweetheart and former stage partner, ended what crown counsel described as the couple's year of "guilty passion."

Chief Justice J. C. McRur, summing up th four days' evidence in the case, said the onus of proving Davidson insane—a psychiatrist called by defence counsel said he believed Davidson suffered delusions—rested entirely on the defence.

Concerning Davidson's reported fear that Mrs. Meredith, with whom he had lived for a year, was trying to arrange to have harm done to him. His Lordship said there was no evidence of provocation sufficient to justify reducing the charge from murder to manslaughter.

Princess Gets Order Of Garter

WINDSOR, England, April 23. —(AP). — Princess Elizabeth, Prince Philip, and five other Britons were received into the knightly Order of the Garter by the King today in a ceremony of regal splendor.

Field Marshal Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, was among the recipients.

The princess, in the traditional purple robe lined with white taffeta, bowed before her father as he bound around her left arm the inch-wide blue velvet garter with its motto, "Homi soit qui mal y pense" ("Evil to him who evil thinks.") The Order is the Empire's highest rank of chivalry.

Two of the other three living ladies of the Garter, Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mother Mary, both in the robes of the Order, witnessed the investiture in the throne room of Windsor castle. The only other living Lady of the Garter is Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands.

Have Mystery Witness In Reuther Shooting Case

DETROIT, April 23 — (AP). — Officers whisked a mystery witness into police headquarters today as they pressed their manhunt for the gunman who tried to kill Walter P. Reuther.

Prosecutor James N. McNally said the witness, not identified, was the one who first gave information to police about Nelson Davis, an admitted Communist, now in custody for questioning.

McNally said the witness told police he heard Davis say he knew who shot the 40-year-old president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO).

Davis, 52, a (Negro) foundry worker at the Ford Motor Company, denied that he ever made such a remark. Davis was said by McNally to have signed a formal statement admitting that he was a Communist.

McNally emphasized that no charge had been placed against Davis as there was conclusive evidence that he was on the job when Reuther was attacked.

Davis was taken to police headquarters yesterday along with three other UAW members. McNally informed his council that Davis would be held without charge for further questioning today "by court order if necessary."

Political Opponent

Appearance of George Addes, former UAW secretary-treasurer, at headquarters also marked last night's developments.

The ex-official, a political opponent of Reuther in UAW circles, talked to McNally for a long time. Then the two held a press conference.

The prosecutor explained to reporters that police had been informed that on Tuesday morning Addes had been "seen on a street corner in Detroit talking to two men in a red car similar to the one seen at the scene of the Reuther shooting Tuesday night.

"Addes denies that such was the case and said at the time he was repairing his motor boat at the Detroit river several miles away. Addes has told me that he knows nothing whatsoever about the Reuther shooting."

500 Volunteers Save Colony In Bush Fire

CONSTANCE BAY, Ont., April 23 (CP)—Weary, firefighters today are standing guard over 1,000 acres of smouldering bushland alongside this Ottawa district summer colony of 400 cottages threatened by a 10-hour roaring blaze.

Meanwhile, a band of 500 volunteers have returned to their district homes after answering radio and telephone appeals for help as fire yesterday licked at the colony on the Ottawa river.

Breaking out on the east side of Buckham Bay, two miles northwest of here, a blaze started by road construction workmen to clear a minor brush area within minutes swept its way across a two-mile expanse of dead grass and second-growth poplar.

Graders, bulldozers, picks and shovels were employed by the bands of volunteers as the fire, fanned by a stiff wind, turned its way to the colony and scorched the wooden walls of the Roman Catholic Church.

Drives Through Flames

A bulldozer operator, Norman McOuatt, drove his machine through the flames to cut the fire path.

Teams of horses and two plows also were put to work to build fire-guards but flames could not be contained.

Fred Buck, of Kinburn, operating the county grader, drove his machine around the bush trails, piling up walls of earth and hemming in the fire. Flames scorched the paint from the grader.

At its height the fire sent towering columns of dense smoke into the sky. Flames could be seen 20 miles away. With nightfall, the wind subsided and the battling fighters were able to control the blaze after it had destroyed two dwellings and scorched 10 others.

Butter Must Be Good Have 21st Robbery

STREETSVILLE, April 23—(CP) Safecracking butter thieves early today broke into the Streetsville Creamery, stole more than 300 pounds of butter and broke open a safe. The butter was valued at $400 but the safe contained no money.

The break-in, the 21st for the Peel County community's creamery in as many years, was discovered by employees.

Thieves gained entrance by smashing open an outside refrigerator door, six inches thick, with steel plating on the inside. Police believe the thieves were after 5,000 pounds of butter which were stored in the refrigerator the day before.

Britain Urges UN Adopt Emergency Measures Stop Open Palestine War

LAKE SUCCESS, April 23—(CP).—Britain urged the United Nations today to adopt emergency measures that would stop open warfare in Palestine. Arthur Creech-Jones, Colonial Secretary, told the special Palestine Assembly's 58-member political committee that there was no time now to try to reach a permanent solution to the Holy Land problem.

He repeated that Britain was giving up her mandate rule May 15 and Palestine then would be without a government unless the UN acts.

Creech-Jones took no direct stand on the American suggestion for an interim trusteeship in lieu of partitition. He added that Britain would co-operate to the fullest of her ability in carrying out any stop-gap measure, subject only to the fixed date of Aug. 1 for final withdrawal of British troops.

A British spokesman said Creech-Jones' speech did not reflect any decisions taken by the British Cabinet within the last two days. The spokesman said also that direct talks still were going on between Britain and the United States over a temporary solution.

In his long speech, Creech-Jones abandoned for the first time here the strict British hands-off policy regarding a Palestine solution. He said that partition was unrealistic unless it could be carried out with force.

Hard To Enforce

"I do not think that any proposals for definite settlement could be affected unless they are backed by a very substantial means of enforcement," he said. "It may result from this necessity that the United Nations is now obliged to aim at a more modest objective and to use all the practical means at its disposal to prevent developments in Palestine from endangering the peace of the world without seeking at this time to arrive at a final solution."

BRITAIN URGES

Bogota Move On Colonies Unfair-Britain

GOGOTA, April 23—(Reuters). —Britain by implication — but pointedly—served notice on the Pan-American Conference here today that she considered the conference decision last night to set up a commission to study means of dissolving Western Hemisphere colonies both unfair and not binding.

Gilbert Mackereith, British Ambassador to Colombia, delivered a note to Conference President Eduardo Zuleta Angel, relaying to him a resolution of the British Honduras Legislative Council, expressing "grave objections to discussions at the conference at which we are not in any way represented, of matters affecting our vital interests, including our position as a member of the British Commonwealth."

Mackereith passed on this resolution "for such action as may be appropriate" but otherwise made no comment.

The meaning behind the note was quickly noted by most delegates: Britain considers neither legally nor normally binding the decision taken by the conference at which neither she nor any other European colonial power were given a voice.

Latin American political experts frankly doubted the efficacy of such a commission. Its main justification as far as the "anti-colonial powers" were concerned was that it would keep the issue alive.

Czechs, Bulgars Sign 20-Year Peace Pact

PRAGUE, April 23 (Reuters). —Czech Premier Klement Gottwald and Bulgarian Prime Minister Georgi Dimitrov to-day signed a 20-year treaty of alliance, friendship and mutual assistance. The pact provides for mutual aid against aggression by Germany or any state allied with Germany, and follows the same lines as treaties with Poland and Yugoslavia.

Air Chase Ends In Arrest; Pelts Seized

PEMBROKE, April 23 (CP)— Provincial wild life inspectors yesterday forced Charles Murray of Barry's Bay, Ont., from a plane at Killaloe, some 30 miles south of here and charged him with illegal possession of 54 beaver pelts valued at $1,600.

Murray released on posting bail of $5,500, was believed to have attempted to fly the pelts from nearby Carson lake to a point in Quebec on learning of a week-long investigation by the inspectors.

The arrest was made by Chief Ranger Tom McCormick, Deputy Chief Ranger George Holmberg and District Fish and Wild Life Overseer E. L. Skuce, who pursued Murray in another plane and saw him landing at Killaloe to refuel.

The pilot of the aircraft was not detained and the plane was also released after being seized and held for a time.

All-Out Drive

Overseer Skuce said that the arrest followed an all-out drive by Ontario Department of Lands and Forests officers to stamp out illegal fur trapping, reported to have taken place inside Algonquin Park. Park Superintendent Geo.

Police Nab Trio Of Safecrackers

TORONTO, April 23 — (CP)— Three men who police say are members of the gang led by William Poole, who was shot and killed by police while robbing a Toronto florist shop, were arrested early to-day.

Police said they chased a rented automobile and arrested the trio at Humber Bridge on the western fringe of the city. They are charged with having burglar tools.

Police said the men were on their way out of town to commit a safe robbery. Police quoted the men as saying they would not chance a safe robbery in Toronto since the shooting.

Skeleton keys, a jimmy bar, and four pairs of gloves were found in the front seat of the automobile. Police said an officer recognized the driver of the passing car as a member of the gang.

Smash Lottery Ring

ALBANY, NY, April 23 — (AP). — State police announced today they had smashed a $25,000,000-a-year lottery ring, one of the largest in New York State's history. Police said 26 persons were arrested in simultaneous raids today and that arrests were continuing. They said "millions" of weekly lottery tickets paying off on the United States Treasury balance were seized.

Abdullah Calls Arab Armies To Battle

Urges Troops Enter Palestine When Britain Surrenders Mandate

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON

AMMAN, Trans-Jordan, April 23—(AP).—King Abdullah has urged all Arab states to send their armies into Palestine to battle the Jews when Britain gives up her mandate May 15.

Trans-Jordan's monarch told reporters yesterday the Arab world must act against Zionism—the push for a Jewish homeland in the Holy Land—because "our peace and liberty are at stake.

"I call on all Arab countries to join my army in a movement to Palestine to retain the Arab character of that country."

Abdullah's two-year-old kingdom is just east of Palestine. Some 10,000 of his soldiers, about two-thirds of his Arab legion, now are in the Holy Land.

They will stick to their job of helping British security forces and not start military operations until the mandate ends, "but they will and they are now in the process of training and preparing for that date," he added.

Arab leaders here were calm about news of recent Jewish successes in the Palestine warfare. They said: "Wait until May 15."

50,000 Ready

In Cairo, reliable sources said yesterday as many as 50,000 men from the regular armies of six countries will move into Palestine from three directions May 16 unless United Nations action meanwhile changes the situation.

These soldiers, the informants said, will strike north from Egypt and Saudi-Arabia, west from Saudi-Arabia, west from Iraq and Trans-Jordan and south from Syria and Lebanon. They will consist either of regular army units or of army regulars released for Palestine duty. Only Yemen in the seven-member Arab League was exempted from the Palestine effort.

Fifht for Victory

The league's political committee met for four hours on Palestine yesterday in Cairo. The Syrian Premier, Jamil Mardam Bey, said after the meeting: "We will fight on land, sea and air until we achieve victory."

Some 10,000 Egyptian regulars now are camped just south of the Palestine boundary.

Four 75-millimetre artillery batteries of the Syrian army moved out of their camp at Haiboun yesterday. An army source said they were Palestine-bound.

Gang Killing Hinted At Windsor

Find Lathe Operator's Body In Ditch; Discover Few Clues

WINDSOR, April 23—(CP). — Mystery still surrounds the murder of handsome, blonde, 21-year-old Rheinder Kuindersma, whose blanket-wrapped body was found in a water-filled ditch three miles west of Windsor yesterday.

Police today discounted the theory that the young lathe hand was the victim of a Detroit gang. They said the body had apparently been transported to its location, carried into the ditch, and placed in such a way as not to attract attention.

Police said they were investigating two possible motives—that Kuindersma was the victim of a love triangle or robbery.

The body of the pump company lathe operator was found yesterday in a ditch where apparently it had lain for three days. Kuindersma had been missing since Friday night when he told his younger brother he was going to Detroit with two Detroit friends.

A Windsor man and a boy discovered the body on a suburban frog hunt. It was bundled in a blanket, from which one hand protruded. Around the body was an army-type raincoat with "C. S. M. McIntosh" pencilled inside the collar.

A length of butcher's skewer cord was drawn tightly about the neck and tied with a slip knot. A checkered shirt was double-knotted around the victim's throat, mouth and head.

Peter Kuindersma, 20, wept when police told him of his brother's death. The men worked at the same plant but did not room together. At the morgue, when asked to identify the body, Peter took a quick look and said:

"That's him."

No Suggestions

But he said he could not suggest what happened to Rheinder.

"He was a quiet chap," said Peter. "He didn't drink much and he saved his money. He was in the army about 1½ years. After he got out of the army he started travelling with a fast east-end gang."

Police had little to go on when they started their hunt for the slayer of Kuindersma, who came to Canada from The Netherlands with his family 17 years ago, lived for a time in Hamilton and then moved to Windsor. The victim's mother, three other brothers and two sisters live in Sarnia.

One Sarnia brother, William, said Rheinder was inclined to be "boastful" and liked to flash a roll of bills.

Need Extra Hospital

TORONTO, April 23.—(CP).—Dr. W. C. Givens, speaking to the Academy of Medicine here last night, said at least one more hospital for mentally defective children should be built for Ontario. The chairman of Toronto's advisory committee on hospital needs also said children should be admitted at an earlier age.

H. R. Phillips and Overseer Skuce opened the investigation.

Mr. Skuce said the pelts seized from Murray were found inside the plane and were now in the custody of the Lands and Forest Department.

A merchant at Barry's Bay, Murray was also the holder of a fur buyers' licence. The licence was immediately confiscated and the accused ordered to appear in Magistrate's Court next Thursday on the charge of illegal possession.

Algonquin Park officers are on the lookout for further evidence of illegal trapping or hunting and have served notice it will not be tolerated. Five other persons are said to have been found hunting in the park and charged some time ago.

Skies are cloudy over all sections of the province this morning. Moist tropical air surging northward from the Gulf of Mexico through the Mississippi Valley and flowing at higher levels over our regions is causing this cloudiness. Rain is falling over Michigan and Lake Superior and will move into the White River and southern Kirkland Lake regions during the day. Southern Ontario is expected to escape most of this precipitation. A few showers will occur along Lake Huron this morning and scattered thundershowers are expected throughout southern regions tonight. Saturday will see intermittent rain over northern regions and clearing skies in southern regions. Temperatures over southern sections should reach the highest yet attained this season.

Forecasts:

Southern Lake Huron, Eastern Lake Erie, Niagara, Lake Ontario, Eastern Haliburton regions. — Cloudy today and tonight, clearing Saturday morning. Occasional showers or thundershowers late tonight. Warmer Saturday.

Summary for Saturday: Clear and warmer.

steam on the invaders.

After the C.S.U. men were removed, the ship cleared through the locks.

Canal Plot

Earlier in the day Sullivan charged that the C.S.U. had plotted to blow up the Cornwall canal. He said one of his men had heard talk in a C.S.U executive meeting of a canal-blowing threat.

C.S.U. President Harry Davis denied the charges and called them "a downright lie." He added:

"He (Sullivan) trumped up the story to justify bringing hundreds of gangsters into the Cornwall district."

Part of Sullivan's charge was that the C.S.U. was preparing to bring 150 men into Cornwall to stop passage of the C.S.L. freighter Saskatoon early Saturday. Sullivan said that if the C.S.U. does send in men, he will bring in "between 300 and 400 men" to see that the C.S.U. doesn't stop the ships.

"If we're bringing in any men, it's news to me," said Davis.

C.S.U. men tried to board the steamship Huronic, which was loading at the Point Edward dock near Sarnia in preparation for a trip to the lakehead. They were turned back at the wharf entrance by a road block guarded by a watchman and police and were told they were trespassing.

Trespassing Charge

The C.S.U. men in the Thorold incident were charged by police with trespassing They were taken in handcuffs to the Thorold jail to be held overnight without bail.

No one was injured, except for bruises, in a shipboard fight between men of the two unions.

The attack, started about 5:45 p.m. and ended with the boarding party's surrender to the police about 8 p.m.

The C.S.U. members appeared cheerful as they were taken away to jail.

They had offered no opposition after police ordered them to come off the ship.

The surrender started at 7:30 p.m. after the ship had been lowered in the Thorold lock of the Welland ship canal and police shouted to the men to give themselves up.

"We all said we would come up peacefully," one of the arrested men told a reporter. "We had no choice. They wouldn't lift the ship up and we might have stayed there till we starved."

The action started when the C.S.U. men in single file rushed along a catwalk across the canal. They ignored the command of an R.C.M.P. constable who warned them not to board the vessel.

Fail In Attempt To Get Report BeforeCommons

OTTAWA, April 23 (CP). — Progressive-Conservative members of the Special Prices Committee today failed in an attempt to have the body make an immediate interim report to parliament.

Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) moved that the committee report, and was ruled out of order on the grounds that it had been decided to table a similar motion at a closed executive session last night. He then moved that the motion be taken off the table.

All three Progressive-Conservative members voted for the resolution. The remainder of the committee members present voted against it, and the motion was defeated.

Mr. Fleming opened the issue by stating that the result of last night's closed session should be reported to the public meeting. Alternatively the motion he introduced then, favoring an immediate report, should be voted on again in public.

"The time is ripe for the committee to make a report on our work to date," he said.

Want To Evalue Work

It would give the House of Commons and the public an opportunity to assess the value of the committee's work and the value that could be attached to continuing.

Ralph Maybank, vice-chairman, suggested that, since the committee had already decided on the question in executive session, the motion was not in order. Chairman Paul Martin supported him and Mr. Fleming introduced his alternative motion, which was defeated.

Key Golds Showing Slight Improvement

TORONTO, April 23. — (CP). —Moderate improvement on the stock exchange today for a handful of key golds brought the list up into the gain column where industrials and base metals continued in the lead. Western oils backed up in face of profit-cashing but the retreat was modest.

Volume for the first three hours was 612,000 shares, about 1,000 above yesterday's similar period.

C.P.R. held its lead position among industrials when it moved into new high territory on a gain of ½ but advances were general. Among these were Abitibi, Algoma Steel up 1⅜ at 55¾, Canada Cement, Ford, Gatineu, Great Cement, Ford, Gatineau, Great Steel of Canada Pfd.

Golds showed gains for Berens, Bralorne, Campbell, Coniaurum, Duquesne, East Malartic, Hollinger, Kirkland Lake, Sheep Creek and Pamour. Among base metals good gains were posted by Falconbridge, Nickel, Labrador, Noranda, Quemot and Pend Oreille.

Cancel Night Trains On Burma Railways

RANGOON, Burma, April 23—(AP)—Night train travel was cancelled throughout Burma today because Communist activities have made it perilous.

The general manager of the Burma railways said recent train-wrecking attempts by insurgents forced the cancellation. Schedules will be revised for trains to make dusk-to-dawn layovers at large railway stations.

Britain Urges

Reports were prevalent that the United States has abandoned plans to call for a special police force to augment a Palestine truce commission.

In Britain's new approach to the Holy Land problem, Creech-Jones also asked:

1. That the Assembly accept France's proposal for UN protection of Jerusalem's peoples and shrines.

2. That other countries admit more displaced persons from Europe; he said this would mean a reduction in the pressure of those seeking refuge in Palestine.

Fears Anarchy

He warned delegates that "on the withdrawal of the (British) mandatory administration, the country is in danger of being plunged into anarchy and suicidal struggle."

The Colonial Secretary said emphatically that delegates insisting on retention of the Nov. 29, 1947, Assembly decision to partition the Holy Land between the Jews and Arabs must face this question squarely and honestly: "Are their governments prepared to participate in implementing partition?"

Canada today urged consideration of a United States proposal for trusteeship over Palestine to meet the emergency caused by the Holy Land strife.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canada's chief delegate, told the committee that the American proposal for U.N. control of Palestine should take precedence over consideration of an Australian resolution demanding immediate implementation of the plan to divide Palestine into Jewish and Arab states.

YPU Convention In City Saturday

Peterborough Presbytery Young People's Union is holding its annual convention on Saturday at George Street United Church. Young people's unions of more than 20 churches have been invited to attend. In the evening, there will be a dinner at the YMCA.

Dr. Walter E. Strangway will be the guest speaker at both the afternoon and evening sessions. Dr. Strangway was educated at the University of Toronto and went to Africa as a medical missionary in 1927. He founded the Chissamba Hospital in Angola-Portuguese West Africa and is the best known doctor there. He is at present in Canada on leave.

Dr. Strangway, as well as addressing the convention on Saturday, will preach on Sunday evening at George St. Church.

Fire Destroys CPR Station

SUDBURY, April 23 — (CP). — Fire of undetermined origin yesterday destroyed the C.P.R. station at Metagama, causing a loss of about $3,000 to the railroad company and further loss to several of its employees who had living quarters in the building. Metagama is about 73 miles west of Sudbury, on the C.P.R. main line.

Those who lost nearly all their possessions in the fire were Mrs. A. Legace, the station agent, and Mike Bates, the night telegraph operator. The day telegraph operator, Thomas Ryan, and his wife succeeded in removing most of their possessions from the burning building.

Mr. Bates estimated his loss at $10,000 or more. In addition to his personal effects, he said, the fire destroyed the biography he was preparing of Archie Belaney, an Englishman who turned Indian and adopted the name Gray Owl.

Gray Owl, who wrote several books on wild animals, Indians and related subjects, died in 1942.

$6,500 in banknotes. Miss Haliam managed to shove another $1,600 in bills to the floor without the bandit seeing them. But the thief had her stuff other bills from a compactment into a small handbag he carried.

Mask Slips

As he raced through the doors toward a waiting sedan, the bandit clutched at his black stocking mask which started to slip. Before he could replace it, bank employees glimpsed his face.

Within a few minutes police clamped a barrier over all escape routes from the city. The alarm flashed out over the police radio system sent cruisers to block the provincial highway to Sudbury and roads running north and northwest. Ferry docks were watched.

Ninety minutes after the hold-up, police made the arrest.

Free Dieppe Hero In Death Of Benoit

MONTREAL, April 23 (CP). — Sgt. Pierre Dubuc, 25-year-old Provincial Police sergeant and hero of the Canadian assault on Dieppe, today was cleared by a coroner's jury of criminal responsibility in the death of John Benoit, 32, in an uptown cafe last April 14.

Benoit had been suspended pending result of today's inquiry.

A verdict of accidental death came after Coroner Richard L. Duckett said witnesses' testimony showed Dubuc had struck Benoit "only in self-defence — and that is a man's right."

Magistrate Tough With Two Vagrants

BRANTFORD, April 23.—(CP).—Two out-of-town men were given reformatory terms by Magistrate R. J. Gillen in police court today when convicted on vagrancy charges. They were Joseph Ryan of Tillsonburg, and Albert Schaefer, Toronto.

Each was sentenced to three months definite and one month indeterminate in Mimico reformatory. Both men had long records of convictions for petty theft charges.

Ryan asked for leniency in that he was a married man and wanted a chance "to go straight."

"You have been a tramp all your life, Ryan," Magistrate Gillen remarked.

When hearing the case several days ago, the magistrate had issued a warning against out-of-town bums and pan-handlers coming to Brantford. And he carried out his "get tough" threat. Ryan's record dated back to the 1920's and contained more than 50 charges, police said.

Says Arabs To Blame For Battle In Haifa

JERUSALEM, April 23 (Reuters)—Sir Alan Cunningham, high commissioner for Palestine, today blamed the Arabs for the battle in Haifa yesterday.

"The battle was the direct consequence of continuous Arab attacks on Jews during the past four days," he said in a cable to Arthur Creech-Jones, British colonial secretary.

The attack, in which the Jews won virtual control of the port city, was carried out by Hagana and was "no massacre," the cable added.

The Arabs themselves were responsible for the outbreak in spite of repeated warnings; the British army was "completely impartial and any suggestion they are taking sides is not only untrue, but deeply resented," Sir Alan said.

Fear Kelly May Die After House Brawl

TORONTO, April 23 — (CP)— Police said to-day that Francis Kelly, 63, may died as a result of injuries he suffered in a fight at his East-Central Jarvis Street rooming house Wednesday. Kelly a landlord, suffered a fractured skull. His condition was aggravated by heart disease, hospital officials said.

Thomas Walsh, a roomer, said he found Kelly unconscious when he visited him to pay his rent. He told police he had heard an argument Wednesday between Kelly and another man. He heard blows struck. Police said they have sworn out a warrant for the man identified by Walsh charging assault causing bodily harm.

Towers Cites Canada's Dollar Worries

OTTAWA, April 23.—(CP).—Two straight-from-the-shoulder reports on Canada's exchange troubles were published here yesterday.

Both stressed anew how much the Dominion's economic wealth depends on world conditions

They cited the obvious benefits to Canada from the $5,300,000,000 European recovery program—but one emphasized that even ERP isn't in itself the answer.

This warning was by Graham Towers, chairman of the Foreign Exchange Control Board, in his annual report, tabled in the Commons.

"It is important for us to realize that even a European reconstruction program providing for very large purchases in Canada would not by itself solve our immediate foreign exchange probelm."

He disclosed that Canada's gold holdings decreased by $249,400,000 during 1947. Sales totalled $416,400,000 while purchases were $167,000,000. All transactions were on the basis of the official price of $35 in United States funds an ounce.

The second report was a preliminary survey by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on the state of Canada's balance of international payments at lats Dec. 31.

It said reserves of gold and United States dollars dropped by $743,000,000 last year—from $1,245,000,000 at Dec. 31, 1946, to $502,000,000.

Mr. Towers' report gave three main reasons:

1. Reduction in Canada's overall surplus from international trade.

2. Continued large-scale credits to Britain and other countries.

3. Stepped-up "geographical unbalance" in Canadian trade.

"ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE"

Better Than The Five Cent Cigar

You've probably read about the new army bomber called the "Flying Cigar." It is a gigantic, six-engined aircraft that can fly ten thousand miles non-stop.

An engineer told your J-M reporter that a number of Johns-Manville products fly with this new super-plane. Johns-Manville Packings and Gaskets help the engines to build up power. J-M Insulations cover hot exhaust pipes, engine parts . . . add to the efficiency of the de-icing, cabin heating and pressurizing systems — protect the plane from the heat of the engines. Also J-M asbestos textiles guard against fire.

Not only this huge bomber, but also most large passenger planes carry a variety of products developed by Johns-Manville to speed air travel with comfort and safety.

$25,000 Planned For Expanding Cobourg Co-Op

COBOURG, April 23.—Plans to float loans totalling $25,000 to build a new Co-Op complete with grain storage and milling facilities were announced at a Tuesday night meeting of Cobourg District Co-Op this week.

The plans were set out by Secretary Manager Charles A. Chidley, who said all Cobourg rural areas would be systematically canvassed and that loans would bear interest of four per cent. The campaign to raise the loans will be launched immediately.

Two local representatives of the Co-Op will contaact members and others who might be interested. The two representatives are: Gordon Findlay, Grafton; Albert Petchy, Cobourg.

Served 4 Years With 21st Veteran Passes

COBOURG, April 23 (ENS).—The death occurred on Sunday at Cobourg General Hospital of Henry Howard Musgrave in his 59th year. His passing came after one day's illness and was a great shock to his many friends, although he had been in failing health for over a year.

Born at Hiawatha, he was the youngest son of John Dulmage Musgrave and Elizabeth Howard and spent practically all his life there with the exception of four years spent overseas in world war I. Mr. Musgrave enlisted with the 21st Battalion.

He was secretary of the Hiawatha band for 20 years, and was ever ready to lend a helping hand to anyone. Possessed of ready wit and sterling character he will be missed by a wide circle of friends.

The funeral Wednesday afternoon was largely attended and was held from the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Simpson at Alderville, to the Hiawatha United Church where service was conducted by Mr. H. Lander and Rev. Mr. Malcolm. Music was under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Crowe. A vocal number "When My Soul Reaches Home" was sung by a trio consisting of Mrs. John Beaver, Miss Lois Bigwin and Mr. Thomas Marsden. Interment was made in Hiawatha cemetery amid a setting of trees overlooking Rice Lake.

The flag draped casket was born by members of the Peterborough Legion. Bill Musgrave, Ralph Loukes, Allen Anderson, George Paupush, George Cowie. Honorary bearers were Merritt Taylor, Henry Taylor, Lorne Simpson and Daniel Simpson.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Alfred Simpson of Alderville and a brother, Mr. Daniel Musgrave of Hiawatha and a number of nieces and nephews.

Parish Honors Rev. J. P. Collins

CAMPBELLFORD, April 23.—(ENS).—The Rev. J. P. Collins of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, leaves on Saturday to take over his new parish at Cobourg. His successor, Rev. C. J. Maloney, formerly of Huntsville, arrived here today.

In the five years he served here, Father Collins endeared himself to his congregation and to the community at large Last Sunday he was presented with a purse of $386 by the people of the parish; a lazy-boy chair and bridge lamp by the Catholic Women's League; a smoker and magazine stand by the Sodality, and an engraved Ronson lighter by the altar boys.

Visiting priests were the Rev. F. L. Rishea, Wooler; the Rev. Joseph O'Sullivan, Kinmount; the Rev. C. J. Caroll, Norwood, and the Rev. J. J. Garvey, Hastings.

Suggest British Vets Enter Canadian Army

LONDON, April 23.—(Reuters).—A suggestion that British ex-servicemen wishing to emigrate to the Dominions but uncertain of work on arrival might be allowed to enlist in Dominion armed forces for a period before settling down, was made in the Commons yesterday by William Teeling, Conservative.

He urged Philip Noel-Baker, secretary for Commonwealth Relations, to approach the governments of the Commonwealth on the subject.

Patrick Walker, under-secretary for Commonwealth Relations, said the present policy of Dominion governments was to accept as assisted migrants only persons for whom there was a reasonable prospect of employment or who were nominated by friends or relatives in the Dominions.

Campbellford Vote Set For May 26

CAMPBELLFORD, April 23.—Citizens of Campbellford, a local option town for the past 40 years, will vote on the question of a liquor store and brewers' warehouse on May 26. The first guns of the campaign were fired Wednesday night when John L. Linton and Fred W. Lewis, both of Toronto, addressed a well-attended meeting in the Masonic Hall here in the interests of the local league of temperance.

Focus Attention On House In Landscaping

CAMPBELLFORD, April 23 — (ENS).—At a meeting of the St. John's Young Adults Club Thursday night, the guest speaker, W. A. Hogle, gave an address on landscape architecture. In providing a house with an effective setting there are three landscaping areas to deal with, he said. These are: the public area or boulevard, the service area, which includes the main driveway, and any additional service entrances needed, and the private outdoor living room, usually at rear of house, secluded from public view.

Mr. Hogle said $500 worth of landscaping on the average property raises the value of the house $1,000. Lawns are of primary importance and because of the large amount of nitrogen needed by grass, most lawns require extra fertilization. The same applies to trees, he said. They must be fed to live, phosphates, potash and nitrogen being the main nutrients needed to sustain healthy trees.

All landscaping about a house, he said, must be done in such a way as to focus attention to the house itself. Bright flowers, for instance, he said, should never be grown a considerable distance from the house along the street, because the average person would admire the flowers while casually glancing at the house. Mr. Hogle was introduced by Bill Bateson and thanked by Mr. McKeown.

The president, Mel McKeown, was chairman of the meeting, which opened with a sing-song led by Mrs. G. Maxwell. Ruth Holmes and Bill Bateson conducted the devotional period, and a solo was sung by Mrs. Tom Wallace.

At the end of the meeting Ken Kingston conducted a jumbled word contest. The winners were Mrs. G. Maxwell and Mel McKeown.

Three Full Houses See Variety Show

CAMPBELLFORD, April 23.—(ENS).— For the third time the Chi Rho variety show packed on Thursday night the parish hall with an appreciative audience of 200 people.

Originally billed for two performances which were sold out far in advance, the demand for tickets for this last performance was almost as keen as for the previous shows.

Featured on the program were two one-act comedies, "Bachelor's Boy" and "Home to Mother," and the unorthodox antics of the Campbelliford Hillbillies doing a mock radio bradcast.

The variety show wil be presented in Havelock Monday, May 3.

The Menace Of Cancer

The Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society is appealing for both financial and personal support, in conjunction with a national campaign. It hopes to enrol 5,000 new local members. The primary objects of the society are to aid in co-ordinating Canadian efforts to reduce the mortality from cancer and to propagate information about the disease and the advantages of its early detection.

• • •

Last year nearly 15,000 Canadians died from cancer. The increasing incidence of the disease is caused partly by the fact that our society is aging, and cancer is more prevalent among old people than young. Cancer was not a major killer in the days of our grandparents; our grandparents did not live as long as we, and other diseases like typhoid and diphtheria, now brought under control, were the chief threats to longevity. Since 1891 the percentage of our population over 40 years of age has increased by 92 per cent. The increase even since 1921 has been 23 per cent. During this time medical science has discovered cures or successful preventative measures for many formerly dreaded diseases, but not for cancer.

• • •

Doctors, research students and public health organizations are continuing the attempt to stay the course of cancer and to prevent the appalling loss of life through this disease. They require not only financial support but an informed public. One reason that progress in fighting cancer has been slow is that formerly people spoke about cancer in whispers; it was not a word for polite people to utter in public. This has hindered the early diagnosis of cancer. Today death by cancer can generally be prevented if the disease is diagnosed in time and the victim receives early medical attention. The campaign slogan of the Cancer Society is encouraging — "Early discovery, quick recovery".

• • •

The work of the Canadian Cancer Society is humanitarian work of the highest national importance. We hope that Peterborough people will not fail to show their deep patriotism and generous sympathy for their fellows in distress by giving the present campaign full support.

A New Report On Sexual Offenders

Canada is indebted to the Kiwanis Club of Toronto for its good work in financing an investigation into the problems arising from sexual crime in this country. There is not an uncommon amount of sexual crime in Canada, but it is not decreasing, and as one of the civilized countries of the world we have a responsibility to study this matter, and to see what can be done about it. The Toronto Kiwanians have provided the money which has made it possible for five eminent men, penologists and psychiatrists, to investigate the cases of the 270 sexual offenders who are now in Canadian penitentiaries, and to draw some conclusions from them.

Perhaps the most important conclusion, and the one which could most easily have been predicted, is that poor mental hygiene in Canada contributes to the creation of sexual perverts, makes their lot particularly miserable, and their reclamation far from simple. Sex, in Canada, is discussed and dealt with on two levels: there is the objective level, where all matters relating to sex are treated with squeamishness, disapproval, and a hodge-podge of outworn belief and downright superstition; there is the subjective level, upon which sex is a subject for smutty conversation, illicit enjoyment and furtive experiment. Often both levels are honoured by the same people, the first when they are being "nice" and the second when they are "not nice". Without a better understanding of sex, and a housecleaning of much of the nonsense which is in common circulation about it, there can be no improvement in the country's mental hygiene, and no diminution in sexual crime.

Meanwhile, no good purpose is served by locking sexual offenders in penitentiaries, and releasing them after a time without having made any attempt to change their ways. Complete reform of a sexual pervert may not be possible in every case, but it may be possible to teach him to control the anti-social element in his desires. It is now recognized that a certain number of homosexuals and other sexual aberrents is likely to be found in any society; perhaps the best thing that can be done is to urge them to consort with their own kind, and to forbear from enticing young people, or forcing children, to join them in their perverted courses. Sexual aberration has to be treated realistically; it is not realistic to pretend that it does not exist, that it is not a powerful urge, and that it is confined to large cities, or to persons of a low grade of intelligence.

It is futile to imprison sexual offenders unless we try to reform them or try to educate them to moderate their desires. And it is futile to hold up our hands in horror when sex crimes happen, if we persist in perpetuating an intellectual climate in which sex is considered a shameful appetite, and in which prudery is considered a desirable or even a "superior" characteristic. The investigation which the Kiwanians have subsidized has given us one more prod toward a better society.

"Our Ancient Word Of Courage"

Today is St. George's Day, and St. George has been the patron saint of England since 1222. St. George, as we presume that most of our readers know, was a Christian officer in the army of the Roman Emperor of Diocletian, and when he refused to renounce his faith at the behest of that monarch he was martyred in the year 300—according to legend, upon this very day. He was revered as the saint of fighting men all through the Middle Ages, and in 1098 an army of Anglo-Norman soldiers saw him leading them to victory at the Siege of Antioch. Later, he was seen by the troops of Richard the Lion Heart, when they fought the Saracens. Returning Crusaders spread his fame and cult in Britain, and Edward III founded the Order of the Garter in the name of St. George; to this day great English warriors are admitted to that Order, which is the first order of chivalry in Christendom.

There is the legend, too, that St. George once rode into the city of Sylene in Lybia, and found the inhabitants weeping because of a foul dragon, which had devoured their sheep and their children, and now demanded the daughter of their king; and this lady, dressed as a bride, was at that moment on her way to the monster's lair. But St. George overthrew the dragon, and so cowed it that the Princess was able to lead it back into the city. St. George then promised the inhabitants that if they would all be baptized he would behead the dragon, and in this way fifteen thousand Christians were made in one day. The legend says that four carts were needed to haul away the carcass of the dragon.

Fighting men of old used to call upon St. George as they rushed into battle. An old infantry instruction read: "Item, that all souldiers entering into battaile, assault, skirmish or other faction of arms, shall have for their common cry and word St. George forward, or, Upon them St. George, whereby the soldier is much comforted, and the enemie dismaied by calling to mind the ancient valour of England, which with that name has so often been victorious".

Shakespeare was fond of bringing into his plays what he called "our ancient word of courage, fair St. George". As he admired him so much, it was fitting that Shakespeare himself, who was born on April 23 in 1564, should have died on this same day in 1616. Today all who love England may remember with pride the warrior saint, and the greatest of all poets.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Stalin says that the Russo-Finnish treaty is "between equals". Like the equality which exists in horse-and-rabbit pie—one horse to one rabbit.

A designer suggests that men should choose their wives' hats. Judging by the results in some cases we know of in which wives choose their husbands' hats, we see no hope in this.

Legal firms have a quaint way of accumulating names. Across the way from us is a blank sign waiting the law firm's name—rather, four names. That has nothing on a Winnipeg firm, which must hold the Canadian record. It goes by the name PITBLADO, HOSKIN, GRUNDY, BENNEST & DRUMMOND-HAY; PITBLADC, HOSKIN, McEWEN & ALSAKER. Its receptionist probably answers to Pit, Ho-Hum.

A Letter From Dublin

By J. D. CAMBRIDGE

THERE are few cities finer in concept than Dublin. The streets are broad and graceful, and some of the loveliest Georgian architecture in the world is to be found in the city. But there is the human factor, and this presents some curious contrasts. Where but in Dublin, and possibly Naples, would you find the slums located in lovely old mansions that would be museum pieces if they were in Canada? Mountjoy Square, a completely Georgian construction, is such a slum today. These fine old houses have still the fine plaster and woodwork in classical design, but today every room has at least one family, and a local grocer told me that as many as six families live in some rooms. The pavements swarm with children from 10 months old to about 10 years. When they sleep is a mystery, since they are all there at 8 a.m. in the morning, and apparently still all there at 11 p.m.—and these are frequently toddlers, barely able to walk.

✧ ✧ ✧

OF course there is another side to Dublin; fine residential and shopping districts, noble governmental buildings, and Trinity College, a world-famous educational institution that has produced such figures as Burke and Goldsmith. The main street, O'Connell, is the widest street in the British Isles. It is at least 400 feet wide in the heart of the city. Although the population of Dublin is only about a quarter million,—roughly the size of Winnipeg,—there is a sense an animation and bustle you associate with New York. Never have I seen such crowds on the streets at all hours. The taverns are open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., and every shop prominently displays tickets on the Irish Sweepstakes, frequently with advertising exhortations, such as "Make those dreams come true" and "Our patrons have won over £400,000, buy from the original lucky house". Very definitely, the Irish Sweepstakes is big business in Dublin.

✧ ✧ ✧

TO the visitor from Britain, Eire seems a fabulous place, a page out of a pre-1939 history book. The only rationed items are sugar, butter, tea, soap, and bread, and the latter is rather ignored by all. The ration office issuing us with a temporary card reassured us on our expressing concern at a week's ration of bread (6 pounds) being all on one coupon. "No one will ask you for bread coupons" we were told by the issuing clerk. Restaurants have notices displayed stating that it is illegal to serve bread with dinners, suppers, and luncheons, but this does not deter them from serving it unasked at these meals. The store windows are stacked high with eggs, meats of all description, fancy cakes with whipped cream and rich icings, bananas, and chocolate bars from a half dozen countries, all at prices that on Canadian standards do not seem too excessive. Fine beef steak is 55c a lb., pork chops the same, pork sausage 40c per lb. Eggs vary from 60-75c a dozen, and milk is 19c a quart bottled, cheaper if you bring your own container to the store, and have it ladled out of the milk can. Cigarettes are 50c for 20, and the famous Guinness 11c a 10 oz. bottle. Clothing seems to be plentiful and cheaper than in Britain, and completely unrationed. Restaurant meals run from about 40c up, according to style and number of courses, and the meals are really good. Little wonder that the British visitor displays a pathetic eagerness in restaurant and shop. But he is quickly pulled up short when he attempts to take things back to Britain. It is against Irish law to take out of the country clothing or food, and a rigorous check is made at the ports before ships sail. If the visitor succeeds in getting, say, a pair of shoes past the Irish authorities, the British customs will charge him purchase tax of 100 per cent., which makes it a losing game.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALL this sounds as if life in Eire is, on European standards, carefree, but there are many flies in the ointment to make the Dublin scene less attractive to the Irish. Unemployment is widespread, and emigration, as it has for generations, still drains off the young and ambitious to other parts of the world, particularly Britain. The population of Eire has remained practically stationary for 100 years, in spite of one of the heaviest birthrates in Europe. While the prices I quoted for various foods may seem fairly good by Peterborough standards (and even there they may seem high, as I am out of touch with domestic food prices), they must be taken against the background of wage levels in Eire, and then they are truly shocking. A skilled workman only makes $14-$20 per week, and many support families on a wage of $10 per week. On looking at a notice board for domestic servants required, I was unable to discover any job offering more than $6 a week, and some were as low as $2. Little wonder that there is wrathful demand that the government keep down prices. Dissatisfaction with the rising cost of living was a major cause for the fall of the DeValera government in the recent elections. But it will take more than a change of governments to keep prices down.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE Irish people themselves continue to display all their traditional qualities of friendliness and warmth. If a stranger such as myself stops on the street and appears in doubt, there is always someone to ask if he can help you. There are countless stories to illustrate the whimsical nature of the Irish. In spite of twenty-five years intensive instruction in the schools of the old Irish language, called "Erse", it is still virtually unknown. Unlike Welsh, which you hear spoken in all parts of Wales, I have yet to hear a conversation in Erse. All Civil Servants are required to speak it, and government signs, notices, and literature must be printed in Erse as well as English, but apparently the Irish people fight it as stubbornly as they once fought English attempts to Anglicize the country. One of the more amusing sidelights on the problem of introducing Erse is an appeal by the Society for the Preservation of Erse for funds to carry on their work, but the appeals are made in English! It appears a very curious language in print, to Canadians eyes, as it does not use our Roman alphabet, but has its own, with only 20 letters, however.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE Irish are an extremely likeable people, but as one person told me, "No Irishman is happy unless he is proving once is twice". Other nations dealing with Eire should remember this.

FIGHT CANCER WITH KNOWLEDGE

Inventions We Were Not Waiting For

(THE KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

A MR. Fred Othman, whose dispatches from Washington, D.C., appear regularly in the New Orleans Item, recently wrote about some odd inventions he noted while paying a visit to the U.S. Patent Office. The visit was inspired by a patent breath sweetner, invented by a California scientist named Bing Crosby. Mr. Othman acquired one of these gadgets and was so impressed by it that he thought he should see what Mr. Crosby's fellow inventors were doing, and he came back with some admirable examples of misdirected human ingenuity.

Perhaps we should make an exception in the case of one invention—a frame and harness designed to fit inside a bathtub, for bathing dogs. It seems that Frank Lea Short, a New Yorker, found that he got a bath himself every time he bathed his pup, and that Mrs. Short complained about what happened to the living room rug when the pup escaped half-way through a tubbing. So Mr. Short dreamed up a wooden frame with leather straps and buckles to hold the dog. This may be described, we suppose, as a practical invention, although we consider the method we once saw used by a kennel-man superior and far simpler. He merely gave the dog-to-be-washed a resounding clout in the ribs, accompanied by earnest and sanquinary assurance there would be more of the same if the dog tried to evade its bath. It worked.

The other three inventions reported by Mr. Othman, however, are strictly on the daft side. Two of them cross bridges that may never be erected; the third should be sufficient to earn the inventor an extended holiday at the expense of the state.

The first two are designed to eliminate interruptions caused by lights going out. Thomas F. Saffady of Detroit, patent No. 2,439,060, has fixed things so his wife doesn't have to stop ironing if the lights go out; he has equipped her iron with headlights. The report doesn't say whether the battery that keeps the headlights going also keeps the iron hot, but maybe Mrs. Saffady uses an old-fashioned flatiron. Patent No. 2,439,178, in the name of Miss Michelle Marchand of Flushing, N.Y., protects her invention of a self-contained, electrically-illuminated, miniature bridal couple for putting on top of wedding cakes. If the regular lights go out just as the bride is about to cut the cake, the Marchand illuminated miniature sheds light enough to let the slicing proceed.

The last invention reported by Mr. Othman is a walking stick patented by Bernard V. Lukowitz of Milwaukee (No. 2,438,014). Anyone equiped with a Lukowitz cane may stroll along a boulevard and, on coming to a horse trough, insert the end of the cane, press a bulb in the handle and thus suck up a pint of cold water. The cane then serves as a well-supplied squirt-gun whenever the owner meets someone he feels like squirting.

We think Mr. Lukowitz deserves the grand prize. We suggest that it consist of fitting him with a pair of headlights, strapping him into Mr. Short's dog-bath harness, and having him serve as a target for half-a-dozen sharpshooters equipped with Lukowitz canes.

Thin Ice

Tuesday, April 20th was the day when Mr. King caught up with the long distance record of the late Walpole. It gives this country two great contemporary skating champions, as you can't deny that he had to do a lot of political fancy skating to get where he is—and often on thin ice!—T.D.F. in Ottawa Citizen.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

Behold, I shew you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed....

The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law. But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord. (I Cor. 15: 50-52, 56, 58.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.... For our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour the Lord Jesus Christ: who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself. (Phil. 3: 13-15, 20, 21.)

Letter To The Editor

NOW IS THE HOUR

Sir: Many people are familiar with this song but here is a new version by a resident living on the mud trail between Lakefield and Nepheline Mine.

A few nights ago I saw a report on highways which were going to be built and improved this coming year, but I saw nothing of the road which lies between Lakefield and Havelock via Stony lake.

Two years ago a petition was got up headed by Mrs. Hamilton on which some fourteen hundred names were attached. These people are one hundred per cent. behind Mrs. Hamilton and hundreds of others who did not have the privilege of signing it.

Fellow citizens, now is the hour we must see to it that this road gets a little attention. In this coming election, we the people, have the say who is going to represent this riding, we should know where our money goes. What I mean by our money is, taxes, licenses, gasoline tax and such like, which is supposed to be for the purpose of maintaining roads.

People say it is the mine trucks which tear the roads up. It is, and they pay for it every day. It costs them 11 cents on every gallon of gasoline they burn, figure this up, as high as 21 trucks draw over this road at one time, running day and night, drawing around 8 trips apiece, a bus service twice daily, besides rural and mine traffic, put the tourist traffic on this and figure up the millions of gallons of gasoline burned on this road. We have been promised a road here since 1939; in those 10 years licences and gasoline tax alone have paid for a highway twice over.

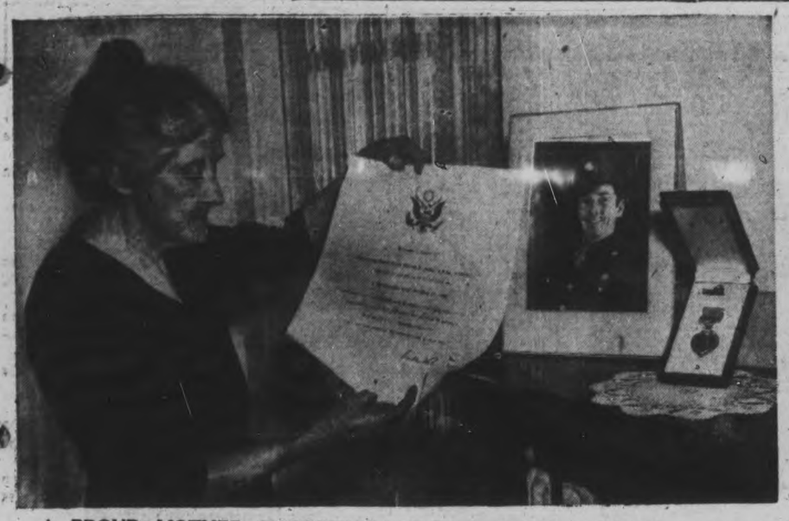
Now is the hour we must know where this money is going. We must see to it that this highway goes through or know the reason why.

In this forthcoming election there will be public meetings by each party. My advice to you Scotty, bring the Minister of Highways down for a trip over this road and see for yourself, because at one of those meetings we will demand a statement. You fellows won't believe fourteen hundred people. Do you expect them to believe you?

We don't ask for miles upon miles of highway to be put in the bottom of some lake, all we ask is the highway to which has already been paid for and now is the hour.

TORY.

Too Many Accidents



More than a death a day—12,874 fatalities—is Ontario's industrial record during the past 33 years. During the same time there have been 2,382,392 people hurt in Ontario factories, mines and lumber industries—or a number equal to more than half the population of the province.—Ottawa Citizen.

UNCONSIDERED TRIFLE

Amy was one of the most popular girls in town, and when she married the church was crowded. After the ceremony, friends rushed to kiss the bride. After half an hour the breathless girl looked puzzled and, gazing down at one little man, she said, "I don't know you. Why are you kissing me?"

The little man scratched his head.

"I dunno, lady. When I joined the queue outside I understood it was for butter."

A PROUD MOTHER SHOWS HER MEDALS—Mrs. Margaret Penny, of Montreal, mother of the late Sgt. Bill Penny, of the United States Army, with some of the honors he brought the family during his fighting in Holland. Flanking the picture of Bill are personal citation from the late President Roosevelt, and the Purple Heart awarded her by the United States government after Bill was killed in Holland. Recently in Paris the United States government announced that the American Graves Registration Command was honoring her son with a commemorating plaque. The kindly, gray-haired woman couldn't have been happier if someone had suddenly dropped a fortune in her lap. She was pleased, she said, for Bill's sake, because he always tried to do what was right and to do it the best way he could.

Blames Black Market For Beef Trade Losses

OTTAWA, April 23 (CP). — Black market competition caused Canada Packers Ltd. substantial losses in its beef trade in the first half of 1947, the company's president, J. S. McLean, told the special prices committee this week.

Highest losses on beef during this period were $262,000 in the four weeks ended June 19, 1947. For the first 10 months of the year their losses on four-week periods did not drop below $31,000.

Mr. McLean told the committee he had complained to the Prices Board "about 10,000 times" about the black market situation.

He said he had complained as well that the board's action was ineffective. There had been hundreds of prosecutions but, in his view, not in the right places.

He said of the first six months of last year:

"Our losses were colossal. We either had to retire from the beef business or keep in it at a loss."

He explained that when beef cattle were scarce during that period, black market operators could outbid the large packing companies and then sell to retailers at prices above the ceiling.

Business Down

"The packing houses did much less than their normal business," he continued. "Customers bought at ceiling prices from packers as far as they could and then bought in the black market."

Mr. McLean agreed that a black market only existed where there were price controls, but he told the committee he considered them essential in wartime.

Deny Raising Wholesale Beef Prices

OTTAWA, April 23.—(CP). — President J. S. McLean of Canada Packers Ltd., today will appear as a witness before the special prices committee for the third successive day.

Examination of Mr. McLean and the 66-page brief which he presented to the committee on his company's operations started Wednesday. When the committee rose last night its counsel, H. A. Dyde, had not completed his main examination of Mr. McLean. Several members indicated that when Mr. Dyde finished they would seek further information on several aspects of the company's operations.

Mr. Dyde and Mr. McLean clashed sharply yesterday over the reasons for the company's profits on beef in the last three months of 1947 after losing money on the commodity all year.

Mr. Dyde suggested that it was because they had raised their wholesale prices.

The company president denied this and attributed the profits to the volume of business they were doing at the time.

The clash reached its warmest point when Mr. Dyde pointed out that prices for cattle fell in the last half of December while the wholesale price of beef was still rising.

Mr. McLean insisted that the committee counsel was quoting wholesale prices for "red brand" beef, the highest quality, but taking as his cattle price the average of three grades of animals. He agreed to bring before the committee the prices his company paid for top-quality steers so that the comparison could be completed.

Free Percy Lamarche In Burning Of Baby

KIRKLAND LAKE, April 23 (CP).—Percy Lamarche, husband of Lucille Lamarche — charged with murder after her two-month-old son was burned to death—was free today. A charge of vagrancy against him was withdrawn. He had been at liberty on $200 property bail following the death of his son.

Mrs. Lamarche, 21, was remanded another week for preliminary hearing. Police who found the child dying on a kitchen table, have expressed belief that Mrs. Lamarche put it in a stove when she grew tired of its crying. She and her husband had been drinking, police said.

George Brooks Heads Recreational Group

MARMORA, April 23.—(ENS). —Deloro Recreational Association held its annual meeting in Deloro hall Tuesday evening. A pleasing financial report was presented and the reports of the committees in charge of various sports was also gratifying.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are: president, George Brooks; 1st vice - president, Franklin Everard; 2nd vice-president, H. Easton; 3rd vice-president, Robert Borland; master of ceremonies, Thomas Cousins; secretary-treasurer, Ian MacIntosh; committee chairmen: tennis, Maurice Barlow; bowling, Charles H. Buskard; softball, Percy Gray; junior sports, Mel Borland; badminton, Carl Whittemore.

Synod Will Meet

HALIFAX, April 23 — (CP). — The annual meeting of the diocesan synod of the Church of England will open here April 27 under the chairmanship of Most Rev. C. F. Kingston, Primate of all Canada, it was announced yesterday. More than 200 delegates of the clergy and laiety are expected to attend the three-day session.

IT'S YOUR WORLD NOW, SON—Five-year-old Peter Moreau, of Montreal, a testimonial to surgical skill, is now home. At birth, he was transferred to a hospital from a maternity hospital, and for four years and 364 days, he never tasted solid food. The first time was on his birthday, January 31, last, when he was allowed a slice of his birthday cake. Peter was born with his esophagus and wind-pipe communicating. He was fed intravenously for two years, while Dr. Dudley Ross, surgeon-in-chief of the Children's Memorial Hospital, in Montreal, performed an operation to sever the connection and make them separate organs.

Unpack your suitcase and live! Do you (like so many of us) keep putting off the little things you dream about—waiting till you have more money, or till the kids graduate, or . . . ? Ibbie Ryan shows how you can —and must—do those little things NOW (like starting that hobby)—or you never will.

A Prince at War. The Duke of Windsor tells of his life from outbreak of World War I . . . how Kitchener first blocked his getting into the fighting . . . how he sensed the unrest of the masses at war's end and clashed with the king . . . how he was sent travelling to "sell" the monarchy the world over.

The Ingenious Eskimo. "God's frozen people" rejoice in the impossible! White men seldom get closer than 150 feet to a live seal; an Eskimo crawls close enough to grab its flipper. Without a pulley he gets a ton walrus from the water onto the ice; catches wild birds by hand; watches his enemy the wolf drink its own warm blood till it drops exhausted in the snow!

Quest of our lives. Deep within each of us—if we know how to find it —is the strength to meet our problems, a citadel of safety and peace that no upset can touch, says I.A.R. Wylie. She tells why many can never find this citadel . . . how she and others discovered this only true sense of security.

NHL FIRST ALL-STAR TEAM—Conny Smythe is sizzling over the NHL coaches' selection of the first all-star squad of the 1947-48 season. Only one of the Leafs, the Stanley Cup champions, was chosen, while three Detroiters and two Canadiens were named. The all-stars are shown above, Upper, Left to Right: Turk Broda of Toronto for goal, Bill Quackenbush of Red Wings on one defence, and his team-mate, Jack Stewart, on the other. Lower, Left to Right: Elmer Lach of Canadiens at centre, his teammate Maurice Richard on right wing, and Ted Lindsay of the Wings at left.

ON SECOND TEAM—Frank Brimsek, at Left, Boston goalie, was selected goalie of the NHL second all-star team, chosen by the club coaches. They also named big Ken Reardon of Canadiens to defence on the this second team, as Toronto players (apart from Turk Broda) were ignored on both teams.

The customers always write. And the mailman this morn brought a note from St. Catharines Harriers' Club, announcing a pre-Olympic track and field meet there May 22 at 2.30 p.m., rain or shine. It lists distances in metres at 100, 200, 400, 1500, 5000 and a 1600-metre relay, not to mention broad and high jumps and pole vault. For girls, races are 60, 100 and a 400-metre relay, plus high and broad jumps. Prizes for first, second and third, with entries closing on May 15. Send entry, if interested, to Alfred Owen, 154 Geneva St., St. Catharines. Further info may be had from him, too.

And Coach Frank Doughty of Toronto sends this: "Dear Sir,—The Sunday Morning Class softball team ceased operation in league play for 1948. They felt that, after playing a leading part for years in girls' softball, they should enjoy a tour of the USA, which was offered them. We also feel that this most colorful and proficient S.B. team can render a major contribution in any of the towns in the province which may be planning through sports' or service clubs, or fall fair committees any special function during June, July or August. The Class team would be more than happy to co-operate, and you may rest assured the type of entertainment they provide would be most pleasing. If you are further interested, we would appreciate an early reply in order to complete our plans for summer activities." Doughty can be reached at 720 Broadview Ave., Toronto.

Plan New Section

Tentative plans of the minor ball loop executive here are to form two junior teams and two intermediates to play in a four-team setup until time for OBA playdowns. Only juniors allowed on the junior teams and over-age players on the intermediate clubs. But playing against each other, and the two juniors eventually playing off—same with the two intermediates—with winner of each hitting into provincial playdowns. Probably not enough juniors here to make more than two teams, and there should certainly be enough intermediate chaps for two squads. Thus, all would be taken care of this season.

* * * * * *

But the success of this plan—even the start of it—depends entirely on the players themselves. They must turn out at seven p.m. Monday at the Oval, Bowl, Ex. or Prince of Wales (depending on zones) to register. Otherwise this plan may have to be dropped, and just the peewees, bantams, midgets and juveniles carried for the summer. One other thing, coaches are needed badly in all sections of the City League, and former intermediate and senior players—as well as the present ones—with anyone else interested, are asked to come out and give the loop officials a hand in this manner. It's a big thing for the city's youth.

Legions Are Back

Legionnaires decided at a well-attended meeting last eve to return to the City Softball League this season, and they hold an open workout at 6.30 p.m. Monday in front of the Armouries. A number of star players were on hand for the huddle as well as several newcomers to the city. Baz Murphy has been named manager of the club and he will appoint a coach shortly. They were a bit doubtful previously, feeling they shouldn't enter this strong circuit unless they could make a better showing than last year. Apparently they have promises of classy material and are going back in. Good stuff, and we hope the four local teams are well-matched.

Girls' Softball League entries close at a meeting next Thursday night at 7.30 in the YMCA. It is hoped to have eight teams in this semester, and those interested should be represented for sure on April 29. Applications for umpiring in the lasses' league should be sent to Mrs. W. Millar at 345 Rubidge St. before the next meeting. The damsels expect to again go three or four nights a week with double-headers under the lights. Lakefield has an application in, but the Keene colleens are not expected to enter this year. The loop will once more affiliate with the PWSU.

Leafs Are Slighted

Some indignation felt by Conny Smythe and Toronto scribes because only one of the Leafs was named by the coaches to the first and second NHL all-star teams. Turk Broda got the goalie spot on the first team, other players being Quackenbush, Jack Stewart, Lach, Richard and Lindsay. Second team had: Brimsek, Reardon, Colville, O'Connor, Poile and Gaye Stewart. It does seem a slam to the Leafs, who won the Stanley Cup the last two years. But, as Jim Coleman points out, the Leafs won because they pulled together as a great team and not as starry individuals.

STOKE-ON-TRENT, England (CP).—A factory is being built here to manufacture a new type steel tire, the body of which will be steel and rubber bonded together. A thick pad of rubber between the tire and the air-filled inner tube will absorb nails and glass and high speeds can be attained with a minimum danger of blowouts.

RANGERS CHOSEN—Two New York Rangers, Neil Colville at left and Buddy O'Connor, caught spots on the second NHL all-star team this year. The silver-thatched Colville was given a defence place, while the high-scoring O'Connor was selected as centre.

Jerseys Thump Leafs 6-4 In Ball Opener

By The Associated Press

Jersey City's Little Giants, who won the flag last year after one of the most sensational finishes ever seen in the International Baseball League, are picking up where they left off.

The Jerseys yesterday blasted three home runs to defeat Toronto Maple Leafs 6-4 in the circuit's opener.

A crowd of 31,000 fans, part of the 52,629 persons who purchased tickets, saw catcher Sal Yvars wallop two four-baggers and rookie first baseman Jack Harshman smash the other.

Jack Kraus, first of the Jersey pitchers, was credited with the victory while starter Jim Konstanty of the Leafs was charged with the defeat.

A crowd of 13,996 at Newark saw the Bears score an unearned run in the 11th inning to nip Montreal Royals 3-2. The Royals made three of their five errors in that frame to present the Bears with the game.

Goes The Route

Bob Porterfield, rookie right-hander, went the route for the Bears although he walked six and gave up eight hits to four for the Bears.

Errors in extra innings also were responsible for Rochester's 8-6 victory over Syracuse in 10 innings. A base on balls and a hit batter by Mike Schultz, followed by miscues on the part of Bobby Carson and Harry Donabedian, gave the Red Wings two runs in the 10th to break a 6-6 deadlock.

Baltimore's Orioles, who make a habit of opening the season with a victory over Buffalo, did it for the 10th time in the league's only night game. The score was 6-4.

Howie Moss of Baltimore, 1947 International home-run king, slapped a pair of four-baggers as did Norman Jaeger of the Bisons.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching— Elmer Riddle, Pirates— Veteran righthander, obtained on waivers from Cincinnati Reds, blanked the Cubs with two hits as Pittsburgh shut out Chicago 3-0.

Bruce Edwards, Dodgers — Stocky catcher, making his first start after being sidelined with a sore arm, cracked out two doubles and a single to drive in three runs as Brooklyn whipped New York Giants 6-3.

Tournament Notes

Ramblers and Freeman's took a crack at the team event in the tournament last night at Duffus but they failed to get anywhere near the top score.

Harold Freeman and Horace Fisher made a fine attempt to top the doubles best score, coming second with a neat 1564 total.

Quite a number of out-of-town teams will be rolling tonight. Entries will be here from Bellevilel, Port Hope and Oshawa.

Dorothy and Jack Martin took over first place in the mixed doubles rolling at 1403 total.

Three averages missed in the City League list were Herb Frost 222, Dootch Vitarelli 217 and Clarence Downer 217. It was an oversight that these three fine averages were not listed.

Harold Davis Sunocos were unable to roll in the team event when Walt Crary was unable to bowl. The boys rolled singles without any luck. They were Roy Lewis, Harold Davis, Dick Martyn and Vince Anthony.

A number of the city leaguers rolled doubles but failed to displace the top pair. They were Art Pilling and George Gimblett, Tony White and Vince Anthony, Jimmy Herron and Jack Barnes, Ross Hopkins and Tom McPhate.

Confederation Wins

Confedertaion walloped May's 26-12 yesterday on the latter's diamond to open their junior Softball League series. It was a batters' picnic with Dummitt going the route for the losers, and M. Bryan, Parry and Davis seeing slab action for the victors. Nine walks were issued, while Davis, Parry and M. Bryan hit homers. Dummitt belted a triple with one aboard. Manley, MacIntosh and Douglas were replacements in the later innings. The teams:

Confederation—Davis, lf; Rose, ss; B. Bryan, c; Parry, 1b; M. Bryan, p; Goldie, 2b; Chesher, cf; Sloan, rf; Jones, 3b.

May's—Boyce, Chambo, Chamberlain, Oscar, Clarke, Dummitt, Drummond, Godfrey, Jones.

Umpire, K. McKee.

ALLAN CUP

Ottawa 9, Hamilton 1. Best-of-five series tied, 2-2.

HEADS KNIGHTS — Freddy Garvey will manage the Knights of Columbus this season in the City Softball League, succeeding Johnny Russelle, who has the B-A team this year. Garvey will be a playing manager.

LEGION PILOT—Baz Murphy was named manager of the Legion softball club at a meeting last night. He will appoint his own coach in the near future. The Legion entry makes the fourth city team in the men's circuit.

THEN THERE WERE FOUR—Lethbridge Native Sons were not match for Port Arthur Bruins Wednesday in their Western Canada junior hockey final at Maple Leaf Gardens. Although outnumbered on this play three to one, Danny Lewicki, sprightly forward of the Bruins, sank his shot to make the score 4-1 for Port Arthur early in the second period. Lewicki converted a beautifully timed pass from Rudy Migay, making his move before Howie Millford (No. 15) and another Lethbridge player realized the danger. Goalie George Rodzinyak didn't have much chance on this or many other plays as Bruins swamped the Native Sons, 11-1. Port Arthur will meet Barrie in the Memorial Cup finals first game at the Gardens Saturday night.

Detroit Tigers Dump White Sox 3-2 Although Batting Weak

By JOE REICHHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Detroit Tigers and Philadelphia Athletics only had more batting punch to back up their strong pitching staffs, they and not New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox probably would be co-favorites for the American League flag.

There seems little doubt the Tigers and Athletics possess the best mound corps in the junior circuit. The two clubs currently, are leading the parade with three victories and no defeats each. And it takes no Sherlock Holmes to come up with the reason—fine pitching plus clutch hitting.

Take yesterday's game, for example. The Tigers got only six hits off rookie Howard Judson and Ike Pearson, yet defeated the White Sox in Chicago 3-2. Virgil (Fire) Trucks went the route for Detroit, yielding eight hits. He walked one and allowed one extra base hit.

That made it only 23 hits and seven runs given up by Detroit hurlers in three games, an average of less than eight hits and about two runs a game.

Hal Newhouser yielded two runs and eight hits opening day and Dizzy Trout and Stubby Overmire gave up three runs and seven hits Wedenesday. The Tigers, meanwhile, accumulated only 27 hits and 12 runs themselves.

Equally Effective

Philadelphia's pitchers have been equally effective. Joe Coleman yesterday became the first Athletics' pitcher who failed to go the distance but some splendid relief pitching by Bob Savage helped the Mackmen nip the Red Sox in Boston 5-3.

The Red Sox could muster only eight safeties off Coleman and Savage for a total of only 19 hits and nine runs in 29 innings against Philadelphia pitching. That's an average of six hits and three runs a game.

On the other hand, the Red Sox and Yankee pitchers have been faring badly. The Sox have used seven pitchers in three games, and the Yankees six. Each staff has allowed 30 hits.

The National League race, as predicted, is showing signs of turning into a free-for-all. With only four playing days gone, every club has been beaten at least once. St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies, last of the unbeatens, got their first licking yesterday.

The Cards were edged out by Cincinnati Reds in St. Louis 4-3, while Boston Braves walloped the Phils in Philadelphia 10-4. In the other National League games Brooklyn Dodgers defeated New York Giants in New York 6-3, and the Pirates shut out Chicago Cubs in Pittsburg 3-0. The Yankees, St. Louis Browns, Cleveland and Washington were not scheduled.

GIANTS CHALK UP RUN AGAINST BROOKS—The Brooklyn Dodgers, who scored one victory after another during the training games, found the going a little rougher when playing for keeps. Marshall of the New York Giants is sliding safely home on Lohrke's sacrifice fly to Whitman in the second inning of the Brooks opening ball game of the season. Dodger Catcher Hodges takes the throw. Stewart is the umpire. Brooklyn finally beat the Giants 7-6 after extra innings.

Post-War Sports Booming In Great Britain

By MICHAEL O'MARA

LONDON, April 23 (CP). — Britain's post-war sports boom shows no signs of declining, and a record athletic feast is being spread this year, with the Olympic Games as the main course.

Unslackening interest in sport was evident at two spring events, the Grand National Steeplechase and the University boat race. Fine weather helped and there were crowds of about 350,000 and 1,250,000 respectively — the latter believed to be an all-time record.

Next major fixture is the Football Association Cup Final at Wembley Stadium April 24 between Manchester United and Blackpool Attendance here will be limited by police regulation to 100,000.

The spotlight then switches to cricket, with Don Bradman's Australian XI paying its quadrennial visit, opening its tour at Worcester early in May and going on to a series of five Test matches. England, seeking to regain the Ashes, will depend on a side stronger in batting than bowling, with Middlesex Denis Compton the feature batsman.

Racing Season

Meantime the racing season will be in top gear with the first two classic races—the One Thousand and Two Thousand Guineas—down for settlement at Newmarket late in April and the next two—the Oaks and Derby—set for Epsom early in June.

Tennis at Wimbledon, rowing at Henley, shooting at Bisley—in which a Canadian team will participate for the first time since the war—and several major golf tournaments will keep the pot boiling through the midsummer months.

Greyhound racing, following relaxation of a governmental ban on mid-week meetings, will hit its peak with the "Dog Derby" at White City Stadium in July.

These events set the stage for the Olympics, opening at Wembley July 29. Estimated 5,000 athletes will compete in 17 sports on behalf of at least 54 countries — shattering the previous record number of competitors—3,959—at Berlin in 1936.

Speed-Boat Racing Commencing June 6

MONTREAL, April 23.—(CP). —Speed-boat racing starts here June 6 and this year everybody is trying to get into the act.

Gone are the days when the roaring water sport was the domain of rich playboys. Today, when a racer can't afford an expensive hydroplane he builds it.

Already 40 boats, ranging from outboard water bugs to giant 225-horsepower cruisers, are here awaiting the opening gun for one of the most exciting of all sports. The Commodore Boating and Racing Association will stage shows virtually every summer Sunday after opening day.

GIANTS' BRIGHTEST STAR — One man can win or lose a ball game—if he happens to be the man on the mound. Larry Jansen is expected to be that man for the New York Giants in 1948 pennant race. Jansen is the Giants' fairhaired boy. Last year he won 21 and lost five. This year, they say, he shows even better promise. This series of magic eye photos may give you an idea of how Larry does it. Read the pictures top left to right and bottom left to right and follow the delivery from wind-up to follow through.

Barbara Silent On Film Offers

MONTREAL, April 23 (CP).—Barbara Ann Scott talked yesterday about vacations, wrestling, and flying, but had nothing to say about Hollywood plans — if any.

With all the poise in the world the figure-skating champion conducted a brief press conference. Her mother wasn't present.

About repots of professional contracts, movie offers, and all that, it's all handled "through my lawyers."

"I really don't know. I've been busy at carnivals and I haven't had time to go into any of this myself. All offers go through Mr. Tory" (John S. Tory, the Scott family's Toronto solicitor).

Wasn't there talk she would make a movie with Fred Astaire?

"I think somebody dreamed that up. But he is a beautiful dancer."

Just now she is enjoying her "first three days off in six months." She will appear at an ice carnival here to-day and on Saturday.

Her last engagement is in Toronto on May 8, "and the next day is my birthday." That will be her 20th.

Then Barbara Ann will take a vacation of two months. She expects to go to the St. Lawrence River home at Prescott of Herbert Caldwell, life-long friend of the family.

Last night she went to the Montreal Forum and saw a wrestling show—the first she has ever seen.

"I was scared stiff," she grinned.

Professionalism Confronts CAHA Delegates

TORONTO, April 23 — (CP)—The amateur hockey interest throughout Canada was focussed here to-day as more than 100 Canadian Amateur Hockey Association delegates prepared to face National Hockey League opposition to their remaining an amateur body.

Delegates attending the opening session of the three-day annual meeting were scheduled to hear a team-player contract plan proposed to officials of the association at a special pre-convention session held in camera yesterday.

The plan, proposed by President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League yesterday, is that senior amateur players sign contracts binding them to one club. The NHL in return would compensate the amateur club with $5,000 and the American Hockey Association would pay $3,500, in event of players being signed by the pro leagues.

However, the plan would eliminate the $31,000 paid annually to the CAHA by the NHL.

Last week the OHA turned down a similar plan which was proposed by Association President George Panter.

Heated debate is expected to ensue throughout to-day on the plan as many of the delegates, representing the smaller circuits in Western Canada, have repeatedly blocked attempts to put the association on a professional footing in the past.

Possible failure of the plan was hinted by President James Hendy of the United States Hockey League, who cut short a three-day visit here, saying "it is unlikely Campbell's plan will be accepted before another year."

The Amateur Hockey Association of the United States will add a touch of international flavor here to-day by holding its annual meeting in conjunction with the Canadian association.

Says Concentration Aids Ball Tossing

NEW YORK, April 23.—(AP). —The way to toss a 16-pound metal ball more than 58 feet, says Charlie Fonville, who broke the world shot put record last week, is "concentrate"—and then "you try to explode across the circle." ....Fonville, who'll have another try at the shot record in the Penn relays today, has unusual speed and concentration, but most unusual thing about him is his size. He weighs only 195 pounds, which is very small in comparison to most weight-throwing behemoths....Maybe the reason is that Chuck works in the kitchen of a sorority house and eats the same grub that the slender gals upstairs get.

One Minute Sports Page

Henry Cotton, who seldom gives golf tips for less than $25 a lesson, maintains that Lloyd Mangrum is the best "swinger" he has seen in the United States ....Ted Williams, a great fan, is growling at the schedule which puts the Red Sox in Cleveland the day that Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano fight in Newark. Ted saw their first two clashes....The Delaware Park race track will install a special laundry and dry cleaning service for stable hands. No doubt it will be convenient in taking the public to the cleaners, too.

Bruins Capture Western Junior Title

TORONTO, April 23 — (CP).— Port Arthur West End Bruins were fast enough Wednesday to trounce Lethbridge Native Sons 11-1 to win the Western Canada junior hockey championship. But fans are wondering whether they are fast enough to keep up with Barrie Flyers in the Memorial Cup final series which start here tomorrow.

Comparing the East and West champions is difficult. The question of whether Bruins looked good because they have a good team or because Lethbridge had a weak team will remain unanswered until after the first game of the final set, at least.

Coach Ed Lauzon insisted here yesterday that Bruins are faster than they showed.

He paid tribute to the Lethbridge team. "Lethbridge had a better club than they showed here," he said. "They have some sweet forwards, but I guess injuries put them too far off stride."

Both Barrie and Bruins came through their respective series in good physical condition with no injuries reported on either side. Barrie has sufficient reserve strength to fill any minor gap, while Bruins brought tyo reserve players East. Bert Fonso and Wrightsell will take over in case some regular is injured.

The Western champions work out for an hour this morning at a smaller rink than Maple Leaf Gardens. The Barrie team, idle for more than a week, has kept in condition by playing exhibition tilts.

CANADIAN WINS MARATHON — For the fourth time in his career as a distance runner, Gerard Cote, St. Hyacinthe, PQ, romped home a winner in the annual Boston Athletic Association 26-mile marathon from Hopkinson, Mass., to Boston. It was the 52nd annual race held by the association, and the third and final test for aspirants to the Olympic team. The race was witnessed by thousands. On the Upper Right is a view of the start of the race. Above, Cote is shown at the finish line. On the Lower Right, the winner sips water and speaks for the radio audience. He ran the race in two hours 31 minutes 2 seconds.

Hollywood King Clark Gable Back At Work

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 23 (AP) —The movie king is back at work again, and this time he seems to be happy about the whole thing.

Of course, I'm speaking of Clark Gable, the undisputed ruler of Hollywood. In our last conversation he was giving out gripes about his lot and hankering to give it all up. That was when he was admiring George Brent's plan to sail to Tahiti and stay there.

"I see Brent came back—and what's more, he got married," Clark said. "Haw!" was the comment of Gable, who recently said he would never marry again.

The king doesn't talk about the wanderlust these days and he reported the reason—a good picture ("Homecoming.") His previous depression was attributed to the two films before that one.

Not Wobbling

When I remarked that his crown wasn't wobbling, he answered, "yes, but it teeters back and forth a little. When I go over to the executive building, they raise their eyebrows a bit."

"But I like it here," he admitted. "The pay's good, the hours aren't too long and I get some time off." (he's allotted four months between pictures.) Clark has five more years to go on his M-G-M contract and I asked him what will happen then.

"I'll probably sign for 10 more. I'll be playing father parts and grandfather parts as long as they'll let me."

Scottish-born Charlie Gardiner then with the Winnipeg team of the American Hockey Association was signed by the Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League 21 years ago today. Hastings Plans T.B. Survey

HASTINGS, April 23—(ENS).—Attendance was encouraging at the regular meeting of the Home and School Association on Tuesday evening. The president had charge of the meeting.

Mrs. McCullough, representing the Northumberland Tuberculosis Association, spoke of the work being done from the sale of TB seals. May 18 was named as a tentative date for the local survey, when every adult is urged to take advantage of the free chest X-ray when the mobile unit will be present.

Mrs. Whyte from Peterborough was guest speaker, and told of the YWCA Camp Inglestane on a Stoney Lake island.

A monthly paper drive will be held, beginning with May 28. Due to the purchase of the projector, the association was not financially able to complete the bathing pool according to the motion on the books from some months ago. The Business Men very gladly took over the project, and work is being begun at once.

The association will sponsor a refreshment booth at each of the four sport days during the summer, planned by village organizations. Representatives from the euchre group of a couple of years ago who were present voted their bank balance of about $40 to the projector fund.

Elaine Hess played a piano solo very capably. A mixed quartette —Mrs. J. Glover, Barbara Scriver, Earl and Raymond Scriver—sang "The Old Rugged Cross," which was most enjoyed, to complete the program.

The lunch committee served fruit bread, cup cakes and coffee.

Prince Of Wales Beat Central By 5-2 Score

Prince of Wales pulled out a 5-2 junior School Softball League decision over Central yesterday on the latter's diamond. It was a neat early effort by both clubs, with a three-run splash by Prince of Wales in the fifth, putting it on ice. They had scored one each in the first and fourth, while Central counted one in their first and another in the third. The teams:

Prince of Wales: Goodison, Carleton, Kennedy, Crossley, Pearton, Williams, McGraw, Hollingsworth, Dunn.

Central: Forbes, lf; Armstrong, rf; Patterson, c; Spalding, p; Marshall, cf; Boorman, 3b; Rowley, 2b; Brooks, ss; Maxwell, Gardner, Kelley.

Umpires, J. Telford and D. Clapperton.

Senators Trim Tigers 9-1 Stretch Series To 6 Games

OTTAWA, April 23 — (CP).— This year's senior hockey is seeing a sports oddity in the form of a best-of-five semi-final series stretched to six games by Ottawa Senators' smashing 9-1 defeat of the Ontario Hockey Association champions, Hamilton Tigers.

On a point average which was forced by Tuesday's overtime tie in Toronto, each team now holds five points. The deciding game will be played in Toronto Saturday afternoon, with the winning team leaving for Regina and a crash against Edmonton in the Allan Cup finals.

In the first period, Tigers kept the game to the even-stephen business it has been since the teams met in the Eastern finals. But the visitors were swamped in the last two frames, and left the ice as tired, outclassed "ragged old men of the mountain."

Clare Shillington drew a groan from the 9,455 spectators with his 2.09 goal in the opening minutes. The crowd waxed fierce a few minutes later when Bobby Copp got a penalty and suddenly raised the roof when Senators, a man short, evened the score on a goal which George Green took in single-handed from his own blueline. Lude Check netted a clincher. A few minutes later and the game was virtually over.

The Ottawa team notched four more in the second and three in the third to confound the wizardry of Art Childs. Green brought his total up to three, Check and Alec Smart each garnered a pair, and Jack McLean and Bobby Copp collected singles.

For Saturday afternoon's game, the Tigers face the prospect of being without Swat Mason, who had to be carried from the ice in the second period with a charley horse. In addition, Bert Peer, a face-injury sideliner last night, will probably be out.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

By The Canadian Press

Approximately $78,000 of the annual $100,000 take of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association goes to Canadian hockey clubs, president Al Pickard of the CAHA said at Regina yesterday. In a prepared statement issued after he had left for Toronto to attend the CAHA's annual meeting, Pickard said the association's operating expenses average $20,000 annually.

The statement was prompted by a Winnipeg sports writer who protested CAHA action in moving the final western junior game to Toronto and said "the only conclusion we can draw is that the CAHA will stop at nothing to make a few extra bucks."

If the CAHA was doing any collecting it was for the good of hockey in Canada, Pickard replied. The teams split the spoils, not the CAHA.

In a game marked by flying fists, Windsor AKO juniors captured the Eastern Canada junior basketball championship at Windsor last night by defeating Montreal Canadian Converters 52-24. They took the best-of-three title series, two games to one. Windsor won the first 55-36 but lost the second 28-27.

Saskatchewan added another "big money" event to its 1948 bonspiel program with the announcement yesterday at Rosetown by George Loken, president of Rosetown curling club, that it will hold its first annual $15,000 bonspiel next winter. The event will be held Jan. 12-22 inclusive and will be limited to residents of Saskatchewan and those of border towns such as Flin Flon, Man.

Cardston (Alta.) Shooting Stars defeated Toronto Montgomery Maids 38-24 at Toronto last night in the third game of the best-of-five series for the Canadian senior women's basketball crown. The victory was Cardston's first of the series which Toronto leads 2-1.

It was Cardston's win from the first whistle with Darlene Sabey, who tallied 13 points, leading the way.

Veteran jockey Johnny Longden, scoring once in four chances, boosted his winning string to 2,999 yesterday at Bay Meadows. Within one victory of becoming the first rider in the history of United States racing to reach the 3,000 mark, Longden was expected to attain his goal today.

Max Napoleon, heavily backed by the form players, easily won the $25,000 feature race in the sulky card at Santa Anita yesterday. The handsome seven-year-old chestnut, took the lead on the backstretch, held the pace on in and wound up more than two lengths in front of Silent Fox.

Actor Very Ill

BURBANK, Calif., April 23 — (AP). — Actor Lon Chaney Jr., was taken to hospital last night suffering from what police termed an overdose of sleeping tablets. The 43-year-old son of the late character actor took the pills at his North Hollywood home, police said. Hospital attendants reported his condition was serious.

CIO CHIEF RECOVERING — Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers-CIO president, is pictured in the hospital in Detroit, Mich., where he was rushed following his shooting by an unknown assailant. Although his condition is critical, he is expected to live. The 40-year-old leader of the world's largest industrial union was shot in his home. The assassin fired point blank from a distance of about 12 feet and Reuther was wounded in the chest and right arm. He himself could contribute nothing that would help the police to track down his assailant.

$10,000 In Now As Rink Drive In Marmora Starts

MARMORA, April 23—(ENS)—A rally was held in the Marmora town hall on Thursday evening by Marmora District Memorial Recreation Centre Committee. The purpose was to arouse further public interest in the local project for a new covered rink.

Reeve Vincent M. Lynch opened the meeting of a large audience of interested citizens.

He outlined how the committee had originated. The Chamber of Commerce at its February meeting had discussed the matter of a rank, which two committees before had endeavored to bring to maturity without success.

The Chamber was inclined to spearhead any movement which should undertake the project, with collaboration with the Agricultural Society and the Canadian Legion.

Outlines Growth

The outcome had been the formation of the Recreation Centre Committee, comprising: Chairman, Bernard Hughes; vice-chairman, William Shannnn; secretary, R. E. Neal; treasurer, A. F. Fraser.

The Reeve pointed out the hockey record of the Marmora team and urged every citizen to support the project. Reeve Lynch called upon the following to make addresses: Reeve C. H. Buskard, Deloro; Reeve John A. Bell, Marmora and Lake township; F. M. Rutherford, director of Agriculture District 3, and Reeve John Morrison, Rawdon township. Each advocated support of the project.

The address of the evening was given by Bernard Hughes, chairman of the Recreation Centre committee. He gave the names of those serving on the canvassing, construction, publicity and special names committees and outlined the manner of the canvass officially launched at that time. He furnished ao complete progress report to date.

Report Progress

The construction committee had interviewed a Cannington contractor who was prepared, if advised by May 1, to begin with the construction of a rink 90 by 192 feet with ice surface 70 by 107 feet, with seating capacity of 1,500.

The agricultural society, faced with the problem of erecting a new building on the fair grounds, were reported to be willing to unite with the rink committee in such a way as to apply for the government grant of $5,000.

The agricutural society will give $500 to the recreation centre project and had committed itself to make a further grant of $2,500 over a five year period, it was reported.

Public Support

The cost of erecting the rink would be borne entirely by the public, except for the grants anticipated. No stock will be sold.

Letters have been sent to business firms of the district. To date there has been fine response. Business replaces in the district have been canvassed with gratifying success, the report said. The general canvass started this week.

The old boys attending last year's reunion are being contacted and a "Marmora Day" is being considered at some time in the summer.

Over $10,000

Of the objective of $25,000, the speaker said that already $10,427.28 of that amount has been raised.

Mr. Hughes said "There is now no reason why we can't have the rink for the next hockey season and also for use of the Fair Board in September.

Mr. Rutherford read a letter from J. A. Carroll, superintendent of Agricultural Socities, which he said gave no reason why the $5,000 grant to be asked could not be granted.

Executive of the committee received subscriptions.

Door prizes awarded went to Col. A. V. Yates, Mrs. Charles Leonard and Miss Grace Warren.

Plane Lands In Rodney Garden

RODNEY, Ont., April 23 (CP).—A light airplane believed from Hamilton, crashed in a garden near this Elgin County village shortly after noon Wednesday. Police said the pilot failed to see a line of Hydro wires.

Thomas Caran who was hoeing in his garden saw the plane tear through the wires, directly at him. He fell on his face, holding the hoe upright. The plane smashed the handle of the hoe.

Pilot Edward Shawrea escaped with a few cuts and bruises but his aircraft was damaged extensively.

Six square miles of Aldborough Township was without Hydro for two hours.

Rodney is about 30 miles west of St. Thomas.

Increase Exports British Hope

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, April 23 (CP). — Informed British sources said today that publication of the proposed European Recovery Program allocations to the United Kingdom has given new impetus to the drive to increase exports to Canada.

If the House of Representatives in Washington approves the proposed allocations there still will be a substantial deficit between the dollar income and dollar outlays of the United Kingdom.

This means that Britain will have to draw further on her dwindling reserves of gold to pay for essential goods and can only save herself by increasing her earnings in the dollar countries.

The United States House members may revise the allocations but on the basis of present figures British sources struck this balance:

During the first two months of 1948 Britain's visible trade deficit with Canada was £26,500,000 ($106,000,000) and with the United States £27,000,000. This means an annual rate for the two countries of £315,000,000 or close to the proposed ERP allocation to Britain of £331,000,000 for the first year.

Mission Circle Studies China

MILLBROOK, April 23—(ENS)—The Golden Links Mission Circle, at its April meeting Tuesday, with Mrs. E. J. Powell as hostess, had as special guest, Miss Jessie Martin, of Peterborough. She is mission circle secretary for the Peterborough Presbyterial, and was paying her first official visit to the local society. The president, Mrs. M. E. Hobbs, welcomed Miss Martin, also Mrs. Ephgrave and Miss Dulmage, of St. James' Circle, who accompanied her.

Miss Olive Smith was in charge of the worship service assisted by Mrs. K. Pennington, and the Easter thankoffering was received and dedicated. A shower of Christmas cards was brought in to be sent to Miss Jean Stewart, Chungking, China, and a special offering to defray cost of postage was taken. Any surplus cards, with scrap books made by the Mission Band will be sent to Miss Meta Sadler, worker in the Church of All Nations, Winnipeg. The secretary, Miss Betty Lunn, reported $4.45 collection at the March meeting.

Mrs. G. C. R. McQuade gave a sketch of the training and mission work of Miss Sadler, and Mrs. Homer Oullette brought the temperance message. Mrs. Hobbs announced the May meeting, at her home, will be honored with a visit from Miss Bessie Banfill, a missionary of some years' standing, and now working at Avonmore, near Cornwall.

Miss Martin briefly addressed the meeting, and explained that this year there will be an individual prize given the member in each Circle who has read the greatest number of missionary books. It will be awarded at the fall rally.

The study of China was taken by Mrs. Hobbs. Those assisting were Miss Jean Burnham, Mrs. Wideman, Mrs. H. W. Gray, and Mrs. B. E. Ingham. The leader also gave a short sketch of the life of Miss Jean Stewart, the Circle's prayer partner in China. Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. M. Wideman, Miss Burnham and Mrs. Ingham, with Mrs. Powell.

Stirling League Gives Three-Act Comedy

MARMORA, April 23.—(ENS).—St. John's Ladies' League of Stirling presented the three-act comedy, "The Chintz Cottage," under auspices of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild in Marmora town hall, Wednesday. A goodly sized crowd witnessed the fine presentation of the play. The following were in the cast: Verna Woodbeck, Alice Coombes, Gladys Clarke, Jimmy Wright, Mae Kent, Fred Houehin, Dorothy Prince.

Between the first and second acts, monologues and songs were given by Frank Leal and John Brownlie played two pianoforte numbers. In the second intermission Rev. J. M. Brownlie thanked the cast for their excellent presentation and Mrs. Doug Jones played piano numbers. The cast was entertained by the Guild at the close of the play.

Plan To Study Parking Charge

City Council's five dollar parking charge for trucks has been referred to its legal committee for "clarification" requested by Ralph O. Standish, representing K. Beatty.

Parking stickers were issued free at the city hall last year to 1,200 trucks. They relieved owners from paying into the parking meters. The council recognized that many trucks in their ordinary business had to stop along the metered streets to unload and load goods. Mr. Standish said the council by a later amendment had cancelled that parking arrangement, and now charged five dollars a year.

Already 500 stickers for 1948 have been issued at five dollars each allowing trucks to continue parking for business purposes. It is understood that the intention of the new amendment of the traffic by-law is not to permit trucks to remain indefinitely at any place in the metered area. A reasonable parking time is granted with this five dollar charge, but otherwise truck parking is subject to the scrutiny of traffic constables.

Scottish State Secretary Asks Politeness To English

By JAMES McCOOK.

LONDON, April 23 — (CP) — The Scottish discontent with the United Kingdom system of government has developed into an anger that makes political circles hum with exceptancy.

These are the recent developments:

Arthur Woodburn, Secretary of State for Scotland, read a lecture to fellow-Scots telling them to be more polite to the English. Some English industrialists were unwilling to go to Scotland because they thought that their welcome would be frosty. They had heard Scottish denunciations of England and the Englisn.

Tom Johnston, former Labor member of Parliament and successful Wartime Secretary for Scotland, wrote in the Liberal News Chronicle that "sometimes the Scots nation is administered as if it were a branch post office; sometimes as if it were an animal disease."

Constant Complaints

Visitors to Scotland hear constant complaints that Scottish enterprise and development are being throttled by remote control from London where Parliament and governmental departments are overburdened and cannot give sufficient attention to regional problems.

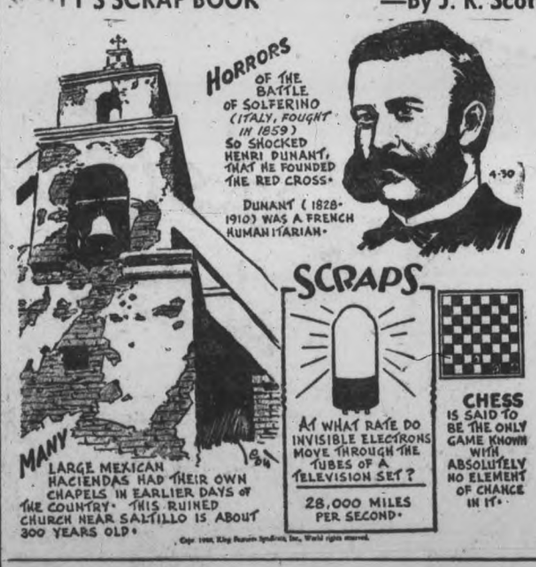
Scottish Nationalists of various degrees of extremism form parties and organizations to forward their home rcle cause. Glasgow police last week raided offices of what was called a Nationalist movement, took three men prisoner, and charged them with unauthorized possession of explosives.

Successive National Parliaments have said proudly that the Kingdom of Scotland enjoys far more self-government than the principality of Wales. Some departments of the central government are located in Edinburgh, and the Scottish Grand Committee deals with Scottish legislation at Westminster.

But a Scottish convention held last year and attended by representatives of all political parties churches, local authorities, trade unions, and commercial and industrial associations decided on this statement:

"The needs and wishes of the Scottish people cannot be satisfied with less than the creation of a Scottish Parliament and government with adequate financial powers to deal with Scottish domestic affairs."

25 Schoolmarms Quitting Their Posts



LONDON, Ont., April 23—(CP)—Wedding bells peal joyfully for most persons but lately the sound has produced headaches for Dr. G. A. Wheable, superintendent of London's schools.

He concedes that school teachers have a right to get married like everyone else. But he insists that prospective brides on the teaching staffs should notify him of their intentions to abandon their profession.

To date this year replacements have been found for 25 unhappy schoolmarms who intend to marry in or around June. Today rumors reached Dr. Wheable that two more teachers plan matrimony.

"And," he declared glumly, "I'm afraid there will be even more before the school year is up. That's bad, with the present shortage of teachers."

Democrats Not Too Happy About Stassen Successes

By CYLDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, April 23 (CP). —Harold Stassen has the other Republican Presidential aspirants and their managers buzzing around like disturbed hornets.

The Democrats are not too happy either. They would like to see Senator Robert Taft of Ohio get the Republican nomination because they believe President Truman could beat him in next November's Presidential elections.

Stassen, a former Navy captain and Governor of Minnesota, came out for the Republican nomination nearly two years ago and has been working at it ever since.

He won two of the eight delegates elected in the New Hampshire primaries and swept the Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries. Just now he is riding high and fast.

Resembles Eisenhower

Stassen looks and talks enough like Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to be a younger brother. He is entering his 40s, and Eisenhower is close to 20 years older.

Stassen is big, husky, genial and tireless. He proved his ability in political administration as Governor of Minnesota.

But he is a little too Liberal and non-conforming for the old-line leader of the Republicans. He is an internationalist and interventionalist. He is a realist.

What Primaries Reveal

These primary elections are not decisive but they do serve to show up public thinking.

The three so far held have revealed what few realized — that Stassen was making much headway in winning popular approval.

Nor would it have been known that Governor Thomas Dewey of New York, leading contender, had lost so much ground.

The next test will be in the Oregon primary May 21.

Each State has its own election law and the laws differ in about 48 ways. At present only 14 States have primary elections.

The primary was initiated many years ago to guide the national party delegates in picking candidates for President. It is an election with the party to show preference.

However, there is nothing binding. The delegates may shift their support, in most cases, if they cannot get their first choice nominated.

574 Visits Made During March By VON Nurses

In her report at the monthly meeting of the Victoria Order of Nurses, Miss Mary Ross, nurse-in-charge, said that during March 158 patients received a total of 574 visits.

The full statistical summary included 13 visits in the prenatal group, described as particularly valuable to those mothers about to have their first baby. Including the prenatal, the whole maternity group accounted for 33 per cent or 191 of the visits. Babies under a month got 69 visits.

Medical and surgical patients accounted for 66 per cent or 380 visits. A year previously fewer visits were made but to a greater number of persons indicating, she said, that a greater volume of work was being done.

Visits to attend chronic illnesses almost equalled the number for acute illnesses. Miss Ross explained that this was due to several factors: the increased life expectancy and more people falling into the old age group; also the expanding use of chemotheraphy (penicillin is saving many lives previously lost when complications set in on medical and surgical cases).

These drugs reduced the period of illness; and she illustrated this by saying that a few years ago a pneumonia patient could expect a week or two of acute illness followed by another two or three weeks of convalescence. Nowadays he receives the modern treatment and is usually over the acute stage in two or three days and is back at work in two weeks.

29 Night Visits

Despite the desire to do so the staff could not answer more than 29 night visits, Miss Ross said. Patients requiring sedatives received particular attention.

Summing up Miss Ross said about 300 fewer visits were made to date than at the corresponding period last year. A reduced nursing staff and heavy service attending medical and surgery patients were given as the chief reason for the decrease. Under the circumstances educational call had to receive secondary consideration.

Several meeting, lay and professional, were addressed by members of the staff during the month.

Next fall some 49 students are expected to do observation work with the local branch.

During April the visiting graduate nurse acquiring field experience as part of her post-graduate work is Miss Dorothy Weissgirber, Graduate of Women's College Hospital, and Public Health Course, University of Toronto.

Posters On Display

On display in the committee room of the City Hall were many of the posters that had been entered in the recent VON poster contest. The best one from the Peterborough district is being forwarded to Ottawa where the winner from all Canada will be chosen at the annual meeting of the VON for Canada, next week.

The directors moved a vote of thanks to those firms who had given prizes to the contestants—Wonder Bakeries, E. F. Mason Co., and Campbell's Dairy.

James Dutton Sr., asked those present to actively support the present drive of the Cancer Society for increased memberships. J. E. Girven presided at the meeting.

Obituary

RICHARD H. McMILLAN

NORWOOD, April 23.—(ENS). —Richard Herbert McMillan died at his home, South Dummer, on April 15.

He was born in Dummer township in December 1877, eldest son of the late James W. McMillan and Elizabeth Ann Ennis. He had resided in the South Dummer neighborhood for the past 42 years.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ethel Eva Cannon and four sons, Allan of Dundee, Michigan, Archie of Warsaw, Harry of Norwood, and Charles at home, also three sisters and one brother, Mrs. Osborne Ferguson (Sarah) of Norwood, Mrs. Robert Martin (Mary), Norwood, Mrs. Charles Harnden (Lillie) of Havelock, and George of Peterborough. There are 14 grandchildren.

The service, which was attended by many, was held at his residence on Sunday. Rev. E. E. Pugsley of Cottesloe United church, of which Mr. McMillan was a member, officiated. There were many floral tributes.

Pallbearers were: Percy Kempt, John Gallaher, Wh. Renwick, Robert Patterson, Robert Girven and James Hannon.

Flower bearers were four nephews, Howard Harnden, Victor Ferguson, Russel Cannon, Gerald McMillan and two neighbors, Jim Girven and Thomas Webster.

Burial was made in Norwood cemetery.

Australian Author Given Fine, Imprisoned For Obscene Language

MELBOURNE, April 23—(Reuters).—Robert Close, Australian author, convicted last week of publishing an obscene libel in his novel "Love Me Sailor," has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment and fined £100 ($400).

Georgian House, publishers of the novel, were convicted of a similar offence and fined £500.

Mr. Justice Martin, announcing sentence, said "the morals of the community, and particularly of youth, must be safeguarded. I regard the book as a gross assault to morality."

George Godfrey, president of the Australian Book Society, said "I hope there will be a nation-wide protest against the imprisonment of an author for having the audacity to put into print the coarse language and idiom which are normal of the barroom and barrackroom. It is better to have too much feedom in these matters than too little.

Does Heat Bother You? Try Air-Conditioned Hat

KANSAS CITY, April 23 (AP) —Want an air conditioned straw hat equipped with an electric fan?

Or a mouse trap that doesn't kill but flips its victim out of the house?

The inventor is J. W. Haynes, 60-year-old grain broken, and he's perfected a lot more similar gadgets. His inventions were on display today at a Hobby Club show—and they attracted the most spectators.

Here are some of the others:

A soup bowl that tilts automatically as the contents begin to lower, making it easier, Haynes says, to get the last few spoonsful.

A fishing rod that recoils and raps the holder's knuckles to awaken him when he gets a bite.

A fork that has a windmill arrangement for winding up spaghetti.

The air-conditioned straw hat has vents that allow for removal of warm air and intake of cool air.

The mouse trap has a miniature catapult. When the trap grabs its victim the catapult is automatically released and the mouse goes flying out the window.

"What will prevent the mouse from coming back into the house?" Haynes was asked.

"Only his self respect," Haynes responded. "No self-respecting mouse is going to keep on coming back into a house from which it has been pitched out three or four times."

Don't Plan Inquest In Double Slaying

TORONTO, April 23 (CP). — Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson said today there will be no inquest into the double death of a 28-year-old woman who, he said slashed her six-year-old son's throat with a knife and then ended her own life.

The woman, Mrs. Elaine Mary Duncan, had apparently been mentally deranged, the Coroner said. The bodies were discovered by her husband when he returned home.

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH—R. J. Ward, Manager

DISAPPEARING — The Hamilton residence on George St., south of King St., built about 70 years ago, is yielding to the extension of business in that block. The southwest corner property has been bought by Cherney Brothers as the site of a retail furniture store which they have begun to build. Records show that at least part of this property, if not all of it, was acquired from the Crown April 3, 1826, by Richard Birdsall, the original surveyor of Peterborough county, and other sections of the district. The house and also the warehouse and office immediately north of it were built by the late Peter Hamilton, who expanded on the east side of the street the farm implement factory which was begun in a small way by his father, James Hamilton, whose grandson, Mr. James Hamilton, preceding Mayor W. G. Owens, established a long term mayoralty record in the administration of Peterborough. Cherney Bros. have purchased the entire corner block, and have begun the first stage of construction.

Hydro Now Stressing Greater Service, Not Lower Costs–HEPC Vice-Chairman

LINDSAY, Ajril 23—(ENS)—"For many years past the Ontario Hydro-Electric system with its many branches has been placing emphasis on low rates and giving electricity at cost," said W. Ross Strike, KC, vice-chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric (Toronto) Wednesday night. He was addressing the third annual banquet of the Lindsay Hydro system.

"Because of the big building projects being undertaken by the Ontario Hydro system, and because of the high cost of materials and labor, the emphasis must be shifted from giving power at cost, to the idea of rendering greater service."

Outlining local Hydro activities in 1947, Chairman J. G. Baldwin said services were extended to Housing Enterprises units, Wartime Houses, and new industries locating here. A heavy feed line was constructed to serve the east part of town.

Commissioner Baldwin said 121 new poles had been erected to accommodate extra services and a five-year plan calls for further extensions and improvements, particularly in rewiring Lindsay's business section. A new warehouse is being completed to house equipment.

Mr. Baldwin also said that recently the town of Lindsay had received a $10,000 cheque, the last payment on a debenture debt of $13,000 incurred 20 years ago. The local plant and system is now estimated at $500,000.

$50 By Norwood CWL To Children's Appeal

NORWOOD, April 23 (ENS)—The annual meeting of the Norwood Sub-Division of the Catholic Women's League was held in the vestry of St. Paul's Church on Sunday. The president, Mrs. J. Cronin, thanked the members for co-operation during the year. The meeting was addressed by Rev. C. J. Carroll, who complimented the league on the successful achievements of the past year. it was decided to donate $50 to the Canadian Appeal for Children Fund, $25 had been donated to the Norwood Town Hall, and all diocesan, provincial, and national obligations were met. Two dollars was given to the Socred Heart Fund.

The results of the election of officers under the convenership of Mrs Redmond Walsh were: President, Mrs. J. Cronin; first vice-president, Mrs. Neil McNulty; second vice-president, Mrs. Fred English; secretary, Mrs. Leo Herr; treasurer, Mrs. W. Heffernan.

Junior WA To Reorganize

MILLBROOK, April 23 — (ENS). — Mrs. C. M. Westmacott and Miss Rose Macnamara were joint hostesses for the April meeting of the W.A. of St. Thomas' Anglican church on Monday. President, Mrs. A. E. Chevis, led in prayer. Mrs. W. M. Theobald read the lesson.

A feature was the disolay of the articles for annual bale, including quilts and clothing and other supplies for the Blackfoot Home in Manitoba, and useful donations for the mothers' bags, to go to northern Ontario.

Reports received showed added expense for the bale material this year, since prices have advanced. Mrs. J. W. Hilton, Dorcas secretary, gave the details.

Mrs. Doris Kenney, guest speaker in Cavan parish on Sunday, had met with the girls in the parish hall in the afternoon and, as the outcome of her talk, it is expected that soon the Junior W.A. will be reorganized, and the senior girls interested actively in mission work also.

A public meeting is planned by the W.A. for the last Thursday in May, or the first week in June, the other two Auxiliaries of the village to be invited to attend. The president announced the annual Diocesan W.A. at Toronto the first week in May, and one or two car-loads will go if possible, for at least one day's sessions.

Mrs. C. M. MacLean covered the last chapter of the study book, "From Sea to Sea." The rector, Rev. Mr. MacLean was present, and addressed the society.

Supper hostesess were Mrs. N. Lamb and Mrs. H. Swanson.

Mrs. Westmacott the hostess, was welcomed, after a long and serious illness. For the May meeting supper hostesses will be Mrs. Hilton, and Mrs. Theobald.

Legion Suspends U of T Charter

TORONTO, April 23 — (CP) — Suspension of the charter of the University of Toronto branch of the Canadian Legion, for "open defiance" of the Legion's policy on Communism was announced last night.

The Ontario command said the suspension marked the first step to oust Communist party members and sympathizers from the Legion. The action followed months of investigation. Provincial command president E. S. Evans said the University branch opposed Legion policy "on several occasions."

The latest occasion was in February. The branch passed a resolution which criticized the Command's announced intention of Communist housecleaning.

The University members opposed unanimously the raising of any "political controversy, including anti-Communism" as an issue concerning the Legion. Mr. Evans at that time denied the Legion was political either in action or interest.

In suspending the charter, Mr. Evans said the action was due not only to the branch's repeated public opposition to Legion policy but also to the fact the Branch no longer had the minimum number of paid-up members required by its charter.

Escapist Music Tops Hit Parade Of German Songs

FRANKFURT, April 23—(Reuters)—Germans turning from the bellicose wartime favorites such as "We Are Sailing Against England," have now adopted popular music suggesting escape to tropical island and beaches where the calory is unknown and the housing problem revolves about a palm-thatched hut.

Among the top five current favorites in dance music and popular ballads are songs with such titles as "Nights in Shanghia," "Come With Me to Tahiti," and Fishermen of Capri."

Eberhard Bethsold, composer of the current German dance hits "Gisella" and "Destiny," declares, however, that in spite of this tendence to musical escapism. German songwriters have never been saddled with the "promise" tunes heard in Britain and the United States.

Whereas many Anglo-American dance composers write tunes in which an impatient lover promises his sweetheart material items ranging from a Rolls Royce auto to a diamond necklace, German writers, he says traditionally steer clear of all such practical features, preferring a simple abstract love.

Because of this tradition and the unhappy plight of most of Germany today, no lyricist would even consider writing a song which suggest food, luxury clothing or housing.

One of the most interesting "escape songs," which has achieved a considerable vogue in post-war Germany, written by Gunther Schwenn is entitled "You Can't Forbid Dreaming." This dreamy tune is regarded by many as a musical expression of opposition to years of regimentation and regulation in which the word "Verboten" (forbidden) seemed synonymous with everything desirable.

Smiles Not Rationed

Another optimistically-worded German favorite is called "The World Is Getting More Beautiful All The Time," while a catchy number entitled "Keep Smiling" reflects the only unrationed method in Germany for combating gloom.

Bethsold says that the production of German dance music was greatly hampered by a Hitler order which forbade public dancing from the time of the invasion of Russia to the end of the war. Because of this ban, and because of the dampened spirits of most Germans, litle or no popular music was written.

Since the end of hostilities, however, hundreds of young would-be German composers have been attempting to fill this gap in song production with a spate of tunes attempting to take the listener's imagination as far from Germany as possible.

German dance music composers have been greatly influenced by American "Jive" music German tunes which bear the titles such as "Swing It Christopher Columbus" and "Hello Baby" are evidence of the overthrow of another Hitler order forbidding the use of American titles for German music.

The occupation has also found the post-war popular German music composer guilty of a "crime" associated with American composers working in New York's "Tin Pan Alley." Long repulsed by the ieda of hearing the works of classical composers in any other atmosphere than that of the concert hall, post-war German tunesmiths have finally yielded to the pressure of the times and begun stealing themes from classical symphonies and concertos to turn them into the idiom of the dance hall.

But the first favorities of German dancers are still old-fashioned waltzes and Spanish-style tangos.

Seeding Slow And Spotty In Province

Farmers have given up hopes of an early spring as reflected in the weekly report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Seeding across the province has been spotty, but in Renfrew some fields on which there was no crop last year have already been sown.

Halton county said there was no progress up to the beginning of this week since April 10. In Lambton "seeding is making headway slowly"; in Victoria "little work except plowing of sod has been done on the land"; Middlesex seeding "has been very little"; Dufferin "Little progress was made on the land last week"; Peterborough: "A few farmers have finished seeding".

Fall wheat generally looks vigorous, but here and there some winter killing is reported. Peterborough and Welland are two counties with some fall crop loss, and there are others, but on the whole the prospect is indicated by Kent's "fall wheat is looking particularly well."

Farms are again faced with labor scarcity. Seed cleaning plants everywhere are working to capacity. Only several references to seed scarcity appear in the week's report, and demand is heavy. Lincoln say it is "phenomenal." Cheese factories will be operating in eastern Ontario by May 1.

Many farmers are seeding long term pastures. Top prices at a beef and swine consignment sale in Dufferin were $350 for a Hereford bull and $112.50 for a Yorkshire sow. Around St. Catharines gardeners are busy planting potatoes, head lettuce, early cabbage, cauliflower. In Ontario county "considerable interest is showing in husking varieties of corn." Sheep population of Lennox-Addington is declining.

SPRING FLOODS SWEEP MANITOBA—Not an uncommon sight these days are these children at St. Jean, Man., riding to school in a farm wagon, axle deep in flood waters which are sweeping Manitoba and Alberta.

1,500 Killed in Revolt Which Swept Bogota

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 23—(AP).—The rebellion which broke out in Bogota, April 9 cost the lives of 1,500 persons, Red Cross officials reported today. They said 1,200 were killed in Bogota, the capital, and 300 outside the city when mobs ran riot after the assassination of Liberal leader Jorge Eliecer Gaitan.

Authorities in Bogota estimated 2,500 persons were injured.

Ski Club Plan For Next Winter

Junior ski school, junior and senior competitions will be continued in the Peterborough district next winter. The subject was discussed at the annual meeting of the Southern Ontario ski zone of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association held in Huntsville last weekend.

There were 40 representatives of clubs in attendance from Oshawa, Toronto, Cedar Springs, Peterborough, Kitchener, London, Newmarket, Cobourg and Bracebridge.

Dick Westheuser, Toronto, and Jack Hull, Hamilton, were returned chairman and secretary-treasurer respectively.

Peterborough representatives at the meeting were executive of the Ski Club—Vic Griffiths, president; Guy Patterson, past president; Shirley Mortimer, treasurer; Mollie Craig, secretary; Jane Gillespie and Agnes Strickland, executive members. Two competitions from the Peterborough club attending were Peg Griffiths and James Craig.

Speakers at the two-day meeting were William Hearn of the Canadian Ski Patrol System and Clint Melville of the provincial department of travel and publicity. Films were shown.

Will Fly Regiment To Picton Army Camp

SAULT STE. MARIE, April 23—(CP).—Transport by air of a detachment of the 49th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment, Royal Canadian Artillery, from the Soo to summer camp at Picton, will take place next July.

Lt. Col. L. H. Derrer, officer commanding the unit, said today it was likely three RCAF Dakotas would be used in the 700-mile movement. A party of about 60 officers and non-commissioned officers are involved.

The movement will probably be from Kinross airport on the Michigan side, which is the closest airport to the Canadian Sault. The 17-mile trip to Kinross will be by military transport.

The group leaves on July 4 and returns July 10.

Car Driver Wins $500 Damages Against Trucker

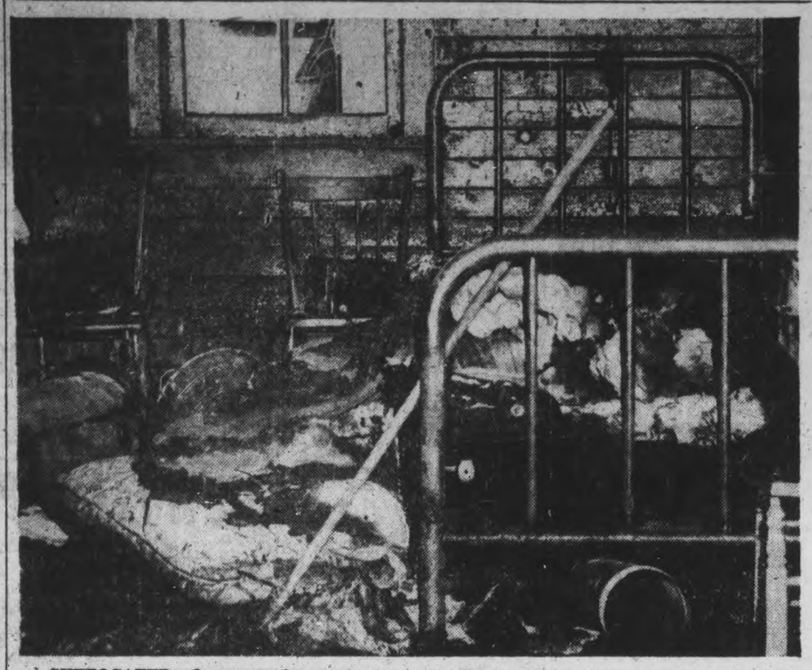
Mrs. Francis Carr, Ennismore, was awarded $500 damages against Russell J. Kavanagh, Peterborough, in County Court today as a result of a car-truck collision on the morning of February 18, 1947. As Kavanagh had been unable to meet the costs of the ... y from a previous adjournment, although ordered to do so within three days by Judge Sheldon S. Smoke, the court action consisted of assessing damages.

Included in the damages were a doctor's bill, a hospital bill, a bill for repairs to Mrs. Carr's auto, loss of wages while in hospital and while convalescing and remuneration for pain and suffering. The defendant was also ordered to pay $150 court costs.

Provincial Constable Lloyd McClure said the accident took place four miles north of Peterborough and half-way up a hill about 400 yards from the intersection of the Chemong Road and the Lindsay Highway.

He said that marks on the road showed that the truck which was travelling north, was approxi...ately two feet over the centre ...e. He gave a detailed description of the car which had been badly damaged but was still standing upright.

Constable McClure said the road was slippery and visibility was hindered because of a blizzard. When cross-examined by counsel for the defence, J. C. N. Currelly, he said he saw "no noticeable injuries." He took Mrs. Carr to the Civic Hospital where she remained for eight days.



Dr. W. J. Gordon said he attended Mrs. Carr at the hospital. He said she was suffering from injuries to her scalp, a broken rib and had a mild degree of shock. Dr. Gordon said that in his opinion the accident had affected her nervous system rather than her physical condition, and she might be more easily upset than some ...her persons.

Mrs. Carr said that since the collision she has been suffering from headaches, sick stomachs, attacks and that she frequently had to take sedatives to sleep at nights.

The Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., represented Mrs. Carr.

SUFFOCATED—Overcome by smoke in a confined fire in the small cabin in which he lived on Queen Street in Cobourg, Melville Bowen was suffocated in his bed on Thursday. A smouldering fire burst into flames when firemen broke into the place to reach Mr. Bowen. Water was directed on the fire in order to open up a path through the flames to where the man lay in his bed. The body was badly burned by the time firemen took it out, but it is believed that Mr. Bowen had suffocated before the fire reached him. The above pictures show the interior of the charred one-room dwelling.

Wage Schedule Of Local Firm Is Said Highest

The employees of Peterborough Lumber Co., Ltd., members of the International Woodworkers of America, have accepted the results of negotiations between the company and the union which have been held during recent weeks.

The agreement is the first one effected in the Peterborough area by the I.W.A.

The new settlement provides for five statutory holidays with pay, two weeks' vacation after five years employment, a voluntary, irrevocable check-off, and an 80 cents an hour minimum rate for permanent laborers.

By the new wage schedule, the company continues to pay the highest wage rates in the retail lumber industry in Ontario, said Mr. F. J. Overend.

ON TRAINING CRUISE

Taking part in a summer training cruise of the University Naval Training Division are three district men, Keith Boorman, Peterborough, James D. Cummins, Port Hope and Jack Free of Campbellford. All students at Queen's University, the group are aboard the minesweeper HMCS Portage. They sailed from Halifax Tuesday and will go to Bermuda for naval exercises.

Canadian Men Ruled By Their Women

Tom Allen, assistant editor of the Peterborough Examiner, was guest speaker at the Y's Men's Club dinner on Thursday evening at the YMCA. He gave an amusing short talk entitled, "Women Rule the Canadian Roost."

"Canadian men are under the thumb of women," he said. "When married couples meet together in each other's houses for a social evening, who are the original friends—the two wives or the two husbands? The wives, every time. The husband are dragged along." He then dealt with men's clubs and said that the reason that there are ten women's clubs in Canada to one men's club is that the men are too busy breadwinning.

"The Canadian barber shop," he maintained, "used to be a sanctum for men. It is so no longer. Back where men used to play dominoes and talk politics, there is now a beauty parlor."

Usurp Men's Territory

"I believe that women should have equal rights with men," Mr Allen said. "What annoys me is that women usurp man's territory. Or if they do not, they demand that man's territory be hedged in by women. I believe that women have special functions, but that men have special niches in human society."

He blamed the influence of the American monthly magazines, advertisements and short stories. "Women are always the heroes; men the supplicating males, prostrate before the altar of unapproachable, unsullied womanhood. That kind of twaddle is damaging the fabric of Canadian society. It is so widespread in Canada that sane men actually believe that women are nearer heaven than men. Unfortunately, Canadian women foster such nonsense."

"There is a common superstition in Canada," he continued, "that women are the moulders of men, and therefore of the state. Stupid men, or thoughtless men, encourage this notion. A politican piously says 'I owe all my success to my wife.' Or 'I attribute my rise on the ladder of fame to the inspiration of my mother.' This mother and wife adulation has reached nonsensical proportions. There are far more men who have been kept down by their wives, and mothers, than who have been advanced by them. It is significant that the last two Prime Ministers of this country have been bachelors."

Mr. Allen suggested that Canadian men should foster an Anti-Feminist Society and lead a crusade against women. He ended by giving sketching briefly the life history of a typical man. "My final word is this: If this analysis leaves a bad taste in your mouth, is it not because the truth is usually bitter?"

Gordon Morrison introduced Mr. Allen, who was thanked by Joseph Barnard. Al Clark presented photographs to the finalists in the table tennis tournament sponsored by the Y's Men's Club, and those non-members, who assisted at the carnival organized at the Armouries, were also guests at the dinner. Kenneth Jackson presided.

Notable Array Lost Articles Held By Police

Down in the murky depths of the police station on Water Street, there is a room crammed with mute testimony to the carelessness of the public. It is "Exhibit 1" of the Police Department's lost-and-found section. And the police would be heartily glad to have the grieving owners come to the station and collect their long-lost treasures.

The array is staggering. Prominent, in one corner of the basement, is a line-up of about 20 bicycles, most of them in perfect condition. In addition, there are a number of mangled wheels, frames and handlebars which a mechanic should be able to whip into a vehicle of some kind. Also standing forlorn and neglected is one beautiful big tricycle which some child is probably mourning at the moment. The police use motorcycles, and assure the rightful owner that he can have it back as soon as he has established ownership.

Automobile Parts

At its present rate of growth, the Department may be able to salvage a full automobile from their collection of miscellaneous parts now resting—and rusting—in the basement. There are several makes of hubcaps, a full set of car lens for front lights, a neat assortment of tires and inner tubes. A wooden truck gate leans on the wall.

The nucleus of a household set-up is there, too. On a cabinet, unopened, rest four cans of sardines. Across the room, the top of a stove sits unhappily among some old police files.

All forms of winter sport (outdoor variety) are represented. Four or five varied forms of sleighs — in four or five varied forms of collapse — are scattered invitingly about the floor. A good sized bob-sled is there too.

Children's Wagons

For the summer, there is a small fleet of children's wagons, gaily named "The Comet," the "Rocket" and other gaudy titles. From the looks of things, there will be quite a number of the younger generation making their ways about Peterborough on foot instead of in these sleek vehicles.

There are several cartons and on open pile of clothing of every description, left around and about by thoughtless people. And the things thoughtless people leave on buses: Two fine quality men's overcoats are also waiting claim for someone.

Police Inspector James F. Reid is not happy about his involuntary possessions.

"Tell them to come and take them away," was his parting shot

Claim Bus Storage Garage Has Become Noisy Nuisance

What rights has a community in the circumstances of a bus storage barn being converted into a maintenance workshop without extension of official permission from the City Council?

Ald. Max Swanston asked that question the other night, and Ald. H. Dodds seconded his eventual motion, that Colonial Coach Lines be asked to send ...me official to Peterborough to hear a complaint of the noise development on Douro St.

The Douro-Rogers section of Ashburnham is pressing for action of some kind to check the "night and day operations that are now carried on over there."

Ald. Swanston said no objection was expressed by the community when Edward DeNure built the big barn on Douro St. for the accommodation of the fleet of buses he built up during the war years. Then he sold the business to Colonial Coach, so the statement to the council goes, and in the meantime and since then the barn has become a noisy nuisance.

Loss Of Property Values

"There is no use talking to any local management," said Ald. Swanston. "We want some one higher up. They are causing a great annoyance and loss of property values in that part of Ashburnham. They were never granted a permit to build a service station. I feel sure of that, but they are coming and going with their big buses night and day. I am told that they leave the diesel engines of the buses running through the night, to keep them warm. At least that was the practice during the winter, and they have turned the place into a repair and work shop."

Ald. Swanston said the DeNure shop was built at the rear of first-class houses on Rogers St. and near others on Douro St., and owners felt that while the noise-making condition continued their property values would be adversely affected.

4 Men Served City 165 Years, Pensioned

A total of 165 years working for the city preceded the retirements on pension of four employees of the board of works.

John Thirnbeck, a foreman of the department, retired several years ago with 47 years of service to the city. His pension is $945.75.

John Cupoli was 45 years with the board. His pension is $706.42. He quit work about the same time as Mr. Thirnbeck.

Two other employees were pensioned this year. Mr. E. Jewell, 35 years with the city, pension $828.58 a year. Mr. A. Bulmer, 38 years' service, pension $873.60.

It was reported recently that Mr. Jewell underwent a serious operation, and has since then returned to his home.

JEWISH ANNNIVERSARY

Today at sundown, thousands of Jews across the world will mark the first night of the annual eight-day Feast of Passover. Services will be held in synagogues followed by the traditional "Seder" which commemorates the historic exodus from slavery in Egypt.

Leslie Frost To Address Tory Convention

Progressive - Conservative convention is called for Tuesday April 27 at 8.15 p.m., DST, in the Canadian Legion hall for the nomination of a candidate in the provincial elections.

General expectation is that Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, will have no opposition. Guest speaker will be Hon. Leslie Frost, KC, Provincial Treasurer. James Juby, president of the association, will be chairman of the meeting. Mr. G. K. Fraser, MP, will be present.

Giving Support To Civic Arena

Two more business leaders of Peterborough have publicly expressed their backing of the Civic Arena drive.

James Heffernan, general manager of the Colonial Weaving, said that "If the Memorial Centre will not be built for a few years, something has to be done for the youngsters now. I think that we should have a place right away to look after them."

Charles Wood, owner and manager of the C V. Wood lumber mill, also urged support of the rink campaign.

"If we are going to keep our youth off the streets, we will have to give them a place to play their games. If the people of other cities and towns provide an arena for their youngsters to learn the game of hockey, I think we should do as much for our young folk."

Need More Nurses

TORONTO, April 23—(CP)—A critical shortage of nurses exist in outpost hospitals in Ontario, it was announced today by Miss Ida Brand of the Ontario division, Canadian Red Cross. The Ontario division operates 27 outpost hospitals in unorganized sections of Ontario and Miss Brand said the units are overcrowded with patients.

Two Champions To Appear In U.S. Cities

The two Peterborough girls who recently won the United States junior ornamental swimming championship are in great demand this spring. Iris Forbes-Reilly and Jean Millard will give an exhibition in Toronto tonight at the annual water ballet of the Toronto Ornamental Swimming Club. And they are booked for performances in Ottawa on May 8, Montreal on May 29, back in Detroit in June, and at Des Moines in July. The local YWCA nine-girl ornamental swimming team will perform in the USA senior meet in Des Moines in mid-summer.

With aquatic interest high here at present, an ornamental swimming meet will be held in the YMCA pool on May 1. One of the out-of-town guests appearing will be Jean Mowat of Toronto, the Canadian ornamental champion. Mrs. Forbes-Reilly and Miss Millard will do the number which won them the United States junior title.

DOGS—BEWARE!

Humane Society Inspector Gerald Dunford has given warning to all dog-owners that the Society will begin shortly to prosecute cases of dogs being permitted to run at large.

BREADLINES FORM—This photo from Bogota, Colombia, shows crowds of people lined up outside a public market in hopes of getting food. Since the riots, food has been scarce and the army has taken over the job of distributing the food that is available. In spite of continued tension in the riot-torn Colombian capital, the inter-American conference has resumed its talks.

CCF Filibuster Postpones Decision On Freight Rates

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, April 23—(CP).—A CCF filibuster has postponed final settlement of the freight-rate issue in the Commons. The party launched the filibuster when it failed by a vote of 109 to 80 to win postponement of the debate until next week. The division was the second during the day.

Earlier, members voted 110 to 89 to uphold the Government on a motion of non-confidence sponsored by the Progressive Conservative party. The motion was moved after the Government declined to delay application of the 21-per-cent. increase in freight rates, authorized by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

A similar CCF motion of non-confidence remains to be decided.

The CCF moved to adjourn the debate so the freight-rate issue would not be disposed of before the provinces have a chance to appeal to the Cabinet.

The premiers of the Maritimes and the Western provinces are due to meet here Saturday to lay plans for the launching of an appeal.

They are tentatively scheduled to see the cabinet Wednesday but the appointment may be advanced.

Took The Floor

When the adjournment motion failed, the CCF members simply took the floor and held it until the House adjourned. As votes are usually avoided on Fridays and Mondays when Ontario and Quebec members are back in their constituencies, the government announced that the debate would not be resumed until next week.

Only one member — George Cruickshank (L—Fraser Valley) —bolted from government ranks to support the Progressive Conservative motion of non-confidence.

Other Liberals, who earlier in the debate threatened to oppose the government, closed ranks to help beat the almost solid Opposition vote. Independents supported the government.

The vote on the adjournment motion followed practically similar lineups. Mr. Cruickshank voted with the government, but C. W. Hodgson (PC—Victoria) broke from his party to oppose the adjournment.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King did not vote because he was paired with John Bracken. Progressive Conservative leader, confined to his home with lumbago.

A. L. Smith (PC—Calgary West) took the unusual course of advising the House he was not voting because he had had long business associations with the two railways.

BRITISH SOLDIERS ON GUARD — British soldiers are shown using metal detectors in search of hidden harms among food being brought to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, which is entirely surrounded by Arabs. Meanwhile, Arab sources reported that the Jewish Neveg Yacov settlement northwest of Jerusalem, with a population of 200, has been "completely wiped out" by Arab troops. Jewish sources, however, say the settlers of the community repulsed the Arab attack which lasted three hours.

Develop New Chemical

CHICAGO, April 23 — (AP). — A mystery chemical that powerfully affects animal growth, and perhaps human health, now can be made artifically, Dr. Stefan Ansbacher announced yesterday. It is apparently a new B-vitamin, and can be readily produced in large quantities for the first time, he told the American Chemical Society.

Legalize Margarine

TRENTON, N.J., April 23 — (AP). — Governor Alfred Driscoll yesterday put his signature on legislation legalizing the sale of colored oleomargarine in New Jersey for the first time since 1886. His signature made New Jersey the first of 22 states which banned such sales to repeal the restriction.

Woman Investor Will Make $2 Million On Steel Deal

DALLAS, Tex., April 23 — (AP). — Anyone who thinks iron and steel is a man's business hasn't heard about the woman who's going to make $2,000,000 in a deal with the Lone Star Steel Corporation.

Stockholders of the company were told about it at their annual meeting today.

The woman was identified only as "a Miss Alice Hensen," president of the Pittsburgh Mill Steel Company.

Through a contract made in Washington in March, 1947, Miss Hensen agreed to buy 105,000 tons of pig iron from Lone Star. The company started producing iron from East Texas ore in a war surplus plant at Daingerfield, Texas, last October.

The agreed purchase price was the "Cleveland base price", approximately $40 a ton. Pig iron prices have soared since, and Daingerfield is selling at $75 a ton in the open market.

"If all of this pig iron were delivered to her today", the Lone Star president, Eugene Germany told the stockholders, "you can see that her profit would be over $3,500,000.

"It is our opinion that she will make out of this deal a minimum of $2,000,000."

Germany said that Miss Hanson's contract originally called for one-third of the plant's production capacity, but that she has been persuaded to accept 10 per-cent. of production until the contract is filled.

"As far as our records go", Germany said in his written report, "she did not manufacture any product from this pig iron, but was simply a broker who wished to engage in the business of buying and reselling our pig iron at a profit."

RECORDS WINNINGS — University of Chicago student Albert Higgs (above) records the results of the play at a roulette wheel at a Las Vegas, Nev., casino. Hibbs and his partner, Ray Walford, claim they have a mathematical system for beating the wheel. They started with fifty-cent bets and, after the first day, they were $1,100 ahead. Hibbs and Walford work the wheel in six-hour shifts.

Security Prices Continue Rise

By The Canadian Press

The advance in security prices in the major markets continued unchecked Thursday and underlined the recently changed outlook on future earnings of industry.

The current crop of annual statements released by corporations representing nearly all sections of industry repeated last year's performance in showing net earnings substantially in excess of the previous year. The difference now, however, is indicated by the fact that securities are reacting favorably, thereby reflecting belief in the part of investors that high earnings not only can be maintained but even increased.

Featuring action yesterday both in New York and Toronto was the support behind oil stocks. Observers say there is nothing immediately in sight which suggests that these stocks as a whole have hit a top and "street" talk indicates that earning power in the industry is growing and that 1948 will be a bigger year both in volume and profits for most firms than in 1947.

On the Toronto market the two most active industrials were Imperial Oil and International Petroleum, while B.A. Oil and Canadian Oil also advanced.

Reshuffle Forces

LONDON, April 23 — (CP). — The war office announced last night a reshuffle of its Middle East Command. The move was made on the assumption that British forces will be withdrawn from Palestine. The control of Middle Eastern military policy and all operational direction is being centred at Fayid in the Suez Canal zone.

MAVERICK RUSTLER

The word maverick, an American term for stray cattle, recalls a Texan, Samuel Maverick, who took advantage of the turmoil caused by the Civil War to appropriate any stray cattle he found.

PRINCESS HAS NEW HAT—Princess Margaret Rose, wearing a charming off-the-face hat, trimmed with roses and veiling which ties under the chin, was a reception committee of one when she welcomed Boy Scouts from all parts of the British Isles who were chosen to represent their counties at the ninth annual National Scout Service at Windsor Castle.

Durham PC's To Hear Drew At Orono Meet

MILLBROOK, April 23 — (ENS.)—The executive of the Durham County Progressive-Association met in Orono Tuesday, to choose a candidate for the coming Provincial election. The president, Irwin Caldwell, Newcastle, was chairman and there was a representation of all inunicipalities in attendance.

A telegram from Hon. Dr. Vivian, professor of health and social science in McGill University, Montreal, and present Member of the Provincial House, said that he could not again be a candidate, as he will be in London, England, next summer taking a post-graduate course.

Names of prospective candidates include Dr. John W. Wright, Millbrook; Rev. Captain Foote, V.C., of Port Hope; Captain Stewart Ryan, former mayor of Port Hope; ex-Warden Norman Greene, of Cartwright; ex-Warden Milton Elliott, of Bowmanville, and Forbes Hyland, of Darlington township.

The County Progressive-Conservative convention will be held at Orono on April 30, with Premier George Drew as guest speaker. Final choice of a candidate will be made at this meeting.

Expect Changes In Penal Law

OTTAWA, April 23 — (CP). — Changes in British Columbia's penal system were forecast yesterday in a bill given second reading by the Senate. It provides for:

1. Undeterminate sentences of not less than three months and not more than two years less a day for offenders between the ages of 16 and 23.

2. Establishment of a provincial parole board.

3. Transfer of prisoners, under certain circumstances, from the New Haven juvenile prison to Oakalla Prison Farm. Both institutions are at New Westminster.

The legislation, amendments to the prisons and reformatories act, was introduced by Senator J. W. de B. Farris (L. British Columbia). It approved by the Senate, the bill will go to the Commons.

The amendments provide for changes which already are in effect in Ontario. They do not apply in other provinces.

"SHE'S A BEAUT," remarks Seaman Ernie Thorp, right, as he surveys the season's first black eye that Boatswain Nelson Leboeuf brought back to the Manchester Shipper in Montreal recently. Along with the skipper's honor of bringing in the first ship, it gave the Shipper two instead of one.

Woman 86, Recalls Village Development

BETHANY, April 23—(ENS)—Mrs. Richard Johnston of Bethany received congratulations and best wishes from friends Wednesday on her 86th birthday.

The former Sarah Ann Kennedy, she is the daughter of the late Robert Kennedy and Mary Ann Jemison and has lived practically all her life in the community. She was born in Newtonville, Clarke Township, but with her parents moved to Bethany when a child and attended the first school in Bethany which was then situated on her father's farm, now owned by T. M. Weatherilt.

In 1884, Sarah Kennedy became the bride of Richard Johnston and they celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary together in 1934. Mr. Johnston died five years later.

Her memory of early days in Bethany is very keen. After her father gave up farming, he owned a store in the village for several years and on retirement built the house now owned by Robert McMullen, situated across from the new school built in 1876 to accommodate the increasing number of pupils.

Recalls Early Days

There were no churches in the early days when the village first sprang up along the railway tracks. There was a church and cemetery owned by the Methodists at Graham's Corners, one mile west. Those of the Anglican Church are credited for holding the first religious services, in the old school house, later in the Orange Hall and still later in the music hall above the Liquor store.

The liquor store of those days is now the general store owned by Andy Watson.

The Presbyterians built the first church in 1872 on the property now owned by Miss Hannah Staples. The Anglican church was built in 1876 and this is where the Kennedy family worshipped. Mrs. Johnston played the organ in this church for a number of years during the time that the late Rev. H. Burgess was rector.

Following her marriage, she joined the Presbyterian Church with her husband and there, too, was organist for many years. Since that church was closed in 1925 she has been a member of the United Church.

Today's modern inventions which are taken for granted, represent different phases of life for Mrs. Johnston. The coming of the first railway, the first car driven in the village which was owned by Dr. George Brereton, the first telephones and the great convenience they offered to everyone, especially farmers, the first radios — all are part of her experiences. Mrs. Johnston is a decided radio fan, listening to the hockey broadcasts, the news and church sermons on Sunday.

Modern Wonders

The hydro and its conveniences are still something for her to marvel at, for she can remember the time when news of the outside world arrived weekly, when the drive to Peterborough was with horse and buggy. When a doctor was needed, one sent some one for him and waited hours for his arrival.

When Mr. and Mrs. Johnston were first married they occupied the Johnston homestead, one mile south of the village, Lot 25, Concession 6 of Manvers township, land which had been in the Johnston name for many years, having originally been crown land granted to Mr. Johnston's grandfather, who was also named Richard Johnston.

Retiring from active farming they moved into the village 27 years ago, but Mrs. Johnston never retired from active work. She is still a busy housewife in her own home and accomplishes so much that her years can scarcely be credited.

Of their family of four children all live within visiting distance. The only son, Harry, is employed in a local garage and lives with his mother; the oldest daughter, Ruby (Mrs. T. J. Jackson), lives in Bethany; Irene (Mrs. Elmer Rowan), lives about two miles north of the village and Isabel (Mrs. Milton Fallis), near Millbrook.

Family Near

Her nine grandchildren are: Gordon Fallis, Millbrook; Ralph Rowan and Helen Rowan, Bethany; Mrs. Ross Carr, Bethany; Mrs. Ross Hall, Whitby; Mrs. Norman Neals, Burford; Mr. Vincent Jackson, Bethany; Mrs. Carl Smith, Bethany, and Miss Isabel Jackson, Peterborough.

The great-grandchildren live close by: John and Ronald Jackson, Allan and Carolyn Smith, Creighton and Marie Carr, all of Bethany, comprising three groups with the four complete generations.

DE GASPERI'S VICTORY SPEECH—Premier Alcide de Gasperi, (at microphone) addresses a huge crowd from the balcony of the Christian Democrats party headquarters in Rome, Italy, recently. He said that his party's campaign pledges for social reforms "will be accomplished." Indications are that Italy will now be invited to join Europe's recently formed Western Union.

Buried Diver Freed Alive

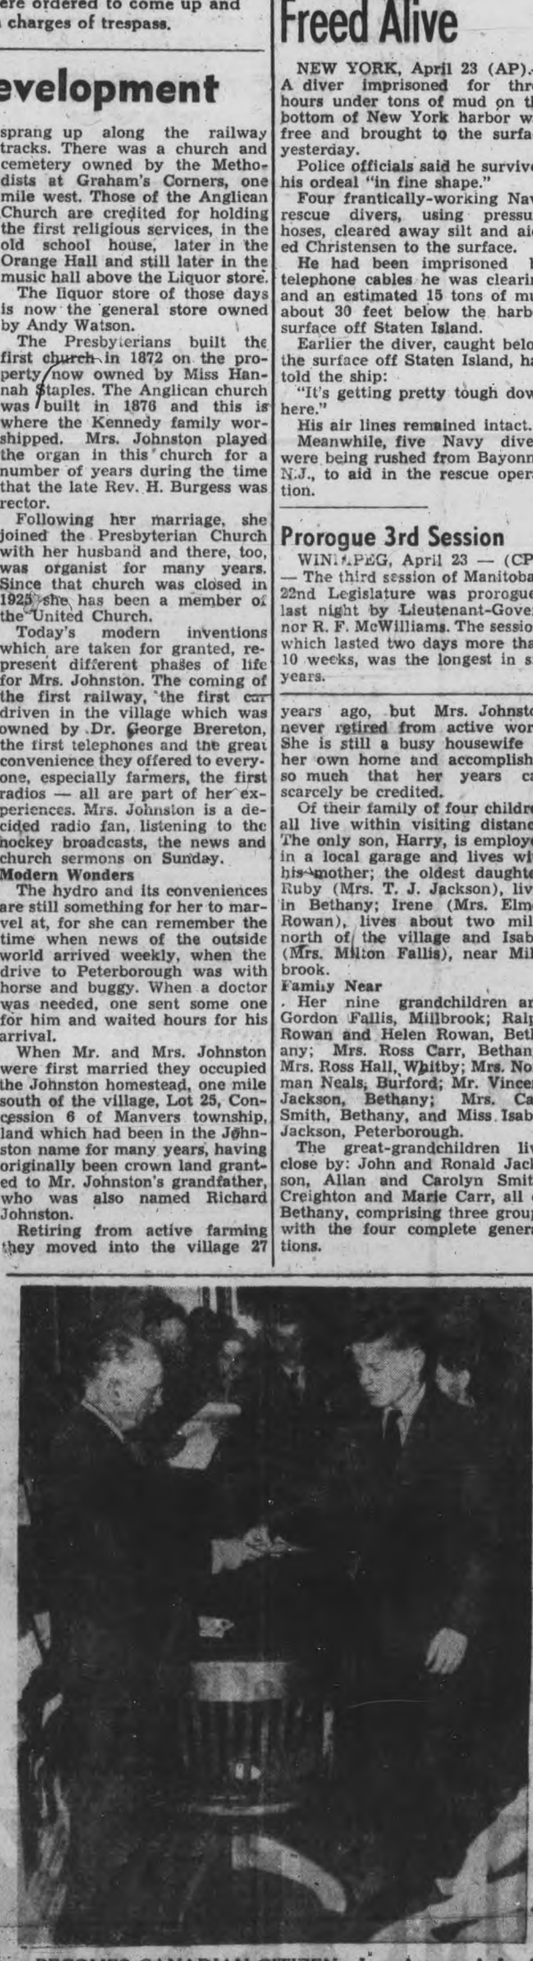
NEW YORK, April 23 (AP).—A diver imprisoned for three hours under tons of mud on the bottom of New York harbor was free and brought to the surface yesterday.

Police officials said he survived his ordeal "in fine shape."

Four frantically-working Navy rescue divers, using pressure hoses, cleared away silt and aided Christensen to the surface.

He had been imprisoned by telephone cables he was clearing and an estimated 15 tons of mud about 30 feet below the harbor surface off Staten Island.

Earlier the diver, caught below the surface off Staten Island, had told the ship:



"It's getting pretty tough down here."

His air lines remained intact.

Meanwhile, five Navy divers were being rushed from Bayonne, N.J., to aid in the rescue operation.

Prorogue 3rd Session

WINNIPEG, April 23 — (CP). — The third session of Manitoba's 22nd Legislature was prorogued last night by Lieutenant-Governor R. F. McWilliams. The session, which lasted two days more than 10 weeks, was the longest in six years.

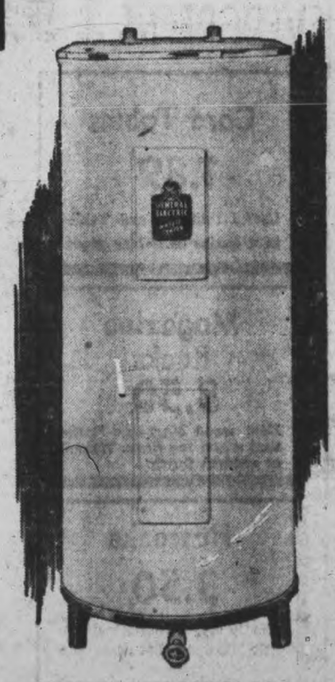
Automatic Storage Tank

WATER HEATERS

■ Automatically Controlled, the General Electric Storage Tank Water Heater supplies abundant hot water at constantly regulated temperatures. The famous G-E Calrod heating units are totally immersed in the water. All the heat goes into the water—for maximum efficiency in low-cost, economical water-heating.

This easily installed Water Heater is so clean, safe and attractive to look at, that it can be located wherever you desire in your home.



CLEAN—No soot, no smoke, no fumes and no flame or messy flame by-products. Install your G-E Water Heater anywhere, no flues or chimneys are necessary. And water heated the electrical way is clean enough to drink.

AUTOMATIC—Your G-E Water Heater regulates itself, keeps water at just the temperature you desire, all the time. Just install it and forget it—and you'll get all the hot water the family needs at a turn of the tap.

ECONOMICAL—Depending on local electric power rates and the number of persons in your family, the operation of a G-E Automatic Storage Tank Water Heater will cost as little as 50c per person per month to provide all the hot water you need, when you need it.

DEPENDABLE—Dependability is built into the G-E Water Heater. It's designed to become an integral part of your home, to serve and endure through the years, as you would expect the permanent, built-in features of your home to do. Long life is assured because the G-E Tank Water Heater is equipped with a special magnesium alloy rod to give protection against corrosion.

SAFE—No worries about fumes or flames or overheating with a G-E Water Heater. It has the unqualified approval of the Canadian Standard Association. It's safe for installation anywhere in your home. For added safety, thermostats are locked to prevent setting above a safe temperature — and a combination temperature and pressure relief valve is supplied for installation with each heater.

COMPARE THESE POINTS OF G-E SUPERIORITY

Efficient Calrod heating units—Magnesium Rust Protector doubles the life of the durable, galvanized steel tank — Cold water inlet connected at the top for ease of installation — Cold water dip tube to prevent mixing and cooling of hot water—Thermostats accurately control temperature. Petition Mayor To Quit Office

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., April 23 — (CP). — Three hundred citizens Wednesday signed petition charging Mayor W. M. Rae with "folly and lack of strength" to cope with the city's business, and asked for his recall.

Circulation of the petition on a block-by-block basis continues with an announced goal of "at least" 1,400 signatures—the number needed to meet a city charter provision under which the Property Owners' Association hopes to force a mayoralty by-election.

Mayor Rae's difficulties — which don't perturb him in the least — started last autumn when Chairman Alexander Calhoun of the Alberta Library Board recommended that half the city library's 15,000 books be discarded as "obsolete." The Library Board —and the Mayor—approved discharging the librarian as well. The combined operation precipitated the Hat's "book war" in which all the campaigning of the aroused Property Owners' Association and six of the eight-man City Council have left His Worship in unruffled possession of his office.

A turbulent Library Board meeting April 7 led him to "resign" but he withdrew the resignation eight days later, baffled a Council meeting called to "consider" it and said he would ignore its subsequent 6-2 no-confidence motion until otherwise directed by the "voters who put me here."

Find Newborn Baby Alive On City Truck

MINNEAPOLIS, April 23 (AP) —A newborn baby boy, found among garbage parcels on a city truck, was alive and well in hospital today.

Garbage handlers were attracted to the newspaper-wrapped package when it stirred after having been dumped into the truck late yesterday from a refuse can.

Investigating they found the naked child.

Police, arriving with an ambulance, noticed a 19-year-old onlooker exhibiting more than ordinary interest. Questioned, she admitted between sobs she had given birth to the child an hour earlier in her nearby room. She was reunited with her baby at the hospital, where physicians said the boy was in good condition.

GIRL'S SLAYER STARTS FOR DEATH CELL—Leslie R. Davidson, 29, professional pianist, is led by sheriff's officer to car in City Hall courtyard. Their destination was Don Jail. Davidson had just been sentenced by Chief Justice J. C. McRuer to hang June 29 for the murder of his girl friend and former stage partner, Mrs. Margaret (Mickey) Meredith, pretty young vocalist. Davidson shot the girl in the head, March 1, in a restaurant opposite City Hall where she worked as a waitress.

Senate Temporarily Shelves Margarine

OTTAWA, April 3.—(CP). — The Senate yesterday temporarily shelved the margarine question.

Debate on a motion for second reading of a bill to lift the ban on the butter substitute was adjourned without discussion. Seven Senators—six in full support of margarine—had spoken at the two previous sittings.

The bill, sponsored by Senator W. D. Euler (L-Ontario) would amend the Dairy Industry Act by permitting importation, manufacture and sale of margarine. $t will be on the order paine. It will be on the order pa- convenes Monday night.

Senator C. B. Howard (L-Quebec) who adjourned debate said yesterday he had done so as government whip. He had no desire to speak on the bill.

Abbott Imposes Ban On Potatoes

OTTAWA, April 23 (CP). — Finance Minister Abbott announced Wednesday that importation of potatoes and sweet potatoes of all kinds will be prohibited from today until June 7, because domestic supplies are adequate to meet all needs. The ban will not apply to seed potatoes.

He said that "as present stocks of domestic potatoes are adequate to meet all needs the importation of high-priced new potatoes can not be justified at this time."

Stocks of potatoes in Canada at April 1, he reported, totalled 192,494 tons, 45,000 tons more than the average stocks at the same date for the last five years. They are almost exactly equal to the total amount consumed in Canada during the second quarter of 1947 — from April to June, inclusive.

The ban will not apply to potatoes that were in the custody or possession of a carried and were in transit to Canada today.

Dollar Problem Not Eased By ERP

OTTAWA, April 23.—(CP).— Canada was warned today that even a big share in the European recovery program would not in itself solve her immediate foreign exchange problem.

The statement was made by Graham Towers, chairman of the Foreign Exchange Control Board, in the Board's annual report. It was tabled in the Commons.

E.R.P., undertaken by the United States, would "almost certainly afford an opportunity for Canada to earn more convertible exchange from shipments to Europe than would otherwise be the case," said Mr. Towers.

Bue he added:

"It is important for us to realize that even a European reconstruction program providing for very large 'off-shore purchases' in Canada would not by itself solve our immediate foreign exchange problem."

Outlines CCF Work In Saskatchewan Area

TORONTO, April 23.—(CP).— Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan last night told a CCF nomination meeting that just as cats couldn't be expected to make proper laws for mice, the vested interests cannot be expected to pass good legislation for the benefit of the people.

Speaking in the Toronto High Park constituency which is represented by Premier Drew, the Saskatchewan premier outlined what the CCF had done in his province.

At the meeting William H. Temple, a member of the CCF Provincial Council, was unanimously chosen to contest the seat in the June 7 Provincial election.

Mr. Temple, agent for a British woollen goods company, was CCF candidate in High Park in the 1943 election when the seat was lost to Premier Drew by several hundred votes. In 1945 he ran and was defeated as Federal candidate.

Doctor Encouraging About Cancer Cure

LONDON, April 23.—(CP). — Surgery and X-ray are the only two known cures for breast cancer and through their use eight out of every ten women can be saved for at least five years, if the disease is discovered in its early stages. So Dr. D. C. L. Bingham, professor of surgery at Queen's University, said last night. He spoke to a meeting of more than 1,000 women under the auspices of the women's division of the London and Middlesex unit, Canadian Cancer Society.

Cancer of the breast which does not return within two years after its removal usually never comes back, a five-year lease on life virtually means that the disease has been permanently cured, Dr. Bingham said.

He emphasized that there is no test for cancer outside the laboratory analysis conducted by scientists. "Admittedly we don't know much about cancer, but what we do know is certain," he said.

Two Plants Close

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 23 — (AP). — Two Buffalo Chevrolet plants of the General Motors Corp., will shut down today for 10 days, making idle about 4,300 employees, the company announced last night. The layoff was attributed to coal-steel shortages.

TCA May Carry Ordinary 1st Class Mail

OTTAWA, April 23.—(CP).—By mid-summer, Trans- Canada Air Lines may be carrying ordinary first-class mail, G. R. McGregor, TCA president, said today.

He told the Commons committee on railways and shipping that negotiations with the Post Office Department had been going on for some time and were "near culmination."

Trade Minister Howe, in charge of the line, interjected that the final decision in the matter rested with the government.

Outside the committee, it was learned that the TCA and the post office were trying to work out an experiment that would mean the setting aside for a time of the present seven cents stamp fee on air mail letters.

If the experiment worked out, it could mean that first class mail, particularly over long hauls, would be carried regularly for four cents by TCA planes. On trips, such as that between Montreal and Toronto, which already get quick service by rail, there might be no change.

The criterion would be advantage in delivery time.

However, Mr. Howe's interjection served notice that it is a question which involves government revenues and therefore, one for long consideration.

European Reds May Switch Their Tactics

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP).—European Communists may be compelled to switch tactics as a result of their defeat in Italy.

American officials studying this possibility said today that unless the Communists are willing to resort to violence amounting to civil war they will, at the least, have to slow down their timetible political conquest.

Two possible moves by Russia enter into speculation.

One is that the Kremlin may order a return to the early post-war efforts to form a common front with non-Communist left-wing political forces which in recent months the Communists have attacked bitterly.

Another possibility—and this one is heavily but not entirely discounted by authorities here—is that the Soviet Union may take the initiative in seeking a meeting between President Truman and Premier Stalin.

Truman was asked at his press conference yesterday whether he would be willing to see Stalin. He replied that if the Russian leader wants to come to the United States the President would be happy to see him. But Truman said again that he has no intention of leaving the country at the present time.

Stalin was never willing to leave areas under Red army control for his wartime Big Three conferences, and there is no responsible belief here that he would now do so.

Believe Humans Transfer Polio

CHICAGO, April 23.—(AP).—Person to person transfer of the virus is the most likely cause for spread of poliomyelitis, three University of Michigan investigators reported today after a five-year study.

However, they added this evidence was reached merely through the elimination of other factors. They declined to flatly rule out all non-human factors, saying:

"Observations have emphasized for years that outbreaks of poliomyelitis are correlated with seasonal influences, such as rainfall, temperature and prevalence of insects and animals"

Their investigations of possible transmitting agents covered mice, rats, muskrats, chickens, cows, hogs, horses, cats, sewage, water milk and insects of many species.

"The possibility that some insect plays a role in the transmission remains the most likely of all non-human prospects." they said in their report, published in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Head For Palestine

TORONTO, April 23 — (CP). — A Toronto paper said yesterday in an Ottawa dispatch it was learned on high authority that young Canadians numbering "in the hundreds" are heading for Palestine to join either Jewish or Arab forces."

Fight To Keep Sabbath From Sport Exploitation

OTTAWA, April 23—Whereas the task of the Lord's Day Alliance had to face 60 years ago was to redeem Sunday as a day of rest for workers, the problem of organization today is to have the Sabbath for those who toil, from explitation of entertainment and sport.

That was what Rev. George G. Webber of Toronto, general secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada, told an audience in the parish hall of St. Matthew's Anglican church last evening at the sixtieth anniversary of that organization.

Rt. Rev. Robert Jefferson, Anglican bishop of Ottawa, presided, and ministers of various Protestant churches were present on the platform.

Dr. Webber traced the history of the Lord's Day Alliance, which was organized 60 years ago yesterday at a meeting in Ottawa's old city hall. As the result of its activities, he said, Parliament passed legsilation which has forced employers to give one day of rest a week to their employees. "Many thousands have received their freedom on the Sabbath for rest and relaxation," he declared. "It has been our task to protect and extend this freedom, and to provide that if they must work on Sunday they be at least compensated in one of the other six days of the week."

During the war, when there were repeated requests that theatres be opened on Sundays even theatre managers disliked it, he said, as it mean they had to forfeit the only day of the week they had to themselves.

Need Day Of Rest

Bishop Jefferson told the audience "We stand for a Christian Sunday, and we will use our influence against the organization of a Continental Sunday. We believe man's first duty is to God—then to spend the rest of the day in rest and harmless relaxation'.'

Rev. Dr. Charles H. Huestis, former general secretary of the aliance, remarked, "the alliance has never been more needed than it is today. The quiet Sunday is so needed in our national life that we may hear God speak to us."

Rev. A. Ian Burnett, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, pointed out that it was inevitable that there would be a reaction from the rigidity of the Sabbath observance of the Victorian and later years, the remembrance of which he said were to some "very vivid and often painful."

Post Office "Fines"

KAMSACK, Sask. — (CP). — W. B. Carss, postmaster in this eastern Saskatchewan town, began charging 10 cents each time he had to open post-office boxes for people who had forgotten their keys. He recently turned over $16.50 in "fines" to the Canadian Appeal for Children.

Cost Of Shoes Keeps Children At Home

HALIFAX, April 23.—Some Halifax children have not been out of doors for weeks due to lack of clothing and others have to stay away from school because they have no shoes, the city council of social agencies reported on Tuesday.

S. R. Balcom, council president, said that "with the high cost of food and fuel, and even in cases where the father is working, the family budget simply will not stretch to cover all needs."

"Since last autumn shoes have risen considerably in price; unemployment in many families has made the situation critical," he said.

At least 200 children were in need of some type of clothing and all second-hand clothing supplies had been exhausted.

Mitchell's Double Talk Confusing To Parliament

OTTAWA, April 23 — (CP). — Labor Minister Mitchell threw the Commons into confusion yesterday with double talk.

Donald Brown (L-Essex West) asked Mr. Mitchell if the government would accede to the request by professional engineers for inclusion for collective bargaining under the Industrial Relations Bill.

Mr. Mitchell said the question would be decided by the Industrial Relations Committee, now studying the proposed new labor code.

Gordon Graydon (PC-Peel) framed a question similar to Mr. Brown's in a slightly different way. Mr. Mitchell replied that the government had already met the request of the engineers.

G. K. Fraser (PC-Peterborough West) then asked if the engineers were to be brought within the provisions of the labor code.

Mr. Mitchell really confused the issue then by saying that the engineers were not to be brought within the provisions of the legislation.

Mr. Graydon hopped back to his feet and said Mr. Mitchell had answered "yes and no" to similar questions.

"I suppose we shall have to wait until somebody else is able to clarify this situation," said Mr. Graydon.

Joseph H. Harris (PC-Toronto-Danforth) then asked Mr. Mitchell point blank whether the engineers were to be brought within the provisions of the labor code.

Said Mr. Mitchell:

"That will be decided by the government."

Findings Of Muskox Expedition Aid In Northern Development

The project of 600 men making a 3,000-mile trip across Canada's northern regions will bring great benefits to the civic development of that "country of untold opportunity." Some details of the applications of the famed Arctic Expedition Muskox were told by the officer commanding that exercise, Group Captain G. B. Bradshaw, guest speaker at the Thursday night meeting of the Peterborough Kinsmen Club.

The speaker, who is now commanding officer of Trenton Air Station, outlined a few of the ways in which the findings of the expedition are being used to assist in the future development of the Canadian North.

GC Bradshaw criticized the emphasis which the press had placed on the military aspects of the expedition. Although there had been armed service reasons for the study, he stressed the importaance of the frozen trip applied to peace-time needs.

Giving some insight on the "inside story" of the 1946 exercise in which a ground force was supplied entirely by a supporting air group, he painted a picture of the battle encountered with the northern winters.

"We don't know what winter is here," he said, mentioning temperatures running to 65 degrees below zero, often combined with winds of 60 mph. Muskox made a great semi-circle route from Churchill, north, then west across the top of Canada's northern boundary, and then south again to Edmonton.

This, he said, was the first successful movement of a body of men across that area. Two others had been attempted — the first was never heard from again, the second left 41 men out of 60 dead and the remaining 19 nearly dead from their experiences.

No Threatening Gesture

The speaker made light of the much-publicized notion that it had been intended as a threatening gesture towards Russia. The handful of men could hardly be regarded as a threat, he said.

The reason for Expedition Muskox was the need to learn how to move and travel in numbers in that country. Hundreds of problems had to be solved. For example, normal "winterized" vehicles froze solid. Special methods of "arcticizing" mechanized equipment had to be developed.

Government agencies and business concerns wanted to find out how they could cope with the special problems found in the Arctic.

The knowledge gained and experiences encountered were valuable, he said, and not a waste of public money, as many people seem to regard such projects.

Fuels and lubricants were tested under frigid operations.

Special types of processed clothing are now being subjected to research, for "a man would not last for 20 minutes there with the winter clothing we use here."

Medical problems for treating sick and injured were studied. The important factor of heat-generating, energy-packed and compact food will benefit from the expedition.

Most of our weather, GC Bradshaw pointed out, "starts" in that area. Observations made will assist in learning why and how weather is created, will aid in more accurate forecasting and weather study.

The peculiarities of the frozen geological structure of the Arctic area were also carefully detailed by Muskox to find out what is there and how it can be travelled over.

These points, he emphasized, are but a few of the many aspects of research and improvement aided by the military job.

"There is more wealth in that country to the north than we have yet dreamed of in our settled southern sections," he said.

"There are untold opportunities for careers, happiness there — more than we have young people to cope with them.

"The public is too ignorant of what work the services do in peace-time. It is not a waste of public funds. It is a vital contribution to the well-being of our country."

The speaker was introduced by Emmett Sheehy and thanked by William Vanstone.

Chairman of the meeting was club Vice-President Stanley Gilmore.

Clydebank Still Hums With Varied Activities

The first breath-taking glimpse of a Clyde shipbuilding yard is—to the uninitiated—vastly mysterious, fascinating, awe-inspiring, Margaret Adams writes in the Christian Science Monitor. The clangor, the clamor, the rhythm of swiftly moving machines, the oxy-acetylene stars and sparks, the gigantic spare parts lying around, the huge patterns on the floor—is this the tailor's ship of a giant? The lofty ceilings, the red glow of furnaces, the di-di-did-did of drilling machines and in their appointed places—fitting into the pattern of harnessed activity — the skilled workmen, their faces color-drained under the huge lights.

Booming Trade

Such is the kaleidoscopic activity involved today in Britain's booming ship-building trade, in the shipyards which are turning out huge passenger liners and passenger cargo ships, refrigerated and cross-Channel ships, cruisers and aircraft carriers, tramps and oil tankers.

A shipyard which covers 80 acres (John Brown & Co.) is a bustling mechanical city in itself. In a seagoing ship's structure it is imperative that each single part shall be perfect. And each individual in the vast army of 10,000 workers in the yard shares this responsibility. In huge sheds are located various shops where highly skilled tradesmen deal with their particular section.

In the joiners' shop high-grade woodwork and fittings for passenger ships are prepared and made. Plumbers and sheet-metal workers deal with the complicated piping and ventilating systems. Carpenters, besides erecting, shoring and launching vessels, lay wood decks. Riggers deal with cargo gear; mechanics with fittings ranging from steering gear to watertight doors, and in other shops, including the pattern, copper, turbine blade and shafting shops, more specialized work is done.

Prefabrication Aids

Then there are the cranes, pictures of graceful power. "Derrick" cranes which formerly served for the building of large vessels are being replaced by a system of gigantic "tower" vessels, the largest of which is capable of lifting 20 tons at the exceptional outreach of 140 feet. Thus the modern technique of prefabricating large pieces of the structure before erection can be utilized, with a consequent reduction of the time required for construction in the building berth.

And here—in one of the building berths — is seen the "bare bones" of a vessel. At present only a number, in due course to be launched and named with ceremony.

And there—in the fitting basin —are other vessels, including the 34,000-ton Caronia, the biggest to be launched since the war. She is a confusion of sound, with bright lights within and without. workmen clambering all round and about, sure indication that grooming is in progress in preparation for her "going down to the sea."

Launched On Time

The past year on the Clyde has been one of progress and achievemen. In spite of severe shortage of raw materials and components, and an allocation of steel which, although considered fair in a steel-hungry world, is well short of what the industry could absorb —"dates are still being kept"—ships are launched on time. And the emphasis on quality is never for a moment relaxed, ensuring that "Clydebuilt" is still the hallmark of excellence in shipbuilding.

Orders keep flowing in, and work is assured for from two to three years ahead. Orders on hand total something like 3,750,000 gross tons.

Progress on the Clyde is being maintained in other directions besides shipbuilding. The Clyde Navigation Trust, a non-profit concern which provides and maintains facilities at the port of Glasgow and in its approach channel, have approved a scheme for the reconstruction of Queen's Dock at an estimated cost of £6,275,000. This will provide the city with a large dock right in its heart, capable of handling deep-draught ocean-going ships. They have also approved a £1,000,000 program for the electrification and improvement of Princes Dock. With these and other schemes £8,000,000 are involved, so that the port may be kept up to date.

SENTENCED TO 22 YEARS—Harold Lang, 13, is shown with Warden Frank G. Sain in Chicago, Ill., after Lang was sentenced to 22 years in prison for the slaying of seven-year-old Lonnie Fellick, last October. Fellick was slain by Lang in the woods while the boys were on a hike. Lang said Fellick threatened to tell the convicted boy's mother that he had taken $10 from her purse. With good behavior, Lang could be paroled in 12 years and three months.

Bracken Off 'Gadgets' For Life Clip Lets Him Down At Banquet

OTTAWA, April 23.—Progressive Conservative Party Chieftain John Bracken will never wear a new-fangled "made-up" tie fitting with a spring clip again. And he will wear the one he had on last night at the annual dinner of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada only at his farm home at Manotick when looking over his Jersey cattle in the barns on his golden Palominos in the pasture.

Right in the middle of his impressive address. Mr. Bracken began to have trouble with the blue tie. It crept down from the collar button about three inches and then took a slant over to the right side. A swift turn to direct remarks to the west side of the Chateau ballroom caused the tie to descend still further on his chest.

Seeing grins and puzzled faces in front of him, the Opposition Leader put his hand to his throat to adjust the tie, but found no tie there.

"Just a minute ladies and gentlemen," he said to the chuckling crowd. 'I think there's something wrong here."

Try as he would, the Progressive Conservative leader could not get the tie to behave. Two seats down the head-table, Mrs. Bracken erupted in a little shriek of laughter and Mr. Bracken half hinted that she was responsible for the incident.

"That's what happens when you place your faith in mechanization," the party leader said, concealing his annoyance with a masterly effort.

Finally, Mr. Bracken got the tie up between the angle of his shirt-collar and things looked settled. But not for long. The spring-clip became unsprung and the tie drifted downwards and to the right again.

Journal photographer T. V. Little who was seated facing the head table, lifted his camera to take a quick shot of the offending tie, and Mr. Bracken, lifting his hand in appeal asked him to desist. Little took the picture anyway.

Talk Only In US

WASHINGTON, April 23 — (CP). — President Truman reiterated yesterday his willingness to meet with Premier Stalin in Washington, and his unwillingness to leave the United States for such a conference.

OLD INTO NEW—Prints that are as varied, as beautiful, as interesting as the various sources that inspired their design, offer a wide choce to the prnt-frock addict. A leader in the fabric field turned to the ancient art of the Orient for some of his new designs. The beautiful frock, shown here, is of pink printed with a leaf-shaped motif inspired by ancient art work on a Mesopotamian bowl. Soft skirt fullness below a peg-top pocket detail lends animation to the otherwise slim lines.

Dyer; secretary treasurer, Miss Hazel Batten; press correspondent, Miss Alice Hardwicke; social convener, Mrs. C. Althouse; games convener, Mr. Ray Morrow; assistant, Mr. Stan Cummings.

Next meeting of the Bowling Club will be on October 2, 1948.

FASHION FORMULA—The hat of fine straw worked on simple lines and discreetly trimmed with rich touches is always a good formula when well handled. This version, a simple shape of smooth natural shantung straw with a high rounded crown is covered with gold-embroidered net. A softly draped band of pink satin ribbon offers colorful contrast and sets off the gold glitter.

With The Girl Guides

1st St. Andrew's Brownie Pack

Brownies all must learn to sew,
In and out the needles go;
Remember on your finger nimble
You must always wear a thimble.

St. Andrew's Brownies found wearing a thimble the hardest part of the sewing test Saturday, as they learned to sew two different types of buttons. Threading a needle, choosing the proper button and sewing it exactly opposite the buttonhole were all found to be easier. Suzanne Huffman and Sharon Hutchinson were successful in completing the test for both buttons, while several Brownies finished one button. Health rules were passed by Lois Corner, Sharon Hutchinson and Suzanne Huffman, and Katherine Lewis passed her first-class shoe cleaning, putting a mirror-like polish on Brown Owl's shoes. Brownies tested their memories with a "message game," and at pow-wow they were all urged to contribute something to the hobby show being held in May.

1st St. Andrew's Guide Company

At Patrol Corners Wednesday night the following tests were passed: Health rules, Eleanor Gilders; bus and telephone, Dorothy Sedgewick. Margaret Dobson was successful in winning her life-saver badge. After a march drill and a game camp-fire was held. Captain announced that several Guides who are working on their first class will try the cooking test Wednesday. During campfire several new songs were learned for the mothers' night program in May.

3rd All Saints' Guide Company

The meeting opened with roll call, followed by inspection During patrol corners the following tests were passed: Further knowledge of the Guide promise, E. Robinson; second-class walk, E. Robinson, J. Welch, S. Panter.

The following girls completed their second-class tests: E. Roberts, J. Jolly, G. Roberts.

Guides enjoyed playing the "rod and line" game, led by Ethel Roberts. During campfire letters were read from Guides of First Wingham Guide Co., England, thanking them for gifts sent on "thinking day."

On Saturday these Guides were successful in passing their first-class cooking test: J. Jolly, G. Roberts, E. Doherty, H. Bradley.

The following girls were also successful in passing their homemaker's badge: G. Roberts, J. Jolly, E. Roberts, D. Miller, E. Doherty, H. Bradley.

The tester for the above badges was Mrs. W. Jones.

Hobby and Craft Show

This will be held in the market hall on Wednesday and Thursday, May 12 and 13, for all Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies. This show can only be a success if all the boys and girls co-operate by entering their hobbies. We would like to see some really good craft work from all groups, so aim for a high standard and try to have at least one entry in this show.

RNAO Memorial Exceeds Quota 1,100 Books Sent

TORONTO, April 23—The Registered Nurses Association of Ontario contributed $10,843 to the War Memorial Trust Fund, established nearly two years ago by the national body as a memorial to Second Great War nurses, it was reported at Thursday's sessions of the RNAO annual meeting. This amount was in excess of Ontario's quota of $10,000.

The trust fund was to supply text and reference books to nurses in devastated countries. First shipment consisting of 22 libraries of 50 books each was sent forward by the national body last fall.

Growing concern over the shortage of qualified instructors and supervisors in schools of nursing led the Department of Health in 1947 to offer bursaries to graduate nurses for post-graduate work in Ontario universities, and 17 of these bursaries have been awarded to date, it was reported.

Under direction of the RNAO president, Miss Nettie D. Fidler, the new Metropolitan School of Nursing, which was opened in Windsor last January, is making fine progress. The school was opened, with financial assistance of the Canadian Red Cross Society "in order to demonstrate that an independent type of school under controlled conditions can train nurses adequately in a period of time less than three years," said Miss Dorothy G. Riddell, inspector of training schools. Including Metropolitan, there are 64 approved schools of nursing in Ontario.

Trend of student nurse enrolment for the past six years is moderately upward, it was reported. There is increasing demand for psychiatric nursing as a basic experience for every student nurse.

The nine-month course for nursing assistants which was inaugurated in September, 1946, by the Departments of Health and Education has been developed successfuly, reported Miss N. Margaret Dulmage. The training facilities at the three centres, Toronto, Hamilton and Kingston, have been utilized fully.

Reporting on a new trend towards private duty nurses sharing nursing care with two patients, Miss Madalene M. Baker said four registries have already taken action.

"In all cases this new type of service is a very democratic procedure is that it is carried on in the local area in respect to the wishes of patients, hospital, doctors and nurse."

Only one-third of nurses registered in Ontario are members of their professional organization, said Miss Helene M. Snedden, in reporting RNAO membership as 6,149.

"As membership is voluntary that is a fair average."

Summer Fashions Tight at Waistline

PARIS, April 23 — (AP). — Mid-season fashion collections now being shown by two leading designers are as opposite as chalk and cheese. They exploit two entirely different silhouettes.

Molyneux puts the spotlight on back interest with elegant hip drapery flowing into huge bows or puffs. Piguet, on the other hand, puts fullness into his skirts. They have amply cut gores or clusters of unpressed pleats which swing straight out from the waist. In a white ribbed silk number he departs entirely from the "interest at the back" dictum and sets all the fullness at the front, leaving the back completely plain.

Petticoats are still in the news but to a much lesser extent. Piguet does not use them at all but Molyneux, who went for them in a big way in his spring collection, still favors them. He hitches the back skirt up beneath the bustle or bow in order to reveal the frippery at the hem edge. But his petticoats have changed color. Now they are black.

Waistlines in both collections are at the natural level but are pulled skin tight. Shoulders are droopy practically unpadded. Piguet favors the over-the-shoulder seam and deeply cuffed sleeves bu Molyneux sets his in at the tailored line.

As Yet A One-finger Man, but 3-year-old Paddy is learning from his famous mother, Betty Syme — Toronto model, artist and pianist. He hasn't mastered the piano yet, but Paddy is well ahead of the game in learning about good teeth. For, his beautiful model mother has taught him her own prized dental routine: Regular tooth brushing with Ipana Tooth Paste, followed by a little extra Ipana massaged into the gums. This stimulating routine helps keep gums firmer, healthier . . . teeth brighter . . . smiles more sparkling. Ask your dentist about massage for your gums. Nationwide survey shows that 7 out of 10 dentists recommend gum massage. Start toward a "model" smile yourself with Ipana Tooth Paste.

War-time Economies Return With Skyrocketing Prices

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, April 22 (CP). — Skyrocketing prices have caused the housewife to haul out her wartime economy booklets and study up on how to keep within her budget.

In "Food For Health," a booklet which the Canadian Medical Association put out in 1940, dearers are told to eat the necessary amounts of the "protective" foods for proper nutrition.

The protective foods: milk and milk products, potatoes and other vegetables; whole grain breads and cereals; raw fruits and canned tomatoes; eggs, meat; and fish.

The C.M.A. booklet also provides a few cooking hints for food economy: use little water for cooking, except for strongly flavored vegetables; save cooking water from vegetables, or liquid from tinned vegetables, and use in soups; cook vegetables with skins on, if possible; don't overcook vegetables — cabbage and spinach require only eight to 10 minutes cooking, and potatoes not more than 20 to 40 minutes.

Use Left-overs

When it comes to meal planning, the housewife is urged to make the most of her left-overs. If there is not enough of any one food for the entire family, what is left often can be used by combining with it some other food.

A small piece of left-over meat can be chopped and added to cooked rice and tomatoes, or to other cooked vegetables, for the main dish of a second meal.

Cash and carry stores often have been found cheaper than those giving credit or delivery. Carrying food a short distance should not be regarded as a hardship, and many housewives find they can keep more accurate food accounts if they pay as they go, thus avoiding the unpleasant surprise of a large bill at the end of the month.

The homemaker should dodge the telephone order when buying food. She should go to the store to select her foods personally, rather than depending on a busy clerk to choose the goods. At the same time she will learn how to compare prices and brands.

The housewife will save money if she buys staple foods that keep in large quantities that can be stored. The cost of large bags or packages, if compared with the cost of the same food in smaller packages, will show how such savings may be made.

Raw Fruit Good

Health department officials suggest topping a meal off with raw fruit as a means of leaving teeth clean. Tooth decay has been found most common among heavy consumers of refined sugar products, such as candies, jams, jellies and soft drinks.

For healthy teeth, dental experts recommend thorough chewing, to exercise the muscles of the jaw and massage the gums.

A BLITHE BLOUSE—A couple of day and evening skirts teamed with a complement of blouses is a good method of dodging the wardrobe budget blues that so often beset the 'teen-ager. This charming blouse of white batiste is low of neck and bright with animated rhumba ruffles edged with lace. This is a nice choice for summer evenings teamed with a high waisted or cummerbund skirt.

DOROTHY DIX

Plain Speaking Not Always Best Way to Make Friends

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 13, with nice clothes and am very well-groomed, but I am not popular in my class and I don't know why. One girl says it is because I don't know how to make friends easily, and another one says it is because I tell everyone the truth about himself or herself.

Dorothy Dix

I am not a good-looker because I have freckles, but I know that nice clothes and good looks don't always count. Can you tell me the reason why I am not popluar?

JANEY

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Well, Janey, that's easy. The one unforgivable social sin is what is called "plain speaking." If you feel that you have a mission to tell everyone you meet the unvarnished truth about himself, you might have a storeful of good clothes, and be as beautiful as Lana Turner, and as witty as Dorothy Parker, and have a mother who entertained for you, and still everyone will avoid you.

It isn't freckles that keep you from being popular. It is your tongue. And you will never be sought after until you learn to control that unruly member and make it behave itself, and babble compliments instead of criticisms.

All Crave Admiration

The greatest desire of every human being in the world is to be admired, and that is why we just naturally seek out the people who jolly us along and avoid those who keep our vanity raw by always reminding us of our faults and weaknesses. So if you want to be popular, be pleasant.

And don't delude yourself into thinking that you are just being honest when you tell people unpleasant truths about themselves. There are just as many nice things you can say to them as there are nasty things, and one gets you friends and the other makes you enemies.

The rule for making friends and being popular is very simple. It is treat other as you would like them to treat you.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a son who married a girl of whom I disapproved, as I thought she was too fond of dress and cosmetics. The marriage has turned out as I feared. She is continually buying clothes and shoes and trinkets but is very stingy about the food buying.

I have told my son not to let this brainless spendthrift handle his salary. Should I interfere now, inasmuch as he did not take my advice in the first place? Or should I just try to forget about them?

WORRIED MOTHER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Forget it. Every mother should buy herself a pair of good blinders and clamp them on her head when her son gets married. It is the only way she can keep herself from being worried to death over Johnny's bride's housekeeping and the number of new hats she buys.

Just bear in mind that when your son got married you lost the right to interfere in his affairs. He picked out his wife and if he made a fool choice, he has to pay for it, worse when you call his attention to her faults.

Silence and blindness are the two most valuable qualities a mother-in-law can have if she really wants Johnny to make a success of his marriage. For if he has made a mistake in selecting a wife, he doesn't want Mom to know it and twit him with "I told you so." And sometimes, because mother-in-law has kept her hands off of a touchy bride and never interfered with any of her silliness, the girl turns of her own accord to her husbands mother for advice. "Hands off" is the motto for all mother-in-law.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife and I have been married for about ten years. We are both close to middle age an dhave an ample income to give us every luxury we want. But we have no children and I have always liked girl babies, so I am thinking of adopting a girl about 17 years old. She would be lots of company for both of us, especially for myself. What do you think of the idea?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If you are looking for trouble, you have certainly found a sure way to get it if you adopt a 17-year-old girl. In the first place, no adolescent girl would suffer herself to be adopted. At that age girls are looking for husbands, not Sugar Daddies. And while a bobby-soxer would undoubtedly be interesting company for you, I tremble to think of what your wife would say to the arrangement.

If you want a girl baby to adopt, 17 months is the age limit.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, April 24
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

Although there are excellent prospects of growth, expansion, increase of prospects and accumulation of all sorts of assets, resources, possession and opportunities, yet as well there is sign of a block, impediment or depression of a stubborn kind, threatening delay, stagnations or utter disappointment. This restrictive condition may incite the energies to rash, wild and impetuous move, or a wild effort to batter down opposition, but it also adds stress and rancour to a difficult situation. Keep calm and composed, moving with determination and ingenuity rather than force.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find the year offering exceptional openings for growth, expansion, increased assets, resources and tangible property and fulfilled ambitions. Yet a static or congested situation may arise, with obstacles, delays and postponements. Such may incite to rash and intemperate ways and means for battering down such opposition with dire results and accompanied by personal resentments, strife and lasting regret. A restrained and composed attitude might prove more effective.

A child born on this day may have many opportunities for an adventurous, constructive, and honored career, but a wayward and immoderate attack upon conflicting or antagonistic forces may prove its detriment.

MOCK AMBER AND TORTOISE—New and handsome in costume jewelry, and most effective with everything from sports frocks to your handsomest tailorings and furs, are the light-as-air beads of precious amber and tortoise shell. Their tawny tones, in great loops and lengths, glow for costume and complexion, making an exotic accessory which is a far cry from tawdry or childish heaps of decor. Tints of the beads . . . and they are made into bracelets, necklaces and earrings with fine metal clasps, as well as assembled in rope form . . . range from the pale yellow through to the darkest tortoise browns.

Lindsay Man Seeking Mother

Ray Wells, Lindsay, has asked assistance of the police in attempting to locate the whereabouts of his former mother, Mrs. May Gibson of that town, whose whereabouts have not been known to her children for 30 years. The request for information said that the "only clue" available to the son as to his mother's movements since 1918 is that about that year she came to Peterborough and is believed to have been employed by a hotel here.

A check of the marriage records did not show that Mrs. Gibson remarried here.

Obituaries

DALTON McCARTHY McPHERSON

Funeral service was held Thursday afternoon for the late Dalton McCarthy McPherson, aged 67 of Lang, at the Duffus Funeral Home. Major Charles Watt of the Salvation Army officiated and upon arrival of the body at Frankford cemetery, the Rev. Wesley Armstrong took the graveside service. Paulbearers were William Lyons, Ross Turley, Judson Sine, John Dafoe, Harry Lohnes and Clarence Adams.

Mr. McPherson died Tuesday at the Toronto General Hospital after a lingering illness. Before going to live in Lang, two years ago, he resided in Peterborough where he worked as a carpenter for many years and was extremely well known in construction circles.

He leaves his wife, the former Ethel Mabee, and two brothers, William of Cobourg and Norman of Toronto.

MRS. ROSE CASEY

Mrs. Rose Casey, 78, of Lot 26, Concession 12, Otonabee township, died Thursday in hospital after a lingering illness. She was born in Madoc, daughter of the late Henry McKenty and Bridget Mooney, and before coming to Otonabee 15 years ago, lived in Tweed.

She leaves a sister, Mrs. Nellie Cummings of St. Catharines, and several nieces and nephews. Her husband, the late William Casey, predeceased her. She was a member of the Church of the Sacred Heart.

The body will lie at the residence of Mrs. James Shaughnessy, Otonabee St., No. 7 Highway, until 8.15 a.m. Saturday morning, when it will be takeen to St. Joseph's church, Douro, for mass at 9 a.m. Burial will be at St. Joseph's cemetery.

Plan To Recruit Regimental Band

Plans for attendance at the summer camp at the Royal Canadian School of Artillery (A.A.) were made on Thursday night at the evening parade of the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment (Prince of Wales Rangers) R.C.A. It is expected that more than 30 will be attending camp this year from July 4 to July 10.

It is announced that opening of recruiting for the regimental band, which has been dormant for more than a year, will begin shortly, with arrangements for its re-birth practically completed. A number of openings are still available in the wireless section of the unit, which is now equipped with a number of the latest modified army radio sets.

Recruiting at the regiment is progressing steadily, with an average of five per night for the past few weeks. Training parades are continuing on Tuesday and Thursday nights at the Armories, with special emphasis on preparation for camp training and the firing of the 3.7 H.A.A. guns.

Permits Granted By City Council

Dependable Cleaners received from the council this week permission to place a 500-gallon underground storage tank for petroleum-naphtha at 221 Hunter St.

Moldaver Bros. were permitted to brick their present buildings on No. 7 Highway, east of Downer's Corners. But, any additional buildings erected must be in accordance with the council's terms of November, 1947.

Herbert Weaver, 136 Park St. north, was granted the sum of $209, enabling him to pay bills incurred with his injuries suffered from a fall on a city street.

A. E. Whetung was granted permission to build a house on a Cameron St. lot of 39 ft. 6 in. frontage. The required frontage is 40 feet. City Clerk Outram told the council Mr. Whetung was not quite sure of the linear measurement, but it was more than 39 feet.

A Frank St. petition asking for a sewer to extend 350 feet westerly from High St. was referred to the board of works. That no doubt means down at the foot of the street queue for sewer construction.

V. E. Crebar estimates at $5,000 the cost of the garage he received a permit to build at his "Chicken Palace" in Peterborough's new Aragonia district.

Y's Men are holding their soap box derby down the Hunter St. hill July 16 and 17.

U.E. Union Appoints Political Committee

Local 527, United Electrical Workers, elected a five-man political and legislative committee at its general membership meeting Wednesday. President Donald Drummond said "the purpose of the committee is to carry out the announced policy of our Union to work for the election of a CCF Government in the forthcoming elections. The committee," he stated, "will work in conjunction with the committees of other locals and will function with the framework of the Union. Further activities of the committee will be the fight for better labor legislation, civil rights, price roll-back and aggressive action in the matter of the anti-noise by-law campaign."

Delegates elected of the UE District Council meeting to be held in Peterborough May 1 and 2, D. Drummond, J. Whalen, C. Morgan and T. Ross.

NOW IT'S RABBITS

An unusual call this week came for the Humane Society. A lady on Engleburn Ave., raking out her flower beds had uncovered a small rabbit and an emergency call was put through to Inspector Gerald Dunford. On examination, it was found that there was a whole rabbit nest carefully constructed in the flower bed by the mother cottontail. It is said that the unusual location is the first brought to the attention of the city society..—R. B.

Cancer Drive Going Slowly

More than 7,500 letters and application forms have been sent out by the Cancer Society during the past few days to residents of Peterborough and district. The forms are being returned with the dollar membership fee, but not as rapidly as the committee expected.

The society hopes to enroll locally 5,000 members this year and all are urged to send in their application for membership as soon as possible, particularly as April has been set aside by the society as Cancer Month. Forms should be sent with the membership fee to the Peterborough Campaign Headquarters, 332½ George St. The more members the society has, the more homes will be covered with up-to-date information regarding cancer by the Ontario Cancer Society.

Speakers are available for any industrial group, ladies' or service club meeting. Many meetings have already been covered with very favorable results, and it is hoped that chairmen of any future gatherings will take advantage of this opportunity.

Kinsmen Initiate Three New Members

Three new members of the Kinsmen Club were initiated Thursday night. They were James A. Innes, Dr. Arthur H. Ball and Howard Doxsee.

Gordon Langhorne was chairman of the induction committee, which included Donald Loucks and Edwin Henwood.

Club president James King presented the three with their Kin pins and officially welcomed them.

Bob Buchanan, a transferred member of the Napanee Kinsmen Club, was also welcomed.

Expect To Commence New Arena By May 15

A definite statement of receipts to date in the campaign for the Civic Arena will be given tomorrow, drive officials said today. The dtlay, they point out, is due to the incompleteness of reports from canvassers.

Although not revealing the tentative total today, they said that, "from the way things are shaping up now, we can definitely afford to start construction on May 15.

ST. CATHARINES—Senator J. J. Bench, who died last Dec. 9, left an estate of $60,670, it was announced today. Assets included $27,686 in cash, $15,000 in real estate and $4,000 insurance. The remainder was not listed. Bulk of the estate was left to his wife.

Fined $25, Costs In Traffic Case

LINDSAY, April 23—(ENS)—"The fact is that convictions under the Highway Traffic Act accompanied by heavy penalties should be brought to public attention," said Magistrate E. A. Gee in court today.

He was speaking of the conviction of Robert C. Collins, who was fined $25 and $18.50 costs for dangerous and careless driving. Collins pleaded not guilty to the first charge and guilty to the latter.

Charges resulted from an accident April 7 when a 1947 car belonging to D. Armstrong, Fenelon Falls, was completely wrecked when it failed to negotiate a curve on Highway 35 south of Cameron. Collins, driver of the southbound car said he was crowded off the road by another vehicle, but admitted trying to make the turn at about 50 miles per hour.

Corp. Ralph Taylor of the Provincial Police said the car went 90 feet along the shoulder of the road, then went 135 feet along the ditch and snapped off a 12-inch post used to support a Hydro pole. Accused's brother and sister, Arthur and Helen Collins, Toronto, were taken to hospital with Armstrong and treated for injuries. The driver received a cut head.

"There should be a checkerboard sign at that corner," said his worship.

Boy, 6 Injured Struck By Wagon

Six-year-old Donald Crowley, Barnardo Ave., is in Civic Hospital today receiving treatment for a broken leg and serious head injuries.

The boy was injured when he was struck about noon yesterday by a milk wagon, driven by Albert Thorne, Wolsley St. Details of the accident have not been learned.

The boy was taken to the Civic Hospital, where he is being attended by Drs. H. G. Carleton and C. M. Scott.

Three Men Named To City Police Force

Three new members of the Peterborough Police Department were approved by the Police Commission at a special meeting Thursday afternoon. The new constables will take over their duties in May.

The appointments are: Louis Rodreque, former Chief Constable of the village of Havelock; William Stewart Fife, 361 Rogers St.; and Harold W. Andrews, 983 Western Ave. All are ex-servicemen.

Hon. Charles Daley Seeks Renomination

ST. CATHARINES, April 23.—(CP).—Hon. Charles Daley, Ontario Labor minister and member for Lincoln, will stand for renomination as the Progressive Conservative candidate for the county.

"If it is your wish, I will stand," he told an executive meeting of the Lincoln County Progressive Conservative Association last night. He denied rumors that he had accepted a position in industry and would not be a candidate.

Mr. Daley said he would definitely be a candidate at the party's annual meeting and convention to be held in Beamsville next Thursday.

ONTARIO HOLIDAY Scrapbook

TEMAGAMI means deep water—and there's plenty of it, for the Lake is thirty miles long from north to south, while the North-East Arm stabs fourteen miles to reach the main lake. For mile upon mile, the area of Temagami is a vacation paradise unspoiled and majestic. Seventy-two miles north from North Bay by rail or drive the Ferguson Highway. For accommodation details, write to Ontario Holiday, Room 1004, Victory Building, Toronto.

A SIGNAL SELDOM USED

AMONG advanced players there are a number of situations in which certain leads and plays constitute signals of a natural nature which, however, are not used by most of the rank and file. One of these applies when the opening lead is made from an honor sequence. Since experts seldom use such openings except from a three-card sequence, the second lead carries a special meaning. If it is the highest remaining card of the sequence, it indicates a desire for a return of the higher side suit when your partner has the lead, and a second lead of the lowest card in the series points to a return of the lower-ranking side suit.

Sherman Stearns, crack competitor among the game's veterans, and John R. Crawford, star among the younger luminaries, put the blocks to South on this deal to win a big top in a national tournament.

Mr. Stearns, in the West, led his heart Q, which the K won, and took the next trick, the diamond 4 to the Q, with his A. Then came the signaling spot. If his re-entry had been in the higher-ranking spades, he would have led the heart J to the next trick. But since it was in clubs, he led the heart 10. Mr. Crawford ruffed that with his diamond 9 and—having read the signal clearly—returned the club 6. That put the New York expert in for a third lead of hearts, which the brilliant Philadelphian ruffed with the diamond J.

Now having five tricks in hand, they had set South's contract, and were the only pair that beat 3-Diamonds. Note how easy it would have been for South if Mr. Crawford had returned a spade to the fourth trick. South could have won, led a diamond to the K to eliminate the J, and would have lost only another trick in hearts and one in clubs to make his contract on the head.

GIRL KILLED IN LANSDOWNE ST. CRASH

French Ship Sinking Off Jamaica

US Navy Destroyers Speed To Scene After SOS Received

LOS ANGELES, April 24. — (AP).—Mackay radio picked up a distress call today from the French vessel S. Domingue, saying she was sinking about 13 miles off Kingston, Jamaica, with an unknown number of passengers and crew aboard.

The message said the ship was being abandoned, having caught fire apparently shortly after leaving Jamaica at 4 a.m.

Mackay's station in nearby Manhattan received the message, the ship's operator indicating it was the only land station he could raise.

The first message was received at 6:-4 a.m., saying the ship was afire.

The more urgent message at 6:40 said; "Ship sinking, position about 13 miles off Kingston, Jamaica, abandoning ship."

The station here immediately relayed the messages to the United States Coast Guard.

In New York, the Coast Guard said one of the distress messages had been picked up by a southerly station at 5:44 a.m. Planes and all vessels in the Jamaica area were placed on the alert immediately.

New efforts to make contact with the vessel in order to get a more accurate position have been unsuccessful, the Coast Guard said.

Lloyd's Register lists the S. Domingue as a former Polish vessel now under French registry and its home port as Le Havre, France. The ship is 3,109 net tons and 324 feet long.

SCENE OF DEATH CRASH — Vera McKinley was killed and John Cupoli injured this morning when the above car crashed into this tree on Lansdowne St. Skid-marks showed the car had travelled for a distance on the grass beside the road before the fatal collision. Apparently the driver swung the car back to the travelled portion of the road, but not in time to avoid sideswiping the tree.

IN HOSPITAL—John Cupoli, 529 Elm St., is receiving attention today for a broken leg, shock and possible chest injuries, which he suffered in the car crash this morning. It is said that Cupoli was the driver of the car.

KILLED IN CRASH — Vera McKinley, 27-year-old CGE employee, died almost instantly this morning when the car in which she was a passenger crashed into a tree on Lansdowne St.

Car Strikes Maple Tree; Driver Hurt

Vera McKinley Sitting In Front Seat, Has Skull Fracture

Vera McKinley, 27, of 73 Robinson St., was killed almost instantly this morning when the car in which she was a passenger crashed into a maple tree on Lansdowne St. shortly after 6 o'clock.

The driver, said by police to be John Cupoli, 529 Elm St., is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, receiving treatment for a broken leg, shock and possible chest injuries. Police said this morning that charges will be preferred against Cupoli.

There were no witnesses to the accident, which happened just east of Sherbourne St. Skid marks —measuring 63 feet to the tree— showed that the car ran off the road on the north side.

The car, skid marks showed, was travelling west. It travelled for some distance on the grass on the north side of Lansdowne before colliding with the tree. Rescuers had to work from the roadside of the car, as the vehicle was pinned beside the big tree. The impact did not break the tree, but scraped several large hunks of heavy bark from it.

It was reported that Cupoli "smelled of alcohol." Cupoli was also reported in a service station about 4.30 this morning, when he ordered two soft drinks.

Remove Side

The dead girl was sitting in the front seat beside the driver. Police had to tear out the left side of the car to release the body. Both were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by ambulance. Miss McKinley was pronounced dead on arrival. She had a fractured skull, doctors said.

Glass from the car was strewn

Emergency Measure

LAKE SUCCESS, April 24 (CP).—The United Nations moved today towards use of emergency measures to stop Palestine strife after apparently shoving into the background the question of resolving the political differences between Jews and Arabs. A three-country consular truce commission was to go to work in Palestine with the job of supervising the truce order issued last Saturday by the UN Security Council and to date ignored by the combatants.

Britain Pushes Campaign Against Reds

LONDON, April 24 — (CP). — Britain's drive against Communists and fellow travellers was pushed forward today on a broadening front.

These were the principle developments:

1. Miss Ann George, private secretary to George Tomlinson, Minister of Education, has been suspended. On April 12 she was given 24 hours to state whether she was a member of the Communist party. She refused to answer.

2. A list of other civil servants suspected of Communist or Fascist sympathies has been sent to a government advisory panel. Other suspensions may follow. Under government policy those suspended may be given other civil service jobs where security is not involved.

3. The Labor party executive meets next Wednesday when its 27 members will decide whether any Labor members of parliament should be expelled for sending a telegram of support to the pro-Communist Socialist group led by Pietro Nenni in the Italian election campaign. The names of 37 members appeared on the telegram but several since have said that their names were used due to a misunderstanding or without their knowledge.

4. Five members of the general council of the Trades Union Congress are among the chief supporters of a new committee designed to conduct a campaign against Communist influence in unions. Their campaign has not been endorsed by the TUC or by individual unions but is looked on as the strongest effort of the kind to check the Communist advance.

Miss George was the first civil servant to be suspended under the government policy of removing Communists, Fascists or fellow travellers from civil service posts where they might endanger security.

Probe Police Brutality On Toronto Force Second Time In Month

Detective With More Than 20 Years' Service Prepared To Testify At Inquiry; Witnessed Bad Beating In December

TORONTO, April 24—(CP).—Toronto is to have its second investigation within a month into charges of police brutality. In addition, Constable John Trimble faces a charge of assault causing bodily harm. His accuser is William John Abraham, 26, who claims his jaw was broken when he allegedly was beaten in a police station last Saturday night.

The investigation April 29, ordered only three weeks after the Police Commission cleared police officers of a brutality charge brought by 26-year-old construction worker Jean Poitras, arises from allegations made by William French, a detective with more than 20 years' service.

French told the police commission yesterday that officers in an east-central police station beat a prisoner so badly last December that he required hospital treatment. French named the officers involved and said he would give evidence at any inquiry.

He said more than one officer was involved in the beating of Norman John Wilkins, 42, now serving an 18-month term for armed robbery. Mayor Hiram McCallum, commission chairman, said Wilkins would be brought from the Ontario reformatory at Guelph to give evidence at the inquiry.

Free Services

Mayor McCallum announced yesterday that citizens claiming unnecessarily rough treatment by police would be provided with the services of a Crown attorney and that no court costs would be charged. He asked persons with complaints about police actions to lay their cases before the courts, rather than take them to the police commission.

Abraham already had decided to put his case before the court.

He said his brush with the police started when he tried to re-enter a North Toronto hall after going out for beer. He said a policeman stopped him and a friend, struck them both and had taken them to Belmont street police station. He claimed he was beaten there so severely his jaw was broken. Later he and his friend each were fined $20 on charges of causing a disturbance.

Reds Release British Barges On Elbe

BERLIN, April 24—(Reuters)—British-controlled barges held up at Wittenberg, a Russian check point on the River Elbe, since last Tuesday are being released, it was officially announced today.

By early morning, 12 craft had already entered the British zone.

The announcement said the barge skippers had been told by the Soviet authorities not to re-enter the Soviet zone without first obtaining new documents. They were given no information about the documents, and were not told where they could be obtained, "As the British authorities have no information about these new documents it is unlikely that water traffic into or through the Soviet zone will be renewed until the position is further clarified," the announcement added.

British authorities halted all river and canal traffic into the Soviet zone last Tuesday after the Russians had held up British controlled barges at the zonal frontier.

The French military government today instituted a bus service between Berlin and Brunswick in the British zone, following Thursday's cancellation by the Russians of the two international railway coaches between Berlin, the French zone, Brussels and Paris.

The service, which will run three times a week, will enable passengers to catch the regular French military train leaving Brunswick for Paris.

Believe Davis Hiding Facts

DETROIT, April 24 (AP)—Police Inspector Joseph Krug said today he believes Nelson Davis, a self-styled Communist, "Isn't telling all he knows" about the Walter Reuther shooting.

Davis, 52-year-old negro, had denied a report that he knows who fired a shotgun blast that seriously wounded the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.) president Tuesday night.

He was arrested Thursday after officers said they received the report from a mystery witness.

No charge has been placed against Davis, and Prosecutor James N. McNally has been ordered to give a "specific" reason why he should be detained longer at a habeas corpus hearing today.

Judge Arthur Webster refused yesterday to grant the writ freeing Davis, whose counsel claimed he was "manifestly innocent."

While police tracked down slim clues in their manhunt for Reuthers's assailant, the red-haired labor leader was heartened by news from specialists that he may yet have the use of his right arm, which was nearly torn off in the attack. His general condition remains good.

Take Recruits For Palestine

TORONTO, April 24 —(CP)—Voluntary enlistment for a Maple Leaf Legion to be put at the disposal of the United Nations should it decide to enforce order in Palestine, opened here today.

Maj. Samuel Weiser, founder and chairman of the Hebrew Legion in England, opened the campaign after his arrival last night from the United States. There he aided the campaign for troops to serve in the George Washington Legion, the American counterpart to the Maple Leaf.

Samuel Dubiner, president of the Canadian League for a Free Palestine, said last night that backers of the plan feel it will circumvent the problem of recruiting armies from any of the members of U.N.

Policemen Club Union Men; Will Investigate

KANSAS CITY, Kas., April 24. —(AP).—CIO claims of "police brutality" touched off an investigation, ordered by Mayor Clark E. Tucker, in the packinghouse wage strike here today.

All but two of 11 persons sent to hospitals when 70 police—the entire city force—routed pickets from the union hall near the Cudahy Packing Company plant, had been released last night.

The attack on striking members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO) turned the meeting place into a shambles and brought bitter denouncements from union officials.

Ralph M. Baker, district director of the union, said 100 persons were injured less severely than those who entered hospitals.

Today the union was under a temporary restraining order against illegal picketing. The district court order was issued shortly after the violet battle at the union hall.

Mayor Tucker said statements reaching him on the police assault were contradictory, and that he would take action only after a complete investigation.

Will Enforce Law

"I shall insist," the mayor said, "upon continued enforcement of the law. . . . I know there are some times when force is necessary."

Police stormed the meeting place after Police Captain Eli Dahlin had attempted to tell the strikers over a safety car loudspeaker that the police were "not going to take any more guff in the strike then 39 days old."

Dahlin said the fight developed after he tried to speak to a strike official near the doorway.

"The next thing I knew," Dahlin continued, "they had me inside."

Then officers stormed the place with billy clubs swinging.

Tornado Strikes Iowa Centre

IONIA, Ia., April 24.—(AP).—A tornado "that sounded like a train" struck this little northeast Iowa community yesterday, killing four persons and injuring 11 others.

The twister, which flattened about one-fourth of Ionia, 300 population, caused damage estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000. Two churches, a store and more than a half dozen homes were levelled by the tornadic winds.

From here the tornado leaped 20 miles to Elma, then another 15 miles to Cresco, destroying buildings on several farms. There were no former reports of casualties.

Hagana Celebrates Jewish Victories

JERUSALEM, April 24.—(AP). —Palestine Jews celebrated recent victories over Arabs today as they moved into Passover week.

At sundown last night some 700,000 Hebrew worshippers throughout the Holy Land gathered for the traditional ceremony opening the feast of the Passover, which commemorates the exodus from Egypt.

Five hundred armed Hagana fighters, many with bandaged wounds, met in the Syrian Orphanage here with David Ben-Gurion, premier and war minister-designate of the Jewish state. Together they broke unleavened bread and drank blessed wine.

Ben-Gurion in a Hagana radio broadcast formally announced the Jewish capture this week of Haifa and Tiberias. Even as he spoke thousands of Arabs continued their self-imposed exodus from Haifa. Arab leaders agreed upon evacuation of the port city Thursday rather than accept Hagana surrender terms.

Two Men Escape From Reformatory

GUELPH, April 24.—Two men escaped from the Ontario reformatory here Friday afternoon and early Friday night one was believed to be surrounded in a cedar swamp back of the reformatory. The other was thought to be in the Hamilton district.

George Holmes, 20, of Brantford, working with a bricklaying class, was trailed when he made his escape and was seen in the swamp at eight o'clock. Guards and police surrounded the bush in an effort to capture him.

The other prisoner, John Hasler, 19, of Hamilton, disappeared while working at the Ontario Veterinary College. At about the same time a car belonging to E. C. McLean was stolen from the Ontario Agricultural College. Friday the car was located in Hamilton.

Hasler was due to be released on July 23, and Holmes in October.

Manchester Wins Cup

LONDON, April 24—(Reuters). — Manchester United won the coveted Football Association Cup before 99,000 soccer fans at Wembley Stadium here today when they downed Blackpool 4-2. Blackpool led at half-time 2-1.

ARAB LEGION STANDS READY—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan has issued a call to all Arab States to be ready to invade Palestine, while his Arab Legion undergoes stiff training, above, at the hands of British-trained instructors, in handling of six-pounder artillery. Weapons are provided by the British under a treaty with Trans-Jordan.

Foreign Agents Grab Supplies

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—(AP).—Agents of foreign governments, their pockets bulging with American credits, are buying up war surplus the War Assets Administration "couldn't give away" a few months ago.

Yesterday buys from Norway, Austria and Finland bid so eagerly for locomotives, wire cable, construction machinery and like items that prices ran out of reach of American commercial buyers.

The foreigners accounted for about half the $765,666 in purchases during the two-day sale. The 787 lots of material originally cost the government $5,938,065.

American buyers were protesting the foreign agents' price-hiking tactics. The WAA pointed out its object was to get "the maximum market price — the most money the taxpayer can get back on this property" and left international policy involved to "other agencies of the government."

Black Watch Hero Col. Guthrie Dies

NORWELL, Mass., April 24 — (CP)—Col. Percy A. Guthrie, 64, prominent Boston attorney and a former officer and fighting hero of the Canadian Black Watch regiment of the First World War, died today at his home here.

Col. Guthrie, native of Oromocto, near Fredericton, N.B., said to be the first Canadian civilian to enlist at the outbreak of the First World War, served in the recruiting section of the Canadian Army during the Second War.

Humane Society Needs More Funds Badly

TORONTO, April 24 —(CP)—Rev. C. J. Lost, secretary of the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, said yesterday that unless the provincial government increases its annual allowance of $1,000, the association will have to abandon its work.

"Our work, which covers the whole province, is done on an annual budget of $5,000," he told the annual meeting of the Toronto Humane Society. "The only way we can manage is through the co-operation of clubs and societies such as yours.

"We are given $1,000 a year by the government but, unless that is increased, I can see no alternative but to turn our work back to the government."

Manitoba Red Cross On 24-Hour Alert

Send 19 Boats, Supplies And Water To Badly Flooded Areas

WINNIPEG, April 24. (CP) — Disaster relief agencies today are marshalling their forces to meet dangers created by spring floods which have plagued the prairies in the wake of heavy rains in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Reports from the Manitoba town of Emerson, on the Minnesota border—one of the hardest hit localities—said its main street swamped by the rampaging Red River, was under an average of a foot of water. In places the flood waters were reported three to four feet deep.

While the flood crisis is at its peak, Red Cross workers of the Manitoba division have been placed on a 24-hour alert. The society has sent 19 boats to flooded areas at Emerson, Arnaud, Morris, Letellier and St. Jean, together with supplies of drinking water.

In Winnipeg, facing the prediction that the peaks of the Red and Assiniboine Rivers would reach here not more than two days apart—and possibly together —the St. John Ambulance Brigade offered its services to relief committees. Some accommodation will be available in St. John House for those who may be forced to evacuate their homes.

Several suburban families left their homes yesterday after the Red River's waters ran into their basements.

Saskatchewan, Too

Saskatchewan conditions were similar to those of Manitoba. The village of Anglia, southwest of Saskatoon, was marooned last night when McKinnon Creek, a tributary of Eagle Creek, broke loose, adding to already desperate flood conditions in the Rosetown area.

Gangs worked by lantern-light last night in an effort to plug the dyke at Lumsden, 18 miles north of Regina. Telephone communication with Kronau, where the dam went out yesterday, were cut off.

Railway work gangs were withdrawn from the Anglia district and abandoned the track between Anglia and Herschel, 10 miles to the northeast. At Herschel, Eagle Creek rose 2½ feet in 10 minutes, carrying away the traffic bridge and leaving railway tracks twisted.

Canada Plans To Fly Out 10,000 Britons

OTTAWA, April 24 — (CP). — A plan to fly 10,000 Britons to Canada in the biggest air migration in history was announced yesterday by the government.

The first flight will be early next month. Trans-Canada Air Lines' Canadian-built North Star planes will make about 23 flights a month, completing the program by next March 31.

The plan was announced in the Commons by Fisheries Minister MacKinnon, Acting Resources Minister. He said it will require expansion of Canadian immigration staffs in the United Kingdom.

The office in London would be enlarged and new offices would be opened in Glasgow and Liverpool. A fourth might be established in Belfast.

A Resources Department official said there will be 40 immigrants on each flight. The contract with TCA is for $11,500 a flight, making the individual fare $287.50.

Priority will be given immigrants definitely assured of jobs in Canada. To help this phase of the plan, Labor Department officers will be assigned to the immigration offices to counsel prospective settlers.

Mr. Mackinnon also announced Canada has increased from 20,000 to 30,000 the number of homeless Europeans she will admit. Some 15,000 of the total already have arrived in the Dominion; the rest are expected by the end of 1948. Displaced persons are brought to Canada by ship.

Robinson Appeal Fails, Must Go

OTTAWA, April 24 — (CP) — Reid Robinson's appeal against a deportation order branding him a Communist has been dismissed by Fisheries Minister MacKinnon.

Robinson is eastern vice-president and Canadian organizer of the International Union of Mine Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO).

Mr. MacKinnon told the Canadian Press he reached his decision Friday afternoon. Official notification of the dismissal had been sent to Robinson's lawyer in Toronto.

Robinson still may launch habeas corpus proceedings appealing the minister's decision.

The deportation was ordered by an immigration board in Toronto after Robinson's arrest early this month in Kirkland Lake. The Smelters' Union had been conducting a full-scale organization drive in Northern Ontario.

Mrs. Eaton Fined

TORONTO, April 24. (CP) — Mrs. R. Y. Eaton, member of a prominent Toronto family, was fined $200 by Magistrate S. T. Bigelow yesterday on charges of failing to declare United States funds and attempting to export them without a permit. Evidence was that $270 in travellers' cheques and $176 in currency were found in a compartment Mrs. Eaton occupied on a train inspected at Fort Erie.

Mr. Miller was born in Douro, son of the late Stephen and Margaret Miller. A retired farmer, he was educated in Douro and later moved to Warsaw. He was a lifelong resident of this district and a member of Warsaw United Church.

He leaves three daughters: Mrs. Thomas Russell (Helena), Douro; Mrs. Keith Ross (Verna), Norwood, and Mrs. Maitland Gardner (Lyall), Norwood; a sister, Miss Margaret Miller, Warsaw; and three brothers: Stephen, Peterborough; David, Lakefield, and Robert, Warsaw.

The body is lying at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Russell of Douro, where service will be held on Monday, April 26, at 2 p.m., DST. The Rev. E. Unstead, Warsaw, and Rev. J. W. Wilkinson, Oakwood, will officiate. Burial will be in St. Mark's Cemetery, Warsaw.

"SILENT CINDERELLA" — Pretty little Barbara Kirby, 12, of Jacksonville, Fla., bides her time in hospital at Philadelphia, Pa., hopeful of soon speaking normally for the first time in her life. She has not spoken since she was two years old and has been forced to breathe through a metal tube inserted in her throat. Dr. Louis Clerf performed an operation which created a new opening in the girl's trachea to permit normal breathing through the nose and mouth, and says he had ever reason to believe that the operation was a success—"but it will be months before we'll know for sure" he added. Barbara lost her voice when she was a baby following an attack of diphtheria.

Aid Pensioners If CCF Party Wins Election

OWEN SOUND, April 24 (CP) —E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario C.C.F. leader, said last night that one of the first steps of a C.C.F. government in Ontario would be to correct "the monstrous injustice which has been done to old age pensioners by the Tory government."

In a speech prepared for delivery here at the annual meeting of the Grey North C.C.F. Association, Mr. Jolliffe referred to Premier Drew's statement last year that Ontario was lifting the old age pension to $40 monthly for all who need it.

At the recent session the government was "too cowardly" to tell how many pensioners were getting the $40. On the last day of session the government "disclosed that less than three per cent of Ontario's 72,000 pensioners were getting the $40," Mr. Jolliffe said.

He stated that less than 10 per cent were getting any more than $30 monthly while the other 65,000 pensioners receive $30 or less.

"For a government which boasts of a $25,000,000 surplus, this is a shameful performance. The C.C.F. will make the basic pension $40 a month at once, and will continue to urge the Dominion to make it $50. The Dominion also has an enormous surplus and is well able to do it."

A C.C.F. government would also increase the mothers' allowance and accept responsibility for medical and hospital care of those entitled to old age pensions, blind pensions and mothers allowances and their dependents.

Floods Block Roads

PORT ARTHUR, April 24. (CP) —An 80-mile stretch of the trans-Canada Highway between English River and Borup's Corners has been closed to traffic, the Ontario Highways Department has announced. Borup's corners is about 37 miles west of Ignace, Ont. Flood conditions created a washout between Ignace and the corners about noon yesterday, it was stated.

Lana Turner Will Wed Tin-Plate Heir Monday

HOLLYWOOD, April 24 (AP) —The way now is clear for the wedding movieland has been predicting all year — actress Lana Turner and tin-plate heir Henry J. (Bob) Topping, Jr.

The ink was barely dry on the divorce decree Arline Judge obtained from Topping in Bridgeport, Conn., yesterday when the Turner-Topping ceremony was set for Monday here.

It will be the fourth marriage for both 28-year-old Lana and Topping, 34.

The affair will have more than just a touch of what Hollywood terms "class." Miss Turner has ordered a $25,000 trousseau, including $5,000 worth of lingerie.

Insiders speculated that Topping might decide to toss the big party which was cancelled last January before Miss Judge bowed out of the picture. Topping at that time sent out some 400 invitations to a $25,000 champagne party at a club he had engaged.

The millionaire sportsman filed suit first against Miss Judge, and Arline filed counter-suit. It was on her charge of intolerable cruelty that Arline walked out of court yesterday with $100,000 alimony in one lump.

The former actress, in shedding her fifth husband, testified that Topping once threw her and her maid bodily out of their Long Island summer home. She said he was insanely jealous, struck her, called her vile names and twice threatened to shoot her.

Seven Premiers Map Strategy On Rate Appeal

OTTAWA, April 24 — (CP).—Premiers of seven provinces were to meet here to-day to map their strategy in persuading the Cabinet to throw out freight-rate increases awarded the railways.

A meeting with the Cabinet was sought for to-day or Monday but no definite appointment had been made before the Provincial Government heads got together.

Their session was preliminary to the filing of a formal appeal by their governments against the recent 21-per-cent rate increase award of the Board of Transport Commisisoners. This appeal was expected to be presented by mid-May.

All provinces except Quebec and Ontario were to be represented at to-day's gathering. It was indicated, although not expressed, that the political weight of their governments would be thrown into the scales in the attempt to have the Cabinet reverse itself.

Three of the governments — in the Maritimes — are Liberal, the same as that at Ottawa. Two—in Manitoba and British Columbit—are coalition administrations headed by Liberals.

The Dominion Government already has rejected an appeal from the provinces for a 30-day stay in the implementation of rate increases, but the question still is under debate in the Commons.

A vote is expected Tuesday on a CCF non-confidence motion censuring the government for that rejection.

Beside consulting with the Cabinet, the Premiers during their stay here were to give a final going-over to the basic draft of their submission to the Cabinet in the formal appeal.

The Weather

Peterborough Temperatures:

Today:
Night low 45 Noon 56

Yesterday:
Highest 62 Lowest 37

One Year Ago:
Highest 60 Lowest 34

Sun—Rises at 5:21; Sets at 7:11

A broad stream of warm tropical air is surging northward through the Mississippi Valley and into Southern Ontario this morning. As the cooler air over the province fights its losing battle with its adversary from the south, great banks of cloud are forming and rain is falling in many sections of Southern Ontario and the Great Lakes region in general. By Sunday morning the cool air will have retreated far into Northern Ontario.

Temperatures yesterday reached the mid-80's in the Ohio Valley and several localities in Southern Texas reported above 90. Such extremes are not to be expected in our regions, but new records for the season should be established during the week-end.

Lake Huron, Lake Ontario and Niagara regions: Overcast with showers or thundershowers this morning. Cloudy and much warmer this afternoon and Sunday. Scattered thundershowers Sunday evening. Winds light today and tonight, south 15 Sunday. Low tonight and high Sunday at St. Catharines 56 and 78, Wingham 55 and 75, Trenton 50 and 70.

Summary for Sunday: Very warm, thundershowers in evening.

Sudbury City, Southern Kirkland Lake, Southern White River, Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions: Overcast with showers or thundershowers today. Variable cloudiness tonight and Sunday. Scattered thundershowers Sunday evening. Much warmer Sunday. Winds light today and tonight becoming south 15 Sunday. Low tonight and nigh Sunday at Sudbury and Killaloe 50 and 75, Muskoka 52 and 75, Earlton 47 and 70.

10 Playwrights Can Win Honors

OTTAWA, April 24.—(CP). — The Dominion Drama Festival gets under way next week and one of 10 playwrights from Montreal to Vancouver, stands to win $100 if his work is chosen as the best presented at a regional drama festival this year.

But only two, Robertson Davies of Peterborough, and Bernard Dryer, a former professor at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, qualify for any additional honors in the Dominion competition.

The Ottawa Drama League Workshop and the University of Manitoba Dramatic Society of Winnipeg are eligible for the Sir Barry Jackson award, which goes to the cast giving the best presentation of a Canadian-written play.

The Winnipeg group is producing "John Doe," a one-act play by Mr. Dryer; the Ottawa Workshop has chosen Mr. Davies' "Eros at Breakfast," as its entry.

Any of the other eight writers can beat Mr. Davies or Mr. Dryer, for the cash prize. Robert Stuart, British actor who adjudicated the regional festival, will announce the winner at the conclusion of the Dominion competition next Saturday.

Mr. Davies, editor of the Peterborough Examiner, carried off another prize in February when "Eros," the only Canadian-written play in the English-speaking section of the Easter Ontario Festival took the Fulford Shield.

"Eros," a rollicking farce, has also won Mr. Davies the Ottawa Drama League Worshop's $100 prize for 1947 in the group's annual competition for the best one-act play by a Canadian.

Union Blacklists Glenelg Will Drive It Off Lakes

CORNWALL, April 24 (CP)—Milton Nuttall, district representative of the Canadian Seamen's Union said last night the freighter Glenelg boarded by C.S.U. members at Thorold Thursday was on a "blacklist" of steamships the union intends to drive off the lakes.

As R.C.M.P. officers stood guard at the Cornwall Canal, rival C.S.U. and Canadian Lake Seamen's Union members awaited the arrival of two Canada Steamship Lines vessels manned by C.L.S.U. crews.

Nuttall said his union had members aboard ships manned by the rival crews. His men "soon" would quit these ships, probably in the Cornwall canal, thus forcing the vessels to stop moving because of inadequate crews under transport board regulations.

He said these men had been infiltrating into the C.L.S.U.-manned boats for some time. If Pat Sullivan's (head of the C.L.S.U.) men tried to replace the C.S.U. men when they quit the boats, "the pressure would be put on."

Meanwhile officials at the canal locks said that shipping was passing through the canal without interference.

Commons Discusses Prairie Farm Assistance Legislation

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, April 24—(CP).—The Commons talked Prairie farm assistance yesterday. They spent all day on it, discussing a bill which makes changes in the Prairie Farm Assistance Act. This is the Act which gives drought area farmers cash compensation when they suffer a crop failure. The changes being made will extend it to new areas.

But this wasn't enough for CCF members, most of whom come from the West. They wanted it extended even further, to take in all specialized crop areas in Canada. For instance, they thought the fruit-growing districts of British Columbia should be included.

One of them, Hazen Argue (CCF-Wood Mountain), moved an amendment calling for this further extension. It also asked for larger payments and payments to individual farms. At present, payments are made by townships. The amendment was ruled out of order because it involved expenditure of public money, which only a cabinet minister can seek.

In the end, the bill was adopted as introduced. It now goes to the Senate for its approval.

Before the bill passed, Agriculture Minister Gardiner indicated steps will be taken to make some extension in the west. This would be to municipalities not covered by the present act. He expects to meet provincial and municipal authorities in the west this summer to see what can be done.

He said something probably could be decided on if the provinces and the municipalities could arrange to make contributions to a fund to provide for the crop-failure payments.

At the same time, Mr. Gardiner turned down suggestions that the Dominion initiate a national crop insurance plan. He rejected these proposals on two grounds: 1, the plan would be too costly; 2, the Dominion hasn't the necessary jurisdiction.

The chamber took time out to debate—for the sixth time—a bill to increase the Bell Telephone Company's capitalization. CCF members continued their opposition to the bill—a private measure—and it made no headway in the time alloted for such legislation. They felt the Bell system was a monopoly and should be publicly-owned.

At the opening, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced the appointment of Thomas Reid (L-New Westminster) as parliamentary assistant to Fisheries Minister MacKinnon and the resignation of Walter Tucker (L-Rosther), Liberal leader in Saskatchewan, as parliamentary assistant to Veterans Minister Gregg.

The chamber gave preliminary approval to two private bills moved by T. L. Church (PC-Toronto Broadview). One would tighten the laws dealing with motor accidents, while the other would relax those dealing with penitentiaries and prohibit the imprisonment of anyone under 19 years of age.

Urges Indians Be Renamed

TORONTO, April 24—(CP).—Renaming of Canada's Indians was suggested today by Magistrate E. R. Tucker of Cochrane.

Here for the annual magistrates' convention, he said in an interview the only reason Canadian Indians came to be known as such was that Christopher Columbus mistook the North American Continent for India.

"It's illogical and undeserved," he said.

Magistrate Tucker, who speaks fluent Ojibway, proposed that the Indians drop that name in favor of "something more appropriate" such as First Canadian or Native Canadian.

"Unrest is particularly noticeable among those young Indians who served in the Canadian forces overseas where they enjoyed all the privileges of their white comrades-in-arms, only to find on their return that they had reverted to their Indian status and forego the privileges they had for several years enjoyed. This created a situation adding greatly to the difficulties of their re-establishment."

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 24 (AP). — Wheat again met selling pressure at the opening on the Board of Trade to-day. Losses of a couple of cents were recorded. Feed grains were mostly lower, although showing some resistance to selling.

Wheat started 1 to 2½ lower, May $2.40½-$2.39½, corn was 1½ lower to ¼ higher, May $2.15¾-$2.15, and oats were ¾ lower to ⅛ higher, May $1.08¾-$1.08½.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, April 24.—(CP).—A weaker tone on the Chicago market due to reports of good rains in the winter wheat belt was reflected in the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Oats prices declined from 1 to 1⅜ cents, barley was down from 2⅛ to 1⅜ cents, and rye declined the 10-cent limit in each month.

Told To Tend To Job

OTTAWA, April 24. (CP) — Defence Minister Claxton was bluntly told in the Commons yesterday that "things would be a lot better in this country" if he would spend more time looking after defence matters. The statement was made by John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) who "resented" statements made by the minister in a radio speech on Thursday night. In the speech, Mr. Claxton said the "frivolous or querulous obstruction" of the opposition took up 50 per cent of parliament's time.

Says Canada Ashamed

PORT ARTHUR, April 24 (CP) —The opinion that Canada is "ashamed of itself" and is suffering from a "strong inferiority complex" was expressed in an interview yesterday by Dr. L. F. Grant of Kingston, president of the Engineering Institute of Canada. He referred particularly to the heavy exodus of young technical men from Canada to the United States and to what he termed the "unwillingness" of Canadian corporations and, in some cases governments, to give Canadian engineers jobs.

Marshall Back To Handle Serious Events

WASHINGTON, April 24. — (AP).—State Secretary Marshall was due back in Washington today to deal with the "important events" he said required his return from the Bogota inter-American conference.

Officials here generally expressed the view that Marshall was coming home not to deal with any particular crisis, but to tackle problems which accumulated since he left March 28. These include:

1. The drive within the United Nations to secure a truce between Jews and Arabs in Palestine, set up a trusteeship government and possibly send an international peace-keeping force, including American troops, to the Holy Land.

There is some fear here this drive may not succeed in time to prevent extensive warfare in Palestine when Britain gives up her mandate May 15.

2. Decisions by the United States Government on how to give military support to the projected Western European Union. President Truman told a press conference Thursday he soon might have an announcement on this major foreign policy development.

3. The continuing critical situation in Berlin, which still is the worst trouble spot in relations between the West and Russia.

4. Possible Soviet reaction to the Communist defeat in the Italian elections.

When Marshall left for Bogota he said he would remain at the conference until it ended. But the meeting, originally scheduled to last six weeks, was broken up by the Bogota revolt.

Marshall remained in the Colombian capital for the resumption of the conference, but authorities here said they saw no compelling reason for him to stay any longer, now that the major work of the delegates has been completed.

60 Million In U.S. Go On Daylight Saving

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP). — Some 60,000,000 of the 145,000,000 people of the United States will go on daylight saving time tomorrow. The switching hour is 2 a.m. when conforming clocks will be set forward 60 minutes.

Although "fast time" has won new converts this year, widespread observance will be pretty much limited to the heavily-populated north-eastern section of the country. As usual, rural areas in general will shun it. Canada has much the same situation.

Most railroads and airlines will continue to operate on standard time.

Most of the country will return to standard time Sept. 26. California and Nevada, however, daylight time is scheduled to continue until next January as a power conservation measure.

Britain's New Colonial Policy Is Co-operative Development

BY JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 24 (CP).—The Lancashire mill-worker and the African hunter have become partners in building a new British Empire.

The concept of colonial policy, taught to colonial service cadets at Oxford and Cambridge universities is "a working partnership in development and welfare."

The millworker, by his taxes, is paying for the development of colonial resources that ultimately will be the possession of colonial peoples; conversely peanuts in Africa, timber in British Guiana, sugar in the West Indies and the food and raw materials of a score of colonies are being produced in increased quantity to help Britain's economy in these hard days.

Time was when colonies poured their wealth in resources into the hands of development companies and speculators who had little interest in the natives' future. Now the money flows the other way. These are expenditures authorized recently by the United Kingdom:

1. £120,000,000 ($480,000,000) for the 10-year period ending 1956, for "colonial development," including agriculture, forestry, irrigation and services.

2. £100,000 for the Colonial Development Corporation to be paid out as loans to assist any colonial enterprise which desires to increase colonial productivity.

3. £25,000,000, for the development of peanut production in East Africa to increase the world supply of fats. Some 24,000 Africans will be employed on the project in the next five years.

4. £1,000,000 for special research undertakings concerned with health, agriculture, forestry and irrigation.

Other Expenditures

These sums are only part of the bill. Special assistance is required in time of disaster or other emergencies. Highly-trained staffs of specialists have to be trained in United Kingdom for duties overseas; police, medical services, communications and defence have to be provided, usually by the United Kingdom government.

Colonial officers, after training in universities and in the field, are impressed with the principles of indirect rule. They are no longer little "monarchs" in remote kingdoms but can be summoned and advised by radio or airplane in a few hours. Natives are educated to take their training as colonial officers along with Britons. The color bar no longer hinders their promotion.

They go to their duties armed, not with rifles, but with Basic English, a simplified version of the language using 850 essential words and used successfully in colonial education. The British Government paid £23,000 for the copyright and colonial officers welcome the system.

The Colonial Primary Products Committee said in a report:

"The introduction of mechanized and large-scale production into areas where the social and political structure is based on the individual cultivation of small-holdings often community-owned, will involve a social upheaval whose effects must be provided for."

Convicts Learn Trades In U.S. Prisons

JOLIET, Ill., April 24 (AP).—"This is the first prison I have ever seen where anybody showed me how to make money without a gun.

It was a 37-year-old Stateville Penitentiary convict talking. He's spent 16-years behind prison walls in half a dozen states. He came here 3½ years ago on a five-to-15-year sentence for armed robbery.

Now he is one of about 2,500 prisoners out of a population of 4,300 at Stateville and the old Joliet Prison here, who are fitting themselves for better lives. He's learning to be a printer He plans to use his new skill when he gets out.

"A fellow can make more money in three months operating one of these machines than I got in all my robberies," he says. "And he doesn't have to spend 16 years behind bars for it afterwards."

Printing is one of 37 trades which convicts can learn at the prison vocational school. They are learning to repair radios, watches, typwriters, shoes, auto bodies and fenders.

Other subjects include sign painting, carpentry, clay modelling, cooking, baking, farming, tailoring, barbering, landscaping, electrical, machine shop and sheet metal work, glazing, powerhouse maintenance, plumbing, masonry, painting, soapmaking, laundering, bookbinding, plastering, meat-cutting, welding, mechanical drafting and photography.

32 Music Students

Thirty-two prisoners are full-time music students. Most of them couldn't read a line of music before they got here.

The system, says Warden Joseph Ragen, is based chiefly on the idea that many men reach the prisons because they lack sufficient academic or vocational training.

"For one reason or another, they have not had a chance to develop their ability to make an honest living," he says. "We try to fit men to compete, on an honest basis, when they are outside again."

When Regan took over as Warden here in 1932, he found 1,800 idle men. To put them to work he began developing the prison shop and the Stateville correspondence school.

The correspondence school offers primary, high school and college training, and about 1,000 inmates are enrolled.

"A man can study everything given in the average high school course—except physics and chemistry," the warden says. "We don't want a student to come up with a homemade bomb.

Courses at primary school level are given in a specially designed school building. The classrooms are long a central hall that affords guards a view at all times. Convict instructors teach in the elementary grades. Most high school and college work is handled by correspondence.

Warden Ragen is optimistic about the chance for his graduates to find jobs when they leave. He has a list of 35 large industrial plants in the Chicago area which are willing to hire all trained men the parole board can send them.

Gaitan was buried in a brick-lined vault in the ground directly beneath his own home, which will become a national shrine.

Super Taxi Service Confuses Customer

HALIFAX, April 24—(CP)—A midtown resident phoned for a taxi. He was carefully replacing the receiver of his telephone when the doorbell rang.

"You called for a cab, sir?" the man at the door inquired.

The resident stared open-mouthed.

"Get out," he said. "You must drive like a maniac. I'll call another taxi."

The cabbie explained that his car had two-way radio. He added he was driving past the house when he got the call.

Only after an inspection of the equipment and a further explanation of the new service would the wary customer enter the cab. Even then he was clutching his hat brim when he settled in the back seat.

Doukhobors Problem To "Pen" Officials

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., April 24 (CP)—Vegetarian Doukhobors whose religion bans raising of animals for human consumption are a problem to British Columbia penitentiary officials.

During winter months they cannot find enough work for members of the sect serving terms for arson and riotous damage in the province's interior. It is hoped that spring gardening will provide a temporary solution.

The justice department recognizes their refusal to work in the farm yard where animals are raised. Apart from this, the Doukhobors are little trouble.

Their own members prepare their meals in the prison kitchen, as their beliefs decree strict vegetarian diet.

Australia Needs 200,000 Workers

WINNIPEG, April 24—(CP)—The object of Australia's immigration plan is "to receive 70,000 new settlers annually, Mel Pratt, press attache for the Australian high commissioner, Ottawa, said in an interview here. He was en route to Australia.

He said his homeland now has approximately 200,000 jobs available, but the movement of immigrants still was restricted because of the lack of shipping space.

"This year we expect to receive about 50,000 British persons, between 17,000 and 18,000 European displaced persons and about 3,000 former American servicemen."

The over-all immigration policy, said Mr. Pratt, aimed at setting up a ratio of nine British for each non-British immigrant. Former army camps are being used to accommodate displaced persons sent to Australia under the auspices of the International Refugee Organization.

In these camps Europeans are taught English. They are put to work as rapidly as possible through the co-operation of the Commonwealth employment service.

A Silver Wedding Anniversary

Twenty-five years ago H.R.H. the Duke of York and the Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon were married amidst the rejoicings of the British nations,

Whyles the boyes run up and downe the street,
Crying aloud with strong confused noyce
As it were one voyce:
Hyment io Hymen.

On Monday, the anniversary of that happy event, the people of the Commonwealth will offer their joyful and affectionate congratulations to His Majesty, the King and Her Majesty the Queen who during a quarter-century have been models of regal virtue and domestic felicity.

• • •

The twenty-five years of war and turbulent peace have been difficult, but the knavish tricks of the King's enemies have been frustrated, the dignity and worth of the throne enhanced and the King with staunch calm and the Queen with grace and charm have won the affectionate esteem of their subjects. May this royal pair ever be happy and glorious; long may they reign over us. They have given us cause to sing with heart and voice: God save them both.

Canadian Unity And The Central Provinces

In 1849 Lord Elgin, Governor-General of the united Canada West and Canada East (Ontario and Quebec) gave his assent to the Rebellion Losses Bill and thereby gave Canada responsible government. Therefore, for nearly a century French-speaking and English-speaking people living in the valley of the St. Lawrence and the Great Lakes, together with their fellow countrymen elsewhere across this continent, have been engaged in the experiment of building, on their own responsibility and under their own direction, a modern nation. This nation is founded on two cultures and two languages. Eighty years ago it was constituted a Confederation, a single state created from scattered communities extending from sea to sea. How well has this union been built in the century since the achievement of responsible government, eighty years since its political creation?

• • •

It has been built well; that is the evidence of our achievement in war and peace. The experiment up to this point has been successful. Nevertheless this nation is still in the experimental stages and its people must continually be alert to fissures that develop and which develop easily because this nation is founded on two cultures and two languages, and because regionalism makes provincialism endemic, sometimes virulent. The greatest threat to Canada's security and prosperity is not external but internal; foreign pressure is less dangerous than domestic disunity. In a country as extensive as Canada, unity is truly strength. Therefore the present attitude of the governments of Ontario and Quebec, the key provinces, is rather alarming.

• • •

The Montreal Gazette views with satisfaction the close co-operation between the provinces of Ontario and Quebec in recent years. It says that "this co-operation is one of the most important political developments in Canada". It is important, but its importance is alarming.

• • •

Premier Drew said with an elaborate humility in the Ontario Legislature last week:

> For such measure of success we have had in preserving our constitution I am proud to have my name associated with that of the head of the government of Quebec. I think that all members of this legislature should welcome the high degree of co-operation which we have established.

Co-operation between Ontario and Quebec, desirable and necessary though it may be, should be on a proper basis and for proper reasons. The Drew-Duplessis combination is rather like a banging of big bass drums destroying the harmony and wrecking the concert. Too frequently they raise their voices against, not for, the Confederation, and give their influence to perverting rather than "preserving our constitution". Some kinds of co-operation can be unholy and dangerous, like the Russian-German concord in 1939. The Drew-Duplessis co-operation does not bode well for Canadian unity.

• • •

Mr. St. Laurent, speaking a year ago in Convocation Hall, Toronto, on "The Foundations of Canadian Policy" said:

> We dare not fashion a policy which is based on the particular interest of any economic group, of any class or of any section in this country. We must be on guard especially against the claims of extravagant regionalism no matter where they have their origin....The role of this country in world affairs will prosper only as we maintain this principle, for a disunited Canada will be a powerless one.

Unfortunately for Canada, neither Mr. Drew nor Mr. Duplessis has the statesmanlike qualities of Mr. St. Laurent.

You Can't Make A Million In Britain

We do not quite know what a millionaire is, but it might be safe to say that an individual with an annual income of $100,000 or more is a millionaire. It is officially estimated that there are 109 of these blessed people in Canada. In Britain a person with an income of 50,000 pounds (roughly $200,000—we are not peckish about rough estimates in big figures) is considered to be a pukkah millionaire. Somerset House figures show that there are 244 of them in Britain. Therefore, on a per capita basis, Canada is not too badly off for millionaires. In considering the prospects, Canada is far in the lead. Millions can still be made in Canada but not in Britain.

The new British tax on capital is mortal to present and prospective millionaires. Even before the imposition of the new tax, income and estates taxes have caused a wastage of about fifteen millionaires a year. The golden age for would-be self-made millionaires was the second half of the last century. Income tax never exceeded 1s 4d in the pound and was usually less than half that. There were no succession duties until 1894. By the end of the century there were nearly 2,200 British citizens who could be ranked as millionaires. They included men who had begun life's work in humble surroundings and occupations, men like James Coats (thread), a former cotton-spinner; Wills (tobacco); Jeremiah Colman (mustard), a miller; William P. Hartley (jam), a grocer; Lord Leverhulme ("Sunlight" Lever—soap), a shop assistant; Sir Thomas Lipton (tea), a grocer; Jesse Boot (Lord Trent—cash chemist), a small shop-keeper; they included whiskey barons like the Buchanans and Dewars and beer barons like the Grettons, Ratcliffs and Watneys.

The father of a present-day Britisher had one chance in 250,000 of making a million. The grandfather had one chance in 50,000. The Briton today has none, so they say, though promoters of football pools like the Moore brothers and of holiday camps and amusement parks like Billy Butlin seem to be doing pretty well. The high British taxes really do put the kibosh on new recruits to the millionaire ranks except for those who inherit the remnants (after taxes) of really huge estates, and except for masters of speculation who can circumvent taxes.

We cannot guess what statistical chances a Canadian has of becoming a millionaire. They are not very great, really, for money does not grow on trees tapped by income-tax collectors. Nevertheless, there is at least a chance in a million.

NOTE AND COMMENT

People's minds are like parachutes: they work only when they are opened.

Cremation, we read, is increasingly popular in British Columbia. Burned up over the freight rates, probably.

A news story from St. Louis tells of two policemen being bitten by a woman. That's not news! Now if a woman had been bitten by a policeman....

A new rubber bone for dogs is thoroughly impregnated with the smell of beef. When a dog is tearing up your overshoes, of course, he seems to manage very well with the smell of rubber.

A Gallup Poll on the improvement of newspapers shows that most readers want "more obituaries". We are determined, however, to stick to our policy of one to a customer.

Cigar smoke may have some elixir of power, but some powerful cigar smokers would make strange bedfellows. We are thinking of inveterate chewers of the weed like Churchill, John L. Lewis and Sir Stafford Cripps.

Diary Of Peculiar Periodicals

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Sat down today to rootle through a pile of mail which has accumulated during the week and which I have not opened, owing to its uninteresting appearance. I take my time about opening letters which look as though they contained unpleasant news, or information which I do not want. Discovered in the heap a copy of a magazine called "The Celt", published in Britain and devoted to what the publishers presume to be the interests of fanatical Scotchmen, Welshmen, Irishmen, Manxmen, Cornishmen and Bretons; large chunks of it are printed in Erse, Gaelic, Welsh and Breton by fellows called Dmurphaidh and Na Dhoaileach, who used to be plain Murphy and O'Toole before the Celtic bug bit them. All of these Celts seemed to be uncommonly vexed with the English, and did not hesitate to say that if the English could be got out of the way everything would be dheaochd (Jake) with the world. Being possessed of a considerable degree of traditional Celtic wisdom myself, I soon committed "The Celt" to the flames.

◇ ◇ ◇

MONDAY: Tried to buy a new hat today, without success. I have two hats at present, the one far gone in decay, and the other so heavy and unyielding in its nature that I generally refer to it as the Iron Crown of Hungary. Now I have not an uncommonly big head (whatever the people who sit behind me at the movies may say) but I need a man's hat, and most hats seem to be made for little boys; when I try them on the effect is farcical. Furthermore, I have noticed at parties that people seem to get great fun out of trying on my hat. What is the true state of affairs? Am I a pumpkinhead, or do I meet an unusual number of pinheads?

◇ ◇ ◇

TUESDAY: Spent a busy day, but got little done. This is because I am at last becoming perfect in the art of seeming busy, even when very little is going on in my head or under my hands. This is an art which every man learns, if he does not intend to work himself to death. By shifting papers about my desk, writing my initials on things, talking to my colleagues about things which they know already, fumbling in books of reference, making notes about things which are already decided, and staring out of the window while tapping my teeth with a pencil, I can successfully counterfeit a man doing a heavy day's work. Nobody who watched me would ever be able to guess what I was doing, and the secret of this is that I am not doing anything, or creating anything, and my brain is having a nice rest. I am, in short, an executive.

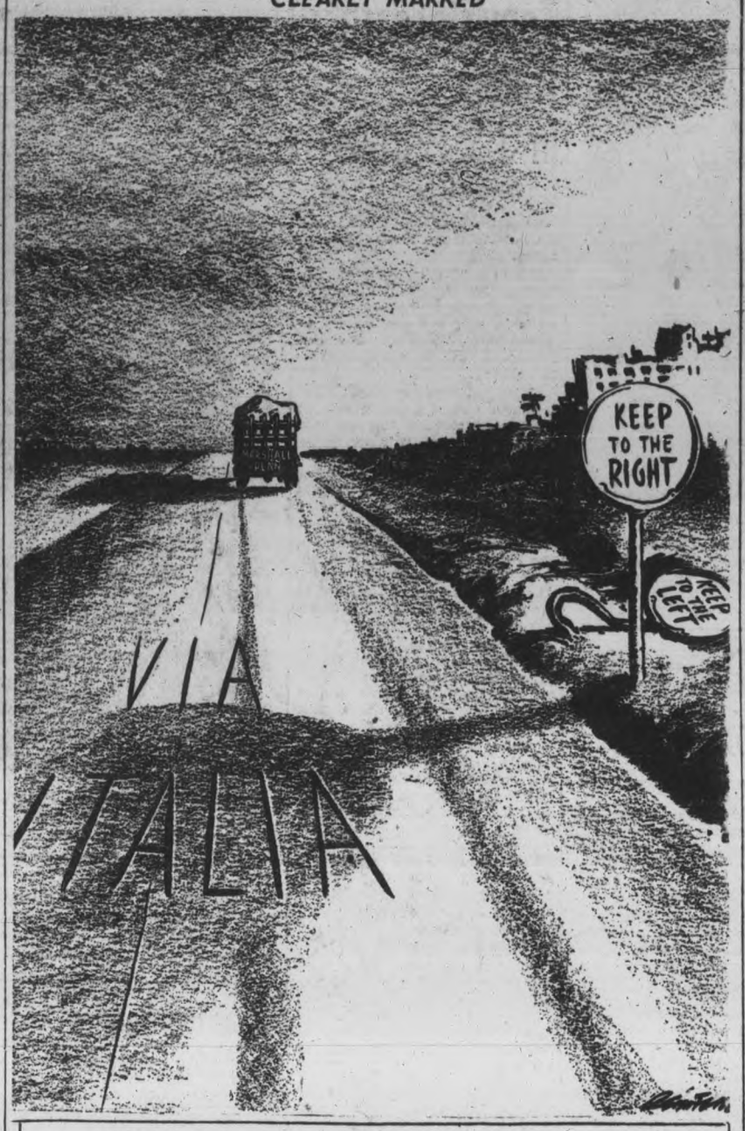
◇ ◇ ◇

WEDNESDAY: For some reason which only an architect could explain the telephone at Marchbanks Towers lies at the bottom of a blind alley, festooned on both sides with hats and paved with overshoes, and not infrequently used as a garage for a perambulator. By the time I have fought my way down the alley to the phone, I am in no mood to be civil, and if it should be a wrong number (which happens about once in every three calls) I shriek the Sevenfold Curse of Moses into the phone at the top of my voice; the Incoming and the Outgoing, the Standing, Sitting and Lying, the Ingestion and the Elimination of the foolish 'phoner do I curse, in a voice trembling with passion, and then I turn and pick my way back through the fallen hats and coats, the overshoes, the rubbers and the toys.

◇ ◇ ◇

THURSDAY: This seems to be my week to receive peculiar periodicals. Today a paper called "The Jacobite" arrived from New Zealand, of all places; it was devoted entirely to that most lost of all lost causes. It boasted that a letter written by Mary, Queen of Scots, had recently sold for £1200, whereas one from Elizabeth had sold for a measly £500—an obvious victory for the Stuart cause. It spoke admiringly of Louis XVI as the man who had given the Americans their independence—an interpretation of history which was new to me....I once knew a Jacobite, and he wasted a great deal of time scheming to detnrone the late King George V, in order to supplant him with an obscure Bavarian prince called Ruprecht, who had no desire at all to press his claim to the throne of Britain, though he was the nearest thing to a Stuart to be found in the modern world.

◇ ◇ ◇



FRIDAY: Now that Britain has abolished the death penalty I suppose the hangman will be out of a job, and another of the old picturesque trades will fall into disuse. There was a day when the hangman not only had to turn off wicked fellows who had stolen sheep or spoken disrespectfully to the police, but he was also expected to burn any books which were deemed to be of a thoughtful or immoral tendency; to have one's book burned by the public hangman in those days was good publicity, like having it banned in Boston today. Who will take the place of the hangman, in public fear and opprobium? The Income Tax inspector, obviously.

◇ ◇ ◇

SATURDAY: Motoring today saw a sign on a fence beside a cemetery which read "Watered Greens. Sporty: 50 cents an hour". Pondered this peculiar advertisement for several miles, and concluded that the boneyard must adjoin a golf course. ..Passed a car which had a crude sign on the back reading "Just Married and Away to the West to Build a Nest". The car was going east. Gaped at the occupants, a young couple who looked very serious, not to say worried. But as it can never be said that Marchbanks failed to encourage the noble institution of marriage I waved at them, and shook hands with myself like a Chinaman or a boxing champion, and leered and wagged my head in what I believed to be a benevolent manner. They caught sight of me, and their jaws dropped, and they hastily looked away. It is very difficult to be a ray of sunshine in this self-conscious world.

High Cost of Cancer Research

(KINGSTON WHIG-STANDARD)

"WHY does research cost so much? Where does the money go? Is it being wasted?" These are questions the Canadian Cancer Society often hears, it reports, in connection with the research program to be undertaken this year at a cost of $200,000. That sum seems small when compared to the $15,000,000 the United States will spend this year for the same purpose, but since the Canadian public is being asked to put up the money, it has the right to ask such questions. And the Canadian Cancer Society is ready with a most satisfactory answer.

The Society cites one project that has just been launched in Ontario. This project is based on the long-known fact that chickens subject to a certain type of cancer called the Rous sarcoma, which can normally be produced by injecting certain cancer-forming substances material into the bird's body, become permanently immune to further injections if the sarcoma is once cured by X-ray radiation. Apparently, if the dead cancer cells are once absorbed into the chicken's body, they make it immune to further injections of the cancer-forming substances—just as smallpox antibodies injected into our blood streams make us immune to smallpox germs.

However, this project is not a one-year affair. It calls for a ten-year medical survey of some 20,000 patients who have successfully received X-ray treatment for cancer in Ontario clinics. Forty of these patients, as in any other group of similar size, would normally become victims of cancer each year. But the rate will be considerably lower if immunization similar to that noted in the X-rayed chickens takes place. Before medical science will feel justified in reaching any definite conclusion about the absorption of dead cancer cells acting as a serum, it must study this big sample group of patients for at least ten years.

That will mean a lot of work. Central records must be set up and kept up for ten years, with each patient being examined once a year during that period. It will be the largest survey ever attempted in Canadian medical history, and the clinical work and bookkeeping involved will require the full-time or part-time services of many trained workers for ten years, at a cost of many thousands of dollars.

And this, the Canadian Cancer Society points out, is just one of many research projects—one which requires no expenditure on costly materials or laboratory equipment, in contrast to most other attempts to solve the cancer problem. It may show negative results, but the findings even then will have served their purpose, by blocking off yet another blind alley in the widespread search for the answer to cancer.

The Canadian Cancer Society believes that every Canadian should take some part in the nationwide and worldwide scientific battle to conquer cancer—once and for all—that is going on in the research laboratories. You can do your part by joining the Society during its annual membership campaign this month

UNCONSIDERED TRIFLE

Mother was showing her two very young daughters the family album, and there was, of course, a photograph of her wedding. When she had nearly finished explaining who the numerous sprucely-dressed guests were, the youngest daughter exclaimed perplexedly:

"But, mommy, where were we while you were getting married?"

And mother had no time to reply, the eldest girl chiming in first: "Huh! You might know. We were minding the house as usual I expect".

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did. And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them. Then Peter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up. And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and when he had called the saints and widows, presented her alive. (Acts 9: 36-41.)

Poetic Diction

Mr. Cecil Day Lewis confesses, in the printed version of his lecture in Newcastle last year, that he has a soft spot for poetry in which the colloquial element is strong. So have most people, certainly most modern poets; where they differ is on the degree of strength. His doctrine is brave and unambiguous:

"There is a time for pure poetry, and a place for the undiluted grand manner, but I doubt if they are here and now, when the press of events, the crowding novelties, the so rapidly changing features of the world in which we live seem to demand of the poet that he should more than ever be responsive, fluid, adaptable; that his utterance should be human rather than hierophantic; that he should study to make his technique as supple and elastic as he may, to mould it to the intricate contours of modern experience".

Since Mr. Day Lewis himself has written such delightful poetry, and given the public more pleasure than most contemporary writers, it is with some hesitation that one proclaims him wrong. "Thank you," one of our classical head masters used to say courteously when a boy resumed his seat after a wildly inaccurate translation of an ode of Horace or some lines from Aristophanes; "thank you," and then a long pause, and then "unfortunately, my friend, it don't mean it." It is not the poet but the journalist who must be responsive, fluid, and adaptable. "The essence of journalism," Maurice Baring once said, "is sensation captured on the wing; the essence of poetry is emotion remembered in tranquility." One nearly universal fault in the volumes of new verse coming from English publishers is precisely that the younger poets today are too colloquial in diction, in theme too responsive to the muddy present. They hug the earth like pheasants, and one scans the empty heavens for a skylark. —Manchester Guardian.

SPRING DAY IN THE PARK . . . . . by GILES

Outdoors

With PETE McGILLEN

I OFTEN WONDER why the sight-seeing buses from Peterborough went all the way to Dorset and through Algonquin Park. I figured they should have turned east above Minden and gone through Haliburton on to Bancroft. Now I know the reason. If ever there was a nightmarish road, a Burma highway, fashioned by some joker who followed the path of a drunken sailor, that's it. From Haliburton to Drag lake and on to Loon lake the road is an attractive highway, an invitation to travel on, but after you pass Loon lake, oh boy. Steep, short hills, sharp curves, mud holes, and worst of all, winding rocky one-way trails that would make a pioneer teamster dizzy. This road is strictly Model T style. At several spots my car zoomed up steep hills, and while the front wheels spun trying to get a toe-hold and haul me over the brink, I craned my neck over the dashboard trying to see which way the road turned. Not once did I guess right, and the payoff came when soared off the road and landed in a swamp.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

I COULD DO NOTHING but sit there until the road grader came along. The driver hooked a chain around the rear axle, and hauled me out the same way I got in. Then I looked over to the right, and was amazed to see a level stretch of pasture. In other words, the misguided road builder, who put that figure eight double curves in the road, could have taken a straight stretch across a level field. Then I came to the Otter lake hill—pardon me, mountain. When my jalopy hit the bottom I'll bet I was travelling 90 miles an hour. You can bet your bottom dollar I didn't come back that way. Why? For the simple reason that the car would never have climbed that hill. Anyone heading for Wilberforce, should drive to Bobcaygeon, then to Kinmount, then to Gooderham, then Tory Hill and on to Wilberforce. The road is good and the scenery pretty. This highway crosses the Burnt river three times. It should make a perfect Sunday drive and there is a summer resort right in Wilberforce where the meals are grand. Cec Wolff and Mr. Pitchford, a member of the Board of Education, are among the regular visitors to this section.

RADIUM LAKE is a queer spot. The lake is on the property owned by Fission Mines where there are deposits of uranium. I spotted a five pound lake trout in the shallows, then I picked a handful of mud from the bottom of the lake, and held the Geiger counter over it. The impulses ticked off so fast I couldn't count them. In other words, all the bottom of the lake is radio-active. Now what effect would that have on the trout? Could these fish be mixed with plutonium to form atom bombs? Sounds like a good idea: have a trout my friend, and get blown to kingdomcome. Wouldn't it be funny for a housewife to be frying a chunk of trout, which was all the time bombarding her with electrons. Of course the woman wouldn't know it. Lake trout fishing in Haliburton and Hastings county should be good now, because the trout are still in on the shallows. It is illegal to fish trout in Peterborough county, but the season is open in the other two counties.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

THAT BABY TWISTER that whipped across the Kawarthas on Tuesday night may have done much more damage than has been reported. For instance, Jack Lewis, Engleburn Ave., visited his cottage on Lovesick lake and discovered the gale had lifted the building off the cedar posts and deposited it on a large flat rock, eight feet away. Fortunately, Mr. Lewis had wind insurance so the company can worry about putting the cottage back on its original foundation. All cottage owners should visit their buildings this Sunday and check for damage. Also it would be wise to check and see if burglars have been active. There has been a tremendous amount of thievery during the past winter and it is still continuing. At Hart Lodge in Haliburton, 14 bedrooms were stripped and even the plumbing fixtures were taken. That was the second large resort to get such treatment, and it seem to me it shouldn't be too difficult to get a line on the trucks that were used to transport the stuff away.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

HARDWARE STORES across the Peterborough and Kawartha district would lose very little money if the merchants decided to scrap all the fishing spears and large treble gaff hooks. These can be purchased and the vendor knows the purchaser will use them to break the law. Spearing of muskies is going on and two were taken from Bowler's creek last Sunday. The two men responsible drove east of the old Norwood road, then south to the CPR track where they parked their car. Then they walked to the creek along the track and secured the muskies. It will surprise many to know that muskies will travel that far upstream to spawn. Trout fishermen are beating the gun too, in the streams in Monaghan. Along the Otonabee, poachers are active too, and it is reliably reported there is poaching going on in the Curve lake area. I used to think the world was filled with decent people, but my views are changing rapidly. There is some consolation in the fact that by next year the honest fishermen will be organized to combat this piracy. And when that happens no mercy will be shown.

PAGING RAY BERGMAN, and all the other outdoor editors and writers south of the border. A Peterborough organization needs help. This group of 30 men is known as the Peterborough Trout Stream Conservation committee. They plan to restore several local streams to their former abundance as speckled and brown trout fishing spots. Any pamphlets, books or information on stream restoration will be appreciated. The streams under consideration are not polluted but have a very low trout population, and are extensively netted for bait minnows. Campbell Rowatt is president and B. W. Switzer, a teacher at the Peterborough Collegiate, is an officer of this organization. Engineers who would like to lend their knowledge and experience are invited to contact either of these men. Any outdoor writer who can help is asked to write me, care of The Examiner. This is a worthwhile hobby that should make the trout fishing better for everyone.

DO YOU KNOW that after May 2, you can board a Trans-Canada plane at Malton airport, Toronto, and fly non-stop to Bermuda? Flying time is five hours and 15 minutes. That is something. No more passports, no more the agony of getting a U.S. visa in order to re-enter the U.S. on the way home from Bermuda if the flight is via New York. No more worry of plane or train connections or the tough job of getting a hotel room for one night in New York in order to make an early morning plane connection. The old way also used up some of the badly needed American dollars. Bermuda in spring or early summer is next door to heaven. Myriads of tropical flowers are in full bloom, the sky and sea a sparkling greeny blue, the starlit nights are like velvet and the peace and beauty are beyond description. PS.: How do you know? I don't, but it sounded so good in the travel book, that I figured some poor soul might have enough money to go there and thaw out. Anyway, the new plane schedule is news.)

In Their Family Life King George and Queen Elizabeth Set Standard of Mutual Service To British Commonwealth

LONDON, April 24. — Congratulatory messages from all over the world have been pouring into Buckingham Palace all week. Just twenty-five years will have elapsed on Monday next since the Duke of York married Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon at Westminster Abbey. The wedding of the King and Queen, as they now are, took place amid great rejoicings on April 26, 1923.

It was an outstanding and historic occasion in more ways than one, even among royal events. It marked, for instance, a new approach to royal marriages, the bride being a "commoner" and the match being no mere political union but a love-match in the fullest sense.

And now a quarter of a century of happy married life is behind Their Majesties. To them, as to any other devoted couple, the anniversary brings many memories.

Much has happened during those two and a half decades. Into them have been crowded, for the King and Queen, far more experiences than most people go through in a whole lifetime.

Setting up several homes; tours of the Empire; the births of the two Princesses; the unexpected promotion of Sovereignship; the tragedy of war; the recent wedding of their elder daughter — and, this week, the Silver Wedding celebrations.

To peoples everywhere, the home life of Their Majesties has been a model and an inspiration. Just before her marriage, the Queen confided to a friend: "Whether I live in a cottage or a palace, I am determined about one thing; I am going to make it a HOME."

That ideal has been observed in Their Majesty's private life no matter where they have resided —and they have had several homes. To provide a real homely atmosphere has been their aim throughout the twenty-five years.

After the honeymoon, spent partly at Polesden Lacy, a lovely Surrey home lent by the Hon. Mrs. Roland Greville, and partly at Glamis Castle, the Queen's girlhood home, the royal couple set up house at White Lodge, in Richmond Park.

In preparing this royal home, the Queen was able to exercise her gifts as a home-maker. She put comfort and homeliness before other considerations, and the household was planned for happiness and not for show. The house soon became known for the careful efficiency with which it was run, and everything was supervised by the Queen.

The same rules governed her subsequent homes. They were her guiding influence when she and the King lived at No. 17 Bruton Street, London, and they regulated No. 145 Piccadilly when that house became the residence of the royal pair. Another home which the Queen furnished and ran, when she was Duchess of York, was Chesterfield House.

Princess Elizabeth was born at Bruton Street, but the Piccadilly house was her real childhood home, and Their Majesties have specially happy memories of "145" and of week-ends spent at Royal Lodge, their retreat in Windsor Great Park.

They have spent more of the last 25 years at those two places than anywhere else. On the top floor of "145" a self-contained nursery suite was made for the two Princesses, and in this house the King (then Duke of York, but with many responsibilities and an increasing list of public engagements) could always be sure of finding a haven.

Royal Ladge, too, was the scene of many happy little family affairs, with riding in Windsor Great Park and romps with the Princesses and their pets as an antidote for the strain of public duties.

The King's fund of family anecdotes, which often enliven the royal family circle, centre largely round these two homes, the one in London's Mayfair and the other in the delightful neighborhood of Windsor Castle.

On the domestic side, the Queen has always taken a direct interest in the running of her homes, and she has not delegated the job entirely to others. It was not unusual, when she and the King returned to "145" at a late hour after an official engagement, for her to prepare supper in the kitchen.

Her sensible Scottish upbringing did not debar her from performing menial tasks, and she has never regarded them as beneath her dignity. She has an expert knowledge of cookery, and it has been passed on to Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret, both of whom have received lessons in the culinary art.

One thing may be emphasized at the time of the wedding anniversary. Both the King and Queen have led a full life, and it has been one of service for others. This has given greater color and increased happiness to their own home life.

The King has long taken a keen interest in social welfare work (remember his famous camp holiday scheme for boys, which he first promoted when he was Duke of York), and the Queen has given unstinted support to hospitals and children's homes.

Their Majesties have also been blessed with two daughters who have brought nothing but happiness to the royal home. Neither their royal rank nor the glare of world - wide publicity has "spoiled" the Princesses in the slightest. That fact alone is evidence of the success of the married life of the King and Queen.

Theirs has been twenty-five years of ideal partnership, a quarter of a century spent for each other and with service as their motto.

Next week's celebrations will necessarily reflect the austerity of the times, but the good wishes received at Buckingham Palace will lack nothing in sincerity for that reason.

Oldest Order of Chivalry Britain's Order of Garter

By HELEN CATHCART

An intimate of the Court for over 30 years Mrs. Helen Catheart is one of Britain's best-informed writers on royal affairs and writes this dispatch from her dual standpoint as a privileged Court historian.

ST. JAMES', London—Everyone has heard of the 'most noble' Order of the Garter. Most people can quote its ancient motto "Evil be to him who evil thinks" (Honi soit qui mal y pense). No order of chivalry in the world is older, more exclusive or more splendidly surrounded with ancient and jealously guarded ritual. When Princess Elizabeth was installed as a Lady of the Garter in St. George's Chapel, Windsor, the ceremony ranked second only to the Coronation in picturesque and medieval pageantry.

Moreover, this year marks the 600th anniversary of the foundation of the Order in 1348, and it was the first time that so young a girl has been installed. The Garter was the first order of knighthood, and indeed it is still the closes link we have with the romantic, chivalrous age when knighthood was in flower.

Under the traditions of its unbroken history no more than 25 people can join the Order, other than member of the Royal Family and foreign royalties. Today there are only twelve of these Knight Companions but 11 others were to be installed with Princess Elizabeth—itself a record.

The new entrants include the young Duke of Edinburgh, and Lord Louis Mountbatten is to head five wartime service chiefs—among them Viscount Alexander and Viscount Montgomery, the ever-popular Monty of El Alamein—besides four new peers. To ensure that no hitch occurs, King George has been studying a ceremonial of 1805, the year of Trafalgar, and precedent will be followed in every degree.

Quaintest of all, perhaps, is the moment when the King—in the magnificent dark blue mantle of the Garter, knee breeches, silk stockings and white shoes with red heels—personally fastens the Garter round the left leg of each of the newly-elected knights, lays the blue ribbon across the left shoulder and touches the entrant with the naked point of the sword.

Presently the knights, no less richly dressed, sit down to banquet with the King. This year rationing restrictions limited magnificence of the table but two chefs, four master cooks, two assistant cooks and two roast cooks were on hand in the mammoth castle kitchens—and some of these minions, it will be admitted, will be there more for ceremony's sake than for the cuisine!

It is fascinating, however, to trace the story of the Garter and analyze the motives that ensure its existence. Strangely enongh, no one knows why the Order of the Garter was founded or how it got its name.

The story goes that King Edward III was dancing at a Court bal when the Countess of Salisbury's bright biue garter slipped to the floor, amid titters. Picking it up, the king gallantly pinned it to his breast—until he caught an angry glance from the queen. "Evil be to him who evil thinks," he murmured, hurriedly returning the garter to its rightful owner.

More exactly, there is the tradition that when Edward decided to make war against France and found critics among his countrymen, the Order was made up of knights who favored the idea and stood 'like a garter' about a king.

Even Major Sir Algar Howard, Garter King of Arms and one of Britain's foremost experts on heraldy, could not tell me more than this. The fact remains that the initials "KG"—Knight of the Garter—after one's name forms one of the most eagerly sought after honors in the world. Ex-Crown Prince Wilhelm of Germany tried to hold aloof from World War I lest it should spoil his Garter membership only to learn with dismay that King George V had struck him off the roll. In the recent war a similar deprivation befell Hirohito of Japan and the late Victor Emanuel of Italy.

Other foreign royalities and men of eminence have striven in vain to be admitted. Carol of Rumania gained admittance only in 1938 and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands joined Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth among the Ladies of the Garter as recently as 1944. King Gustav of Sweden, on the other hand, was made a Knight Commander 43 years ago. In St. George's Hall at Windsor bluff King Edward VII delivered the exhortation concerning the Spirit of the Order, and King Gustav once told me how impressed he was by the serious way in which his brother monarch talked of knightly ideals.

At one time, the Garter was a privilege reserved only for royalty and noble birth. "There's no merit about it!" a British premier once deplored. The rich Dukes of Norfolk have had no fewer than 24 Garters in their family, and the horse-loving Earl of Derby could recall that his family had owned 14. The Dukes of Northumberland have had 15 Garters, but it may be only a melancholy coincidence that the last of the line—who has shut up his castle and seen the decline of family fortunes—is not represented among the Knights Companions.

In former days, too, the Knights wore their lustrous blue ribbons across their chests even with day clothes in the street. The last man to do this, the Duke of Cambridge, is still remembered by many older folk.

And perhaps, after all, the Order of the Garter is something more than an outshone honor, an antiquated flashback to the knights of Christendom. It is a truly moving moment when the King kneels on a purple cushion on a gold carpet before the altar, when he summons each knight in turn to kneel before the altar and affirm his vows.

Longden Sets Turf Mark With 3000 Winners Now Hes' Aiming For New Record Of 4000

SAN MATEO, Calif., April 24—(AP)—Johnny Longden, the only jockey to ride 3,000 winners on North American tracks, is "aiming for 4,000 now."

Longden wrote his name in turf history aboard Bub in the fourth race at Bay Meadows yesterday, hit 3,001 with Sunfair in the sixth and is up on Mafosta, the favorite, in today's $10,000 added San Mateo handicap.

The 38-year-old veteran, a native of England and a former resident of Taber, Alta., has been riding professionally for 21 years.

He is not the first rider to win 3,000. That honor went some time ago to Gordon Richards of England, who scored his 3,508th Thursday.

Overtaking Richards, who has been riding since 1921, is "a big order to fill but I am going to make a good try," said the tiny veteran. "I'm aiming for 4,000 now."

Longden brought in Bub yesterday by two lengths after failing on favorites in two earlier races. His "Number 3,000" was second choice in the betting."

RE-MATCHED—Earl McCready's demands for a rematch and new referee were met by Manager Jim Laidlaw and he will wrestle The Masked Marvel (shown above) at the Brock Arena next Wednesday. Two other bouts will be arranged over the week-end.

Negro Pitcher Leads Royals To 7-1 Triumph

By The Canadian Press

Montreal Royals, who sent Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella to the major league, have another bright negro prospect in pitcher Don Newcombe.

Newcombe, a husky right-hander, made his Internatonal League debut yesterday and pitched the Royals to a 7-1 victory over Newark Bears.

The 23-year-old pitcher allowed eight hits, but was in trouble only in the fourth inning when he was touched for two doubles and a pair of singles for one run.

Royals supported Newcombe's pitching with a 12hit attack against Don Johnson and Fred Wolff who allowed all five runs. Walt Sessi banged two homers to lead the barrage.

A pair of homers by Jodie Beeler enabled Syracuse Chiefs to edge Rochester Red Wings 3-2. Beeler poled his first homer in the second and cracked his second with one on in the fifth.

Bud Bebber went the route for the Chiefs and Glen Gardner for Rochester. Both hurlers yielded six hits.

Two home runs by rookie Johnny Groth high-lighted Buffalo Bisons' 14-4 victory over the Oricles in a night game at Baltimore.

Groth smacked his first four-bagger off his namesake, Ernie Groth, in the second with one on. He added another in the ninth with two aboard. Chet Laabs also his blow coming with the bases his blow coming with the bases loaded off reliefer George Hooks.

City Carpetball

Once again the Coco Mats can be put away in moth balls awaiting another fall season to come around. Some good games were witnessed in the closing throes of the standings with the Fighting Parsons coming through with a firm grip on the Hope Trophy, emblematic of league leadership. From all reports the season has proved one of good fellowship and it is said that All Saints will be coming in as a group next year on their own.

Looking back to the fall of 1929 we recall that it was at All Saints that the league was born and the Hope Trophy was presented by Mr. Albert Hope, a member of that church and a keen player. Many of the former members have passed on but there are still many of the charter members with us.

Winners of the Hope Trophy: SOE No. 2, G. Palmer, A. Price, R. Hocking, F. Leether, F. Parsons, skip.

Bleasdell Shield: Big Bens No 10, H. Nokes, A. Bromley, J. Wilson, A. Nokes, J. Cridland, skip.

President's Cup: Big Bens No. 10, as above.

Runners up: St. George's No. 1, G. Garside, A. Knott, R. Whitehead, A. Rusaw, A. Sims, skip.

Bill Gracie Memorial Trophy—doubles: A. Sims and J. Wilson.

Runners up: F. Bell and A. Bromley (F. Bell took the place of A. Nokes, forced out through ill health).

Final Standings

Team	W	L	T	D	Pts.

The question of the Elsie Bennett Trophy will be made known when all scores have been rechecked and also division of the prize monies made.

A general meeting will be called in the near future to decide how division of monies will be made and date of the opening meeting for the fall. Notice will be made through the mail and in this paper.

Any team not having completed payment of their dues should do so at once in order that the secretary can present a true statement at the meeting.

Holders of cups are requested to leave same at the Legion Hall at once in order that names of winners can be inscribed on same.

Noted with interest an insurance item listing "extra hazardous occupations" like this: Divers, fireworks manufacturers, active service soldiers, gunpowder workers as well as those working with high explosives, aeronauts, professional rope walkers or pro riders and drivers in races, car inspectors who must go under railway cars, electric light linemen, grinders of edged tools, oyster dredgers, furnace and pit men in steel and iron mills, raftsmen, shovellers in elevators, blasters, miners and other underground workers as well as those using explosives or assisting those using them in quarrying or surface mining. There may be others, too—and this is the "extra" and not just the "hazardous occupations" list—but they'll give you an idea.

* * * * * *

No sports are mentioned, we noticed, except that of professional racing. Don't they regard hockey, lacrosse or football as extra hazardous? Seems to us there have been too many deaths in the boxing ring in the past year. Other forms of athletics are rather rugged, also, but the insurance gentry regard them calmly. But surely refereeing and umpiring should be termed an extra hazardous occupation! Ask the guys who do it. Perhaps few of them are killed literally for their errors by enraged fans, but mentally they must die a thousand deaths a season. Yes, referees should be on that list.

Plus the other talented members of the YWCA Ornamental Swimming Club—who will show their Egyptian Medley number this summer at a senior meet in Des Moines. Along with our two junior champions who are presently in demand in Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Detroit.

Local lawn bowlers are getting set for another big season. It is surprising the number of younger girls and fellows going in for this enjoyable outdoor game. Where good fellowship prevails—unless, of course, your bias is too unbiased or you chuck one through the fence! It is claimed that a good lawn bowler soon becomes a good curler, and vice versa. Quite a few folks curl in the winter and bowl on the greens comes warmer weather. Sports historians say that lawn bowling existed in Scotland long before curling came into existence there and was, in fact, the national summer sport.

* * * * * *

Sort Of Look-Alikes

There is some similarity, too, between the games. In curling, they slide a stone along the ice toward a "jack" and the game gets its name from the twist or curl expert put on the stone. Lawn bowlers roll a biased ball at the right time. A "jack" is also used in lawn bowling. But don't pay too much attention to us—we're no expert by a mile and a half on this game. All we started out to say in our roundabout manner (it's 'round about quittin' time now) is that the local lawn bowlers have schedules set and are just waiting word to go again at their favorite summer sport.

56,000 Players Enrolled In CAHA Ranks

TORONTO, April 23.—(CP).—Officials of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association remianed concealed behind a cloak of secrecy today as the National Hockey League's proposed team-player contract plan was due for a hearing before more than 100 delegates attending the three-day annual meeting of the CAHA.

President Al Pickard of Regina, reluctant to talk about the much-publicized plan whereby the CAHA would become a professional body, said "the matter would be discussed by the delegates today."

Last night President Clarence Campbell of the NHL met officials of the Association in a conference behind closed doors. It was learned he urged the CAHA to accept the professional plan "for the good of hockey."

Campbell's plan would give $5,000 to amateur clubs for each amateur player signed by major league clubs. The money, payable by the NHL to senior teams binding players to a contract, would be in addition to $3,500 assured by the American League.

The NHL annual grant of $31,000 to the CAHA would automatically be eliminated if the new plan is adopted.

Given Scrolls

During a banquet last night William Northey of Montreal, W. A. Hewitt, Toronto and Claude Robinson, Vancouver, were presented with scrolls by Captain Jim Sutherland of Kingston, signifying their acceptance into hockey's hall of fame.

George Dudley, secretary-manager of the CAHA reported that more than 56,000 players had enrolled with the Association in Canada, an increase of 7,500 over the previous year. He also said the Association showed a bank balance of $137,571.

A stormy session between British Columbia and Quebec delegates arose yesterday when the Quebec group sponsored a proposal that junior hockey teams be prohibited from transferring players from one provincial branch to another.

Quebec Captures Hockey Title

ST. JOSEPH D'ALMA, Que., April 24.—(CP).—Dolbeau Castors brought the Eastern Canada Intermediate A hockey title to Quebec province for the first time last night when they shaded the Ontario champion Georgetown Raiders 4-2 for their third straight victory in the best-of-five series.

Back on their home stamping grounds after winning 4-3 and 3-2 in the initial two games of the series in Oshawa, the fast-stepping Castors clinched last night's game with a pair of goals late in the final frame after the teams went into the last period deadlocked 2-2.

Lupien paced the Dolbeaus with two goals. The other goals for the winners were scored by Bernatchez and Hebert.

Wood Memorial Just Formality

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP).—Looks as if the Wood Memorial would be run at Jamaica today merely to decide which horse might run third in the Kentucky Derby—and, of course, for a little matter of 40,000 bucks.... Now that Coaltown has proved he can run a distance there doesn't seem to be any way of stopping the Calumet entry.... At Hialeah last winter, handicapper John Campbell refused to pass judgment on Coaltown until "some horse comes up beside him and looks him in the eye"—which is a horseman's way of saying a horse has met a real challenge —but how can they look him in the eye if they can't get near enough?

Phils Whip Dodgers 10-2 As Giants Nip Braves 3-1

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Dick Sisler-Ralph Lapointe trade is shaping up as a good deal for both sides. Sisler's hitting is helping the Philadelphia Phillies and Lapointe is plugging a gap in the St. Louis Cardinals infield.

Both teams are tied for first place in the National League.

Sisler, hitting at .333 clip, socked two homers and drove in four runs as the Phils trounced the Brooklyn Dodgers 10-2 yesterday.

Lapointe doubled home the Cards' only run in their 1-0 triumph over the Cubs in Chicago. Until Lapointe came through in the ninth, the Cards managed only one hit off southpaw Johnny Schmitz, an infield single by Nippy Jones in the fifth.

Harry Brecheen stopped the Cubs on nine safeties before an opening day crowd of 26,591 fans.

Giants Edge Braves

At Boston, New York Giants spoiled opening day festivities for the Braves as Ray Poat pitched the Giants to a five-hit 3-1 triumph. Willard Marshall, with two singles and a double, drove in tow runs to provide the Giants with their margain of victory.

Cincinnati Reds defeated Pittsburg Pirates 5-3 to pull to within a half game of the deadlocked Cards and Phils. Frankie Baumholtz's seventh-inning single scored Virgil Stallcup with what proved to be the deciding run. Ewell Blockwell pitched the first seven innings and received credit for his second victory of the season.

Meanwhile, Cleveland Indians took over sole possession of first place in the American League.

The Indians, making their second start of the season, crushed the Tigers 8-2 before 45,233 opening day fans in Detroit. The Indians are the only undefeated team in either circuit.

Ken Keltner batted in four runs and hit two homers to lead the Indians' offensive. Larry Doby and winning pitcher Bob Lemon also banged homers.

The loss dropped the Tigers into a three-way tie with Philadelphia Athletics and Washington Senators for second place. The Senators beat the A's 5-3 in 10 innings in the first American League game of the season in Philadelphia.

Singles by Mickey Mickey Vernon, Mark Christman, and double by Jake early figured in Washington's winning rally.

In another opening day game, the Boston Red Sox shut out the Yankees, 4-0, before 44,619 fans at New York.

While Ted Williams paced the victors' attack with a homer and two singles, Lefty Mickey Harris held the Yanks to five hits. It was Boston's first triumph of the season in four starts.

Tigers To Ice Crippled Team

TORONTO, April 24.—(CP).—Hamilton's tired Tigers will have to rely on the wizardy of goalie Art Childs more than ever this afternoon when they tangle with rugged Ottawa Senators in the extra sixth game of he Easern Canada senior hockey final.

Tigers will ice a crippled team for the extra game which was caused by both teams garnering two victories and a tie for a five-point deadlock in the scheduled best-of-five game series.

Swat Mason, spunky winger, probably will not see action against Senators. He suffered a severe charley horse in last Thursday's game at Ottawa and has the club doctor treating him since.

Veteran centre Bert Peer also will be on the sidelines. He was injured at Toronto last Tuesday and had 14 stitches taken in mouth and facial gashes. Later it was dicovered Peer's cheek-bone was fractured and X-rays also revealed damage to bone structure higher up.

Along with these more serious injuries, Bill Dinning and Johnny Conick are nursing dinky knees, Tommy Tindal still is jittery from a charley horse and Polly Miocinovich is finding skating hard with an injured ankle.

Senators are reported in fair shape with no players injured badly enough to miss the game. Big Butch Stahan is nursing a fractured to received in the first game of the series at Toronto, but likely will play with the toe frozen.

Bergner Shines Despite Involved Play

By PAT USSHER.

NEW YORK, April 24 (CP).—That fine actress Elizabeth Bergner gives fresh proof of her artistry in "The Cup of Trembling," a rather involved play in eight scenes designed to show that alcoholism can be cured.

Under the shrewd treatment of a psychoanalyst, convincingly played by Martin Wolfson, she finally reveals that her addiction to drink can be traced back to the attitude of her father. A domineering man, he resented having a daughter instead of a son and once manhandled her in a way she never forgot.

The play itself is a disappointment and its ending can only be termed corny.

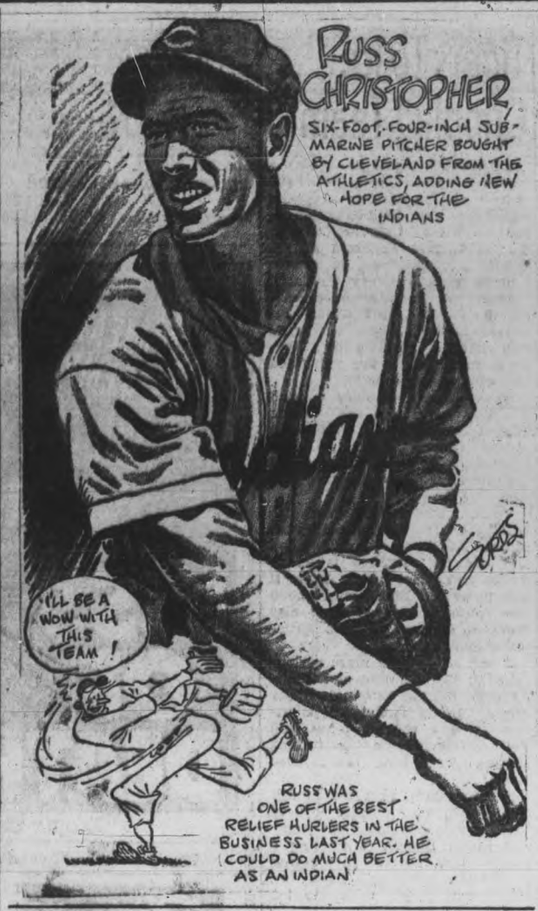
Miss Bergner is a brilliant actress and she does a fine job in the role of a frustrated, unhappy and thoroughly bewildered woman.

Miss Bergner's husband, Paul Czinner, staged the play by Louis Paul, which opened this week at the Music Box.

Boring Eden

The Garden of Eden must have been a dull spot before the Fall, judging by "To Tell You the Truth," a comedy by Eva Wolas presented by New Stages, Inc., at its Greenwich Village Theatre.

There are flashes of humor in this study of Adam and Eve. The latter has hardly arrived before she is rearranging the furniture and generally making a home out of Adam's quarters. Jean Gillespie makes a pert but most attractive Eve; Anthony Randall is genuinely masculine as Adam; Judy Somerside is a sinuous temptress as Zillah, the Snake; and Raymond Edward Johnson makes the Angel Michael quite human.



But "to tell you the truth" it is a disappointment after this company's stirring production of "The Respectful Prostitute."

Curtain Calls

Judith Evelyn, who served her theatrical apprenticeship in Winnipeg, will probably be seen this fall on Broadway in "On Approval," a comedy by Frederick Lonsdale.

VANCOUVER WINS

Sharp-shooting Vancouver Clover Leafs last night slammed a blistering 103-65 defeat on Regina Legion at Regina in the first game of the western senior basketball semi-finals. Vancouver carries a 38-point lead into the second game of the total-point series tonight.

Movie Brides Have Gorgeous Church Nuptials

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, April 24 (AP).—"This Lana Turner-Bob Topping wedding," said the Old-timer, "will have to go some to beat the hitchings this town has seen."

I pumped him for more details.

"Well," he began, "the grandaddy of them all was the blow-out Sam Goldwyn tossed for his romantic stars, Vilma Banky and Rod Laroque. That set the pattern for the big Hollywood weddings. The reception had a tremendous display of food, including rows of turkeys.

"I remember one star insisted on a slice from a certain fowl, but the chef said it was a tough old bird. When the star insisted, the chef admitted the turkey was cardboard studio prop.

900 for Danna

"Jeanette Macdonald and Gene Raymond had a big one, too. Jeanette spent $300 on ropes to hold back the crowds in front of the Wilshire Methodist Church. Deanna Durbin and Shirley Temple also were married there. Deanna had 90 guests, including most of the big names in Hollywood. When she put her gifts on display, it looked like the main floor of a department store.

"Shirley's wedding drew a bigger crowd than most premieres. There were about 5,000 people crowded along Wilshire Boulevard and Shirley was nearly mobbed.

Cagey Types

"Carole Lombard and Clark Gable were cagey. They waited until the town's film writers left for the premiere of 'Alexander Graham Bell' in San Francisco, and then eloped to Kingman, Ariz.

"There were other big ones — but my favorite wedding involved a famous actor. Standing outside the Sunset Boulevard church was one of his former wives and their daughter, dressed in tatters. The ex-wife, who had a wry sense of humor, waited until the star emerged with his bride, then dispatched the little girl who dashed up to the bridegroom and screamed:

"'Daddy, I'm hungry.'"

32 Canadians Stay With SIHA

DUNFERMLINE, Scotland, Apr. 24 — (CP). — Thirty-two of the 100 Canadian players in the Scottish Ice Hockey Association have decided to stay in Scotland after the season closes, a survey showed today. The others will rturn to th Dominion about mid-May by ship or plane.

Most of those remaining are expected to find summer jobs. They have received their return fare in cash in lieu of passage to Canada. Remaining in Scotland are the following players:

Ayr Raiders: Al Senior, Toronto.

Dundee Tigers: Johnny Rozzini, Verdun, Que.; Archie Williams, Timmins; John Kennedy, Antigonish, N.S.; George Kovac, Winnipeg.

Dunfermline Vikings: Jim Brown, Kingston; Bill Melville, Toronto; Art Sullivan, Toronto; Bob Hannigan, Schumacher; Wilf Gorman, Toronto.

Falkirk Lions: Harold Finch, Winnipeg; Joe Mitchell, South Porcupine; Rene Platt, Toronto; Alex Shillinglaw, Campbellford; Hilton Fraser, Timmins.

Fife Flyers: Bob Londry, Harold Scrutton, Floyd Snider, all of Kingston; Ross Hochberg, Uxbridge.

Perth Panthers: George Leonard, Toronto; Russell Murphy, Toronto.

Paisley Pirates: Leo Carrey, Sudbury; Danny Hewley, Toronto; Paul Terriault, Sudbury; Louis Vannier, Sudbury.

Glasgow Bruins: Andree Girard, Montmorency, Que.; Wally Goodwin, Toronto; Ron Lintner, Whitby; Chic Mann, London, Ont.; Jim Mackenzie, Woodstock; Leo Donovan, New Glasgow, N.S.; Jake Jackson.

Buried Under Wall

HAMILTON, April 24. (CP)—Fellow workmen yesterday rescued James McAroy, 22, after the collapse of a wall buried him under a heavy steel beam and tons of stone and brick. His condition last night was described as fair.

OPPONENT DIES — Jackie Darthard, 18, Negro boxer from Kansas City, Mo., died in Milwaukee, Wis., after collapsing during a boxing match. He was unable to answer the bell for the seventh round after taking a severe beating in the third and sixth rounds of his bout with Bert Lytell. A brain operation failed to save his life and he died without regaining consciousness. His opponent, Bert Lytell, of Fresno, Calif (above), waited in the hospital corridor at Milwaukee as Darthard underwent the crucial brain operation.

Missing Tennis Team Playing In Italy

PALERMO, Sicily, April 24 — (AP). — Members of the Czechoslovakian Davis Cup tennis team, reported missing for 10 days, said to-day they were returning to Prague within 10 days in time for cup competition there. The players, Jaroslav Drobny, Vladimir Cernik, Milan Natous, accompanied by Helena Straubeova, outstanding Czech woman player, were reached by an Associated Press correspondent in Mondello, near here.

The four said they had sent a telegram to the Czech Tennis Federation announcing their intention to return to Prague. Previously the report they were missing had caused rumors to circulate that they would not return. The four began play to-day in an Italian taournament here.

Named Vice-President

TORONTO, April 24—(CP)—W. F. Morrissey of Toronto has been unanimously re-elected vice-president of the Canadian division of the Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Association. His re-election was confirmed at a meeting of the association executive last night. He has headed the Canadian division since its formation a little more than a year ago.

DISHARMONY IN GIANTS' RANKS — A "suspense-filled moment" as Mel Ott, manager of the New York Giants (left) and his shortstop, Buddy Kerr, had a difference of opinion at the season's opening in New York recently. Kerr was listed as a probable starter in the opener against the Brooklyn Dodgers. He said he was unfit to play because of head pains—the result of being hit by a thrown ball in the exhibition game against the Cleveland Indians recently. Kerr again declined to enter the line-up for the Giants' second game, although he was pronounced physically fit. Ott suspended him indefinitely.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Thirty-four-year-old Nick Metz of the Stanley Cup-winning Toronto Maple Leafs stepped to the sidelines yesterday and announced his playing days in the National Hockey League are over. The red-headed Wilcox, Sask., wheat farmer told Leaf Manager Conny Smythe that he was bowing out of the picture along with Syl Apps, who announced his retirement several weeks ago.

"It is a great blow to loose two such great players as Apps and Metz at the same time," said Smythe. "Both players did a marvelous job during the years they played for the Leafs. They gave everything they had and I can but wish them very best of luck in the future."

Metz has spent 12 seasons in the major league. He turned pro in 1934 with Syracuse of the old International League and was brought up to the Leafs in the playoffs. He has been with the club ever since, with the exception of two years in the army.

Jockey Johnny Longden, who yesterday set a North American race record by riding his 3,000th winner, will be aboard the Winnipeg colt Lord Fairmond in the King's Plate at Toronto, it was confirmed by the Ontario Jockey Club last night. The 89th running of the plate, oldest continuously-run race on the continent, will be held at old Woodbine Park May 24, carrying the King's 50 guineas and $10,000 added for the classic test over the mile and one eighth distance. The race is for Canadian - bred three-year-olds and is worth altogether about $16,000.

Sir Malcolm Campbell, famed British speedboat racer, is ready to go to Kelowna, B.C., it was learned last night. He has informed a Kelowna friend, W. T. Buss, that he is prepared to go as soon as his Bluebird II's jet engine goes through preliminary tests. It is planned to have Sir Malcolm try for a world speedboat record on Okanagan Lake this summer.

Sammy Aaronson, co-manager of Bert Lytell, the fighter whose blows resulted in the death of young Jackie Darthard, said at Milwaukee yesterday he is turning in his manager's licence. Aaronson claims to have the biggest stable of fighters in the business—more than 300 boxers. "The reason I am doing this is that I am almost sure if the fight between Jackie Darthard and Bert Lytell was fought in the amateur ranks, Darthard would be alive today."

Cleveland's sensational Bob Feller lost his first professional major baseball league game 10 years ago today. The 18-year-old Iowa farm boy struck out 11 men and allowed four runs in the six innings he worked before being taken out of the game for a pulled muscle. St. Louis Browns won the game 4-3.

Memorial Cup Final Series Under Way

TORONTO, April 24.—(CP).—The Memorial Cup final series—classic of Canadian junior hockey—moves into the spotlight tonight when the first game of the best-of-five series is played here.

The long trail to the finish, spotted with countless games and teams throughout Canada, is over. And Barrie Flyeers are junior kings of the east while Port Arthur West End Bruins are monarchs of the west.

The two clubs tangle tonight before a sell-out crowd of more than 14,000 fans in the first game of the final set for the Memorial Cup, emblematic of Canadian junior hockey supremacy. The winner of the series is anybody's guess, although Barrie occupies the favorite position.

THIRTY-FIVE SEAMEN TRAPPED—Thirty-five members of the Canadian Seamen's Union are in Welland jail as a result of a canal lockman pulling a flood lever and trapping them aboard the CSL steamship Glenelg after a fight in the locks. The seamen had boarded the vessel as it entered lock 5 and cowed the captain SLCU crew with clubs and stones. This photo shows men bearing clubs aboard the coal carrier Glenelg at Thorold. Police have charged them with trespass.

Adjudicator Praises Theatre Work

OTTAWA, April 24.—(CP). — Amateurs competing in the Dominion Drama Festival next week may count on an understanding adjudicator. Robert Speaight, the British actor and writer who will judge their performances, began his stage career in a similar way.

"All my training was as an amateur," said the dark, easy-spoken actor-producer, who has played Hamlet in London's Old Vic, and produced plays across Europe.

Speaking at a press conference shortly after his arrival from London, England, Mr. Speaight prophesied great things for Canada's Little Theatre movement.

In his opinion it was a natural outlet for the works of Canadian playwrights.

Mr. Speaight advised amateur groups to pick plays "that hold you up . . . and don't let you down. . . ."

Plays with good lines were to be chosen in preference to those which depended on slick acting to get them across.

Choosing Well

A brief glance over the DDF program had convinced him that Canada's Little Theatre groups were choosing their plays carefully.

He especially mentioned George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan," to be presented by London Little Theatre, as a "very good choice indeed."

Sydney Howard's "The Silver Cord," which the Vancouver Little Theatre Association will produce Tuesday, also was termed a good choice.

"Antigone," to be presented by Les Compagnons of Montreal, and "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," by the Montreal Repertory Theatre, also came in for mention.

Several of the plays, entered by th 14 contesting groups, are new to Mr. Speaight, but he said he plans on making himself familiar with all of them before the festival begins.

When questioned about groups trying Shakespeare, the adjudicator said he felt hard-working amateurs could put on as good a production as any professional company.

GUEST OF HONOR AT ANNUAL RECEPTION — Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, on the day he set a British Commonwealth record for length of service of a Prime Minister, is shown in this picture with the wives of the Ministers of his cabinet. The occasion was the annual reception of the Cabinet Ministers' wives, which took place in the House of Commons recently. Front row, left to right, Mrs. J. J. Jean, wife of the Solicitor General; Mrs. J. L. Ilsley, wife of the Minister of Justice; the Prime Minister; and Mrs. Brooke Claxton, wife of the Minister of National Defence. Back row, left to right, Mrs. Milton Gregg, wife of the Minister of Veterans Affairs; Mrs. W. McL. Robertson, wife of the Government Leader in the Senate; Mrs. Lionel Chevrier, wife of the Minister of Transport; Mrs. Douglas C. Abbott, wife of the Minister of Finance; Mrs. Humphrey Mitchell, wife of the Minister of Labor; Mrs. Louis S. Actors Have Plenty Of Chances At Dominion Drama Festival

OTTAWA, April 24—(CP).—It's an elementary rule of the theatre that team work has more to do with the success of a play than a star performer, but there will be plenty of room for individual competition when the curtain goes up on the Dominion Drama Festival Monday night. The chief prize at stake is the Bessborough Trophy, which goes to the best presentation of the Festival. But when Adjudicator Robert Speaight announces the winners a week from tonight, he'll also make the awards to the best actor and actress in the 14 competing casts.

That choice is strictly up to Mr. Speaight but there will be a group of competitors who may be considered to have the inside track. They are the performers who won similar awards in regional festivals.

Some of the regional winners were left behind when their plays failed to qualify. But nine men and seven women who appear on the Ottawa Drama League's Little Theatre stage carried off top acting honors in their district.

Quebec Contenders.

The name of two of these won't even appear on the Festival program. They are members of Les Compagnons of Montreal, the group that won the Bessborough Trophy at London, Ont., last year. Despite their policy of keeping the names of their cast anonymous, Les Compagnons won both male and female acting honors in the Quebec Festival's French-speaking section.

Two more Quebec contenders are George Alexander and Eleanor Stuart of the Montreal Repertory Theatre, who portray Edward Moulton Barrett and his daughter, Elizabeth, in Rudolf Bessier's "The Barretts of Wimpole Street.

Three top candidates will represent Ottawa. They are Bernard McManus, Papa in Patterson Green's "Papa Is All" for the Ottawa Drama League; Guy Beaulne, director of Le Caveau, who plays the male lead in "Le Legataire Universel," and Therese May, the housekeeper in Pierre Chain's "L'Heure H," the presentation of the newly-formed Comedie Neuvelle.

The veteran radio actor Alex McKee will portray the father in the University of Toronto Alumnae's production of Ruth Gordon's comedy "Years Ago."

Also In Running

The rewarding part of The Maid of Orleans in George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan" may bring the best-actress award to Alga Landiak of the London Little Theatre. John Sullivan plays the Bishop of Beauvais in the some production.

Manitoba's best in the regional competition were Armand Lafleche, Alcide in "La Donation" as presented by the Cercle Moliere of St. Boniface, and Florence Shaen, who plays Ruby in the University of Manitoba Dramatic Society's performance of "John Doe" by Bernard Dryer.

Edith Marchant, the slatternly Annie in Eugene O'Neill's "The Rope," is the Saskatoon Little Theatre's best bet for acting honors, while Floyd Caza rates a good chance as the neurotic David in the Vancouver Little Theatre's presentation of Sydney Howard's "The Silver Cord."

Split Awards

The two Alberta entries split the awards for their region as Jack Phillips took the male prize as the draper in "Maistre Pierre Patelin" for the Calgary Workshop. Best actress was Milwyn Davies in the title role of Laurence Houseman's "Victoria Regina," performed by the Edmonton Community Theatre.

The lone entry from the Maritimes is the Theatre Guild of Saint John, N.B., and each member of the cast of its entry "Boccaccio's Untold Tale," has a background of stage experience.

Stanley H. Daley, who portrays the Florentine poet, Florio, won the award for the best male performance in the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island Regional Drama Festival.

Gold Black Market

NEW YORK, April 24 (AP).—Secret service agents yesterday arrested Achile Parrilla, 74, who they said illegally bought more than $1,000,000 worth of gold for resale in the black market of Europe. The agents said Parrella intended selling the gold for $70 an ounce in Europe. He bought it for $35.15 an ounce.

41 Killed In Blast

LIMA, Peru, April 24 (AP).—The death toll in Monday's copper mine explosion at Catapalca was officially listed to-day at 41. Officials said the 41 miners still in the mine could no survive the aftermath of the explosion — deadly gas and flooded levels. Sixty-two miners were rescued

Plan College Expansion

TORONTO, April 24.—(CP).—The University of Toronto, with current enrolment more than 17,000, is planning a building expansion drive. It will launch a building fund campaaign May 1 to provide new library space, undergraduate housing, a place for the 1,700 non-residence women to meet with faculty women who now have no common gathering spot and an arts centre to bring humanities studies under a single roof.

Care For Cripples

TORONTO, April 24.—(CP).—Ontario's 16,000 crippled children are receiving increased care, Gretta M. Ross, director of nurses, Ontario Society for Crippled Children, said yesterday. She spoke during a panel discussion at the annual meeting of the registered nurses of Ontario.

SOME 16 TEETH — An unusual youngster is David Patrick Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Davidson of Regina, Sask., who at 15 months of age can show 16 teeth. He was eight weeks old when he began cutting his first teeth and it was a month ago the last of the 16 were added. It's been two or three months since Pat stopped eating baby food—now he concentrates on fruit, vegetables, potatoes and maybe a little bacon.

Special Colors For Classrooms

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — The direction from which a classroom receives its natural light should be a prime factor in selecting the color it should be painted, the Southeastern School Lighting Institute here was told.

Russell Shephard, Cleveland, Ohio, made the following recommendations:

For southern exposures, where there is plenty of warm, yellow sunshine—the "cool color" blue.

For western exposures—green to compete with the red afternoon sun.

For northern exposure — Tan shades to offset the blue of the north sky.

For eastern exposures—Gray.

Planted Vegetable Garden At Stony Lake On March 18

By MRS. JOSEPH HAMILTON

Every year I have the earliest garden in Peterborough County, even though we do live overlooking Stony Lake, where the ice is always solid in the lake and the deep snow banks are to be seen along the fences, when I plant it.

This year, I planted my garden from vegetable seeds saved from 1947 stock, on March 18. This was the first day I could work the soil after the snow disappeared. On that date I planted broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, cabbage, beets, carrots, spinach, endice, Swiss chard, lettuce, chives, kohl rabbi, radishes, parsley, peas, tomatoes and old onions for early growth. A good patch of early potatoes was also planted. On March 25 I bought the first onion sets I could find and on that date set them out, and a few more seeds of the kind which had been put in March 18. On April 12 most of these were up.

Many may say that is too early, the frost or snow will kill the plants, or the seeds will rot in the wet, cold ground. From my experience of other years, this is not too early for any kind that I have mentioned, and the seeds will not rot in the cold wet ground.

One year, I put out my garden the first day that I could get the earth so it did not stick to my boots, that was March 5, which was the earliest garden that I have ever put in, and on May 24 we had been using eight kinds of vegetables for a few days, some for nearly two weeks, and by the first of July the potatoes were ready for use and the peas could be canned. Other early dates when I put an early garden in were March 16, 21, 27 and April 5. Any later date is what I would call late for me to put in vegetable seeds. The date depends wholly upon the departing snow and the dryness of the soil.

From experience, I know that any seed mentioned will not mature too early for the weather. I have had as much as two inches of snow, frequent frosts and yet the plants grew without being harmed and killed. As for tomato seeds, many times, seeds left in the ground all winter have come up and lived through all the cold weather but seeds put in on any of the mentioned dates seemed to advance with the types of weather.

Many may say soil is too wet at an early date. The kind of soil must be known by analysis, which may be secured at experimental stations

Many vegetables are much sweeter and more brittle when grown during the cooler and damper weather and for such as onions and peas, they are much superior in quality when grown at the earliest time possible. Plantings at various dates will bring on a supply of fresh vegetables throughout the seasonal months. Even supply stores are entirely too slow in having seeds on display and for sale.

When so many people in the various countries are starving for the need of food, every person having even the smallest space for vegetables should make an effort to get out vegetables at the earliest date leaving the canned and otherwise prepared foods to be available for the millions who are not as fortunate as we are. In peace or war, food is that which prolongs and sustains the life of all people and during such a time of great need of food for other lands, I hope that this article may be studied and my methods tried, so that others besides ourselves will put in early gardens and thus reap the benefit of raising their own vegetables.

The Return From Exile

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Ezra 1-6; Haggai

By Alfred J. Buescher

After Persia had conquered Babylon, Cyrus came to the Persian throne, and by royal decree gave his permission that the children of Israel might return to their homeland.

Nebuchadnezzar had destroyed the temple at Jerusalem and taken away the precious vessels. Cyrus through his treasurer, Midredath, gave them back to the Jewish priests.

On their return to Jerusalem the Jews started to rebuild the temple, but some persons who did not like the Jews' return argued with them and stopped the building.

For two years building ceased, then Haggai encouraged Zerubbabel, heir of Jehoiachin to begin again and the temple was finished with joy

MEMORY VERSE—Haggai 2:4

As Man Grows In Stature Mental Image of God Changes

Jesus Christ is the image of the invisible God. Col 1: 15

Are you shocked by this word "image"? Perhaps you are thinking of the worlds you learnt as a child—"thou shalt not make to thyself any graven image". Yet when you met the son of your boyhood friend you exclaimed: "You are the very image of your father."

One day you met a girl. You fell in love with her. Why? She satisfied the mental image of the girl you hoped to marry. You saw in human form the image of your mind. Your soul went out to her.

"In the beginning God created man in His own image; in the image of God created He him". In the mind of God there was the portrait of the perfect man. Thousands of years pass by. "A thousand years in Thy sight are but as yesterday." Then in the fulness of time the Spirit of God breathed upon the Virgin Mary and the power of the Holy Ghost overshadowed her and that Holy Thing which was born of her is not only the Son of man but the Son of God—the perfect image of the Father.

In the beginning of the Master's ministry He called 12 men that they might be with Him and that they might discover His secret. Those who had the eyes to see were attracted to Him. They saw in Him the beauty, the loveliness, the holiness and the other virtues of God. St. John, looking back upon that exeprience wrote: "We beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father full of grace and truth".

Why did the prophets of Israel hate idolatry? Primarily because the idol never changes. It is always the same. Today multitudes have a mental image of God carved into their hearts and minds by their parents or spiritual teachers. Perhaps you are in middle life. Are you worshipping your childhood God. Have you had no mental change of your idea of God since those childhood days. You are worshipping the same God. Is that idolatry.

The preacher, the modern prophet, through his study and spiritual development of the character of God must enlarge his mental image of God. The Jewish prophets were stoned by their hearers because they endeavoured to give them a new revelation of the character of Jehovah. Their hearers were blind; their hearts hardened by the graven image of their childhood God. History repeats itself. The modern preacher is stoned by the cutting off of his salary. Are you helping to stone him—God's messenger?

God is revealing Himself to those who can see and hear. He is a more wonderful God than our fathers ever thought of. God in Christ Jesus is making an appeal to this generation in terms of modern scholarship and discovery. He is fascinating the minds and imaginations of men of all races. God hath made of one blood all the nations of the earth. This is a truth very hard for us to realize and accept.

Once more let us remember Plato's parable. A certain temple had a mirror at the door. Every worshipper was asked to look into it. He saw his own face, "Keep on looking" was the order. Then gradually the face changed till at last he saw the face of the god he came to worship. A profound truth. If you will steadfastly gaze on the Face of the Christ as revealed in the four Gospels in due time you will be satisfied with the likeness of the Father—God in Christ.

The Lord Jesus saith: He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father.

History of Many Nations Story of Displaced Persons

Scripture—Zechariah 1:1-6; 4; 7-8.

BY NEWMAN CAMPBELL

As we read the Old Testament stories of the Israelites who lived over five hundred years before Christ, we wonder if people have changed in the 25 centuries that have passed since their time.

For 70 years the Israelites had been living in an alien land among stranger peoples, and grieving for their lost homes and country. They were now returned to their own land—not as free people, it is true. However, they were once more on home soil. Unfortunately, they did not remember the bitter lesson of their recent history. They continued on in the old way of life.

The world has just fought a devastating war, but the people of that world are forgetting the lessons of their recent history. Governments intrigue against governments, and against their peoples. We read with horror of cruelties practiced upon helpless people, but our memories are short.

Nations of today as of old seem eager only for power, without consideration of the common people who will still suffer from the lost war. A nation lusts for power; feels it must have access to the bounties that the earth yields and if it cannot have them easily, it can scheme to get them no matter who must suffer.

Here and there a lone voice is raised against all this intrigue, like Zechariah's in that olden time, but we are all too confused or stupid, or both to know what we can do to stop it, and bring about conditions that would insure peace and happiness for all people everywhere.

Zechariah was the grandson of Iddo, head of one of the 12 priestly families who returned from Babylon with Zerubbabel and the high priest Joshua. It is though, he was a very young man at the time of the return to Palestine but he had the prophetic spirit.

The Lord spoke to Zechariah telling him that his fathers had angered the Lord who had commanded that they turn from their evil way. They refused to listen to Him and now where were they and their prophets? Gone, and now the new generation was as stubborn and heedless as their fathers.

Zechariah saw strange visions which he could not understand and these were explained to him as lamps symbolizing light, fed with olive oil symbolizing the Holy Spirit, and "two anointed ones," who apparently represented the priest Joshua and the king Zerubbabel, through whom help might come in the race's redemption.

Our prophets are less spiritualistic, but they see none the less clearly where we are going and what will result if we do not change our ways. Our preachers warn us, our statesmen tell us. Those who have traveled far and communed with peoples of other lands warn us. They have heard the cries of those who find themselves no longer free, but under the domination of strangers; and those who have no homes, no freedoms and no security and little prospect of same unless the world changes.

The words Zechariah spoke to his people so many centuries ago are just as applicable to us as to them. During their exile the Israelites had set aside a certain time to go apart and weep over their plight. Should they still do so now they were at home? they asked their prophet. His answer was that even when they did so they were merely going through a cermony that had no meaning for them and did not help them to change their lives.

"Thus speaketh the Lord of Hosts," proclaimed Zechariah, "Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and compassion every man to his brother. Oppress not the widow nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart."

But Zechariah did not leave his people hopeless for the future He also told them that the Lord had said, "There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem. . .and the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets therefore."

This is the ideal of all peoples everywhere, and how can it be realized? How can we bring it about that all over the world—the old and the young—can be happy and without fear? We can work toward it in our individual lives. In the words of the Lord spoken through Zechariah, "So will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong."

VOL. XCVI, No. 97 SATURDAY, APRIL 24, 1948 PRICE FIVE CENTS

Fund Exceeds $7,000 For New Arena

The total for the new civic arena passed the $7,000 mark this week it was announced today by Stan McBride, chairman of the publicity committee. Mr. McBride said that $7,000 represented the amount of money turned in by the canvassers and canvassers' reports.

Businessmen and special names are yet to be heard from. Reports of the canvass in industry indicate, the committee says, that an arena is assured this year.

In reporting on some of the contributions received this week, Mr. McBride said that the Toronto Savings and Loan Co. had sent in a cheque for $100. The Y's Men's Club turned in $108 as the club members personal donation and $100 taken from the club treasury. Employees of the Western Clock Co. have already pledged more than $700.

All reports Mr. McBride intimated, point to real progress being made in this civic adventure.

CRACKS VERTEBRA

Douglas Grant, RR 11, Peterborough, is recovering in Civic Hospital from a cracked vertebra. He has been in a cast for about two weeks and will remain so for approximately two months. Mr. Grant injured his back when he fell from a ladder.

WALL UNDERMINED

The concrete wall along the west side of Jackson park creek north of Hunter St. has taken a beating from the spring floods. Several feet of the wall has toppled into the creek, and the remaining portion shows signs of weakness and undermining.

BAND PRACTICING

There's still nothing like a band to draw a crowd of youngsters. On Friday afternoon the PCVS Bugle Band was out practicing on Murray St. When it stopped in Victoria Park to try a few numbers children came running from all directions.

LEGION PRESENTATION

At the social evening on Friday at the Canadian Legion, the retiring president, F. R. Burke, was presented with a "lazy boy" chair. It was presented by the members of 52 Branch in appreciation of his fine work and past services. Mr. Burke has served as president of the Peterborough branch for two consecutive years.

ATTENDS LEATHERCRAFT DISPLAY

Mrs. M. Phippen, local leathercraft instructress, will attend the Ottawa Valley Leathercraft Studio display to be held in Ottawa May 5-8. It will be the first exhibit of its kind in Canada and will include Peterborough leatherwork.

PETERBOROUGH AIRPORT

Norbert Miller, prospector and bush pilot and brother of Ivan Miller, the mechanic at Skyboro Airport, flew into Peterborough a few days ago to have his medical check and left the next day. At the moment only a few pilots, such as Mr. Miller, are using the partially completed landing field, but further news on the progress of the airport is expected within a month.

ELECT PETERBOROUGH MAN

John Steele was elected president of the Ontario Society of Photographers suceeding Everett Roseborough. Appointed to the directorate were: Robert Randall, Jack Crawford and Ross Ballard of Toronto; Clayton Kilbreath of Sarnia, Cecil Chinn of Brampton, Clifford Healy of St. Catharines, Roy Pitchford of Peterborough, and John Thomas of Brantford.

CARRIAGES LINED UP

It looked as though the city is missing a large source of revenue by not installing parking meters for baby carriages. By 3 p.m. on Friday afternoon 19 carriages were parked in an unbroken line from the corner of Brock down to the greenhouse of the Peterborough Floral Co. on Water St. Mothers were taking advantage of facilities provided by the Well Babies' Clinic, Water St.

Start Building Hospital At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, April 24 — (ENS)—Work on the Campbellford Memorial Hospital will begin within the next few days, it was announced at a meeting of the Memorial Hospital Board last night. The president, Mayor H. M. Donald, was chairman.

A financial report given by A. J. Meyers showed a total of $133,500. Cash subscriptions, $40,500; town debenture, $40,000 township debenture, $20,000, and government grant of $33,000.

Canvassing is far from completed and Chester C. Woods, the architect, said he was quite certain an additional $10,000 could be obtained from the government.

Mayor Donald said the exact site for the building was surveyed and staked out last Wednesday at which time the architect recommended that the site be levelled first before beginning the excavation.

A contract with Wilfred Spencer for $9,680 calls for concrete footings and foundation walls four feet in height and basement floor. The board decided to extend this contract to include the first floor. By this plan the entire basement will be concrete and the next story will be of cement blocks faced with brick.

New Officers

The executive and directors for 1948, were appointed as follows: Mayor Donald, president; E. J. Ayrhart, honorary prsident; F. S. Linton, secretary; J. D. Mills, treasurer; F. W. Burgess, A. D. Bennett, W. F. Scott, J. A. Murray, Mel Wight and Ralph Locke, directors; A. J. Meyers and R. J. Bale, campaign organizers; C. J. Maier and R. J. Bale, auditors.

Canvassing is to be resumed and for the township canvassers were appointed as follows: Seymour West, R. J. McCuloch, W. W. Archer and W. Bateson; Seymour East, Alex Stephens, Mel McKeown and Lindsay Anderson.

The board had received a letter from the Campbellford Busines Men's Association pledging full co-operation and help. They will be asked to finish the canvassing in town.

Police In Rome Jailing More Agitators

ROME, April 24 —(AP)—The government's Carabinieri are jailing some alleged Communist agitators in both northern and southern Italy in the wake of last week-end's election, which the Communist-led Poplar Front lost to the government Christian Democrats.

Communist Leader Palmiro Togliatti has promised that his followers will refrain from violence. Yesterday Vice-Premier Randolfo Pacciardi said a Communist uprising is out of the question.

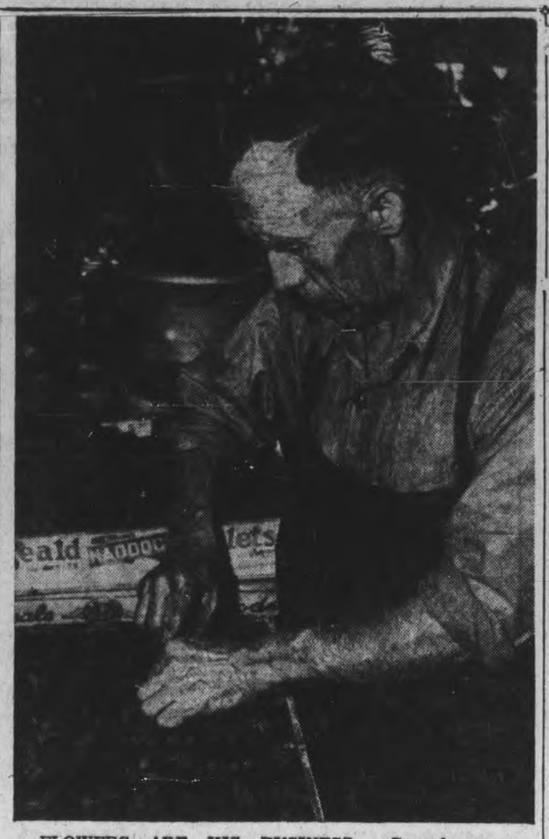
But arrests are reported to have been made in Modena in the north and near Foggia in the south. A dispatch from Modena, Communist stronghold, said police there had received word of armed formations in the nearby Appenine mountains.

In Torremaggiore near Foggia, another report said, Carabinieri broke up groups of Communists and arrested one man on a charge of trying to start a rebellion against local authorities.

Other dispatches told of these arrests:

Modena—Luigi Benedetti, local-vice secretary of the Communist-dominated National Association of Italian Partisans, organzing illegal bands; Livio Storchi, spreading alarming reports.

San Severo near Foggia—Francesco Maggi, trying to organize an illegal demonstration against the election results.



San Paolo Vicitate near Foggia — Aldo Pennachina, spreading false rumors of disorders in San Severo.

Has Leave To Appeal

ST. THOMAS, April 24. (CP)—Convicted of manslaughter in the poison death of his wife and sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment, Joseph V. Welch, 24, of nearby Aylmer, has been given leave to appeal. He is in county jail here.

FLOWERS ARE HIS BUSINESS — Greenhousemen throughout the country, like Isaac Harrison, Ware St., have outpaced cold spring weather and are now ready to transfer sturdy flowers and plants to the warm outdoors. Artificial heat is shut off, glass coverages are sprayed and transplanting into flower beds is the routine for the days to come.

Cemetery Gardener Lauds Soil Blending For Potting

Snapdragons seven feet tall or diminutive carpet bedding plants that grow to no more than four inches are grown by Isaac Harrison, head gardener and manager of the Little Lake Cemetery greenhouse. A visit to the large greenhouses back of the company office on Lake St. shows more than 50 varieties of bedding plants and cut flowers and plants that have been raised by a man who has had many years of experience in greenhouse work. His methods are not to be found in books on the subject but, rather, by years of experimenting.

Mr. Harrison came from South Shields, Durham County, in the north of England, to Orangeville, Ont., when he was 15 years of age. After a few years of gardening work, then later, on a farm he decided that flowers were to be his life work and he went back to the houses under glass where he has been ever since. He has worked for his present employers for the past 18 years. The present greenhouses are larger by two-thirds than when he came to Peterborough and grow an increasingly better type of flowers under his knowing care.

His Company business, as far as the plants department is concerned, can be roughly broken down into three classifications. First, and primarily, there are bedding plants and flowers for vases for the cemetery proper, and, secondly, there are cut flowers which are supplied to plot owners and retail florists. Between growing seasons, so that the growing benches are not barren, lettuce and tomatoes are grown. Seven thousand geraniums alone are grown and used in cemetery plot embellishment followed by 5,000 foliage plants. There are Silver Leafs, calla lilies, sweet alysium, petunias, lobelias and a great deal of carpet bedding grown as well. Mr. Harrison's chief weakness is the culture of snapdragons for the retail trade that grow up to the lighted glass for seven feet. There are also chrysanthemums in the fall and a few lacy ferns for bouquet garnishes.

As all good gardeners will, he blends his soils for potting from a large stock pile in the sunny south yard and knows from experience the correct quantities of sand and loam that is suitable for the best growth of each individual species. Like all master craftsmen, Mr. Harrison finds that his work calls for far more effort than the usual eight-hour day shift and when there are no jobs to do with planting and potting, there are running repairs to the large glass coverage and painting as well. He counts on a man helping him for the three-month Spring period and after that carries on by himself.

Mr. Harrison lives one block away on Ware Street and, as fathers will, does not encourage his only son to follow his footsteps. His boy attends PCVS and is bent on a career of electrical engineering. He says that he has had opportunities to establish his own business, in flowers of course, but has no regrets that he has had to carry on under others. It seems to be a very independent vocation where employers are not able to direct programs without a thorough and sympathetic understanding of Mother Nature. She cherises her secrets and imparts the Order of the Green Thumb to those who, like Isaac Harrison, make it a life study.

Cadets To Man Heavy AA Guns

Demonstration of a complete H.A.A. fire control detachment composed of cadets will be the highlight of the annual inspection of the PCVS Cadet Battalion on May 12, when a high ranking officer will take the salute. The cadets have already begun instruction under the A. and T. staff of their affiliated reserve regiment (Prince of Wales Rangers) RCA. This is the first time that cadets have been taught on such heavy artillery equipment.

A big demonstration is planned at the inspection, including an attack by aircraft co-operating with infantry on the HAA gun position. Three aircraft are being provide dby the RCAF station at Trenton.

Obituary

MRS. HARRY MORGAN

Mrs. Harry Morgan, 61 Robinson St., died at her home on Saturday after a short illness.

Formerly Elizabeth Jane Curry, she was born in Lakefield, daughter of the late William and Mary Curry. She was educated in Peterborough and spent a lifetime in this community.

She leaves her husband, Harry Morgan; a daughter, Mrs. Neil Gemmell (Margaret) of Calgary; a brother, William E. Curry, Peterborough, and a sister, Mrs. Cecil Williamson (Gertrude) Peterborough.

She was an active member of St. Paul's Pressbyterian Church and at the time of her death was treasurer of the Ontario Presbyterian Missionary Society.

The body is lying at the A. Comstock and Sons Funeral Home where the funeral service will be held on Tuesday, April 27, at 2 p.m., DST, Rev. C. G. Boyd, St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

Blind Hold Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Louis Braille Society, social club for the blind people and their friends, sponsored by the Peterborough Lions Club, was held here Wednesday evening at the parish hall of All Saints church. Entertainment was provided by Mr. Robert Johnston, pianist and Mr. Victor Coleman, vocalist. The evening concluded with the serving of refreshments. The meeting was under the direction of Mr. Earl Sehwanz and Mr. Frank Simmons.

1943 Pennies Worth A Cent Not A New Car

Station CHEX is busily engaged in scotching a rumor that a new automobile will be given to anyone who can produce a 1943 United States' copper cent. Phone calls, letters and even personal visits have been made to the local radio station management by people seeking verification of the story.

As with most rumors, there is nothing to it. In 1943 the United States did not make a single copper one-cent piece. As a wartime measure the pennies were made of steel and coated with zinc. They can hardly be considered precious because more than a billion of them were put into circulation.

An enquiry to Canadian Press, Toronto, brought the news from Clyde Blackburn, the CP. reporter in Washington exploding the rumor.

About two years ago the Treasury Department was flooded with letters from people who had heard in some vague radio broadcast or otherwise that anybody turning in a 1943 copper cent would get a new automobile.

The inquiries came from all parts of the United States and Canada and the Treasury has been unable to find out how or where the rumor originated.

There were thousands of letters and then they stopped coming. Now they have started again. Letters of inquiry are trickling into the Treasury and there have been inquiries from Canada.

The Treasury sends out a form letter reply stating that there is not a 1943 copper cent in existence and even if there were they know of no one willing to give an automobile for it.

When this hoax first started one woman wrote back that she did have a 1943 copper cent. On request she sent it in to the Treasury and, sure enough, it looked like the real thing.

But the Secret Service laboratories quickly discovered that it was one of the steel-zinc coins coated with copper.

Metal coins are not withdrawn and replaced as in the case of paper money except when the characters are worn off.

The zinc-coated pennies were issued only through 1943 but they still pop up in change although rapidly disappearing. No one knows where they have been going.

Hurt In Explosion

VALENTIA, April 24. — Ten-year-old Glen Grills of Valentia, is in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, today with injuries suffered when a dynamite cap exploded.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Grills of Valentia, lost part of the thumb and index finger of his left hand when a cap he was handling exploding.

It is believed the boy found some caps, which his father had been using to blast stones on the farm, and set one off by hammering it.

He is being attended by Dr. G. C. R. Hall, Little Britain. His condition is described as "satisfactory."

Rev. John Foote Candidate For Nomination

PORT HOPE, April 24. (Special to Examiner)—Major the Rev. John Foote, the Port Hope padre who won the Victoria Cross in the last war, has announced his willingness to enter the political field. Walford Vick, local member of the Durham County Progressive Conservative Association executive, said last night that Major Foote had announced that he wished his name placed before the convention.

The convention will be held on Thursday night of next week at Orono and it will be attended by Premier George Drew. Other names that have been proposed are Irwin Colwill of Clarke township, W. E. Thompson, former mayor of Port Hope, H. R. S. Ryan of Port Hope, Dr. J. W. Wright of Millbrook, Ex-Warden Norman Green of Cartwright and G. Heyland of Bowmanville.

It is considered most likely that Major Foote's convention nomination will be a popular one and that he would be a strong candidate to run in the stead of the Hon. Dr. Percy Vivian, former Minister of Health and Welfare who recently announced his retirement from politics. Dr. Vivian is on his way now to Europe where he will study welfare conditions in various countries there on behalf of the Protestant School Board of Montreal. Dr. Vivian heads the department of social medicine at McGill University.

Liberals To Name Candidate Next Thursday

Peterborough Liberals are calling a nominating convention for the general provincial elections Thursday, April 29 at 8:15 DST in the Canadian Legion Hall.

The new executive of the Liberal Association which was elected several months ago have held several organization meetings.

"We were taking our time about it," Mr. Arthur H. Lewis, president, said today, "because there was no feeling that Ontario would be faced with a provincial election this year. However, Premier Drew has decided otherwise."

The executive was not certain today as to who the convention speaker would be. The notice of the election was so recent that time for arrangements has been short, but further details of the meeting for next Thursday night will be completed early next week.

Mrs. Walter Bromell Has Big Funeral

A large number of friends and relatives attended the funeral of Mrs. Walter Bromell, RR 11, Peterborough, on Friday afternoon.

Pallbearers were Messrs. J. Tully, A. Wilson, F. Kidd, E. Wood, A. Hill, and P. Elliot. She was buried in Little Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. Bromell was born in Dummer township, Ella Lavina, daughter of the late William Elliott and Sarah Smith. She leaves her husband and three nieces. She was an Anglican and had been an Otonabee resident for 42 years. Previously she had lived in Norwood.

Mrs. Bromell died on Wednesday at Civic Hospital after a short ilness. The Rev. E. C. Moore, St. George's Anglican Church officiated at the service.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Home Accidents Are Eighth Most Common Death Cause

Accidents in the home are naturally not due to human nature. The incidence of accidents to particular areas of the house proves that certain conditions are conductive to trouble and that when these causes are eliminated the frequency of accidents is sharply reduced. Perhaps you have had some idea that the strain, the speeded-up production schedules, and the machinery in industry must naturally increase the dangers. If you have been suffering from such delusions, it may be somewhat of a shock to learn that your home is twice as dangerous as the local factory. Just double the number of industrial fatalities and you'll have the appallingly high total of fatal home accidents.

Safety engineers group all accidents under two heads. "Unsafe Conditions" and "Unsafe Practices." The same checks which have been used to curb the number of industrial accidents should reveal the principal causes and preventions of home accidents. When investigating the danger spots in a particular plant the safety expert approaches each department with three questions in mind: What processes are carried on here? What are the conditions of the building and what are the practices of the workers. Apply these same checks against your own home.

The architect is in a position to reduce household accidents. By applying the same principals to house construction as have been applied in industry, the industrial safety record of a 60 per cent accident reduction might be approached.

Can Prevent Falls

Falls constitute 64 per cent of all accidents both in the home and in industry. Most of these could be prevented by the right lighting, and by avoiding slippery floors, loose throw rugs, sudden changes in floor levels and planned storage space.

Certain problems of storage, lighting traffic and construction are common to all parts of the house.

The design of storage space should be determined more by safety principles than by concessions to convenience. Most disabling falls are caused by attempting to reach or replace stored articles or by stumbling over things which would have been stored had there been a place for them. Articles in active use should be kept in places convenient enough so that no stretching, reaching, or climbing will be necessary to get at them.

Inadequate lighting has been revealed as one of the primary causes of all home accidents. No amount of safety engineering will cure the evil if the householder must grope his way around in semi-darkness. Many dangers can be avoided if it is possible to see them.

The ideal house would be one in which the danger from spread of fire had been eliminated. Such complete protection is in most cases beyond attainment, but we can take means to prevent the start or spread of fire by sound wiring, fireproof insulation in the roof, kitchen and heater room, plus a constant campaign against the accumulation of inflammable materials.

cent of all home accidents occur cent of al lhome accidents accur in inside hallways and stairs, yet in view that they are the most heavily travelled areas in the entire house, it is not surprising that the accident total is so high. If this space is made reasonably safe, daytime and artificial light shoulc be as nearly equal as possible. Industry has discovered that lighted treads, lighted rails or fluorescent carpets materially reduce the number of accidents. Such home safeguards will, we hope, be more generally adopted for home use as soon as materials become available.

Though the percentage of accidents which occur in the bathroom is smaller than for any other room in the house, most of these are serious. Falls top the list, with burns, scalds, explosions, electrical shocks and poison following to swell the total.

Flat-bottomed tubs with rolled rim, non-skid floor, metal towel racks, grab bars, soap dishes and fixtures prevent many cuts and falls. Manually or thermostatically controlled mixing valves on showers cut down the total of severe scalding cases. Light switches should be placed so that they can not be operated from the bathtub or lavatory. A master switch just inside the door and pull cords for individual lights should be installed. If an electric heater is necessary it should be built in so that its rays are directed to the necessary portions of the room and so that it can not be touched while in the tub. A razor blade slot and a locked compartment for poisonous drugs and chemicals should also be included in your planning.

Though good design may somewhat reduce accidents in the kitchen, living room and dining room, the greatest improvement will come from educating the householders against careless practices. In the kitchen burns, scalds, and explosions rate high but falls still top the list with cuts the third most important cause.

Curtains blowing across the stove are the leading cause of kitchen fires. The range should never be placed less than one foot from the nearest window jamb.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

Working Drawings and Specifications Necessary In the Building of a Home

A good set of working drawings and specifications are necessary for the building of any house regardless of how modest or how elaborate the job may be. Their's is a basic part in home construction. Upon their completeness often depends the willingness of the loaning company to finance the proposition.

Whether the drawings or the specifications are the more important is a consideration of no consequence and leads nowhere . . . for either one without the other is inadequate. They should combine to describe in every detail exact home of your dreams. Only by this means can complete satisfaction be achieved and annoying "extras" in the contractor's bill be avoided.

One soon learns when planning and arranging to build a home that there are many considerations and details involved. But it is a later pleasant surprise to discover how much less ominous numerous items become when herded together under proper headings to be dealt with definitely and separately.

A good set of specifications will, with an orderly arrangement, define and limit the work that is to be done; establish and arrange for the choice and selection of materials and equipment which are to be used; define the workmanship both as to quality and method; and establish the responsibility for the various risks involved during the construction period. Although there is a more or less generally accepted form and arrangement which specifications take for residential work, there is a considerable variation of requirements in different jobs and the chief value of the accepted form rests largely in the completeness of its outline. Whatever the form may be, if the field is thoroughly and definitely covered in a clear and orderly manner the purpose of the specifications will have been fulfilled.

Consider These Points

Clearing Site: The exact extent of clearing to be done should be specified and definite provision made for the preservation and protection of such trees, shrubs, etc.

Excavation: Describe the quality of excavation work desired, listing all items including that for the cellar, footings, piers, plumbing lines, dry wells, septic tanks, drains, etc., and giving the minimum depths below finish grade for each item, if it is not shown on the drawings.

Footings: Describe the construction of footings and the materials to be used and give the sizes, if not shown on drawings, for each class of footing (under walls, piers, chimneys, etc.).

Foundation Walls: Describe the foundation walls, piers, etc., giving the material and methods of construction to be used.

Cellar Floors: Describe the cellar floor, its composition, including sub-base and finish, thickness, reinforcement, if any, method of drainage, etc.

Chimneys: State the materials to be used in the construction of the chimney; how flues, cap, fireplace and hearths are to be built.

Walks and Driveways: State what walks and driveways are included in the contract and their construction.

Framing: State what material is to be used in framing. If wood is to be used, give the kinds, grades, and sizes to be used for sills, plates, girders, joists, studs, corner pots, wind-bracing, bridging, fire stops, rafters, ridge pole, sheating, sub-flooring, etc.

Exterior Walls: Describe the materials to be used for exterior wall finishes, stating quality, sizes, and methods of erection.

Roof: State the kind of roofing to be used, giving the grade, and, if a trade-marked product is to be used, the manufacturer's name, and describe the method of laying. Describe leaders and gutters and how and by whom they are to be connected to the drains.

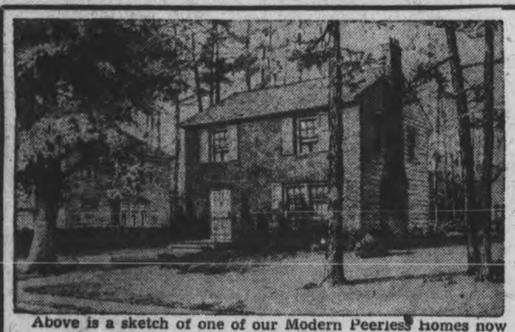
Interior Wall and Ceiling Finishes: State the kinds of wall and ceiling finishes to be used and describe fully.

Trim: State the kind and quality of materials to be used on exterior and interior trim.

Windows and Doors: Give the style, material, quality, thickness, and sizes of windows, and exterior and interior doors and frames if not shown on drawings.

Equipment: List all equipment, not otherwise specified, that is to be installed, giving the manufacturers' names.

Miscellaneous: Weather stripping, insulation, water-proofing or any other items of work not specifically covered here shall be fully descrived.



Minimum specifications required for construction under the N.H.A. have been handily covered in their "Building Standards" . . copies of which may be obtained from your local N.H.A. headquarters. Every point necessary to ensure sound construction is concisely and adequately covered.

Ignore Interruption

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 24 —(AP).— Physical culturist Bernarr MacFadden, 79, was married yesterday to blonde Mrs. Jonnie Lee, 42, despite an outburst at his wedding by a person known only as "The Goat Woman." The woman, often seen leading a goat around downtown Miami and a crusader against the use of tobacco, ran out of the south cloister to a position behind the altar at which the ceremony was being performed, and shouted: "This is against the Holy Word. It is illegal."

SIMPLE DESIGN ADDS BEAUTY TO HOME, MAKES DOLLAR STRETCH

Householder Handy With Tools Finds Making Repairs Enjoyable Hobby

Sweating cellar walls often are mistaken for leaking walls. This dampness from condensation can be combatted by keeping cellar windows closed on damp days and open for thorough ventilation on dry days.

Lining a cellar often is necessary. It should be coated with asphalt, tar or other materials to keep the lining from rotting, and lath and plaster or wall board can be applied to furring strips.

Major cracks or crumbling of foundation walls may call for skilled help and rebuilding of part of the foundation after the house is shored up. Minor cracks often can be stopped from the inside. There are coatings containing a metallic ingredient for this purpose. A cellar section coated on the inside has been floating in a tank for several years at the Architects Samples Corporation, 101 Park Avenue, in New York, without showing dampness.

Membrane waterproofing on the outside when a house is built is the best security.

Relieving a Sticking Door

Faulty hinges may cause a door to bind. This is easily remedied. But if the trouble is caused by settlement of the frame or warping of the door, skilled carpentry may be needed.

Notice if the margin around the door is lopsided and if looseness in the hinges is apparent when the door is open and lifted by the knob. Tightening the screws or placing wooden pegs in the holes for longer screws may stop that. If the hinges are not plumb try cardboard shims under their leaves to raise or lower them.

Care should be taken in planing a door not to take off too much. The wood may shrink in dry weather. Paint all surfaces, otherwise damp weather will cause swelling. A third hinge between the usual two often helps to straighten a warped door.

If a door frame has spread from settlement enough to leave the door too narrow it may be necessary to remove the strike plate of the latch, fasten a strip the entire height of the door frame and cut a new latch hole. Further skill is required to place this strip along the hinge edge of the frame.

A rattling door may be cured by moving the strike plate back toward the stop.

Cleaning Gutters And Leaders

Accumulated leaves and birds' nests are among the most common causes of overflowing gutters and clogged down spouts, or leaders. Wire basket - like strainers should cap the top opening of leaders. They usually are obtainable in hardware stores. Clogged leaders will burst in freezing weather. Corrugated sheet metal is used to allow for such expansion.

It is wise to clean out all gutters, or eaves troughs, every autumn after the leaves have fallen. When clean of rubbish they should be flushed with a hose to remove traces of acid. Rotting leaves and wet cinders cause corrosion. The troughs also should be kept free of heavy snow and ice. Metal paint prolongs the life of gutters and leaders.

If wooden box type gutters are used they should be lined with rust-proof metal, swabbed with fibrous asphalt, or both.

Replacing Broken Window Panes

After all broken glass is removed from the sash, old putty is chipped off with a chisel or jackknife, and glazier's points are removed. Scrape the wood clean and cover it with a coat of linseed oil or paint to prevent it from drawing the oil out of the new putty. Unless this is done putty will dry out and crumble.

Measure carefully for the new glass and have it cut to size. Spread a thin coat of putty evenly around the rebate or groove. Press the glass gently into place so the putty will keep it weathertight. Place three or four glazier's points for each side and drive them in using the edge of a screw driver aganist them.

When certain that the glass is tight, place pencil size putty rolls around the edge and bevel them off with a putty knife, pressing firmly but gently. Remove excess putty from around the bevel. Paint after putty has dried for a day or two.

For metal sash use mastic instead of putty.

Freeing Stuck Windows

For windows that lift freely in dry weather but stick on damp days, rub paraffin or beeswax in the grooves and work it down by moving the sash. If this is insufficient remove the moldings, or beads, and coat all friction surfaces with linseed oil. It may be that the stop beeds fit too snugly. Moving them is easy if the are nailed, but light planing may be better if they are held by screws.

Do not fit the stop beads too loosely, or the window will not be weathertight. If the window sash swells so that its sides bind against the pulley stile, the sash should be removed, lightly planed and coated with linseed oil, then waxed.

Removal of the sash is necessary in replacing sash cords. Unscrew the pocket cover in the side of the frame and cut the new cord or chain a little longer than needed. Length can be adjusted at the window end. For correct length the sash weight will clear the bottom of the box when the lower sash is raised and will not hit the pulley when the window is down. Chains are better than cords when replacement is needed.

Cleaning Out A U Trap

A rubber plunger known as a "plumber's friend" will usually loosen minor obstructions in a drain. Partly fill the bowl with water to provide strong suction. If this fails put a pail under the trap, unscrew the drain plug in the bottom of the U and use a wire to hook out the obstruction.

Clean thoroughly with a bottle brush, replace the plug with a new washer and run hot water through the drain. Avoid the use of any compound containing caustic soda (sodium hydroxide), or what is commonly called "lye." These harden grease into a soap that is difficult to dissolve.

When all other methods fail a strong solution of caustic potash (potassium hydroxide) and hot water can be tried to burn out the blocking. This turns grease to a soft soap easily washed away. But hands should be covered with heavy rubber gloves and the eyes protected since this chemical can cause serious burns.

Pour it slowly directly into the drain, using a funnel. It doesn't affect lead, brass or iron, but damages enamel, porcelain, aluminum and glazed earthenware.

Silencing Creaking Floors

Most creaking floors are caused by subflooring loosened from joists. When the underside can be seen and defect located by having someone walk above it, drive thin wedges between the joist and the loosened board.

When there is a ceiling below the only alternative to removing the finish floor is to drive two-inch finishing nails through the floor and into the joist. Have someone stand on the floor at the point of looseness to force it against the joist. Locate the joist by gentle pounding for hollow and solid sounds.

When the nails is three fourths down use a nail set for rest of the way to avoid hammer marks on the floor. Drive the head below the surface and fill the hole above the head with wood putty. Use two nails at different angles.

Stopping A Dripping Faucet

The compression type faucet, used in most homes, contains a composition disc or washer that leaks when it wears out. This type faucet is recognizable by the stem of its spindle moving slightly up and down as it is turned. After shutting off the water below the fixture or in the main line, wrap a cloth on a wrench to protect the finish and unscrew the top nut or cap below the handle. This allows the spindle to be unscrewed and taken out. Remove the brass screw at the bottom of the spindle and replace the washer.

If the leak is around the stem try tightening the cap nut. Continued leaking here calls for new packing washers under the cap nut.

A thumping or hum when a faucet is partly turned on is a sign of a loose or worn disc washer, a worn spindle, or a loose cap nut.

Miraplas is a new and completely modern plastic tile. It adds decisively to the value of new construction. It works wonders on old walls too. It is unaffected by common acids and alkalies and cleans beautifully with a damp cloth. It comes in 16 translucent glare-free, fade-proof colors and will last a lifetime.

No Warping

Will not warp under any normal heat or cold, in tropical orf rigid climates It. is dimensionally stable therefore Miraplas Tile cannot twist or buckle under freezing or high temperature.

No Chipping

Miraplas Tile is resilient, not brittle. It gives and springs back under a sudden blow, instead of chipping. Being solid plastic it has no hardened surface to chip and break away.

No Checking

Checking is caused by a difference in rate of expansion between surface material and material beneath. Miraplas cannot check because it is one material through and through.

No Cracking

Miraplas Tile will not crack because it is solid plastic and has no coating to separate from its base which is the usual cause of cracking.

Cotton Separates Summer Favorites

In this year of the old-fashioned blouse and the ballerina skirt one thing is apparent . . . the need for "good' 'separates. The ready acceptance this year of the highly styled blouse and the dramatic skirt showed that the average girl has learned the knack of assembling "costumes" from separates and likes to collect flexible individual pieces to give the illusion of a more sizeable wardrobe.

"This Summer, girls will take to skirts and blouses of cotton as readily as they did to woollen great skirts and Gibson Girl blouses last Fall," she predicts. And to back up her belief, she has included as many cotton separates as cotton dresses in her Spring and Summer collection.

Her cotton skirts tend toward variations of the dirndl theme and are combined with delicate blouses of batiste. Many blouses are trimmed with eyelet lace and nearly all play up the collar. One sunback style features a collar attached in a stole effect. Another inspired from a choir boy's vestments, uses a circular collar, shoulder-wide in diameter.

With cotton skirts in solid colors, this designers often employs a six-inch strip of plaid or polka dot, attached inside the hem to achieve a petticoat effect. In one instance, a plaid petticoat ruffle is co-ordinated to match a blouse of the same plaid fabric.

Pulp and paper mills spend annually millions on roadways, fire towers and telephone lines designed to maintain the output of their forests.

First Annual Cadet Ball Is Thrilling Military Event

A stirring regimental march opened the first annual formal dance of PCVS Cadet Corps, Friday evening, in true military fashion. The flag hung ballroom had a regal background setting of glistening stars on soft folds of garnet draping with the Union Jack and United Nations flags above. For gaiety the dance floor was overhung with red and white balloons that were later released to float into the crowd and be noisily deflated. The Sevenaires provided music from a bandstand of effective blue and silver surrounded by small artificial palm trees.

The Ball provided a delightful spectacle of youth in formal attire, with the girls displaying the "new look" in evening gowns—peeping petticoats, bouffant skirts, bustle bows and gathers, frilled and draped overskirts in dainty pastels and strapless tops, and with shining coiffures mostly done in the new shorter fashion. Their escorts were neat and trim in khaki with polished leather and braid.

An item of particular interest on display was the proficiency trophy won in 1947 by Peterborough Cadet Corps and which they will endeavor to retain for another term at their annual inspection in May. This symbol of fine performance in military procedure was donated in 1946 by Lt.-Col. G. R. Johnston, ED, of Brockville. On either side flag draping surrounded pictures of the idols of a growing army, Lieut.-Geen. H. D. G. Crerar, CB, DSO, and Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, CB, DSO.

In an auxiliary room tables were set for parties of four to enjoy lunch served by members of the Home and School Association. An attractive decoration here was hanging branches of imitation lilac clusters.

Music for the evening and novelty dance numbers had been arranged by Alex McLeod and Al Payne, assisted by staff members A. G. Noftall and H. Moebus. Major M. E. Clarke made the draw for special door prizes which were merchandise gifts from local merchants. Prizes were given for elimination, balloon and spot dances.

Decorating for this gala event done by Misses Catherine Graham, Barbara Browne, Lois Hutchinson, assisted by John Gerow and Trevor Davies, also J. D. McNabb and A. Londry of the teaching staff.

In the receiving line were Mr. C. S. Browne, principal, and Mrs. Browne, Major H. A. Craig and Mrs. Craig, Capt. J. D. Londerville and Mrs. Londerville, Cadet Lieut.-Col. A. McLeod and Miss J. Ballantyne.

Special guests included Major M. E. Clarke of the 50th HAA parent regiment, and Mrs. Clarke, Capt. P. W. Sargeant and BSM W. H. Pushie of the A and T staff, Prince of Wales Regiment, with Mrs. Sargeant and Mrs. Pushie, Dr. H. G. Carleton, member of PCVS Board and Mrs. Carleton; Mrs. O. THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, April 25

Sunday's horoscope offers a welcome respite from difficult and stubborn obstructions, with temperamental states of mind and exaggerated initiative, prone to enhance and complicate existing circumstances. Under such planetary auspices it may be advisable to divert the energies and faculties into channels for diversion and relaxation with lack of stress and strain, while abiding the time of stellar forces to bring about change of scene, new situations and developments, which beget fresh slants on crystallized situations.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find it to their advantage to permit the tides of time and new developments to break down old obstacles and congestions. All efforts to make progress by physical force or intemperate and resistless forces may react upon health of mind, body and disposition. A program of "letting things ride" for a time, might prove more constructive and in the long run, beneficial.

A child born on this day may be disposed to take things by storm and passion, with loss of substantial progress and with grave reactions on its physical and social well being.

For Monday, Apri 26

Monday's astrological forecast shows that some very special move of high strategy may be instrumental in breaking up old static and corrosive situations, which have failed to yield to any show of force, of rash or wild onslaught. This secret, subtle, even crafty effort to break up limitations and frustrations may be in the nature of a special skill, deep insight or perhaps a queer "hunch" or lead of intriguing or inexplicable aspect.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may enjoy a year of constructive progress, in which stubborn and static difficulties and obstacles are made to yield by clever strategies, unique tactics, shrewdly organized executed plans and policies. Intuition, hunches, hidden and secret urges and curious enlightenment, might break open congestions and defeat by sublety, strategem or other form of secret or strange influence, seem to work from hidden sources. Be alert to weird contacts.

A child born on this day while having much hard sense, may also be influenced by strange gifts or insight, premonition or psychic urges, helpful and wise if confined to legitimate strategies and honorable intrigues.

Betty Wyatt Weds Harry Bateman In Mark St. Church

In Mark St. United Church Friday afternoon, Betty Marjorie Wyatt became the bride of Harry Vernon Bateman in a ceremony performed by the Rev. A. M. Partridge. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wyatt, Roger St., and the groom is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bateman of Springbrook. After the bride entered the church, Mrs. S. Mitchell sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and during the signing of the register "Because". Mr. Cecil Searles was at the organ.

For her wedding the bride chose an afternoon frock of peach pink crepe, matching hat and gloves and navy suede shoes. She was given in marriage by her father. Her only attendant was her twin sister, Mrs. W. Kennedy who was gowned in powder blue crepe with matching hat and gloves and grey shoes.

Mr. Wm. Bateman of Detroit was his brother's groomsman. Ushers were Kenneth Wyatt and Lorne Bateman, brothers of the bride and groom.

After a reception at the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. Bateman left on a wedding trip to Rochester, N.Y. For travelling the bride donned a navy gabardine suit with matching hat, handbag and shoes, and a white shortie topcoat. They will make their home in Peterborough.

MARK STREET

Beryl Aker, president, was in the chair for opening of the meeting Wednesday evening. Connie Hildebrand, Gwen Pomeroy, Peggy Noyes took part in the worship service and leader June Finnie read a story. The superintendent Mrs. G. Eason led discussions regarding the Mother and Daughter banquet being held May 5 and later read a chapter from the study of medical missions. Jacqueline Tyndall reported.

✧ ✧ ✧

ST. PAUL'S

There for the worship was the CGIT scripture passage "and Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favour with God and man." It was led by June Freeman. Grace Hudson was in charge of the program this week and led a sing-song with Jean Smith and the piano. A very interesting study on CGIT was carried out. Jean Smith reported.

✧ ✧ ✧

ST. ANDREW'S

Barbara Scully reported for the meeting Monday evening. Opening with the purpose and motto, worship was conducted by Shirley Frost and Kathryn Hewitt. Miss Ruth Aiken began the health project. It is planned to have a health film next meeting and to invite other girls to see it.

✧ ✧ ✧

GEORGE ST. INTERMEDIATE

A box lunch was enjoyed at 5 o'clock Thursday at the church while the group discussed the matter of a baking sale at the market on May 1. Miss Beryl Hartt and Miss Betty Brown leaders, will be in charge and 10 girls will work with them. The group, after supper, went to Central School grounds for a game of softball. Joan Young reported.

Many groups have had and are planning special money-raising projects to help finance the girls' time at camps this August. "Coins for Camp" is growing each week. Camp dates: Intermediate, August 11-21; Senior, August 23-Sept. 3. Folders will be distributed early in May.

Plans are now complete for the girls' work board tea at the YWCA Green Room on May 15.

ERP Director To Meet Howe

WASHINGTON, April 24. (CP) —Paul G. Hoffman, adiminstrator of the European Economy Recovery program, today told a press conference that he expects to have a meeting "early next week" with Canadian trade authorities.

Trade Minister Howe is leaving Ottawa Sunday for Washington and while here is expected to discuss Canada's role in the European Recovery Plan. A team of officials, including C. M. Drury, Canadian ERP co-ordinator, preceded Howe to Washington to carry on negotiations with Hoffman's aides.

Hoffman said at his press conference that statements were coming in from Western Hemisphere countries on the extent to which they would be able to participate in the $5,300,000,000 initial 15-month stage of ERP.

Some offshore purchases (purchases of aid commodities from other than United States sources) may be made in about a week, Hoffman said.

There have been estimates that Canadian exports to Marshall Plan countries will be $1,600,000,000 during the next 15 months. Hoffman said today he would not even guess at the ultimate figure.

CHARGED WITH SELLING BABIES—With their attorney, Joe Fainer (centre), Mrs. Marie Chaplin (left) and Mrs. Isabel Drucker are shown in a Los Angeles court where they were accused of having grossed at least $2,600 in the past month from the sale of babies of unwed mothers to couples desirous of adopting children. Though Mrs. Chaplin maintains that she was motivated by humanitarian motives and had no thought of personal gain, bail for the pair was set at $2,500 each.

DOROTHY DIX

Teach Girl Early in Life Principles of Housework

Every girl should be taught two trades so that she will have a way of supporting herself should the necessity arise. Also, because it will give her a sense of security that nothing else will, and will add immensely to her pleasure and happiness and pride in herself.

Along with her A B Cs, every girl child should be taught the basic principles of housewifery for, no matter what else a woman is going to need in life, she is going to need to know how to cook and sew and make a comfortable home. Especially is this the case now when competent servants are a vanishing race, and when even millionairesses have to do their stint in the kitchen.

Dorothy Dix

In reality, the success of practically every marriage depends more upon the wife's skill as a home-maker than it does upon any other thing. The thrifty wife helps her husband to make his fortune. The wasteful wife keeps her husband always on Poverty Lane. The woman who feeds her family on good, nourishing, well-prepared food keeps them well and strong. The woman who never puts a decent meal on the table slays her husband and children with her cooking. The first disillusion that many a man gets about his beautiful bride is when she sits him down to a dinner of burnt meat and soggy vegetables and pie that would give an ostrich dyspepsia.

Safeguards Independence

On the other hand, there is nothing that binds a man to his wife with such unbreakable bonds as for her to be a crackerjack cook and manager. He sees her always as surrounded by the incense that rises from what's cooking in her ports and pans and wild horses couldn't drag him away from her. And not only does the domestic woman keep her husband, but she has safeguarded her indepndence. If need be, she can always get a well-paying job as a cook, or a seamstress.

Every girl, whether she is rich or poor, should learn a trade by which she can be self-supporting, and she should practice it for a year just to prove to herself that she can stand on her own feet. It does more to strengthen a girl's character and cure her of petty faults and weaknesses than anything else in the world, and it is an invaluable preparation for marriage. For when a woman does a man's work, she gets the man's point of view and that saves a lot of friction.

The girl who has earned her own living respects money. She doesn't see a dollar as something to throw at the birds. She sees it stained with the sweat and weariness of labor that makes her use it with care, instead of wasting it in senseless extravagance. The girl who has held down a job for a year has learned to control her temper and to park her feelings where they won't be trampled on by harried bosses. And that would save many a marriage from going on the rocks, and keep many a tired business man from having to spend his evenings listening to his shrewish wife's reproaches because he doesn't fly into a rage, or burst into tears when attention is called to some mistake she has made, or a rough employer calls her down unjustly. She doesn't argue, even when she knows she is right. She just smiles sweetly and hands him a neat little compliment, and all is well.

Lucky the man who gets a wife who has had office training.

1,400 People Let Hair Down At Parliamentary Party

By DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, April 24—(CP).—This was the week of the big party. More than 1,400 persons put their hair—figuratively speaking anyway—a long way up and a lot of them proceeded to let it fall a long way down.

It was the annual reception of the Cabinet Ministers' wives followed by a dance arranged jointly by the various parties represented in parliament.

It was, as usual, a glittering, crowded night that transformed the centre block of parliament into a sea of color and a hive of sound.

The Cabinet wives received in Confederation Hall and were joined by a small, smiling man named W. L. Mackenzie King, who that day had been a British Commonwealth Prime Minister longer than any other man.

The bachelor Mr. King later escorted four or five ladies into the commons chamber and was lost in the crowd.

Fun

Adjacent to the chamber, the low-ceiling government smoking lobby seethed with sound as hundreds clustered around the bar that was established for the occasion.

The dance capped the evening. It was held in the big, tall railway committee room with a band beating it out and with a display of some steps that took memories well back in the direction of confederation.

Talent

Intermissions brought forth a generous example of amateur parliamentary talent. Park Manross (PC—London), for instance, leaped to the drums and was joined by Garfield Case (PC—Grey North).

Mrs. Gerard Cournoyer, wife of the Liberal members for Richelieu-Vercheres, made real music with the piano and, out of all this, there finally emerged her husband to put on a mimic singing act that has made him a local celebrity on Parliament Hill.

Finance Minister Abbott, lean and loose on the dance floor, climaxed the extemporaneous program with a first World War French song. "La Cantiniere."

It was a truncated version, but it was good

The next morning, the big, tall room was thick with chairs, tables and the members of the Veterans Commitee, hard at work on the Pensions Act.

Ask War Pension Rate Free Of Party Fight

OTTAWA, April 24 (CP). — Parliament was told today that any disposition on political party lines of the government's bill to increase war pensions by 16 per cent would be "a catastrophe for those responsible for it."

The warning came from Maj. A. J. Wickens of Moose Jaw, Sask., National President of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada, who called upon members of the Commons committee on Veterans Affairs to place their responsibility to their fellow veterans above that to party.

Acting as spokesman for the parent organization, the National Council of Veterans Associations, Maj. Wickens revived its demand for a basic pesion of $100 a month for a 100 per cent disabled single veteran, compared to the $75 at present and the $87 proposed by the Government in a bill now before the committee.

Find Oil Stocks Trade Heavily

By The Canadian Press

The advance this week on the major stock markets — the fifth successive week of rising prices — was negotiated with sufficient strength to overcome substantial profit-cashing without checking the pace.

At New York and Toronto oil stocks traded heavily on widespread belief that the industry will show even better returns in 1948 than the record highs of 1947. Metals, motors and steels continued favorites in anticipation of European recovery program and re-armament orders.

C.P.R. was a leading trader through the week at Toronto and Montreal, making good fractional advances and hitting a new high Friday when the issue traded more than 10,000 shares to advance $1 at $18.35. Western oils were firm the first three days but retreated moderately Thursday and Friday in face of fairly heavy profit-cashing.

Melancholia, in which a patient may have suicidal tendencies, usually has a more complete recovery than any other type of insanity.

RESCUED FROM UNDERWATER GRAVE — Edward Christiansen, of Oyster Bay, N.Y., a diver is carried to an ambulance recently after he was rescued from 30 feet below the harbor surface off Staten Island. Christiansen was caught under an estimated 15 tons of mud while engaged in cleaning telephone cables laid under the surface of the harbor.

Opens Campaign

OTTAWA, April 24. (CP) — George Dunbar, minister of reform institutions for Ontario, and member of the legislature for Ottawa south, said last night he would open his political campaign for re-election on May 5. He said a nomination meeting would be held on that date.

Have New Division

OTTAWA, April 24. (CP) — The government has established a transportation and communications division of the foreign trade service to aid Canadian importers, Trade Minister Howe announced yesterday. The job will be to survey trade routes and transport facilities.

THE VOTERS' LISTS ACT

(Referred to in Section 59)

Notice of Sittings of Revising Officer

TAKE NOTICE that a sitting of the Revising Officer for the purpose of hearing complaints or appeals with regard to the Voters' List to be used at the vote to be taken under the provisions of The Liquor Licence Act, 1946, in the municipality of Town of Campbellford will be held at the following time and place:

At the Council Chamber, Public Library, in the Town of Campbellford, on the Seventh (7th) day of May, 1948, at 10 o'clock, Standard Time.

Judge M. A. Miller will be the Revising Officer and J. F. McGregor, Clerk of the said municipality, will be the clerk of the Revising Officer.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that the list to be so revised is Parts I and III of the Voters' List prepared for the municipality for the year 1947.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that any voter who desires to complain that his name or the names of any person or persons entitled to be entered on the said list have been omitted from the same, or that the names of any person or persons who are not entitled to be voters have been entered thereon, may on or before the Fourth day of May, 1948, apply, complain or appeal to have his name or the name of any other person or persons entered on, or removed from the list.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that such appeals must be by notice in writing in the prescribed form, signed by the complainant in duplicate and given to the clerk of the Revising Officer or left for him at his office on Front Street Campbellford.

(Signed) M. A. MILLER
Chairman of the Election Board for the County of Northumberland.

Dated this 3rd day of April, A.D. 1948.

The year was 1841 ...

... six days of turmoil—that was election week in Upper Canada! Voters formed in long queues to mount the "hustings" (a rough wooden platform) ... declaring aloud for all to hear, "I vote for John Smith." Often groups of hard-fisted toughs stood by, armed with cudgels to be used on those who voted the "wrong way."

But men who kept true democracy as their objective finally won the right of a secret ballot—the right to vote as you wish without fear of intimidation.

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

Terse Verdict Sums Up Principle Results Of Five Days of UN Debate On Palestine

By WALTER O'HEARN

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.:—"The United States is laying a lot of eggs at this General Assembly but it isn't hatching many chickens."

This terse verdict — by an American observer—sums up the first five days of the special session called by the United Nations on the Palestine problem. The American State Department, too sure of a complaisant majority behind any of its ideas, has produced some of them and has been slapped down.

It will take a great deal more spade work to get majority acceptance of the current American formula for Palestine — a U.N. trusteeship—and on other, relatively minor tactical points the Americans actually run a risk of defeat. It is the consensus in the corridors here that they run this risk because of sheer bad management.

An instance of this sheer bad management was the announcement yesterday in Washington by Under-Secretary Robert Lovett that in the State Department's view America, Britain and France as the three remaining allies of 1918 who are both major powers and completely respectable, are the continuing guarantors of Palestine's future. Not only do the British and French repudiate this view but it is contrary to the line pursued by the Americans at the United Nations, where they want the whole U.N. to be guarantor for Palestine.

Many Examples.

But ones does not have to look to Washington for examples of this bad management. They are in evidence here. On Tuesday Warren Austin made the United States declaration and submitted his country's draft proposal on trusteeship at a morning meeting when other and eloquent members, pro-partitionist members were down to speak. After Sir Carl Berendsen of New Zealand got through with his soul-searching and eloquent speech, nobody remembered very much about what Austin had to say. Sir Carl was pro-partition and against a change of policy and Australia, Sweden and Russia in the same vein only accumulated the mound of eloquence under which the United States proposals lay buried.

Wednesday the American alternate delegate, Philip C. Jessup, seized a time when debate seemed to have ended to thrust a surprise resolution under the noses of the other 57 delegates.

This resolution would refer the American trusteeship draft "for technical study" to the Trusteeship Council. Except for a hasty and last-minute canvass around the table, there had been no prior notice of this move. Many of the delegates were angry at this easy identification of their wishes with the wishes of the American delegation.

The Slav bloc opposed Jessup—naturally. They argued that this move would signify that the political committee of the U.N. Assembly had adopted trusteeship in principle, which they were far from doing. Leonid Kaminsky of Byelorussia actually impressed many delegates—a difficult feat for a Slav bloc member these days—with his argument that the whole motion was out of order, that the political committee would not organize a trusteeship committee; that this was the function of the General Assembly and its seering committee.

Plan Opposed.

But aside from the Slav bloc the voice of France and Australia were raised against this proposal and there were indications that other countries—not excluding Canada—were not convinced of the wisdom of the Jessup proposal. It is believed that the Canadians actually saw the document beforehand; indeed, that the Americans wanted Canada to move the resolution but that Canada was unwilling to sponsor it.

The resolution is being voted on today—it may be voted upon by the time this appears and it may be adopted, but it will only be adopted after extensive lobbying by the United States mission.

It is a harmless proposal in itself, some observers here believe. Indeed some pro-partitionists welcome it because it would bring the trusteeship discussion under the trusteeship of Sir Carl Berendsen and Sir Carl is a doughty pro-partitionist. Hs is a good chairman by any parliament definition and has a way of putting his ideas across.

So the American move can be criticized—and is being criticized—from the pragmatic point of view. Some delegates say it is bad strategy. The American explanation, of course, was that they thought the general debate in the political committee was closed.

They should have known better. Only three of the Arab countries have spoken. The Jewish Agency has not spoken; neither has the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine. Many other countries will wish to speak. Canada will have something to say — but as far along in the debate as possible.

The Jewish agency, while silent in debate so far, yesterday submitted a memorandum on trusteeship to the U.N. in which they attacked the earlier American blueprint from every angle. This was not unexpected but some of the points raised are interesting.

The memorandum says in one place: "The (U.N.) trusteeship system is designed either for the government of territories whose inhabitants are not yet sufficiently advanced to operate self-governing institutions or for strategic areas. To apply it to Palestine is thus to pervert its true function and to involve the system itself in the discredit arising from inevitable disorder. The movement to set aside the resolution of the General Assembly has already weakened its moral authority, and has revealed the Security Council as a body unable either to secure charter observance or to resist aggression. It is now proposed to embroil the trusteeship council in an effort to subject nature populations, placed by the General Assembly on the threshold of statehood, to outside rule of indefinite duration."

And further on: "The character of Palestine arising from its unique historical associations and its special relation to the purposes of Jewish national rehabilitation and freedom has been acknowledged on innumerable occasions by the United States through presidential and congressional statements. Indeed its acceptance forms the cornerstone of the United States policy on Palestine as hitherto expressed."

On continuation of the British mandate: "The British Government, if it at all complied with American pressure in this regard, would have to fight its own public for the 'right' to remain in Palestine and sustain a burden which the British people passionately long to relinquish . . . even if there is Arab acquiescence in trusteeship on immediate tractical grounds, it must, by the very logic of Arab national sentiment, be short-lived."

500 Families Homeless In Prairie Flood

WINNIPEG, April 24 (CP). — Flood-stricken areas in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba waited to-day for the "crisis" stage to see whether the situation would ease or worsen.

More than 500 families were rendered homeless in the Drumheller Valley district of Alberta alone by the floods. The Red River winding through the coal region reached a 30-year peak Wednesday, subsided a little on Thursday during the day, and began to rise again at night.

Two dams gave way at Saskatchewan points with one of the breaks spilling an estimated 7,500,000 gallons of water over the countryside. In Manitoba, the town of Emerson on the Minnesota border sent out a call for Red Cross aid as the Red River pushed beyond its banks.

For the majority of Prairie points in the pathway of flood waters, it had been predicted that the zero hour would be reached on Friday.

Although the Drumheller district was plagued with the flood threat, other sections of Alberta apparently had a lessening of the flood danger. At the town of Drumheller and at nearby Wayne block of ice weighing as much as a ton littered the streets.

Gets Three Million When Reaches 35

LONDON, Ont., April 24 (CP) —John Leonard Smallman, 14-year-old student at Ridley College, St. Catharines, will receive the entire residue principal of the $2,800,000 estate of his grand-aunt, Mirs. Eleanor Morgan, when he reaches 35, details of the will revealed today.

Announcement that Smallman was the chief beneficiary in the estate, making him probably Canada's wealthiest youth, was made a few days ago.

He is the son of the late Thomas Smallman of London, who was aunt, Mrs. Eleanor Morgan, when he was a baby. "Tom" Smallman was the only child of John E. Smallman of London, internationally-known sportsman and owner of the Medway stable of running horses.

Mrs. Morgan, who died here in January, was a sister of John E. Smallman.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LEADING A LIABILITY

HAVING the lead is sometimes an advantage, but on other occasions it may be a distinct liability. That is especially true if you are obliged to lead away from some honor which is not in direct sequence with other honors in your own hand or your partner's. Your lead may present the declarer or dummy with a trick which would be impossible for him to score otherwise, and incidentally beats you or your partner out of the value of some trick-taker. That's why in many situations it is better to lead a suit containing no high cards in preference to jeopardizing honors in other suits.

(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 NT
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠

This deal is a clear illustration of one of the ways in which fine players get some of their good scores. We mean by gifts—a type of gifts received by them with fair frequency and seldom given by them to the other fellow. The recipient in this instance was Theodore A. Lightner, one of the world's top performers, who not only can be counted on generally to strike all possible licks for his own side, but seldom aids the opponents.

West's opening lead of the heart 10 proved worth one trick to him. East had to use the A to keep the J from winning—all of which assured that the K would be a later trick-taker. Then East solved the only problem in the hand for the declarer by returning the diamond 7, which obliged the Q to play in order to force the A. You can see now that Mr. Lightner could not help taking all the rest of the tricks, for two extras.

If the sounder lead of the club 9 had been made and the declarer had to lead hearts himself, he would be sure to lose two tricks in that suit. And if the diamond Q had to be searched out by a finesse, a wrong guess could cause loss of a third trick. Some Souths managed to make only 4-Hearts on this, and others guessed the diamonds to make one extra. But Mr. Lightner was the only one to take twelve tricks—due, as he said, solely to the way the defenders helped, aided and assisted him.

* * *

Your Week-End Question

If you have no trumps remaining in the dummy to lead through the tenace of a doubler to your own honors, what other three ways are there for you to accomplish the same general purpose toward the end of the play?

6—In Memoriam

CHAPMAN — In loving memory of Mrs. Jane Chapman, who passed away one year ago today.
Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just, to the end of her days;
Sincere and true in her heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.
—Ever remembered by Mr. and Mrs. George Foster and family.

On Active Service

ROGOW—In loving memory of Sgt. Samuel Rogow, killed in Cape De Madeline, Quebec, April 25, 1942.
He little thought when leaving home
He would no more return;
That he in death so soon would sleep
And leave us here to mourn.
We do not know what pain he bore,
We did not see him die,
We only know he passed away
And never said good-bye.
—Ever remembered by mother, dad and family.

7—Cards of Thanks

Mrs. Charles Munden and family gratefully thank friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy and beautiful floral remembrances at the time of their recent sad bereavement. They especially wish to thank the Rev. Wm. E. Kibblewhite of All Saints' Church for his words of comfort, also those who lent cars or assisted in any way.

Industrialist S. J. Moore Dies In Toronto

TORONTO, April 24—(CP).—Samuel John Moore, 98, who introduced the carbon-paper counter sales book to retail business and used the proceeds to build an industrial empire, died here yesterday.

He insisted on remaining in Canada although his Moore Corporation Ltd., controlled manufacture of filing systems, business forms, paper boxes, commercial machinery and equipment through factories from Montreal to California. Assets of the corporation totalled $23,000,000 in 1946.

The "Moore group" in 1946 comprised the American Sales Book-Gilman Fanfold Division, Niagara Falls and Elmira, NY; Pacific Manifold Book Division, Emeryville and Los Angeles, Calif.; Southern Division, Denton, Texas; Midwest Cosby-Wirth Division, Minneapolis, Minn.; Moore Business Forms Western Ltd., Winnipeg and Vancouver; F. N. Burt Co. Inc., Buffalo, NY; Dominion Paper Box Co. Ltd., Toronto; Kidder Press Co. Inc., Dover, NH.

Loved Printing

Born in England, Mr. Moore came to Canada with his parents in the late '60's. Love of printing, learned at the case as an apprentice on the old Barrie Gazette during the '70's, led him to Toronto and he became associated with the humorous weekly, Grip, long defunct. He rose to publisher and manager of the Crusading paper and a close friend of its editor and chief cartoonist, the late J. W. Bengough.

Mr. Moore always insisted the carbon paper sales book idea stemmed from a suggestion by John Carter, a friend who worked as a sales clerk here. A simple sales book in which a single sheet of carbon paper could be inserted between pages to give both customer and proprietor a permanent record of purchase seemed certain to improve retail selling procedure.

The short, white-moustached Mr. Moore was a prominent layman in the Baptist Church. For 30 years he was leader of the Dovercourt Road Baptist Church Sunday School in Toronto and he never allowed business demands to interfere with his church duties.

Surviving besides his widow are a son and three daughters, all of Toronto, and one granddaughter, Matilda Findlay, a missionary in Bolivia.

COUNTY FARM NOTES

By HARRY THEOBALD

J. J. McCague Cow Sets New World Record In Milk Production . . . Artificial Cattle Breeding Unit Begins Here April 28

WORLD CHAMPION COW

A new world record for milk production in the 305 day (10 months) class on three-times-a-day milking has been completed by a Canadian Holstein. She is Montvic Hiemke Abbekerk, owned by J. J. E. McCague, Alliston, and her 305 day record made as a six-year-old is 28,243 lbs. milk containing 980 lbs. fat. Particular attention is focused on this record since in most well ordered dairy farms every effort is made to have the cows freshen approximately once a year and production records thus come in the 10 months class. Actually Montvic Hiemke Abbekerk calved just 355 days after the start of her record-breaking lactation, and adding still further lustre to her achievement is the fact that she was carrying twin calves, a bull and a heifer, while on test.

Continued on test for 336 days, Hiemke Abbekerk produced 28,819 lbs. milk containing 1,008 lbs. fat. Her 305 day fat production of 980 lbs. is a new North American record for the Holstein breed in the mature class and replaces as Canadian champion over all breeds the Ayrshire Nellie Osborne of Elm Shade 16th with her record of 909 lbs. fat from 21,241 lbs. milk. The displaced world champion milk producer for 305 days is the USA Holstein, Homstafa Bess Pontias Ollie with 27,615 lbs. milk.

Just a month ago Lynn Pabst Susie owned by Herman K. Bodkin, St. Thomas, established a new Canadian record for the Holstein breed in this class with 887 lbs. fat which, of course, is now replaced by that of Montvic Hiemke Abbekerk.

The former Canadian champion for milk production was Canary Korndyke Alcartra owned by B. H. Thomson, Moose Jaw, Sask. who made her record of 26,396 lbs. milk containing 1,080 lbs. fat back in 1928 as a senior four-year-old. Incidentally she and Abegweit Milady owned by Premier J. Walter Jones of Prince Edward Island, are the only two Canadian cows to exceed the fat record of Montvic Hiemke Abbekerk for 305 days. Milady made her record of 1,085 lbs. fat as a junior four-year-old on three-time-a-day milking.

The new champion comes by her producing ability honestly, being a daughter of the $18,000 sire Raymondale Ideal Successor and thus a paternal sister of the five times All-Canadian bull "Marksman" and of Montvic Hiemke Rag Apple Patsy the world champion butterfat producer in the senior four-year-old class of the 365 day division on three-times-a-day milking with her record of 1,163 lbs. fat from 24,466 lbs. milk. A two-year-old daughter of Montvic Hiemke Abbekerk was the top female at the 1947 All-Canadian Sale bringing $3,550 on the bid of Roselawn Farms, Richmond Hill.

COMPETITION IN OATS

Hasting County Crop Improvement Association is sponsoring a "100 bushels of oats competition." Conditions call for at least 15 farmers entering, the total to be limited to 30. Entries must be placed with A. O. Dalrymple, agricultural representative, prior to June 1. Farmers must have a minimum of five acres of any variety. Yields will be determined by taking rod lengths at random in each field, and will be sent to the OAC for threshing.

✦ ✦ ✦

CORN PICKER PROPOSAL.

J. D. Steckley of Blenheim, who spoke here on hybrid corn during Farmers' Week in March, writes to F. C. Paterson that "if you could arrange for 300 acreage of corn we would have a picker sent in to pick this corn at a cost to the farmer of $4.50 an acre."

Peterborough farmers interested in planting some hybrid corn this season are asked to notify Mr. Paterson if they wish to avail themselves of the harvesting proposal.

✦ ✦ ✦

30 IN CALF CLUB

Peterborough Junior Farmers have done a fine job of recruiting boys and girls for a calf club project. They have enrolled 30 members, with several others who may join. The roll is not yet closed, but only a few days are left for young people who are thinking of taking part in the club program this season.

✦ ✦ ✦

HEAVY DEMAND FOR TREES

Distribution of forest trees in Peterborough county from the Ontario government's nursery at Orono will begin next week or during the first week in May. Wm. A. Anderson of Otonabee, informed the Examiner today.

"Some of the people who placed their orders prior to Jan. 15 last, the closing date for acceptance, are wondering about deliveries, and have been a little impatient of late," Mr. Anderson said. "The explanation which I have received is that large Departmental projects have to be filled, and orders for southern areas will be attended to before there is packing at Orono for our own section. We are regarded as in between the north and the south.

There is also to be transfers of stock from other nurseries of the Department because there has been a tremendous demand this year. All this takes time for orderly delivery, and Peterborough will get its share within the next two weeks We may not receive all we expected because applications are to be cut so that there may be equalization in deliveries."

Mr. Anderson said that Orono was deluged with orders, indicating the growing interest in reforestation.

✦ ✦ ✦

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Friends of Mr. J. Gordon Mann of Smith will be pleased to know that he is home again from Civic Hospital and able to be around in the spring sunshine. He met with an accident in Peterborough towards the end of winter, developed pneumonia and at one time was critically ill.

✦ ✦ ✦

DUTCH THOROUGHNESS

If the work of Hollanders who are coming to Canada as new citizens is of the same uniform quality as that of the 14 cases of nursery stock received by G. M German, they are bound to be an asset to this country. That was an opinion of Mrs. W. A. Young of Smith who saw the shrubs, evergreens, perennials, roots and other items when they were examined this week by two inspectors of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Each case weighed three tons, suggesting the quantity of the stock, and the individual shrubs and perennials were wrapped in black silk. Earth in burlap contained the roots. The consignment was a month in transit, arrived in fine condition, and inspectors found the whole order in perfect condition. The thoroughness of the packing impressed Mrs. Young as eloquent example of Dutch efficiency.

✦ ✦ ✦

SELL AYRSHIRE BULL

W. Clarence Mann and R. S. McMullen of Smith have sold their Ayrshire bull, "Marcon Danny Boy" to the Maple Cattle Breeders Association. He is seven years old and will be delivered to the association May 1. The Maple breeders are organizing an Ayrshire branch of their artificial insemination unit.

Stanley Wood of Otonabee has sold a Holstein bull to the Belleville artificial insemination group.

✦ ✦ ✦

FEDERATION DISAPPOINTED.

Federation of Agriculture was disappointed in their plans for a meeting at which a speaker was expected from Belleville to discuss farm income tax. The hall was arranged for, but the request for a representative from the income department office at Belleville failed and the meeting had to be abandoned.

✦ ✦ ✦

ECONOMY OF PASTURE

The cost of producing a ton of digestible nutrients from various crops in Ontario has been estimated as follows:—mixed pasture, $5.66; bluegrass pasture, $7.57; oats and Sudan grass pasture, 7.79; alfalfa hay, $11.85; clover hay, $13.50; timothy, $13.61; corn silage, $19.16; and oats (grain only) $36.81.

These cost figures by Dr. H. D. Branion, head of the department of animal nutrition, OAC, are quoted by Farmers' Advocate in an article headed "Pasture—The Weakest Link in Eastern Canada Agriculture."

Digestible nutrients are not a complete measure of nutritive value, but it is evident that pasture is far ahead of other crops in producing feed for live stock at the lowest cost.

Dr. Branion says the digestibility of pasture is about 83% as compared with 52% for hay. It is comparatively high in protein—16 to 25% on the average, about twice that in corresponding hay. There is no loss in curing, which in hay may amount to 50% or more.

✦ ✦ ✦

FOR CLEAN WOOL.

The approach of shearing time prompts several practical suggestions by Mr. A. H. Radford of G. Whitaker Co. to farmers who are about to clip their sheep. The floor of the barn or the shearing pen should be swept clean to keep chaff and other foreign matter out of the wool. Bags in which the clip is to be packed should be at least shaken out. Fleece should go to market in the condition that will rate top prices. It should be free of straw, burrs, seeds, manure tags.

Instructions to producers recommend separate packing and labelling of black or grey leg and face clippings and other wool regarded as undesirable. Roll and tie each shorn fleece separately "with the 'flesh' side out. Fold each side of the fleece one-third over, then roll tightly from breech to neck. Tie with standard paper fleece twine."

The purpose of this advice is to strive for quality of the raw product as it comes from the farm. The cleaner the wool, the better its prospect of higher grading.

The Lennox-Addington paragraph in this week's report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture mentions a decline in the sheep population of that section. A wool gatherer for Whitaker Company recently was told by a farmer near Ivanhoe in centre Hastings that loss of seven or eight of his sheep, killed by dogs, that this ravaging of flocks was forcing him out of sheep raising.

The number of Peterborough sheep has not decreased much, Allan B. Mann of Bridgenorth commented. "Farmers have been expanding into the dairy business, and sheep and cattle don't go well together. The ceiling on wool remains in effect, and there is a feeling that the price might have been higher. The price of lamb is all right. Dogs are a menace, but the township licensing has been a check on them. The fee for tags probably amounts to more than the indemnity paid by the municipality for sheep killed by dogs, but if a flock has been attacked they don't do so well for some time. However, apart from these influences I think the industry is holding up fairly well in our own county."

ESSAY WINNERS

Results of the essay contest for rural school children on the subject: "My Visit to the Seed Fair" are announced by F. C. Paterson.

The composition of David Stewart of Stewart's Hall, Otonabee, was judged the best of the entries. His prize was three-bushels of registered Beaver oats and 300 lbs. of fertilizer.

An individual prize of one bushel of registered Beaver and 100 lbs. of fertilizer was allotted to each school. The winners were:

Condon's school, Douro: John Moher.

Milburn's school, Smith: Frank Sanderson.

Mather's Corners, Otonabee: James Doris.

Warsaw village: Gerald Hampton; Woodview, Otonabee, Sheila Petrie; Zion, Otonabee, Donnie Kindred; Coldsprings, Otonabee, Ralph Platte; Elmvale, South Monaghan, Grant Thorn; Young's Point, Smith, Ruth Dewdney; Lily Lake, Smith, Betty Finley; Douro village, Phyllis Tripp; Villiers, Otonabee, Gordon Hope; Fairmount, Cavan, Betty McIndoo; Moher's school, Douro, Michael J. Murphy.

Prizes were contributed by Quaker Oats Co., Dewart Milling Co. and Peterborough District Co-Op. Winners are asked to call for them at Dewart's before April 30.

✦ ✦ ✦

PLAN BUS TRIP

Peterborough Jersey cattle breeders are going on a bus tour during the last week of May. The date has not yet been fixed, but the route is tentatively toward Ontario county, visiting the Maple cattle breeders' headquarters and calling at some of the farms on the way. The Jersey breeders at their meeting Wednesday night also began arrangements for their section of the parish show at Millbrook in June.

✦ ✦ ✦

PERENNIAL RYE GRASS

Perennial rye grass should be used cautiously in pasture mixtures, says Mr. E. McWilliam of Dewart Milling.

"This valuable grass is one of our most abused, falsely advertised and misplaced grasses in our pasture improvement program.

It has been widely grown in Europe, New Zealand and areas of Australia for many generations and obtained its name in England In these moderate climates it is a true perennial, and will continue to produce heavy yields of succulent pasture for many year.

Perennial rye grass was introduced into Canada by the early British settlers, but never assumed importance until the last ten or twelve years with the advent of the so-called permanen. pasture mixtures.

Botanically speaking it is a true perennial, but due to our severe winters is short lived. Canadian agranomists have not as yet produced a type that will not severely winter kill. Dr. G. P. McRostie, head of the Field Husbandry Dept. OAC, estimates that the average rate of survival is one-tenth of one per cent within two winter seasons.

It can readily be seen by this rapid rate of winter killing, the use of this grass has severe limitations. Its most important use is to replace a nurse crop, where pasture is wanted immediately. It grows very rapidly producing abundant pasture in six to eight weeks after planting. It grows very rapidly producing abundant pasture in six to eight weeks after planting, but will largely winter kill the first winter, and completely so the second.

The great danger to farmers is the fact that a great many permanent pasture mixtures on the market today contain a large proportion of this grass. First results are very gratifying, but as the years pass, the stand becomes thin and a rough weedy pasture results.

Due to the cost of seeding down improved pastures, all farmers would be well advised to ascertain the proportions of perennial rye grass in the mixture. If it constitutes a considerable bulk of the seed mixture, the resulting pasture will prove to be short lived, patchy, and consequently much too expensive."

✦ ✦ ✦

CORN IN ROTATION

In the crop sequence of oats, wheat, clover and corn at the Ohio agricultural experiment station, the corn averaged 66 bus. an acre. But, in otherwise comparable plots it averaged 78 .bus. in the rotation, wheat, alfalfa, alfalfa, corn.

The corn plant, is peculiarly fitted to capitalize on the residues of meadow crops, especially those made up largely of alfalfa and other legumes, according to Hoard's Dairymen. On a tight, surface-sealing soil, the meadow crops contribute to better soil granulation, thereby increasing its capacity to take in and hold moisture.

Timothy, orchard grass and brome with their many fibrous roots are most valuable in this in this respect, but the total effect for corn will be better if grasses are mixed with deep rooted legumes. Corn usually follows itself poorly in rotation. Where circumstances seem to demand this practice, however, a plow-down crop planted in the growing corn the first year often benefits the corn in the next year. A mixture of domestic rye grass and sweet clover broadcast immediately following the last cultivation when the corn is kneehigh or smaller has been a successful plow-down crop in the eastern corn belt.

"The value of plowing down heavy manure applications for corn is well known. It cannot be maintained, however, that all the manure should be given directly to the corn crop. A new clover seeding will use manure very efficiently in the production of a bigger clover crop, though sometimes more weedy. The residue left by the clover for the following crop will be so much better because of the manure application that the corn will thereby make up much of the loss attributable to its having no direct manure application. Thus in a rotation where corn follows clover, placing the manure on a new clover seeding that needs it, as compared with plowing the manure down for a expense of two or three bushels of corn. . .

The ideal corn soil is reasonably deep, with good drainage, high moisture intake and holding capacity, generously supplied with decomposed or at least decomposing organic matter, and with the essential minerals, especially nitrogen.

FARM HELP A PROBLEM

Farm help was reported as scarce as at any other time during the last three years at the regional labor meeting held Wednesday at the office of F. C. Paterson, agricultural representative.

Some slackening of factory employment has been noted since midwinter, but outdoor work will require a large number of men throughout the province in the building season now beginning.

Housing, Hydro, construction of industrial plants, road development and the erection of stores and offices represent a broad field of employment. Farmers generally are unable to meet the wage competition in and out of factories, and it was said that apparently few men are likely to be available for the season's agricultural program.

Immigration is continuing from Europe, including families from Holland. To provide them with domestic accommodation, preference in applications is given to farmers with separate houses for help. It is expected that assisted transfer of farm workers from the west will be encouraged by the Dominion government, with a reverse movement from the east for the grain harvest in the fall.

Peterborough will need around 100 westerners, about the same number as two years ago. Most of the other counties in Central Ontario indicate the same need of farm labor.

GORDON LAPLANTE APPOINTED

Artificial insemination of dairy cattle begins in this county Wednesday, April 28, probably an epochal agricultural event in Peterborough. The ground work has been completed by the Maple Cattle Breeders' Association, whose prompt attention to details has impressed the members of its local branch.

Gordon LaPlante has been appointed the local representative of the breeding unit. Complete information is being sent to local members in a circular letter explaining arrangements and generally giving instructions in every day affairs of the association. Mr. LaPlante has been employed in the Lindsay district, but it is understood that he formerly lived in Peterborough. The appointment has been made by the Maple association. Mr. LaPlante has taken a week's course at Guelph, and Dr. Reeds, veterinary at Maple, is coming to Peterborough to help him in the preliminary work. The Victoria county branch got under way Wednesday this week.

For the first few weeks attention is confined to the Holstein breed, but it is expected that the service will be extended to Ayrshires and Jerseys by the middle of next month.

✦ ✦ ✦

PICNIC JUNE 5

Milton Clark emphasizes this calendar fact: only six weeks to the Peterborough Federation picnic, Saturday, June 6. It is a reminder to farmers and their families to keep that date open, and to the executive and committees it is challenge of early action on arrangements.

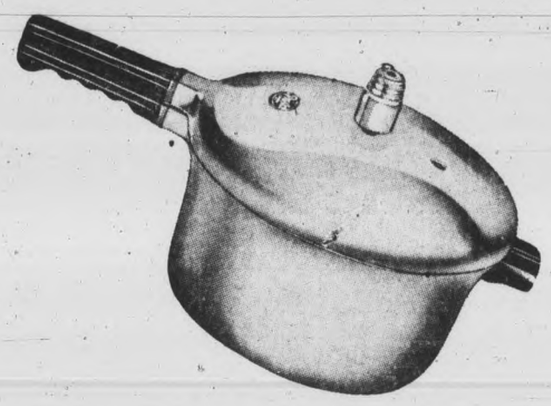
LADINO POULTRY RANGE



Ladino clover provides excellent forage for poultry, although alsike clover has been found satisfactory at the Prince George Dominion Experimental Station, B.C., says W. J. Cuthbert. One acre of range will provide good pasture for 400 to 700 growing birds, depending on the growth and succulence of the forage. Where the crop is poor, nor more than 400 birds should be allowed per acre. Clipping the forage periodically will maintain it in a succulent, palatable and nutritious condition.

Cultivated plants, such as sunflowers, provide the most desirable shade, as the ground beneath such permanent shade as trees and shrubs will become contaminated, and is difficult to keep clean. Feed hoppers and water fountains should be placed on wire frames to prevent the birds from picking food from the contaminated ground underneath.

NEWCOMERS WELCOMED — Mr. and Mrs. J. Poortinga, immigrants from Holland, are greeted at Dunnville by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Miller, to whose nearby farm the Poortingas and their five children are going.

Can't Reach Agreement On Rail Pay

Railway Union Leader Says Committee May Ask Strike Vote

OTTAWA, April 26—(CP)—A conciliation board established to deal with demands of railway employees for general increases of 35 cents an hour has been unable to bring about a settlement of the wage dispute, Labor Minister Mitchell announced today.

A majority report of the Board, signed by Mr. Justice J. C. A. Cameron, chairman, and Paul S. Smith of Montreal, employers' representative, recommended that the employees be granted a general increase of seven cents an hour, effective April 8. The employees' representative, Samuel Baron of Montreal, urged general wage increases of 20 cents an hour.

Approximately 28,000 employees of Canadian National Railways, Canadian Pacific Railway, their jointly-owned or operated properties and the Ontario Northland Railway, are affected in the dispute. The employees are represented by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and Other Transport Workers (CCL).

May Call Strike Vote

MONTREAL, April 26 (CP)—Frank H. Hall, Railway Unions' negotiation leader, said today the committee representing 18 brotherhoods involved will deal with the majority report of a board of conciliation and expressed the opinion the committee will call for a strike vote.

Mr. Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee for all the international brotherhoods, described as "entirely inadequate" the majority report's recommendation of a seven-cent hourly increase.

The men asked for 35 cents increase and a minority report recommended 20 cents.

He said the majority report will be rejected formally by the brotherhoods and after that "anything can happen."

Yugoslav Kills British Officer

BELGRADE, April 26 (Reuters)—Tanjug News Agency said today that a British army lieutenant, whose name was given as John Edmond Burke, was shot and killed by a Yugoslav frontier guard on Yugoslav territory about 120 yards from the Austrian frontier yesterday.

The Yugoslav news agency said the shooting occurred after two British soldiers and a woman were arrested outside a frontier post.

Tanjug alleged that while one guard was phoning a report of the arrests, one of the British soldiers —an officer— attacked the other guard and tried to seize his rifle.

The other Briton—a warrant officer—went towards the Yugoslav guard and the British officer who were struggling, but stopped on orders from a guard who had come out of the telephone box.

The British officer, Tanjug alleged jumped to his feet and seized the Yugoslav guard by the throat. Then the other guard shot him dead.

U.N. Assembly Votes To Protect Jerusalem City

LAKE SUCCESS, April 26 — (CP). — The United Nations Assembly to-day moved for immediate action to protect Jerusalem. The action was taken by 46 to 0 ballot in an emergency sitting of the Assembly in plenary session.

The Assembly proper was in session only five minuaes. It approved a French request calling on the trusteeship council to devise immediate plans to safeguard the Holy City and its inhabitants.

The same 58 delegates sat as the plenary Assembly just after the political committee had accepted the plan 44 to 3. Russia, the Soviet Ukraine, and White Russia voted in opposition in committee on the grounds that the Assembly itself should institute the measures. In the final Assembly vote, Russia abstained.

An impasse developed over which UN organ should handle the problem of safeguarding Jerusalem. Russia's Andrei Gromyko objected to passing the issue to the trusteeship council, where the pro-partition Soviet Union suddenly ended her boycott yesterday. Rather, he said, an Assembly sub-committee should study the immediate crisis of Jerusalem.

Soon after the United States made known its intention to support a French proposal to protect the Holy places of Jerusalem from further harm in the Palestine strife, the Soviet Union yesterday ended its 13-month boycott of the Trusteeship Council.

The Russian move was interpreted as an effort to gain a full voice in the debates on Palestine and clear the way for participation of Soviet troops in any international police force which might be sent in connection with a trusteeship.

Leafs Trade Morris Stanowski To Rangers

NEW YORK, April 27.—(CP).—New York Rangers today announced a four-for-two trade with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League.

The Rangers said they were getting defenceman Elwyn Morris and Wally Stanowski from the Leafs in return for Bill Juzda, Rene Trudell and Cal Gardner of the New York team as well as a yet-unnamed amateur.

Chief Interrupts Haircut To Nab Two Bank Bandits

TORONTO, April 26—(CP).—Two armed masked youths ran into trouble when they tried to hold up the Royal Bank at Cooksville, 10 miles southwest, just before 9 a.m. today. Both are now in jail. Police Chief Garnet McGill jumped from a barber's chair in a shop next to the bank to nab the two when he heard girl employees of the bank scream.

McGill rushed at a man running from the back of the bank with a gun, shouted "Hand me that gun," and received the weapon just before he saw a second man. He shouted to the second man to stop. The man obeyed, dropping two guns as he raised his hands.

The pair, who bound three of the bank staff and forced a fourth to open the vault, gave their names as Gerald Whellwright, 17, of Hamilton, and Victor Vincent, 22, of Montreal.

There were remanded for one week.

Police believe the men waited in the building all night and had pounced on the employees after the bank opened.

Arrest Man 21 In Murder Case

WINDSOR, April 26.—(CP).—John Tarcea, 21, of Windsor, was charged with the murder of Rheinder (Dutch) Kuindersma, 22. The victim had been a boarder at the Tarcea home for a year before his disappearance a week ago. Tarcea was remanded one week.

Tarcea's counsel said police had a 30-page typewritten statement which they ascribed to Tarcea, but which was not signed. He said he was told that a shorthand report had been made of conversations Tarcea held with police.

Although Tarcea told police last week that he did not see Kuindersma after Friday, April 16, when Kuindersma said he was going to Detroit for the week-end, Tarcea was today charged with murdering Kuindersma "on or about April 19."

Tarcea was dressed in a tan working shirt and overalls when he appeared in court today.

Dives In River Rescues Child

FORT ERIE April 26 —(CP)—Don Murray, 18-year-old Winnipeg youth may be rewarded for his sensational rescue of a six-year-old girl who fell 20 feet from a pier into swift Niagara river waters here yesterday.

Murray, visiting Fort Erie, heard Susan Brady scream as she fell into the deep water. He sprinted 100 yards along the river retaining wall dived 20 feet and handed the girl to her mother. Then he quietly disappeared into the crowd.

A short time later William Malkin located the westerner and insisted that he give his name to Fort Erie police so steps could be taken to reward him.

Quadruplets Are Born To Detroit Parents

DETROIT, April 26 — (AP) — Quadruplets were born 10 weeks prematurely today to Mrs. Anna Borg, 30-year-old wife of an automobile assembly line worker.

Dr. Edward D. King, who delivered the three girls and one boy, had them placed immediately in incubators. He estimated their weight at 1½ to 1¾ pounds and said they were "doing fine." He reported the mother's condition as "very good."

"Gee, nobody is more surprised than I am," said the father, Joseph, who was at the hospital while the babies were being born.

Irgun Pounds Arab Jaffa; Battle Rages

Ignore Hagana Advice Press Attack; Jewish Air Service Cut

TEL AVIV, April 26. (AP)—Heavy mortar fire from the No Man's Land toward Arab Jaffa began shaking Jewish Tel Aviv at 11 a.m. today. The sound of gunfire indicated heavy fighting had broken out anew. There still was no official information, however, on the progress of an attack upon the Arab city launched early yesterday by Jewish underground fighters.

Irgun Zvai Leumi, underground army, undertook the operation from this prospective capital of Jewish Palestine against the advice of Hagana, army of the Jewish agency. An estimated 1,000 men took part — the biggest strength, said Tel Aviv people, Irgun yet has shown.

High Irgun officers told reporters last night Arab defenders had fallen back into the middle of Jaffa, a neighboring city of 95,000, and Irgun soldiers were going on with the attack. Earlier, Hebrew newspapers said the drive had carried a mile into Jaffa's frontier Manshieh quarter.

Other courses said the underground assault had stalled on running up against British troops with mechanized equipment. They said the British authorities had told Hagana Tel Aviv would be shelled unless Irgun fell back into the No Man's Land between the cities.

Air Service Cut

Air passenger and mail service for Palestine's Jews was cut when the Arabs took over Lydda airport 10 miles southeast of Jaffa following British withdrawal at dawn yesterday

Midway between Tel Aviv and the port of Haifa to the north, the British forces withdrew from a little military airfield at Ein Shemer and Hagan occupied the field.

Haifa itself, with a mixed population of 130,000 fell under control of Hagana Thursday after a two-day attack in which Irgun helped The Arab inhabitants began moving out.

Irgun, commanded by the Polish Jew Menachem Beigin, said in a communique it began the Jaffa attack "to stop incessant attacks on Tel Aviv from there."

In preparing the offensive, Irgun stole 100 trucks Saturday and pulled in its men from other parts of Palestine. (Arabs in Damascus said the force numbered 3,000.) Early yesterday Irgunists in civilian clothes with armbands blocked off streets to Jaffa and began traffic control through all southern Tel Aviv.

Uniformed fighters launched the attack. A heavy mortar barrage preceded it.

140 Arabs Escape

JERUSALEM, April 26.—(AP).—The British army said 140 Arab prisoners escaped Acre prison today in a riot which followed the mortar-shelling of the prison by Arabs on a nearby hill.

Kill Penitentiary Messenger While Escaping From Prison

KINGSTON, April 26 — (CP). — Two armed convicts won only four hours of freedom today in a daring escape in which they shot and killed a Kingston Penitentiary messenger. The pair—Howard Urquhart and Austin Craft—were returned to penitentiary about 1:30 p.m. after they were recaptured by half a dozen heavily-armed prison guards in a swampy area near Sydenham, 15 miles northeast of Kingston.

They offered no resistance when they were recaptured and quickly obeyed an order to drop their guns. They were wandering aimlessly not far from where they had abandoned the penitentiary car in which they made their escape.

About 100 persons took part in the Sydenham area search, touched off when the escape-auto was found abandoned on a dead-end street. Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Provincial Police and prison guards were aided by local residents, armed with shotguns.

As they were being taken back through the prison gate from which they made their escape about 9:30 a.m., Urquhart turned to newspaper men, grinned and shrugged his shoulders.

They had made their break in an auto driven by the messenger, John D. (Jack) Kennedy, who was shot and killed. Urquhart was believed to have been hiding in the trunk and Craft in the back seat.

Shot Three Times

Just as Kennedy was driving the auto through the main, heavily-barred gate of the prison one of the convicts—believed to have been Craft—opened fire. Kennedy was shot three times in the body and dumped from the auto. Two shots were fired at a guard named Barrett, who was at the gate. The shots missed him.

When the car was found at Sydenham one headlight was smashed and it had a flat tire. Three empty cartridges were found inside.

A farmer reported seeing two men leave the car and head for a swamp. The first searchers at the scene found footprints leading into the swamp.

Just a few minutes before the escape car sped along the highway near Sydenham at 65 miles an hour, a road block had been moved while a telephone work crew did some blasting.

Reports Escape

Warden R. M. Allan, who described the pair as "armed and dangerous", said he had reported

Peterborough Doctor Brother Of Man Killed By Two Kingston Convicts In Escape Dash

John D. Kennedy, the Kingston messenger who was murdered by two convicts, was a brother of Dr. M. J. Kennedy, 147 Hunter St., West, Peterborough. An employee at the prison for 40 years, John Kennedy was visited in Kingston by his brother Sunday night.

First word of the tragedy was received by phone this morning from Kingston, when Dr. Kennedy's wife called to report that the brother had been injured. Contacting the prison warden, Dr. Kennedy was advised that his brother had been killed by the convicts.

Police descriptions of the two men were: Urquhart, 21 years old, 5 feet 8¼ inches; sallow complexion; 140 pounds; light brown hair; serving 20 years for murder. Craft, 46 years old; 5 feet 11 inches; 140 pounds; medium complexion; brown hair; serving 10 years for armed robbery.

First reports Peterborough police received indicated three possible routes the escaped men might take when it was learned they had headed north: straight north, branching at Sharbot Lake east, or west, towards Peterborough. Police over the entire area were alerted and road blocks placed at strategic spots.

The possibility of their route leading towards the city was lost when the news was received shortly before noon that the abandoned car had been found near Sydenham, a village about 10 miles north of Kingston. An intensive man-hunt started immediately in the woods and swamps near the village, where it is thought the convicts had taken hiding.

Communists Lose Ground In American Zone Election

FRANKFURT, April 26—(AP).—German Communists ran fourth in community elections yesterday in two American zone states, Bavaria and Hesse. The Communists have lost ground in this area while right wing parties gained. The Communists lost support they enlisted a year ago. Their trouncing apparently reflected German dissatisfaction with Russia's policies in the Soviet occupation zone.

Communists in industrial Hesse polled 162,735 of 2,064,428 votes cast—7.9 per cent. of the vote. A year ago they had 9.3 per cent.

The Communists waged an intensive campaign, promising a unified Germany. The vote showed western Germans were not tempted by a Germany united under Communist rule. They appeared to feel the best way towards a unified country was through right-wing parties.

Hesse's strongest party, the left-of-centre Social Democrats, last year gained 43.2 per cent. of the vote. A similar defeat for Communism was indicated in Bavaria. First returns from that largely agricultural area gave the Communists only 2.7 per cent. of the tabulated vote.

Transjordan Ready To Fight

CAIRO, April 2· — (AP). — A well-informed source said today King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan will lead his British-trained Arab legion against the Jews in Palestine immediately.

This source, one of the best informed in Cairo, said this was decided in a conference of Abdullah with other Arab leaders Saturday. Abdullah would lead the movement in person.

Some 10,000 of Abdullah's soldiers—about two-thirds of the Arab legion—already are in Palestine on security duty with British forces.

Within the last week, Abdullah has conferred with political leaders of neighboring Arab countries. Last Thursday he told reporters in his capital, Amman, that the drive for a Jewish homeland in Palestine endangered Arab peace and liberty.

"I call on all Arab countries," he said then, "to join my army in a movement to Palestine to retain the Arab character of that country."

Trans-Jordan is just across the Jordan River east of Palestine. Britain recognized it as an independent kingdom by a 1946 treaty.

Dominion Cabinet Hears Seven Premiers

OTTAWA, April 26.—(CP).—Laden with bulging brief-cases, premiers of seven provinces went before the Dominion cabinet at 11 a.m. today to present their arguments for the withdrawal of freight-rate increases from the railways.

The premiers—from all provinces except Ontario and Quebec—met the ministers in Parliament's east block. Prime Minister Mackenzie King headed the cabinet contingent.

Premier Macdonald of Nova Scotia, chairman of the premiers' conference, said it would take at least two hours to complete the provincial presentation

4 Safecrackers Said Trapped

PICTON, April 26 — (CP). — County and Provincial Police were closing in today on Webster's Woods, five miles southwest of here, where they believe they have trapped four men who carted off the safe of the Picton Brewers' Warehouse early today.

The men were reported to have fled into the woods after Police Constable Marvin fired a shot at an automobile which failed to stop. All roads out of Prince Edward county had been blocked.

About $1,000 in cash along with some jewellery and personal papers belonging to Manager William Purtelle were taken from the strongbox. The safe was found on the highway, blown apart, and the stolen truck used to cart it off was found abandoned nearby.

The men had apparently abandoned the truck after blowing the safe and planned to make their getaway in an automobile.

Royal Anniversary Biggest 1948 Event

Hundreds of Londoners Enjoy Glitter and Pageantry of Drive and Abbey Ceremony

LONDON, April 26 (CP)—Under the great dome of St. Paul's Cathedral, away from the cheers of the multitude and a sea of waving flags, the King and Queen today gave thanks for 25 years of happy marriage.

Bands, carriages, booming guns and the white-plumed Guardsmen made it the biggest state celebration since Princess Elizabeth's wedding — but the rejoicing of millions of loyal subjects made it the biggest family day of the year.

Rooftops throughout the length of the Strand, Fleet Street and Ludgate Hill were jammed with cheering spectators, sidewalks presented a solid mass of humanity.

Within the huge cathedral, flanked on every side by members of their family and the highest dignitaries of the land, the King and Queen sat in high, red-plushed chairs directly facing the high altar.

Pomp, pageantry, affection and rejoicing mingled in the stirring church ceremonial conducted by Very Rev. J. W. C. Wand, Bishop of London.

Later the packed congregation heard Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, say of the King and Queen:

Queen Radiant

"The evidence and example of their steadfastness, rooted in the serenity of a happy home life and expressed in the selfless service to their people, has steadied and encouraged the whole nation and has stood as a living symbol in our midst of these simple sanctities wherein a man's true life consists."

The Queen, who smiled radiantly as she did when she was married in Westminster Abbey in 1923, sat on the right of the naval-uniformed King. The Queen wore a full-length dress of silver-grey crepe with its grey crystals sparkling in the sunshine.

The arrival of the King and Queen was signalled by a silvery battery of trumpets sounded by trumpeters of the household cavalry standing on the west steps.

As the royal party, preceded by church dignitaries, entered the cathedral, notes of welcome were echoed by trumpeters of the royal military school of music.

Four heralds in scarlet and gilt cassocks imparted a blaze of color to the triumphal procession approaching the altar.

The King and Queen knelt several minutes while the anthem "I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me" was sung.

Family Present

A short distance behind sat Queen Mary, in a shimmering sea-green dress and traditional high toque, with Princess Margaret next to her in a gown of forget-me-not blue.

Princess Elizabeth, serene in a china blue thick-ribbed silk gown, sat beside her uniformed husband, Prince Philip. When the organ introduced the hymn "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven" the Princess smiled happily at Philip.

When the Archbishop of Canterbury referred to the royal family's "steadfast example" of family life, Queen Mary glanced down with trembling lips. When Princess Margaret touched her arm understandingly, the Queen Mother immediately regained her composure.

The choral and organ music reached a climax in the anthem "Zadex the Priest," composed by Handel for the coronation of George I and repeated at the coronation of the present king in 1937.

Their Majesties exchanged glances of mutual recognition as the first notes were sounded. The last triumphant chord brought the congregation to its feet.

The Bishop of London, in his cape and cloth of gold, blessed the King and Queen with his right hand high.

After their return to Buckingham Palace for the family luncheon, cheers from thousands packed outside brought Their Majesties to the balcony. A minute later they were joined by Princess Elizabeth, Prince Philip, Princess Margaret and Queen Mother Mary.

Announce Palestine Terms

Insist Civil War Truce If Britain To Police

LONDON, April 26.—(CP).—A reliable source said today Britain will not consider, helping police Palestine until Jews and Arabs agree to stop fighting. Britain has so informed the United States.

Britain's League of Nations mandate over the Holy Land ends May 15. Cabinet sources denied a published report that the mandate will be surrendered May 5. There are indications Britain, if her conditions are met, would be willing to help police Palestine after May 15.

Still tentative, the conditions are reported to include:

1. An indefinite Arab-Jewish truce, with both sides agreeing to sanction an international police force.

2. Creation of a temporary trusteeship over Palestine by agreement of the Allied and Associated Powers of the First World War.

3. No attempt to enforce partition at this time.

4. Britain, the United States and France participating in an international force. Some unofficial sources have said the United States would be asked to contribute 50 per cent of the force and France 10, with Britain providing 40 per cent and the United States bearing the major part of the costs

Floods Leave Ghost Town

Run Boats Through Streets In Rescue Work

BIENFAIT, Sask., April 26 — (CP). — The nearby southwestern Saskatchewan mining town of Roche Percee today stands as a ghost town, following a week-end evacuation of residents in the face of rising flood waters.

Except for one man, on watch at the railway station on high ground, Roche Percee, about seven miles south of this near-border town, was completely abandoned

RCMP volunteers Saturday rode the streets of the town in motor-equipped boats to rescue residents trapped in their beds by a sudden avalanche of water which swept down the Souris river from Estevan.

The water swept in on the town at midnight Friday and long before daybreak Saturday the main street was under four feet of water.

Last night, the waters were slowly receding, with a drop of six inches reported during a 12-hour period. The rampaging waters, however, left in their wake hundreds of thousands of dollars in damage to homes and mining equipment.

800 Koreans Arrested After Riot

US Troops Quell Week-End Outbreaks; Civil Law Collapses

KOBE, Japan, April 26 (AP)—United States military police arrested hundreds of Koreans today as an aftermath to week-end riots when outbreaks were quelled by American troops after civil law broke down.

Involving more than 8,000 Koreans here and at nearby Osaka, it was the first major outbreak in Japan since the beginning of the occupation. One official called it a "minor emergency."

Lt.-Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, commanding general of the U.S. Eighth Army, rushed here from his Yokohama headquarters to investigate personally. He promised stern punishment of the leaders.

About 800 Koreans were in custody. No Americans were hurt, but at least 38 Koreans and Japanese were injured.

It was quiet in Kobe today. Military police jeeps, each carrying four American soldiers with rifles, patrolled the streets.

In Osaka, however, the Eighth Army said a large crowd of Koreans massed before the prefectural building while five representatives met with Japanese officials, apparently to confer on their demands, said to involve resentment over the teaching of the Japanese language to Korean students.

Uncivilized Riot

Eichelberger, describing the rioting as "uncivilized," asserted that the Koreans had attempted to take the law into their own hands. He added: "There will be no compromise with subversive mob action."

Intelligence officers in Tokyo said the outbreaks were Communist-inspired. This was denied by a spokesman for the League of Koreans Residing in Japan. He blamed a Japanese interference in Korean schools.

U.S. army headquarters in Tokyo said seven known Japanese Communists were among those arrested.

Two Detectives Are Suspended

TORONTO, April 26—(CP)—Pending investigation of charges of police brutality, Det.-Sgt. Frank Cradduck and Detective Robert McCandless last night were suspended from the Toronto police force.

The investigation sheduled for April 29, second in less than a month, was ordered after Detective William French, an officer with more than 20 years service with the force, said police last December beat Norman J. Wilkins, 42, a prisoner, until he required hospital treatment.

Wilkins now is serving an 18-month term in the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph for armed robbery. He will be brought here for the investigation.

An assault charge has been laid against Constable John Trimble. W. J. Abraham, arrested on a charge of creating a disturbance, accused Trimble of beating him and breaking his jaw.

He was employed as a machinist at the Quaker Oats Company for 35 years and was a member of St. John's Anglican church.

The body is resting at the family residence and will be taken to St. John's Anglican church on Wednesday for service at 2 p.m. The Rev. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake cemetery.

Ten Pay Fines On Liquor Counts

There were 17 cases adjourned or remanded until future dates today by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in one of the heaviest list of court appearance cases in many Monday mornings. Ten cases were dealt with today.

Joseph E. McQueen, Toronto, was sentenced to seven days in jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving. Provincial Constable Archibald Grayling, Havelock, said the accused had run his car off the road into the ditch. There had been no injuries and no other cars were involved.

Harry Meagher, Buckhorn, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for being drunk in public.

Douglas Liberty, 435 McKellar St., paid $15 and $2.50 costs on a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

Edward Hummell, 62 Robinson St., was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for being drunk in public.

John LaRoch, 713 Chamberlain, was fined $14 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to consuming liquor while an interdicted person.

Kenneth Logan, Crawford's Grove, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for creating a disturbance in a George St. restaurant.

An illegal possession of liquor charge brought a fine of $10 and $2.50 costs to Francis Thompson, Tweed.

Mark Crough, 579 Aylmer St., pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance in a dance hall near the city and was fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

Alberta Robinson, 211½ Hunter St. West, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs when she pleaded guilty to being drunk in public.

Norman Bickye, RR 4, Peterborough, paid $10 and $2.50 costs on a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

Ten Win Trip To Toronto For Hockey Tilt

After an exciting week-end in Toronto, 10 Peterborough Examiner District Carriers arrived home on Sunday night with more than a few tales to tell their schoolmates on Monday morning.

Guests of the Examiner for their exceptional sales work, the group was treated to the opening game of the Port Arthur Bruins-Barrie Flyers series for the Memorial Cup, emblematic of Junior supremacy in Canada. Time after time the youngsters were pulled out of their seats as they followed the progress of the high scoring contest which was won by the Bruins 10-8.

After the game a number of the carriers met the Barrie players.

Rooms and meals for the guest party were provided at the Walker House. Included on the agenda of the trip was a shopping-bee on Saturday, a tour of the Royal York Hotel, and on Sunday a view of Toronto from the tallest building in the British Empire, the Bank of Commerce. To round out the Toronto visit the group went to Riverdale Zoo on Sunday afternoon.

Car transportation was provided by S. D. Pogue and H. B. Cowan of the Examiner staff. Mrs. Ethel Hunter accompanied them.

Carriers who qualified for the Toronto visit through their unusually high sales work were Evelyn Dunford, Lakefield; M. A. Wannamaker, Lakefield; Beverley Pomeroy, Bethany; Garry Dodd, Hastings; Wayne Dodd, Hastings; Donald Armstrong, Bancroft; Gordon Crosby, Coe Hill, Tommy Armstrong, Bancroft; Jack Rowatt, Havelock, and Don Sidey, Bewdley.

They left Peterborough on Saturday morning and returned after their fun-packed trip on Sunday evening.

Police Smash Partisans' Meet

MILAN, April 26—(AP). — A Communist-led demonstration of 25,000 Partisan veterans in Cathedral Square was broken up yesterday by police swinging clubs and rifles and firing machine-guns into the air. One National policeman was shot to death.

The riot was the biggest in Italy since the Communist-dominated Popular Front lost the parliamentary election to the Christian Democrats. The demonstration violated an Interior Ministry ban on post-election outdoor political meetings effective until May Day.

Successive charges of police, some in jeeps and armored cars, went on for an hour until a heavy thundershower fell.

The bullet that killed the policeman was reported not to have come from a police gun. One passer-by was known to have been hurt. Machine-gun fire hit a streetcar but no passengers were wounded.

Elsewhere in Italy, two left-wing offices were plundered near Naples—a Communist headquarters in Crispano and a pro-Communist Socialist headquarters in Vielarica.

The Partisans — fighters in the wartime underground—were celebrating the anniversary of Italy's liberation from the Nazis three years ago.

BUSY WEEK-END

A bumper week-end for the police department found eight alleged offenders in the city cells this morning. As they bustled about making themselves presentable for court, at least two did not appear to be too depressed by their enforced surroundings. The two were teamed for a more-or-less harmonized rendition of "April Showers" which echoed through the police station with more-or-less pleasing effects.—RB.

A HAPPY DAD

Curls of blue smoke swirled from every window of the police department this morning as PC Bill Scott passed out the contents of a box of cigars to celebrate the arrival of his second son on Friday.—RB.

A FRIEND IN NEED

A bridegrom, whose "big day" was scheduled for Saturday morning, was in a spot Friday night. With the usual frenzied efforts for the event, he had forgotten a grey silk tie for the morrow's ceremony. Stores were closed. In desperation, he appealed to a friend on King St. The friend's wife came to the rescue. A brief (10-minute) search upstairs revealed the tie hubby had worn for their wedding—19 years before.—McG.

The tropical air mass which for several days has been striving to gain control of the province relaxed its efforts yesterday. The great banks of cloud which have characterized the battle of the air masses disappeared. King Sol took over and the cooler air which overlies most of the province wilted. Temperatures rose to 70 or higher and records for the year were established in most sections. Little change in conditions over the province is expected until late Tuesday when thundershowers are expected in southwestern sections.

Masked Bandits Tie Trio; Steal Jewelry

THAMESVILLE, April 26 (CP) —Three masked bandits wielding pistols, a carving knife and a hatchet, ransacked the home of Louis Schmid, and after tying him and his wife and her sister, Mrs. Annie Weeks, looted his jewelry shop in downtown Thamesville of watches and rings early yesterday. The thieves escaped in an automobile over fog - shrouded roads.

The robbery was one of the most brazen ever carried out in this district and nearly 50 provincial and municipal police cruiser crews set up road blocks in an attempt to head off the fleeing bandits.

One bandit suffered scratches on both sides of his face, inflicted by Mrs. Schmid who fought back when surprised in the darkened kitchen of her home.

Mrs. Schmid and her 72-year-old sister were overpowered when they stepped in the rear door of the Schmid home upon their return from a neighboring visit.

Overpowered

When Mr. Schmid arrived an hour later he was quickly overpowered. The bandits then took his car and store keys and two of them left to loot the jewelry store. A third bandit left the home when his two companions returned from the jewelry store raid and replaced the Schmid car in his garage at the rear of the property.

The thugs took time out to drink two bottles of ginger ale they found in the kitchen refrigerator. One of them ate a cucumber he found there.

"They told me they wanted money and they searched the entire house for it, even looking behind pictures", Mrs. Schmid said.

Mrs. Schmid said the bandits each had a pistol and used her carving knife and a hatchet found in the garage for extra armament. They brandished their weapons about the house but did no damage with them.

Deny Mandate Ends Ten Days Earlier

LONDON, April 26.—(AP).—Cabinet sources today denied published reports that Britain plans to surrender her Palestine mandate May 5—10 days earlier than scheduled.

The cabinet will meet Thursday, but government officials said the Palestine question will not be discussed, unless a Jewish-Arab truce has been arranged or there is some other outstanding development.

Golds Make Good Advance On Exchange

TORONTO April 26 —(CP)—Golds made a good advance about midday with key issues among the secondary mines showing gains of five, 10 and 15 cents on the stock exchange today. Industrials, base metals and western oils were moderately off as profit-taking on recent sharp gains continued in today's trading.

Volume for the first three hours was 595,000 shares, about 17,000 less than Friday's similar period.

Junior golds turned active after a quiet opening and by midday gains ranging to 25 cents were posted by Aunor, Campbell, Central Patricia, Cochenour, Delnite, East Malartic, Giant, Hedley, Kirkland Lake, Little Long Lac, Louvicourt, MacLeod, Madsen, Malartic, Negus O'Brien, Upper Canada, San Antonio, Pickle Crow and Pamour. Among seniors Dome added ⅝, Hollinger 15, Kerr Addison ⅛ and Teck-Hughes 15.

Sherritt was a heavy trader for base metals on a loss of 13. Industrials were mixed on narrow gains and losses. C.P.R. led the list in action but was down ¼. Papers generally were easier.

HOG PRICES.

TORONTO, April 26 —(CP)—Hog prices were unchanged at Brantford, $28.85 delivered to farmers, and unsettled at Stratford, in markets reporting this morning.

Kill Penitentiary

details to authorities at Ottawa.

The convicts were believed to have driven west, on the main highway leading to Toronto, in the penitentiary car. They were reported to have been seen at Westbrook, 10 miles to the west.

Urquhart, who comes from Toronto, was serving a 20-year sentence for manslaughter in the slaying Dec. 27, 1945, of Meyer Tobias, a Toronto shopkeeper, during an attempted robbery. Craft comes from Hamilton.

The prison car—a green Chevrolet—was inside the walls for a routine check when the men apparently hid in the back seat.

About 9:30 a.m. Kennedy picked up the car at the prison garage. He drove to the northeast gate, signalled the guard and the gate was opened for him.

Body Flung Out

He was just outside the gate when a shot rang out. Then his body was flung from the car and the pair sped away.

Kennedy, about 60, was married. He succeeded his father, Michael Kennedy, as the prison messenger.

Kennedy's slaying was the first ever connected with an escape from Kingston Penitentiary.

It was the second major break in less than a year at the prison. Last August Donald (Mickey) McDonald, Ulysses Lauzon and Nicholas Minnelli sawed their way to freedom and have not been recaptured. All were serving robbery terms.

Craft was an employee of a sanitarium in Brantford and was sentenced for an attempted bank holdup in Hamilton. He carried a car crank wrapped to resemble a gun. He got no money and was captured by a passing detective just as he left the bank.

To Make Statement

At Ottawa, Maj.-Gen. R. B. Gibson, commissioner of penitentiaries, was expected to issue a statement on the escape after receiving full details, possibly later today.

He said the two convicts normally were employed in the garage where the messenger's car was kept. Today they went to the garage as usual, but one hid in the trunk and another crouched behind the front seat.

"Apparently the guard messenger did not notice the man in the back," the commissioner said. "He was passed through the penitentiary gate, and once the car was outside, the prisoner jumped him."

Gen. Gibson said the warden had telephoned him with a preliminary report, but he expected full details later.

U.S. Discusses Military Aid

WASHINGTON, April 26.—(AP).—A program of United States military backing for the anti-Communist bloc in western Europe is reported to be in the final stages of administration panning.

Work on the program is expected to be stepped up by State Secretary Marshall, who returns to his desk today after four weeks at the inter-American conference at Bogota.

One of the issues on which a top government decision is expected soon is the problem of outright talks between the United States and the countries now organizing a western European union of the nature and extent of political and military co-operation.

No Violence Reported Along Great Lakes

TORONTO, April 26.—(CP).—The seamen's dispute continued to simmer along the Great Lakes but no violence was reported during the week-end.

It was learned here that quiet picketing has been ordered by the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC), pending trial of 34 CSU men in Thorold, Friday.

The CSU claims it has been locked out by Canada Steamship Lines, Sarnia and Colonial Steamships and Northwest Steamships. Those lines, claiming the CSU is Communist-led, signed work contracts with the rival Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, an independent body led by J. A. (Pat) Sullivan.

Mrs. M. Garbutt Dies In Douro In 97th Year

Mrs. Margaret M. Garbutt, age 96, Dominion life member of both the Home and Foreign Baptists Missionary Societies and oldest member of Murray St. Baptist church, died Sunday at her residence in Douro township, RR 9, Peterborough, after a very short illness.

She was born in Smith township, granddaughter of United Empire Loyalists who settled there in 1819, and daughter of the late James and Margaret Mann. She resided in the community a lifetime.

Mrs. Garbutt was educated in Smith township and as a young woman joined the Gilmour United Baptist Memorial church. At the time of her marriage in 1875 she became a member of Murray Street Baptist Church and since that time church work has been one of her chief interests.

She leaves three daughters, Mary at home, Ethel of Peterborough, and Abbie of Toronto. There is one son, Walter, at home. Her husband, the late William Garbutt, predeceased her in 1920.

The body lies at the late residence from where funeral service will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. The Rev. Ivan Morgan will officiate and burial will be at Ray's cemetery, Lakefield.

Pleads Guilty To Hit-Run In Cobourg Court

COBOURG, April 26.—(ENS). —Pleading guilty to a hit-and-run charge involving injuries to Danny Parsons of Cobourg, Robert Dunn of Bowmanville, was remanded for one week in custody when he appeared in court here on Saturday. Constable C. Cunningham testified that Parsons was walking on William St., after midnight on February 8 and was struck by a car which carried him 75 feet. A broken headlight was found in the ditch.

Chief W. J. Carey informed the court that after a lengthy investigation, Dunn was arrested on Tuesday last at Oshawa and his car with a new headlight was found in a parking lot in that city.

Questioned by the magistrate, the accused claimed that his vision had been blinded by the lights of an oncoming car and that he couldn't avoid hitting Parsons and his girl companion when they came into sight. Some youths were in the car wtih him and they counselled him to keep going.

"You caused Parsons' injury and he lies in the hospital with a broken leg and I am told he will be there for some time yet. You do nothing about it. There is too much of this going on," Magistrate R. B. Baxter said in remanding Dunn one week for sentence.

Power Of Prayer Needed Today Speaker Tells Cobourg Group

COBOURG, April 26 (ENS). — Canada's first line of defence was God; prayer had more than once routed the enemy and prayer could do it again, declared Lieut.-Col. Rufus Spooner of the Salvation Army, Toronto, in an address to the Rotary Club of Cobourg at its weekly luncheon. The speaker was introduced by Douglas Tait.

Present at the meeting were a group of th Salvation Army cadets at present taking training at Cobourg; also Brigadier H. H. Newman, Divisional Commander for the Toronto - Kingston district, Captain Vernon Marsland, Field Training Officer of the Training Officer of the Training College, and Captain George Cox, officer in charge of the local corps. During the luncheon a brass quartet made up of Sergeant W. Davies; cadets B. Halsey, A. Williams and A. McEwan, was heard; Cadet Alex McEwan was heard in a piano solo.

The world was in a state of crisis once more, the speaker said. There was a danger of the world losing its soul and the forces of sin were lined up against righteousness. The terrible state in which the world found itself was because of the false ideologies of the past 50 years. A prosperous nation was one in which God is the ideal of man regardless of creed.

"Find a nation that cannot live in agreement with other nations and there is a nation that will seek an extcuse to wage war and bring on world conflict," Colonel Spooner asserted.

Prayer Helped Allies

The solution of all problems, he said, will be found in spiritual issues and the fear of God. Prayer had pulled the Allied Nations through more than one crisis. God let the English speaking people learn first the atom bomb and confused the minds of the others who were seeking it. United States and the Empire were called to prayer when armaments and everything else had failed. In the first war the Germans started their gas attack after consulting carefully the latest meteorological information only to find the wind change and blow the gas back upon them. Never in 40 years has the wind blown thus in that part of the country.

When the submarine menace threatened to reach insurmountable proportions, the nations prayed and a great storm destroyed or surfaced 199 subs, with the loss of 3,000 technical men of the German force. In the second war at Dunkirk, the channel calmed so that rowboats could cross, fog blocked a view of rescue operations, in answer to national prayer.

"General Montgomery once held the New Testament in his hand and said 'there is the only reason we came through'," the speaker related.

"Today God is calling the people back to their knees. When a nation forgets God it is on the skids. When 51 per cent of a nation puts God in His rightful place, that nation is on the right track. We see home life today slipping badly. The home is the backbone of the nation and it must be restored to that position. The spiritual re-armament of a nation is its only hope. We cannot all agree on doctrine but we can agree on God," he said in conclusion.

Wedding Morning Chilly, Grey For King, Bride 25 Years Ago

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, April 26 — (CP). — Twenty-five years ago today, on a chill, grey morning, Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, fourth daughter of the Earl and Countess of Strathmore, was married to Albert, Duke of York, second son of King George V.

Together, 13 years later, the Scottish bride and her naval officer husband stepped into history as the King and Queen of England on the abdication of the Duke's brother, Edward VIII.

Today, driving through London streets, they celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. And for the people to whom they are a symbol of the British way of life, the years will roll back to an era when radio was in the crystal set stage and opera at Covent Garden was broadcast for the first time; when Britain had 1,300,000 unemployed and Canadian-born Bonar Law was to be replaced as prime minister by Stanley Baldwin.

Accounts of the 1923 wedding at Westminster Abbey in the 16-page newspapers of the day said the "bride's frank smile of pleasure touched a deep chord in the hearts of those who saw her." Through the years, that affection in the hearts of the people has increased for both the King and Queen.

Memorable Dates

Here are some memorable dates in the lives of Britain's royal couple:

Jan. 15, 1923—Engagement of the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth announced.

Dec. 1, 1924—The Duke and Duchess start a tour of the east coast of Africa, returning April 19, 1925.

April 21, 1926—A daughter, Elizabeth Alexandra Mary Rose Windsor born to the Duchess at a private house in Bruton St., London.

Jan. 6, 1927—The Duke and Duchess leave for Australian tour, returning in the summer.

Aug. 21, 1930—A daughter, Margaret Rose, born to the Duchess at Glamis Castle, Scotland. A medical said that "the infant Princess is doing fine" thus using a Scottish colloquialism to stress that the baby was born north of Tweed.

Jan. 20, 1936—Death of King George V. Accession of Edward VIII.

Dec. 10, 1936— Abdication of Edward VII. "My brother has one matchless blessing enjoyed by so many of you but not bestowed on me—a happy home wtih his wife and children."

May 12, 1937 — Coronation of King George VI.

May 18, 1939 — During royal tour of Canada, the king makes his first speech on Canadian soil in Quebec city. "This moment is historic," said the king, first reigning monarch to visit Canada.

Nov. 24, 1939—The king is rallying "my peoples here and overseas" to war, he said in proroguing Parliament. "We can not doubt that our cause will prevail."

Jan. 10, 1046—With the war over, the king in a speech to the First Assembly of the United Nations pledges the commonwealth to "place the foundations of a new world."

Spring 1947 — Royal tour of South Africa.

Nov. 20, 1947—Princess Elizabeth marries Lieut. Philip Mountbatten, now the Duke of Edinburgh.

First Dip Of Year But Boy It's Cold

COBOURG, April 26.—(ENS). —Yesterday was the warmest Sunday of the year in Cobourg. It also marked the opening of the swimming season; more than a bit early but nevertheless the opening. The disjnction of being the first one to go in the lake this year was won by Bernard Bisonnette of Cobourg. Bernard was also the last one in last year when he took to the water November 3.

"It was rather cold today but not as bad as the last time I was in, on November 3," commented Bissonnette at the beach yesterday afternoon."

Dedicate New Temple For IOOF At Kingston

KINGSTON, April 26.—(CP). —Ritual dedication of the new $100,000 Kingston temple of the International Order of Oddfellows yesterday highlighted a week-end of ceremonies and social functions planned by all five branches of the IOOF here.

About 130 members of the Empire Lodge and 39 members of the Empress Lodge of St. Catharines, participated in the functions.

J. W. McCarthy of St Catharines, Grand Master of Ontario, presided at the dedication ceremony and performed the act of dedication. He was assisted by Mrs. Ruby Webb of Prescott, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario.

M. J. N. Lockhart, St. Catharines, Grand Treasurer for Ontario, delivered the dedicatory address.

Former Warden Dies At Bloomfield Home

PICTON, April 26.— Former warden of Prince Edward County and prominent in municipal and political affairs here, Burton Pearsall died at his Bloomfield home yesterday morning. For the past 40 years he had been a livestock buyer in this district. He was Liberal candidate in the last two provincial elections, and served as reeve and deputy-reeve of Hallowell township for many years. He was a member of Prince Edward Lodge, No. 18, AF and AM, and of the local yacht club. Mr. Pearsall was 63 years of age. He is survived by two sons and two daughters, Ross and Keith, Merle and Mrs. Dayton Wark, all of Picton.

MODERATION

• • • THE WISDOM OF MATURITY

True, we are a young country. In less than a century we have risen from colonial youth to nationhood of a stature enjoyed by no other people of our numbers.

Canada has earned this. Through the years we have kept our sense of values . . . been moderate in our pleasures . . . moderate in our thinking.

Today, we continue to bear ourselves with the self-respect of a moderate people. We are moderate in our spending, in our thinking . . . moderate in our pleasures, moderate in the enjoyment of whisky . . . moderate in all things.

We are young, yes. But we have come of age, for moderation is the wisdom of maturity.

Encouragement For President Truman

While the political spotlight in the United States has been fixed on the Republican primaries, another shift in sentiment regarding President Truman's candidacy for the Democratic nomination has occurred. Little more than two weeks ago, at least four influential sections of the Democratic Party were expressing strong opposition to Mr. Truman—the "Solid South", New York, Chicago and Cook County in Illinois, and California. The first two named are now apparently ready to withdraw their opposition, and the third has not been heard from recently. The California insurgents, however, are still calling loudly for another attempt to draft General Dwight Eisenhower.

• • •

Throughout these developments, as before them, President Truman jauntily confirmed his original announcement that he would seek the Democratic Party's nomination for the Presidency, and evidence of the strength of his candidacy has been provided by the Southern States and New York. The South has subsided, and the Democrats in Tennessee rejected an effort to commit themselves against Mr. Truman. Some U.S. political observers now believe that unless Mr. Truman repeats his call for a "civil rights" program, the South will once again deliver a solid Democratic vote.

• • •

Somewhat similar action has been taken by the district rebels among the Democrats in New York City, aroused to anger by the United States' switch in policy on Palestine. These rebels now seem to be placated by a resolution of the New York Democratic State Committee, which praised Mr. Truman without specifically endorsing his candidacy. This might be regarded as an odd instrumen of placation, but as a political manoeuvre it leaves the New York City Democrats free to support Mr. Truman if no stronger candidate appears. Since the Democratic Party contains no figure at present even close to President Truman's strength, and since the move to draft General Eisenhower is regarded as practically hopeless, the expediency of the New York State resolution is apparent.

• • •

These developments, despite the silence of Chicago and the continued opposition from California, appear to confirm the opinion of many political observers in the United States that President Truman can easily be nominated if he wants to be when the Democratic Convention meets in Philadelphia in July. And since Mr. Truman has declared repeatedly that the Democratic delegates must decide by ballot whether to nominate him, the fireworks in Philadelphia this summer will in all probability be confined to the Republican convention, with its string of candidates.

Let Mr. Brethen Consult The Files

Elsewhere on this page we publish a letter from Mr. G. A. Brethen, the president of the Peterborough and County Temperance Federation, in reply to our editorial of April 20. In his letter Mr. Brethen repeats his assertion that this newspaper published an editorial defending a schoolteacher who had been dismissed for insobriety, and quotes what he believes we said, in substance.

We have searched our files back to January, 1942, without finding anything which supports Mr. Brethen's statement. On June 12, 1942, we published an editorial relating to the dismissal by the Port Hope school board of Mr. Brackenbury, the principal of the high school there, but it says nothing about drinking and does not attempt a defence of Mr. Brackenbury; the editorial is confined to some criticism of the unusual action of the school board. On April 10, 1945, we published an editorial commenting on a discussion held at a meeting of the Teachers' Federation in Toronto, in which questions of smoking and drinking among teachers were brought up, but we confined ourselves in that editorial to a suggestion that the imposition of rules upon schoolteachers which did not apply to the parents of schoolchildren might be inimical to broad education. Otherwise we can find nothing relating to teachers or drinking which could possibly have given Mr. Brethen the mistaken impression to which he clings with such tenacity. Our files are open to Mr. Brethen any time he cares to use them, and the files at the Public Library are also at his disposal.

We all make mistakes; this newspaper makes mistakes from time to time, and admits them (see an editorial of November 29, 1942, headed "A Regrettable Error"); we think that Mr. Brethen should admit that he was mistaken when he attributed words to this newspaper which were never published in it. He did this at a public meeting, in order to strengthen his position, and to bring The Examiner into disrepute with members of his Federation. Surely even the wild and whirling words of a total abstinence orator should have some foundation in fact?

Barbara Ann Feels Pinched

Mrs. Scott, the mother of the youthful skating champion, has said that Barbara Ann will not accept an American offer of $7,500 a week with $3,000 a week for her mother. Mrs. Scott said that her daughter considered herself to be a good Canadian but "she sees no reason why she should work terribly hard and then turn most of her earnings over to the Government".

Barbara Ann's attitude is understandable. Many others with no expectation of earning glossy salaries and with comparatively small pay envelopes have felt annoyed with the government and upset about the income tax bogey. They really do not like working one day in seven or one day in four for the government's financial benefit. We would like to say, however, that the Scotts should not be too wrathful against Ottawa; it would be the U.S. Government which would be taking the biggest whack at Barbara Ann's income—Canada would not be the chief extortioner.

Miss Scott served a long apprenticeship before reaching the top; she should expect an adequate financial reward but the wages of individual effort and excellence are no longer riches. Those days are over and Miss Scott must learn the sad lesson like other people. Other people—doctors for instance—put in long years of study and training before they can begin to earn money from their profession. A third of the active life of a doctor is gone before he can become really self-supporting. Nevertheless, the income tax people do not make allowances for the financially unproductive third of life and the great expense of training when making assessments against the income of hard-working doctors. Barbara Ann is in a special position only because of the size of her possible earnings, and therefore the size of the income tax which would be exacted. Nevertheless her take-home pay would still be rather pretty.

Unions Are Not Above The Law

The American courts have dealt severely with John L. Lewis and his union. They have been convicted of criminal contempt of court for refusing to act on a court order to stop the illegal strike of the coal miners. They have been heavily fined. In delivering his judgement, Judge Goldsborough enunciated what amounts to a new principle of American law. He said:

> As long as a union is functioning as a union, it must be held responsible for the mass actions of its members.

He imposed punishment, he said, to sustain the American people's welfare, health, safety and "ordinary way of life".

Mr. Lewis has done much to improve the lot of his miners and of working men generally in his country. Nevertheless his achievement is not praiseworthy if the benefits he has extracted for the unions and union members were gained at the expense of the people. If his methods and his power endanger the fabric of the nation, he must be condemned. He has been condemned.

Great union leaders like John L. Lewis have been able to mould unions into autocracies If the union members continue to support autocrats, that is their business. If the unions are thereby made powerful instruments which can dictate to governments elected by democratic ballot, if they can scorn courts charged with upholding the laws of the people, their power must be regulated. Unions are not above the law. Unions are not bodies empowered to dictate the bread and way of life of a whole nation. John L. Lewis is merely a union leader, he is not an elected President of the United States sworn to legislate in the interests of all the people. John L. Lewis must be kept in check by the laws to which he as a citizen is subject.

"Of Cabbages and Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

"I WAS dressing for dinner some time in the spring of 1919 (relates Lady Tweedsmuir in a beautiful remembrance volume, 'John Buchan' by his Wife and Friends) when my husband came in and told me that Lionel Curtis—the English historian—had arrived, bringing Lawrence of Arabia with him. 'Lionel asks that no one shall mention Arabia or the war to him,' he added. After the usual flutters of a hostess upon whom distinguished visitors descend like angels unaware (a few moments before a meal), I came into the library with a beating heart.

◇ ◇ ◇

"LAWRENCE sat next to me at dinner. I was tongue-tied from shyness, first because I had heard that he did not like the society of women, secondly because the subjects of Arabia and the war persistently cropped up in my mind, in that unfortunate way which forbidden topics always do. Lawrence was then at All Souls College, Oxford. He was silent, keeping his eyes veiled by heavy lids, but occasionally opening them widely and disconcertingly and letting me look into their deep porcelain-blue. I thought that they were of the most wonderful colour and depth that I had ever seen in a human head.

◇ ◇ ◇

"NEXT time Lawrence came to see us a rather amusing incident took place. Harold Baker (the famous architect) was staying at Elsfield for a week-end, and my husband had in his possession one of the original copies of the 'Seven Pillars of Wisdom'. He was under no embargo against showing it to anyone, but it was understood that Lawrence disliked the matter referred to, and was not anxious for people to read it. Harold (that most discreet of men) asked to be allowed to glance at it, and there seemed no reason to refuse this reasonable request under the seal of secrecy. We went off to church and he had settled down to read it in our library, when Lawrence, in the uniform of an air force mechanic, walked in suddenly. Harold, with admirable presence of mind, draped the Spectator over the book, then rose, and casually laid both paper and book down in a dark corner of our library near the bookshelves.

◇ ◇ ◇

"THE late Duke of Kent came to stay at Hyde Park after a visit to Canada," (writes Sir Gerald Campbell in his recently published "Of True Experience".) "As he was on active service I was instructed to avoid anything in the nature of a press conference, though that does not mean that anything on earth can stop the 'boys' from flocking to the point of arrival which, in this case, was the LaGuardia airport in New York. The ubiquitous mayor, true to form was on hand to greet the distinguished visitor and he and I arranged beforehand that he would make a short speech of welcome through a portable microphone, to which His Royal Highness would respond, before repairing to the main building where the same performance would be repeated for the press. But when we reached the building, we were ushered into a room where a table and chairs had been placed, while someone announced sonorously, 'Ladies and Gentlemen of the Press, the Duke of Kent.' Naturally, they began asking questions immediately with the result that, when they wandered from the weather and the flight I had to intervene. What a blasting I got for my pains in the next day's papers, and in one London paper, too; but the minister of information soothed my broken spirit with a cable of congratulations on having done my duty.

◇ ◇ ◇

"ONE day in San Francisco, a ponderous lady poured herself into my office followed by a small husband.

"'I have never known anything so ridiculous', she burbled, 'as the ignorance of these Americans on the subject of Stilton cheeses. In the house where I have been staying the people do not even know what a real Stilton cheese is like. So I am sending them a whole Stilton cheese for next Christmas; do you understand?'

"'I'm trying hard'.

"'Well, then, give me your name, and the cheese will be addressed to you on the outside, and you will pay the duty, and deliver it, sending me the bill'.

"'That is very kind of you, but d'you know that is not my job?'

◇ ◇ ◇

"NOT your job? Ridiculous. What do you do all day and, if you can't do it, who can?'

"'A customs broker will be the best man for you'.

"'So I have to go and find a customs broker, do I? Probably miles away'.

"'No, it is about two and a half blocks—'

"'Blocks, blocks, you say BLOCKS! You, the representative of our country, say BLOCKS!'

"Whereupon she poured herself out without any form of farewell, which did not worry me, but the Oh-so-small husband delayed his exit long enough to grip we warmly by the hand and give me the most beautiful look! I wished afterwards I had offered to go with her, for I would have led her to my favourite notice swinging in the breeze, "Crematorium and Columbarium: All visitors welcome'.

◇ ◇ ◇

"ONE of the most eccentric characters in the Yale faculty" (recounts A. E. Bostwick—the famous St. Louis librarian in his very complete "A Life with Men and Books") "was Prof. Elias Loomis. He had retired from general teaching in the required curriculum, but still offered senior options, two of which were practical astronomy and meteorology. I took the latter subject.

"Many tales of Loomis's brevity and conciseness of speech went the rounds. On one occasion, so it was said, Loomis and his son, who were travelling abroad separately, met by chance in a hotel on the continent, when the following colloquy ensued:

"'Hello!'

"'Hello, father!'

"'Want any money?'

"'No thanks'.

"'Well, good-bye!'

"'Good-bye father'.

And they went their several ways".

Letters To The Editor

REPLIES TO EDITORIAL

Sir: After reading your full-column editorial in the Examiner of April 20, I feel it my first duty to thank you for the very generous space you have contributed to my activities and to those of the Peterborough Temperance Federation. Your detailed report of the Convention and that of the local sitting of the Ontario License Control Board both published in Saturday's edition apparently was read with considerable interest by your readers in this particular area. I am sorry if, as your editorial suggests, that I misinterpreted your delay in my reception to your private sanctum, and am accepting your explanation that no discourtesy by you was intended.

Personally, I am rather disappointed in the tone of your Tuesday's editorial. While I realize that anything controversial is of considerable value in selling your paper, it hardly seems necessary for the editor of a reputable newspaper to brand the utterances of those with whom he disagrees as "foolish', 'nonesensical' or 'untrue'. From the many comments that I have heard from your readers in recent days, to them your article is more on the level of that of a tirade by a soap-box orator than what might be expected from the pen of a cultured Oxford graduate Of course, we all realize that the owner of a paper has the right, and the power, to determine the standard of his editorials.

Regarding your complaint that I charged the Examiner with printing an editorial re a Lakeshore school principal that you cannot find, and therefore, no such editorial ever appeared, let me refresh your memory. Of course, you will recall that some time ago the principal as described was discharged upon the grounds of conduct unbecoming a teacher. The Examiner gave wide publicity to this situation even to publishing the sworn evidence of the chairman of the board regarding the man's conduct upon the local golf links while in his company. While I do not keep on file every "Examiner" and therefore, cannot substantiate my statement from that source, I have a very vivid recollection, and this has been confirmed by others of recent days after reading your editorial, that the Examiner after summing up all the evidence did say, in substance, editorially, "that a teacher has the right to do as he likes with his time outside of regulation school hours".

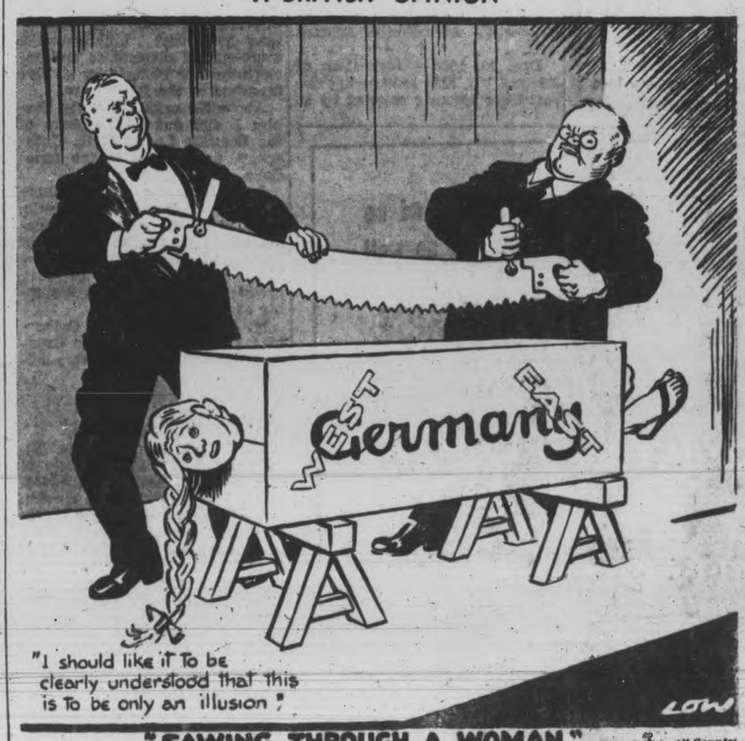
I have lived in this locality all my life, have made many friends, have been trusted by my fellow citizens with important responsibilities (not of my seeking), and to my recollection, it is the first time, publicly, at least, that my veracity has been questioned. I am again repeating that "the Examiner did print such editorial" and am saying so believing same to be true.

Answering your concluding paragraph I would say that any honours or public offices that have come my way in the past have come, I believe, because those who knew me best believed that I was a suitable person to perform the particular service involved. At this time, therefore, I have no intention of being pitch-forked by the Examiner into any political arena, or of changing my attitude to life because of taunts regarding the solidity of my convictions. However it is my considered opinion that in the forthcoming Provincial election that the men and women of Ontario who are deeply concerned with stemming the increasing tide of drink will have something very definite to say concerning who will occupy the seats in the next legislature of Ontario.

Sincerely
G. A. BRETHEN,
County Temperance Federation.
President, Peterborough

WHISTLES AND DAYLIGHT SAVING

Sir: I notice in your paper an item that says that in London, Ont., "police cracked down on the blowing of steam whistles in the city One factory was ordered to suspend use of its whistle immediately while others were warned that a city bylaw prohibits the use of steam whistles." I believe the city of Peterborough has an anti-noise by-law. Well, what about that early morning C.G.E whistle? Now, not everybody works at the C.G.E., nor do we all have to be awakened at that hour, so why should that whistle be allowed to blast us all out of our slumber at 6.50? Certainly the C.G.E. workers are all well on their way to work by then, so it isn't need to wake them up. Yet at ten to seven we get two blasts no less, then just in case you didn't thoroughly wake up the first time, two more follow at five to seven. Then at seven the Angel Gabriel himself takes over and we get "the works". All joking aside, however, is this necessary? There are many sick people that spend sleepless nights in pain and finally towards dawn they drop off to sleep, only to be awakened by that whistle. School children are awakened ahead of time and deprived of needed rest. We live a long way from the C.G.E. but that whistle sounds as if it were just a few blocks away. Could they not blow the same whistle that they blow at 8 o'clock for the office workers, and only once, at seven? It isn't nearly as loud.



And while I'm at it, could I air another "pet peeve"—Daylight Saving Time. What real advantage has it? No one gets enough sleep. It only gets dark around ten o'clock. Children can't get to sleep when they should, yet they are awakened by the Frustrated Angel Gabriel one hour earlier than usual. We spend restless nights in hot bed-rooms, but still we must get up an hour earlier. Isn't it time that this by-law were put to a vote before it is passed. I may be wrong, but it seems to me, that some years ago when we used to have the privilege of voting for or against D.S.T. The by-law was defeated, but then it was decided to have Daylight Time anyway. Am I right or wrong? So many people are sick and tired of it that it should be discontinued, or at least put to a vote. To top it off, instead of having it only during June, July and August, we have to put up with it from the 25th of April till the 26th of September. With artificially lit ball diamonds we don't need Daylight Time for sports; lacrosse also is played under lights; the average factory worker that has a garden to tend is ready to call it quits by nine o'clock anyway. So it seems that D.T. is passed for the golfers. However, I doubt if they constitute anywhere near the majority. As to escaping the heat by starting to work one hour earlier, well, the hottest part of the day is in the afternoon anyway.

I'm afraid this letter is long enough now. Thank you, Mr. Editor, for affording me this space to air my grouches, and I do hope that you will take up cudgels in their favour. (I sincerely hope that you are not too sound a sleeper, nor a golfer!)

I might also add that Daylight Saving "Tempus Fugits" just as fast as Standard "Tempus".

Yours sincerely,
"M.E."

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Hear ye the word of the Lord, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel. . . .

Is Israel a servant? is he a homeborn slave? why is he spoiled? The young lions roared upon him, and yelled, and they made his land waste: his cities are burned without inhabitant. . . . Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou has forsaken the Lord thy God, when he led thee by the way? . . .

Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hosts. (Jer. 2: 4, 14, 15, 17, 19.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness. (Rom. 6: 16.)

◇ ◇ ◇

For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness; because that which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath shewed it unto them.

For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse: because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened. (Rom. 1: 18-21.)

◇ ◇ ◇

The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him. (Ezek. 18: 20.)

Wants Bass Protected

Thirty pairs of bass, left to spawn in the natural way, can produce as many fingerlings in one year as a large hatchery, Ontario Lands and Forests Minister Scott told a sportsmen's meeting at Midland. Mr. Scott used the figures to show why bass should be given an extra week to complete spawning. He discussed requests that the bass season be opened the week before July 1.

CAHA Announces Allan Cup Dates

TORONTO, April 26 — (CP). — President Al Pickard of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association last night announced the dates for the best-of-seven Allan Cup final between Ottawa Senators and Edmonton Flyers.

The series will open at Regina Wednesday, April 28. The next two games are scheduled at Edmonton May 1 and May 3. The fourth and possible fifth contests will be held at Calgary May 8 and 10. In the event that a sixth and seventh games are needed, they will be held at Edmonton May 10 and 12.

UEW Calls Off Strike

BUFFALO, N.Y., April 26 — (AP). — The United Electrical Workers (CIO) yesterday accepted four company proposals and called off a strike of nearly 4,000 members scheduled for today at the the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Joe E. Brown Interested In Television

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, April 26 (AP) —Joe E. Brown, the oven-mouthed comic who has conquered nearly every entertainment medium, is going after television.

He plans to go to Chicago for a two-week stint as a baseball announcer on television, and the idea should prove a natural, since Joe has been associated with baseball during most of his career. (Remember "Elmer the Great?") Joe feels that he knows the game well enough to be accurate in his announcing and that he can add life and color to the telecast.

Need Better Comedy

Said Joe: "The great need today is for better comedy.

"Hollywood is going the wrong way. The public is begging for entertainment, laughs, escape from their problems. But the film-makers have been concentrating on arty efforts. I think the Academy Awards are fine. But every film can't be a winner and shouldn't be made with the awards in mind. There are too many 'message' films.

"Where are the comedians today? There aren't many, compared to the comics in films a decade a go. I believe they would be even more successful now than they were originally."

Bruce Cabot sporting Hollywood's deepest tan, acquired in Florida .... Bob Hope climbing in and out of his trousers for a "Sorrowful Jones" scene that had to be shot many times....

10-Second Review

"Letter From An Unknown Woman" (U-I) presents Joan Fontaine as an Austrian girl incurably in love with a no-good pianist (Louis Jourdan). It's highly romantic stuff, done unsmilingly in a Continental manner. The ladies may go for the tear-jerker, but it may be hard for the male customers to understand why she was so mad about the heel.

Two Men Missing

FLIN FLON, Man., April 26 — (CP). — Concern was expressed here yesterday for the safety of Jim Thompson and Bill Borus, northern freighters, now a week overdue on a bombadier trip to Reindeer Lake, 225 miles north of this northern Manitoba mining town. Airplanes, making their regular runs north from here, have been on the lookout for the men due the last few days, but no trace has been seen of either the men or their bombadier machine.

Saves Eight Lives

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 26 — (CP). — Fire Chief John C. Shapton was credited yesterday with saving the lives of eight persons. Using an inhalator to administer oxygen, he gave aid to William Burton, who suffered a seizure, until the arrival of a doctor. Later he revived seven persons overcome by carbon monoxide in an automobile.

Miami Train Derailed

BABY IMMIGRANTS—They're cute, but don't get any ideas about playing with them: they have a mother with a keen eye and a quick leg. These two baby Sheland ponies arrived in Montreal recently aboard the Cunard freighter Dorelian, as part of a group of 50 ponies bound for a Toronto ranch home. They are the first group to arrive from Scotland in several years. Fearing the worst when a photographer got close to the little ponies, the mother Shetland kicked and narrowly missed the face of a handler.

Hint Yale Likely Olympic Entry

NEW YORK, April 26.—(AP). —Judging by early results, you may not be far wrong if you pick Yale to be the United States entry in the Olympic eight-oared rowing race.... Navy and Harvard also are rated as prime contenders for this honor, which is virtually a college monopoly. But it begins to look as though Skip Walz really had something in his extra-fast beat for sprint races. The Elis hit 38 to the minute all the way against Penn and Columbia Saturday.

Bi-Partisan

Like many old-timers who look on a harness race as a test of wits as well as speed veteran trainer Bi Shivley isn't fond of modern starting gates.... He's rather have the old "scoring" system that gave a good driver a chance to steal a length now and then.... The other day at Santa Anita, Bi was looking at the Sierre Madre range which forms the background.... Pointing out Mount Wilson, he remarked to a railbird: "When the Russians come over the Pacific, they're going to fly just to the left of that mountain — and for my dough, they can pick on that dash dash starting gate for their frist target."

Monady Matinee

Indications are that only seven colts will start in the Kentucky Derby Saturday, bearing out the theory of publicity man Brownie Leach that one standout racer will scare off a lot of possible contenders.

Pitching—Sheldon Jones, Giants —Limited Boston Braves to two hits in shutting them out 6-0 to give the Giants a sweep of the doubleheader. The Giants won the opener 6-2.

Pitching—Russ Meyer, Cubs—Only a second inning single by Whitey Kurowski prevented Meyer from pitching a no-hit game as the Cubs defeated St. Louis Cardinals 3-1.

Batting—Hank Sauer, Reds—Hit three home runs in a doubleheader against Pittsburgh. His first homer came in the ninth inning and enabled the Reds to win the opener 7-6. He hit his third and fourth homers of the season in the second game, won by Pittsburg 13-10.

Batting—Walker Cooper, Giants —Hit a home run with the bases full in the 10th inning to give the Giants a 6-2 victory over Boston Braves in the first game of a doubleheader.

Groom Saunders For Drew Job Oliver Says

WINGHAM, April 26 — (CP). — Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader, Saturday night challenged Premier George Drew to debate Hydro-electric policy, but not on the issue the Premier outlined in calling the provincial election for June 7.

Speaking at a party meeting that named Hugh Hill, Colborne township farmer, as candidate in Huron-Bruce, Mr. Oliver said his party would gladly debate the reason for Hydro shortage in the province.

He charged that the Hydro Electric Commission now is more closely entangled in politics than at any other time in its history.

"The point which Mr. Drew said would be the issue in this election is not an issue at all. The proposed changeover from 25-cycle to 60-cycle power was supported by every member of the House. Mr. Drew said he had heard throughout the province there was opposition to th plan and therefore he called an election.

"The responsibility for Hydro shortage in Ontario rests directly on the shoulders of the Drew administration and there is no way they can wiggle out."

"During the Huron by-election, we demanded a Hydro chairman be appointed. Mr. Drew listened to us and appointed Robert Saunders, the Tory mayor of Toronto. And, believe it or not, Mr. Saunders is the man who was being groomed to take Mr. Drew's place when Mr. Drew replaces John Bracken."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

It'll be Earl McCready and the Masked Marvel again in the main mat bout at the Brock Arena this Wednesday night, but not with the same referee. The driving-in Moose maintained that he got the works last time against the Mask by careless officiating, so he asked for a rematch with a different ref in there. And that's how it'll be. Sure to be a swell scrap between these two powerhouses, with Earl aggressive and the hooded one powerful and villainous. And both have the experience in this rough grapple game. Jan Gotch goes in against large Lee Henning in the semi-final, while no other than Nanjo Singh, the turbaned terror, mixes with Jimmy (Red) Sims in the opener. A lively card before undoubtedly another whopping crowd.

Good news wafts its way in with the announcement that the general canvass for the civic arena is coming along well. More than seven grand so far, and the industries, merchants and others yet to be heard from. Reports are that substantial sums are in the industrial offing, so the committee figures it is safe to go ahead and start digging the foundation about two weeks hence. Plans are for a start on May 15 with the rink to be ready early in November. A wooden building with metal-covered roof similar to the Cannington rink. Seating about 1,800 and accommodating some 2,500 fans in all. With the way open to adding an artificial ice plant later. It looks like we'll be seeing OHA hockey here next winter, folks.

Meeting For Males

Men's softball executive meets tomorrow eve at 8.30 in the "Y" to close entries, give out certificates and name umps. Last meeting before the schedule is drawn, we expect, and it's at 8.30 so that clubs can have their daylight saving drills first and still be represented. Executive and team applicants only. We'd suggest that the loop apply for the same nights they previously played a Friday night twin bill would cut in on the lacrossers—and vice versa. Looks like a four-team city setup, and a fast one again.

* * * * * *

This is registry night for the City Baseball League prospective players. Everyone should be on hand at the Bowl, Ex., Prince of Wales or Oval, depending on his zone. All the way from peewees up to intermediates. The officials named to take down registrations are requested to be on deck at seven p.m., and those willing to help coach the kids are asked to attend, too. This is an important ball loop and an important work for the city's youth. It is up to everyone, including the players themselves, to get in there and help out.

Lacrossers Get Set

Senior "B" lacrossers have an open workout at 6.30 tonight in Miller Bowl. Last year's champs and any interested newcomers to the city are invited to the practice, and the bunch will be going pretty regularly from now on. Secretary Gene Dopp of the Ontario Lacrosse Association has been after the Petes lately to go senior "A", but the locals aren't too interested. They have a fine senior "B" setup now, so why bite off a bigger chunk? Senior "A" is stiffer competition and, what is worse, the trips are a lot longer and expenses considerably higher. No, we think they should stick to senior "B" for another season anyway.

Jack Brown won the Harriers' Club cross-country race on Saturday with Roy Barraclough second and Bill Thistlewaite third. They started and finished at Jackson's Park and ran two and a quarter miles. A fair entry despite the drizzle of rain throughout the run. In the junior event, Ted Cummings came in first, ahead of Herb Bryn and Ted Moher. His time was 13 minutes, while Brown romped home in 11 and a half minutes, which is good time for the cross-country gallop. The harriers are going right ahead with summer plans and hold another meet on May 15. More again on it, and something tomorrow on the Olympic trials.

He Bowls A Beauty

Quite an excited gallery at Duffus' alleys Saturday when Jack Legault, retired Belleville merchant, bowled a perfect game in the open handicap tourney. He had 12 straight strikes for 450 in his second game, sandwiching this honey between sc-so counts of 247 and 238 for a 935 total. His doubles partner, Walter Moore, rolled 157, 202 and 256 for 615, so they compiled just 1550 altogether. A trundler since 1924, Legault's perfect game is only the third one ever rolled here in competition, previous ones being recorded by W. G. Shiner and Tom Curvin.

Royals Capture Twin Bill From Syracuse

By The Associated Press

Montreal Royals, with only a few holdovers from their 1947 team which lost the pennant on the final day of the season, are off to a good start in the current International League pennant race.

The Royals have won four out of five starts and enjoy a half-game lead over Toronto Maple Leafs today. Banking a lot on rookie pitchers, the Royals took both ends of a twin bill from the Syracuse Chiefs yesterday, 5-2 and 4-3.

In the first game the Montreal infield came up with five double-plays to aid rookie Clarence Podbelian gain his first win of the season.

Walt Sessi, Royals best long-ball hitter, broke up the seven inning game with a Texas league single in the final frame.

The Leafs also won a double-header, beating Baltimore Orioles 5-3 and 10-3. Relief pitcher Bubber Church cracked a two-run homer in the eighth inning of the opener to win his own game.

Steve Ridzik stopped the Orioles on six hits in the second encounter while the Leafs pounded three Baltimore pitchers for 12 including homers by Johnny Welaj and Jesse Levan.

The double triumph put the Leafs in second place, a game ahead of the Jersey City Giants. The Giants divided a double-header with Buffao Bisons, winning the second game 7-2 after Buffalo grabbed the opener 10-0.

Tames Giants

Saul Rogovin tamed the Giants on 9 hits in the first affair while the Bisons, led by Chet Laab who belted two homers and drove in five runs, collected 12 off three Jersey City pitchers.

Rookie George Bamberger limited the Bisons to seven hits in the second contest. One of the blows was Laabs' third homer of the day.

Newark Bears and Rochester Red Wings also split a double-header. The Red Wings took the 10-inning opener 5-2 and Bears the finale 3-2.

Southpaw Johnny Mikan, who gave up only three hits, won his own game by driving in two runs in the 10th inning. The Bears scored three times in the sixth to pull the second contest out of danger.

CAHA Delegate Awaiting Plan

TORONTO, April 26—(CP)—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association is scheduled to announce here today whether it intends to keep senior leagues under amateur status or adopt a proposal that the groups become professional.

President Al Pickard of Regina will place before more than 100 delegates a proposal by President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League that the CAHA adopt a team-player contract plan for its senior teams whereby it would "go all-out professional" in this group.

Failure of the plan was hinted last week when James Hendy, president of the United States Hockey League, said that he "couldn't see the plan accepted by the CAHA before another year."

Many of the delegates attending the annual meeting of the association have expressed the opinion that Campbell's plan would be rejected. The NHL president, who is expected to outline the plan to delegates at its presentation today, has appeared confident that it will be accepted. He has been here since Thursday when the amateur body's sessions got underway.

TRAINS FOR OLYMPICS — Waving as he steps off a clipper at Los Angeles, Calif., after a flight from Australia, is John Theolar, 20-year-old Sydney University Olympic sprinter. The six-foot three inches tall Aussie will enter the summer Olympics in London, Eng. He will train on the U.S. cinder tracks for nine weeks with the University of Minnesota track team before leaving for London. In Australia, most track races are run on grass. Having beaten Herb McKenley, Jamaica sprint star, recently, Australia is pinning hopes of Theolar winning the speed events at the coming Olympics.

THE KICK THAT MISSED—Lorne Chabot used a lot of leg trying to protect the corner of his cage on this try, but he was too late. Bruno Favero, who hugged the side-boards all the way, cut in sharply and jabbed the rubber home, for Barrie's seventh goal of Saturday night's Memorial Cup opener at Maple Leafs Gardens. Port Arthur won, 10-8. That's Benny Woit of Port Arthur directly in front of goal, while Alf Baccari of Port Arthur had Paul Meger neatly hooked

Cross-Country Race Won By Jack Brown

Jack Brown won the Peterborough Harriers Club cross-country race on Saturday, doing the distance of two and a quarter miles in 11 minutes and 30 seconds. He was followed closely by Roy Barraclough in 11 minutes, 35 seconds. Third was Bill Thistlewaite in 11 minutes, 40 seconds. They started and finished at Jackson's Park.

In the junior event, Ted Cummings finished first in 13 minutes, with Herb Bryn second in 15, and Ted Moher third in 15 minutes and five seconds. Cummings led by a good margin all the way. Brown took the other with 18 points to his credit on the score sheet. There was a fair entry and the times were good, despite a continuous drizzle of rain.

Tournament Notes

Highlight of the week-end bowling in the Handicap Tournament at Duffus was, of course, the perfect game rolled by Jack Legault of Belleville. Legault got his perfect game rolling in the doubles with W. Moore, also of Belleville. The pair failed to take over first place.

The lead in the doubles went to Fred and Eric Martin, with a neat count of 1687. Fred contributed 916 of this score.

Marg Hawthorne of Peterborough and Doug Keeler of Oshawa shot into the lead in the mixed doubles with a terrific 1767 total. Marg rolled 734 of this total and Keeler came through with a smashing 1024 score.

Teams competed from Oshawa, Belleville, Port Hope and Cobourg and Bob Murray brought his Murray Steel team down from Toronto. They failed to dislodge the Shockey outfit who remain in first place with a 3767 total.

"Flock Shooters" made up of Bill Harris, Holly Mowry, Carl Signorotti, Ir Hanes and Roy Sud_dards rolled into second place with a nice 3570 mark.

Some of the YMCA teams are expected to roll this week. Vic Sedgwick of the Commercials took a fling at the singles but failed to place in the first three.

Phil Pryde still tops the singles with 830, followed by Roy Sud_dards with 826 and Bill Martin with 807.

A team made up of Vic McCabe, Charlie Demelis and Tony Gaspari of Toronto and Fred Martin and Bud Weese rolled 3567 to take over third place in the team event.

Teams from Brighton and Trenton will be in action this week, and the Belleville team with J Legault will be back for another try at the major prizes.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said last night at Toronto that he had "no comment" on a New York report that Brooklyn interests will seek a franchise in the N.H.L. "It is the first time I have heard of any plans from Brooklyn to enter the N.H.L.", said Campbell. "I will be in a better position to say something after I have heard from the people seeking the franchise."

At Brooklyn, the Tournament of Champions, Inc., announced yesterday that it will seek a Brooklyn franchise in the N.H.L. Ben B. Bodne, president of the organization which is promoting the middleweight title fight between Rocky Graziano and Tony Zale at Newark, N.J., June 9, said his group will apply for a franchise and hopes the hockey circuit will take the matter up at its next meeting. He said the games would be played at the 103rd Regiment Armory in Brooklyn which he said, could seat 16,000.

Canadian-owned Mafosta, ridden by veteran Johnny Longden, led all the way Saturday to win the $10,000 added San Mateo handicap at Bay Meadows by two lengths.

The Canadian Boxing Federation plans to keep phoneys out of the ring by forcing boxers fighting under its jurisdiction to carry "foolproof" identification cards, Chairman Frank Hogan announced Saturday at Montreal. The Cards, which will carry the fighter's name, photograph and fingerprints, will probably be in use in a month. Hogan said the innovation is to meet current complaints of amateurs fighting under false names on professional cards.

Toronto's Montgomery Maids finally broke Western Canada's monopoly on the Canadian senior women's basketball title when they defeated Cardston Shooting Stars 37-22 at Toronto Saturday night to win the best-of-five series 3-1, and take the Dominion crown and Underwood trophy. It was the first time a Toronto team ever held the title, the second time an Eastern club won the eastwest final. A Windsor five defeated the west in 1936.

Inauguration of a Canada-wide system of basketball refereeing groups, approved after stiff examinations, to provide better officating was advocated Saturday by Jack Lang at Montreal, president of the Quebec board of approved basketball officials. The group has already taken the first steps by inviting delegates from Cornwall, Three Rivers and Shawinigan, Que., to study their system.

Vancouver Clover Leafs, their sights fixed on Dominion basketball honors, swept Regina Legion from their western semi-finals Saturday at Regina with a 91-60 victory over the Saskatchewan champions. The victory gave the B.C. champions the two-game total point series 194-125.

St. Catharines St. Paul's captured the Ontario Church Basketball Intermediate A title Saturday by trouncing Windsor Westminsters 51-36 in the second game of the two-game series. St. Paul's won the first game 41-37 to take the round 92-73.

George Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said at Toronto last night that dates for the last three games of the best-of-seven Memorial Cup series between Port Arthur and Barrie "have not yet been set." He said they would be set "only if the series goes past four games."

A Perfect Game

Jack Legault of Belleville realized every bowler's hope, a perfect game. Bowling in the Handicap Tournament at Duffus Saturday, Legault rung up 12 consecutive strikes to give him a 450 score for one game.

He was bowling in the doubles with W. Moore, also of Belleville, when he registered the dream score. They failed to take over the lead in the doubles even with Legault's good game.

This is the third perfect score to be rolled in competition, the first going to W. G. Shiner and the second to Tom Curvin.

Another score worthy of note was rolled in the tournament when Doug Keeler of Oshawa hit 1024 for three games. He was rolling in the mixed doubles at the time with Marg Hawthorne. Marg came through with a 734 marks to give them a total of 1767 and the lead in this event.

McCready Says He'll Unmask The Mystery Man

As far as earnest Earl McCready is concerned, his main bout wrestling match with the Masked Marvel in the Brock Arena on Wednesday, may well prove the turning point of his career. This big Masked Marvel has been intriguing wrestling audiences for six months now but his long run of doubtful successes has had a great deal of luck attached to it. McCready is overwhelmingly confident that he can take the mystery man into camp in Wednesday's bout and then Earl will be in a position to demand certain other matches he has had his eye on ever since he returned from New Zealand last January.

Lee Henning

It will be do-or-die for Earl and a win by the popular Aurora Farmer will force the Masked Marvel to take off that irritating hood and expose himself at last. Earl says he will accompanish that feat Wednesday night.

McCready won his demand for a different referee but who it will be is up to the Ontario Athletic Commission.

Jarring Jan Gotch meets Lee Henning in the semi-final and Jimmy "Red" Sims gets another chance at Nanjo Singh.

Plan Campaign To Make Locke Eligible

RICHMOND, Va., April 26 — (AP)—Golf stars Jimmy Demaret and Lloyd Mangrum today opened a campaign to make South Africa's Bobby Locke eligible for the forthcoming Professional Golfers Association tournament.

Demaret, of Ojai, Calif., and Mangrum, of Chicago, said they didn't like the "attitude" of the PGA in barring Locke from the St. Louis event May 19-25. And they added they'd like to see something done about it.

Said Demaret:

"Bobby Locke is a visitor in this country and has helped our business. He doesn't belong to the PGA because he's not an American. Because he doesn't belong, the PGA has ruled he's ineligible to participate in its tournament.

"Bobby Locke has done a lot for American Golf—more than any other foreigner has been able to do. And I definitely think he should be allowed to play."

Demaret said Locke's golfing ability had resulted in increased gate receipts at tournaments and exhibitions throughout the country. Locke came to the United States a year ago.

Mangrum asserted that Locke had made an "indelible impression on American golf."

"As long as he's a visitor here, it isn't fair not to let him play."

Both Demaret and Mangrum suggested that PGA officials reconsider the matter of Locke's participation. They figured the PGA coud make Locke an honorary member of the association as long as he remains in the United States.

Bruins Topple Barrie 10-8 In First Memorial Cup Final

TORONTO, April 26—(CP).—Pre-game eastern optimism concerning the Memorial Cup finals was dealt a thudding blow here Saturday night when a scrappy band of Port Arthur West End Bruins showed the mettle that brought them the Western Canada championship. Bruins, who entered the game on the short end of 2-1 odds, outfought, outpushed and outscored the East's best, Barrie Flyers, to win the opening game of the finals 10-8.

That the Bruins' victory was no fluke was backed up by Barrie coach Hap Emms who, at the conclusion of the game, thought the Port Arthur team so good he was all but ready to throw in the sponge.

"We can't come back, my team has too many injuries," said the unhappy Hap. Rival Coach Eddie Lauzon, queried before the game as to his team's chances, gave the advice, "Don't worry, we'll do alright," They did.

The heavier Westerners took less than eight minutes to rap home the first goal and take a lead they never relinquished. The staunch Barrie fans, who have seen their favorites come back in several playoff games, were given a brief lift in the third period when the Flyers outscored the winners only to have their rally fall short.

Rudy Migay and Benny Woit, members of last season's champion St. Michael's Majors, were tops for the victors. Migay led the scoring parade with three goals while Woit did trojan work along the blue line. Pete Durham, also of the Ports, was the most "rested" for four minor penalties.

Bruins Lead

Bruins led 2-0 at the first rest, made it 8-3 at the end of the second and added a brace more to Barrie's five, in the third period. Up to the 6.17 mark of the second period Bruins sported a 5-0 lead. Three of these tallies were rapped past Goalie Jim Strachan in a minute and 58 seconds.

Danny Lewicki and Alfie Childs followed Migay in the scoring race with a brace apiece while teammates Dave Creighton, Fred Baccari and Bart Bradley scored singles.

Flyers' Bill Barrett and Whit Mousseau each counted twice with Rusty Aitkin, Stan Long, Bruno Favero and Alfie Guarda potting the team's remaining tallies.

The fast pace set by the squads was added to by a private feud between Ray Gariepy of Flyers and Woit of Bruins. Woit came out top man in the main battle when he sent the Barrie captain flying through the air a la Tarzan on a bone shaking bodycheck.

CAPITAL TEAM FROM CAPITOL HILL — Whooping it up happily for the cameraman are members of the Ottawa Senators, who won the Eastern Canada senior hockey title Saturday afternoon at Maple Leaf Gardens. Senators shaded Hamilton Tigers, 4-3, to clinch the series, in one of the finest amateur games seen in the Gardens in years. The Ottawans left last night for Regina, where they will tackle the Western Canada champs, Edmonton Flyers, in the Allan Cup finals.

Tigers Bow 4-3 To Ottawa In Senior Hockey Final

TORONTO, April 26—(CP)—Ottawa Senators were westbound in search of the Allan Cup today but Toronto fans are still talking about the rousing finale to the prolonged best-of-five series that saw them edge out Hamilton's battling Tigers 4-3 at Maple Leaf Gardens Saturday afternoon for the Eastern senior crown.

With two wins, two losses and a tie, the younger, faster Senators had to come from behind to nip the crippled Tigers in an extra sudden-death game that had the crowd of 9,619 on the edge of their seats till the final whistle.

Senators will take on Edmonton Flyers at Regina Wednesday night, moving to Alberta to play the rest of their best-of-seven series at Edmonton and Calgary.

Tigers missed Forward Swat Mason and Defenceman Bert Peer, both out with injuries, but they were the same cagy bunch of veterans that forced Senators to the limit through most of the series. Senators, despite the absence of Defenceman Butch Stahan, were deeper in reserve strength, and the depth finally paid off.

Relax Defences

Tied 3-3 late in the final period, both clubs relaxed their defences and threw everything they had into a series of rink-length rushes.

Gradually the Tigers' pace slowed until Emile Dagenais batted home a rebound with Hamilton Goaltender Art Childs far out of his net after a save and his defence nowhere in sight.

The Tigers rallied furiously, backing the Senators into their own end as six attackers tried to tie it up in the last minute, and the game ended with a pileup around the Ottawa goal.

Earlier it seemed the Hamilton club might make it. After Childs kept them in the game with a spectacular display of acrobatics in the first period, they swarmed all over the Senators in the middle frame to take a 3-2 lead.

Pick Up Speed

But the smooth-skating Ottawans picked up speed in the third period. Playing five men against six as Frankie Mathers went off for tripping, they took the offensive. Just as Mathers returned, Jack Irvine slapped home the tying goal.

The Tigers never quit trying and Bill (Legs) Fraser in the Ottawa goal was kept busy until the Senators opened up and paved the way for the winning goal.

Veteran Clarence (Duke) Shillington, played his last game, bagged two goals for the Tigers, Ab Conick getting the third. Mathers and George Greene were the other Ottawa goal-scorers.

Indians Win Four Straight Menace To League Teams

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sport Writer

Manager Lou Boudreau has come up with his own "murderers row" at Cleveland to toss a temporary scare into teams with designs on the American league vennant.

The Indians have won four straight games to become the only major league club so far without a blemish.

In the four games, Boudreau's athletes have pounded out 45 hits, including five doubles, two triples and eight home runs.

Ken Keltner smashed two home runs and Ed Robinson added another in the Indians' 7-4 conquest of Detroit Tigers yesterday. The Tribe collected 10 hits off Hal Newhouser, Virgil Trucks and Rufus Gentry.

Such power from the club figured to finish fourth in the American league race has the favored New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers taking notice.

Home Run Day

Sunday was home run day in the majors with a total of 19 round-trippers all told around the two circuits.

Joe DiMaggio connected for a homer with two mates on base to contribute to New York Yankees' 5-4 win over Boston Red Sox at Yankee Stadium.

Washington remained in second place when it gained a split in its doubleheader with the athletics in Philadelphia. After 20-year-old Carl Scheib shut out the Senators 4-0 on six hits in the first game, the Nats bounced back to defeat the A's 7-3 in the second.

Chicago White Sox won their first game of the season, trimming the Browns in St. Louis 4-1 but Zach Taylor's men came back to win the second 7-6. Bob Dillinger collected five hits for the Browns including a home run.

Getting exceptionally fine pitching from veteran Bobo Newsom and rookie Sheldon Jones, the Giants whipped Boston Braves twice, 6-2 and 6-0. In making it four straight over the Braves, the Giants moved into first place in the National league.

The much-traveled Newsom, making his first start for the Giants, gave up seven hits and one run in seven innings of the opener. After a single in the eighth he pulled up lame at second and was replaced by Ken Trinkle. Walker Cooper's grand-slam homer off rookie Bob Hogue won for the Giants in the 10th. Jones allowed only two hits in the afterpiece.

Checks Dodgers

Veteran knuckleballer Dutch Leonard held the Dodgers in check at Ebbets Field while Philadelphia Phils clubbed four Brooklyn pitchers for 14 hits and a 7-3 victory.

Russ Meyer pitched Chicago Cubs to a 3-1, one-hit triumph over St. Louis Cardinals. George Kurowski's second inning single was the Card's one blow. Rookie outfielder Hal Jeffcoat smashed a two-run homer off Murry Dickson in the first to give the Cubs the margin of victory.

Fourteen pitchers saw action at Cincinnati where the Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates divided a doubleheader. The Reds won the opener 7-6 on Hank Sauer's ninth-inning home run. The Pirates won the second 13-10 despite two more four-baggers by Sauer.

Inflation Fear Subsiding; Buyer Resistance

By The Canadian Press

Fears that the economy might be headed for a new wave of inflation—high prices — subsided somewhat.

In the first place, the European recovery program has not generally been regarded as sufficient to cause new inflation; rather it was regarded as an offset to forces which otherwise might have been too precipitatively deflationary.

But when proposals for re-armament and stockpiling or war materials came on top of it, it was feared this fresh demand would bring a new round of high prices. This remains a threat if the cold, or as it now is sometimes called, the "warm war," should heat up further. A pro-Communist vote in Italy, for instance, would have a "heating" influence

Meet High Prices

As the situation stands, however, it looks as though rearmament and stockpiling will proceed but at a pace which will have regard for their effect upon prices.

Of prime importance in the situation is a definite buyer-resistance. This is not due so much to rebellion as to the fact that the consumer, faced wih high food costs, just hasn't the money to buy. He is buying selectively and looking for bargains, and manufacturers and retailers realize that if they are to sell goods they must produce in medium - priced ranges. They will have some difficulties doing this but they recognize the problem.

The strong note on the stock exchanges in recent weeks seems to reveal a growing confidence in the soundness of the economy for some time to come.

EASY NOW!—Twin colts born Saturday on the farm of Rufus Martin, RR 2, Elmira, give their legs a workout but find the going rather rough. They have a 1,000-to-one chance of survival, according to statistics.

Mine Operators Leave Pension Plan To Lewis

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP) —American mine operators talked to-day of tossing the whole thorny problem of pensions for miners into the lap of Union Leader John L. Lewis.

An industry spokesman said operators are considering a plan under which they would pay Lewis' United Mine Workers 10 cents a ton on all coal mined, instead of paying it into a fund, and then let the union use the money as it sees fit.

The aim would be to remove all operator control over miners' pensions and avoid disputes like the one which caused the six-week mine strike now ending.

The present contract, due to expire June 30, has piled up a $3,000,000 pension fund from a 10-cent tonnage royalty paid by the operators.

Agreement Reached

An agreement reached by two of the fund's trustees—Lewis for the miners and Senator Styles Bridges (Rep. NH), neutral member—would pay $100 monthly pensions to all miners over 62 years of age who retired since May 29, 1946, with more than 20 years in the pits. The operators, through Ezra Van Horn, the industry trustee, opposed that settlement.

Nevertheless, the strike which started March 15, was on the way to a peaceful end to-day and normal production was expected to resume by Monday.

Before that was achieved, Lewis and the United Mine Workers had been fined $1,420,000 for criminal contempt of a court back-to-work order of April 3.

Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, who once before had fined Lewis and the union for disregarding a court order to end a strike, Friday postponed indefinitely any further sentence on a second charge of civil contempt.

2 In Cabinet Guest Speakers

MATHESON, April 26 — (CP). — Two Ontario cabinet ministers —Provincial Secretary Michener and Travel Minister Welsh — spoke at the annual meeting of the South Cochrane Progressive Conservative Association Saturday. The meeting elected Don Frisby of Kirkland Lake president and called a convention for May 8.

Mr. Michener said the Ontario government called a provincial general election June 7 so that it will not have an election in the midst of the $600,000,000 five-year expansion program it has planned in Hydro and other fields.

"The program never will be carried out unless there is a government in power for an uninterrupted five-year period," he said.

Mr. Welsh said the first step toward a totalitarian dictatorship in Canada would be the election of "some sort of socialistic government."

"Let's not kid ourselves," he said. "A Communistic government could happen here. Ontario has the only Conservative government left in the British Empire."

He said Ontario's gasoline tax is "the fairest form of taxation left in the British Empire."

CSU Representative Denies Statements

CORNWALL, April 26 — (CP) — Milton Nuttall, district representative of the Canadian Seamen's Union, yesterday described as "misleading," statements credited to him in a Canadian Press story on Friday.

Friday's story had attributed to Mr. Nuttall an assertion that C.S.U. members had infiltrated into C.L.S.U.-manned vessels and would quit "soon," leaving the ship inadequately manned. Of this Mr. Nuttally said yesterday:

"These are hodge-podge statements not issued as a statement by me. They can only tend to misrepresent our attitude and unduly excite the public."

He described as being without "foundation in fact," a statement that members of the C.S.U. and the rival Canadian Lake Seamen's Union were in Cornwall awaiting arrival of two Canadian Steamship Lines' vessels.

Issue Warrants For 4 In Union

WELLAND, Ont., April 26. — (CP)—Acting Crown Attorney Allan Brooks of Welland County said Saturday warrants have been issued for the arrest of Michael Jackson, Great Lakes director of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) and three other union men.

Earlier Saturday it was reported erroneously that Mr. Jackson had been arrested.

The other three for whom warrants were issued are Kenneth Corrigan and Basil Dawson of Owen Sound and Louis Schmatz, Thorold.

Mr. Brooks said the warrants, issued in connection with the boarding of the Canadian Steamship Lines freighter Glenelg in the Welland Canal Thursday, charged the quartet with "conspiracy to assault and do violence and beset the officers and crew of the Glenelg."

Issuing the warrants followed a battle aboard the ship arising from rivalry between the CSU and the independent Canadian Lake Seamen's Union.

May Send Arms To West Europe

OTTAWA, April 26. (CP) — Should the Canadian Government be asked to supply arms to the democracies of western Europe, favorable consideration would be given an authoritative source indicated last night.

He was commenting on the return to Washington from the Bogota inter-American conference of State Secretary Marshall to deal with "important events". One of these was understood to be a decision by the United States government on how to give military support to the projected western European union.

"If the United States decides to send arms and the Canadiar government is asked to partiicipate, it would be able to do so on certain bases," the source said.

One consideration would be whether Canada could find replacements for the arms sent. Another was that the European recovery program did not include the provision of armament. Other financial arrangements would have to be made.

Howe In Washington

WASHINGTON, April 26 — (CP). — Trade Minister C. D. Howe of Canada arrived in Washington late yesterday for conversations scheduled early this week with Paul G. Hoffman, administrator, and officers of the Europe Co-operation Administration.

Anglicans Oppose China Intervention

MONTREAL, April 26 — (CP). — The Anglican Diocese of Montreal is opposed to any Canadian intervention in China's civil war and deprecates "the steadily deteriorating international situation."

Before the close of its sessions yesterday, the diocesan synod approved a motion requesting the Dominion government to "take an open stand against intervention in the civil war in China, whether by giving financial aid or by the export of arms or munitions of war under any pretext whatsoever."

The motion was presented by Dr. J. C. Flanagan, chairman of the Diocesan Council for Social Service, during discussion on a report by the committee on international order.

The committee's report, also approved, declared "we have regretfully come to the conclusion that talk of World War II is already too prevalent."

Criticizes Planning

TORONTO, April 26 — (CP). — E. B. Jolliffe, provincial C.C.F. leader, Saturday criticized the provincial planning and development department in a speech to a C.C.F. group. He termed the department "a piece of cheap window dressing for the inactivity of a government which does not believe in planning and holds a child-like faith in the capacities of private enterprise to provide employment and undertake production."

Use Inhalator To Save Woman's Life

Prompt action by the two-man inhalator crew of the Fire Department is believed responsible for saving the life of Mrs. Roy Pilling, 237 King George St., on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Pilling had stopped breathing before the inhalator crew arrived and was later revived with the use of oxygen. Mrs. Pilling had the attack very suddenly.

Dr. Robert Bell was attending her when he noticed she was showing signs of lack of oxygen. He phoned the Fire Department but she had ceased breathing before the crew consisting of Albert Mason and Garnet Brown, arrived. By the combined use of inhalator and oxygen she was soon revived.

Later she collapsed again and they continued to work on her as the ambulance drove her to Civic Hospital. During this trip she began breathing normally once again.

Upon her arrival she was given treatment and kept in an oxygen mask for some time.

Hospital officials say she is now in "pretty good condition" after spending a good night.

Has 20 Acres Of Asparagus

Asparagus is sprouting earlier than last year, Harold F. Doig said today.

"If this fine weather stays with us, it shouldn't be long before asparagus is ready to cut. But, you can't depend on it when we haven't yet come into May. In fact we are running the risk of frost. You could almost see the week-end growth as a result of the moisture and warmth."

Mr. Doig completed Friday the planting of 20 acres in asparagus. "We have eleven acres established and if all goes well we'll take that crop off, but the new nine acres will not be ready until 1950. I have been wondering how far you would have to travel before finding another 20 acres of asparagus. I don't think there are many of that area in this part of the country."

GREET BAKELITE CO.

More than 300 Belleville people responded Friday night to an invitation of its Chamber of Commerce to welcome officials of Bakelite Company of Canada. The meeting was held in the Collegiate auditorium. Mr. Harry Seldon, on behalf of the Chamber, "called upon the citizens to get acquainted with the new neighbors. Door prizes were Bakelite products.

SCORES A POSSIBLE—For the first time in 12 years a bowler scored a perfect in five-pin competition in this city. Joe Legault, retired Belleville merchant, made the count in tournament play at the Duffus alleys Saturday night. The first such score locally was made by Tom Curvin, then W. G. Shiner added another a year later. All three received $100 cash. Fred Martin scored a possible and Eugene Reynolds also clipped 450, both in open bowling.

AH, SPRING

Sunday was such a warm day that it induced many a household hermit to come out into the fresh air for a leisurely stroll. At strategic points along Jackson Park creek children were trying to catch minnows in the fast-flowing stream. One young lad in rubber boots was wading out until water filled his rubber boots; then he would struggle to shore, walk up a steep embankment and empty the contents on his playmates who apparently had not learned enough wisdom to keep clear of him. The thud of a pitched ball striking a leather glove was heard on several occasions as thoughts of youth had evidently switched from hockey to baseball. Couples could be seen sauntering along the freshly green banks of the Otonabee, many of them for the first time since the first snowfall.

Two Photographers Have Pictures Hung

The art of several of Peterborough's photographers was recognized at the 64th annual convention of the Ontario Society of Photographers in Toronto last week. More than 500 prints were exhibited by members. Mr. Morris Duke submitted three. Two were accepted and hung in the portrait section. Of eight from the Roy Studio, six were accepted and hung. Of these six, two received special awards of merit. One was in the portrait class and the other commercial. The parks studio was represented at the convention but did not submit specimens. Mr. Wilfrid Gynane of Ottawa, formerly of Peterborough, had a portrait accepted and hung.

Dutch Family Tends Grave Of Local Flier

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hendry, 37 Armour Road, have received from Holland a letter informing them of the care of the grave of their only son Pilot Officer R. E. Hendry, R-206110, RCAF, who was killed in action over that country, April 27, 1944.

This letter was written by R. J. Scheele of Wissekerk, Zeeland, Nederland, as follows: "To the next of kin of P.O. R. E. Hendry R.C.A.F.—Dear Friend: As everywhere in Holland, there are also in our village, Wissekerke, some graves of Allied soldiers, killed in the last war. The municipality will take care for all the graves. But, next to that the Netherlands War Graves Committee looks everywhere for men and women who will adopt one or more of the graves, who will say that they regularly visit them and bring flowers there.

So, I have adopted the grave of your dear, and so do honor to him particularly, and in him to all Allied soldiers who lost their lives for our freedom.

The Netherlands War Graves Committee asked me if I would like to correspond with his family, and I can tell I like that, and would appreciate it very much if you would like that, too, for getting a tie of friendship forever.

I don't know where you live, but I hope I will soon have any letter from you. You see my name at the top of this letter, and of course my address is too there.

Yours thankfully,
R. J. Scheele."

This message from Holland was delivered through the office of Wing Commander W. R. Gunn, for the Chief of the Air Staff, Ottawa. In part he wrote: "As you are aware, the permanent care of all the graves of our fallen is assured by the Imperial War Graves Commission (of which Canada is a member). However, I am sure you will be solaced by the kindly action of the Holland people in adopting the grave of your son."

Two Motorcycles And Two Cars Damaged In Heavy Traffic Stream On The Week-End

The holiday-style weather during the end of the week brought out the district motorcyclists force. Two were involved in accidents.

Robert Jopling was unhurt when he was thrown from his machine at Edinburgh St. and George St. Sunday afternoon about 2:30. Swerving to avoid striking a car which had slowed up suddenly to allow people to cross the road, he was tossed to the road, while the motorcycle continued over to the sidewalk. Fender, lights, rear plate and crash box were damaged.

A collision shortly after midnight Friday took place with the motorcycle of Ernest Allain, 99 Rubidge St. South and the car of Delmar Jackman, 547 Waterford St. Only injury was a bruised right leg to Allain. The car fender was damaged, and damage was caused the fender, forks and tank of the cycle. Miss Agnes Lowe, 23 Bethune St South, who was riding on the rear of the motorcycle was uninjured.

A collision about midnight Saturday caused damage to the car of Richard Doris, 747 St. Mary St., when it went out of control as a result of the collision with the car of Chester S. Winson, 400 Wellington St. on Aylmer St. The Doris car veered into a hydro pole near the fire hall, damaging the front fender, wheel and steering frame. Damage to the Winson car was two fenders, broken headlight, damaged running board, shattered windshield. P.C. C. J. McGillen investigated.

Gasoline Stove Atop Range Explodes When Fire Started

BANCROFT, April 26—(ENS)—As Ira Fetterly and family were having breakfast today in their home at Hastings St. S., a violent explosion occurred in their lean-to kitchen which shattered all windows on the south side of the house, scattered house plants, overturned rugs, cracked plaster and covered the house with soot. Mr. Fetterly and daughter Ruth, 18, received minor cuts and were dazed by force of the blast.

Mr. Fetterly was unable to determine the cause of the explosion until he remembered he had forgotten to remove a small portable gasoline stove from the top of the range which he had lighted in preparation of breakfast. The small stove was found blown into a corner but was not burning and, fortunately, there was no fire at any time as a result of the blast. Dr. S. S. Lumb gave first aid. The family estimated the damage at $500.

Cars Smash 3 Hydro Poles

Errant motor cars knocked down three poles of the Utilities Commission electrical distribution system over the week-end, Mr. Harry G. Beatty, superintendent of that department of the Commission reported today.

One of the polar casualties was near the fire hall, another at Murray and Park streets and the third on Gordon St., west of Queen Mary School. A cluster of three repair jobs caused a temporary interruption of the department's new construction program, following the stretches of damage in the Ware-Crescent streets area last Tuesday, caused by a freak wind storm that hit that section of the city.

PORT HOPE RED CROSS

The drive for funds by the Port Hope town and Township Branch of the Red Cross has resulted in total collections of $3,432.

CURIOUS PEOPLE

More than 5 000 people, Jack Russelle estimated, examined the wrecked car yesterday in which a girl was killed the previous morning. The car had been towed to the northend garage and left in the yard, attracting the attention of the many Sunday passers-by.

PRESENTED TROPHY

Branch 52 of the Canadian Legion has put up a large trophy for annual competition in the YMCA 15-mile marathon swim. It was presented Saturday night by Francis P. (Paddy) Burke, past president of the Legion branch here, to Al Clark, physical director at the YMCA.

SMALL MARKET SATURDAY

Rain was believed responsible for a smaller market than usual on Saturday. Comparatively few stallholders or customers attended and these left soon. A Picton man reportedly sold a large quantity of potted flowers; and some raspberry canes were also purchaseable. Eggs were selling at 40, 45 and 48 cents for the Grade A Special. Chicken was retailing at 40 cents a pound. There was a little maple syrup which was marked at $5 a gallon and considerable maple sugar at 10 cents a cake.

GETS 300 HOUSES

Through the financing of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, 300 low rental houses will be allotted to Belleville in this year's construction program assisted by the federal government. Belleville had been talking about 1,000 houses earlier in the year.

ROUGH HIGHWAY REPORTED

The spring thaw has apparently play havoc with the surface of No. 28 Highway between Peterborough and Port Hope. Motorists say that four parts of the road are particularly rough, just before Springville, two places this side of Bailieboro, and a short distance this side of Bewdley.

Accident Victim's Funeral On Tuesday

The victim of the automobile accident Saturday morning, Miss Vera McKinley will be held at the Belleghem Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m. The Rev. E. J. Whan will officiate. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

Miss McKinley was born in Peterborough, 27 years ago, daughter of Robert McKinley and Julia Maude Sheriff, now of Keene. She had resided all her life in the city.

She leaves besides her parents, four brothers, Arthur, Donald and George, all of Peterborough and Melville of Oshawa. There are three sisters, the Misses Hilda and Mildred of Keene and Mrs. H. Wolfrain of Bowmanville.

Miss McKinley was an employee of the CGE and a member of Park Street Baptist church.

FAST TIME AGAIN

There were the usual number of people who arrived in church late on Sunday morning with the excuse that they had forgotten to advance their clocks on Saturday night. Policemen and other night workers welcome the loss of an hour from their shift. A few grumblers said they missed their hour's sleep particularly those who had been at late parties.

Thieves Loot Four Cars Of Groceries, Parcels On Market and Parking Lot

What was apparently a concerted attack on parked cars about the city took place Saturday, as police received reports of four looted vehicles, two on the Market Square and two on the city parking lot on Charlotte St. Mrs. William McKinley, 370 Rose Ave., lost a 20-pound parcel of goods destined for England, after a few adjustments in its contents. The thieves also netted two packages of groceries from the McKinley car, which was on the parking lot. It had been locked, the owner reported, and entrance had been gained by forcing open a window.

More than $10 worth of new clothing for their three children was lifted from the car of Mr and Mrs. Grant Wakelin, 731 New Romaine St., who left their car for 15 minutes on the Market Square. The door lock was damaged and could not be locked, they said, and they had found the front door open wide on their return. They also missed a quantity of baby food, new cooking utensils and general groceries.

Police Chief Russell Naylor of Omemee was another victim whose car was visited by the light-fingered wanderers on the Market Square. The loss included a case of beer and some groceries.

Another car, on the Charlotte St. lot, was robbed of nine dollars worth of groceries when Mrs Ernest Bell and Mrs. Stillman were absent from it for 10 or 15 minutes.

BORN TOO SOON

A long service employee of a Peterborough factory said Saturday afternoon that four men were now doing at $1 an hour the work he used to do at the wage rate of 35 cents. "And I don't think they are doing it any better," he said. He said he had noticed a gradual increase in recent years of a disposition to spin out the job, "to make it last longer without any regard for adding avoidable cost of production." Referring to the present wage rate he said: "I guess I was born too soon. I grew up with the idea of doing the best job I could."

Fire Damages Bedroom On Stewart St.

Fire believed to have started from a defective chimney, resulted in damage to the residence of Elmer Windrem 98 Stewart St., estimated at $300 on Sunday night. Particular damage was caused to the wall of an upper storey bedroom and attic adjoining the chimney.

Firemen were twice called to the residence the first time at 8 p.m. when they reported that a plugged chimney had caused a chimney fire. It proved particularly difficult to cope with and was not extinguished until six handpumps had been used.

At 9 30—an hour and a half after the first call—an alarm was again sent in to the Fire Department who at first tried to stifle the blaze from the attic. When it was discovered that wisps of smoke were coming from the bedroom wall Acting Fire Chief George Smith ordered the wall to be breached. Immediately flames burst forth and travelled up the wall at top speed finally reaching the peak of the roof.

It took nearly an hour before the last spark had been put out and the place tidied up.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Windrem were out at the time, and the three occupants of the six-room, brick structure were a son, William Windrem, 20, who turned in the alarm, and two boarders, Joseph Gurr and Namsel Burley.

Damage was mainly confined to the bedroom wall and attic sheeting. Total cost is estimated at $300.

World News In Brief

Taken from Wires of Canadian Press

OSLO.—A former German soldier who hit for the hills when the Nazis in Norway surrendered three years ago, has been caught. The Trondheim newspaper Addresseavisen said today a group of skiers in Central Norway's mountains had found him, wearing furs, long hair and an unkempt beard.

TORONTO.—William Terry, 65, whose left foot was cut off when struck by a Canadian National Railway eastbound train, died in hospital. Chief Coroner Smirle Lawson said an inquest probably will be held. The engineer said he saw Terry as the train turned a bend in East Toronto. He applied the brakes, but could not stop in time.

VATICAN CITY.—An agreement was signed between the Vatican state and Italy, placing the papal sumnfer residence at Castel Gandolfo outside jurisdiction of the Italian Government.

HAMILTON.—More dairy cattle, especially pure-bred Holsteins, had been exported from this vicinity than ever before, John Powell of the Holstein Association of Canada, Brantford, revealed. This week 80 Holsteins had been shipped to the United States from an area surrounding Hamilton.

MONTREAL.—Michael Gontuk, first stowaway arrival of Montreal's navigation season, headed for his Port Arthur home with the blessings of immigration officials and hopeful his Irish bride will soon be able to join him. Gontuk, 22-year-old engineering craftsman, came into port yesterday aboard the Irish cargo ship Ineshowen Head. He was still a bit weak from starvation and explosure during the first five days he spent in a cramped space beneath a water ballast tank.

BRANTFORD. — Norman E. Lickers, counsel for Maynard Jonathan, 17-year-old Indian youth, sentenced to be hanged June 22, said today he was awaiting a "go-ahead signal" from the Indian affairs branch in Ottawa before launching an appeal.

OWEN SOUND.—Two hundred and sixty delegates at a meeting of the Southwestern Ontario area council of the United Steel Workers of America here yesterday went unanimously on record as supporting the Ontario Federation of Labor in its political action program.

NORTH BAY.—Canadian National Railways authorities here said today that the body of a man found on their line Saturday morning has been identified as that of Omer Lamontagne of Port Arthur. Mr. Lamontagne, whose age was given as 42, is believed to have been struck by a CNR train.

BRANTFORD. — Very Rev. Dean P. J. Maloney, pastor of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church here, appealed yesterday to labor union members in his parish to not engage in any union activities on May Day, next Saturday.

GUELPH. — Five hundred youths from all sections of Ontario were welcomed today to the Ontario Agricultural College by President W. R. Reek as the annual conference of the Junior Farmer Association of Ontario got under way. Ross Beattie of Stayner, vice-president of the association, was chairman of the opening session. President Wesley Down of Hilton outlined activities of the last year, and expressed the hope that inter-state, inter-provincial and perhaps international exchanges might be a greater part of the future program.

Correspondent Dies.

MILWAUKEE— Guido Enderis, 73, former foreign correspondent for the Associated Press and for the New York Times, died after a long illness. Enderis went to Germany as a foreign correspondent in 1916 and was interned there during the First World War. He joined the Associated Press in Berlin in 1917, and in 1928 became head of the New York Times bureau there.

BOSTON — Methodist leaders from all part of the world arrived today for the denomination's quadrennial general conference. More than 7,000 are expected for the 10-day session, opening Wednesday with a service in Trinity Episcopal Church.

CLINTON, Mass — A fire which raged uncontrolled for eight hours swept the Clinton Auto Express garage destroying 10 trucks and causing heavy smoke and water damage to several nearby industrial buildings. Total loss may approach a half million dollars.

NEW YORK — The 7,100-ton Liberty ship Charles Tufts, lost in fog, crashed through a breakwater in Coney Island and was grounded with its nose on the beach for 12 hours until refloated. The impact broke dishes and shook mirrors and pictures in nearby houses.

BAGHDAD— Students of four Iraqi Colleges were reported to have begun a "famine strike until death, or until the government sends an army to aid Palestine Arabs." Students in other Baghdad Colleges and schools are boycotting classes for the same purpose.

YONKERS, N. Y. — Twelve men and women soliciting subscriptions to a Communist newspaper were greeted with a barrage of stones and flower pots after they entered a housing project.

MONTREAL— Alban Janin, 68, president of several construction and movie companies, died Sunday. He was president of A. Janin and Company, general contractors, of Montreal Construction Supply and Equipment Limited, Railway Exchange Building Company, Commpagnie France-Film, Compaignie Cinematographique Canadienne, and a director of European Amiesite Company Limited.

Shoots Widow.

HAWKINSVILLE, Ga. — R. L. Lollos, 50-year-old married man accused Mrs. Annie Cowrad, a widow in her 30's, of "double-crossing" him for a younger man, then killed with a blast of gunfire at the home of a neighbour, police reported. Lollis, father of eight children, surrendered after the shooting.

ROTTERDAM— First Marshall plan aid for the Netherlands was greeted with fireworks when the freighter Noordam arrived with a cargo of goods obtained under the plan.

SANTIAGO, Chile— A son and daughter of South America's gypsy "royalty" were married in the outskirts of Santiago. Gypsies celebrated the wedding last night with the two hours of singing and dancing on the stage of a Santiago theatre before several thousand paying spectators.

BUDAPEST— The Ministry of Industry said the bill for nationalizing private industry in Hungary will be presented to parliament this week. The bill would place all private industry employing more than 100 persons under state ownership.

MOSCOW— Russian farmers who hit their targets in the production of grains, rice, cotton, sunflowers and perennial grass will be "heroes of the Soviet Union" and will qualify for decorations according to a decree of the President of the Supreme Soviet, fixing the targets.

Tourists Flock In

ST. THOMAS — Summer-like weather brought many United States tourists to this part of Ontario during the week-end. The large numbers arriving so early in the year may point to a heavy tourist trade this summer.

TORONTO — Miss Clair Heller, Toronto, and Miss Mary Laker, Hamilton, were the first deaconesses to graduate from the new headquarters of the Anglican women's training college here.

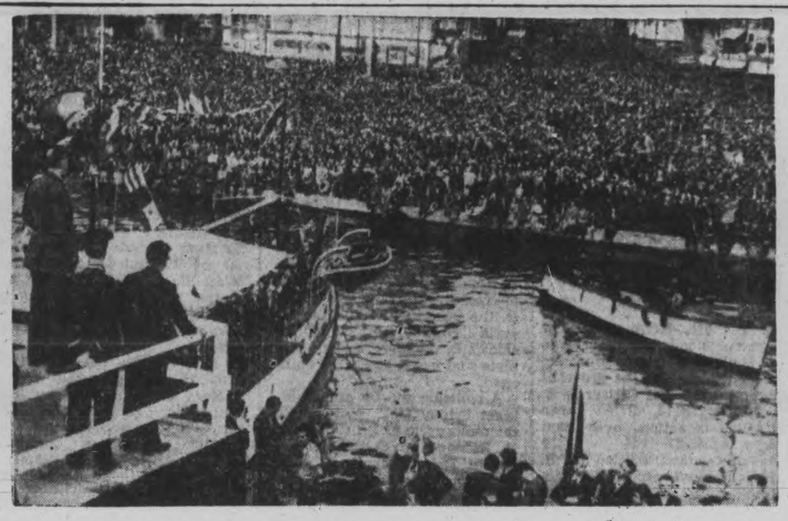
KINGSTON — Registration in extramural courses at Queen's University decreased slightly from last year's. The 1947-48 total was 1,280—30 less.

ST. CATHARINES — Gen. H. D. G. Crerar said Canada needs a compulsory military training program.

TORONTO—Cut off from essential services when the road leading to their homes became impassable, 23 families in Pickering township, 19 miles east of here, were finally freed by the township engineering department. The road was so bad that delivery trucks were unable to drive the quarter-mile to their homes.

NEW YORK.—Eugene Forker, 59, former newspaper and magazine executive, died. He was president of Newspaper Service Inc., a circulation promotion service through the sale of insurance to newspaper subscribers.

ATLANTIC CITY, NJ. — A Roman Catholic lay leader charged 50 per cent. of all priests in the Russian zone of Germany have been put to death. The leader, John M. Haffert, of New York City, lay director of the Scapular Militia, said also that in Czechoslovakia 1,400 Ursalines nuns are performing forced labor in salt mines.



THREE RIVERS, Que.—Premier Duplessis may announce the date of the Provincial election at a ceremony here June 6 officially opening the bridge between Three Rivers and nearby Cap de la Madelaine. It was predicted the Quebec elections would be held in the middle of August or the first of September.

KITCHENER—Good statesmanship can and will prevent war between Russia and the Western Powers, Bishop Hanns Lilje, a German Lutheran spiritual leader, said. Militant anti-Nazi, Bishop Lilje was held prisoners during the last 10 months of the war because he was connected with persons who plotted an attempt on Hitler's life July 20, 1944.

PARIS.—Georges Ridault, one of the top leaders of the Mouvement Republican Populaire, rejected any appeal for a junction with Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Rassemblement du Peuple Francais.

TUPPER LAKE, NY.—Three boys were drowned and three companions rescued when a skiff in which they were sailing swamped in Tupper Lake.

ROSEMERE, Que.—The marriage of Mrs. Jessica Allan Derby of Montreal and Garnet Coulter, KC, Mayor of Winnipeg, took place quietly Saturday. The bride is the former executive director of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

DE GAULLE CALLS ON FRANCE — A huge crowd in Marseille listened as Gen. Charles de Gaulle (left, on platform) called upon the people of France for union and new elections to meet the threat of Communism. More than 100,000 persons heard the wartime leader of the French resistance as he urged them to rally behind his leadership.

FROM SEA VICTORIES TO SCRAP—Fast being reduced to scrap metal, three mighty U.S. warships are shown in this airview as they were being stripped at Pt. Newark, N.J. At upper left is the Wyoming; upper right, the Idaho and, lower right, the New Mexico. The Wyoming alone was expected to supply 15,000 tons of scrap and the three ships were expected to yield 57,000 tons.

Minister Dies

DURHAM, Me., April 26 — (AP). — Rev. Frank W. Sanford, 85, who served seven years in prison for manslaughter after several followers died on a world evanegical cruise in 1910, is dead. The whereabouts of the minister, shrouded in secrecy for many years, remained a secret even in death. Willard M. Gleason, one of Sanford's original followers, announced the death Saturday, but declined to say where and when death occurred.

Bad Fog At Sault

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 26 — (CP). — An 18-hour fog which virtually halted navigation in the St. Mary's River lifted at noon yesterday. Only three radar-equipped vessels — the Avery, E. J. Block and Assiniboia—moved through the fog, worst to date this season.

Death Toll Four

LACHUTE, Que., April 26 — (CP). — Death toll in last Tuesday's level-crossing accident one mile from here rose to four Saturday when Mrs. William Morrissette, 58, died in hospital. Killed at the time were Aime Robillard, 40, his son Jean, 16, and Russell Morrissette, 16, all of nearby St Philippe.

Newfoundland Sets June 3 For Referendum

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., April 26.— (CP). — Newfoundlanders will vote June 3 in a national referendum to choose their future form of government. Date of the plebiscite was announced by the Commission Government here Saturday.

Three choices are to be set before the 320,000 island people. They are:

1. Retention of commission government.
2. Return to responsible government.
3. Confederation with Canada.

With the announcement observers predicted that the campaigns of the section seeking union with Canada and of the anti-confederates would become more heated. Both sides have been using the radio, newspapers and pamphlets to set their arguments before the colony.

It had been generally known that the plebiscite would be held late in May or early in June. The British Government had requested the national convention to complete its deliberations by the end of January to insure a late-May or early-June referendum. The convention wound up Jan. 30.

June 3 falls on a Thursday and it is not likely that returns will be complete before the following week. Many returns from outposts will take several days to reach St. John's.

About 170,000 persons are eligible to vote on the issue. The poll will be decided by count of the electorate as a whole, although 25 districts will be used to speed up tabulation of returns. With the exception of Labrador, which never had a representative in the House of Assembly, the district will be the old political constituencies used when Newfoundland had responsible government.

Government Intervention

SARNIA, April 26 — (CP). — Government intervention in the dispute between the Canadian Seamen's Union and the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union will be sought by the Sarnia Trades and Labor Council, George S. Silk, president of the Council announced yesterday. He said letters urging such action were being dispatched immediately to Federal Labor Minister Mitchell and J. W. Murphy, M.P., for West Lambton.

Hearings On Labor Code Open In Ottawa Tuesday

OTTAWA, April 26.—(CP).— Hearings on the government's new labor code will open Tuesday before the Commons Industria Relations committee and among the first representations will be labor objections to some features of the bill.

A major submission of the Canadian Congress of Labor will be that federal jurisdiction over labor should be greatly broadened. The government proposal calls for authority only after such inter-provincial industries as railways, shipping communications and radio.

The CCL will ask to extend this to include all industry with Dominion charters, all Crown companies and the Dominion civil service. It also would have the Dominion empowered to bring in any industry at all by simple proclamation in cases where the public interest is affected, such as Dominion-wide strike in the steel, coal or meat-packing industry.

An objectionable section of the new bill to the CCL is that providing a union must have more than half the employees in an industrial unit before it can be certified as bargaining agent. The CCL would reduce this to 50 per cent of those who vote in a certification election.

Another clause protested by the Congress is one calling for revocation of its certification if the Labor Relations Board thinks it has lost its majority. The CCL thinks this opens the way for employers to defeat the purpose of the legislation.

However, many of the features of the new bill are endorsed by the CCL, notably the provision outlawing company-dominated unions.

Commissioner

Appointment of a third member of the Canadian Maritime Commission is expected shortly, though it is understood the government has had a tough time trying to fill the vacant job.

The post has been open for about two months—since the resignation of Henry J. Rahlves—but the trouble has been in finding a qualified man willing to take the job at $10,000. Men able to handle it all are making considerably more than that.

There is some suggestion here that the new man may be from the Marftimes, to balance up the representation. The Commission now has a chairman from the Pacific coast, a member from Quebec, but none from the Atlantic area.

"LOOK—a cheque from Ottawa!"
This year, well over a million Canadians will receive from the government cheques which represent:
Refund on personal Income Tax for 1942 (compulsory savings) $63,000,000
Cash from War Savings Certificates maturing in 1948 ..... $45,000,000
CANADA SAVINGS BONDS can be purchased over the counter at any branch of The Royal Bank of Canada. You can buy them outright for cash, or if you wish, use the proceeds of your government cheque as a down payment for bonds to be paid for by instalments. The procedure is simplicity itself. Our nearest branch will look after all details for you.
You'll never be sorry you saved
IF SOME of this money is coming to you, think before you spend it . . . remember how hard you worked to save during the war years. Remember, too, that all this additional spending power, if translated into immediate buying, would almost certainly increase prices and your own cost of living. Rather, put the money you receive into your savings account, or — better still — tuck it away in CANADA SAVINGS BONDS. This way you help keep prices down and at the same time maintain a nest egg for your own future security and needs.

BRITISH TROOPS DUCK FOR COVER —As the date nears for the evacuation of British troops from Palestine, the "Tommies" continue to have their troubles as the Arab-Jewish conflict continues. In the picture above head of a convoy, en route to port of embarkation for the United Kingdom, comes to a halt when a British soldier leaves his vehicle to find cover behind a protective roadblock as firing follows blasting of a Jewish home on the other side of hill in background. The house is in the Montefiore section of Jerusalem where a pocket of Jews holds out against Arabs.

Missionary Says Witch Doctors Kill Natives Through Ignorance

Theme speaker at the Spring Convention of the Peterborough Presbytery Young People's Union held on Saturday, was Dr. W. E. Strangway, an African missionary for the past 20 years. Dr. Strangway addressed the convention twice, once in the afternoon at George Street Church, and again at night at the YMCA.

A large audience consisting of more than 60 YPU delegates from United Churches in the local Presbytery at the afternoon session heard him tell of his lifelong ambition to be a missionary. His first choice of a mission field was West China, and his second was India, but he was sent to Africa instead.

Despite the primitive standard of living among the natives in Angola (Portuguese West Africa) he said they had many fine qualities: two of which were friendliness and generosity. And he spoke generally on the people and the type of country in which they lived.

In his address delivered in the evening he told of the medical work that had been done and was still proceeding among the native peoples. In that section of Portuguese West Africa he said it was still a battle against medicine men and herb doctors to cure the people of their long list of diseases.

"Herb doctors and witch doctors are not dealing with the medical situation in an adequate way." And he contended that the unscientific methods of calculating the proper strength of a medicine too often resulted in the patient's death. Summing up he said that these two sections of native society gave no real medical assistance or worthwhile public health work to their own peoples.

Disease Common

The inhabitants of that region have two or three times as much disease as any similar-sized Canadian community, he said. Not only do they have those peculiar to tropical regions but also the common cold, pneumonia, and above all, nutritional diseases.

These nutritional ailments were not the slight things we know in this country, he said, but serious enough to leave the victim "sick, incapacitated and dying."

Malaria was the curse of the tropics, he said; almost 100 per cent of the people have it every year. Chiefly because of it the infant mortality rate is around 60 per cent in Africa. To the white man who has a well-built home with screens and proper drugs to treat himself with if he catches it, malaria is not the serious threat that it is to the native.

Find New Drug

Because he cannot afford these things the African remains an easy prey to those mosquitoes infected with malaria. The greatest need has always been for a cheap effective drug. Quinine and atabrine were useful but they were expensive, he said. But about two years ago a new drug developed in England, named Paludrine, became available. It was described as 10 times as effective and cost less than a cent a tablet.

With the aid of this new drug the speaker said he thought that the problem of malaria in tropical countries where it now affects an estimated 300,000,000 peoples will be substantially reduced.

He said that the work of Dr. Yale Massey, of the famous Canadian Massey family, was still remembered by the natives. Dr. Massey pioneered in the medical-missionary field of that region in 1900. His first operations were made under hastily-constructed African lean-to structures. Later a hospital was built at Chissamba, about 400 miles in from the west coast.

Dr. Strangway said that when his first five year missionary term was up the hospital there contained 40 beds; later it was expanded to 70 but the need had grown so great that a consignment of 30 more has been shipped and is expected to arrive soon. The majority of patients came from within a 50-mile radius to receive medical attention

Have New Hospital

Electricity was installed in 1940 and an efficient, modern hospital is now working to look after the physical as well as the spiritual needs of the people.

The Rev. Dr. James Semple as minister of the convention church and Dorothy Graham, president of George Street YPU welcomed the representatives who came from Bailieboro, Bethany, Fairview, Fraserville, Havelock, Keene, Lakefield, Millbrook, Norwood, Springville, Yelverton as well as Peterborough churches. Carmen Bell presided in the afternoon.

The Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, Havelock, led the open discussion dealing with questions arising from the Commission groups. In the evening he reported on progress that was being made on the 500-acre camp at Moira lake. Construction work would proceed this summer, he said, but it would be open in a year's time.

Seated at the head table were the Rev. M. J. Aiken, St. Andrew's; Dr. Semple, George Street; Mr. Vanderburgh; Carmen Bell, past-president, Jack Kidd of Knox Church; president, Margaret Smith, of Millbrook; Dorothy Graham, George Street; Walter Dyer, representing St. John's Anglican Church; Miss Olive Tedford, Park St. Baptist; and Terry Jongsma, St. Paul's Presbyterian Church; and Dala Rogers, Queen Street United Church, Lindsay.

Mr. Dyer, Miss Tedford and Mr. Jongsma brought interdenominational greetings from their respective churches.

Dr. Semple installed the new officers.

A banner presentation for the best attendance was given to Mark Street United YPU after a roll call was made on Saturday evening.

Special entertainment was presented under the direction of Bob Brown. Relay games, a sing song and solos by Don Landry and Bill Piercy, accompanied at the piano by David Graham, were included on the Stunt Parade.

Theme of the conference was taken from Ephesians 2: 19, "Now, therefore, we are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints and of the household of God."

Hint Movie Scout May Be At Festival

By KAY REX

OTTAWA, April 26.—(CP).—Confidentially speaking, there may be a Hollywood talent scout hovering around Ottawa during the Dominion Drama Festival.

A DDF official said today that while he hasn't heard of any such agents heading this way, it was a possibility.

"After all, one of them was around London during the Festival last year," he said.

But with the curtain rising tonight on a week of drama, the 100 or so competing amateurs have more on their minds than Hollywood scouts.

There's the Bessborough trophy for the top player of the Festival.

And two plaques for best presentation in English and French respectively (excluding the winner of the Bessborough Trophy.)

In addition, the Sir Barry Jackson Trophy goes to the group with the most outstanding production of a Canadian-written play.

Has Good Fishing

KANSAS CITY, April 26—(AP).—A fisherman rescued an unconscious 18-year-old youth from 30 feet of water by snagging him with a hook and line on a bamboo pole. The youth, John S. Moses, fell 20 feet from a rock ledge into Indian Creek while fishing yesterday. Nearby was Elvin A. Holker, 42. Holker carefully dropped the fishing hook and line and caught Moses' clothing just back of the neck. Then he towed the youth downstream about 40 feet where he and other fishermen could reach him.

Has 25 Dog Bites

SARNIA, April 26 — (CP). — Attacked and severely bitten by six collie dogs from a kennel near here, six-year-old Carol Ann Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Roberts, Sarnia, was treated at Sarnia General Hospital last night for 25 distinct bites, requiring an indeterminate number of stitches. She is reported in fair condition.

Traffic Mishaps Kill 14 Of 22 Weekend Fatalities

By The Canadian Press

Fourteen week-end deaths attributed to traffic mishaps led the list of 22 fatalities reported in Eastern Canada, a Canadian Press survey today showed.

Also listed were three drownings, a fire, a railway yard accident, an asphyxiation and a fall which each took a life.

The body of an unidentified man was found near railway tracks in northwestern Ontario.

Six traffic fatalities involved injuries to other persons.

Vera McKinley, 25, was killed at Peterborough, when a car crashed into a tree and driver John Cupoli suffered injuries.

An accident which brought death near Hamilton to Mrs. N. H. Ghent of Burlington and injured a friend.

Emile Gilbert, 25, was drowned in Chicoutimi, Que., when a truck he was driving plunged into the Saguenay River after a fatality injuring a woman identified only as Miss Polly.

Garland Crawford of Toronto was killed and his brother, Gerald, and Beverley Tucker, also of Toronto, suffered injuries near Midland when the automobile in which they were riding came into collision with a bus during a fog.

Car Overturns

Near Toronto Mrs. Jack McIntyre, 25, was killed and her husband and two friends, Mrs. Lillia Rider, 50, and Roy Snider, 22, were injured when a car overturned.

Death toll in last Tuesday's level-crossing accident at Lachute, Que., rose to four with the death of Mrs. Wiliam Morrisette, 58. Killed at the time was Aime Robillard, 40, his son, Jean, 16, and Russell Morissette, 16, all of St. Philippe, near Lachute.

Victims of separate traffic mishaps were: Elisee Lord, 33, Montreal; Sam Kantzmier, 63, Oshawa; John Donovan, 45, Toronto; Genton Barnes, 28, Wingham; Fred Savery, 17, Toronto; Aime Mathieu, North Bay.

William Terry, 65, struck by a train, died in a Toronto hospital. Possibly the victim of another railway fatality, the body of an unidentified man was found near a Canadian National Railways track at Paska, between Nakina and Armstrong in northwestern Ontario.

Mrs. Guy Dionne suffered fatal burns in a $100,000 fire which destroyed her home and several adjoining buildings at Ste. Eustache, Que.

Woman Drowns

The body of Mrs. Samuel Carolin was found in a small creek in a Montreal cemetery. It was believed she fell from exhaustion and was drowned.

Believed drowned after suffering a fainting spell while looking for golf balls, Frederick H. Yauck, 20, was found dead in a stream at a Windsor golf course.

Frederick L. Robinson, 22, of Kentville, N.S., was drowned when his flat-bottomed boat overturned in choppy water.

A boating accident took the life of Walter Keller, 32, Toronto, at Washago.

Customs Officer Alex Peebles, 30, was asphyxiated by fumigating gas which seeped into his apartment at Windsor. Theodore J. Smith, 61, of Halifax, died when he apparently suffered a heart attack and tumbled off a pier while working on the waterfront.

Proposed 3 Times Before Queen Said Yes

LONDON, April 26 (CP)—The Royal Silver Wedding anniversary recalls one of the court's favorite "open secrets" about a marriage that was a love match.

The King proposed twice, so the story goes, but Elizabeth refused. The royal suitor took his troubles to his brother Edward, then the Prince of Wales and now the Duke of Windsor, who said to Elizabeth privately:

"I am sorry that you don't like Bertie."

"I do," said Elizabeth who still calls her husband Bertie, "but I am not going to make a royal marriage just because he's been asked to marry me."

Edward straightened things out and the engagement was announced shortly after.

Change Death Penalty To Life Imprisonment

OTTAWA, April 26 — (CP). — The government has commuted to life imprisonment the death sentences imposed on two youths convicted of murder.

The government's clemency was exercised to stop the hanging, scheduled for April 28, of 16-year-old Norman Kindy and his companion, 20-year-old Edwin Farrington. The youths were convicted of shooting James Bell, 57, at his home in Stamford township last September.

Entertains Soroptimists

Dr. Agnes K. Moffat opened her home on Weller St. for an informal tea entertaining members of Soroptimist Clubs attending the conference of Eastern Canada region held in Peterborough during the week-end. Dr. Lillian Chase, guest speaker at the dinner meeting Saturday evening, and Dr. Agnes White, both of Toronto, were also present. Mrs. Enith Scott, president of Soroptimist Club of Peterborough, and Miss Myrtle Sargent, past president, poured tea. Preceding the tea, visiting delegates were taken on scenic drives throughout the city and surrounding country. At noon, Sunday, all Soroptimists met for a friendship luncheon at the Empress Hotel.

Bride Widely Honored

Mrs. Eric Cotton, formerly Eleanor Rickard, was guest of honor at several entertainments before her marriage Saturday.

Mrs. A. W. Millard was hostess for a kitchen shower, at which tiny Claudette Millard and Arthur McLaren carried in the daintily decorated basket.

Miss Jean Agnew, assisted by Mrs. Lincoln Brown, entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the latter's home.

Misses Willene Hope and Jean Millard were joint hostesses for a miscellaneous shower. The bride received many lovely gifts from her friends.

Mother Is Honored

Mrs. Leonard Smith, 576 Romaine St., was guest of honor at a surprise birthday party given by her family and held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. Frizzelle, 251 Princess St.

She was presented with a trilight floor lamp to mark the occasion. A large birthday cake centred the tea table, flanked with bouquets of daffodils, and a dainty lunch was served after an enjoyable evening of singing and dancing. Those present were her husband, five sons and four daughters, with their wives and husbands: Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Don Smtih, Ted and Albert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bebbington, Mr. and Mrs. E. Frizzelle, Misses Betty and Alice Smith, all of Peterborough.

Margaret Reptke Weds

A wedding of interest here was that of Miss Margaret Reptke and Mr. Hugh Black at Chalmers United Church, Guelph, on Saturday. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Audbrey Reptke of Guelph, the latter formerly Geraldine Montgomery of Peterborough. She wore a white wedding gown with satin bodice and skirt of net over satin. The yoke and flared peplum were heavily embroidered with satin on net. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies and white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Ruth Goodwin, wore blue brocaded taffeta and carried a large nosegay of pink carnations sweet peas and roses. Mr. A. Love attended the groom. The wedding ceremony was performed by th Rev. Mr. Paton.

John A. Franks Marries Elsie Irene Utley

Spring flowers and green fern decorated All Saints Anglican Church Saturday for the wedding of Elsie Irene Utley and John Alfred Franks in a ceremony performed by the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Utley of New Westminster, B.C., and the groom is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Franks, and was formerly a resident of this city. Mrs. W. A. Logan, organist, played traditional wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. M. Rutherford of Toronto. She wore a wedding gown of white sheer with folds trimming the high round neckline and forming cap sleeves. Tiny covered buttons fastened the fitted bodice to the waistline at the back and a gathered peplum topped the full skirt. The finger tip veil of embroidered silk net which was caught to a heart-shaped headdress had been worn by the bridegroom's mother for her wedding. Rapture roses and sweet peas fashioned the cascade bouquet which the bride carried.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Melville Shannon, sister of the groom, who was frocked in pink sheer made exactly like the bride's gown. She wore a halo of pleated net with flowers on her head and carried a ring bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas. Mr. Clare Galvin of Peterborough attended the groom.

A reception was held at the home of Mrs. A. Parrington, cousin of the groom, who received, wearing an afternoon dress of grey crepe with black straw hat and corsage of Bettertime roses.

For a short wedding trip the bride changed to a suit of turquoise wool with which she wore brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Franks will make their home in London, Ontario.

Elizabeth Auld Heard in Recital

Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association, Peterborough Branch, presented an unusually gifted child pianist in recital Saturday afternoon in George St. Sunday School auditorium. Eleven-year-old Elizabeth Auld of Toronto displayed a fine and well-controlled technique that allowed her to play difficult music with ease. This was happily combined with obvious musical feeling and imagination. A good deal of affectation and many mannerisms were notable as well.

The young artist played a comprehensive and interesting program including compositions by Bach, Scarlatti, MacDowell and Grieg. Also a delightful composition, "Musical Powder Box," which Miss Auld composed herself. "A musical picture book" by Bortkiewicz was composed of a group of descriptive pieces after Anderson's Fairy Tales, charmingly played in its entirety. A highlight of the recital was the brilliant technique displayed in the performance of D Major Concerto by Haydn in which Elizabeth was assisted by her teacher, Miss Evalyn Lindsey, who played the orchestral part on a second piano.

The audience, which included many children, applauded enthusiastically and were entranced by her personality and skill.

Afterward ORMTA members entertained Miss Auld, Miss Lindsey and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Auld at a small reception.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: You will note by my address just why I am writing to you. "Information, suggestions and advice" if you please. I follow up your columns and find them very helpful. My husband and I are helpers here and would be very grateful for any help you could give us. In June we will be confronted with a wedding buffet breakfast for 150 people. Breakfast consisting of sandwiches, cake or cookies and coffee. May we please have some suggestions as to the way it should be served attractively? Any recipes for small cakes, cookies, sandwiches and simple salads would be very welcome. We will be interested in hearing from you. Until then, sincere thanks from F.L.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: While a great many liberties may be taken with the term "breakfast" especially in connection with a wedding, it is interesting to work eggs and bacon into the menu even though they are in sandwiches.

Since you mention salads in the latter part of your letter, I am wondering if you could not serve fruit cups, instead, as an auxiliary course; fruit cups using grapefruit skin halves for containers. This is a very good idea for 3 reasons: (1) it can be made ahead of time, and kept cold; (2) it tastes very good and is appropriate, if spirituous liquors are to be served at the wedding, brandy flavouring may be added to the fruit; (3) it does not require glass dishes which make a lot of dish-washing. Give this item serious consideration, for it looks very attractive on a buffet table.

Let us assume this is the menu:

Fruit Cup in Grapefruit Cups (pineapple, peach, banana, orange, red and green maraschino cherries, maraschino cherry juice)

Sandwiches:

Open-face Ham and Egg (see notes) Whole-wheat hard-cooked Egg, Peanut Butter and Smoked Bacon, Choice of Toasted Rolled Cheese Sandwiches OR Hot Parkerhouse Rolls, Jelly Marmalade, Olives, Radishes, Celery, Bride's Cake, Swedish Cookies, Wedding Cake, Coffee.

Directions: Sandwiches — For the Open-face Ham and Egg use minced ham moistened with mayonnaise to spread small rounds of bread. On top of the ham place one thick slice of hard-cooked egg, pressed into the minced ham to prevent it slipping when bitten into.

The whole-wheat hard-cooked egg sandwiches are easy: use a very small amount of green onion or chives to flavour the hard-cooked egg mix which should be moistened with plenty of mayonnaise and seasoned well with salt and white pepper.

The peanut butter and smoked bacon sandwiches are very popular: spread one side of bread with peanut butter, the other with butter. Sprinkle generously with crisply fried or broiled smoked back bacon which has been chopped into about ½-inch pieces.

You may want to choose both Parkerhouse Rolls and toasted cheese sandwiches—there are folks who will welcome plain rolls and a little jelly or marmalade to drink with their coffee.

Definitely coffee or some beverage must be served with the sandwich course—even if it means you have to serve double quantities of coffee for toasting the bride and groom.

If you would like a recipe for Bride's Cake please write to me again.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: In your column of April of this year I see a question on Maraschino cherries which states you have printed the recipe for same some time ago. Having only recently taken up residence here I am afraid I have missed it. Said recipe is one I have wanted for some time and have been unable to obtain. Would you also furnish me with the needed advice on candying ginger? Thanking you, Mrs. M. S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The method of preserving Maraschino cherries is rather long, also the one for candying ginger, so would you please look for them in this space next week?

SOROPTIMIST CONFERENCE OFFICIALS—Just before the formal dinner on Saturday evening which climaxed day-long sessions of the 16th conference of Eastern Canada Region, American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs, Dr. Lillian Chase of Women's College Hospital, Toronto, guest speaker (Left), was seen chatting with Miss

Soroptimist Club Conference Elects Miss Grace Sargent Regional Board Secretary

Sixteenth conference of Eastern Canada region, American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs, hostessed by members of Peterborough Soroptimist Club, came to a most successful conclusion Saturday evening. Professional and executive business women, as delegates from their respective clubs, arrived from Windsor, London, Barrie, Toronto, Belleville and Montreal, and attended business sessions throughout the day at Empress Hotel headquarters. Regional officers and members-at-large who were elected for the 1948-50 term are: Mrs. Gertrude Whiteside of Windsor, regional director; Miss Grace Sargent of Peterborough, regional secretary; Miss Claire Tillman of Barrie, regional treasurer; Miss Margaret Kerr of Montreal and Mrs. Sally Caton of Belleville, members-at-large.

Mayor W. G. Ovens of Peterborough extended a civic welcome to the out-of-town Soroptimists. Miss Ethel Crossland of Barrie, regional director, was chairman of the meeting.

"The Status of Women" was the subject of a short address by Mrs. Gertrude Whiteside of Windsor during the afternoon session. She said: "My very firm belief is that if women are to accomplish their aim, that of equal recognition, they must go along together, hand in hand, and not along separate paths. There is a place for good, sound thinking women in every field of endeavor, and we must go about our way slowly but surely and put her into that particular field that we are striving for."

The speaker stated that women of the business world have become keenly conscious of their potential power in civic, provincial and federal government fields, and it is now their duty to make the woman in the home recognize her responsibility to the women who so valiantly won the franchise for their sex. It is said that women have the majority of the voting power in the country, but it is certain that the larger percentage of that majority lies in the hands of the married women.

Cautionary advice to all women from Mrs. Whiteside was "women must be careful of how they speak at all times and take a second to think before speaking quickly, for so many things are said unwisely and had better been left unsaid. They should be particularly careful in repeating remarks of others and they must learn not to be afraid of citicism, because criticism is always with us. They must learn that when they criticize they are getting a certain amount of praise and recognition because they are not criticized if you are not doing anything."

As women have come to take a place as qualified citizens in a dignified and practical manner, it is astounding to note the strides they have made in the professions and exectuive business positions, and they are continuing to work for still greater advancement. "I feel thatif we go quietly, but aaiming straight at our goal we will ultimately attain equal recognition in all fields of life," concluded Mrs. Whiteside. "But, we must go together, the women in the home, and the women in the business world, and our greatest power will come from doing our particular job well."

The speaker was introduced by Miss Bessie Hallatt of Windsor Club.

A blueprint of the tenth convention of American Federation of Soroptimist Clubs, which is being held in Toronto, July 26 to 30, for the first time in Canada, was drawn up by the chairman, Miss Grace Nicholls of Toronto, second vice-president of the American Federation, Senator Iva Campbell Fallis, honorary member of the Soroptomist Club of Peterborough, and acttive member of Ottawa Club, will be the speaker at the opening ceremonies, representnig the Dominion of Canada, and the second Canadian speaker on the week's program is Mrs. Kate Aiken of Toronto. Plans for entertaining about 600 delegates include an afternoon tea at the Lieutenant-Governor's home on opening day and one entire day devoted to a sight-seeing trip to Niagara Falls. The meetings will conclude Friday evening with an installation dinner in charge of Eastern Canada Region at which time the officers elected at the Peterborough conference will be given charge of their new duties.

Two Ring Wedding Unites Eleanor Rickard, Eric Cotton

Spring flowers and ferns were the setting for a pretty wedding Saturday in Knox United Church when Mary Eleanor, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rickard, became the bride of Eric William Cotton, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Cotton of Bradford, Yorkshire, England. The Rev. H. G. Douglas officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mr. W. R. Potter played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. N. Hughes who sang "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a graceful gown of white brocaded satin, made with sweetheart neckline and long tight fitting sleeves coming to points over the hands. The bodice was fastened with tiny covered buttons from neck to waistline at the back. The full skirt fell into a circular train and her long veil of tulle illusion was held by a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of American Beauty roses.

The bride's attendants wore similar frocks in pastel shades. Miss Willene Hope, maid of honor, chose Sea Spray, and the bridesmaids, Miss Jean Millard, cousin of the bride, and Miss Jeannette Lobb were in Romance Blue. The gowns were made of bengaline taffeta, styled with off the shoulder effect, short puff sleeves and fitted bodice. Full skirts were finished at the back with a bustle. Each wore a coronet and mittens of matching material. Nosegays completed the ensemble and were of yellow roses for the maid of honor and pink roses for the bridesmaids.

The groom was attended by Mr. Robert Strong. Ushers were Mr. James Logan, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Stanley Howden.

The reception was held at Club Aragon, where the bride's mother, received wearing a gown of pale blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by Mrs. A. W. Millard, wearing a gown of black and white figured cerepe, black accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

For a wedding trip to Ottawa and Montreal, the bride donned a loganberry gabardine suit, black shortie coat and accessories, and wore a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotton will reside in Peterborough.

"Better Health In Future" Promises Dr. Lillian Chase Soroptimist Dinner Speaker

Yellow and blue, color symbols of Soroptimism, made most impressive table setting at the formal dinner Saturday evening in the auditorium, nurses' residence of St. Joseph's Hospital, at which 85 members of Soroptimist Clubs in Eastern Canada region and special guests were entertained. A silver bowl held daffodils and blue carnations and was set on a reflector rimmed with daffodils and greenery with flanking silver candelbra holding yellow and blue tapers. Peterboro's famous Lift Lock was pictured on place cards and programs and favors carried out the color scheme. Side tables were lined with blue and yellow tapers and centred with bowls of daffodils on raised crystal holders.

Dr. Agnes Moffat of Peterborough Club introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Lillian Chase of Women's College Hospital, Toronto, telling of her outstanding work in the treatment of diabetes, on which she is considered an authority. In the outline of her career it was noted that she served with the RCAMC in capacity of a captain until her honorable discharge in 1946, after which she settled in Toronto. Her hobbies include writing for medical journals and painting.

"Medicine in the future promises better health for every Canadian citizen," Dr. Chase told her audience. "Canadian women have always worked for health and their nursing tradition began three centuries ago. Women have been practising doctors for the past 60 years and have overcome the opinion that they are social freaks. We can trust these Canadian women no to allow the wrong kind of social medicine to be fastened upon the country and that whatever plan is adopted it will be fair to the givers as well as the takers."

Dr. Chase remarked that people of this North American continent are optimists, accepting as their due the miraculous scientific developments of the last 100 years and they believe there is nothing they cannot accomplish if they set their minds to it. There have, of course, been bad times to blot the history, such as the unemployment and depression of the thirties, but the worst social abscess of today is the housing situation.

"I am not smart enough to fix the blame on any one part of our community," said Dr. Chase, but for an energetic people (with a well forested country it seems to me we might have done better'. Our housing shortage is injuring lives of little children, young married couples learning to get on with each other, and is tragic for the old people."

Turning from this problem, the speaker asked "Are we going to live?" With possibility of war and potentialities of the atom bomb, people are getting a helpless feeling. "This passive role of our wise rulers deciding for us is becoming intolerable to many high-spirited and responsible Canadian women. They want more say-so in the high level decisions," Dr. Chase asserted. "We'd probably take it with better grace if some woman cabinet member explained to us just why we can't have margarine on our toast."

Regarding the present Communist threat in our midst, Dr. Chase believes that laws to make it illegal would be futile. "You can pass laws about material things and you can enforce them, but if you pass laws about intangibles, you are asking for a police state of the worst sort."

Since health and disease are closely associated with the general social picture, medical progrss takes place more rapidly in countries which are peaceful and prosperous, and the medical capital of the world now seems to be on the North American continent. Discoveries of the past, such as microscope, X-ray, radium, antitoxin, insulin, sulpha drugs and penicillin, seem like miracles, and since there has been so much benefit from them, people are asking for more. "We are asking for miracles to do away with infantile paralysis, maternal deaths and infant mortality, heart disease and cancer," said Dr. Chase. "I don't need to tell you behind everything the public sees as a miracle lies a great deal of monotonous and often lonely disappointing work done by devoted souls. Scientists, clinical investigators and doctors are required to read everything significant to that certain field and the pace of science is such that they are never caught up."

"Health is the responsibility not only of the physician or of the nurse, but of the whole community" stated Dr. Chase. "Social medicine aims for the protection of the individual and the community against whatever interferes with full development and maintenance of both mental and physical capacity. it is also prepared to promote positive health through application of sociological techniques and methods." Provision of these medical services depends on three conditions: removal of economic barriers; sufficient personnel and facilities properly distributed; a high degree of techmedical measures promoting health are housing, nutrition, recreation and education.

"At present we have no standards and are not sure how man can best develop physically and mentally in relation to his environment and community" the speaker pointed out. "If we are to have good health in Canada we must plan for it according to our provincial prejudices. Thirteen million people in nine provinces, all jealous of their own ways and rights are almost an insuperable stumbling plock." Examining the plans of countries who have passed legislation for medical services, three major defects are found: failure to consider types and number of personnel needs and the training they require; that legislation is for sickness rather than for health; that there is inadequate provision for the three chief lags in medical care today—chronic cases, mental cases and rehabilitative services. Minor defects are that planning has gone ahead in water tight compartments without reference to what is developing in other places. Observers have seen only established activities and overlooked embronic developments which will establish the pattern of tomorrow.

The speaker was thanked by Dr. Marion Templin of Windsor.

A special "presentation of flags" ceremony was conducted by Miss Muriel Gladman, first regional director of Eastern Canada region, who was redeeming promises made to these clubs at their inaugural dinners, when it was thought wise to curtail wartime expenses and leave the flags until a later date. The flags were accepted by Miss Lillian Kearns, president of Barrie Club, Mrs. Alice Barry, first vice president of Windsor Club, Miss Margaret Kerr, president Montreal Club, and Mrs. Edith Scott, president of Peterborough Club.

Delightful after-dinner entertainment was provided by Soroptimist Agnes Logan Green of Peterborough with a group of classic piano selections, and by the YWCA senior ballet, directed by Miss Caroline S. Littlefield. Dancers, wearing silver-trimmed white ballet costumes for the "Moonlight Sonata" number, and snappy red and black dress, with tambourines, for the "Gypsy Dance," were Lenora Hollingsworth, Melvalee Doxee, Daphne Hayward, Catherine Clifton, Lorraine Smith, Marilyn Hollingsworth, Doris Simmonds. Mrs. Lionel Monk was at the piano.

Mrs. Enith Scott, chairman, extended sincere greetings from Peterborough Club, and on behalf of the visiting delegates, Miss Lillian Kearns of Barrie expressed appreciation to the hostesses.

Miss Ethel Crossland, retiring regional director, who is to be honored shortly as Barrie's "Woman of the Year", was also honored by Soroptimists for her work during the past two years, and a gift was presented by Miss Grace Nicholls of Toronto, second vice president of the American Federation. Gifts to the retiring secretacy and treasurer of the region were presented by Miss Margaret Kerr, president of Montreal Club.

Miss Myrtle Sargent was chairman of the courtesy committee which looked after decorations for this event. Miss Gene Clarke and Miss Florence Scott distributed rose corsages to each guest. Miss Musa Cox was in charge of the program and also of registration.

FORMAL FLAG PRESENTATION—Redeeming promises made to four Soroptimist Clubs of Eastern Canada Region at their inaugural dinners, Miss Muriel Gladman of Toronto, and formerly of Peterborough (Extreme Right), first president of a club in this region, and first regional director, is seen presenting a flag to Mrs. Enith Scott, president of Soroptimist Club of Peterborough. Holding flags (Left to Right) are Miss Lillian Kearns, president of Barrie Club; Mrs. Alice Barry, first vice-president of Windsor Club, and Miss Margaret Kerr, president of Montreal Club.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl Wed to Escape Work Played Trick On Mate

Dorothy Dix

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married two and a half years to a nice man who is very devoted to me and very good to me, but this is my problem: I married at 20 just to be a-marrying and to keep from having to go to work. I like my husband, but it is not love, and I still want love and romance with the right man. But my husband will not let me get a divorce, even though he knows I do not love him.

I try to be satisfied, but nothing he does for me is enough, and I have gotten so nervous that I am upset at the least little thing. That makes him jittery and cranky, too. Do you think if I try hard enough I can forget the real love and we can eventually be happy? Do you think if I had a child it would bring us closer, or would it make things more complicated? MRS. H. Z.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It always seems to me that the most unprincipled thng that either a man or woman can do is to marry to save himself or herself from having to go to work and earn an honest living. It is taking advantage of the highest and holiest emotion of which the human heart is capable for it is capitalizing on the trust and faith of another and cheating the poor trusting victim out of everything that makes marriage worth-while.

No Hope Now

It is no wonder that you are not happy and satisfied in a marriage that was nothing but a bargain and sale on your part, nor that your husband resents your scurvy treatment of him. It takes love to make a marriage a success. And inasmuch as he has been disillusioned and has found out that he has been defrauded, and as you want to repudiate your bargain, there is small chance of your ever having any happiness.

Don't add to your other crimes by trying to make a baby your scapegoat. The plan wouldn't work. It wouldn't bring you and your husband, who have come to hate each other, closer together. It would only make you quarrel and fight over the child when you wanted to get a divorce, as you doubtless will. Every child should be a love child, not a pawn.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young girl of 19, working and going to college. I am very attractive and intelligent. My problem is this: I do not want to marry for five years. By that time I will be 24. Will there be any chance of my finding a nice husband at that age? Or should I marry now while I am young and beautiful? A WORRIED MISS.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You seem to think that you will be tottering on the thing that either a man or woman that is the time of life when most women are at their best, for they have more poise, more taste in dress and are more interesting than they are in their teens. Anyway, girls put too much stress on their looks. Personality counts for more than a lovely complexion, and being interesting will get you a husband quicker than anything else.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a desperate teen-ager. My mother makes me wear old-fashioned clothes and will never let me step out with a boy. When boys call me on the phone my father beats me. The only time I go anywhere is when I lie about where I am going and where I have been. I don't like to lie, but a teen-ager has to have some companionship of her own age.

A fellow I have been seeing secretly and who has a good position has asked me to marry him, and I am seriously considering doing it in order to get away from home. Do you think I am showing good judgment? DESPERATE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: No, I think you are showing an utter lack of intelligence by thinking of marrying at your age. Why, child, you haven't even begun to live yet. You haven't any idea of what kind of a man you are going to want to marry when you are grown up and are a mature woman. And you don't even seem to think that you are in love.

Your parents are making a great mistake when they fail to realize that times have changed and our attitude towards youth is entirely different from what it was when they were young. Everything has been speeded up now and girls are given many more liberties than they used to have when your mother was your age.

But two wrongs never yet made a right, so because they are acting foolishly don't you act foolish. Just bear in mind that you will soon be grown up and have personal liberty. But if you marry now you will never have any personal liberty, for getting married before you are old enough to is like jumping out of the frying pan into the fire.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, April 27

PROPITIOUS aspects of leading planets promise a day of decisive efforts in the direction of a cherished fulfilment of most desired hopes and wishes, whether these lie in promotion, preferment, enhanced prestige and popularity, financial security, or in the pleasanter pathways of romance, parties, celebrations of domestic or spiritual felicity. A sound, wise, reasonable and judicious consolation of the assets and influence at command, may move at high tempo toward the most wanted goals. Be alert to small duplicities or intrigues.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of definite advancement upon the goal of heart's desires, whether this be in the realm of home, romance, social or professional prestige, financial or influential accumulations, in which ultimate happiness and well-being may be realized. But objectives must be meritorious, the endeavors carefully and cautiously consolidated, and the ambitions and aspirations noble and purposeful. Much festivity, parties, and gaiety are indicated probably in connection with romantic or social celebration of major events.

A child born on this day will have large and noble aims and aspirations, with the energy, ability and character to attain its cherished goals.

Do You Know Your Signals? The Ontario Traffic Act Is Getting Really Tough

By EDWARD ECKER

"I don't think there's another province in the Dominion where hand signals from motorists are so conspicuous by their absence than in Ontario," a traveller remarked in a downtown hotel the other day.

He probably had plenty to beef about too! Did you ever watch motorists to see how many give signals? How often have you, as a motorist, given a signal?

Police estimate that roughly 25 per cent of all traffic mishaps are caused by drivers who failed to give a signal. That's a lot of accidents, when one considers the yearly property damage from traffic accidents in Ontario is $30,000,000. If all motorists gave signals, this total could be reduced by $7,500,000.

And statistics set the yearly number of persons killed in traffic mishaps at 680. If all motorists helped cut this down by giving signals, 170 more people would remain alive each year.

And estimates place injuries at 12,000 a year. Give a signal and this could be cut by 3,000—3,000 less people who otherwise might be permanently disabled or disfigured.

Remember, too, that this is only in Ontario!

Some Give Signals

Our traveller friend then continued. "Sure! Some guys give signals. But the signals might mean: "Yes, it's raining, or it might be some woman driver who's drying her finger-nail polisher, or, some jerk may be just shaking ashes from a cigar."

Then he started to tell about a "mix-up" he'd been in just a couple of weeks before. "Why, the d— fool just made a left-hand turn in front of me and the cop that investigated asked whether any signal had been given. This guy, I forget his name, said he didn't see anything behind him so he made the turn. The judge fined him $10 and costs on the deal but the guy still insisted that he didn't see me behind him."

Well, let's leave it at that! Under the newly-revised Ontario Highway Traffic Act, an offence such as this carries with it the mandatory suspension of a driver's permit and owner's permit or permits of every person convicted of or has forfeited his bail after having been arrested on any one of dozens of charges. The suspension remains in effect for two years unless proof of financial responsibility is ffled.

Not Pleasant, Is It?

It's not a pleasant picture but surely auto owners agree there's a lot of unnecessary neglect causing death to innocent people. The men who make the laws have set out to combat this helper of the Grim Reaper and are making it tough.

Here's what they have done:

Mandatory suspension of driver's and owner's permit follows conviction of any of the following:

1. Speeding.
2. Careless driving.
3. Driving without a driver's permit.
4. Leaving the scene of an accident.
5. Failure to stop at a stop street or a through street.
6. Failure to heed a traffic signal.
7. Making an improper turn at an intersection.
8. Driving without prescribed lights.
9. Opertaing with defective brakes.
10. Overcrowding the driver's seat.
11. Failure to report an accident.
12. Driving while a permit is under suspension.
13. Racing on the highway.

Yes, and, 14. Failing to give a proper signal.

Confiscation

To top it all, automatic confiscation of one's car follows if one is caught driving while the license is suspended and a conviction has been registered under the above list. And they catch 'em!

This list doesn't include all the offences on which a driver can be convicted. It's left to the magistrate to decide whether a suspension is in order under conviction of any other offence outside of the Criminal Code of Canada.

The Criminal Code

Ontario law now reads that any motorist found guilty of the following offences under the Criminal Code will automatically have his license suspended:

1. Criminal negligence.
2. Furious driving or racing.
3. Leaving the scene of an accident.
4. Taking an automobile without the owner's consent.
5. Driving while intoxicated.
6. Driving a car equipped with a smoke screen.
7. Reckless or dangerous driving.
8. Theft of a motor vehicle.
9. Driving while prohibited by a court from doing so.

Suspensions in cases mentioned thus far also remain in effect for a period of two years unless proof of financial responsibility is filed with the department. If judgment for claims has not been paid or arrangements not made for the instalment payment of settlement or judgment the suspension continues.

Other Reasons

Suspension is also ordered and remains in effect until proof of financial responsibility is filed with the department if, in the opinion of the Minister of Highways, a person is responsible in whole or in part for a motor vehicle accident, or, having due regard to the records of the vehicles department relating to a person, the minister is of the opinion that such requirement is desirable.

In this case, the suspension again remains in effect for a period of two years unless proof of financial responsibility is filed with the department.

Not Only For Ontarians

All provisions of the H.T.A. with respect to permit suspension apply to residents of other provinces if they are to blame for an accident in Ontario. It also applies to residents of the United States and, in the case of non-residents, may result in the suspension of their driver's permits and owner's permits in their home province or state.

Impounding of Vehicle

Impounding of a vehicle for three months follows conviction on:

First offence:

1. Driving while intoxicated or under the influence of drugs.
2. Driving while license suspended.
3. Procuring a driver's licence or owner's permit during a period of suspension.

Second offence:

Failure to remain at the scene of an accident.

Third offence:

1. Operating a motor vehicle not registered for the current year.
2. Driving without a chauffeur's or operator's licence or permitting anyone to drive without such licence.
3. Careless driving.
4. Racing.
5. Driving while under age or permitting anyone to drive while under age.

Think It Over

Think it over and be careful! Let's not butcher others because we want to save a second's time. Remember, it's better to be late than not get there. And auto manufacturers still believe that the most important nut in a car is the one behind the wheel.

Have Your Car Checked Now and Ensure Safe Driving This Spring!

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

THREE WAYS TO NIP HIM

SUPPOSE the defender at your right holds a guarded trump honor which could be captured if you led a trump from the dummy through it toward your own tenace. But suppose there is no trump left in the dummy for that purpose. You still don't have to abandon the idea of capturing the big card. Three possible other ways are available, if you can manage to time the play correctly. One is to have the other defender lead near the end of the play. The second is to have the dummy lead something else at the end, so the defender must ruff before you. The third is to throw the right-hand defender in at the correct moment, so he will have to lead from his own trump holding to yours.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
2 ♥	Pass	2 NT	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	4 ♥	Dbl

All fine players would criticize South's two-bid adversely, and still others would find fault with East's double. As it developed, however, the result was a "touch-and-go" matter, hinging on the play.

Following the club 5 lead, East took the K with the A and returned the Q, which South ruffed with the heart 3. Noting possible losers in diamonds, hearts and spades, South laid down the spade A and ruffed the 4 with the heart 4, returned via the diamond A and ruffed the spade 7 with the heart 8. The diamond K was then an entry to ruff the spade Q with the heart 9. Now the diamond 8 was led and given up to the J, East discarding his last club.

When West returned the diamond Q, East ruffed with the spade 5, having nothing but trumps left, and South overruffed with the 6. That made the first use of the defenders as leaders to a trick on which South got last crack. Then South put East in with his heart Q to the K, and of course the trump A and 10 got the last two tricks, as East had to lead from his J-7. So South got three tricks out of his last four trumps.

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

If North bids 1-Spade, South 2-Hearts and North 3-Clubs, would 4-No Trumps then by South be a Blackwood convention or a natural bid?

6—In Memoriam

BAGNALL—In loving memory of dear mother, who passed away 4 years ago today.
We do not forget her, we love her too dearly,
For her memory to fade from our lives likes a dream,
Our lips need not speak, when our hearts mourn sincerely,
For grief often dwells where it seldom is seen.
—Ever remembered by daughter Dolly and son-in-law Alvin.

BAGNALL—In memory of Mrs. Thomas Bagnall, who died April 26, 1944.
While you, dear mother, rest and sleep
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
—Lovingly remembered by daughter Alice and family.

HILL—In loving memory of Mrs. Robert Hill.
When days are dark and friends are few
Dear mother how we think of you
Friends are friends if they are true
We lost our best friend when we lost you.
—Ever remembered by son Harry, daughter-in-law Myrtle.

YARDLEY—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, who passed away April 27, 1943.
We sadly miss you, mother dear,
Who left this world without a fear,
Your kindly smile and loving face
From our hearts we can't erase,
You were so brave and tried to stay
To see us all upon life's way.
Our cherished memory remains so fond
Until we meet in the Great Beyond.
—Ever remembered by her husband daughter and family.
